BRAMPTON, Aug. 11 (CP). — St. Catharines Athletics defeated Brampton Excelsiors 11-8 here Wednesday night and chalked up their 11th victory in their last 12 Senior Ontario Lacrosse Association games.

The A's gained an early lead and clinched the game in the final period when they fired four successive tallies in 10 minutes.

Tony D'Amico scored a trio for the visitors, while Harvey Madgett topped Brampton scorers with three goals and an assist.

Mimico Mounties climbed to within one point of third place by defeating Hamilton Tigers 16-8. Piling up a comfortable 10-2 margin in the first half, the Mounties coasted to victory, aided by the six-goal scoring attack of Ken Dixon. Gord Gair notched three more, Doc McKay and Denny Peterson tallied twice each, and Rankin, McPhail and McDonald added singles.

George Masters scored five times for the Tigers, with Jack Dorney getting two and Tommy Love the other.

Defeat Co-Ops

Grant and Loucks walloped the Co-Ops 11-1 last night in a Civic Softball League encounter. Their big bats hammered in two runs the first frame, three in the third, one each the next two and four in the sixth. Co-Ops got one in the first but were then held in check by good pitching and fielding. Teams:

Electrics Hand A Reverse To O'Hallorans

CGE defeated O'Halloran's 4-2 in a soccer match at King Edward Park last evening. Strong scored early after CGE pressed. O'Halloran's drove hard then with Chamberlain and Langton on passes from H. Foster testing the goalie. Hutchison robbed Stitwell at the other end of the field as play swept back and forth fast. Langton headed past the post once and Stitwell's drive was held by Hutchison outside the rigging.

Murduff tested the Electrics' custodian next and the CGE shook loose Strong who scored close in. Combination of Strong from Featherstone made it 3-0 and Strong, who shone all through, counted another for CGE to make it 4-0. After the half, O'Halloran's went to work to get two back. Scott and Latham kept the ball up the field with Duffus finally finding the net. They pressed again to make CGE concede a penalty, Latham scoring. Featherstone, Steel, Strong, Hutchison, Scott and Latham shone in this keen contest.

Miss Tilly Wins Hambletonian

GOSHEN, N.Y., Aug. 11.—(AP).—A veteran trainer-driver and a patient groom—especially the groom—were taking the bows today for Miss Tilly, sensational winner of the 24th Hambletonian.

Fred Egan, the Lexington, Ky., harness horse veteran who drove Miss Tilly to victory in successive heats in Wednesday's $69,791 trotting classic at Good Time park, gave most of the credit to the groom.

The owner, Charles W. Phellis of Greenwich Conn., was so jubilant he could say little except shower praise on his stable workers.

Miss Tilly, a three-year-old filly with the temperament of a Metropolitan opera prima donna, was the champion juvenile trotter of 1948. But the bay daughter of Nibble Hanover—Tilly Tonka just didn't choose to live up to her reputation this year—that is, until yesterday before 15,291 persons who steamed in Goshen's 90-degree heat.

Egan, trainer for Phellis for more than a quarter of a century, brought Miss Tilly to Goshen in early June to race in the Coaching Club Trotting Oaks at the half-mile historic track. He didn't want her to start, figuring she wasn't quite ready. Miss Tilly wasn't.

Begins Sulking

She was beaten by Martha Doyle that day, and began sulking in the sulky, so says Egan.

"Then Frank Wallace, my groom, took a hand in things," the modest Egan, who will be 70 years old October 3, said.

"He handled her like a little spoiled child, and actually built her morale back. She wasn't ready in July, and that race took so much out of her that she did not want to train, or do anything much at all."

When Miss Tilly took over the lead in the first heat of the Hambletonian at the half-mile pole in the one-mile dash, Egan said he knew she had it, although Coldstream stud's Volume, driven by the veteran Tom Berry, was giving him a time of it.

Miss Tilly reached the judges half a length in front of Volume, with the other 16 starters in the big field strung along behind in the dust. Bangaway, the 8 to 5 choice from the C. M. Saunders Stable, Toledo, Ohio, finished 12th after breaking stride just before the half pole.

An hour later, St. Clair, also owned by Phellis, took the lead for the first quarter mile. Then Miss Tilly and Egan assumed the command. They spun around the mile to win by five lengths in the fast time of 2:01 2-5.

Save Golf Club

RENFREW, Aug 11.—(CP).—A grass fire raced over 100 acres of sun-scorched farm land Wednesday and threatened the Renfrew Golf Club before it was checked by rains. The fire broke out on the farm of Andrew Crozier, near here, and burned within 15 yards of the club house at the golf course. Club members used their cars to rush water to help fight the fire, and tractor-driven plough were pressed into service.

Mimico Mounties, a rugged gang of senior "A" lacrossers, play the Petes at 8.45 tomorrow night in Miller Bowl. And the locals, striving desperately to make a playoff spot, might just come up with a victory at this time. Following their recent tilt in St. Kitts, the scribe of that town wrote: "In plain, unvarnished truth, St. Catharines were lucky as sin in winning over Petes by a shadow goal with 78 seconds to go. The alert Petes hawked every loose ball and checked Athletics sunny. It was Petes' second loss in as many night by one goal, and a tough break for young Ralph Speck, native son making his home debut in the enemy rigging." Yeah, such luck is bound to turn and Friday might be it.

Entries for the open OGA tournament at the Peterborough Golf Club this Saturday should be sent in by tonight to Gord Harrison at the clubhouse. Draw is to be made tonight and published on the morrow. Prexy Milf Hardill and his hard-working executive expect a big entry from here and other points in the three-flight OGA competition. Play goes all day till maybe seven or so in the evening for good prizes, and a number of outstanding golfers no doubt will be seen in action. Post entries accepted, and the course should be in first-class shape for the big tourney.

All-Stars Getting Set

Local men softballers have lots of action facing 'em shortly. Uniteds play Cosmos tonight at 8.30 in the Bowl, second of their best-of-seven city finals for the George Dormer Trophy. Uniteds now hold the Wm. Taylor Trophy for finishing first in the schedule. On Saturday eve at 8.30, local all-stars, piloted by Johnny Russelle and Reg Leether, play the touring Toronto Police, an outstanding squad which has played in Montreal, Buffalo and Detroit. And the Peterborough Merchants—an all-star city loop outfit—is entered in the CNE provincial tourney, too. Babe Fontaine and Johnny Russelle will pick this team, sponsored by a number of merchants here shortly.

Some minor ball info comes through. Ed Murphy plans for Petes to play the local COBL oldtimers an exhibition—to aid the minors financially—on Aug. 23. The oldtimers will probably include such former aces as: Al Heckman, Max Swanston, Hap Harrison, Jimmy Hall, Jeff Hardill, Cy Whatley, Fred Ash, Cliff Cadd, Bun Kingdon, Al and Grant Clark, Ike Batten, Len Hollingsworth, Jack Billingsley, Scotty Maudsley and a few more. Sounds okay, what? Meantime, minor games go as scheduled. East bantams open playoffs at 6.15 tonight in Trojan Field as north and east midgets start their playoffs at 6.15 in Riverside. Tomorrow sees east and north peewees at Orphanage, and south and east juves at Riverside to end up schedules.

Lefty Bill Dadson was in fine southpaw form at Riverside last e'en to let Batawa down with two lone hits as the Petes triumphed 7-0 to creep closer to Oshawa in the COBL top spot. A good game, before a slim crowd, till the Petes broke loose for four runs in the eighth. Dadson, Dalton, Foley and Menzies were the main stickers, and we were glad to see Bill Edger okay again and ready to take over in the outfield for a spell late in the tilt. The Petes tackle Oshawa here Saturday p.m. at six and it should be cool enough by then to attract a crowd worthy of a contending senior "A" ball club. Ed Murphy for fun brought over a huge sombrero last night, remarking: "I'll get a covered stand here yet, one way or another!"

Westclox erased Ashby's 5-4 at the Bowl last e'en in girls' softball semi-finals, whilst Marines beat CGE 5-1 to even their two-of-three semi-finals. A goodly gallery saw two swell scraps, one going 45 minutes and the other five minutes longer. So, it'll be Marines vs. CGE in the first playoff there Friday p.m., with the winner going right back in the nightcap against Westclox to open the three-of-five final sawoffs. Yeah, they were two dandy duels, and these playoffs really rate bigger crowds. It's just a tossup now whether CGE or Marines will be meeting the Clockers on the morrow. Sorry to see Ashby's fade out but these youngsters did well after stepping up from junior and will win titles in the next year or two.

Charles Eliminates Lesnevich In Seven-Round Slaughter

By FRED KERNER

NEW YORK, Aug. 11 (CP) — Ezzard Charles may be a long way from giving boxing its much-needed shot in the arm—an undisputed world heavyweight champion—but the Cincinnati Negro has proved that when it comes to beating old men he's probably as good as anybody around.

Wednesday night Charles eliminated another aging heavyweight contender, 34-year-old Gus Lesnevich, in convincing fashion to successfully defend for the first time the National Boxing Association's version of the heavyweight crown he won seven weeks ago.

It wasn't a "pier six" fight. Gus was on the receiving end of it most of the time. After seven rounds Lesnevich, former world light-heavyweight champion, decided to call it quits. The 90-degree heat (it probably was more than 100 under the ring lights), Charles' left hooks and speed had worn Lesnevich down to a crawl. And he couldn't see where he was going for Ezzy had closed Gus' left eye completely.

Unable to answer the bell for the eighth stanza, Lesnevich provided the NBA champ with a double-barreled victory.

Makes Up Record

The TKO not only was entered in the win column of Charles' not-too-brilliant record, but it made up for the times Lesnevich ducked meeting Ezzard when Gus held the 175-pound title.

The lean Cincinnati Negro showed he meant business early in the shortened version of the scheduled 15-rounder. When his challenger made an early spurt, Charles countered with hard rights to Lesnevich's middle that slowed up the muffin-faced pugilist. Lesnevich weighed 182, two pounds more than Charles.

Through five rounds, Charles had it all his own way. His left hand did most of the damage as he aimed at Gus' puffy eyes. By the fifth stanza, Lesnevich's left peeper was cut and in another two rounds it was peeping no more.

The veteran from New Jersey shot his bolt in six frames, the sixth heat being his best. In this round he made a now-or-never college try that won him the round on The Canadian Press scorecard. But it was the only one he scored—the other six belonged to Charles.

Lesnevich's durability was worn thin in the seventh of the bout which 16,630 customers paid $75,832 to watch. He lifted a few rights, slow-motion fashion, in the direction of the NBA champ but they were useless. Then Charles lashed his left hand a few more times into the now-non-seeing left eye o fhis opponent and the bell ended Lesnevich's hopes of being champ of the beevies.

Marines Even Semi-Final By A 5-1 Win

Marines defeated CGE 5-1 at the Bowl last night to sew up their two-of-three Girls' Softball League semi-finals before a hefty crowd. Electrics' errors hurt but it was a fine fray with Marines driving hard for five runs in the eighth to take the decision. The winners played fine ball, with but one miscue, and both pitchers, Pat Williams and R. Boyce, were stingy with their hits. There were few strikeouts but some fancy fielding, though the losers fell down at times defensively.

M. Behan and S. Curtis looked good in the field for Al Watkins' squad, while J. Connors and A. DeCarlo were the pick of the other team. The game was real snappy and run off in 45 minutes. None of the victors had more than one safety, but P. Williams helped her cause with a homer in the big eighth. For CGE, E. Boyce had a two-bagger as their four hits were well spread around.

The teams:

CGE: M. Batley, cf; Marg Perrin, rf; T. DeCarlo, 3b; E. Boyce, ss; A. DeCarlo, c; J. Connors, 2b; Mary Perrin, lf; B. McMahon, 1b; R. Boyce, p.

Diplomat Wins Harness Derby

NEW HAMBURG, Ont., Aug. 11. —(CP).—The Diplomat, a royally-owned pacer owned by Alex (Sandy) Parsons of Brantford and London, Wednesday won the 1949 Canadian horse derby before 12,000 fans.

The Diplomat was winner of the second and third heats running the second mile race in 2:05 3-5, a full second faster than the first heat.

The Diplomat, who ended fifth in the first heat of the three one-mile heats for Canada's major award, took the second and third heats with decisive wins. Owner Parsons said the horse had picked up a nail in the opening heat.

Sired by the famous Volomite, the winner was driven by Lou James.

Running of the 1950-51 derby trial, a secondary feature, was marred by a third heat accident in which Richard Scott, 7-year-old owner-driver suffered a possible broken leg and other injuries.

The accident gave first money in the last heat and first place in the event to J. L. Van, owned by J. L. Waples of Midland, Ont.

LAWN BOWLING

By HERB MARTIN

There is no doubt but those 15 cent jitneys bring out the crowd—it seems that's what the boys and girls want—so why not give them lots more?

They get an evening's bowling —we are looking for 20 rinks out this coming Saturday evening.

Tonight Group Nos. 1 and 2 play schedule games and the ladies continue with their three-skips' competition.

Congratulations are in order to H. Freeman, R. Hopkins, A. Block and B. Callis for their wonderful showing in the provincial lawn bowling tournament. Although defeated by a Boston rink for the Robt. Simpson Trophy by one shot, they did extra well. There were 128 rinks entered and when you come second in any of these competitions you must know some of the answers. Again congratulations.

Peewee Lacrosse

Tigers edged the Cyclones 9-8 in peewee lacrosse playoffs last evening in Miller Bowl in the best peewee game of the season. Tigers were shorthanded but Fred Heffernan starred in goal for them while R. Anthony scored four goals, D. Sutherland two and two assists, Keeting two and one, and R. Jay 1. C. Morgan led the losers with four markers, G. Simmons getting a pair, and K. Hawthorne and P. Heffernan one each. Teams:

Tigers: F. Heffernan, Jay, Keeting, Sutherland, Anthony.

Cyclones: Kent, P. Heffernan, Curtis, Silvestri, Roberts, Fitzgerald, Halcrow, Simmons, Hawthorne, Morgan.

Referee—Jack Foote.

Terriers won 7-4 from Petes to tie up their peewee series. Pork Ketcheson shone for Terriers, having five goals as Roode and Pace each got one, an assist apiece going to Casey, Hickson and Rowatt. Sam Lagana was best for the Petes to tally two and aid on another. Murphy got a goal and an assist, while G. Hunt scored once. Teams:

Petes: L. Hunt, MacInnes, Murphy, Lagana, G. Hunt, Davis, Hillier, Atkinson.

Terriers: Heffernan, Doris, Ketcheson, Rowatt, Hickson, Roode, Pace, Casey.

Referee—Jack Foote.

Remember When—

By The Canadian Press.

Westclox Girls Rub Out Ashby's Squad

Westclox edged Ashby's 5-4 at the Bowl last night to rub the latter out and advance into the Girls' Softball League finals. A good-sized crowd saw a swell 90-minute scrap with the losers coming awfully close before bowing out in two straight of the semi-finals. Westclox now take on the Marines-CGE winner in the second game of the playoff double-header at the Bowl on Friday evening.

Last night's tilt could have gone either way, and the winners were lucky as well as good to gain the nod. J. McIntyre, J. Vass, J. Reynolds, E. Simmonds and J. Dunk all looked especially good in a fine fray by all. M. Downer pitched six-hit ball and had good support. She also led her side at bat with three safeties, as E. Simmonds hit a homer and single, and E. McFadden two singles for Ashby's. The teams:

Westclox: J. Vass, c; B. Morrow, ss; D. Westlake, 2b; M. Hawthorne, 3b; A. Anderson, cf; J. McIntyre, 1b; I. Clarke, lf; J. Hardy, rf; M. Downer, p.

Ashby's: E. Simmonds, cf; J. Reynolds, c; J. Dunk, ss; E. McFadden, 3b; M. Stuart, rf; M. Freeman, 1b; L. Jordan, 2b; J. Murduff, lf; D. McFadden, lf; B. Reid, p.

Yankees Gain 3-1 Edge Over Bosox, Page Saves Day

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

By all the laws of baseball statistics, the Boston Red Sox, not the New York Yankees, should be leading the American League today.

The Red Sox own the circuit's top batter in Ted Williams. They possess the league's winning est" pitcher in Mel Parnell. In Williams and Vern Stephens, they have the one-two leaders in home runs and runs batted in.

In addition, they lead in team batting and slugging, and rank third compared to the Yankees' seventh in team fielding.

Yet the Red Sox find themselves in third place, 6½ games behind the front-running Yankees, who also own a 5½-game bulge over the runner-up Cleveland Indians.

There is only one answer for this strange, and for Boston, sad state of affairs. The Red Sox haven't Joe Page and the Yankees have.

Calls on Page

Yankee manager Casey Stengel, who once made headlines by pulling a bird out of his cap, doesn't have to resort to magic when trouble looms in front for his boys. He simply calls on Joe Page.

Take Wednesday's important game between the Yankees and Red Sox in Boston.

A three-run rally in the top of the seventh, highlighted by Hank Bauer's two-run single, had given the Yankees a 3-1 edge over Joe Dobson. Stephens clipped Yankee starter Ed Lopat for his 28th homer in the last half of the inning to make it 3-2. After Lopat survived a shaky seventh inning, Stengel excused his lefty for the day and summoned his trouble-shooter—Page.

All Joe did was retire the dangerous Sox with only one harmless infield single in the eighth and ninth to preserve the victory. It marked Page's 36th relief appearance and the 20th game he's saved. His record is 10-4.

Lose Ground

The Indians lost ground when they were edged out 5-4 by the lowly St. Louis Browns in a night affair. Dick Kokos homered in the ninth off Bob Lemon to snap a 4-4 tie. The Browns piled up a 4-0 lead in the first two innings, but homers by Lemon and Larry Doby tied the score in the fifth.

Washington's Senators and Chicago's White Sox pulled a couple of upsets. The Senators shaded Philadelphia Athletics 8-7 and the Chisox topped Detroit Tigers 6-3 in 10 innings.

Brooklyn Dodgers and St. Louis Cardinals remained deadlocked for the first place in the National League. The Brooks needed a ninth-inning home run by Jackie Robinson with one on to beat Philadelphia's Phils 7-5. The Cards, behind the six-hit pitching of Lefty Al Brazle, took an easy 8-0 decision from Cincinnati.

Get 12 Hits

The Cards pounded out 12 hits including four doubles and three triples to give Brazle his 13th victory. He has lost five. Stan Musial, with a double and triple and two runs batted in, paced the Redbirds' attack.

Robinson's homer, his 14th of the season, came against relief pitcher Jim Konstanty and snapped a 5-5 tie.

Southpaw Warren Spahn turned in his 14th victory as he pitched Boston Braves to a 4-1 triumph over New York Giants.

Doyle Lade pitched Chicago Cubs to a 3-0 victory over Pittsburgh Pirates.

Bisons Capture Twin Bill From Orioles

By The Associated Press

The front office of the Buffalo Bisons has every reason in the world to strut today.

The International League club purchased infielder Gene Markland from Chicago White Sox for 10,000 this season and right now they probably could peddle him for about $50,000.

The scrappy infielder helped the pace-setting Bisons take a doubleheader from Baltimore Orioles, 7-5 and 2-1 Wednesday night. He doubled and scored three runs in the first game and unloaded his 19th home run in the finale to snap a 1-1 tie.

Luis Aloma started for Buffalo in the opener and left in the fourth in favor of Luman Harris, trailing, 5-4. Harris held the Orioles hitless and gained his fourth triumph.

Saul Rogovin bested Ernie Bickhaus in a hurling duel in the finale for his 12th victory. Both pitchers allowed four hits.

Blank Syracuse

The triumphs boosted Buffalo's lead to 5½ games over the second-place Rochester Red Wings. The Wings blanked Syracuse Chiefs, 6-0. Clyde Boyer allowed Syracuse only three singles in posting his 10th victory.

Toronto Maple Leafs pulled into a virtual tie with the Jersey City Giants for fourth place, trouncing the Giants 9-2. The Leafs trail the Giants by two percentage points.

Jocko Thompson yielded seven hits in coasting to his 11th triumph in 13 decisions. The Leafs pounded out 12 safeties, including Johnny Blatnik's 14th homer of the season.

The game between Newark Bears and the Royals in Montreal was rained out.

The $2,500,000 anti-trust suits of Max Lanier and Fred Martin against organized baseball Wednesday were given the same Federal Court priority as Danny Gardella's $300,000 damage action.

Federal Judge William Bondy in New York placed the cases at the foot of the November calendar. If he had not taken this action there might have been a delay until late in 1950.

All suits are based on the banishment imposed for playing in the Mexican League in 1946 Commissioner A. B. Chandler recently lifted his five-year ban, and Lanier and Martin are back with the Cardinals. Gardella has refused to apply for reinstatement with New York Giants.

At Toronto, Ramsay McDonald, with a birdie on the third extra hole at Summie golf course Wednesday won the Ontario best-ball championship for himself and his Hamilton Glendale partner Ray Coole.

In Ottawa, H. A. Bradley, Federal government chief inspector at the Connaught Park Club's current meeting, said Wednesday that jockey Sol Magath has been asked to leave the club's premises and has been told not to return.

The request was made by the track stewards, said Bradley, after recent investigations into alleged attempted "boat races" had caused the jockey's reputation "as a rider doing his duty" to be questioned.

Bradley said only quick action on the part of the stewards nipped such attempted "fixes" in the bud.

The Dominion Football Association has the power to stage games involving all-star Canadian teams against elevens from other countries in any centre of the Dominion it desires.

Delegates attending the annual three-day meeting of the D.F.A. in Calgary Wednesday ratified the D.F.A. Council's authority to stage such games, even against the protest of any particular provincial body.

Charles E. (Charlie) Pinnell of Calgary Wednesday was elected president of the Association, succeeding Dr. O. J. Todd of Vancouver.

Lee Savold will box exhibitions until Bruce Woodcock agrees on a new date to fight in London for the European version of the world heavyweight title. Woodcock, whose injuries in a truck accident last week forced postponement of the fight originally scheduled Sept. 6, was on the mend at his home in Doncaster, Yorkshire.

This man was the teller. Quickly he explained the simplicity of making deposits. "Just let me have your signature, Mrs. Jones", he said. "Now here is your pass-book. It is a copy of the Bank's own record of your deposits." It was all done in a few minutes. But Mrs. Jones felt she had met a friend.

United States Treasuries Find US Racing Big Business

By JOHN CHANDLER

NEW YORK, Aug. 11 (AP)— Organized horse racing in the United States dates back almost 300 years, but the aristocratic English colonial squires who started it would hardly recognize the "sport of kings" today.

From what was usually a sporting "I'll bet you my horse can beat yours" and a resulting two-[illegible] had racing $1,000,000,000 business in this country.

Thousands of persons now depend on the ponies for a livelihood. Half of the 48 States are in the racing business to help defray the high costs of government. Not that they own the tracks, but the States have legalized pari-mutuel betting and are realizing rich profits from the "partnership" in the form of taxes.

The first established United States race course was Newmarket on Long Island, set up in 1665 by Governor Nicolls, first English royal "head-man" of New York. Nicholls would have bet his powdered wig the New York State Treasury wouldn't realize $22,-000,000 in taxes from the ponies in one year. But that's what five major New York tracks turned over to the State in the form of revenue for 1948.

[illegible] with pari-mutuel wagering and received more than $95,000,000 from licenses and percentage taxes. Ten years ago, in 1939, racing revenue to the States totalled only $10,000,000. Twenty States had legalized pari-mutuel racing then.

No wonder the lawmakers who frowned on racing years ago have suddenly decided the sport isn't bad after all. Racetrack attendance last year totalled more than 25,000,000.

Wars, reformers, politicians, and thoughtless or unscrupulous racetrack owners themselves all but eliminated horse racing in this country at one time or another.

The Revolutionary War brought racing to a quick stop. It never has returned to Philadelphia and Pennsylvania. The Civil War wrecked racing and breeding in the South.

After the Civil War, the centre of racing moved to New York [illegible] where it has remained. In the 1880's, racing spread with great strides, not only in New York and the East, but in the mid-West and in California.

But without state controls, such as the present Racing Commission, and no supervision within the industry, such as the Thoroughbred racing association, things headed for the rocks.

New Jersey's old Monmouth Park, built in 1870, rivalled Saratoga, which opened in 1864. With Jerome and Morris Park in Manhattan, and Sheepshead Bay on Long Island, these were the swanky horse plants. But across the Hudson River in New Jersey had grown a disreputable place called Guttenberg, or "The Gut." Others like it sprang up in New Jersey and the metropolitan area.

In 1893 the State of New Jersey stepped in and closed up the horse business. It stayed that way for 40 years. In 1907 Governor Hughes was elected in New York on a reform platform and in 1910 racing was stopped in the state.

That was the body blow that spread throughout the country. The breeding industry was shot, for who wanted to buy a race horse that couldn't race?

But then State Racing Commissions stepped in to set a new pattern. Racing revived with a bang.

U.S. Bonds Rise In Treasury Deficit Financing

NEW YORK, Aug. 11 (CP)— United States Government bonds have been going up as the Treasury heads into deficit financing. British Government bonds have been going down as the exchequer's dollar deficit heads into another of its recurring crises.

Deficit financing means you are spending more than you take in. One way of finding the cash for this way of living is selling bonds. At the start this has an inflationary effect on business and the financial markets.

United States bonds are up in price because the administration is adjusting the money supply to make bond-buying attractive to the banks.

British bonds are down in price because the Attlee Government cannot, or will not, take the steps that would hold them steady. Falling prices during he last three weeks have wiped out about £500,000,000 ($2,000,000,000) in their quoted values.

The Federal Reserve Board has kept a close watch on United States bond prices. Recently it has stopped putting its bond holdings on the market, to let the banks bid up the price of available bonds. As bond prices rise, the yield is lower — "money is cheaper." This creates the cheap-money climate the Treasury wants when it goes into the market to raise cash through offering increased quantities of short-term bills.

The Board also has lowered bank reserve requirements. This means that money which banks formerly had to hold now can be used for investment. The banks, however, already have large sums on hand — their loans to business dropped steadily through the first half of the year, and deposits and savings accounts piled up.

FALSE TEETH
That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wabbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH the alkaline, (no-acid) powder, on your plates. Holds false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug store

SOPHIE'S A SIFTER NOW—During a visit to the Six Nations reservation at Oshwekan, near Hamilton, Sophie Tucker, "the last of the red hot mommas," was given a new title. Now she's Ka-ge-ja-waks which means Sifter of Flowers. Here Sophie, in her Indian head dress beams with three chiefs after the honor was conferred upon her. Left to right: Chief Jerry Blue Eyes, Chief Little Bear and Chief Pale Moon.

Cuts Short Visit

HALIFAX, Aug. 11 (CP)—Admiral W. H. P. Blandy, commander-in-chief of the United States Atlantic fleet, cut short his visit to Halifax Wednesday and flew to Washington. It was reliably learned that he had returned to Washington for conferences with the American chiefs of staff, who returned earlier this week from Europe.

Churchill Has New Talent Proves Expert Rewrite Man

By ALLAN HARVEY

LONDON, Aug. 11—(CP)—Now it's Winston Churchill, rewrite man. To an already formidable array of activities—he rides to the hounds, races horses, paints landscapes and keeps live butterflies — Britain's bald-domed, cigar-puffing old warrior adds a new talent.

It develops that he's as handy with an editor's blue pencil on other people's copy as he is at creating his own.

At 74, Churchill naturally plays a less ardent role in politics than he used to do. His infrequent appearances in the House of Commons depend on his health and the importance of the occasion.

Master Hand

But he is still the leader of the Conservative party, by acknowledgment of all, and he is still the master hand in policy-shaping.

Others did the donkey work on the recent Conservative election manifesto, "That Right Road to Britain," but it was Winston Churchill, working his usual midnight hours, who edited the final draft.

An excerpt from the edited text, with Churchill's changes in a small, neat hand, shows an insistence on simple, declarative English.

For instance, he draws an angry pen through "to achieve the desired object," and substitutes "to succeed." For the negative "we have never accepted the principle," he writes "we have always believed."

He notes the redundancy of the phrase "the size and magnitude of all modern societies." In the document, "magnitude" becomes "complexity."

Adjectives are dynamite-laden. Instead of "excessive imports", long a favorite exampel of officialese, he inserts the bolder "destructive imports."

Music, Maestro, Please

Associates needed no proof that Churchill is still acutely alert. In a recent Foreign Affairs debate, Foreign Secretary Bevin made an unexpected reference to the "unconditional surrender" policy announced from Casablanca in January, 1943.

Churchill intervened, without any possibility of rehearsal, and parliamentary observers agreed his unstudied speech was a model of phrasing and delivery.

One ambition remains unsatisfied. Long ago, perhaps with tongue in cheek, he confessed that as a youth he always wanted to play the kettledrum. He also wanted to lead the school orchestra.

"But that could not be arranged either," he said. "And so eventually I rose to be the conductor of a band whose music resounded throughout the world."

Test Jet Airliner

HATFIELD, Hertfordshire, England, Aug. 11 (Reuters)—A test pilot Wednesday took Britain's "top secret" airliner, the four-engined all-jet De Havilland Comet ,up to a height of 36,500 feet, it was announced.

Arms Expenditure

GENEVA ,Aug. 11 (Reuters) — Russia spends 15 per cent of her national income on armaments, British delegate Corley Smith told the United Nations Economic and Social Council here Wednesday night. Britain spends eight per cent of her income on the armed forces, he added.

Feel Out Sweden

LONDON, Aug. 11 (AP)—Diplomatic officials reported Wednesday an American feeler has gone out to test whether Sweden might now be ready to join the Atlantic Pact. The Stockholm government's reaction so far has been negative, the officials said.

Press Exhibition

COPENHAGEN, Aug. 11 (Reuters)—More than 1,500 newspapers and periodicals from 60 different countries were shown at a "world press exhibition" which opened Wednesday in Vejle, Jutland. No Russian publications were represented.

Teachers Step Up Drive To Get Federal Financing

OTTAWA, Aug. 11.—(CP). — Canadian school teachers want Federal financial aid for education.

Schools now are paid for by Provincial and Municipal governments. But the Canadian Teachers' Federation decided Wednesday to "intensify" its campaign for federal assistance.

Delegates agreed to set up a committee to carry on the campaign, with members to be picked by provincial teachers' organization.

Already at least one provincial government—in New Brunswick—is said to be in favor of the idea and a British Columbia delegate told the convention it is "simply a question of selling the idea to the public."

Moncton, said the minister of education for her province had said federal aid was "the only way education could be financed."

The decision to form a committee grew out of a long afternoon discussion on federal education grants. It followed a morning session at which the relation of the C.T.F. to international organizations was considered.

George Croskery of Ottawa, C. T.F. secretary-treasurer, said he hopes most provinces will be in favor of federal aid by 1951. A Dominion-Provincial tax conference is due then, to consider a new tax agreement, replacing the present one which expires early in 1952.

Support for the idea came, too, from La Corporation Generale des Instituteurs et Institutrices Catholiques de la Province de Quebec, representing some 20,000 French - speaking Roman Catholic teachers in the province.

Mr. Guindon, president of the organization, said it is on record as supporting the principle of Federal aid for education "provided that the autonomy of the province would be respected."

Says Farms All Over World Need Brains More Than Money

NEW YORK, Aug. 15—(AP)—Farms throughout the world need brains more than money or mechanization. This is the conclusion of Norris E. Dodd, Director-General of the United Nations Food and Agricultural Organization, who has just returned from a global survey.

He says that the world can produce enough food to feed itself if it applies its present learning to existing farms.

"More than half the people of the world go to bed hungry," Dodd said. "One of the main reasons is backward agricultural methods. In some parts of India, for instance, where the rice ration is only nine ounces a day, people wait for the July and August floods to plant rice. They harvest it by hand in January. And then some of the richest land in the world is allowed to lie unused until the next July and August, when the land is flooded again. In some parts of the near east many farmers still irrigate by hand with buckets, though others have the advantages of big dams.

"In both places a little pump, which could be installed for not more than $150 could make it possible to produce an extra crop of food. Several thousand pumps would make a tremendous difference. In other places they take everything from the land and put nothing back, so the land grows poorer and produces poorer crops. The answer there, is fertilized and crop rotation. In other places the answer is a threshing machine or a vaccine to fight animal disease.

Jumped 30%

"During the war the United States increased its food production 30 per cent. If we could bring about this increase in a country which uses up-to-date agricultural methods, imagine what the increase could be in areas where they are still plowing with a crooked stick."

Along with farm development, Dodd sees development of world fisheries as an important source of food.

Dodd listed numerous cases where food production had been bettered by simple methods. In the Far East rinderpest slew many water buffalo and oxen, without which peasants cannot do their planting. FAO developed a laboratory at Nanking that produced a vaccine which immunized cattle for life, and peasants drove their cattle and water buffalo miles to have them vaccinated. Millions were saved.

In Poland, where hog cholera was a problem, an FAO veterinarian arrived to show farmers how to fight the disease with vaccine and remained to help battle mastitis and Bang's disease.

Urge Reorganization

REGINA, Aug. 11—(CP)—A dominion-wide reorganization of the Progressive Conservative party has been called for by the advisory council of the Saskatchewan Progressive Conservatives. This was disclosed by a council spokesman Wednesday following a meeting.

Hands Over Command

KINGSTON, Aug. 11—(CP)—Maj.-Gen. J. F. M. Whiteley Wednesday handed over command of the national defence college and the Canadian Army staff college here to Lt.-Gen. Guy Simonds. Maj.-Gen. Whiteley, commandant of the college for the last two years, will return to England.

SIGHTED SUB, MISSED SAME — No, war has not broken out in Halifax harbor as this photo might indicate. It is merely the British submarine Tally-Ho undergoing a mock attack from aircraft based at the Royal Canadian Navy Fleet Air Arm base at Shearwater, NS, during navy week demonstrations. The sub prepares to submerge as practice bombs straddle the hull. This demonstration is a daily feature of the week-long celebrations in which 14 ships from three nations and 10,000 sailors are taking part.

British Exports Bought At Home

LONDON, Aug. 11 (AP) — In Britain, where costs of industrial production are high, domestic consumers are beginning to reap the doubtful benefits of a business boomerang that is called "frustrated exports."

Much merchandise made for sale abroad is turning up on shop counters at home.

The reason is simple—many British products cost too much for purchasers in other lands. The difficulty had long been foreseen and for 1½ years a committee headed by scientist Sir Henry Tizard has been studying the problem, making recommendations and conducting a campaign to make the British worker and factory operator "productivity conscious."

"Step up your efficiency, make it for less," they are being told.

Many Britons feel the campaign is a bit unreal. It comes at a time when, for the very reason that there are frustrated exports, life is brightening a little on the heretofore drab domestic scene.

Many tea sets and textiles intended for overseas are being released to the hungry home market because the foreign purchaser doesn't want them at the price demanded.

World Goes Topsy-Turvy French Stop Drinking Wine

By ROBERT WILSON.

PARIS, Aug. 11 — (AP). — Talk about a topsy-turvy world —the French are giving up drinking wine!

Not that there is an absolute drought, but only 74,200,000 gallons of Chateau Neur du Pape and Pouilly Fuisse are pouring down French throats a month.

Before the war, the French put away 106,000,000 gallons of the red and white juice of the grape every 30 days.

A vineyard syndicate at Beziers-Saint-Pons is pushing a campaign "to introduce wine to the French youth who, during the war, could not appreciate that healthful drink."

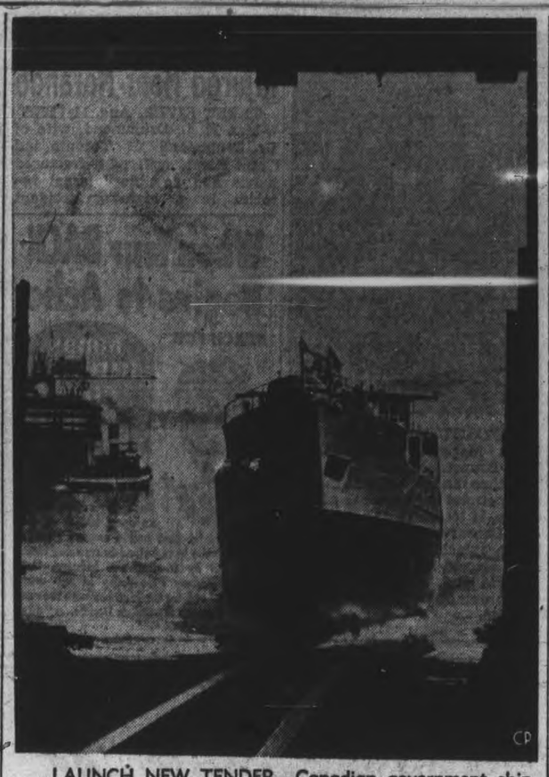
A group of legislators have filed a bill in Parliament asking that the government increase the daily wine ration of the French soldier from a half-pint to a full pint.

Aids Morale

The bill recalls that "wine contributed largely to the maintaining of the good morale of our valiant, glorious and victorious soldiers and sailors in 1918," and adds sorrowfully:

"Now, in many outfits the soldiers don't drink wine any more. For example, in Beziers, capital of wine, the soldiers drink beer."

The exclamation point of shocked disbelief is that of the bill's author, Andre Tourne, a Communist, and a vineyard owner. As wine drinking has slumped, drinking of bottled water has jumped from 295,000,000 bottles before the war to 400,000,000 bottles this year.



Most Frenchmen shun tap water as if it were strychnine, preferring to buy the bottled water from state-run spas, which supposedly is good for a lot of the things that ail you.

It's just too expensive for many Frenchmen to drink wine these days. Prices have multiplied 20 times.

The situation is as alarming as if in Boston people stopped eating beans.

Expect Thousands Visit Britain For Festival Activities In 1951

By NORMAN CRIBBENS

LONDON, Aug. 11 (CP). — London is expected to receive the largest number of visitors in its history during the 1951 Festival of Britain.

Festival officials say they are arranging to handle more than 700,000 oversease visitors, besides thousands more from all parts of the British Isles.

"We believe that with long-term planning, and by enlisting the co-operation of private householders, London will be able to absorb this number," an official said.

"We have the experience of last year's Olympic Games to guide us, and it is likely that arrangements for the Festival will follow similar lines."

During the Games there was a central bureau at which hotels, boarding houses and householders with rooms to let could register and to which visitors applied.

Special Committee

For the Festival an accommodation committee will be set up to survey all available accommodation and to grade it according to price and extent.

Five thousand members of the British Hotels and Restaurant Association will discuss their Festival plans as soon as the present holiday season is over.

"We must send visitors away with a good impression of British hotels," an official said.

A leading travel agency said preliminary plans were being made, but specific details could not be worked out until later.

British railways plan to introduce special trains and special facilities, including extra dining cars and extra accommodation in railway hotels.

An official of British European [illegible] we expect that about 25 per cent of our overseas visitors will fly here." We shall increase services according to the demand.

"We have 25 Airspeed Ambassadors on order and, if possible, we shall put these into service during 1951."

The Travel Association of Great Britain said it would make every effort to co-ordinate travel, entertainment and catering services throughout Britain.

Major Shake-up Hits Police Department

LOS ANGELES, Aug 11—(CP) —A major shake-up Wednesday hit the Los Angales police department in the wake of an intensive grand jury investigation of vice conditions. One hundred and twenty-seven police officers were shifted to new posts.

Much of the turmoil has stemmed from charges of Brenda Allen, Hollywood brothel operator now in jail, that she made cash payoffs for protection to some members of the police vice squad.

German Election Heated Battle

LONDON, Aug. 11 (CP)—While Western Germany nears her first democratic elections in 16 years, Whitehall is pondering the significance of the super-heated nationalism expressed by all the political parties.

Campaigning, having taken anti-Russian feeling for granted, has moved into the anti-allied field. Speakers have denounced tri-power decisions on matters such as the Saar, the Oder-Neisse line, dismantling in the Rhur and the peace treaty.

Strictly, these subjects have no business in the campaign since the government which 42,000,000 of Germany's 60,000,000 citizens will be eligible to elect this Sunday can do nothing about them.

Under the occupation statue the 420-seat Bundestag will govern Germany in all matters except foreign affairs, foreign trade and national defence—under which heading the troublesome questions come.

Whitehall is inclined to the belief that the two major parties—the Social Democrats and the Christian Democrats—by this device are stealing the thunder of the Communists who have taunted them with being puppets dancing to the Allies' tune.

It is considered significant that while party speeches at least those reported abroad, contain apparent anti-allied sentiment, it is not repeated in Socialist or Christian Democrat election literature. This runs strictly on party political and economic lines.

Shower Halts Fire

MONTREAL, Aug. 11—(CP)—A thunder shower Wednesday halted the surface fire sweeping through the fields of nearby St. Hubert but the sub-surface peat continued to smoulder. The fire broke out three days ago and valuable farm crops have been destroyed while farmers, firemen and servicemen plowed fire-break trenches with bulldozers.

Four charges were laid against the three charging that they conspired to commit defamatory libel against officers of the CSU.

WESTWOOD, Aug. 11 (ENS)—The Asphodel Township Council met in the Town Hall, Westwood, recently for its regular meeting.

A delegation comprising David B. The council agreed to meet at the above place and discuss the matter.

It was moved by Councillors Beamish and Scott that the following accounts be paid: Rendle Dickson, road sup't salary, $162; Milfred McGee, labor, $110.05; Wilfred Lynch, $2.75; Rex Warr, $3.85; Lorne Hutchinson, garage ac., $38.65; County of Peterborough, snow fence, $200; Kingan Hardware (Blastol), $16.50; J. TURTLES AND TOTS—Five-year-old Ruby Richardson, left, of Nanton, Alta., is both delighted and surprised with the turtle egg she is holding. Her sister, Norma, six, holds the parents, pet mud turtles owned by their grandmother, Mrs. Bert Shantz of Calgary, Alta. The larger of the two turtles is about the size of a dinner plate and 30 years old.

Lutheran Church Not Denazified McCloy States

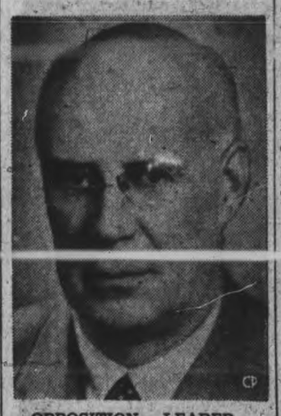
BERLIN, Aug. 11—(Reuters)—The German Lutheran church, largest religious community in Germany, is "far from being denazified," religious affairs officers today told John F. McCloy, United States High Commissioner-designate.

Military government officers are said to be worried by a new appointment made by Otto Dibelius, Bishop of Brandenburg, whose policy, they recommended, should be studied carefully to determine its direction."

The Bishop, it is reported, appointed as his personal assistant Pastor Wolfgang Guenther Dietrich, a member of the Nazi party from 1933 to 1945.

Pastor Dietrich is a former member of the Brown-Shirt battalions (S.A.L.) and also belonged to the Nationalist German Christian Movement.

Not Co-operated



A military government officer said the Lutheran church was the only religious body that had not co-operated actively with military government.

He cited instances of letters addressed to Bishop Dibelius pointing out that some of his pastors had Nazi background. These had been answered by a refusal to remove the pastors.

"In 2 cases we have had to step in ourselves and dismiss the offenders," the officer said.

A spokesman for Bishop Dibelius denied the American charges against the Lutherans.

"The church administration has carefully examined the history of all its pastors and the allegations of the United States authorities are without foundation," he said.

OPPOSITION LEADER — Hugh Mackay, prominent in New Brunswick Legislature for Maritime and Montreal investment circles and member of the Kings, is leader of the Progressive Conservative Opposition in the provincial house. He was first elected to the legislature in 1944 and was re-elected in the provincial general election in 1948.

Trent River Woman Injured Near Noranda

TRENT RIVER, Aug. 11 (ENS)—Mrs. K. L. Drummond, wife of Dr. Drummond of Toronto and Trent River, suffered a fractured pelvis and possible internal injuries in a highway accident which occurred near Noranda, Quebec, on Sunday, according to word received here yesterday. Mrs. Drummond was injured when the car she was driving got out of control on a curve and overturned. She was taken to Noranda General Hospital, where she will be forced to remain for at least two months.

Two other occupants of the car, Miss Bonnie Hill, Reg.N., of Toronto and Hiram Revoir of Trent River escaped injury. The party had been visiting Mr. Revoir's son Clayton and family and were on their way home when the accident happened.

90-Degree High On Wednesday Hard To Believe

By JACK BROWN

You won't believe it, but it was two degrees cooler—yes, 90 degrees—Wednesday than Tuesday. And there lies the secret of the (whisper the words) heat wave. Instead of saying that it was hotter one day than another, say that it was cooler the other day, and you'll feel much better.

Peterborough got a small share of the showers that were scattered over the province, but ten minutes after the rain was over the damp musty smell was gone, and it was hot again. Envy the local businessman who just came home from a trip across Canada and had to put anti-freeze in his car because the nights were so cold. He slept with six blankets, too.

Some of the local industries called it quits early in the afternoon. Outboard Marine shut down at 3 o'clock, and although there was no general shutdown at Peterborough Lock, workers were going home from there all day. Canadian General stayed at work, and Quaker office girls trooped merrily over the bridge at four o'clock.

Soft drink manufacturers report that although it's a little too soon to tell, sales are definitely up from last year. They feel they will be able to handle the heat demand, however.

General opinion of the manufacturers is that they will wait to see what the day brings, before planning any shutdowns or layoffs due to excessive heat. The fact that the rain did cool the air for a few minutes in the afternoon yesterday encouraged the workers to stay at the job until the final whistle.

At 9 o'clock this morning the temperature was 70, and with the sun starting to climb in the sky, it was expected that the mercury will ease its way into the 90's again. Toronto is dreading the 95 that's been forecast.

The air-conditioned restaurants that stayed open yesterday were jammed hour after hour with hordes of relief-seekers. The town wit summed it up, as he wiped his brow and ruefully surveyed a pulpy shirt collar, "It ain't the heat, boys, it's the humility of it all."

AMBITIOUS LADY PADDLERS, the Misses E. Huntington, Brooklyn, NY, LEFT, and S. Kline, of Summit, NJ, left Trenton on Aug. 1st and hope to reach Georgian Bay by the month end. They arrived in Peterborough on Wednesday and were towed by a friend's cruiser from Wallace's Point, their only lift to date. Last year they paddled the Rideau waterways system from Kingston to Ottawa, and are no greenhorns at the sport.—(Examiner Staff Photo)

Lions Club Receives Cheque To Aid Swimming Pool Fund

Doug Anderson of the Lions Club reports receipt of a $100 cheque for the Club's swimming pool at Riverside Park from Frank "Rusty" Edgar of Lucky Strike Bait Works. Other contributions have been made by Scarfe's Paints, Peterborough, Francis Hankin and Company, Montreal and Toronto, and also from Peterborough material suppliers of which acknowledgment is to be made later.

Rapid progress is being made on the pool project, and members themselves have put in many back-breaking hours on the job to save money and hustle completion of the $40,000 pool.

"Many citizens have been asking if they could donate to this undertaking," said Mr. Anderson. "The Lions Club will be glad to accept contributions from people who wish to give and thereby help finance this beautiful swimming pool as a new recreational centre for Peterborough. When we started we had enough money for its bare essentials, but if donations come in we will be able to give the completed job all the trimmings. In fact another $10,000 would be a wonderful help, and would enable us to finish it the way everybody would like to see it."

The pool would have been in use now if the Lions Club had not been held up on the site question when certain objections were made to the city council from some residents of Burnham St. However, that detail was ironed out satisfactorily, but valuable building time was lost for full use of the pool this summer.

The Club carnival this week end is expected to be largely patronized. Receipts will be for the swimming pool fund. Donations may be left with Al Cameron, Club treasurer, at the Bank of Montreal.

Two US Women Travel Trent Via Canoe

Praise of the beautiful scenery to be found along the route of the Trent waterway system and of the fine service rendered by the various lockmasters, was extended by two American women canoeists who arrived in Peterborough Wednesday en route from Trenton to Georgian Bay. They are Miss E. Huntington, Brooklyn, N.Y., and Miss S. Kline, Summit, New Jersey.

Making their first trip on this route, they have paddled their 18-foot craft all the way up since leaving Trenton August 1, except for the nine miles between Wallace Point and Peterborough when their canoe was towed by a motor launch owned by Gordon Higinson, Hawkesbury, Ontario.

They stopped at the George St. wharf long enough to make a few purchases and then continued on through the Liftlock, an experience to which they had been looking forward with much anticipation.

Experienced Canoeists

Miss Huntington and Miss Kline have had plenty of experience going on canoe trips, as last year they cruised the Rideau Lake district from Kingston to Ottawa and previous to that made other trips in U.S. inland waters.

They eat and sleep for the most part at various resorts along the route, except for their noon lunch for which they pick up supplies en route. They carry sleeping bags in case the need for their use should arise.

They stopped over at Healey Falls Friday night and left there Saturday morning for Hastings, where they went through Lock 18 Sunday morning. On Sunday afternoon they ran into a high wind on Rice Lake which forced them to pull into shore at Humphrey's Point for several hours. In not one case so far have they had to seek means of having their canoe carried past a lock; the lockmasters all co-operated fully in putting them through the locks.

Miss Huntington is director of the Long Island Historical Library and Miss Kline is executive director of the Union County (New Jersey) Tuberculosis League.

The lady canoeists spoke with special pleasure of the water birds they had seen so far, including bitterns, herons and rice hens. They said they had encountered many good subjects for camera shots to add to their collection of snaps. In many places along the way they had the advantage over motorboats, being able to glide through many shallow areas where the bigger boats could not go.

TELLS THE TRUTH

Out of all the business men downtown who closed as usual Wednesday afternoon, only one appeared to view the heat with an outward sense of humor. While all the other stores just had the blinds on their front doors pulled, there was a shop on Hunter St. that had a card in the window "Gone Swimming". Lucky fellow.

Englishmen Fail To Realize Canada's Power

John Fisher, noted CBC broadcaster and probably one of Canada's greatest publicity agents, thrilled an audience of campers and resort owners Wednesday evening at Belmont Lake, with tales and stories of his wanderings through Europe this summer. Mr. Fisher is a guest, with his wife, son and his wife's mother, at Hotel Sylvan, on Belmont Lake.

Mr. Fisher concentrated on England, France and the Scandinavian countries. Of England, he said: "There is an awful frustration of life. It is not tragic, but it is still a little austere." He said that the Englishman is fed up with the bureaucracy and red tape of the country, the rationing, the queuing up for food and cigarettes.

The physical England he described as placid, and he said that London is a place to spend a lifetime digging out all the wonderful historical things that are there. "Everything in London is hidden; she is heavy, misty and moody."

Empire Is Gone

One of the hardest things for the Englishman to realize is that the Empire, as it was during Victoria's reign, is gone, Mr. Fisher said. "England is no longer the great power she was." Coupled with the "Atlantic gulf" of inconvertibility between dollars and pounds sterling, this lessening power is hard for the Englishman to accept.

Mr. Fisher lamented the fact that although the Canadian contribution during the war was greater than the United States, on a per capita basis, the English still do not realize our position in the world of commerce. This misunderstanding of Canada's growth and power in the press and radio in England have led to a situation in which the English are completely unaware of happenings in Canada, Mr. Fisher said.

Saying that "only a fool in this world of ours would be anti-British," Mr. Fisher stated that "It is in the interests of all of us to see that Britain recovers".

Carefree Attitude

Switching to the continent, Mr. Fisher described Paris, with its sidewalk cafes and ignorance of collective responsibilities, under an anarchy. Because of this carefree attitude, Mr. Fisher said, the French get a terrific kick out of living.

The three large cities of Scandinavia were described by Mr. Fisher as "Copenhagen—the most pro-British city outside the British Empire; Stockholm, a city the size of Toronto, that does not have one slum; Oslo—A Vancouver on the continent, nestling among the mountains and hills; a place to feel at home".

Norway as well is bothered with the eternal dollar problem, and has resorted to supplying her Scotch-loving people with liquor made entirely from trees. Mr. Fisher paid tribute to the work of Norwegian tankers during the war; their efforts brought more than 70 million gallons of badly needed gas to Britain, during the bad days of the battle.

Great Playground

Urged by the audience to talk about Canada, Mr. Fisher struck home with a suggestion that the resort operators of Belmont Lake form an association, hire a publicity agent, and push the area as a summer playground. He said that the inborn Canadian sense of shyness must be overcome, and that the wonderful country that we have must be promoted in a fashion equal to any promotion the United States has ever seen.

In a tribute to the American way of living, Mr. Fisher said that, although it was not a good thing "The Canadian is essentially a dull beast". But he said that with promotion of the right type, Canadians could and will take their rightful place in the world.

Mr. Fisher urged the operators to organize the district and sell it. He asked that the Americans in the audience be patient, and in a final tribute to the United States, Mr. Fisher said "by the end of the century look out. Canadian individuality and American initiative will develop Canada. The Americans are neighbors, not foreigners. We are privileged to live next door to them".

A dance and gathering in which Mr. Fisher was literally swamped with questions, followed. The affair was organized by Roger Young, proprietor of Hotel Sylvan.

First Air Trip

"I wouldn't trade it for Daddy's car, as there is not enough water in the garage." This was 3-year-old Donna Carveth's chief comment after she had made her first air trip yesterday over Chemong Lake in the seaplane which is based there.

Donna is the daughter of Ross Carveth, of Newcastle, who served eight years in the Royal Canadian Air Force as a mechanic at Aylmer, Ontario. Apparently Donna is fully as air-minded as her Daddy, as she appeared to have enjoyed the voyage through the skies immensely.

Jackson Wins Oshawa Derby

Peterborough entries swept all honors Wednesday in the Oshawa soap box derby open invitation meet.

Herbert Jackson, Peterborough's 1949 senior Y's Men's Club soap box champion, took first place for the $25. George Pollard, 1949 Y's Men's Club junior champion, placed second for $20, while Richard Miller, last year's Peterborough senior champion and Oshawa's 1948 open invitation meet's champion, placed third for $15. Raymond Cole was fourth for $10.

A spokesman for the boys said that this race winds up the soap box activities for the boys as far as racing is concerned. No Peterborough boys will be attending the Akron, Ohio, championships.

BUSH FIRE CHECKED

Fire, which was believed to have started from a Boy Scout campfire, burned over two acres of underbrush near Cseca before it was checked by Port Hope firemen and a group of 70 farmer volunteers. Wind blew sparks into the underbrush, but firefighters halted the blaze before it spread to about 50 acres of recently planted trees.

Trent Waterways Control Model For Province Has Eliminated Floods

By HARRY THEOBALD

"The Trent waterways comprise a wonderful system that is repaying to the people in various little ways all the money that was spent on it." That was the tribute of William Newman of Lorneville at the meeting in Lindsay Wednesday of representatives of four counties discussing proposals for a brief on conservation—land use—to be submitted to a select committee of the Legislature at Lindsay Wednesday, Sept. 7.

Victoria, Ontario, Durham and Peterborough counties are the district group, Each had held previous meetings and at Lindsay they were comparing and compiling notes.

On the topic of the control of streams, the meeting cited the success of the Trent, as a model for other sections of the province. Mr. Newman recalled that the Trent was begun by the province of Upper Canada in the 1820's as an interior military course from Lake Ontario to Lake Superior in the days of hostilities along the border.

After that phase of its use, it was expanded for navigation and lumbering. Both those activities have declined, but they have been replaced by the tourist business and electric power production. The many dams provide such a tight control that Peterborough, Lakefield, Lindsay, Campbellford and other towns along the Trent are protected against freshets and floods.

Recreation Areas

Fred Marshall of Peterborough outlined a brief for more extensive use of Crown land as drafted by Kawartha Conservation Association. Among other ideas, it is recommending to the Legislature that steps be taken to preserve for use by the public substantial areas of land still owned by the Crown.

"There is no reason," said Mr. Marshall, "why Victoria county should not have a large area on one of its lakes deeded to the community for public recreation."

With the passage of years, the extent of such lands with free access to the public was gradually dwindling. It was time that provision be made for the use of the ordinary citizens who did not have their own water fronts.

"In Peterborough we have had some of our picnics taking off to Cobourg and Orillia," Mr. Marshall said. "That is fine, and it is nice to visit around, but couldn't we have an expansive picnic ground in which all have a claim. It is just a matter of Crown Land use, and we should do something about it now.

"We have been assured by several departments of the provincial government that this granting of land for public use is going to be arranged. We are expecting in Peterborough to get a lake area of some 600 acres. It could be done similarly for every county in the province."

Education of the people in the full meaning of conservation will probably be given first position in the report to the touring committee which is composed of members of the government and the C.C.F. and Liberal opposition.

It is an exceedingly comprehensive subject and probably includes the special education suggested by R. M. Peirson of Peterborough Co-Operative Services in advocating soil testing in relation to the proper use of fertilizers.

Dean McCague of Victoria county, representing junior farmers, affirmed that in his observation the juniors knew little or nothing about conservation and did not appear to be much interested in these meetings preparatory to the visit of the Legislature's committee.

He said he had called a meeting of Victoria juniors to get their ideas and arrange for representation, but not enough of them turned out. Mr. McCague remained through the morning and afternoon sessions Wednesday, and said at one stage that the subjects of conservation and such details as education should be of deep concern to the younger farmers of the province.

Leroy Brown, agricultural representative in Victoria, was chairman, and Frank C. Paterson of Peterborough was secretary.

The brief from the four counties will probably be presented by Mr. Garnet Rickard of Durham county, and it is likely that Col. F. E. Birdsall will speak to the brief for Peterborough's interests.

Peterborough was represented Wednesday by Alex Huston, W. A. Anderson, G. A. Brethen, Col. Birdsall, John Bell, zone forester, F. C. Paterson and Robert Bell, his assistant.

BUMPER CROPS—Grain crops promising bumper yields are the exception rather than the rule in the prairies this year. In the area around where irrigation has been used to supplement natural moisture, indications are the yield will be high. Here W. R. Hughes and John Hocken are seen examining a heavy stand of wheat on the former's farm, nine miles north of Lethbridge. This field has grown to a height of four feet and promises to yield 50 bushels an acre.

"Eating For Health" Subject Of WA Talk

MILLBROOK, Aug. 11 (ENS)—The final event of the season put on by St. Andrew's Women's Association before they open again for regular meetings in the fall took place in the Sunday school auditorium on Tuesday evening, August 9 in the form of a dinner to which one hundred guests had been invited.

Mrs. Allie Payne, president, welcomed the guests as did also Mr. Friday of the Nu-Health Aluminumware Company. Mr. Friday gave a lecture on "Eating For Health." The speaker stressed the importance of eating food in "as nearly the state in which God gave it to us as possible." He advocated the eating of raw fruits and vegetables and when cooking them to do so in their "jackets" and in a waterless cooker to preserve vitamins. He stated also that cooking at high temperatures caused food to deteriorate, and that boiling them in water dissolved the most beneficial vitamins and minerals, and when drained sent these down the sink. He also strongly advised the use of whole wheat bread and whole grain cereals.

Mr. Friday presented a Sheffield stainless steel carving set which Mrs. Payne accepted on behalf of the association.

The W.A. cleared fifty dollars from this project.

Mohawks Adopt Sophie Tucker

BRANTFORD, Aug. 11 (CP)—Sophie Tucker can change her stage, screen, radio and night-club billing now. Her new name is Ga-Ja-Je-Kwuks—the sifter of flowers—given to her Tuesday night when she was adopted by Mohawk Indians of the Six Nations.

They added a couple of feathers and led her through the strange, hesitating rhythms of an Indian dance.

Sophie, never one to be chilly in front of a crowd, had to carry a fan in the torrid night temperature but gave the applauding braves one of her best shows.

The beat followed by her fellow tribesmen, Chief Little Bear, Chief Red Jacket and others was different from what she was accustomed to and stumped Sophie for a minute. But she swung into an expert off-to-Buffalo, remembered from her long and colorful stage experience. It went over big.

Earlier in the day Miss Tucker was honored by the city of Hamilton. She signed the register, quipped with the mayor, saluted welcoming brass bands and went shopping.

Farley Granger Advises Girls On First Dates

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 11 (AP) —Farley Granger, a leading contender to the No. 1 Hollywood bachelor spot just vacated by Jimmy Stewart, gives advice to girls on dating.

Young Granger is no green hand in the date department. He has squired such dolls as Ava Gardner, Shelley Winters, Geraldine Brooks, and Ann Blyth. He has some advice for femmes who want their escorts to ask for a second date.

"On the first date," he said, "the guy is likely to be a bit tense. He wants to put his best foot forward, and the girl should try to put him at ease right away. He probably has an idea of what they will do for the evening; but if he asks for suggestions, she should have a few in mind.

Dress Quietly

"The girl should dress conservatively. She should look natural—dress to suit her own type of beauty and personality.

"The first date is usually just talking. It's the couple's chance to get acquainted and learn each other's interests. They can decide if they have enough in common and if they want to see more of each other."

Granger compiled a few don'ts for the girls: Don't talk too much; but be able to converse intelligently. Don't order the most expensive dish for dinner; but do not embarrass him by choosing the cheapest either. Don't table hop.

Don't make-up at the table. Don't talk about other dates. Don't feign an interest in sports when you know nothing about them. And don't, he emphasized, talk marriage.

The ideal date, he concluded, is a simple one: "A companionable partner is the first requisite. Then what you do doesn't matter. Just do something you both like."

Workman Injured On Construction Job

A fall from a scaffold while working on the new addition to the Westclox building Monday afternoon resulted in concussion, a laceration of the scalp and a fractured shoulder bone for Anthony Ellement, 387 Armour Rd.

He is reported doing well in St. Joseph's Hospital.

Jack Garner, a driver for Canadian Pacific Express, happened to see the accident while driving past. He said Ellement was pulling cribbing from a cement pillar. One of the boards broke and Ellement fell about eight feet among a pile of timbers. He was put on a stretcher and taken to nearby St. Joseph's Hospital by fellow workers. He was attended by Dr. J. E. Howes.

"Don't be ridiculous, Ernest — you aren't required to go down with a hired boat."

Praying Mantis Become Publicity Seekers

The praying mantis appear to have moved down town this summer, with a new inbred quest for publicity. They must be hiving around the Examiner. Clare Kearns, 390 Queen St., brought one to the office today identified it for the record of this summer's phenomena, and took it out again to free its wings.

But, that's just the usual routine. An enterprising mantis flew in through a window of the Examiner city room Tuesday afternoon and actualy perched on a typewriter, an interesting case of genetics. Publicity seeking has been bred into the local species by generations of recent years that have been carefully bottled or boxed by citizens who discovered them and sought the Examiner's low down on the funny looking insects.

This Tuesday specimen obviously wanted to get its name in the paper. Its immediate forbears have become so publicly-minded that this laddie declined to wait until some one picked him off and hustled to the editor with his find. He had the direct approach, knew the way to the city editor's desk, and honestly was looking around for the staff photographer. This mantis was almost human.

Bubonic Plague Hits New Mexico

SANTA FE, NM, Aug. 11 (AP) —Illness of two New Mexico residents Wednesday was found to be bubonic plague — the Black Death of the Middle Ages.

Only 21 other cases of the disease have been listed in the United States during the last 25 years.

The diagnosis was reported by Dr. Vernon Link of the Western Contagious Disease Control Centre in San Francisco.

He told a press conference that modern drugs apparently have achieved a smashing victory over the ancient, flea-borne disease. Treatment, he said, has brought dramatic improvement in both cases.

The victims are a 10-year-old boy and a 37-year-old man. They are residents of widely separated villages in Northern New Mexico.

The boy was treated with streptomycin and sulfadiazine the man with penicillin and aureomycin.

Dr. Link said there have been 516 cases with 338 deaths since 1900. The two New Mexico victims are the only ones reported so far this year.

Dr. Link said all 23 cases in the last quarter-century have been traced to wild rodents carrying plague-infested fleas.

He said that there is no doubt the two New Mexico cases were bubonic plague, even though the laboratory tests have not been completed.

Say Liquor Board Violates Agreement

TORONTO, Aug. 11—(CP)—A special caucus of CCF members of the Ontario Legislature charged Wednesday that the Ontario Liquor Licence Board violated an agreement with the Provincial Temperance Federation not to hold any liquor-licence hearings during this summer.

The liquor-licence board is scheduled to meet here Aug. 22 to consider more than 150 applications.

CCF members drew up a statement demanding that the scheduled meetings be postponed.

Judge J. T. Robb, liquor board chairman, declined comment on the CCF action.

Annexation Costs Found To Be Higher

OTTAWA, Aug. 11 — (CP) — Some civic authorities raised a worried brow Wednesday when they discovered that the annexation of neighboring Nepean township next Jan. 1 may prove more costly than originally estimated.

Under the annexation terms, Ottawa agreed to take over all the township's debts on Jan. 1. But, said a city treasury official, there is no way in which Ottawa can control the township's expenditures between now and annexation day.

Possibility of the city having to assume new township debts was raised when it was discovered a new $12,000 lighting system is being installed in the township.

THERE'S MORE HAT to be seen in new season's winners. The beige felt lace-masked "steeple" (centre) reaches new height for fall, just as the flapper-inspired cloche (upper left) goes to a new deep-crowned depth. Another cloche, the "concertina" (upper right) skirts the high-low issue by unpleating on demand. The new derby taking the middle course (lower right) is feminized by a jockey veil. Black velvet toupee (lower left) is worn low but is twined with taller turban of gold velour wreathed with black velvet leaves.

Of Interest to Women

Button-sized Beanie Out There's Now More Hat

By EPSIE KINARD
NEA Fashion Editor

NEW YORK (NEA)—The button-sized beanie of last season, which designers claim nearly killed the millinery business, has been replaced this fall by more hat.

There's much more hat to be seen in the new fall 'steeple." It rises skyward like a spire. There's more hat in in the new Flapper Girls cloche which bows back from the 1920's. More hat is ahead in the "concertina" cloche, the derby, the aupee turban. All are designed by the creators of hat fashions to make millinery more provocative, more whistle-worthy.

"Don't let the day come when men aren't provoked by a hat," says the designer of the season's most provoking: the mask-veiled hat. This peaked cone of beige-colored felt, veiled mask-styled by black lace, is John Fredericks' "steeple." The toupee turban is also his. Black velvet makes the toupee that clings to a head like a wig, and over this goes a turban of gold-colored velour, circled by a band of black velvet leaves.

As intriguing is the derby, the new hat design of Mr. John, who feminizes it with softer contours; with chin strap or jockey veil. The colors of these ladies' derbies—jockey red, olive green, rust, gold and palomino beige—also help to identify their sex.

Mr. John's deep - crowned cloche, which revives the hat of the spitcurl or Charleston era, is also flapper-stamped by its colors. These are flaming youth red, hotcha brown, envy green, vaudeville pink and keyboard black. This 1949 cloche, says its designer, is sleeker, more sculptured and better suited to women's clothes than were their forerunners of 1920.

Another cloche that's coming up for fall is Sally Victor's "concertina." This designer's neat trick of skirting the high-low issue of the fall is to pleat the crown so that it can swing high or fold low. The drapery that controls the concertina is fastened with a big ornamental hook and eye.

Tighter Skirts Lower Necklines Shown for Fall

PARIS, Aug. 11—(AP)—Tight skirts, low necklines and pockets placed in peculiar places were the highlights of a fall fashion showing given Wednesday by Paquin.

This old-established fashion house showed skirts so tight only six inch steps could be taken. Lots of skirts, mainly for evening, fitted like the skin of a sausage down to below the knees where they kicked into fullness.

Necklines on some cocktail and evening dresses were so low even the mannequins got embarrassed.

Large pockets are set at the hemline of thigh-length box jackets and concealed slit pockets are placed into a vertical over-bust seaming. An apricot-colored blanket velour topcoat with gigantic, standup collar had large, flapped pockets placed near the hemline at back and front.

Exaggeratedly-pouched bodices are used on jackets and dresses, an unusual trimming highlights suits.

Welsh Community Goes to Cobourg

The Welsh community of Peterborough, members of St. David's Welsh Society, held their annual picnic Tuesday at Cobourg. Some 30 adults and children travelled by chartered bus. The youngsters enjoyed swimming, games and swings and there was a pot-luck supper.

On the return journey the party called at a summer resort in Bewdley, operated by Mr. and Mrs. Walter Flowers and Miss Margaret Flowers, former members of the society.

At the resort they sang the Welsh National Anthem.

Members in charge of the outing were Mrs. J. Henderson, president; Mrs. M. Packenham and Mrs. J. Bell.

When the society resumes its regular meetings at the YWCA September 19, it hopes to welcome any Welsh newcomers to Peterborough.

CALCUTTA, India, Aug. 11 (AP)—Thirty-two persons were drowned Wednesday when a launch capsized in the Mahanadi river in Orissa province.

It's so different today

Time was no object to Cleopatra when her slave attendants served breakfast. The Cleo of today must be quick off the mark. So no wonder Mother praises the served-in-a-jiffy, eaten-on-sight Post's Grape-Nuts Flakes. They're not only convenient but delicious and nourishing, too.

Yes—Post's Grape-Nuts Flakes provide useful quantities of carbohydrates, proteins, minerals and other food essentials to start the busy day right. Who Broke The Window?

MONTREAL—(CP)—Mrs. Mary Wilkes wants to know who's to blame for her broken window. A pedestrian got in the way of a truck and the truck swerved and hit a post. Stunts To Aid Sick Child

FRANKFURT, Germany—(CP)—A young German mother took a job inside a circus's "Ball of Death" to raise money for her paralyzed child. The Frankfurt "Abdenpost" reports the woman was chosen from 150 female applicants to ride inside a huge, locked sphere down an incline and through space into a net. The mother replaced a previous performer seriously injured in the stunt.

Baby Teeth Problem At 3

OTTAWA—(CP)—When baby reaches the age of three, the Dominion health and welfare department says, it's time to take him to the dentist.

By this time he has all 20 of his "baby" or foundation teeth which are important to him both for healthy growth and for appearance.

In a new booklet, "For Smiles tha. Last," the department says that foundation teeth "act as pathfinders for permanent teeth, and guide them to their proper spaces.

"Crowded, irregular permanet teetn are often the result of too early loss of one or more foundation teeth."

To reduce tooth decay give the child milk instead of soft drinks, peacut butter sandwiches instead of candy bars, crackers and cheese instead of gum, fruit instead of cake—for his after-school snacks.

Green Panes Bad Medicine

QUEENSTOWN, South Africa—(Reuters)—The Frontier Hospital may take out its green glass windows—they make the patients look sicker than they are. Doctors told the hospital board that the green panes cast a "sinister light" on patients, making them look as if they had severe jaundice. And patients got a shock when they saw their reflection under such conditions.

Judy MacDonald, R. Howe Chemong Park Champs

Judy MacDonald and Robert Howe are junior regatta champions of Chemong Park for 1949. Both champions collected a grand total of 17 points to win well ahead of other competitors. Eight-year-old Judy now wears the crown won last year by Sally Hartman. Bob, in winning the boys' championship this year, still retains the crown he won at last year's junior regatta.

The regatta was held under the auspices of the Chemonk Park Cottagers' Association along the waterfront of the cottages owned by Cec. Wasson, Dr. Ralph Clark and J. K. Hughes. In the program were 33 events including canoe, swimming and pillow fighting. Sailing races, which include canoe sailing, will be held for children under 16 August 16.

The pillow fighting event caused the most fun for the youngsters. A log was placed in the shallow water the boys or girls standing on the log slugging it out with the pillows. It was similar to the log rolling contests. Often the boy or girl who did the hitting was dropped into the water also as they lost their balance on the slippery log. Ken won the open pillow fight for 10-years and under, while Fred Grosse and Florence McKay took the honors in the 13-year and under event.

The swimming and canoeing events were well filled. In one canoe race there were 12 entrants. In the swimming events many children were held back due to the crowded conditions on the narrow course.

The swimming event for the children six years and under was possibly the most invisible of all events. The winner was hard to declare due to the large number which surged across the finish line. Fourteen children took part in the race which started with a scramble and finished that way. One little girl cut through the course speedily, winning handily. She couldn't swim so she walked the course. Jack Pulkinghorn, David Clark and Jim Rutherford placed in that order in this event.

In the canoe events there were only six spills. But for the entrants this seemed to be more fun than winning the race. In the last canoe event no less than three of the eight entries tipped before crossing the finish line and one, the winner, flipped just after crossing.

Al White, local water skier, put on a demonstration during the pillow fighting contests. He skimmed across the water twice cutting in close to the shore on both skis.

Several entrants in the events and some spectators who have been at other regattas this year remarked on the smoothness of the running of the races. By five o'clock the 33 races had been completed and the prizes were being given out at Wasson's cottages.

TV Fosters New Fashions With Girl Announcers

LONDON—(CP)—Three smart fashion-wise girls are Mary Malcolm, Sylvia Peters and Joan Gilbert, London's television announcer-interviewers.

Officials at Alexandra Palace, television headquarters, predict British Broadcasting Corporation that as television grows the trio will build up the world's biggest fireside fashion parade.

Latest fashions will be shown in plays, reviews and parlor games. Fashion houses will advise the already expert wardrobe department in tomorrow's trends.

At the moment the wardrobe department provides dresses for the three announcer-reviewers. An official explained:

"Every time they appear before the cameras they will be modelling the very latest in afternoon and evening dresses, tailored suits and even sports clothes.

"They won't own them. Their wardrobe will cost thousands of pounds. But all the clothes will be made by expert seamstresses in our own wardrobe department.

The three girls never wear the same dresses twice running on broadcasts.

And what about the men? Well, MacDonald Hobley (who looks something like a combination of Frank Sinatra and Prince Philip) is the only male announcer and it is planned to put him, too, into various ensembles of natty clothing.

Same as Street Car Library Catch-all

VANCOUVER—(CP)—A treasure of assorted articles left in books returned to the public library here gives librarians a few laughs—and sometimes a bit of annoyance.

They have found objects ranging from photos and keys to lipsticks, crochet needles and even a hairbrush. Not so welcome are chocolate smears and wads of chewing gum, most noted in children's books.

The library's lost and found drawer has held dresses, trousers, money, watches and a cream cake. But, the staff hastens to add, such things were left in the building—not in books.

And the librarians are still looking for one certain book-borrower.

He left the uppers of a set of false teeth as a book-mark.

BABY'S CRY IS NOT ALWAYS TEMPER

DISTINGUISH between your baby's cry of pain and cry of temper. The "pain cry" should have instant attention. For the feverish distress due to gas on stomach or bowels or those common digestive upsets, give Baby's Own Tablets at once. Mrs. May Mundy, of Toronto, finds they work every time.

"I am the mother of nine children, three of them prize babies, and Baby's Own Tablets have been my only medicine in raising them to the healthy children they now are. As soon as my children became a little feverish I at once gave them Baby's Own Tablets and in a very short time the fever disappeared and the children were normal again."

Equally effective for constipation, upset stomach, teething troubles and other minor ailments of babies.

Quickly effective. Sweet-tasting — easily crushed to a powder, if desired. No "sleepy" stuff — no dulling effect. Get a package today. Sickness often strikes in the night. 25 cents. Money back if you are not satisfied.

Can Judge Man's Character By Attitude To His Mother

DEAR MISS DIX: Can you judge a man's disposition by the way he acts in his own home and his attitude to his mother and immediate family? I am in love with a man 32 years old. He is quite stubborn and given to outbursts of temper a thome, but he tries to please me. Can a wife's influence chage her husband o any degree?

Dorothy Dix

TROBLED

ANSWER: You are wise to consider carefully the temperament of a man before you marry him, because the one most important factor in a wife's happiness or misery is her huband's disposition. It is that which settles the success or failure of her marriage.

You are right in thinking that the most important thing that any girl can find out about the man she contemplates marrying is what sort of disposition he has and how he reacts to domesticity, and there is no better laboratory in which to study him than in his own home.

As a general thing, it is a pretty safe bet that a man will treat his wife as he does his mother. There will be habit in this and it will also be the result of his father's attitude toward his mother and the way his mother has taught him to regard her. If his mother has made herself a doormat for him to walk on, he will wipe his feet on his wife.

But there are exceptions to this rule. Sometimes the mere fact that a woman is a man's wife, that she is his possession, gives her a value in his eyes that makes him cherish her. Sometimes a man never really has any unselfish affection for any human being until he falls in love with some woman.

Sometimes a man who has been callous to his mother's sufferings and willing for her to sacrifice to him cannot endue for his wife to have even a pin prick, and works himself to death to save his wife from having to lift her hand.

So you can't always tell how a man will treat his wife from the way he treats his mother and sisters, but the odds are that the man who is chivalrous and tender and kind to his mother and sisters will be that way to his wife.

As for stubbornness, that is a vice or a virtue, according to circumstances. It takes a lot of stubbornness to get along in this world. It is the people who dig in and stick to a thing in the face of discouragements who succeed at last. It is the men with determination of character who make faithful husbands and anyway, stubbornness is a much easier fault for a wife to deal with than weakness. Moreover, while you may not be able to drive a stubborn man, you can generally cajole him into going along the path you wish him to tread.

An uncontrolled temper is about the worst fault that a husband can have, and if you marry a man who is given to indulging himself in rages you will have your heart broken many a time and have to endure many an insult. The wife has a hard lot in life who lives in terror of doing or saying something that riles her lord and master and sends him into a blind fury that makes her quake in her shoes and leaves her battered and bruised in spirit, if not in body.

Of course every wife does modify her husband's disposition to a certain degree, but nothing is so overrated as woman's influence on man. All that she can do is just to push him along a little in the way he is already going. She cannot change his direction.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: My problem is this: I have kept company with a man for seven years and, although he calls once a week, he never proposes or even mentions marriage. I am very much in love with him and would be very grateful if you would tell me how to make him pop the question.

HOPEFUL

ANSWER: You certainly must be one of the world's greatest optimists if you can still remain hopeful about a man who has not reached the proposing point in seven years. Believe me, daughter, a woman has got in her work sooner than that, or she never gets it in.

Nobody can tell you how to make that kind of man pop the question because he is not in love with you and has no intention whatever of marrying you, and his coming to see you every week is no indication that his attentions have any intention. He probably likes your mother's cooking, and he finds you an interesting and agreeable companion, and your house is a pleasant place in which to spend an evening. But that is all. Nothing further.

Better waft such a man out into the air and center your interest on some man who is better husband material.

6—In Memoriams

BROWN—In fond and loving memory of our dear mother, Mrs. Richard Brown, who passed away one year ago, August 11, 1948.

In sorrow we waited day by day,
And watched her suffering there,
Slowly but surely passing away
From the pain she scarce could bear.
And then God called from his throne above,
Her suffering and pain is past,
We know she has gone to realms of love
And in Heaven has peace at last.

—Ever remembered by daughters, Ida and Mildred.

Mrs. A. Hanson Will Head Eastern Star

TORONTO, Aug. 11 —(CP)— Mrs. Abbie Hanson of Hammond, Ind., was installed here today as most worthy grand matron of the Order of the Eastern Star.

The ceremony took place during the closing meeting of the Order's triennial convention which has been in progress here since Monday with more than 10,000 delegates in attendance. Most of the sessions have been closed.

Mrs. Hanson told the convention she plans to visit Japan next summer in connection with her new duties. She said she will also visit Eastern Star chapters in Alaska.

During the three years she holds office her project will be to raise money for the Shriners' hospitals for crippled children. All money raised will be given directly to the hospital as a gift. Each state or country will be allowed to give their contribution to their own hospitals.

Cancer Project

Mrs. Hanson said she will also continue the cancer research project begun by Mrs. Hamilton.

The new head of the Eastern Star has been active in the Order since 1921. Five years after her initiation she was made worthy matron of her home city chapter. The next year she became Grand Ruth of Indiana and then advanced to Grand Matron of the state.

She was appointed Worthy Grand Warder in 1937 and was then elected to the Board of Trustees. Named Right Worth Grand Conductress, next, she was in line for the top position of the Order, which she accepted today.

With Mrs. Hanson at the convention are her husband, Jacob, who is a Mason, and her daughter, Mrs. Marion Janes, who is acting as her page at formal functions.

R. Donald Stewart, Most Worthy Grand Patron of the Order, was honored at a breakfast given by the Grand Chapter of New Brunswick. Later, Judge Frankland W. L. Miles, Right Worthy Associate Grand Patron, will be honored at a dinner by the Grand Chapter of Massachusetts.

Report Butter Stocks Higher Than In 1948

Production in the seven-month period amounted to 161,792,000 pounds compared with 163,881,000 in the corresponding period of 1948. Stocks at August 1 amounted to 56,668,000 pounds compared with 41,986,000 on July 1, and 45,065,000 at August 1, 1948.

Cheddar cheese production rose 8.2 per cent, totalling 18,033,000 pounds compared with 16,666,000 in July, 1948. In the first seven months of this year the production was 59,593,000 pounds compared with 51,230,000.

Cheese stocks at August 1 amounted to 29,717,000 pounds compared with 32,112,000 on July 1 and 51,477,000 on August 1, 1948.

Too Few Men Interested In Weed Control

By HARRY THEOBALD

It's a shame the way they poke fun at Alex Huston about various things, particularly his weed controlling and his relish of Stewart Hall pie as the "ne plus ultra" of cookery.

At home and abroad he encounters these facetious thrustings at his good nature and his paramount interests.

The latest occasion was at Lindsay yesterday when William Newman was talking about the need of changing attitudes and methods toward weed control. Incidentally, Mr. Huston is the controller for Peterborough, appointed by the county council.

Mr. Newman was saying that the day was gone when young men could be persuaded to tackle weeds with a shovel or even a sickle. This was a machine age. Put a young man on a weed-combatting machine, and he'd do a job because it appealed to him and his generation.

"Victoria county council bought a ditching machine three or four years ago, and it is one of the best investments the council ever made. They have accomplished more in ditching and drainage in those years than we did in the previous 40."

But, weed control was not modernized, and too many farmers were indifferent about it.

"We have weed control in Victoria, but I might as well say that it isn't any good, and we're not getting anywhere."

There was laughter on the right where Mr. Huston and some district county councillors sat.

Smiling broadly in that direction, Mr. Newman said: "I understand they have weed control over in Peterborough, and I'll bet it isn't one bit better than we have in Victoria."

Mr. Newman got a laugh out of that ribbing, but he did not entirely escape. He was told by several of the Victoria councillors and also by Mr. Huston that the fault rested on the farmers, especially township councils. The government provided half the cost of weed spraying, provided the machine and the men, and left only the purchase of chemical to the local council. Their contention was that ample provision was made for the struggle against weeds, but too many property owning farmers were not actively interested in what the council could do and should do.

Commercialism Of Radio Under Attack

OTTAWA, Aug. 11 — (CP) — The Royal Architectural Institute of Canada today blasted at "the rank vulgarity and commercialism of the majority of radio programs."

The Institute, representing some 1,100 architects, claimed in a brief prepared for the royal commission on arts and science development that "giant commercial corporations" controlled the type and quality of programs.

Canada's national radio agency, the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, "has yet to work peaceably with all private stations" and as a result, commercial radio advertising was, in many cases, "objectionable to the listener."

Part Of Survey

The Institute said it submitted its views on radio and television as one part of a survey of Canada's cultural needs "whereby the public will have opportunity to come under the influence of true products of divine inspiration and honest human craftsmanship."

"With few exceptions," said the Institute, entertainment value catered "to less than average intelligence" and was "merely sales propaganda tagged on to nonsense or psuedo-romantic drivel."

It was the public which paid for "wasteful competitive advertising."

"As an instance, soap manufacturers pay vast sums for radio advertising, resulting in diminished return to the manufacturer and hence diminished returns to the governments. In other words so long as wasteful advertising is uncontrolled, the sufferers are the public or the government, or both."

In the case of television the Institute suggested that "the greater expense of television should tend to raise the standard of programs produced. So far, this has not been the case in the United States."

British Army Girl Admits Killing Husband

LONDON, Aug. 11 (AP) — A British army girl was quoted in court Wednesday as saying she stabbed her husband when he tried to make her sleep with him after 80 days of kissless marriage.

Margaret Williams, 21-year-old ski champion of the Women's Royal Army Corps, is charged with the murder of Sgt.-Maj. Montague (Slim) Williams, in a hotel at Klakenfurt, Austria, July 4.

The prosecution contends Mrs. Williams had "leaning toward lesbianism" which kept her from consummating the marriage.

Chief Inspector John Digby, who investigated the slaying for Scotland Yard, testified Mrs. Williams said to him:

"I have always been attracted to women more so than men but I did not know there was anything in it until a girl I fell in love with told me all about it. I have tried hard to fight against it and that was the reason why I got married."

Ignatieff Leaves U.N. Position, Goes To Embassy

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., Aug. 11 (CP)—George Ignatieff of Canada Wednesday stepped out of his post as rapporteur of the United Nations "little assembly" in preparations for his transfer to the Canadian embassy in Washington.

Tribute was paid by assembly chairman Selim Sarper of Turkey to the 36-year-old Canadian who has held the job since last January. Pierre Ordonneau of France was elected unanimously to take his place.

Ignatieff leaves Friday for Washington where he will be counsellor of the embassy.

As principal adviser to Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton, head of the permanent Canadian delegation, Ignatieff has been concerned with all the top problems to the U.N. from atomic energy to the Palestine problem.

His place on the Canadian delegation is being taken by Arnold Smith, formerly the representative of the Department of External Affairs at the National Defence College, Kingston.

Smith, 33, has had previous experience as a Canadian representative at the United Nations. He took part in drafting of the charter of the International Trade Organization and was a member of the Canadian delegation to the U.N. Economic and Social Council in 1947.

The Toronto-born Smith was a Rhodes scholar.

Greeks Storm Big Stronghold

ATHENS, Aug. 11 (AP)—The Greek army stepped up its campaign against Communist-led guerillas today by storming the rebel stronghold in the Vitsi Triangle near the Albanian and Yugoslav bordecs.

Informed sources said Greek troops seized four strategic heights in the heavily fortified area where 7,000 guerrillas are believed entrenched.

The Vitsi Triangle is about 60 mile s north of the Grammos Mountain area where a major Greek army offensive was launched last week.

Commandos who started moving Wednesday night were reported to have seized fortified heights of Baro and Lessits, overlooking the main road from Kastoria to Phlorina. Heights at Gjavata and Polenata, which are east of Baro, also were reported captured.

Infantrymen were being rushed to the heights to meet an anticipated violent guerrilla counterattack.

The initial successes were regarded by military observers as highly significant because the Vitsi Triangle is bristling with fortified positons defended by machine-guns, mortars, minefields and an estimated 100 artillery pieces.

Send Federal Proposals On Highway To Provinces

OTTAWA, Aug. 11 (CP)—Federal government proposals on the construction of a Trans-Canada highway will be sent to all provincial governments in the near future, a reconstruction department official said today.

A document containing the proposals now is being drafted and will be sent to the provinces as soon as Reconstruction Minister Winters has it approved by the cabinet.

Legislation providing for federal contribution to the cost of the highway will not be submitted to parliament until all the provinces have indicated that they are fairly well in agreement on the question of sharing costs, the route of the highway and the standards of construction to be used.

Use Existing Roads

The official said the plans call for use of many existing roads. However, as some provinces have not indicated what route they want to have the highway go through, no estimate has been made of the length of existing roads that will be used.

It has been estimated roughly that the whole highway will run 5,000 miles. Total cost of completink the highway, taking into account the use of certain existing links, has been estimated at $400,000,000. The official said 5,000 miles of completely new hard-surfaced highway could not be built for $400,000,000.

Mr. Winters said Tuesday in an interview that the federal contribution likely will be in the neighborhood of $150,000,000 to $200,000,000.

The official said the federal government probably would not only contribute to the cost of new construction. Tentative plans call for contributions as well to the provinces for roads which will form part of the highway and which already are up to the standards required for a Trans-Canada route. This, said the official, would prevent a province from being penalized for having constructed good roads.

US Airmen Have Conduct Code While In Britain

LONDON, Aug. 11 (CP)—United States airmen in Britain made public yesterday a voluntary good conduct code whose theme is "don't let's be beastly to the British."

The code was published in the "United Kingdom Eagle," weekly newspaper of third air division headquarters at suburban Ruislip.

It was hammered out by the airmen themselves in one of their weekly discussion hours.

Some 8,000 United States airmen are stationed in Britain.

The 11-point good conduct code follows

1. Don't be overtalkative and familiar. Maintain the proper uniform at all times. Be a credit to your uniform.
2. Keep out of black markets.
3. Tip sensibly. Lavish tipping antagonizes the vast majority of people here who cannot compete with it.
4. If you go in for clip joints be sporting enough to take the financial consequences.

No Griping

5. Don't gripe about ration or currency regulations or protest about the non-American size of food portions. The people in this country don't like it any more than you do.
6. Don't judge a people by its small fringe of shady characters and black marketeers. Treat people, especially women, with the respect they deserve.
7. Don't judge a whole people by a few anti-American trouble makers. If you happen to run into an unfriendly incident, handle yourself with composure.
8. Steer a middle course—neither boast about the United States nor apologize for it.
9. Remember that Britain's distinctive character lies in tradition and that its present standard of living is considerably below normal.
10. Don't flaunt your rations or boast of its quality or price.
11. The most important thing you should be certain to have at all times is a sense of responsibility as an American abroad.

DROWNS TRYING TO SAVE WIFE, FRIEND

Full Defence Co-operation In Canada-U.S. Johnson Tells Canadians

Want 2 Countries To Exchange Army Cadets To Promote Understanding, Will Also Exchange Military Equipment

OTTAWA, Aug. 12—(CP)—The United States Defence Secretary paid his first visit to Ottawa Thursday and declared there is no disagreement between the two countries on any aspect of defence co-operation. Louis Johnson, the Defence Secretary, said after his 10-hour visit he had "never spent a more worthwhile day in my life nor felt myself more among understanding people. . . . We are brothers in the cause of peace."

He flew into the capital and immediately went into conference with Prime Minister St. Laurent, Defence Minister Claxton, Trade Minister Howe and Canadian Defence Chiefs. They met for 90 minutes.

At a press conference later, he said "We discussed the whole field of defence.....in a most pleasant, happy and co-operative way."

Mr. Johnson returned to Washington Thursday night. He also told the press conference:

1—He had no fears about Alaskan defence "thanks to the understanding we have in the Western hemisphere."

2—He approved a plant to exchange US and Canadian military equipment without straining Canada's reserves of US dollars.

3—He did not wish to discuss the possibility of a unified US-Canadian command because it would be "putting the cart before the horse" in developments leading to formation of an Atlantic Pact organization.

Mr. Johnson told reporters "there has never been any difficulty between the US and Canada on atomic energy." He punctuated the statement with an emphatic "period" after reporters asked him about proposed atomic talks in Washington.

He said he was "delighted" at the progress made in joint industrial preparedness by the two countries.

He declined comment on President Truman's proposed arms-for-Europe Bill because it is still before Congress.

An aide told reporters that Canada and the US had reached agreement on principle on exchange of military cadets between the two countries. Mr. Johnson said he wants an exchange of second-year students between the three US military academies so cadets "may come to understand one another better."

RCAF Lancaster Investigating Smaller Plane

HALIFAX, Aug. 12 (CP)—The RCAF said here today that one of its planes, detailed to escort Mrs. Richard Morrow-Tait from Goose Bay, Labrador, to Bangor, Me., was investigating a single-engine aircraft heading east towards Greenland.

The Air Force said one of its Lancasters, ordered to escort the 26-year-old Cambridge, England, housewife back to Bangor, reported it was changing its course to check on the smaller plane.

The Lancaster's crew did not say whether the plane under investigation was that of Mrs. Morrow-Tait which they had under a watchful eye.

Mrs. Morrow-Tait, on a round-the-world flight from Britain last year, landed at Goose Bay in her single-engine plane last Wednesday after taking off from Old Town, Me.

Canada refused permission for her to make a Trans-Atlantic hop because it was against department of transport regulations. The situation became confused and uncertain as to her next move when the operations officers at Dow Air Force base at Bangor said that she would not be cleared at the base unless an emergency developed.

Murders Father To Get Bicycle

BUCKHANNON, W. Va., Aug. 12 (AP)—Police said today 13-year-old Jerry Riggs shot and killed his father to get $60 for a bicycle.

The boy is being held in jail here on a murder charge. The body of his father, Harry Livingston Riggs, 48, was found in a cornfield Wednesday.

Police said they had pieced together this story:

Jerry was angry with his father because of several spankings and refusal of money for a bicycle.

The boy lay in wait behind a stump in the cornfield and fired his .22 rifle when the father approached. Riggs was hit in the chest.

Jerry then took $1,315 from the house, hid all but $60 of it, and came to Buckhannon to buy the bicycle.

He started back home by way of a church social so he could show his new wheel to the other kids, including an 11-year-old sister and an eight-year-old brother. Then he pedalled on home to resume his watch over a six-year-old brother.

Find Vein Of Gold In Cellar Of House

KIRKLAND LAKE, Aug. 12—(CP)—A vein of gold has been discovered in the cellar of a rooming house in the heart of this busy northern Ontario mining town.

But just how rich it is and how far it extends has not yet been determined.

Frank Duncan, president of the Kirkland townsite gold mines, which owns mineral rights throughout the area, has termed it 'an interesting surface showing."

It was uncovered a month ago by boarding house proprietor J. Lahti and veteran prospector David Lowe while they were excavating a cellar below Lahti's establishment. It was kept secret until today.

It Better Be Good

WINDSOR, Aug. 12 (CP)—A Windsor youth who sent police on a wild goose chase, all because he didn't want his sweetheart to know he had spent their wedding money, will have 10 days to think up an explanation for his fiancee. This was the sentence given today when he appeared on a public mischief charge. Gerald Lavoie, 20, walked into headquarters and claimed two men, one with a pistol, took him for a ride in the country and robbed him of $160 and most of his clothing. He was wearing only a trench coat, socks and shoes when he came to police station.

27 People Saved By Stewardess In Plane Crash

PORTLAND, M., Aug. 12 (AP)—A plucky stewardess was the heroine of a Northeast airliner crash from which 27 persons escaped safely Thurday night.

Patricia Donnellan, 23, rookie at her job, calmly herded the passengers out a rear door — a scant two minutes before the plane was enveloped in flames on Portland Municipal Airport.

The new $400,000 Convair was a total loss.

Capt. Roderick Cote, 40, of Melrose, Mass., the pilot, said the propellers of the twin-engined plane accidentally reversed 10 or 20 feet above the runway "and we started to plop straight down.

"Then our landing gear collapsed and the sparks began to fly."

The big plant slithered on its belly for several hundred feet in a shower of sparks. Then the right engine caught fire.

Keeps Her Head

Shouting, "Follow me," Miss Donnellan led the way to the rear door when she could not open the front door — the hydraulic system would not work—and the flames blocked an emergency exit.

Thomas Clish, 50, of Falmouth, Mass., a passenger, said "All hands got out inside of a minute."

"That little stewardess was grand," he said. "She did a grand job."

Three Children, Baby Rescued From Fire

WELLAND, Aug. 12 (CP) — Three young children and an infant were rescued from a burning war-time home here Thursday night after a 12-year-old neighbor "smelled smoke" and notified her parents.

The four children of Mr. and Mrs. C. Blake McPherson were carried from the smoke-filled house by Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Reid and another neighbor. The Reid's daughter Joan smelled the smoke after she had retired for the night.

Mrs. McPherson, mother of the children, said she had crossed the street to visit a neighbor a few minutes before the fire was discovered.

Rescued were: Linda, 16 months; Margaret, four years; Marion, five, and Robert, seven.

Film Actress Weds

LONDON, Aug. 12 — (AP) — Film actress Angela Lansbury and set designer Peter Shaw were married in the chapel of St. Columba's church today.

The ceremony was performed by Dr. R. F. U. Scott of the Church of Scotland, minister of St. Columba's, in the Rhelsea borough of London.

Angela, 23-year-old daughter of actress Moyna MacGil, wore the wedding dress she brought with her from Hollywood—old rose taffeta and chantilly lace.

She wore a headdress of orange blossoms and roses.

Blondes Horror-Stricken Take Swim, Get Green Hair

LONDON, Ont., Aug. 12 (AP)—After a good face-washing, the Silverwood Park swimming pool was due to re-open for business today to see if it produces any more green hair among blonde children.

The city-owned pool on the east side was closed at mid-day Thursday after sceptical officials were convinced by a lifeguard that the hair of three blonde youngsters turned green while they were in the pool.

Water samples were sent to the city's public health department, and Recreational Director Bill Farquharson ordered the pool closed, drained and cleaned.

Analysis reports on the water are not expected for another day, but Utilities Manager E. V. Buchanan declined to get alarmed over the green hair "mystery."

He suggested it could be an overdose of copper sulphate placed in the pool to curb macine vegetation, such as algae.

Mr. Buchanan said that if a little too much sulphate had gone into the pool, and it had turned blonde hair green, then the color of the har can be restored with a good washing.

Another conjecture was that a prankster had tossed some powder or solution into a corner of the pool. But Mr. Farquharson said he had seen no oil slick or other foreign substance on the water.

The green hair was first spotted by Lifeguard Russ Evon, of the London Majors baseball team.

Evon phoned the city hall and told playgrounds officials. They notified the board of health but had a hard time convincing a clerk there that it wasn't a joke.

Deny Reports Man Trapped In Bush Fire

Bush Fire Burning In Brush Land West of Crowe Lake

Denial was made to-day from Havelock of a report that an East Peterborough man might have died in a bush fire that is raging on the west shore of Crowe Lake about half a mile north of Blairton and No. 7 Highway.

The fire was discovered Wednesday afternoon in a bush that is said to be owned by a man named Birdsall of Toronto. Volunteers from the district of Belmont who were joined by Havelock Fire Department and Crowe Lake cottagers fought the bush blaze Wednesday afternoon, and at one stage they considered it under control.

The fire was burning easterly through 50 acres of some 200 acres of bush. It is believed to have been caused by lightning on Wednesday, but on the other hand the woods were described to-day by Harold Kennedy, Havelock fireman, as being dry as tinder, indicating no rain of sufficient dampening during the last three days.

The flames blew up again before a strong wind Thursday, and were threatening this morning as the fire moved toward the east and the cottaged shore of Crowe Lake.

Some of the members of Belmont Township Council assisted the voluntary contingent trying to regain control of the fire today.

Still Not Under Control

One o'clock reports today from the fire district were to the effect that the fire was still not under control. As yet, no farms, cottages or resorts have been touched by the flames, but they have been close to the farm owned by Guy Minnie.

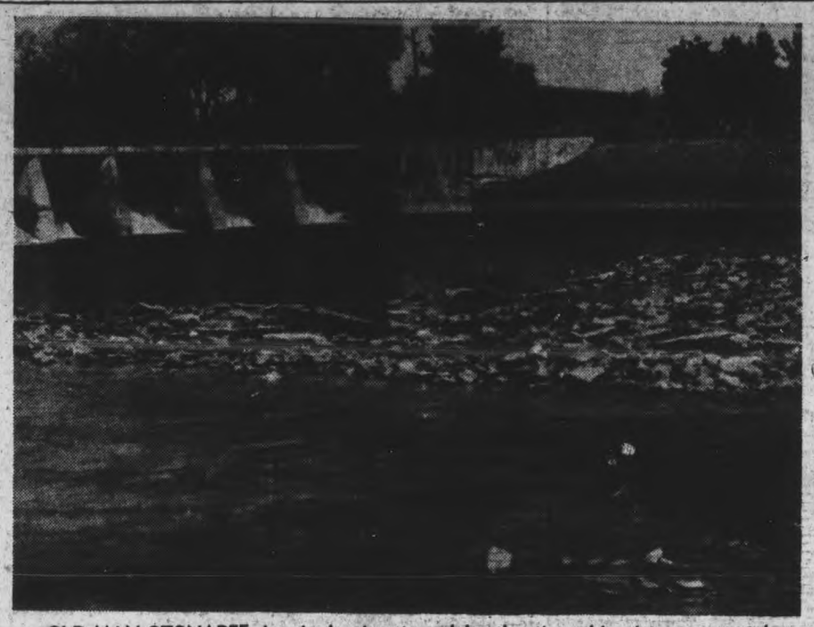
Mrs. Minnie said that the fire has covered an estimated 100 acres, and was still burning, pushed by an easterly wind. At that time the fire was "only a few yards" from a stand of pine timber. Mrs. Minnie said that the smoke was intense, and that approximately 200 men were working in an attempt to cut off the blaze. "The fire is still definitely not under control," she said.

The fire is located about halfway between Havelock and Marmora, less than a mile north of No. 7 highway.

The Havelock fire equipment, with volunteers from the village, had not made an appearance in the early afternoon, according to Mrs. Minnie. The equipment and men worked all day Thursday and some of them into the night in an attempt to stop it.

Honey Crop Smaller Due To Bad Weather

WINNIPEG, Aug. 12—(CP)—The Canadian bee isn't buzzing around as much this year as last, so the honey crop will be smaller.



However, the large surplus left over from last year will assure the consumer of an almost-normal honey supply.

Frank R. Garland, president of the Canadian Bee Keepers' Council, said in an interview that bad weather conditions in Ontario—chief honey-producing province—and drastic curtailment in western Canada indicate a crop of only 50 to 60 per cent of normal.

This is a surprising difference from last year when the beekeepers had to ask the Dominio government to take away some of the sting of an over-large crop and help them meet their expenses. The government agreed to buy 5,000,000 pounds of honey, provided it was packed in large containers.

Eligible For Aid

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12 (AP)—John J. McCloy, United States High Commissioner for Germany, said today the United States administration has decided that Western Berlin is eligible to receive Marshall-plan aid. McCloy told a press conference his 10-day visit here has clarified this point and that he hopes to announce a grant to the western sectors of Berlin soon.

Churchill Fights For A Greater Council Freedom

STRASBOURG, France, Aug. 12 — (AP). — Led by Winston Churchill, the new Council of Europe's First Assembly to-day fought for greater independence from control by the 12 member governments.

Churchill, fiery advocate of a United Europe, called for the establishment of the consultative Assembly of Europe as a free parliament.

In one of his first speeches to the 101-member Assembly Thursday, Churchill rapped what he called "crippling limitation" on Assembly debate imposed by the Council's Committee on Foreign Ministers.

The Committee of Ministers, representing the 12 governments which formed the Council of Europe, is the guiding body of the new European organization. The committee has the power to decree what subjects shall be debated by the consultative Assembly.

Churchill and other advocates of some form of European federation hope the Assembly may be the forerunner to a genuine Parliament of Europe, with legislative powers cutting across national boundaries. At present the Council—divided into a consultative assembly and committee of ministers — has only advisory powers to promote greater European unity.

Fight For Authority

Inspired by Churchill's oratory the Assembly delegates clearly indicated they will seek greater authority than the ministerial committee intend they shall have.

First indication of the revolt came when Churchill and other delegates objected to what they called a three-day gag rule. Under the rule, nothing can be added to the Assembly's agenda without the ministerial committee's approval. Requests for such additions must be made within three days of the Assembly's opening.

Churchill called the rule "crippling limitation which has never been accepted by any Assembly worthy of the name free."

Housing Plan Goes To Cabinet

TORONTO, Aug. 12 — (CP) — Reconstruction Minister Winters and Premier Frost of Ontario said today a revised housing plan on a national basis will be submitted shortly to the federal cabinet. They made the announcement after a conference here.

Mr. Frost and Mr. Winters said they had reached "broad areas on agreement." They succeeded in defining fields of responsibility in housing problems.

But they would not reveal details of agreemnt until Mr. Winters has talked to all provincial premiers and submitted his decisions to the federal cabinet.

Babies Born 26 Hrs. Apart But Not Twins—Doctors

TORONTO, Aug. 12—(CP)—Mrs. John Robinson of suburban Mount Dennis gave birth to two male babies 26 hours apart. But they aren't twins. Toronto specialists said the multiple births were "very rare." They are the result of separate pregnancies.

Mrs. Robinson returned Tuesday from a two-weeks trip with her parents to North Bay. That night, while travelling on a street car, she realized the baby she was expecting was on the way. An hour later her first son was born in hospital.

Dr. Mary Whittaker, who delivered the babies on Tuesday and Thursday, said the births were the result of separate conceptions. Both babies are premature, but both are doing well. Mrs. Robinson is recovering.

Available records show no trace of a similar birth in the Toronto area.

The first baby, which arrived at 10:55 p.m. Tuesday, weighed 3 pounds 12 ounces. The second was born at 12:45 a.m. Thursday, and weighed 4 pounds 12 ounces.

Dr. Whittaker said there was no doubt the babies were not twins. She said they were several weeks apart in development.

The double birth will create an accommodation problem. The Robinsons live in a three-room flat. Mr. Robinson is a civic employee.

3 Red Armies Near Kanhsien

CANTON, Aug. 12—(AP)—Three Chinese Communist armies totalling 75,000 men are closing on Kanhsien, gateway of Kwangtung province and Canton, official Nationalist reports said today.

Kanhsien is 215 miles northeast of Canton. It lies in the valley of the Kan River, natural highway of this refugee capital.

The Nationalists admitted the loss of a town only 12 miles northwest of Kanhsien.

(It was on this part of the front north of Canton that the Nationalists were boasting only Tuesday that 11,000 Red troops were surrounded).

Another Red army was said to be pressing south toward Kanhsien along the Kan River valley. A third Red army was reported operating to the east.

Drunk Driver Nearly Kills "Gone With Wind" Author

ATLANTA, Aug. 12 (AP) — Margaret Mitchell, the little southern lady who wrote "Gone With the Wind," was nearly killed Thursday night by a speeding car.

Police said the quiet, middle-aged author of the fabulous romance of the war between the states was knocked to the pavement by a drunken taxi-driver and dragged 15 feet.

She was taken to the city hospital where physicians and nurses said she was too gravely hurt to be moved even for x-rays.

She was placed under an oxygen tent and was given a blood transfusion early today, after her blood pressure fell. Attendants said she responded satisfactorily.

Hospital attendants made it plain that Miss Mitchell would need a stout heart—as stout as the one she gave Scarlett O'Hara—to pull through.

Mss Mitchell—in private life she's Mrs. John Marsh—received a possible skull fracture, internal injuries, and an injury to her right leg. Her face was badly bruised.

After nearly four hours of unconsciousness, the 43-year-old novelist was able only to mutter incoherently when internes spoke to her.

One interne said it might be as much as 72 hours before x-rays could be taken, though there was a chance they might be made later today.

Police charged the taxi driver—28-year-old Hugh D. Gravett—with drunken driving, speeding and driving on the wrong side of the street.

Boat Upsets In Squall Near Shore

Pair Cling To Boat Until Rescued; Others In Difficulty

HAMILTON, Aug. 12—(CP)—Harbor police are dragging for the body of Bertram Philpott, 29, drowned late yesterday when a squall upset his boat in Hamilton harbor. Philpott tried to swim to shore for help for his wife and a neighbor who clung to the boat.

Mrs. Philpott, 28, and the neighbor, Thomas Taylor, 32, later were rescued.

Harbor police said the three, trying to escape the heat, went out on the bay in an eight-foot plywood boat with an outboard motor. They had gone about 1,000 feet from shore when the squall struck.

Taylor said after the rescue:

"Philpott helped his wife to get hold of the boat. Then he started swimming to shore That's the last I saw of him."

Mrs. Philpott was revived by artificial respiration and use of an inhalator. Taken to hospital her condition was reported as fair.

Taylor did not require medical attention and was released after examination.

Several other boats were caught in the squall and two of them were in difficulty. Their occupants made their way to shore without help.

Foil Robbers In Bank Break-in

BONFIELD, Ont., Aug. 12 (CP)—Police today investigated an attempted robbery of the Banque Canadienne Nationale, located in the general store of O. Martin and Sons.

Police said no money was taken from the huge safe, although the would-be robbers had attempted to batter its door off with sledge hammers and crow bars. As many as six men may have been in on the attempted theft, Provincial Constable Dave Porter said.

He said that no arrests have yet been made, and that there are no suspects.

Mrs. O. Martin, who lives next door to the store, was awakened about 4 o'clock by the noise made by the robbers in attempting to smash the safe door. She got out of bed, looked into the store and spotted at least two working at the safe.

She wakened her 72-year-old husband, who ran across the road to summon aid from his son, Francois. Apparently, the robbers saw him on the road and ran out of the building.

The burglars smashed down the bank partition at the back of the store, pushed and tugged the safe 60 feet through the store in an attempt to get it into a back yard, and then proceeded to hammer away at it with sledge hammers and crow bars.

Savings Bonds To Go On Sale

OTTAWA, Aug. 12.—(CP)—A new series of Canada Savings Bonds will go on sale this fall, the Finance Department announced today.

They will be sold, like the first three issues, through banks, investment dealers and payroll-savings plans.

The interest rate was not disclosed in the Department's statement. The last issue bore interest at the rate of 2¾ percent and the statement said: "It is expected that the fourth series will retain the features which proved so popular in the first three."

"Decision to issue a fourth series of Canada Savings Bonds is a direct reflection of the enthusiastic response that has attended the previous three offerings," the Department said.

At the same time, the Department said that series three savings bonds, issued last fall, will be withdrawn from sale at the end of this month. But applications made for series three bonds before Aug. 31, with arrangements for deferred payment, will not be affected.

Child Seven Months Veteran Swimmer

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 12—(AP)—Little Robin Leigh Whitford is a veteran swimmer—at the age of seven months.

Robin put on a demonstration Thursday for photographers. Her swim coach, Mrs Crystal Scarborough, tossed her in the pool.

Robin sank and a photographer started pulling off his coat. But the infant emerged without a splutter and swam to the edge of the pool, using a junior version of the Australian crawl.

When camera men asked Mrs. Whitford to sit Robin up beside the pool, the mother replied:

"'Oh, she can't do that yet—she's too young!"

Confiscated 'Liquor' Proves To Be Vinegar

LINDSAY, Aug. 12 — (CP) — Chief Constable Dave Gordon of Fenelon Falls is red-faced today.

Gordon had charged Charles Lester of Peterborough, with having liquor other than in his residence after seizing a bottle of beer in Lester's automobile.

The bottle, believed to contain bootleg beer, was sent to Toronto for analysis. By the time it arrived its content had "turned" to 99 per cent vinegar.

The charge was dropped.

Street Lights For Keene Under Review

KEENE, Aug. 12. — (ENS). — Proposal to instal street lights in this community was discussed at some length at the regular monthly meeting of the Otonabee Township Council held recently. No final decision was reached as further information on the project is required. As soon as the extra data is received the matter will be disposed of as quickly as possible.

On motion of Councillors McConkey and Speirs, the road superintendent was empowered to spend up to $300 on the Finnie road provided that this expenditure will bring it up to the required standards of the Department of Highways.

The Council decided to pay the Otonabee Telephone System fifty per cent. of the labor cost to replace ten poles on Hiawatha Hill, the Telephone Commission to be notified accordingly.

McCarthy of Keene as township clerk, treasurer and tax collector, effective last July 1, replacing Thomas Weir, who recently resigned, and naming John Cooney as building inspector. Mystery Yacht On Ocean Minus Any Crew

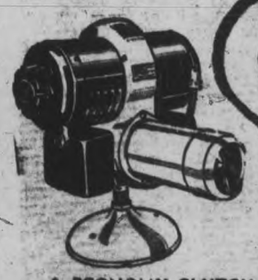
MONTREAL, Aug. 12 (CP) — A freighter captain's report of a small yacht, found drifting in mid-Atlantic, crewless, dismasted and with her identifying marks scratched out, Thursday brought a sea mystery to the port of Montreal.

Capt. Henry Purvis, skipper of the British cargo vessel Canford, told of sighting the "45-foot yacht of the slick racing type" when the Canford, Montreal-bound, was five days out of Bristol Channel.

His story recalled the tale of the Nova Scotian sailing ship Mary Celeste discovered in the Atlantic west of Gibraltar in 1872. She had all sails set in fine weather and everything aboard was in order, but there was no sign of life.

No one ever learned what happened to the eight persons aboard the Mary Celeste when she sailed from New York a month before she was found adrift. Unless it's found that the yacht Capt. Purvis sighted sighted just broke away from a wharf, another minor Mary Celeste mystery may have turned up.

"At first appearances," said Capt. Purvis, "it looked like a storm tragedy—occupants washed overboard or something."



A boarding party found the little vessel's name was scratched out as well as her port of registry. Her log book—if such a small vessel ever had one—was gone and there were no other signs of her identity.

Discovery of eight bales of silk aboard the yacht added another twist to the mystery, suggesting that a smuggling mission might have gone awry.

"We salvaged the silk, reported the discovery by radio and took her in tow, but she sank in a few hours," the freighter captain said.

He received no reply from Lloyds of London, to whom he reported the derelict, and guessed they were sceptical of his report.

Slightly Firmer Tone On Toronto Exchange

TORONTO, Aug. 12.—(CP).—A slightly firmer tone appeared as trading activity increased slightly here today. Industrials recovered early losses and began to show scattered fractional gains, while golds edged slowly forward in dull trading. Base metals slipped off for the third successive day.

Papers continued to lead industrials into higher ground. A wide list of paper stocks showed fractional advances and utilities and steels tagged into the trend for moderate gains. Canada Wire A climbed $2 at a new high at $31.

Junior gold producers climbed ahead slowly on gains ranging up to 10 cents. Seniors were slightly steadier. Activity continued slow.

Base metals continued downwards on realizing sales for the third successive session following days of advance. Steep Rock Iron Mines was a featured performer following a production report. Smelters, Waite Amulet and Golden Manitou were among the losers.

Save Arms Bill By Slim Margin

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12 (AP) —Saved by the slimmest of margins from being cut almost to half, the government's Foreign Arms Aid Bill faced new obstacles to-day in the Foreign Affairs Committee of the House of Representatives.

Its supporters still predicted, on the basis of Thursday's committee action, that the Bill would emerge early next week with no major changes. They conceded that it is in for a tough fight on the House floor.

By a tie vote reported as eight to eight with nine absentees, the committee rejected an amendment by Rep. James Richards (Dem. SC) to cut—from $1,160,990,000 to $580,495,000 — the amount of military aid for Atlantic Pact countries. It takes a majority of those voting to approve an amendment.

Russia Brands Tito As Enemy

LONDON, Aug. 12—(AP)—Russia today called Marshal Tito's Yugoslav government an "enemy and foe of the Soviet Union."

It was the first time the Kremlin has hurled the term "enemy" against Tito, although it has bitterly denounced the Yugoslav regime for the last year.

Diplomatic observers were wondering whether the latest outbreak of name calling signalled a sharper Soviet policy against the Tito government.

The Soviet attack was contained in a Russian note to Yugoslavia and broadcast by Moscow radio today. It was the fourth in a series of bitter diplomatic exchanges over Russia's abandonment of Yugoslav claims to a portion of South Austria.

Hygiene, Not Water Kills Matawa Babies

TORONTO, Aug. 12 (CP) — Health Minister Kelley of Ontario said Thursday that improper or faulty infant hygiene played a major role in many of the infant diarrhoea cases occurring in Mattawa last month.

Mr. Kelley said the recently completed bacteriological investigation showed the epidemic was definitely not transmitted by well water serving the town residents.

Inquest Ordered

TORONTO, Aug. 12 — (CP) — An inquest was ordered Thursday into the drowning at nearby Rouge Hills of Harold Simmons, 18. The youth disappeared while swimming in the Rouge River. Twenty minutes later, a companion found the body at the bottom of the river. Three lifeguards are on duty at the spot and at night the water is floodlit. Barry Taylor, who recovered the body, said that, when Simmons disappeared, he told a lifeguard who dismissed the report as a joke.

Criticize Reporters

MOSCOW, Aug. 12 (AP)—The Soviet Weekly News Times Thursday attacked a group of correspondents who have been based in Poland as "jackals of the pen." The list includes Larry Allen of the Associated Press; Robert Conway, New York Daily News; Derek Selby of Britain's Kemsley publications; and Toronto-born Sydney Gruson and Edward Morrow, New York Times.

News Times said these writers deliberately sent out false news on Poland and engaged in planned provocations there.

Tourists, Fish To Aid Economy On French Isle

By Jack BRAYLEY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

ST. PIERRE, St. Pierre et Miquelon—(CP)—This gay North Atlantic town which hasn't enjoyed real prosperity since the repeal of prohibition in the United States is looking wistfully at the tourist trade and fish to re-establish its economy and remove the big subsidy prop from mother France.

The sea-bronzed and bereted Normans and Bretons, making up the 4,500 population of France's oldest colony and last possession in North America, hope when the French parliament's 400,000,000 franc 10-year-plan is complete they will be less of a "welfare island" and their economic independence will equal their general political autonomy.

Last year the first 25,000,000 francs was allotted for projects already under way. This year another 40,000,000 francs are available. Most of the money will be spent in France to save scarce dollars.

The friendly and dignified islanders acknowledge difficulties of geography an natural weath. But they are confident they have other means of prosperity which, if developed, can bring them a good living.

They have watched Canada expand to Newfoundland, and United States establish bases close to without qualms. And they discuss the purely hypothetical question of union with either of their big neighbors with cold French logic.

"After all," said a banker, sipping a Dubonnet in his tidy office, "we are of no strategic value to either country and therefore neither Canada nor United States would be prepared to underwrite our existence as France does. No, without even considering our strong racial and sentimental ties with France, we are content with our lot and think we can eventually pay most of our way."

This is the North Atlantic base of the fishing fleet of metropolitan France and this strategic position gives her an edge over other European visitors to the Grand Banks such as the Spanish and Portuguese. And with the fishing world talking about continental shelf rights, France feels she has in St. Pierre an established right to demand a voice at international conferences on this subject.

Fish On The Move

The 10-year-plan is aimed chiefly at developing harbor facilities, fish processing plants, refrigeration plants to service the big French fleet. It also envisages construction of a local fleet of three trawlers and a heavier type "inshore" fishing boat which can extend operations and remain away from port longer. It has been found that the fish are moving off-shore farther each year.

The only direct concession to the tourist industry is the improvement and extension of a rough landing strip which whittles down the distance between Halifax and St. Pierre to two hours. Maritime Central Airways has a mail subsidy from the French government and recently air passengers have not only include local business men but the odd adventurous tourist looking for a foreign field close to home. A new steamer to replace the wooden coaster Miquelon on the Halifax, Sydney, St. John's and St. Pierre run, is requested by the local assembly.

Jean Girardin, colorful proprietor of the waterfront Cafe de la France, rubs his hands at the prospects of tourist development. "We can offer a touch of France to the visitor and I think we should exploit it."

Transportation is a big problem, especially as it effects the marketing of the island's main product—fish.

There is a brisk one-way trade with the French West Indies with St. Pierre bringing back a little rum and suger. But all this cargo must go through the delaying and expensive trans-shipment process to heavier long-range freighters at Halifax.

Even the most optimistic St. Pierre resident has little hope the island will ever produce vegetables in any appreciable quantity but one of the fish processes to be established is the production of fertflizer. Most of this, however, will be available for export.

Like many islanders, Henri Gautier has business relations with St. Pierre's principal agriculture supplier—Prince Edward Island. There he noticed that foxes flourished in climatic conditions similar to his homeland. So he moved to the island province and studied fox breeding. Then he went home with a pair of silver foxes and started a ranch that today represents a capital outlay of more than $100,000. And his industry may be one of the corner-stones of St. Pierre's new drive for economic stability. Besides silvers, he has been successfuly with platinums, cross-foxes and glaciers—all of which demand tidy prices on the Paris market. His neighbors have take up fox breeding too and the industry is growing in importance.

Hot Spell Eases In Ontario After Storms

By The Canadian Press

The heat wave has eased in Central Canada after pushing temperatures to the high 90's in some areas. Humid weather, with 80-degree temperatures and possibly thunder storms, is forecast for today in the Lower Lakes region.

Thunder showers moved across Ontario Thursday night, leading the way for cooler air to break the hot spell, the third of the summer in Eastern Canada. Moderating temperatures also were reported from neighboring sections of the United States which had been experiencing the same record-breaking heat.

When the break in the heat wave came Thursday in Ontario, temperatures slumped suddenly. In Sault Ste. Marie, the mercury sagged from the 90's to 72 degrees. In Ottawa the temperature plunged 20 degrees in 20 minutes. At Kitchener the reading dropped from 83 degrees to 70 after a thunder storm struck. There was a 13-degree drop within a brief period at Owen Sound, where the high for Wednesday was 82.

Sparrows Killed

Hundreds of sparrows were found dead in the streets of communities in the Kitchener district following an electrical storm accompanied by hail. Window panes were smashed by the hail and trees were uprooted by the storm in the Conestogo section.

Heavy rain brought relief from the heat in Windsor, London and Hamilton. A cloudburst in the Windsor area flooded streets and basements. Farmers and market gardeners welcomed the downpour.

Drenching rain in the flue-cured tobacco district of Norfolk county in Southwestern Ontario raised hopes for a better than average crop. Many growers had been forced to discontinue priming, as the leaf was too dry to cure

Heavy rain helped parched farm lands in the Kingston area. The heaviest rain of the season swept Galt. Lightning which accompanied a storm in the St Catharines district put several power switches at the Thorold transformer section out of action.

LEONARD GALWITZA, (Right) 24-year-old Austrian passport clerk, and his Polish friend, Paul Radowiczi vowed that they would never be delivered to immigration authorities in Antwerp after Ottawa rejected them as political refugees almost five weeks ago. This week as the Swiss freighter Anunciada steamed past the village of St. Nocholas, Que., the two men who arrived in Canada as stowaways on the same ship, met on the stern of the Anunciada, shook hands, and leaped into the waters of the St. Lawrence, 127 miles east of Montreal. Leonard, an excellent swimmer, made the village after swimming almost four hours. But Paul, weakened by his long suffering in European camps, didn't have the strength to complete the long swim, leaving death to separate the desperate pair.

BRANTFORD, Aug. 12.—(CP). —Elwood Clarkson 51, watchman at the Ruddy Freeborn Company Limited, was slugged Thursday night while he made the rounds of the plant.

Clarkson was taken to hospital here where a severe cut of the scalp was treated.

Police said that Clarkson described his assailant as "six feet tall, and wearing a white shirt." A heavy aluminum-bending tool was used by the attacker, who emerged from the dark as Clarkson patrolled the second floor of the building.

Police and a plant executive searched the building but could find no trace of the thug.

Foxes Multiplying Since Bounty Limited

COBOURG, Aug. 12 (ENS) — Foxes are becoming so plentiful again in some parts of Northumberland County that poultry raisers are becoming alarmed. The Counties Council last January authorized a $3 bounty on foxes but at the June session this was altered to apply only to green pelts shot in season. The reason for this change was the fact that pelts were being brought in from outside the counties in order to collect the bounty.

Now that the bounty is restricted there is a lack of interest in getting it, with the result that foxes are becoming numerous again.

Man Escapes In Girl's Death

CALGARY, Aug. 12.—(CP). — Police today combed the city's east end area for W. D. Henderson of Clive, Alta., following the death of 24-year-old Yvonne Ledesque of Edmonton in an auto court cabin where they were staying together.

Miss Ledesque died in hospital Thursday night soon after police found her scratched, bruised and naked body in the cabin.

She and Henderson had been registered at the auto camp as man and wife since Aug. 2. Police at first had identified the dead woman as Mrs. Henderson.

Police said Henderson was bending over Miss Ledesque's body as they arrived in answer to a phone call from the camp clerk, Mrs. Delbert Miller. Henderson fled in the direction of the Bow River, 100 yards away.

Police were called after Henderson sent a messenger to Mrs. Miller requesting a doctor be called to his cabin. Mrs. Miller called both a doctor and police.

During the evening a drawing for an electric ironer and case of silverware was held with Joseph Deshane winning the ironer and Mrs. Randal Anderson the silverware. There were also five consolation awards valued at $2 which were won by the following: Joyce Hernons, Hazel Ellis, Grenville Woodbeck, Mrs. G. Fox and J. H. Rooney, the latter of Belmont Lake.

The proceeds from the draw amounted to $200 and it was in aid of the crippled children's fund. The music for the evening was supplied by the Red River Ramblers.

Jewelry Worth $700 Stolen From Apart.

BRANTFORD, Aug. 12.—(CP). —Jewelry valued at more than $700 was stolen Thursday night from the apartment of Joe Artmont, police said today. Included in the loot was a large diamond ring, yellow gold bracelet, a string of pearls and costume jewelry.

Police are also probing a break-in at the apartment of Harry Lavdas at the same address where a bottle of whiskey was taken. Doors to the apartments were pried with a pinch bar, police said.

Farmer Subsidy Plan Becomes Compromise

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12. — (AP).—A Senate agriculture subcommittee Thursday erased the last traces of the Brannan plan from a compromise farm price support bill, then approved the measure unanimously.

It calls in general for Government supports at 90 per cent of parity next year for the so-called basic crops, and flexible props which could range somewhat lower for others:

The "production payment" or farmer subsidy play advocated by Agriculture Secretary Charles Brannan was withdrawn at Brannan's own request.

The New Speaker

Mr. St. Laurent has let it be known that he will propose William Ross Macdonald, K.C., the M.P. for Brantford, as Speaker of the Commons for the twenty-first Parliament. It is unlikely that there will be any dissent, for Mr. Macdonald is well-known and well-liked, and as Deputy Speaker of the Commons during the twentieth Parliament he showed great ability for such work. In certain respects the Deputy Speaker has a harder job than the Speaker, for he presides over the Committee of the Whole, when debate is looser, and harder to control than when the strict rules of procedure are in force. Mr. Macdonald showed tact, firmness and a pleasant quality of humour as Deputy; these gifts will stand him in good stead as Speaker.

• • •

Mr. Macdonald has represented the city of Brantford in the Commons since 1935. He is a lawyer, a United Churchman, and has three children. He possesses the judicial temperament and the calm which a Speaker must have, and we are sure that he will uphold the highest traditions of that responsible and honourable post.

The Retirement Of Dr. Beauchesne

When Parliament assembles on the 15th of September the famous Clerk of the Commons, Dr. Arthur Beauchesne, C.M.G., K.C., F.R.S.C., will not be in his accustomed place at the foot of the Speaker's chair. He entered his twenty-fifth year as Clerk on January 7 last. He is known very widely as an authority on parliamentary rules and procedure, and for many years parliamentarians great and small have leaned heavily upon him. Naturally he has been the prop and mainstay of the Speaker on all occasions; to have Dr. Beauchesne at one's elbow was to have the Book of Rules, equipped with a voice. It will not be an easy matter to replace him.

Dr. Beauchesne is a great deal more than a talking rule-book, however. As Clerk, he commanded the considerable Commons staff, and it is said that he was a martinet. He could be impatient with parliamentarians, and particularly ministers, who had not troubled to inform themselves of the rules governing their conduct in the House. He regarded himself as a tutor, watchful and solicitous for the inexperienced, but firm with those who were expected to know how to conduct themselves. We do not suggest that Dr. Beauchesne's attitude was obtrusive or officious; his power was too real and too far-reaching to make such conduct necessary. His was the authority of the undoubted expert.

It has been suggested that Dr. Beauchesne may now write his opinions on the growth of parliamentary government and its probable future. Such a book, from such a hand, would be of the deepest interest.

Groundless Pessimism

Since spring there has been a certain amount of Depression talk in Canada; indeed, it has not been unheard in Peterborough. The United States, it was said, was suffering from a recession which was expected to grow worse; it was obvious (to the Depression talkers) that if there were to be a slump in the U.S.A. there would be a similar slump in Canada. Canada's economy was quite incapable of resisting a downward pull from below the border, they insisted.

In the light of this pessimistic talk it is interesting to learn that 170 very large industrial firms in the U.S.A. report higher earnings during the first six months of 1949 than they recorded for the same period in 1948; a few of these have never made so much money before. The three big steel firms—U.S., Bethlehem and Republic—report an increase of 78 per cent. over their 1948 figure.

Canada has sold more goods abroad than she did last year and her exports have risen by nine per cent. Employment is higher than it has ever been. It need hardly be said that the cost of living is higher than ever, as well. But the figures show that Canada is enjoying a period of great prosperity.

It cannot be maintained that Canada is simply tagging along after the prosperity of the U.S.A. It is true that there was a drag in American business until this spring, that unemployment is a problem in some parts of that country and that there was a slowdown of production. But in spite of this slight drop in activity below the border, Canada ploughed right along, doing well.

Much of the talk about depression seems to have been politically inspired. The election of Mr. Truman was such a surprise to American business as a whole that it seemed inevitable that some misfortune must follow in its train. But no serious misfortune appeared. Similarly in Canada the election gave rise to a great deal of windy but ill-founded talk about depression by both the Conservative and C.C.F. parties. But there is no sign of a depression yet. Nothing but prosperity.

What Is "A Perfect Schoolgirl"?

The Ottawa Journal draws attention to the fact that Yvonne March, presumably an English girl, has been proclaimed "the perfect schoolgirl of 1949" in Britain. She is sixteen years old, blonde, is five feet two inches in height, and weighs 125 pounds. Otherwise no information about her is available. Like the Journal we are curious to know wherein her claim to perfection lies. Is she uncommonly healthy? Is she strikingly pretty? Has she had an unusual number of proposals of marriage? What makes her perfect?

We would not mind placing a small bet that she has not won this acclaim for any special aptitude at her lessons. She is not, we are sure, the kind of girl who scores an unfailing 100 per cent. in all her examinations. We would be surprised, also, if she never sauced her mother, or pouted at her father, or clouted her little sister on the ear. We hope that we are not cynical, but if any prizes have ever been given for this sort of perfection, we have never heard of them.

Our guess is that Miss March has won her ribbon for perfection because she is pretty, in the high-spirited, prancing, rambunctious fashion which is characteristic of schoolgirls of sixteen. A pale, stooping girl with glasses might win a prize as "the most exemplary schoolgirl of 1949"; a chunky girl with spots and red hair might win a prize as "the most wholesome schoolgirl of 1949"; a girl with a flat face and bands on her teeth might win a prize as "the best all-round schoolgirl of 1949". But our estimate of the tastes and intelligence of the kind of people who make such awards leads us to believe that "the perfect schoolgirl of 1949" probably got it for qualities which schools neither teach nor encourage.

Danger May Lurk In A Kindly Impulse

Last week in Toronto a young man and his wife were killed in their own car as they drove home from a weekend in the country; their bodies were riddled with bullets. The police have reason to believe that they were shot by a hitch-hiker whom they had offered the hospitality of their back seat.

We have often warned against the danger which may lurk in the kindly impulse to give a lift to somebody who asks for one. Every few weeks the newspapers carry some tale of violence, robbery, abuse and even murder which has sprung from the custom of hitch-hiking. The driver of a car is at the mercy of anyone who is riding with him; he must control the machine, and he has no time to watch the man in the back seat. Therefore it is dangerous for him to pick up strangers.

Most Hitch-hikers are harmless. A few of them really need a ride; others are inoffensive spongers with no objection to imposing upon the good nature of a stranger. But a few are criminals; the least that they will do is to rob their benefactor; at the worst they may kill him.

For this reason we suggest once again that the wise motorist will not pick up anyone on the road who is unknown to him, unless he first receives some proof that his guest is harmless. It is a pity to advise anyone to resist a generous impulse, but too often during the last few years such generosity has been tragically rewarded.

The English Stage This Summer

By J. C. TREWIN

CHRISTOPHER Fry, more than any other young British dramatist of his time, has a sense of words. He delights in metaphor and image, the unexpected adjective, the surprising allusion. He is in love with the sheer sound of speech. For those who go primarily to hear a play—and there is all too little opportunity in these days—Fry is the coming dramatist. On the other side, he is not yet interested in his plots. He takes an anecdote—anything will serve—and proceeds to embroider it with his fancy, his gay sense of the absurd, his picked descriptive phrases. It is all admirable in its way, but it is apt to leave the average man a little dissatisfied, almost as though he had been seeing a charade instead of a play. Until Christopher Fry can wed his powers of speech to a theatrical story, he must remain, first of all, a playwright for the connoisseur rather than the public at large.

◇ ◇ ◇

ONE feels this after seeing the verse comedy of the Middle Ages, The Lady's Not For Burning, in which John Gielgud has now appeared at the Globe Theatre, London. The play was done in London fourteen months ago, at the little Arts Theatre Club, by another company, and it made much the same impression then as now. That is to say, the verse comes to the ear as a form of conceits and images; wit glints from it; it can offer verbal excitements long missing from the poet's theatre. At the same time, there is a sense of surfeit. These eloquent mediaeval folk do not grow in the mind, for the simple reason that all of them talk alike: they are in the same "April Fit".

THIS, maybe, is to sound ungrateful to author and company. Undoubtedly the piece is unlike anything now in the West End of London, and it is beautifully produced and performed, with John Gielgud and Pamela Brown as its principal characters, a young man who wants to be hanged and a young woman who does not want to be burned. Fry was rash, I think, to bring such grim realities as hanging and burning into his fantastic April world. We know nothing will happen; we are quite certain that the young girl, Jennet Jourdemayne, has no need to fear the stake and the flames; but the idea is an unpleasant, realistic core for a quite unrealistic play, an often lovely shimmer of language. John Gielgud delivers the verse superbly; no player can caress a speech as he does, and we should welcome Fry's comedy—though there are other reasons—if only because it shows to us again Gielgud's extreme virtuosity as a speaker of English.

◇ ◇ ◇

THE only classic revival in London lately has been George Farquhar's The Beaux' Stratagem, that gay bit of make-believe from the very tail of British "Restoration period" comedy. Its present revival is elegant and unpretentious, and our only regret is that the charming actress who plays Mrs. Sullen does not give full value to Farquhar's prose. Her delivery is muffled by a vocal mannerism which is amusing in modern comedy but troubles the ear in Farquhar's more intricate lines. Elsewhere the speaking is a model of clarity, and nobody can fail to enjoy the fantastic closing scene in which Squire Sullen and his wife are formally parted. As somebody says, "the ceremony is very pretty."

◇ ◇ ◇

OUTSIDE London the Shakespeare Festival has begun at Stratford-upon-Avon with one of the most distinguished companies yet seen at the Memorial Theatre. Oddly, the emphasis has been on setting rather than performance. When one looks back over the first three productions, the settings of Mariano Andreu (for a revival of Much Ado About Nothing) and of James Bailey (for A Midsummer-Night's Dream) flash to mind before any of the individual performances. This is unfortunate; the actor should come before the producer and designer, and not—as in so many Shakespeare revivals today—follow in the rearguard.

◇ ◇ ◇

THE Festival began, in the blaze of Easter Saturday, with the tragedy of Macbeth which, by theatrical superstition, is an unlucky play. It seemed to be so on the first night when Diana Wynyard, the Lady Macbeth, on entering for her sleepwalking scene, fell from an awkwardly steep staircase in the castle of Dunsinane. By good luck she was little hurt. Godfrey Tearle is a fine Shakespearean and the best Othello of our day; but he seemed ill at ease with Macbeth: although majestic physically, he was seldom on terms with the verse. Miss Wynward had some good moments of nervous hysteria; but the best performance was that of Leon Quartermaine, whose Banquo—already familiar in London—can hardly have been equalled.

◇ ◇ ◇

MUCH ADO ABOUT NOTHING, directed by John Gielgud, was an altogether happier evening. Anthony Quayle—the new director of the Shakespeare Festival—and Diana Wynyard played Benedick and Beatrice without fuss, and the "merry war" seemed far more spontaneous and amusing than it has been in many more elaborate revivals of the past. The broad comedy of Dogberry and the Watch was, if anything, under-played; but again Leon Quartermaine as Leonata—a part often ill-treated—proved himself to be a fine Shakespearean. And so, at length, to A Midsummer-Night's Dream in which James Bailey's settings created for us a palace of Theseus and an Athenian Wood as memorable as any known at Stratford. Alas, the playing, with one or two exceptions—such as Diana Wynyard's lusciously plaintive Helena—did not match the sets. Shakespeare should govern the evening; and here, on the whole, he does not.

◇ ◇ ◇

BACK in London the month's other events have included the appearance of Brigadoon, a musical fantasy of the Highlands from New York, which seems likely to run for a long time at His Majesty's Theatre; a drama, by Felix Salten, called Royal Highness, and based on the early life of Princess Louise of Cobourg-Belgium, which had skill and thrust but has not yet got beyond a suburban theatre; and The Power Of Darkness, a version of Tolstoy's novel which proves only that Tolstoy is almost impossible to translate to the London stage. The play emerges as highly-coloured melodrama, and it is surely something more than that.

James Boswell Comes Into His Own

(MONTREAL STAR)

THE acquisition by Yale University of the Isham Collection of James Boswell's private papers comes at a fortunate time, when there is great activity in the Boswell-Johnson field, both on this continent and in England. Oxford University is shortly to publish a new edition of Johnson's letters and the final two volumes of a monumental "Life of Johnson" edited by L. F. Powell.

This purchase by Yale, made possible through the generosity of the son of the late Andrew Mellon, will be placed in the hands of the scholars most competent to explore the collection and make their findings known. It is expected that the work when completed will comprise 40 to 50 volumes.

The reassembling of the Boswell archives, scattered through neglect and carelessness from Irish castle to Scottish country house, has been both a wearying and an inspiring pursuit. There is, naturally, great gratification on both sides of the Atlantic that so many of these manuscripts have been located and preserved for collation.

The theory that 'Bozzy' was an spired idiot—that (in Macaulay's words) he was "servile and impertinent, shallow and pedantic, a bigot and a sot"—has long been exploded. A born interviewer and note-taker, James Boswell was from first to last a conscious artist. He stored up material for the greatest biography in the English language for 21 years. He worked at writing it for seven years and proved, with its publication in 1791, that he had extraordinary talent and aptitude for his self-imposed task.

His genius was an infinite capacity for taking pains. Nothing seemingly trivial was too insignificant for his notice and notes, if it bore on his beloved subject. The glory of his great "Life of Johnson" is that it is at once an intimate portrait of the great lexicographer and an encyclopaedia of eighteenth century life.

To those human beings who feel that their efforts in any field have gone unnoticed and unrewarded, the belated attention given to Boswell may be an encouragement. To those whose ambition to live on a lofty eminence is constantly being thwarted by earthy qualities, his divided nature may be a consolation—he chose a wife commended by a friend as "a lady of 'nutritive' conversation," yet he was, throughout his life, notorious for his failure to resist the pleasures of fermented beverages.

KAY HAMMOND as Mrs. Sullen in Farquhar's comedy "The Beaux' Stratagem" which, though written in 1707 is one of the most popular plays in London today. (See Third Column).

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

And he said, A certain man had two sons: and the younger of them said to his father, Father, give me the portion of goods that falleth to me. And he divided unto them his living. And not many days after the younger son gathered all together, and took his journey into a far country, and there wasted his substance with riotous living....

And when he came to himself, he said, How many hired servants of my father's have bread enough and to spare, and I perish with hunger!....And he arose, and came to his father. But when he was yet a great way off, his father saw him, and had compassion, and ran, and fell on his neck, and kissed him. And the son said unto him, Father, I have sinned against heaven, and in thy sight, and am no more worthy to be called thy son.

But the father said to his servants, Bring forth the best robe, and put it on him; and put a ring on his hand, and shoes on his feet: and bring hither the fatted calf, and kill it; and let us eat, and be merry: for this my son was dead, and is alive again; he was lost, and is found. (Luke 15: 11-13, 17, 20-24.)

The Inventor Of Cinematography

The next edition of the Encyclopaedia Britannica will correct a previous omission by printing the name of William Friese-Greene, an Englishman, as the inventor of the first motion picture camera.

Speaking to BBC listeners recently, Mr. Ray Allister revued the pioneer work of Friese-Greene in the development of cinematography. He described how after a successful career as a still photographer in the "Glass Plate" days, Friese-Greene worked to create the picture that moved.

"Friese-Greene," he said, "wanted to take at least sixteen snapshots a second and you could not move glass plate as quickly as that. By 1887 he had invented a camera to take a roll of sensitised paper, but paper was not much good. It tore too easily.

One day in a workshop he saw a sheet of thick yellow stuff, and was told it was the newly invented celluloid which was opaque. For months two assistants worked for him in a laboratory near Holborn. They melted celluloid, spread it thinly on glass sheets, coated it with sensitive emulsion, and, when it was dry, cut it into strips. At home, Friese-Greene was designing a camera to take celluloid film.

On a Sunday morning in 1889 he went to Hyde Park with his new camera and in it about fifty feet of celluloid film on a roller. He took a shot of the traffic at Hyde Park Corner. That evening, alone in the Holborn laboratory, he developed the film. When he threaded the film into his projector he was sickly nervous. He put out the light and began to turn the handle, his eyes tightly shut. When he opened them, horse-drawn buses, hansom cabs, people, were moving across his whitewashed walls. And suddenly he couldn't bear to be alone. He rushed out into Holborn shouting, 'I've got it! I've got it!' He met a policeman and dragged him in to see the wonderful new invention—a moving picture. As a consequence of these experiments, Friese- Greene patented his camera on June 21, 1889—just sixty years ago.

In that same month Friese-Greene wrote to Edison in America. He gave a detailed description of his moving-picture camera and suggested it might be combined with Edison's phonograph to make 'talkies.' The letter was acknowledged by an assistant, not by Edison himself, and Friese-Greene was asked to send drawings of his camera, which he did. Two years later Edison patented in America, but not in Britain, a sort of cinematographic peep-show machine which he called a kinetoscope. A kinetoscope was brought to England in 1893, and it was from this; and from a Frenchman, Lumiere, that the British public learned about moving pictures. For Friese-Greene was out of the limelight by then, he was bankrupt.

When did you see your first colour film? In the nineteen thirties, wasn't it? Friese-Greene took out a patent for a natural colour motion-picture camera in 1898. A newspaper reported records that the colours were very good.

Friese-Greene was interested in many other things besides cinematography. He took out, in all, more than seventy patents, covering an amazing variety of scientific experiments. In his laboratory hung models of an airship and an aeroplane which he had patented, long before Bleriot flew the Channel. On the floor was a complicated set of railway lines over which moved a model train controlled from another room by wireless beam. There was an apparatus for what he called 'seeing through the wire'; it seems like a forerunner of television."—B.B.C. News.

Ward System in Electing Aldermen Tends To Foster Sectionalism

The ward system of aldermanic election tends to foster sectionalism in the city's administration, City Clerk Outram affirms in a statement which he prepared at the direction of the legal committee, as a reply to an enquiry from the Allied Labor Council.

The text of the clerk's presentment to Mr. Phil Knibbs, secretary of the ALC, follows:—

"Your letter of June 7th setting forth certain reasons advanced by the Allied Labor Council favoring the adoption of the Ward System for election of members to the City Council of Peterborough, has been carefully considered by the Legal Committee of the City Council, which has authorized the following reply:

"It is obvious that the reasons advanced in this letter are for some other place than Peterborough, since the letter states 'Whereas the Mayor and Controllers are chosen by the electorate as a whole, the remainder of the Council represents the choice of each one of several different areas, thus ensuring a more representative cross-section.' Of course, Peterborough does not have a Board of Control, it is only centres much larger than Peterborough which, under the Ontario Municipal Act, may have a Board of Control.

"It is interesting to note that Peterborough is always classed on basis of population, industrial stability and commercial importance, with three other cities, namely St. Catharines, Kitchener and Brantford. Two of these cities, St. Catharines and Kitchener, elect their City Council by general vote. Brantford only has stuck with the old system of electing by wards for a one-year term only. It is known that many community leaders in Brantford have commenced to advocate a two-year term and election by general vote.

"Peterborough adopted the system of election by general vote and other features of the ballot and the two-year term in 1918, by special act of the Ontario Legislature. Records show that this decision was made at the request of leaders in the community in a realistic desire to improve the civic administration of Peterborough. It is reasonable to state, we suggest, that the object of the legislation has been attained since it is recognized throughout Ontario that Peterborough, year in and year out, has had excellent municipal government. Its efficient administration has kept the city each year on the Honor Roll of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce for good municipal government. Manufacturers state that one of the chief reasons they located their plans in the city and have continued to make larger and larger investments here has been their confidence in the city's management."

Even Section Ill-Will

"Previous to adopting the system of electing by general vote the administration of Peterborough was subject to the same personal arguments, strains, and even sectional ill-will which is still predominant in communities where the Ward System prevails. It was found that aldermen elected by the Ward System insisted that the first claim for their efforts and attention was their own particular ward. In their ambition to earn support in their own ward they worked only for the benefit of their ward and made the city's general good a very secondary consideration. In order to better secure benefits to their own ward, members of two or more wards would often form a combine, each being pledged to help secure works and projects for the wards represented in the combine. The result was that representatives of other wards not in the combine could get no municipal works in their wards, since all moneys for works in the budget were expended in the wards represented by members of the combine. This resulted in certain areas of the city flourishing while others paid equal taxation languished and were neglected.

"Since the adoption of election by general vote and the two-year term, this sectionalism has disappeared. Works to be carried out are decided on the basis of need, and the benefits to be obtained irrespective of what section of the city is affected. A member of the Council who appeals for re-election does not apepal to the electorate on what he has been able to obtain for his own ward but on the satisfactory condition of the city at large. A good example of this is present now, when for several years about half the annual budget on municipal works has been expended on Claraday ward which during these years has not had a Claraday resident as a member of the municipal council.

"It can be argued successfully, we suggest also, that election by general vote results in a more qualified type of citizen being elected to the municipal council. Under the Ward System three or four candidates may offer themselves for election in a particular ward. If the two-year term is carried on, one only of these can be elected to council, yet all the others might be most capable men who would be of real help in conducting municipal business. Again, in another ward, three or four men, none of whom are of sufficient standing and experience to be of any real contribution in $1,500,000 business of municipal council, yet under the Ward System one of these would take a seat in Council. It is true that under the general vote one ward may have three or four residents of that ward serving in Council but these are usually men recognized throughout the city as having special training, experience or character which make them best suitable to serve their community. This has resulted in good municipal government."

Fewer Acclamations

"Under the Ward System it has been proven that there is actually less interest in municipal election than there is under general vote. Under the Ward System the record shows there are more members elected to Council by acclamation, which is not a good condition. The only time there have been acclamations to City Council in Peterborough was during the depression years when acclamations were advocated in order to save the cost of municipal election. The interest in municipal government in Peterborough is livelier than it is in those places retaining the Ward System and the percentage of citizens using their municipal franchise is higher.

"After due consideration it is suggested that the advocacy of the Ward System by the Allied Labor Council is not based on knowledge of facts or study of experience in municipal affairs. The fact is that year by year more municipalities of between 10,000 and 50,000 population in Ontario, and in other provinces and states, are adopting election to muncipal council by general vote, in order to obtain better civic government. In view of this and other facts presented above, we believe the Allied Labor Council will agree that the adoption of the Ward System in Peterborough would be a retrogressive step, not a progressive one."

Light Voting Predicted For Western Germans

FRANKFURT, Aug. 12 (AP)—Allied observers say an unusually light vote in Western Germany's federal election Sunday would reflect a growing distrust of the German political leaders by large segments of the voters.

These observers predict fewer than 65 per cent of the 30,000,000 eligible voters will go to the polls. German politicians themselves predict a turnout no higher than 70 per cent. This would be a sharp drop from the 75 and 80 per cent vote cast in most state elections since the war.

It will be the first federal election since pre-Hitler days. In it West Germans will choose a 400-member parliament for an 11-state republic in the British, United States, and French occupation zones. The parliament then will name a president and a prime minister (chancellor) who will organize the government.

German politicians cite other reasons for the existence of a campaign apathy. They say it is harvest time and busy farmers have no time for politics. They also say millions of new voters are refugees expelled from other countries who have not yet taken any political foothold. Other millions are youths who have not yet acquired political interests.

Still another reason probably will be claimed by the Communists. They are almost certain to hail a light vote as evidence that Germans disapprove of the idea of creating a West German republic without including the Russian zone—that they regard it as Allied "splitting" of their Fatherland.

Stole Trousers, 30 Days In Jail

Theft of trousers and a blazer esulted in jail sentences for two men of 30 days and 15 days in police court Thursday, with Magistrate E. A. Gee, Lindsay, presiding.

The two men were Gerald Sweet and Albert Selmes, 376½ Water St., with Selmes getting the shorter term. Sweet pleaded guilty, but Selmes told the court he had tried to persuade Sweet not to take the clothes and had had nothing to do with their theft.

Constable Vern O'Donoghue testified he had seen the theft taking place and had given chase to the two men which eventually resulted in their capture.

He said he had watched the two men try the handle of a car door directly opposite his house where he had been sitting on the verandah. When the men found the car locked, they went to the next car along and the constable said he saw Sweet reach in and take the clothes which were in dry cleaners' paper bag.

He gave chase as the men ran away and stopped Sweet by calling for them to halt and firing a revolver shot. Selmes failed to stop and jumped a fence to escape but was later found hiding in a doorway near St. Joseph's Hospital.

Both Sweet and Selmes testified They said they both had passed that Sweet alone had stolen the clothes. Selmes had told Sweet not to take the clothes because it would get them into trouble. the cars and that Sweet had gone back to the one car and taken the clothes while Selmes walked on.

Both men had records, although Sweet's was much the longer with a series of petty thefts over several years. Selmes' defence lawyer, J. C. N. Currelly, told Magistrate Gee that Selmes had pleaded to stealing a car last year to protect a cousin with a wife and several children. That had been the only time he had been in court. He said he hoped the court would give Selmes a break he had not received before.

Choose Bishops Gov't Ignored

PRAGUE, Aug. 12 (Reuters).—The Roman Catholic Church will consecrate two new bishops in Czechoslovakia next Sunday without the usual government approval, an authoritative church source said Thursday. The source said the bishops had been appoined by Rome some weeks ago and that the Communist Czechoslovak government had not been consulted.

The church's decision is regarded as a denunciation of the existing government arrangement which provides that government approval of all new bishopric appointments be sought.

The appointments precede a government bill to come before the National Assembly next month giving the state complete power over all church affairs, including appointments. The new state controlled church will not accept priests without Communist approval.

The two new bishops are Msgr. Ambrose Lazik, formerly apostolic administrator of the Trnava diocese in Slovakia and Msgr. Robert Pobozny, Dean of Roznava, also in Slovakia.

They have been appointed as bishops "in paribus infidelum," which means bishops "in land of the faithless."

The church recognizes they will have no title from the government, but it was specifically stated they would have "full spiritual authority."

2 Convicted Thieves Escape Over Jail Wall

BROCKVILLE, Aug. 12.—(CP).—Two convicted car thieves Thursday escaped over the walls of the Brockville jail where they were being held awaiting transfer to reformatory.

The men were James Deir, 23, and Joseph Carver, 19, both of Montreal.

They had been convicted of car theft Wednesday and each sentenced to one year.

The men climbed over the walls of the jail and disappeared into nearby woods. They were wearing prison uniforms.

Deir and Carver stole a 1949-model car from Harold Howison of Toronto who was holidaying near Brockville.

Indians To Observe Priest's Anniversary

BETSIAMITES, Que., Aug. 12 (CP)—Montagnais Indians in this remote St. Lawrence River north shore reservation will spend next week-end celebrating the memory of an oblate priest whose achievements during a 60-year career as a missionary won him the title "Superman of the North."

The Montagnais will honor the late Rev. Charles Arnaud, builder of 70 north shore chapels and described in Indian tales today as a heroic figure with a booming voice, a wonder-worker and a saint.

In the 63,000-acre reserve which Father Arnaud obtained for them in 1862 and which today brings in more than $60,000 a year in cutting dues, the Montagnais will hold pageants, canoe races and religious ceremonies.

The celebrations will mark the centenary of the founding of Betsiamites Church and of the ordination in Bytown, as Ottawa was once called, of Father Arnaud who was a native of Fcance.

Cosmos Two Up On Uniteds After 9-2 Playoff Triumph

Cosmos rocked Uniteds back on their heels with a 9-2 reverse at the Bowl last night to take a 2-0 lead in their best-of-seven City Softball League finals for the Dormer Trophy. Another good-sized crowd sat through a light sprinkle the last half to see a fair game, with Cosmos earning the victory on their pitching and hitting.

Both sides were a little loose afield. Ron Akers won his second straight slab playoff with a seven-hit chore, while his teammates batted Bob Greenlaw out early in the seventh, with Haddy Eakins going good in a relief role. The losers have five errors to Cosmos' four, but the latter team had 14 safe hits.

Led The Way

Howie Dalton led the victors at bat with three in five, one a double. Carpenter and Pryde had two in four each, the former hitting a homer and the latter a three-bagger. Mackness got a triple and single in five, and Crowe two singles for five. White had two in four for Uniteds and Eakins one for two, while Greenlaw and Harrison each doubled. Wade made a neat catch.

Cosmos started in the second with two runs one a homer by Carpenter and the other an unearned run. They added an unearned one in the third, and tallied three times on hits in the fifth. Only one of their three in the seventh was earned, as errors crept in. Uniteds counted one in the fifth and another in the eighth, neither earned as errors affected both. Apart from those, they got just two men as far as third the rest of the game.

Oshawa Takes COBL Win From Batawa

BATAWA, Ont., Aug. 12—(CP)—Oshawa Merchants need but one more victory to cinch top slot in the Central Ontario Baseball League after their 8-6 win over Batawa Shoemen here Thursday night. The loss puts the Shoemen on the spot for they must win another game to edge the cellar-dwelling Brockville Memos for a playoff berth.

Batawa piled up a five run lead in the first two innings and held it until the fourth when the Merchants pushed over two runs. Oshawa nibbled away scoring one in the sixth and their big guns exploded in the seventh when they pounded out five solid clouts for four runs to grab the lead. They added another in the eighth as did the Shoemen. The game was called here on account of darkness.

Both sides clouted the ball with more or less abandon, Shoemen knocking out a dozen and Merchants a baker's dozen. Fine fielding featured the game with both clubs committing but one error each.

Ken Peacock, Batawa right hander held the Oshawa bats under control for five innings letting them down with three hits. He yielded three more in the fifth and blew in the sixth when he was touched for four more. Smith went to the rescue and he gave up three clouts for a single run during the innings he toiled.

CONNAUGHT RIFLE RANGES, South March, Ont., Aug. 12.—(CP)—More than 350 competitors were weeded out yesterday in trials for the Governor-General's match at the Dominion of Canada Rifle Association shoot.

After firing at three different ranges, 150 marksmen qualified for the final of the classic which will decide, in some cases, the members of the 18-man team to represent Canada at next year's Empire shoot at Bisley, England.

Flt. Lt. D. C. Bullock, a 31-year-old radio officer from Calgary, formerly of Ottawa, fired 102 out of a possible 105 to lead the qualifiers and win a D.C.R.A. silver medal.

Rich Anthony was best for the visitors and scored seven goals, with the whole team checking well and getting good goal-tending. Chapman and Mountney each had a goal and assist, and Morton an assist. Davis led the losers with four goals, Crough getting one and Cannon aiding on two. Teams:

Rockets— Heffernan, Anthony, Mortim, Innes, Patterson, DeNoble, Chapman, Murduff, Chimeni, Billingsley, Mountney.

Heafner Grabs Lead

CHICAGO, Aug. 12 (AP) — Clayton Heafner, 240-pound Charlotte, N.C., pro, was burning up the trail to golf's biggest bonanza today with a one-stroke lead entering the second round of the Tam O'Shanter $35,200 "world" championship. Heafner grabbed the brass rings yesterday with a sizzling six-under-par 66 for a slight edge over two other seasoned campaigners, Johnny Palmer of Baden, N.C., and Henry Ransom, the Texan.

SPRINT STAR — Ready to get away with the gun is comely Pat Jones of New Westminster, member of Canada's British Empire Games track and field team. Miss Jones, a contender in the 1948 Olympics, will run the 100-yard dash and anchor the 440 relay team.

Reg Cox, manager of the Lindsay soccer club, writes: "During the past two weeks, several items have appeared criticizing Lindsay and stating 'due to friction between Peterborough soccer teams, Lindsay games have been postponed.' May I advise you that this is entirely false. Absolutely no friction exists between us and Peterborough teams. We are on the best of terms. I have demanded a full commission meeting at an early date to review matters. The reason Lindsay were not at the last meeting was because notification of meeting did not reach me until Saturday, as I was away on vacation. Thank you for your consideration and co-operation." We might say that we said nothing about friction existing. In fact, we were away on vacation at the time, too. And now our soccer writer is on vacation. Yeah, holidays sure play havoc, huh?

Mounties Meet Petes

Mimico Mounties play the Petes at 8.45 tonight in Miller Bowl, weather being okay, in an OLA senior "A" fixture. This is just a reminder, though most local gutted-stick followers know a week ahead when the Petes are playing at home. Should be a rousing scrap as the Mounties play it rugged, and the Petes won't back up in their own backyard. Petes play back in Mimico tomorrow e'en in a postponed tussle, and they need every win now if they hope to make a playoff spot. Likely another big crowd on deck for the fracas this evening.

* * * * * *

Oshawa Merchants lead the Petes for first place in the COBL but only by a few points, so the clash betwixt these classy clubs at six p.m. tomorrow in Riverside should be a dandy. Gunner Whitehill may oppose Bill Gingerich on the mound, and both teams will hustle plenty as the schedule is rapidly running out. Folks who saw the Petes beat Oshawa 3-0 here a couple of weeks back know they'll see another nifty number between the top teams in the Central Loop. Batawa aren't too far out of the cellar at present, just ahead of Brockville. Playoffs will be under way before the end of the month.

Not Bucking The Law

A large cop hit the office this morning and said: "How's about a little publicity on the police game in the Bowl Saturday night?" We never argue with the law, so here goes. The Toronto police all-stars (who have played in Montreal, Buffalo and Detroit) tackle the local city league all-stars at 8.30 tomorrow eve in the Bowl to help raise funds for the Ontario Police Association convention. These touring stars, who only play when off duty, of course, raised some $10,500 earlier this season, half of that going for the Bolton Fresh Air Camp. They have compiled a good playing record the past few years and will hustle Johnny Russelle's all-stars all the way. The joust should pack 'em in.

* * * * * *

Cosmos beat Uniteds 9-2 at the Bowl last e'en before a good crowd, and we were surprised. Expected Uniteds to sew up the series, a four-in-seven affair, but now Cosmos have two wins in as many starts. Same squads go again there next Tuesday and a loss for Uniteds would be a real upset. They're a good outfit and we can't see them losing three in a row, though Cosmos are plenty hot now and they have a great money pitcher in Ron Akers. He won his second straight final in a neat performance, getting lots of hits to help. Fielding still isn't up to par for men's playoffs. Greenlaw appears to be pressing too hard on the mound. A pretty fair fray, though somewhat one-sided.

Giants Crush Montreal In Twin Bill

By The Associated Press

Jersey City is taking up the [illegible] because of good pitching.

There isn't a single little giant boasting a batting mark of .300, yet the club is in third place within hailing distance of the top.

The Giants defeated Montreal Royals in both ends of a double-header last night, and again it was the pitching that did it. The scores were 4-3 and 4-0.

Sam Webb, recently returned by the parent New York Giants, won the opener, turning in a seven-hit effort. Young Roger Bowman, the promising southpaw, pitched a four-hitter in the nightcap to gain his 12th victory.

The double victory moved them into third place, a game behind second and 5½ away from the league-leading Buffalo Bisons.

Joe Bracchitta, with a single, sacrifice and two walks in four times at bat, was the first-game batting star. He drove in three runs for the Giants. Jack Lohrke, with two doubles and a single, paced a 14-hit attack in the nightcap.

Trounces Bisons

Syracuse ended a six-game winning streak for the Bisons, trouncing the herd 10-6. The Chiefs slammed out 20 hits. Sammy Meeks, with three hits including a two-run homer, was the big gun for the winners.

Toronto moved past Montreal into fourth place by downing Newark, 5-2. Bubba Church fanned seven for his 10th victory. Frank Shea, former Yankee, was charged with the defeat. Catcher Hal Wagner clouted a homer for the winners.

Rochester handed Baltimore Orioles their sixth straight defeat, 7-4. Jackie Collum, little left hander, was credited with his second triumph in three decisions. Dick Cole's three-run homer was the big blow.

Cricketers Travel For Council Match

By C. H. IRESON

This Saturday, the local cricket club travels to Toronto to play a return match against Parkdale "B," who defeated them here on June 18 by 126 to 34. The Peterborough players are anxious to avenge that defeat as it is the only one they received in the Toronto District Council League to date.

The P-W club twice defeated Dovercourt and New Hambledon, with Grace Church twice defaulting. This leaves one or two matches with Oshawa. On July 23, the locals went to Oshawa, but the latter team did not show up owing to threatening weather, and this matter is being considered by the council committee. Oshawa are due here on Aug. 20. On Sept. 3, the local club meets Dentonia Park at the Oval in the first round of the competition for the Wood Memorial Trophy.

Indians Overtime Champs Down Chicago Sox 6-5

By JOE RECHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Cleveland Indians have hit a sure-fire pennant formula—extra-inning games. The only trouble is they can't get the opposing teams to go along with them as often as they would like.

The tribe is in second place today, 4½ games behind the pace-setting New York Yankees, but they're easily the overtime champions.

Including last night's 12-inning marathon with Chicago White Sox, the Indians have played 14 games that went beyond the ninth inning this season. They've won 13 of them. They copped last night's by a 6-5 count.

On the other hand, the Yankees own the poorest overtime record in the league—only three victories in 11 such games.

The Red Sox helped tighten the race by knocking off the Yankees 7-6 in regulation nine innings. A single by Bobby Doerr in the last half of the sixth scored Ted Williams from second, broke a 6-6 deadlock, and cut New York's margin to 5½ games.

Gets 29th Homer

Williams wielded the big bat for the Bosox. He hammered his 29th home run and added two singles besides a base on balls.

Jack Kramer opened for the Sox, but was replaced by Mel Parnell in the sixth. The Red Sox ace gave up the three-tying Yankee runs in the sixth, but quieted the losers the rest of the way to register his 17th victory.

Joe Dimaggio accounted for the first three Yankee runs with a home run over the last field screen with two mates aboard.

Ralph Buxton, fourth of five Yankee pitchers, was charged with the defeat.

Cleveland manager Lou Boudreau used 20 players and six pitchers to down the Sox. After overcoming a 5-3 deficit with two runs in the eighth, the Indians won in the 12th when Chicago second baseman Cass Michaels threw wildly to first in an attempt to complet the inning-ending double play. Johnny Berardino scored from second on the error.

Brooklyn broke a deadlock with St. Louis for first place in the National League by outslugging Philadelphia Phils 10-7. The victory put the Dodgers a half game up on the Cardinals, who were idle.

Pittsburgh defeated Chicago Cubs 3-2 in the rubber tilt of their three-game series. A single by Stan Rojek followed by Johnny Hopp's triple and Ralph Kiner's fly gave the Bucs two runs in the eighth. Bill Werle, who needed help from Harry Gumbert in the last half of the eighth, won his ninth game. Walt Dubiel was the loser.

New York Giants and Boston Braves had to settle for a 7-7 tie when rain halted proceedings in the last of the eighth.

All other teams enjoyed a day off.

LAWN BOWLING

By MERB MARTIN

The "no bowling" sign was hung out last evening. We understand that heavy 6.00 o'clock shower flooded the greens.

As far as we know, no games are arranged for this evening—though it is Friday night.

But tomorrow night be sure to be out on time. It's the regular "family hour" tournament. Don't be surprised if we hit an all-time attendance mark this Saturday.

Have you made your entry for the Black Memorial open mixed doubles

Ross Downey and Nelson Routly—(two of our youngest bowlers?)—braved the heat and bowled in Cannington on Wednesday, and came home with the prize for high two wins.

We don't know if there is any interest in the Globe and Mail doubles, in either the ladies' or men's section.

Hockey Officials Boiling At Accusations

By JACK SULLIVAN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Nothing could be hotter to hockey officials, even in a heat wave, than to accuse them of condoning the alleged practice of placing 'teen-aged hot-shot hockey players in places away from home and parental control. They literally boiled yesterday.

It started at Ottawa when the Canadian Teachers' Federation said Thursday that this shifting around was done "with the complete concurence of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association." Alberta and British Columbia spokesmen said the practice just about destroyed high school hockey in their provinces.

Further than that, the federation passed a resolution deploring the present regulations of amateur and pro hockey which "permit the placing of names of school boys on negotiation lists of junior hockey teams while still playing midget hockey." They said this was done without consulting the boys or their parents.

This subject is an old one and has developed into a yes-it-is-no-it-isn't clash between educational and hockey officials. To be exact, it's eight months old.

Demand Fact

Clarence Campbell, president of the National League, and George Dudley of Midland, Ont., secretary-manager of the CAHA, asked education authorities each time to produce facts and figures to support the charges. They asked again yesterday.

"We have been trying to get responsible information for some time but so far we have not received any response," Campbell said at Montreal. He added that the decline in high school hockey has been going on for 20 years or so, "mainly due to schools lacking the proper facilities for the youths."

Dudley was more outspoken. "All this stuff is a lot of nonsense. These alleged hockey experts raise a furore, but I've still to receive a complaint about exploitation from players or parents," he said in a telephone interview.

"We are getting tired of these wild and unsubstantiated charges. We've heard it all before and we've asked for information and we receive some useless stuff from the Secondary Schools Association mentioning two players, referred to by them as 'X' and 'Y'. Of course, no names or any other information was given."

THESE ARE THE LIVING—Dazed and exhausted, survivors of the Ecuador earthquake huddle in makeshift tents and cots in a park in Ambato, one of the hardest hit cities. These people were made homeless by the catastrophe, and have been suffering since from drenching rains. Estimates of the total number of dead in the tremblor run as high as 5,000.

Frankford Wins

CAMPBELLFORD, Aug. 12 — (ENS)—The fast-stepping Frankford softball aggregation turned back the home club 3-2 in the opening game of a best-in-three semi-final series for the Trent Valley League championship here last night before a crowd of 400 fans.

The visitors crossed home plate twice in their half of the second inning on costly errors by the home club. Hits by O'Sullivan and Fralick brought in two runs to make the game even at the end of the fifth. Another error in the sixth put Frankford up one with the deciding run of the game.

The best play of the contest was a circus catch by Don Holmes, Boyle on the mound for Frankford and McComb for the local club put up a duel that brought plenty of cheers from the fans.

The teams:

Frankford—Darke, 2b; Cole, rf; Gilmour, ss; W. Rankin, 1b; Boyle, p; Wickron, 3b; Appleby, lf; Rogers, cf; Murphy, c.

Owen Sound Crescents scored six goals in three minutes during the second period and then held off a stretch drive by Weston Lions to post a 12-11 victory in an Ontario Lacrosse Association Senior A game at Owen Sound Thursday.

A nine-man committee, headed by J. E. (Blackie) Bengert of Vancouver, was formed by the Dominion Football Association at Calgray to promote junior and juvenile soccer across Canada.

Major A. L. Steele of Toronto, veteran Canadian soccer official, was named chairman of the Foreign Relations Board, which will arrange for and handle tours by visiting elevens from the United Kingdom and other countries.

Earlier, the 25-odd delegates present selected Vancouver for the 1950 Dominion football finals and elected Charles E. Pinnell of Calgary as president of the organization, succeeding Dr. O. J. Todd of Vancouver.

At Rye, N.Y., Australia's Davis Cuppers played a long shot by naming Billy Sidwell, an unprecedented performer, to substitute for veteran John Bromwich in the singles matches of their interzone final against Italy starting today at the Westchester Country Club.

The gamble was believed to have been actuated by the Aussies' fear that singles play in the present terrific heat would take too much out of the 30-year-old Bromwich and leave him unfit for Saturday's doubles, for which he was nominated.

In opening singles, Sidwell will face the dynamic little Italian champion, Gianna Cucelli, while Frank Sedgman, the youthful Australian champ, meets Marcello Del Bello, Italy's No. 2.

The major-minor league baseba executive council at Chicago Thursday unanimously voted to repeal the much discussed bonus rule. Walter Mulbry, secretary of the council, said it probably would be several weeks before the result of the balloting is complete.

Rodney, R. H. Johnston's big bay, won the first and third heats Thursday to take the $5,000 trotting derby at the Grand Circuit meeting ended at Goshen.

Rodney won the first heat of the Derby easily, finishing three lengths in front of Egan Hanover. But Egan Hanover came back to take the second in the best time of the three heats—two minutes flat.

Rodney's time in the first heat was 2:01 and in the third, 2:00 3-5

Hamilton was practically assured of having a strong contender for Dominion soccer honors in 1950, when members of the Hamilton Westinghouse eleven at Calgary Thursday announced their intention of "sticking together" for another year.

The light, speedy club forced North Vancouver to three games before going down to defeat Wednesday in this year's final.

Ronnie Clayton retained his British Empire featherweight championship at London Thursday with a 12th-round knockout over Eddie Miller of Australia. Clayton weighed 126. Miller, Australian featherweight titleholder, scaled 125½.

Excelsiors Hold 2-Point Margin

TORONTO, Aug. 12 (CP)—With playoffs two weeks away, Brampton Excelsiors today hold a narrow two-point margin atop league standings in the seven-team Ontario Lacrosse Association senior race.

Brampton, which finished in fifth place last season, went on a talent hunt and came up with three star imports, including Archie Browning, formerly of New Westminster (B.C.) Adanacs.

Browning is third in the scoring race with 58 goals and 39 assists.

Pressing Excelsiors in the close leadership race are Owen Sound Crescents in second place. Crescents finished first last season but were knocked out in the first round of league playoffs.

Always a threat in senior competition, St. Catharines Athletics are in third spot, three points behind Owen Sound. With a sizzling record of 12 victories in their last 13 games, the youngsters around whom the squad is built make St. Catharines about the most feared team in the loop.

Mimico Mountaineers are in fourth position and Hamilton Tigers, 1948 Mann Cup winners, in fifth. Tigers' poor showing this season is due mainly to a long injury list.

Weston Lions and Peterborough Lumberjacks are battling for the sixth and last playoff spot.

The gruelling 126-game schedule, 36 for each team, started May 17 and will finish Aug. 27. Playoffs start two days later with an Eastern Canada winner to be declared and in Vancouver on Sept. 26 to play the coast champions for the Dominion title and the Mann Cup.

WHICH HAND has the time. The lower hand, obviously. But that isn't a hand, it is an ear of corn having a time for itself. The hand above is merely wasting time on a table.

Juniors Victorious In First Of Series

HASTINGS, Aug. 12.—(ENS).—In the first of a best of three series in the Hastings Town League, Juniors defeated Norwood 17-13 in a free scoring game. Richardson, hurling for Juniors, started off well, but loosened in the third and Norwood combined five hits, two walks and a couple of errors for seven runs. West relieved in the sixth and kept Norwood under control from there in.

Hamlin was on the mound for Norwood but was not too effective and lacked support. The winners of this series meets the top place Elgin for the Town Cup.

Toronto Wins Playoff Spot

TORONTO, Aug. 12.—(CP)—Rain gave the provincial lawn bowling tournament its first setback Thursday. With two rounds of doubles completed, a downfall cut short some games in the third round.

Competition in the two top trophies reached the final stage but the rain caused postponement of all finals until Friday.

In the principal Townsend-Clark trophy, a Toronto pair of T. H. Mead and R. Robinson edged out another Toronto entry, W. C. Terry and C. D. Hall, for a playoff final spot, 13-12. They will meet R. W. Edney and G. Whalen of Kingston, who eliminated A. Whitelck and G. Fleming of Toronto 18-11.

Another Kingston pair is making its bid for the Parker Pen Trophy. W. P. Duncan and F. Denison will square off against Hamilton's F. Walmsley and H. May for the trophy.

A touch of irony is connected with the two Kingston pairs. The four men teamed up in rinks played earlier in the week; won their first game and then lost three straight to be eliminated. Now the chances are that one, and possibly two, of the top doubles trophies will go to Kingston.

Business Due For Autumn Pick-up In U.S.

By JOHN DAUPHINEE

NEW YORK, Aug. 12 (CP) — A mild improvement in some lines of industry suggest that the usual autumn business pick-up is coming to the United States.

Many business men were fearful early this year that prices might fall sharply. Apparently they cut down their inventory more than the should have.

Now some are restocking their shelves and statistics of the member banks of the federal reserve system show a moderate increase in business loans. The figures have been given considerable attention since they disclosed a reversal of an uninterrupted downward trend during the last six months.

But the late-summer upswing is a normal occurrence and this year's, while welcome and (to some pessimists) unexpected, is later than usual. That is why the Federal Reserve Board decided this week to free $1,800,000,000 of bank reserves during four weeks, to make it easier for business men to borrow money.

Still Recession

Most business indices indicate that a recession still is taking place. Unemployment is higher in some industrial areas, and company accounts for the second quarter of the year indicate that profits are falling. Excluding steel and motor companies, which have been feeling the recession only slightly, other profits are down more than 20 per cent for the second quarter as compared with a year ago.

Industry has been working at slightly more than 80 per cent of capacity. A year ago the rate was more than 90 per cent. An exception to the general trend is the motor industry, which is working at a great clip; but General Motors' president has predicted plenty of cars will be available by the end of the year.

The fact profits have been falling faster than prices is being interpreted as a reflection of the burden on industry of high production costs, particularly the cost of labor. There is no indication these costs will be reduced much, for any drop in raw materials may well be wiped out by further increases in the wage bill. Some of the country's biggest unions now are engaged in drives for their fourth wage increase since the war ended.

Most New York experts forecast that business will be solidly on the up-grade again before long. But speculators are cautious, waiting for some definite sign of a consistent upswing before they risk their capital. The financial markets have been in the doldrums, with shares prices showing relatively little change from day to day.

Steer Marshall Plan Past Nasty Storm of Criticism

By GEORGE RONALD

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12—(CP)—The Senate, in rejecting the anti-socialism amendment of James P. Kem (Rep. Mo.), has steered the Marshall Plan past what might have been a nasty new storm of criticism.

Kem's proposal, frankly aimed at Britain, would have forbidden the economic co-operation administration to give Marshall Plan aid to any country which in the future took over any basic industry.

A small group of Congressmen supports Kem's condition that the nationalization policy of Britain's Labor government is slowing down recovery. During long weeks of debate on the huge E.C.A. appropriation bill, they have hammered away at the argument that the United States is subsidizing British Socialism.

But the Ken amendment was the bluntest criticism of Britain heard in Congress in a long time.

Its defeat probably reflects a real desire by most Senators to keep the Marshall Plan strictly an economic recovery plan, to avoid charges of "United States imperialism."

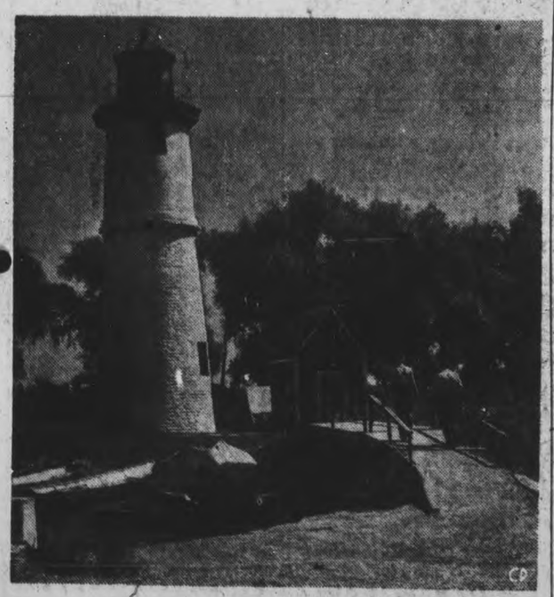
Communist Russia, bitterly critical of ECA since its inception, would have acquired rich new propaganda material if Kem's amendment had been written into Marshall Plan law.

ECA Record Good

This "interference" is something ECA has sought consistently to avoid. And its record has been good. Except from Communists, there has been no charge that the United States was buying political power with Marshall-Plan dollars.

Kem won few backers for his contention that "money of the American taxpayer is being used as a slush fund to promote and finance Socilism in England and in certain of the other (ECA) participating countries."

Most Congressmen are bitterly opposed to Socialism — as is shown by the objection to many of President Truman's Socialistic proposals and by the growing cry that the United States is slowly becoming a "welfare state."



But this week's Senate action makes clear at least that a majority consider it important to keep the Marshall Plan from being used as a means of stopping Socialism in other countries.

2 People Injured As Car Rolls Over

TORONTO, Aug 12 — (CP).—Two persons were injured on Thursday night when their automobile slid off the road, hit the trolley track and rolled end over end into the ditch on North Yonge Street, in nearby Richmond Hill.

Vivian Crookes, 19, a passenger svuffered slight concussion, temporary amnesia, and lost all her front teeth, knocked out in the crash.

The driver, identified by police as Henry Blake, 19, told police se swerved to avoid another car which came out of a sideroad. The other car did not stop, police said. Police blamed wet roads for the accident.

HAVEN FOR HOLIDAYING—Whether it's fishing or boating, or just loafing on a hot summer day, the old lighthouse at Stoney Point, provides just the setting. Situated on the shore of Lake St. Clair where the Thames River flows into the lake, the lighthouse has long been recognized as one of the most picturesque spots in Essex County. Built many years ago, the light is a navigation beacon for lake freighters.

Royal Mint Makes Profit On British Coins

By DON GILBERT

LONDON, Aug. 12 (CP).—The Royal Mint is pocketing a neat profit in a change of British coinage.

"Two billion silver coins are gradually being withdrawn from circulation. They are replaced by money of cupro-nickel, an alloy three parts copper and one part nickel.

Each £100 worth of silver coins returned to the Mint is worth £33 in commercial value. The £100 in cupro-nickel given in exchange costs £4 to make.

Total profit on the changeover probably will exceed £30,000,000. The final figure will depend on variations in the market price of silver.

Take 20 Years

It will take 20 years to withdraw the bulk of silver coins now in circulation. After that, the inward flow will slow down to a trickle.

For generations the old silver will continue to circulate in country districts, where coins seldom pass through a bank.

The slowness of coin withdrawal finds an example in the Queen Victoria "bun" penny. These bear the Queen's image as a young woman, with head uncovered.

The pennies have been in the process of withdrawal for nearly 30 years. But today only a little more than one-third of them have been returned to the Mint.

There's a slight difference in color between silver and cupro-nickel. Bank tellers can spot it, and they hold back the silver pieces whenever they pass over their counters.

The withheld coins are made up in bags of £100 and shipped to the Bank of England. In Threadneedle Street, the coins are counted and weighed, then sent to refiners. There they are melted down and refashioned into ingots of fine silver.

Norfolk Man Does Crab Farming

ST. WILLIAMS, Aug. 12 (CP)—Alfred Dove of this Norfolk county village is, so far as he knows, Canada's only crab farmer.

He raises thousands of crabs—actually crayfish—for bass fishermen.

It took Alf and his wife six years to learn the delicate business of breeding crayfish. He found a ready market for them but it wasn't until this year that the 1½-acre pond enterprise started to show a profit.

When the crayfish shed their shell-like armor—a natural process which happens several times yearly—they are ready. Netted, they are put on ice and are ready for fishermen and the hungry bass.

Ragweed Shotguns Readied But New Drugs Deflect Fire

The shotguns of the hay fever season start firing soon but there are some new drugs and ideas to aaid the victims, scientists report.

The shotguns are the pods of ragweed. They discharge their pollen in sudden slugs or bursts. A single pod may send out 1,500,000 grains of pollen. The shooting starts in August and keeps on through September or October. During a season, it's estimated, the weeds broadcast 1,000,000 tons of pollen.

The tiny pollen grains (2,500 cover one square inch) soar on the breeze and spread misery.

Spraying Helps

One counter-attack opened with the use of the weed-killer, 2, 4-D. Many cities and towns are spraying vacant lots and other favorite abodes of ragweed each June and July. The sprayings have killed off large areas of ragweed.

Public health engineers are tackling the problem, too, ushing engineering skills to set up defences against the pollen barrages.

Winds carry the pollen for miles but there's a suspicion that the plants right in your own neighborhood are often the main troublemakers, says C. J. Velz, head of the civil engineering department, Manhattan College, New York.

Pollen counts as high as 10,000,000 grains to the cubic yard have been measured in the middle of ragweed patches. A count of 100 to the yard is generally thought to be enough to start most susceptible people sneezing.

But counting stations may be placed too far away from local patches of weeds to pick up the broadcast for them. Wind-borne pollens may thus sometimes be blamed for the suffering when the victims actually sniffed heavy loads from their own backyards, Velz told the northeastern states weed control conference.

Many New Drugs

Meanwhile, chemists have produced more than a dozen new drugs that help relieve the distress of hay fever. Most of them combat histamine, a substance released in the body and believed to be a main cause of allergies. Some of the latest drugs give long-lasting protection.

No drug relieves every hay fever victim. And they often cause sleepiness, nausea, hives or other effects. A diferent drug may work well for one person but not another. The choice of drug, and the dose, should be directed by a doctor. Physicians also can give injections of pollen extracts to help build up resistance.

The mind and emotions often affect allergies, making the attacks worse, or perhaps even starting them. A picutre of ragweed may start some people sneezing.

Since the psychic effect can be strong, some psychologists use hypnotism on hay fever victims. Hypnotism is suggestion, and giving the suggestion to relax helps remove emotional tension, the psychologists explain. People can be given the suggestion that they won't be bothered as much or at all by pollens or dust.

Roe Canada, Ltd., the craft is designed to carry 50 passengers at 430 miles an hour flying at 30,000 feet. It is powered by four jets.

Trees Along Roads Cut To Build Rink

Work on Otonabee's Memorial Arena is getting under way again after a temporary relaxing until the rush of the harvest job was done.

Main abutments were completed in June, and the concrete base walls of the curling ices are being built. Meanwhile, trees that could be readily spared from township roadsides are being milled for lumber to be used along the rink boards and the office and waiting rooms.

This progress is a reminder to some of the neighbors in Peterborough who wish to contribute to the Arena fund that their contributions would no doubt be gratefully received by the township committee.

Check Repairmen Chamber's Warning

The Chamber of Commerce issued a warning to citizens of Peterborough, Thursday, against hiring a transient company from out of town to do landscaping, chimney repairing, roof fixing or eavestrough repairing with a long term guarantee, without knowing something about the firm.

The Better Business Bureau of Toronto, when asked about such firms, warned the city to be careful. The Bureau was consulted as a result of several enquiries received by the Chamber of Commerce about out-of-town house repair men in Peterborough.

Approval Given To Purchasing Southend Block

Site for a Collegiate Institute of future building is included in the 28 acres west of Monaghan Road which the committee of the whole council recommended for purchase Thursday night.

This action followed a discussion by representatives of the council and the Board of Education.

At a recent meeting, the council had decided to buy properties in the McFarlane Ave. section of Ashburnham and also in the McKellar St. area of the south end, west of Monaghan Road, for the latest 100-unit housing project by Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation.

At that time City Clerk Outram, who had carried on negotiations for option, mentioned a block adjoining the McKellar area which, he said, might be of interest to the Board of Education in their planning for secondary school expansion. The conference last night was called to discuss that proposal together with the location and acreage of the prospective site.

Nearing Capacity

The Board has recognized for some time that the accommodation of the Collegiate Institute and Vocational School is nearing its capacity, and that plans should be considered for approaching needs and their provision.

The council agreed to the acquiring of the several areas for its own housing project, and decided to consult the Board as to its views toward the south end area that can be made available.

The entire properties in the McKellar section comprise 28 acres, including 15 acres which would be suitable for a Collegiate Institute. Securing that property, it is said, would have to be approached by expropriation. It has been owned by Thomas Hughes, who set up on the Monaghan Road front an automobile wrecking lot which residents on the east side of Monghan Road have strenuously objected. They protested to the council that the Hughes place depreciated the value of their properties and was generally a neighborhood nuisance.

It has transpired of late that the question of ownership of the Hughes lot is actually before the courts, according to information given the council by City Solicitor W. F. Huycke, K.C.

The south end area is bounded on the east by Monaghan Road, by McKellar St. on the north and Erskine Ave. on the west. If the 28 acres are bought, the council would lay two roads in the property, one effect of which would be to set the School property apart from the housing section.

OLD WEST MOVED EAST on Thursday afternoon at the McKellar playground when ten cowboys and girls and 19 Indians staged a noisy playground pageant. Cowpunchers' costumes, bright feathers and lots of war paint made a colorful spectacle. Former Premier To Open Show

Hon. T. L. Kennedy, provincial Minister of Agriculture, and former premier of Ontario, will be in the city this evening for the opening of the flower show at the armouries at 7.30 o'clock.

This is the Horticultural Society's big event of the year, and as horticulture is one of the interests of the Department of Agriculture, the directors of the society invited Col. Kennedy for this occasion.

The judges are Bert Hick of Lindsay for the general section of the show and Mr. and Mrs. Herb. Taylor of Toronto deciding the awards in the gladioli displays.

Wm. C. Wilks, secretary said this morning the number of exhibits is much larger than last year.

"It is worth while seeing, and we hope the flower lovers of Peterborough will be with us tonight and Saturday night. There is a surprising show of African violets. In fact we had to divide into several classes.

We have five door prizes including a C.G.E. refrigerator.

The Central Ontario Gladiolus Society have combined their annual show with the Horticultural Society and have a grand display, Mr. Wilks said.

PCVS Students of Grade XIII Pass 91 Percent of Papers

Students of the Peterborough Collegiate and Vocational School who tried their Grade XIII upper school examinations in June were successful in 560 of the 615 examination papers written, school authorities announced today. Thus with a 91 per cent success the students for the fourth time in the past seven years surpassed the 90 per cent mark. Last year's class was successful in 94 per cent of the papers written, to be among the highest classes in the province.

This year's class gathered 231 credits (50 to 59 marks inclusive); 110 third class honors (60 to 65 marks inclusive); 131 second class honors (66 to 74 marks inclusive) and 89 first class honors (75 to 100 marks).

Compared with the class of one year ago, the number of first class honors decreased from 135 to 89; second class honors dropped from 155 to 131, third class honors were 111 last year and 110 this year, and credits increased from 179 to 231.

R. D. Brown, head of mathematics department, who compiled this year's figures, said there may be a slight variation in the figures, as he left out the students with private and night school teaching.

With no chance at writing supplementals as in the Grades X, XI, and XII the fifth formers have the opportunity to appeal for a small fee. If the student passes on the appeal, his money is returned. Last year Mr. Brown remembered four students who were close to the passing line and appealed successfully.

The number of papers written this year was the highest in the past seven years. In 1948 the fifth formers wrote one less paper while in 1947 only 552 papers were written. During the war in 1943 the lowest number of papers was written, 419. In 1946 the number of papers tried by the fifth formers dropped to 500 after being 535 in 1944 and 519 in 1945.

Comparative Grade XIII results for the past seven years:

	1943	1944	1945	1946	1947	1948	1949

Heavy Demands Made On Ice

Reports from lakeshore points that ice was in short supply found some sympathy with local dealers today. At Cobourg, it is felt that there will be a definite shortage unless some relief is found within the next two weeks. Cause of the distress is believed to be a combination of a mild winter and a hot summer.

The Chemong Lake Ice Co. reports that although there has been a great demand the past week and during the earlier hot spells, they expect to get through the summer without too much trouble. They say that there have been many more calls for ice in the last few days than usual.

Another company, Perritt Bros., are completely without ice, and have tried unsuccessfully to buy some. Mr. Perritt said that he had been to Toronto two or three times in an attempt to secure ice, but had failed. He feels that with an ordinary summer, he would have had enough to last him.

It has been reported from the lakeshore districts that the shortage will be felt in Toronto, St. Catharines, Oshawa and Cobourg. One Cobourg dealer says that he will have to go to Buffalo to get a supply, if conditions do not change.

Sanitary Ice Co. was reluctant to make any comment on the situation, other than that they are guaranteeing their customers ice.

Man Convicted Of Attempt To Steal Gas

One man was convicted and the cases against two youths were dismissed on a charge of attempting to steal gasoline, in Police court today, with Magistrate A. B. Baxter presiding.

Elmer Whitney, 26, who lives about three miles east of Trent River, was found guilty of trying to steal gasoline from the farm of Frederick Ellis in Belmont township near Trent River. Two youths, Samuel Hearn, 18, and Donald Johnston, 17, of Havelock, were freed when the charges against them were dismissed.

Verdon Ellis, son of Frederick Ellis, testified about one a.m. the morning of July 31, he was awakened by his dog barking and looked out the window and saw four men coming down the lane to the house. He dressed and went downstairs and switched on an outside light and saw four men standing beside two 45-gallon gasoline drums at the back of the house. When the light was turned on, three of the men ran away and the fourth, Elmer Whitney, tried to hide against the wall of the house.

Whitney told Ellis he wanted to borrow some gasoline because one of two cars parked on the road cars drove away as he talked to was out of gas. Ellis testified both Whitney.

Whitney testified in court that he didn't remember anything about the night because he was too drunk.

He was fined $50 and $11.50 on the attempt to steal charge and $10 and $2.50 costs for being drunk as well.

Wm. Walsh, 547 Rogers St., was fined $15 and costs for having liquor in an unlawful place August 4.

Jean Haddlesley was remanded out of custody for sentence until October 9 on a charge of assaulting her mother, Sarah Lee, May 13.

No Lack of Confidence Implied In PCVS Staff Resolution To Board Says

Denying that the Peterborough Board of Education had embarked on a witch hunt when it passed a resolution calling for investigation into reasons for the number of Grade 11 failures, Dr. Ralph C. Honey gave notice of motion at a meeting of the Board Thursday night he would introduce a motion at the Board's next meeting clarifying the Board's views on the matter.

The resolution Dr. Honey will introduce will be as follows: "Resolved that this Board regrets all the uncomplementary publicity sustained as a result of the discussion pertaining to failures in Grade 11 at P.C.V.S. and that the resolution passed by the Board at its July meeting was a request for information and was not intended to imply lack of confidence in the teaching staff".

With the agreement of the seven other Board members present, Dr. Honey said he regarded the collegiate staff very highly both before and after the July meeting.

G. Wilson Craw said he had no idea that people would think the board had started a witch hunt, when it passed the resolution.

Dr. Honey added, "I feel a number of teachers and the public have the wrong impression of this Board through a misinterpretation of the resolution.

Arthur Pitchford emphasized, in his opinion, the board had sought to find out the facts by employing the proper agency, Superintendent of Schools K. S. Wightman, to carry out an investigation. He said he felt the resolution meant no lack of confidence in the teaching staff.

Dr. Honey's notice of motion did not require a seconder but it received the whole-hearted approval by the Board.

Board Approves Of Site For Collegiate

Fifteen acres of land in the south end of city is being sought by the Board of Education as a site for a new Collegiate which members feel will be needed some time within three or four years.

At its meeting Thursday night, the Board approved of a report presented by G. Wilson Craw, chairman of the Accommodation Committee, which suggested land known as the Hughes' property, fronting on Monaghan Rd. near McKellar St., be acquired and held for use as a Collegiate site.

The Board met later with the City Council and presented its proposal to have 15 acres set aside and council members approved of acquiring the land.

Board members agreed that 15 acres was not too much if there were going to be playing fields of various kinds so that the new Collegiate when it was built would not be cramped for space as are many of the city secondary schools now. Regulations, Mr. Craw said, call for 11 acres for a secondary school which will accommodate 850 pupils.

Mr. Craw said the site might seem too far south, but he pointed out it was right next door to the heaviest populated area in the south end.

Included in the Accommodation Committee's report was a proposal that the Board buy a piece of land in the new Parkdale subdivision, east of Armour Rd. and south of Parkhill Rd., as a junior public school site for $4,200 from Sands and Bateman. The proposed property is a tract 380 feet by 229 feet between Swanston Ave. and Juliet Rd. Mr. Craw in submitting this clause, said that two men had valuated the property and there was only $200 between the two prices submitted.

Communists Operate Along Welland Canal

ST. CATHARINES, Ont., Aug. 12 (CP)—Lt.-Col. Sam Hughes charged Thursday that Communist spies are operating on a large scale along the vital Welland ship canal.

Col. Hughes, Welland lawyer and a grandson of Canada's minister of defence in the First World War, Sir Sam Hughes, told the Rotary Club that Communist activity in the Niagara district is closely tied up with Russian intelligence.

Later, questioned by reporters, he said he could reveal no details of his charges but said the presence of Communist agents is well known to residents of some sections of Welland, especially in areas where immigrants have settled recently. Newcomers from Europe were "beset" by Communist elements on arrival but most of them would have nothing to do with the Communists.

In his speech to the club, he discussed the kind of Communism he believes is practised in this area.

"It is constant and well-financed. It is the forerunner of a possible attack by the Red army."

Clans Converge For Detroit Do

DETROIT, Aug. 12.—(AP.)— A mighty host of Scottish clans converged today on Detroit.

The occasion was the centennial celebration of St. Andrew's Society. It called for song and story, feats of strength and good cheer.

From Canada and many states came the Campbells, MacDonalds, Camerons, MacDuffs, MacLeods and their kinfolk.

St. Andrew's officials say they are assembling the largest number of Scottish pipe bands ever brought together in the United States—29. Among them are the internationally famous 48th Highlanders of Toronto; the Argyll and Southerland Highlanders, of Hamilton; the Essex Scottish of Windsor; and the Girls' Pipe Band of Georgetown. In all there will be 19 pipe bands from Ontario.

Massed bands will march and play in a Scottish tattoo at Saturday night's musical festivities.

Maryland Law Found Invalid

UPPER MARLBORO, Md., Aug. 12 (AP)—A 95-year-old Maryland law requiring public officials to swear to belief in the Christian religion has been declared invalid.

Judge Charles C. Marbury made the ruling Thursday. As a result, J. Milton Stanford, Grentwood town councilman elect, will be allowed to take office despite his religious beliefs.

Stanford is a panthiest—who believes the universe is God but who does not accept the doctrine of a future state of rewards and punishments.

He had refused to take the oath of office when he learned it contained a sentence: "I believe in the Christian religion." The town council had refused to seat him.

Judge Marbury's ruling was on Stanford's suit to force the council to permit him to take office.

Marbury said that, although the law has been on the books since 1854, he doubts whether the state legislature has any right to force a public official to declare that he believes in God.

40 Firemen Troop In But Blaze All Out

TORONTO, Aug. 12.—(CP).—W. I. Newmarch of suburban Port Credit turned on his oil heating system Thursday night, and 40 firemen came trooping through his home looking for a fire.

A miscue in the thermostat sent oil into the furnace. Newmarch phoned the oil company to get it fixed. They misunderstood and phoned firemen from the suburbs of Cooksville and Port Credit four times.

When firemen arrived they found the over-heated Mr. Newmarch had put out the fire with a bucket of water.

Enthusiasm and Ability of Canadian Teachers Impress Miss Dorothy Gardner, English Educationist

Young children are much the same the world over, thinks Miss Dorothy Gardner, a leading educationist in England, who is in Peterborough on her first visit to this country. Miss Gardner, who is head of the Department of Child Development of the University of London, England, Institute of Education, has found young Canadian children no different from English youngsters. The children of the two countries have more in common than English children have with those of European countries, she says.

After lecturing at summer schools for teachers at Ottawa and Hamilton, Miss Gardner has a great admiration for the enthusiasm and ability of Canadian teachers. And Miss Gardner's opinion carries considerable weight, for she heads the department of the London university where school teachers of many countries go to study for higher educational posts. Her students are men and women who have had at least five years' teaching experience and want to become lecturers or take administrative posts in the educational field.

Chiefly interested in children under the age of eight, Miss Gardner has found more organization for youngsters in Canada than in her own country. "Canada does not have nursery schools as we do in England," she says, "but in England the parks are not so well organized."

Miss Gardner is greatly impressed with the supervision of parks and swimming areas.

On her five weeks' visit to Canada Miss Gardner is combining work with play. She and her aunt, Miss Adeline Edge, are visiting Miss Gardner's sister, Mrs. Donald Day, 629 Donegal St.

When the Ontario Department of Education heard of Miss Gardner's proposal to come to Canada, she was invited to address the summer schools.

Live A Simple Life

In answer to enquiries about conditions in England today, Miss Gardner said the people were living a "very simple" life, "but I would not say there is a real shortage. We do not have your butter and fruit," she said.

The reason why many mothers complain about the shortages is because they are the section of the community which rarely has an opportunity of eating in restaurants, Miss Gardner explained. Those who can use a canteen where they work or are able to buy a midday meal at a restaurant can get a good dinner. Housewives invariably share their rations with the rest of the family and doctors are impressing them with the necessity of eating their own share.

Elderly people who do not eat out also find the rationing more irksome than the working population.

Of the clothes rationing, Miss Gardner said the shortage has made people more quality conscious. If they have only a certain number of clothing coupons they are not going to buy cheaply made clothes, she said.

"Our children are wonderfully healthy," Miss Gardner declared.

Go 4,000 Miles Trying Out Toronto Yawl

TORONTO, Aug. 12 — (CP)— George and Florence Board, a Toronto couple, like sailing. They are back from a 4,000-mile cruise in their own yawl, proof of their zest.

A couple of years ago they tried to book passage to Australia, where they could sail all year round. They could not get space on the crowded ships.

They had sold their first sailboat, a converted lifeboat. So they dipped into their savings, and started work on a 25-foot, gaff-rigged Seabird class yawl.

When space to Australia was available, their own boat looked so good they changed their mind.

Instead, they launched the yawl and sailed to Florida and back. It took them nine months and one day. Buffeted by storms, her rigging at times buried beneath a treacherous crust of ice, she had proven herself extremely sturdy.

The trip down, started last October, was chilly most of the way. They took the Erie Canal to Troy NY, then got a tow to New York behind a barge. The sea scared them at first and the boat "really rolled for a while." They stayed two weeks in Miami before returning.

Now living aboard the yawl, christened Pagan, moored in the Centre Island lagoon, George and Florence are resignedly preparing to forget their vacation and get back to work.

Shoot Watch Dog After Two Attacks

BRANTFORD, Aug. 12.—(CP).—A large mongrel watch dog at the Modern Auto Wreckers, was shot Thursday night following a vicious attack on Cliff Rutherford, mechanic who needed 30 stitches in his left arm.

Clark Hodd, Jr., son of the proprietor, attempted to beat off the dog with an auto axle and suffered a deep cut in the palm of his hand also needing stitches.

Rutherford had set out food for the dog and was picking up the chain which the dog had broken a few minutes earlier when the attack occurred. Police said that the dog had attacked persons causing serious injury on three other occasions.

Baby's Condition Said Very Critical

TORONTO, Aug. 12.—(CP).—Hospital officials today described as "very critical" the condition of six-month-old Clinton Clark brought here Thursday night by taxi from North Bay.

The baby, suffering from intestinal intoxication, was brought to Toronto Sick Children's Hospital after doctors diagnosed her condition in North Bay. He was previously thought to be suffering from poliomyelitis or dysentery.

Gave Indians Liquor Maximum Fine Levied

A maximum fine of $300 was imposed on Percy F. Van Nest, Hiawatha Indian Reserve, when he pleaded guilty to supplying liquor to Indians contrary to the Indian Act before Magistrate R. B. Baxter in police court Friday morning.

Although not an Indian, Van Nest lived on the reserve because he said it was the only place he could find for his wife and three children.

Corporal Cyril L. Dale of the R.C.M.P. testified Van Nest was selling beer at 25 cents a pint and liquor 30 cents a shot. Ten cases of beer and five bottle of liquor were seized.

Corporal Dale said he was not asking a jail sentence be imposed because of the man's family and his good record.

RCMP Aware Of Reds At Canal

OTTAWA, Aug. 12. — (CP).—An RCMP official said today it is well known that there are Communists and supporters of the Labor-Progressive party throughout the area along the Welland Canal area of Ontario.

He was commenting on a St. Catharines news dispatch which quoted Lt.-Col. Sam Hughes as charging Thursday night that Communist spies are operating on a large scale along the vital canal which links Lake Erie with Lake Ontario.

Col. Hughes, grandson of Canada's defence minister in the First World War, said Communist activity in the area is closely tied up with Russian intelligence.

The RCMP official said the force knows there are Communists in the area "but as for the tie-up with espionage we have no printable comment."

Jail Teen-Agers Year For Stealing Car

NORTH BAY,, Aug. 12.—(CP).—A 133-mile car ride today cost two Toronto teen-agers sentences of one year.

The two, John Foster, 17, and David Thompson, 16, both of Etobicoke, were charged with theft of a 1949-model car, the property of C. Tackaberry, Department of Highways engineer.

They pleaded guilty to the charge.

The car was stolen from in front of the Department of Highways offices on First Ave. West shortly after 5 o'clock Thursday afternoon.

It was recovered a few hours later by Pembroke police.

Safe Untouched Office Upset

City police were investigating today the second downtown burglary during the present week, together with an unsuccessful attempt to break into another business establishment. Some time last night the offices of the Chamber of Commerce and Peterborough Automobile Club in the Bradburn building at the corner of George and Simcoe Sts., were broken into and thoroughly ransacked. A check by Manager James M. Fraser revealed that about $15 in postage stamp money was taken. The safe was untouched.

The break-in was discovered by Caretaker H. J. Parnell at 8.30 a.m., who immediately notified Mr. Fraser at his home. When Mr. Fraser arrived at the office he found it in a shambles, with papers strewn over the floor and drawers of all desks pulled out and left lying around.

The burglary had all the earmarks of having been an amateur job, and it is believed to have been the work of juveniles, as entry was made by inserting a hand through the letter slot in the door and unlocking the Yale lock from the inside. Only a small, thin hand would be capable of doing this. A carpenter was at work this morning blocking up the letter slot. The miscreants closed the door after them on going out so as to allay suspicion.

An attempt was also made to enter the premises of the Eastwood Construction Co. Ltd. in the same building, but in this case the thieves were unable to effect an entry.

Earlier this week the Oddfellows Hall, corner of George and Hunter Sts., was broken into and between $5.00 and $10.00 taken from a Coca-Cola dispenser.

Rap Nationalism Of Germany's Political Heads

FRANKFURT, Germany, Aug. 12 (AP)—An American military government spokesman lashed out Thursday night at the "pronounced nationalism" of Western Germany's federal election campaign. It was the first official United States comment on anti-allied attacks by German candidates, up for election Sunday.

The spokesman declared in a German-language broadcast that "not a single party has a good word for the positive work of the western allies."

"One is forced to make comparisons with the past and to look with some anxiety to the future, which is being entrusted to such a forgetful, nationalistic people," he said.

The spokesman said German politicians agree on only one point: " pronounced nationalism which sees all right on one side and all injustice and bad will on the other side."

He warned that "opinion abroad has not overlooked the awakened nationalism nor the sudden forgetfulness of German politicians concerning the assistance the western allies have rendered."

Even as he spoke candidates for the new parliament carried on their heated attacks on the allies.

Both American and British observers claim these anti-allied remarks have resulted in a general apathy among the German voters. These observers predict a growing distrust of German political leaders will result in a comparatively light vote in Sunday's elections.

Protecting Rights Costs Man $17

Found guilty for what he termed was "protecting his rights," William Alderman, 658 Lundy's Lane, was fined $10 and $7 costs on a charge of assaulting Marvin Armstrong, Young's Point, in police court today by Magistrate R. B. Baxter.

The assault arose when Alderman tried to get his common law wife to leave a beverage room where she was drinking with another woman and Marvin Armstrong. Alderman's wife didn't leave, but Armstrong testified that the waiter took Alderman out of the beverage room. The waiter later told Armstrong Alderman wanted to see him. When Armstrong walked into the lobby of the hotel, Alderman hit him with his fist without saying a word.

Note To Gibson Family, Address Unknown Vicar Checks Seven Bodies, All Okay

SUTTON, England, Aug. 12.—(AP).—Note to the Gibson family (wherever you are): The Vicar checked your bodies today. They're okay—all seven of them.

The annual inspection of the Gibson tomb was made on schedule, as it has been every Aug 12 since 1793.

James Gibson, a wealthy London merchant had the massive tomb set up in the St. Nicholas parish churchyard in 1777.

Those were the days of the grave robbing "resurrection men," who dug up cadavers and sold them to the medical schools for the students to dissect. Gibson's daughter Elizabeth was afraid of this.

When she died in 1793 she left a trust fund to pay for an inspection of the tomb "every Aug. 12 forever."

So today Rev. W. A. Rhodes went out to the tomb accompanied by his son, Christopher, aged 11, who carried the keys on a crimson cushion.

With two curious women as spectators the Vicar unlocked the door, went inside and inspected the seven coffins.

He found everything in good order.

He was fishing with a friend and leaned over to fill the gas tank of the boat. He apparently lost his balance and fell into the water.

Provincial police and the dead man's brother, George, conducted grappling operations until Thursday.

Sidoruk was employed at the Spruce Falls Power and Paper Company Mill, Kapuskasing.

Average Cow Produces Only 4 Calves

By HARRY THEOBALD

The average cow in this country produces only four calves in its life time, Frank C. Paterson, agricultural representative, told a a group of junior farmers at a judging session Thursday night at the dairy farm of Norman McConkey.

On the other hand, Alex McKinney of Brampton was mentioning the other day a favorite old cow at his place that has had sixteen sons and daughters. Mr. Paterson said he wished to emphasize the elements of strength and ruggedness, heart girth, ability to live, with good legs to get around and forage for feed.

Some of the other points were type, and temperament, bone formation and good way of standing on its legs.

"There is a considerable opinion today," Mr. Paterson said, "that judging has been getting away from the elementary qualities in our stock and has been tending too much toward refinement. I think we should look first for dominant life lines. Besides that, a cow should be considered on her physical fitness to reproduce herself, and not just three or four times."

About 75 boys and girls attended the meeting hwich was primarily to assist juniors in coaching for the judging competitions at the approaching livestock shows.

Mr. McConkey submitted two classes of Holstein cattle, one class of Guernseys, and an exceptionally fine class of Hampshire ewes.

Mr. Paterson was assisted by Robert Bell, and Miss Jean Noble, household economist, was present to assist the girls. Calf club members attended..

Refreshments were served after the judging, and the juniors expressed their thanks to Mr. and Mrs. McConkey for a pleasant and helpful evening.

Threaten Priests With Sabotage

PRAGUE, Aug. 12 (Reuters)—Czechoslovak churchmen who try to implement the Vatican decree of excommunication of Communists may be found guilty of economic sabotage as well as treason, the government's newspaper, Catholic News, indicated.

The newspaper was printed here today ready for distribution Sunday.

The paper's argument, taken in conjunction with the recent series of attacks on the church hierarchy, was regarded by some observers here as part of an attempt to build up a legal case ready for an action expected to develop against anti-Communist Roman Catholics when the harvest has ended.

The article, explaining why implementation of the decree would be treasonable, says Communist parties were "the leading force" in the people's democracies and that therefore an attack on them was an attack on the state.

Catholic News says "anyone who puts himself in the service of a political power which is hostile to our state would involve himself in anti-state activity as defined in the law for the protection of the Republic."

Reveal Big Plans Rob Department Store

TORONTO, Aug. 12 — (CP) — A large-scale plan to steal from a downtown department store was revealed in court Thursday during the trial of three men charged with stealing more than $1,000 in goods.

The three men, Griffen Jones 50, George Combe 30, and Fred Hardman 30, were employed as warehousemen where they would send the goods out under fake delivery slips and later pick them up. Most of the stolen articles were pieces of furniture.

The men pleaded guilty, and Jones, the ringleader, was sentenced to six months. The other two were given three months each.

Expect Real Estate Demand Will Continue To Be Good

TORONTO, Aug. 12 (CP)—Continued good demand for real estate in Canada is indicated in a country-wide survey mae by the Canaian Association of Real Estate Boards.

Only three cities out of 23—Toronto, London, Ont., and Edmonton—expect an increase in turnover in 1949-50 over 1948. But, according to the survey:

Halifax, Winnipeg, Edmonton, Calgary, and the Ontario cities of Ottawa, Hamilton, Toronto, London, Peterborough, Kitchener and Chatham expect prices of new residential property to show further increases. British Columbia cities expect them to remain steady or show a decline.

Ontario cities and towns anticipate lower prices for older residential property, with the exception of Peterborough, which expects 1948 levels to continue. Port Arthur, Ont., looks for a "distinct decrease."

Inclined To Rise

Vacant-land prices in Vancouver and in the Ontario cities of Ottawa, Hamilton, Kingston, Kitchener and London, show an inclination to rise. British Columbia centres, outside of Vancouver, and Halifax, and Nova Scotia in general, expect no marked change.

The number of new houses remaining unsold is "unchanged" in most places, but with increases in Sherbrooke, Que., Hamilton, Kingston, Peterborough, Windsor and Vancouver. Nearly all centres report serviced building lots "scarce"; and "becoming scarce" in Peterborough, Chatham and Regina.

In reply to the question, "Is supply of housing units catching up with demand?" Toronto reports "definitely no" and similar answers are given from Halifax, Montreal, London, Edmonton, Lethbridge, Alta., and Vancouver.

Centres reporting supply catching up with demand include Fredericton, Sherbrooke, Winnipeg, Saskatchewan cities and towns; Victoria; and, in Ontario, Hamilton, Ottawa, Peterborough, Chatham, Kingston and Windsor. Only Kitchener reports supply caught up with demand. British Columbia centres, other than Vancouver and Victoria, expect "no change."

No where, according to the survey, is the present system of first-mortgage financing considered adequate in the light of continued demand for moderate-cost housing.

Rent Shortages

Rental-housin gshortages are reported from most centres. Demand for residential property to rent is being generally maintained on the Prairies; is marked in British Columbia; still strong in Nova Scotia; unchanged in Montreal and Sherbrooke and in New Brunswick; shows a "strong increase" in Toronto; continued good demand in Peterborough, Kitchener, Chatham, Kingston, Windsor; and no prospective change in Hamilton and Ottawa.

Estimates of increases in decontrolled rents as compared with 1948, range from 15 per cent for Nova Scotia and for towns in Alberta, to as high as 60 per cent in Sherbrooke. By cities, percentage increases in decontrolled rentals are estimated at 20 to 30 in Halifax; 35 in Hamilton; 40 to 50 in Ottawa and London; 40 in Toronto; 30 in Peterborough; 40 to 50 in Chatham and Windsor; 25 in Vancouver.

Town Sinks 1,500 Ft. In Shattering 'Quake

QUITO, Ecuador, Aug. 12 (AP) Witnesses reported Thursday one of the most fantastic pranks of Ecuador's disastrous earthquake—the little village of Liberted and its surrounding fields sank 1,500 feet straight down into the earth.

The town, with its population of about 100 persons, just disappeared. Where it once stood is a gaping hole half mile in diameter and 1,500 feet deep.

The strange tale was told by military and medical officers returning from the quake area south of here near Pelileo, hardest hit city where thousands died. They said they were shown the big sink by Col. Gabriel Nunez, troop commander in the region.

Most of the top soil earth in the sunken area was scrambled by the sudden drop, but in a few places crops continued to grow just as they did before.

Kept Birth Secret Girl Awaits Sentence

TORONTO, Aug. 12 — (CP) — Louise Hartley, 20-year-old redhead, of Toronto, convicted of concealing the birth of her baby girl, was remanded for sentence to Aug. 15. She told police she gave birth in a bathroom July 21, while her father and stepmother were in Halifax.

After hiding the dead body three days in a shoebox, Louise said, she drove to Oshawa, Ont., in a friend's car. When they stopped at a gasoline station she ran over to some bushes, and dumped the shoebox, she said.

Her action aroused the suspicion of William Sharpe, garage owner, who called the police.

Kingston Plant Lays Off 175

KINGSTON, Aug. 12—(CP)—The Aluminum Company of Canada, Kingston Works, Thursday announced the layoff of 175 employees—both men and women. This is the second layoff. On July 26, 150 employees were let out. The plant normally employs about 2,000 people.

M. N. Hays, works manager, told employees in a written notice:

"Due to a reduction in forward orders in the sheet mill, it will be necessary to reduce forces immediately by approximately 175 people.

"Many of those affected will have had more than one year of service. Every effort has been made to avoid this situation and the company regrets exceedingly the step it is now forced to take.

"Most of the business that Kingston works has been developing since the war is entirely new in the Canadian market. Therefore, it is exceedingly difficult to estimate accurately what is to be an economical level in operation. It is hoped that this will be established a little more clearly at an early date and that it will be high enough for us to renew our association with the many excellent men and women who have given such fine services."

Driver's Licence Suspended 3 Months

Lenard Jaques was fined $25 and costs and his driver's license was cancelled for three months, when found guilty of dangerous driving by Magistrate E. A. Gee, Lindsay, in court here Thursday. The accident occurred July 27.

The 20-year-old youth from Campbellford was driving a truck on No. 7 highway near the Club Aragon approaching a railroad crossing. He said he didn't see the wig-wag signal operating and collided with a car standing still waiting for a train to pass. The car was pushed into the moving train and Jaques' truck also hit the train. Jacques' right wrist was broken and the driver of the car was cut on the head. The pavement was damp but not wet at the time.

Candlelight Is Scheduled For Summer Theatre

"Choose neither women nor linen by candlelight," is the quote from which the title is taken of the Peterborough Summer Theatre's next production, beginning Monday night in the Queen Mary School auditorium.

The significance of the axiom which gave the play its title is soon apparent from its plot. The valet of a worldly woman-chasing-and-catching prince takes great enjoyment from imagining himself the prince, especially after a charming young lady accepts his telephone invitation to visit him at the prince's apartment alone—but not for long. The prince returns and to the valet's surprise cooperates in the affair by playing the valet himself.

Candlelight, originally written by an Austrian playwright, Siegfried Geyer, was later translated into English by the famous humorist, P. G. Wodehouse. The play has had long successful runs in New York and London with such stage notables as Gertrude Lawrence and the late Leslie Howard taking leading roles.

The summer theatre's production will feature actors who have become familiar to Peterborough audiences. Frank Perry and Jeri Sauvinet will take the leading roles of the valet, Josef, and his lady friend, Marie. Miss Sauvinet will be remembered for her performance as the young wife in Rebecca. Frank Perry is this week appearing in the leading role in John Loves Mary. His other noteworthy performances were as Dr. Einstein in Arsenic and Old Lace and the reporter in Fortune My Foe.

Taking supporting roles are John Primm as the prince, Anna Cameron as Liserl, a friend of the prince, in whom he is beginning to lose interest for no apparent reason. Michael Lynd and Christine Thomas appear as the Baron and Baroness and Hugh Taschereau as Koeppke, the prince's chauffeur.

Candlelight marks a type of play, the company has not done until now. The company has presented every type of comedy except the romantic comedy of the old world.

Saves 5 Of Family In Basement Blaze

AURORA, Aug. 12 (CP)—Alfred Johnson, 18, was credited with saving the lives of his mother, three brothers and a sister Thursday when fire gutted their basement home three miles southeast of here.

Alfred was sleeping outside on a couch when he was awakened by fire in an adjoining shed. His shouts aroused the family sleeping in the cellar.

With the only exit blocked by fire, the occupants were forced to climb out through a window seconds before the building was enveloped in flames.

Firemen from Aurora, 30 miles north of Toronto, were summoned but were unable to save the house. Damage was estimated at $2,000.

TURNING THE PAGES OF "CANADA UNLIMITED"

Under the fragrant pines at Cap Tourmente, students at St. Joachim School gathered to learn arts and crafts. It was 1668. Painting and carving were among the handcrafts taught. The students soon produced fine work—and set a pattern for distinctive Canadian art.

A new form of art appeared after 1760. British soldiers made sketches of their life and experiences in the New World. Later, artists were commissioned to travel through the land and permanently record its development on canvas.

Many foreign artists saw the promise of Canada in the early 1800's. Among these new citizens was Cornelius Krieghoff. His gayly coloured and animated scenes reflected the bustling activity of the new country.

As Canada has grown, the spirit of the times has made possible a glowing tradition of truly Canadian art. After 1918 the now-famous Group of Seven Canadian Artists started a new school of endeavour. The progress of our nation has given our artists unlimited material to draw from. Yes, there's room to grow—in Canada Unlimited.

Just how much room is told in "Canada Unlimited", an illustrated 144 page book published by the O'Keefe Foundation. Provincials Win Softball Game At Police Picnic

Police of the city and provincial forces held their annual picnic and field day with about 150 taking part under a blazing hot sun Wednesday afternoon at Nicholls Oval, under the auspices of the Kawartha District Police Association.

District No. 8 provincial police came out in strength with their athletes, coming from as far away as Aurora. In all they had about a 30-man athletic team. The city police's representatives were fewer, but gave a good account of themselves nonetheless.

The provincial police squad won the softball game by a score of 27-20. The Peterborough city police took the Ostrander Challenge tug-of-war. The Best Austin team relay trophy was won by the provincials.

When it came to speed city constable Donald Jones showed his heels to field in the 100 yard dash to take Warne's Jewellery trophy.

The provincial police had the fastest fat man. Arthur Kellogg won the sprint in which entries had to weigh at least 216 pounds. The M. E. Knox trophy for highest number of points accumulated in open competition was won by Gordon Pollard, of the provincials.

Mrs. Louis Rodreque was the top athlete among the ladies and won the Peterborough Credit Jewellers trophy for collecting the highest number of points. Ladies' events winners were: 50 yard dash, Ruth Bullock, Mrs. L. Rodreque, Ann Samis; 50 yards police officers' wives only, Mrs. L. Rodreque, Mrs. V. O'Donoghue, Mrs. C. Meadows; ladies' egg and spoon race, Mrs. L. Rodreque, Ruth Bullock, Mrs. Garnet Samis; ladies shot put, Mrs. L. Rodreque, Mrs. A. Dalton, Mrs. Garnet Samis; ladies' bait casting, Mrs. P. Morris, Mrs. Garnet Samis, Mrs. Wm. Aggas.

Men's events winners were: 100 yard open, Gordon Pollard; 50 yard three-legged race, Dennis Traynor and Donald Jones; police officers' 100 yards dash, Donald Jones. The Kenneth Morris trophy for most points to an individual was won by Donald Jones. Men's shot put, Archie Eady, Lyle Erskine, Gordon Caldwell; men's bait casting, Wm. Aggas, Acchie Eady, Archie Grayling.

Winners of the children's events were: Wayne Rodreque, Carol Garven, John Scott, Merley Kellogg, Randell Mesley, Gail McNaughton, Anne McNaughton, Patsy Morrow, Iris Garven, Elizabeth Watt, Dora Kellogg, Barny Traymor, Iris McNaughton, Paul Murphy, Ruth Bullock, Ann Samis, Joan Taylor, Bob Keeler.

Members of the picnic committee were Andy Dalton, Doug. Farthing, Skip Keeler, Gordon Eberts, Harry Cooke, Vern O'Donoghue.

BY THE SEE-SIDE—Although she hails from Minnesota, shapely Barbara Payton takes to a Hollywood swimming pool like the proverbial duck. Only difference is, she's nicer to look at.

ONE MINUTE NEWS ABOUT JOHNS-MANVILLE

NEW PIPE, BOON TO HOMEBUILDERS

Recently, a plumbing inspector asked your J-M reporter to look at new houses with him. He pointed out many developments that are a boon to the homeowner. One of these was a white pipe, called Transite House Connection Pipe, made by Johns-Manville.

This durable asbestos-cement pipe is designed for carrying sewage from the house to the street sewer or septic tank. Its special factory-made Taper-Tite joint helps prevent stoppages caused by tree roots forcing their way into the pipe. Transite is tough and strong yet light and easy to handle. Long ten-foot lengths make it easy to lay with minimum disturbance to property.

For complete facts on Transite House Connection Pipe, write Johns-Manville, 199 Bay St., Toronto—or see your nearest J-M dealer.

Advises Mother To Remarry When Son Goes To College

DEAR MISS DIX: I am a widow and for the last eighteen years have devoted my entire life to my son.

Dorothy Dix

I have denied myself all the dulgences and amusements that women usually have and spent all my time and money in trying to educate my boy. He is now in college. A very fine man, who is able to provide for me and give me a good home and for whom I have a great affection, wants to marry me, but my son is very resentful of my marrying any one. I have been putting this man off for two years and he has become tired of waiting and tells me I must make a decision in the matter and either take him or leave him. What shall I do?

A. B. C.

ANSWER: I unhesitatingly advise you to marry your man and thereby secure a happy and safe old age for yourself.

Of course, it is natural for a petted and spoiled only child, who has monopolized his mother for years, to be jealous of any stranger who takes any part of her attention away from him. He has thought of his mother as belonging to him so completely that he can't conceive of his slave rebelling and demanding a little life of her own. He thinks all the happiness she should desire is just in ministering to him.

Perhaps the greatest shock any child ever gets is when it first realizes that its mother is a human being with a human being's natural craving for pleasure and amusement and independence.

Undoubtedly, it will give your son a jolt to find out that you are a woman as well as a mother, and a woman attractive enough for a man to be in love with. When he cries out in protest, ask him if you are willing to forego a marriage for his sake, will he be willing to forego marriage for your sake? Ask him if he will be willing to stay at home evenings with you instead of going out with the other youngsters? Ask him if he will be willing to give up some girls he is in love with in order to support you and provide you with a good home?

When a boy starts to college, his mother has done all for him she can. His dependence on her is over. His need for her is virtually gone. He has begun the business of life and it takes him farther and farther from her. That is all perfectly proper. The young bird should leave the home nest.

But it leaves the mother lonely and desolate, and the best thing she can possibly do under the circumstances is to marry again if she can find a mate, some man whom she can love and who loves her and with whom she can re-establish her life and make a new home.

A widow with little children may well hesitate to marry because there is always the chance of their getting a stepfather who will mistreat them, but when the children are practically grown and able to defend themselves, this danger is eliminated, and then she has nothing but her own choice in the matter.

DOROTHY DIX.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: Because I have been around a bit and have met many women in various parts of the world I find I am not considered seriously by girls. They think I can't tell an up-and-up girl when I meet her, but I think I am more qualified to know a real girl than most young men of my age who have never been outside the city limits, but I just can't convey that thought to the girls.

M. E.

ANSWER: Probably the girls are just spoofing you. To affect unbelief in what a man says and ask how could he like poor little me when he has seen so many other wonderful girls in other places and to make him swear that never before has he met any one so beautiful and enchanting is just a line with a lot of the sweet little things.

The man who has seen a lot of girls is far better able to judge them and to know what's what and who's who among them than is the man who has only known one or two. In Mr. Kipling's famous poem about the man of many loves the hero says: "And I learned about women from her" of each new dalliance. And that is true. Every girl has something to teach a man, and he passes on to the next one a little wiser and a little better judge of the fair sex.

The boy who has always gone with Sally since he was in knee trousers thinks that all girls are just like Sally, with the same peculiarities and prejudices, but the boy who has been about a lot knows that no two girls are alike, and he knows which are the ones worth having and which are the ones that it is good to let alone.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: I am a widow very much in love with a man. Do you think if it is my fate I will get him or had I better go after him?

MISS X.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: We make our own luck. Heaven helps those who help themselves to a husband. Go after your man if you want him.

DOROTHY DIX.

Social Situations

SITUATION: You live in a neighbourhood where the houses are built close together.

WRONG WAY: Turn your radio up so that you can hear it from any room in the house, or on the porch if you happen to be sitting on the porch.

RIGHT WAY: Realize that if you can hear your radio all over the house, it can probably be heard all over the neighbourhood. Keep it low enough so that it doesn't annoy your neighbours.

Ethel Barrymore To Receive World Honors

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 12 (AP). —Ethel Barrymore, now the first lady of the screen as well as the stage, will have a world-wide celebration of her 70th birthday Monday.

The great actress will be greeted by an international broadcast. Bing Crosby will sing "Happy Birthday." President Truman will say a few words. Best wishes will be added by many personages such a celebration befits the woman whose imposing figure and muted-foghorn voice has dominated the American theatre for a half-century.

What is she like? Well, she lives in a cottage in the Palos Verdes Hills overlooking the Pacific. She has kept no picture of herself, except a John Singer Sargent drawing which hangs over the fireplace.

She has kept no scrapbooks. "I never forgot anything," she says.

Avid Sports Fan

Miss Barrymore is an avid sports fan, and her home is often noisy with radio or television commentary of baseball games. She likes to see films and enjoys watching the younger players.

She recently picked her 10 favorite stage roles: "The Second Mrs. Tanqueray," "School for Scandal," "The Constant Wife" (brother John was in the cast), "The Kingdom of God," "The Corn Is Green," "Hamlet" (with Walter Hampden), "The 12 Pound Look," "Lady of The Camelias," "Declasse" and "Sunday."

It was in "Sunday" that she made her famous remark: "That's all there is, there isn't any more."

Miss Barrymore has never seen herself on the screen. "Why should I?—I never saw myself on the stage," she retorts. Her favorite screen role is the Nun in the forthcoming "The Red Danube."

She chain smokes, but does not drink. She avoids all forms of exercise. Her favorite entertainment is having close friends for lunch.

6—In Memoriams

DUNFORD—In loving memory of Mr. George Dunford, who passed away one year ago today.

I cannot say and I will not say
That he is dead. He is just away.
With a cheery smile and a wave of the hand,
He has wandered into an unknown land,
And left us dreaming how very fair
Its needs must be since he lingers there.
And you—oh, you, who the wildest yearn
For the oldtime step and the glad return,
Think of him faring on, as dear,
In the love of there, as the love of here,
Think of him still as the same, I say
He is not dead—he is just away.
—Ever remembered by wife and family.

Drama Festival Asks Ottawa Help Build Municipal Theatres

OTTAWA, Aug. 12—(CP)—The Dominion Drama Festival, Canada's stage show window, today urged construction of a string of municipal theatres across the country to speed development of a national theatre movement. Packing its theatre views and philosophies in seven drama-expanding recommendations, the national stage organization presented a brief to the Royal Commission on Arts and Science Development. It said lack of adequate buildings had "a retarding and adverse affect on the development of theatre in Canada."

The festival, represented before the Commission by its President, D. Park Jamieson of Sarnia, and its honorary director, Dr. H. Alan Skinner of London, Ont., said talented Canadians were migrating to other countries. Efforts to establish worthwhile professional companies have proved abortive and because there is little hope of playwrights seeing their productions staged in Canada, little playwriting has emerged from the Dominion.

The string of municipal theatres—or even "good auditoriums" where plays could be staged—should be planned on a national level with federal, provincial and municipal governments, as well as the people in the communities sharing initial costs.

Permanent Companies

Linked with the new theatre construction, the festival recommended provision for establishment of permanent companies of Canadian players to travel across the country and "present the best available plays in all centres where adequate facilities for presentation are available."

The festival also recommended that it should be recognized for its contribution to the cultural life of Canada and that sufficient financial support be made available to it to carry on its work, particularly for the establishment of a permanent organization with adequate staff and library and information services.

It urged that some provisions be made to encourage Canadian playwrights through national awards and by assuring them that their works will be performed.

Suggest Scholaships

It recommended scholarships in the theatre arts "to assist outstanding young men and women who are desirous of following the theatre as a career."

Finally, the festival urged that a supervisory board or commission, separate and apart from government, should be established. This board or commission would be charged with the development of national Canadian drama and the theatre in Canada.

As an example of what could be accomplished by a well organized community theatre group, the festival cited the work of the London Little Theatre, established 15 years ago.

Only 3 Ships Still Tied Up

WELLINGTON, NZ, Aug. 12—(CP). — Dr. W. Clayton Hopper, Acting Canadian High Commissioner to New Zealand, to-day said only three Canadian east-coast ships now are immobilized, the Tridale in Wellington, the Ottawa Valley in Auckland, and one vessel in Italy.

Hopper issued the statement in reply to a claim by D. Williams, strike director in New Zealand for the Canadian Seamen's Union that 16 Canadian ships are tied up in various world ports by the union's dispute.

(The Tridale is idle through the strike of its CSU crew. Ottawa Valley is immobilized at Auckland because longshoremen refuse to work the ship with a Seafarers' International Union AFL crew.)

Hopper said the CSU strike has virtually collapsed. Out of 84 east-coast ships 80 now were manned by SIU. Ships with SIU crews are being loaded in Britain and other countries, he said.

Hold Indian Day

BOSTON, Aug. 12—(AP)—Today is Indian Day in Massachusetts. Governor Paul A. Dever said in a proclamatoin it was in honor of the friendly Indians who helped the original Colonists to set up their homes. Massachusetts and Connecticut are the only states of the original 13 colonies which retain Indian names as states.

Raids Aids Tobacco

SIMCOE, Aug. 12.—(CP). — A drenching rain fell in this flue cured tobacco district Thursday, bringing relief to the parched leaf, and raising hopes again for a better than average crop. Much tobacco had been "burning up" in the fields, particularly in the southern and western parts of the county. Many growers had discontinued priming, as the leaf was too dry to cure.

THE CATHEDRAL AT AMBATO, Ecuador, above, liesi n ruins following the disastrous earthquake which took the lives of over 2,000 people. It was reported that 200 died as the cathedral collapsed.

Theatre Won't Sell Liquor On Premises

TORONTO, Aug. 12 (CP)—J. Arthur Rank's Odeon-Toronto theatre is not going to sell liquor. An application for a dining lounge licence for the theatre's restaurant was scheduled before the Ontario Liquor Licence Board here Aug. 22. The notice brought a protest from United Church officials, who appealed to Rank, English head of the Odeon theatre chain, "as a christian citizen and prominent Methodist" to withdraw the application.

Leonard W. Brockington, vice-president of Odeon Theatres (Canada) Limited said in a statement Thursday that "the principles and policies of Odeon theatres in Canada with reference to the sale of alcoholic beverage . . . does not permit such sale and will be observed in that theatre."

Re-tube Boilers West-end School

The lowest offer for the job of re-tubing two boilers at the Prince of Wales public school was voted to be accepted by the Board of Education Thursday night. The job will be done by a local man working for Adamson and Dobbin, at a cost of $1,574.

Walter E. Bannon, who had investigated the prices at which the job could be done, said he was quite sure the work would not be inferior in any way because of the lower price. He pointed out that the boilers would have to pass inspection, which assured the Board of getting a satisfactory job.

Two other offers were received. One at $2,046 from Adamson and Dobbin if the work were done by Taylor Engineering Co. of Toronto.

Turner Brothers quoted a price of $1,976 to re-tube the two boilers.

Mr. Bannon said there was no question that the work had to be done. He reported a boiler inspector about two weeks ago had been able to put holes through a number of tubes with no difficulty.

It was reported the boilers could be refitted within five weeks after the agreement had been made.

Held For Car Theft

PEMBROKE, Aug. 12.—(CP). —Two Etobicoke youths were arrested Thursday and held for North Bay police on charges of car theft. They were David Thomson, 16, and John Foster, 17, both of Etobicoke, a Toronto suburb. They are accused of stealing a car stolen from H. Tackaberry, Highways Department divisional engineer at North Bay.

$6,379 In Fund

TORONTO, Aug. 12.—(CP).—More than $6,379 has been donated to the fund established to help the widow and four-year-old daughter of Alfred Layng, killed while attempting to stop an armed robber outside an East-Central Toronto groceteria two weeks ago. Finance Commissioner Arthur Lascelles says he hopes the donations will reach the $20,000 mark.

Britain Supports Uranium Hunt

LONDON, Aug. 12 — (CP). — British officials said to-day Britain is encouraging a hunt for radio-active minerals throughout her colones and recruiting United States scientists to help.

British scientists armed with Geiger-Muller counters, which can locate the precious ores, are deployed throughout the Colonial Empire and the government guarantees to buy any ores produced, they added. Uranium—vital for the atom bomb—leads the "wanted" list.

The statements were made at a press conference on a Colonial Office publication of a survey showing some of Britain's Colonial metal and mineral resources. The survey did not disclose Colonial resources in most radio-active minerals, but covered the metal beryllium— a key bomb-making substance.

G. C. Eastwood, an Assistant Under-Secretary of State, told the conference a Colonial Office geological expert is in the United States to recruit 23 geologists, three chemists, and two mining engineers for work in the Colonies.

Corner Stone Laid For Newspaper Bldg.

OWEN SOUND, Ont., Aug. 12 (CP)—Corner stone of the new Sun-Times building, construction of which began last April, was laid here Wednesday by Gillis Purcell, general manager of the Canadian Press.

He deposited in a hollow in the centre of the stone a sealed copper casket containing current issues of the Sun-Times, Grey and Bruce County weeklies and other Ontario publications. Included also were samples of current Canadian coins and stamps, and photographs of the city.

C. J. McTavish, general manager of the Fleming Publishing Company, publishers of the Sun-Times, conducted the ceremony and expressed the hope that the building would "endure for 300 years."

Gave Officer Some Lip Spent Night In Cooler

Pleading guilty to a vagrancy charge, Keith Montgomery, Lakefield, was fined $5 and costs by Magistrate E. A. Gee, Lindsay, in Police Court Thursday morning.

Asked by the magistrate how it was he was brought in on the charge, Montgomery said, "I gave the officer some lip and he put me in the cooler and kept me all night."

He had been told to move his car from a no parking area at the corner of Water St. and Parkhill Rd.

Jack Liberty of Havelock was fined $10 and costs after pleading guilty to a charge of being drunk.

Wayne Keller, Lakefield, pleaded guilty to causing a disturbance by scuffling with a friend and breaking a car window as a result. He was fined $5 and $6 costs.

William Hanrahan was fined $10 and $2.50 costs after pleading guilty to being drunk.

Found guilty to a third offence of being drunk, Frederick Hamilton, Young's Point, was given three months in jail.

"See you profit by your holiday," Magistrate Gee said.

John McMurray, 532 Rogers St., was also given three months as a third offender within a year on a drunk charge.

"You're asking for a little holiday in the hot weather, are you?" Magistrate Gee asked him.

"I'm not asking for it but I'm going to get it, I guess," McMurray answered him. McMurray's brother Joseph was fined $10 and costs for being drunk.

Hit On Head By Truck Truck Driver Dies

SAULT STE. MARIE, Aug. 12 (CP). — Walter Schultz, 22, was killed late Thursday when a huge timber log which rolled off a heavy-duty truck struck him on the head. He was employed as a truck driver by his cousin, Walter Honke, Korah Township. His parents reside in Winnipeg.

The accident happened in the yards of the Roddis Lumber Co. Eye-witnesses said that Schultz stepped out of the truck cab and pulled a chain release trip. Dr. J. E. Gimby, district coroner, said there would be an inquest.

Asks Television Be Placed In CBC Control

OTTAWA, Aug. 12 (CP)—Television—"a tremendous potential force" for good or evil—should be placed under control of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation or similar body responsible to parliament, the Canadian Citizenship Council recommended today.

The council, which collaborates with both provincial and federal governments in developing democratic citizenship in the Dominion, presented its views on television, radio, museum and other cultural outgrowths of Canada in a brief prepared for the Royal Commission on Arts and Science Development.

Democracy in Canada was threatened by two internal forces, the council said. One was the more or less "unorganized authoritarianism of the extreme right" and the other "insidious totalitarianism of the extreme left."

"Both these forces find fallow soil uninformed, lethargic, frustrated or uninterested citizenry."

It therefore considered that television, because of its tremendous influence on people, "should not be monopolized, nor should its possible quality be minimized by a handful of large corporations for the purpose of selling their products."

The council recommended that the CBC, which should continue to have full control of radio, also be provided with "adequate resources, facilities and personnel to make possible a satisfactory television system."

(The views of both the CBC and the Canadian Association of Broadcasters will be aired before the commission next Sept. 6.)

RESCUE 49 IN ATLANTIC PLANE CRASH

Must Purge Reds Here Pearson Says

Economic Situation Can Be Corrected To Beat Communists

LAKE COUCHING, Aug. 15 — (CP)—Canada's External Affairs Minister, L. S. Pearson, said Saturday government may have to accept a large measure of responsibility for economic direction "and even for control" if it is to prevent or remove the conditions on which totalitarianism feeds.

In a speech prepared for delivery before the Canadian Institute of Public Affairs, he said "we have had enough" of the calculated manipulations of Communism in both national and international affairs and "it is time we put an "end" to them.

Of Dominion-Provincial relations, he said "the idea of a contest between federal and provincial authorities is false and misleading and dangerous....it is high time that this sinister idea of inevitable conflict were dispelled."

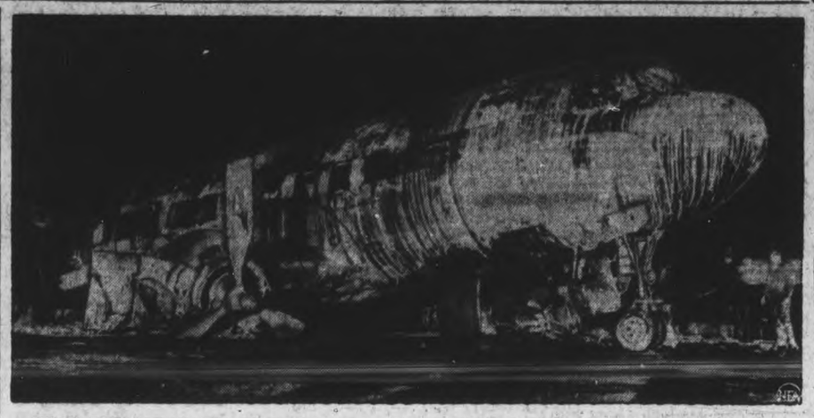
The references to Communism grew out of a plea for continued Canadian adherence to the middle way in political thinking and a warning that "this middle ground is becoming more and more difficult to maintain." Further there must be movement forward along that avenue and one of the problems was protection of the free society against those who would subvert it.

Intelligent Public

Communist shenanigans could "be stopped by an intelligent public which knows what is happening, which refuses to have its democratic processes thrown into disarray by an irresponsible minority and which shows initiative in making sure that what it wants done it gets done.

Shortcuts might be perilous. Fundamental freedoms should continue to be promoted and hysteria avoided.

But totalitarianism would "accomplish a large part of its purpose if it spreads ill-founded suspicions in the community . . . let us by all means remove traitors from all positions of trust and, if necessary, strengthen our criminal code . . . but I hope we may never succumb to the black madness of the witch hunt."



The best defence against totalitarianism "is to prevent or remove the conditions upon which it feeds. As far as the economic life of the nation is concerned this means that the government may have to accept a large measure of responsibility for direction and even for control."

Forced On State

"Indeed, that role is being forced on the state by insistent and increasing demands for services and assistance, many of which are made by those who subsequently complain at the interference by government in their affairs . . . it is, in fact, becoming increasing-

Right-Wingers Sweep Election In German Vote

FRANKFURT, Germany, Aug. 15 (AP)—Western Germany has handed its Right-Wing parties a mandate to direct the new federal republic for the crucial next four years.

More than 24,000,000 Germans swarmed to the polls Sunday, in their first free election since Hitler took over in 1933. They handed Communism its fourth major defeat in Western Europe since the war. France, Italy and West Berlin said "no" to the Reds in earlier elections.

West-German voters also rejected socialism and extreme right pro-Nazi groups, giving control of the 402-member parliament to the free enterprise parties whose policies have the confidence of American officials.

Topping the popular vote with 7,356,025 were the Conservative Christian Democrats.

Close behind with 6,932,303 were the Social Democrats who want to nationalize big industries.

The Free Democrats, who favor the free-enterprise system with no reservations, surged into third place with 2,827,948 votes.

By joining with the Christian Democrats they can assure a controlling bloc in parliament and will be able to form a Conservative cabinet.

Trailing the field of the major parties were the Communists who slumped from 10 per cent of the popular vote in 1946 state elections to about six per cent—1,360,469 votes.

Even Max Reimann, fiery chief of the Communist party in west Germany, was spurned by his home district.

Rejected by the voters, Reimann will nevertheless probably be named to the parliament as a member for North Rhine-Westphalia under the proportional representation system.

Parliamentary seats alloted to the parties on the basis of completed election returns:

Legion Asks Government Watch Ideologies of DP's

OTTAWA, Aug. 15—(CP)—E. S. Evans of Toronto, Ontario Command President of the Canadian Legion, said today the government should keep a closer check on ideologies of displaced persons in Canada.

Addressing the 16th Biennial Convention of the Ontario Command, Mr. Evans said there have been instances of D.P.'s not living up to the immigration agreement after entering Canada.

"There have been other instances, few, I admit, where D.P.'s have on investigation been found to subscribe to ideologies that are foreign to Canada and which will not be tolerated by Canadians as a whole, and especially by Legionnaires."

His remarks were greeted with scattered applause among more than 600 delegates on the convention floor.

Must Select Carefully

The Canadian Legion realized it was necessary for Canada to enter into immigration on a large scale. But it was also necessary to exercise great care in selection of immigrants.

The president said the Legion longed for the day when the government will legislate to outlaw Communism in Canada.

Three members of the Ontario Command had been expelled because of Marxist beliefs. He recalled that a branch charter in Toronto had been revoked because Communist activity had forced 96 per cent. of the 150 members to quit.

"Let our determination be that nothing shall be left undone to outlaw in Canada the 'isms' which threaten to replace the recognition of individualism by the dictatorship of a selected few, who would destroy in an hour the heritage of liberty and justice for which our comrades died and upon which depends the well-being and happiness of our people."

Pinned In Wreckage Has Bad Injuries

SUDBURY, Ont., Aug. 14 (CP)—Roy Gilbbery is in hospital here with severe head injuries suffered Saturday night in a motor accident in which he was pinned in the wreckage for almost an hour and was unconscious for eight hours afterwards.

Police and ambulance men cut through the car's framework to release the 18-year-old Sudbury youth.

Leonard Spencer, 18, of Coniston, suffered a broken arm, and Jack Rannelli, 18, and Rene Kingsley, both of Sudbury area, were bruised. The four were injured when a car driven by Rannelli crashed into the rear of a truck operated by Kingsley.

Union Official Quits Red Party

CHICAGO, Aug. 15 (AP) — Maurice Travis, sesretary-treasurer of the Mine, Mill and Smelter Works Union (C.I.O.), today announced his resignation from the Communist Party "with a great sense of indignation."

Travis, a storm-centre in a stormy union, said that as a result of his resignation he has signed a non-Communist affidavit, and that the union now is in full compliance with the Federal Labor Law.

The resignation from the Communist Party membership "was not an easy step for me to take," Travis said. "I believe under our bill of right . . . that an American has as much right to be a Communist as he has to be a Republican or a Democrat, a Jew or a Catholic, or an Elk or a Mason.

"Membership in the Communist Party has always meant to me as a member and officer of the International Union that I could be a better trade unionist . . ."

Travis' union was ordered by the C.I.O. to merge itself with the United Steel Workers (C.I.O.), and Travis, who will retain his post, has been in the forefront of the fight against merger.

Captured By Indians Has 110th Birthday

HOULTON, ME., Aug. 15—(AP) — Jeremiah Campbellton, who survived Indian captivity more than a century ago, today observed his 110th birthday.

Maine's oldest resident was nine years old when Micmac Indians kidnapped him on a Van Buren, Me., raid. Van Buren is on the New Brunswick border.

When he escaped six years later, Campbellton had a command of the Micmac language and a hardy physique that helped him become an outstanding northwoods guide.

Failing eyesight and waning strength have confined Campbellton to his home the last few years. But his appetite and hearing remain healthy.

"Reckon I just plan to keep on going," Campbellton said.

Young Airman Dies

TRENTON, Aug. 15.—(CP). — AC2 Roy Robert Burton, 18-year-old areo-engine technician at Camp Borden, died in a plane Saturday while en route from Belleville to hospital in Toronto, RCAF officials announced. The youth was seriously injured in a traffic accident.

Gets Stiff Sentence

TORONTO, Aug. 15.—(CP. — James McDougall, 25, was sentenced today to two years and 10 lashes on a charge of assaulting Esther McRae, a city nurse, Sunday night. Police said McDougall, a married laborer, followed the nurse from a street car stop on midtown Bloor St. when she went to visit friends on nearby McKenzie Ave.

Nine Killed As Aircraft Crash Lands

Loses Way, Out Of Gas Pilot Down Off Coast of Ireland

GALWAY, Ireland, Aug. 15 — (AP)—Its fuel exhausted, an American four-engined air liner belled into the Atlantic off the west coast of the Republic of Ireland in darkness early today. Nine of its 58 ocupants were killed and the rest were saved in a dramatic sea-air rescue.

Among those saved was Ruth Nichols, 48, noted American aviatrix.

The big Skymaster, bound from Rome to New York with 47 Italian emigrants to Venezuela and 11 Americans aboard, overshot Shannon airport.

Another American airliner tried to escort it back to Shannon, but the Skymaster's gasoline gave out and it plopped into the calm sea 15 miles off the Irish coast.

British and American transport planes guided surface vessels in the rescue operations.

Nine of the Americans aboard were crew members and two were employees of Transocean Airlines, owners of the plane.

Has 49 Survivors

Ten hours after the plane dropped through a cloudbank into the sea, the British trawler Stalberg pulled into Galway harbor with 49 survivors. The Irish steamer Lanahrone had helped her in the rescue work.

One crew member was killed. The other eight dead were passengers, according to Otis Nelson, president of Transocean Airlines.

Nelson identified the dead crew member as radio officer Herbert Asbel of Brooklyn, N.Y. Survivors said he was killed while he was trying to leave the plane. Apparently he was struck by a piece of the plane's broken tail.

When the plane was approaching Shannon, Asbel's radio equipment was blanked out by atmospheric conditions, and this caused the plane to overshoot the airport. Over the Atlantic, the plane went down so gently, the survivors said, that they were not even thrown from their seats.

The only woman passenger, an Italian, was reported to be among the dead.

The pilot, Capt. Edward C. Bessey of Wethersfield, Conn., is a veteran of 19 years flying experience.

"I had fuel for 11½ hours flight —a reserve of more than three hours—but it was all gone," Bessey said on his arrival here. "So I sent word back to prepare for ditching."

No Panic

There was no panic among the passengers. They buckled their lifebelts calmly and strapped themselves into their seats for an expected crash.

Bessey, his way lighted by flares dropped from the escorting airliner above him, plotted the disabled plane gently into the sea.

"The stewardesses did a swell job of keeping the people calm," said one survivor.

Three Trapped In Plant Fire

TORONTO, Aug. 15 (CP) — A crippled man, his elderly wife and their five-month-old granddaughter were rescued from a third-storey apartment today as fire destroyed the interior of a west-end textile firm backed by a boarding house on midtown Dufferin St. No one was injured in the blaze.

The occupants of the apartment were unaware that flames were threatening their apartment home. Charles Curwood lay in bed with an ulcerated leg while his wife looked after the baby.

Then several persons burst in the door warning them of the fire and escorting them to safety.

The fire, believed to have started in a textile picking machine in the adjoining rag-picking plant, completely glutted the plant and scorched the side of the apartment building.

Syria's President, Premier Shot To Death As Army Seizes Power

Firing Squad Kills Two Powerful Leaders Touching Off Repercussions Through Explosive Middle East Situation

DAMASCUS, Aug. 15—(AP)—Syria's president and premier were shot Sunday in a lightning military coup whose repercussions thundered through the explosive Middle East. Col. Sami Hennawi, 51, Syrian hero of the Palestine war, led the group of senior Army officers who overthrew the government of Marshal Husni Zayim. A sharp burst from a firing squad at the Great Mazza military barracks ended the rule of the stocky little Zayim who had seized power 4½ months ago.

Zayim's bespectacled premier, Muhsen Bey Berazi, generally considered the brains of the regime, died with him.

Col. Hennawi issued communiques telling of the shootings. They called the dead rulers "traitors" and "tyrants," and ordered the army and police to join forces to maintain calm.

Summons Meeting

Col. Hennawi Sunday night summoned a meeting of about 50 prominent politicians. He told them Zayim was guilty of "conceit and despotism." He said the revolution was forced by the president's reckless spending of government funds and his failure to follow through on promises of reform.

The assembled politicians, including Faris El Khouri, Syria's delegate to the United Nations, called on former President Hasem Bay Attassi to form a new government. He accepted.

(In Amman, Hashemite Jordan, King Abdullah, who has made no secret of his desire to incorporate Syria and his Hashemite Kingdom, urged an immediate meeting of the Arab League to discuss the Syrian crisis.

(However, dispatches from Egypt, where the Seven-Country League was scheduled to meet Saturday, said that meeting had been postponed and no new date set.)

Say Author Suffers A Fractured Skull

ATLANTA, Aug. 14 (AP) — Doctors determined today Margaret Mitchell, author of Gone With the Wind, suffered a fractured skull and pelvis when struck by a car Thursday night.

They were able to make X-rays for the first time since the writer was taken to hospital. The extent of internal injuries was not determined. Her physicians said her condition remained critical.

Although semi-conscious most of the time, she was aroused this morning long enough to drink a glass of orange juice. She commented: "It tastes bad."

AUTHORESS STRUCK—Struck by a car on Atlanta's famed Peachtree Street, Margaret Mitchell, who wrote "Gone With the Wind," lies unconscious as curious bystanders stare at her. Her condition is listed as "very critical." The picture was taken by the Atlanta, Ga., police department minutes after she was hit.

Irishmen Enjoy Grand Picnic 3 Fights, Jail 7

BUFFALO, N.Y., Aug. 15. — (CP).—The United Irish Association of Toronto held its annual picnic at nearby West Seneca Sunday and the bhoys said shure and it was as grand a success as an Irishman could ask.

There were three fights, at least, and seven good Irishmen went to jail.

But, before they went, they put two big policemen in hospital.

State police said Michael Brandon, 22, John Naughton, 27 and Martin T. Malarky were booked on assault charges and Phillip K. Connolly, John Gogan, Thomas Eagon, 30, and William Erwin, 33, were charged with disorderly conduct.

Police said the Toronto Irishmen, 1,200 strong, engaged in a series of battles until it was time to leave early this morning. Fifteen police were called to keep order, making three separate trips during the day.

Two policemen, Raymond Semlitsch, 25, and Donald Sutz, 26, were removed to Ebendezer Hospital for treatment.

Police said they closed down a beverage room during the day to aid in their efforts to keep peace. When it was time for the Irishmen to leave, police sent three carloads of men from state police barracks to maintain order.

The picnickers returned to Toronto early today.

Fathers Decide To Beat Sons

WHITBY, Ont., Aug. 15—(CP) —Percy Cross and Nicholas Culetta, the two fathers who announced Saturday they would refuse to carry out a magistrate's order to beat their sons, changed their minds today. The boys pleaded guilty Friday to stealing 22 bottles of beer.

The change of heart followed a visit from Police Chief John Irvine of Pickering. Both fathers said they were inclined to look at the whippings in a different light. Neither wanted to use the laths but neither wanted more trouble with the law.

Saturday the chief visited the Culetta home to see that Magistrate Russell P. Locke's order that each boy received 10 strokes of the lath was carried out. Culetta's 14-year-old son was not at home, however.

They were also thwarted at the Cross home where 17-year-old Ronald was home but Sunday visitors were present and police decided not to embarrass the family and postponed the duty.

Hoover, who suffered the attack aboard the train Saturday, was looked over by physicians at Ogden, Utah, and Cheyenne, Wyo. When he stopped over between trains at Chicago, he said he would not see a doctor there.

200 Firefighters Quell Sturgeon Lake Blaze

LINDSAY, Aug. 15 (CP) — A bush fire which broke out near Cedar Glen in the Sturgeon Lake area was brought under control Saturday after 200 firefighters had battled the blaze for five hours.

Firemen were called from Bobcaygeon, and they were aided by firemen from Lindsay, cottagers and farmers. Four trucks carried water from the lake to the Lindsay pumper.

Anglers Plan Censure Vote Of Lands, Forest Dept.

CAPREOL, Aug. 15.—(CP).—A vote of censure of the Ontario Department of Lands and Forests for throwing open north shore waters to Tobermory houseboat operators was passed Sunday at the quarter-annual meeting of the Algonquin zone of the Ontario Federation of Anglers and Hunters here.

With the vote of censure went a protest which will be forwarded to Hon. Harold Scott, Minister of the Department, Dr. J. K. W. Harkness, Chief of the Fish and Wildlife Division, and to the Central Body of the Federation in Toronto, asking for support in the move.

The move by the Algonquin zone was the outcome of a report Saturday that Dr. Harkness had assured the Tobermory houseboat operators they would be granted the right to fish in the waters surrounding Manitoulin Island. They had previously been refused a license by fish and wildlife officials in Sudbury.

Sunday's motion was moved by Sam Barley, of North Bay, and seconded by Joe Macnab, president of the Sudbury Fish and Game Protective Association.

The condition was outlined by Alan B. Baker, who saaid the Department had first instructed fish and wildlife officers in Sudbury to "crack down" on the houseboat operators. These instructions were issued last fall, he said. When the Sudbury game overseers instructed the Tobermory boat operators to move out of the Manitoulin waters, Toronto head office had intervened and promised them sanctuary.

"This move defeats the whole idea of the government's own zoning system," said Mr. Barley.

Cities Feuding Over Title 'The Royal City'

GUELPH, Aug. 15 (CP)—Two more Canadian cities are a-feuding and again her late Majesty Queen Victoria has been dragged into the act, but by only one of the municipalities.

The argument this time is over the right to the title "The Royal City" and neither Guelph nor New Westminster, B.C., will give up the coveted cognomen.

The question came about when the New Westminster Junior Chamber of Commerce decided Guelph had no right to the title and asked its civic affairs committee to write the Ontario city to that effect.

Guelph's claim is based on the fact that, when the community was founded in 1827 by John Galt, the name of the reigning royal family was Guelph. John Galt thought that was a fine name for the municipality. He noted it had apparently never been used in the Empire before. So Guelph was born and with it the claim to the title.

Mayor Louis Sangster of New Westminster felt his city had prior claim.

"We received our name from Queen Victoria herself and we were incorporated as a city in 1860—17 years before Guelph."

Mayor Gordon Rife of Guelph, said he hadn't received any word on the subject from the west coast as yet, but he intimated he wouldn't back down. Other citizens, proud of their city's title, are prepared to line up behind the mayor to defend the royal city's right to be called that.

The two cities previously feuding are London, Ont., and Peterborough, scrapping over the right to a statue of Queen Victoria. Both are scornful of an unidentified city which is trying to get into the scrap.

Freedom For All

The first speaker was Rev. (Major) John Foote, MC, MPP. Major Foote said that it was a matter of pride that after the Relief of Derry and the Battle of the Boyne, equal rights were granted to both winners and losers The same spirit of tolerance and justice was needed to-day. He said the Order stood for equal rights to all and special privileges to none. Backed by the power of Almighty God, we shall win in the fight for right, for mutual tolerance and respect, he said.

John James, M.P., was the second speaker. He referred to the fact that Durham and the surrounding counties had now enjoyed 100 years of municipal government. He said members of the Black Knights had been prominent in the history of those 100 years.

He said that if the Holy Scriptures were taken out of the Black Knights Order there would not be much left.

The passengers helped inflate the four life rafts. As the plane settled into the water they scurried out in an orderly manner.

Watch Ditching

From the surface of the sea, crew members of the trawler Stalberg watched the plane drop toward the water

"We saw it with all its landing lights on," said First Mate Dudley Davis. "It glided across our bow—it looked slow—and skidded into the water. All the lights went out."

Davis said it was too dark to attempt immediate rescue and the trawler stood by until dawn.

Most of the survivors were on life rafts about four hours before they were picked up. Four rafts were inflated after the plane hit. But when the trawler reached them, three were jammed with people and the fourth was empty.

One of the bodies landed here by the trawler was that of Asbel. The other was that of the Italian woman.

Recover Five Bodies

Nelson who chanced to be at Shannon on an inspection of his line's operations and had planned to fly home on the lost plane said the Irish steamer Lanahrone had recovered five other bodies, leaving two still missing.

Survivors were being taken to Shannon From there, those able to travel were to continue their trip in another plane.

The original schedule called for the Skymaster to put down at Shannon, Gander, Nfld., and at Windsor Locks, Conn., Transocean's home airport, on the way to Caracas, Venezuela.

Expect Cut In Imports Due To Dollar Shortage

ANNECY, France, Aug. 15—(CP)—A general intensification of import restrictions resulting from the dollar shortage was predicted Saturday by Dana Wilgress of Canada, chairman of a conference of the members of the 1947 Geneva tariff agreement. Addressing the closing meeting of the four-month conference, Wilgress said he believed there will soon be a large-scale application of escape clauses of the agreement under which import restrictions should soon be necessary as a result of the sterling area's dollar shortage, and that Britain will invoke the escape clauses of the agreement in this connection.

"It is not only the United Kingdom that is likely to be in this position," Wilgress, Canadian High Commissioner in London, told the meeting. "We can foresee that similar circumstances may soon arise with respect to many of the contracting parties (to the agreement). In fact, I do not think I am being too pessimistic when I predit that, before long, nearly half the contracting parties will be substantially intensifying import restrictions."

23 Members

Twenty-three countries, including most of the world's major trading countries, are members of the Geneva agreement, which was intended to reduce tariffs and trading restrictions throughout the world.

One of the member states Cuba, was absent at the closing meeting. The Cuban delegation walked out of the session earlier last week after failing to use the Geneva agreement to prevent a weakening of Cuban tariff preferences in the United States.

Hope To Boost Fish Industry Across Canada

The fishing industry is a vital part of the economies of six of Canada's 10 provinces—British Columbia, Quebec and the four Maritime provinces.

Fishing is the chief industry in Newfoundland and it ranks high in the other five provinces. British Columbia does the biggest business in fish, with Nova Scotia second and Newfoundland third. All told, salt-water fisheries bring in around $100,000,000 a year.

Nova Scotia provides as good as example as any of the current picture in the fishing industry:

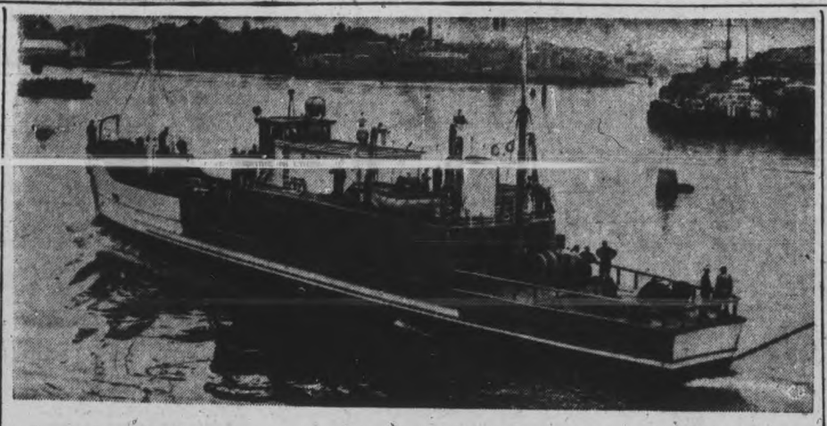
Some 20,000 Nova Scotians depend on the fishing industry for their livelihood.

The Dominion Atlantic Fisheries Experimental Station at Halifax has completed a survey into markets for Nova Scotia fish products. The potential market, running as far west as Chicago, embraces about 60,000,000 people.

People in this area consume an average of seven pounds of fish a person a year—in Halifax the average consumption is 35 pounds a person a year.

Big Business

Each year, Nova Scotia fishermen land between 75,000,000 and 100,000,000 pounds of fresh fish.



If the average consumption of the potential market could be raised by only one pound of fillets a year, it would mean an increased market for approximately 182,000,000 pounds of round fish every year, or more than the current annual yield in the province. It takes about three pounds of fish as they are caught to produce one pound of table fish.

Fisheries experts say that one of the chief reasons for low fish consumption lies in quality.

The Nova Scotia housewife, with the sea practically at her back door, is used to high quality fish products. But inland, at Montreal, Toronto or Windsor, putting fresh fish on the market has been difficult, most due to transportation problems.

Experiments show that nearly all bacteria which spoil fish are imbedded in the fish slime. If that slime can be removed, the bacteria count is cut sharply.

A washing machine has been designed to do this job and it is expected to be in commercial use soon. Improved refrigeration cars are being designed so that fish products may be moved long distances without spoilage.

OFF FOR NORTH—The 160-foot Yellowknife Expeditor, former US Navy landing craft converted to passenger-cargo requirements, is shown in Victoria harbor during her trials. This week-end she left on a 5,200-mile Arctic voyage by the Aleutian Islands, Bering Strait, Beaufort Sea and Mackenzie River to Yellowknife on Great Slave Lake, NWT. Commanded by Capt. Frederick Coe of Vancouver, the vessel will be operated between Hay River and Yellowknife.

Excavating For Rink To Start This Week

COBOURG, Aug. 15—(ENS)—Sub-contracts for the erection of Cobourg's Recreational Centre will be let this week and excavation will start in a few days. The executive of the recreational centre committee has nominated Harry Gadd, Henry Taylor, Robert Lucas, Lyle Willson and Gordon King for the board of management and their names will go before the town council for approval. In addition the town council will appoint two members to the board.

The building will face north and south thus providing plenty of room for parking and also making available land for a baseball diamond and football field. Should the curling club wish to erect a building there will be room for that also.

The structure will be finished in October and an effort will be made to raise a total of $150,000 which will take care of the entire cost of building and artificial ice plant. Around $90,000 has been raised to date.

Hydro Boosts Supply Of Power At Cobourg

COBOURG, Aug. 15—(ENS)—Yesterday was no day of rest for the hydro workmen. Power was off Sunday in some sections of the town in order that work could proceed on the job of conversion of the power supply from 2,200 to 4,400 volts.

The rapid expansion of residential areas in town plus increased industrial use of current has made itself felt in a shortage of power to meet the demand.

Cobourg Man Fined For Drunken Cycling

COBOURG, Aug. 15—(ENS)—William Fox, Toronto appeared in court here on a charge of being in default in the amount of $302 for the support of his family under the terms of an agreement. Upon an arrangement whereby he will pay $8.00 per week and clean up the arrears, sentence was suspended by Magistrate R. B. Baxter.

Clifford Lytle, Cobourg, was fined $10 and costs on a drunk charge and was placed on suspended sentence on a charge of theft of a bicycle. The magistrate also directed that Lytle be placed on the banned list in regard to purchase of liquor. Constable Homer Seale told the court that he saw the accused ride off on a bicycle which he had taken from in front of the post office and that he was under the influence of liquor, a condition which was reflected in the erratic course the bicycle took, he said.

B. J. Blastorah, Woodsman, Dies At Harwood

HARWOOD, Aug. 15—(ENS)—A life-long resident of Harwood, Bernard Joseph Blastorah, died at his home on Thursday, August 11, after an illness of nearly six months.

Mr. Blastorah was official scaler for the Ontario government and spent the greater part of each year in the vicinity of English River. There were few men who knew the woods as he did, and it would be a rare tree indeed that he could not name. Many times he had taken parties of university students through the woods on instruction, and Mr. Blastorah often said it was sometimes amazing to him, that they could not name even the most well-known species.

Never Ill Before

He was taken ill early in March and had spent some time in St. Michael's Hospital, Toronto. He returned to his own home in Harwood and did not rally from his illness. Other than this final illness, at the age of 73, he had never been ill.

He was the second son of the late Bernard Blastorah, who was one of the earliest settlers in this vicinity, building the home where he resided all his life. He married Miss Garvey of Lakefield, and following their marriage they resided in Fort Francis. His wife died there and Mr. Blastorah returned to Harwood with his four children, who were brought up by their aunt, Miss Marguerite Blastorah.

Surviving are his three sons, Dr. William Blastorah and James of one daughter, Catharine, of Toronto; also two sisters, Miss Cath- Toronto, Leo of Harwood, and erine and Marguerite. One brother, Fred, and one sister, Mary, predeceased him a few years ago.

Mass was said by Father Garvey and the funeral oration was given by Father Ferguson in the Church of the Sacred Heart, Harwood on Saturday morning. Interment was in St. Michael's cemetery, Cobourg. Pallbearers were Neil Corkery, Dennis Corkery, Leonard Corkery, Thomas Callahan, Fred Garvey and Edward Hogan.

Marshall Plan Helps Africa

WASHINGTON, Aug 13 (CP).—The Marshall Plan has reached into British Africa and British Guiana in its drive to restore the economy of Europe.

The Economic Co-operation Administration, working with the United Kingdom Government, is tackling colonial problems ranging from sleeping sickness to the jungle transportation.

Colonial development is part of ECA's technical assistance program. The idea is that more industrial know-how and up-todate agricultural methods in the colonies will hasten the rehabilitation of Britain herself.

ECA consultant on colonial improvement is Canadian-born Dr. Isaiah Bowman, retired president of Johns Hopkins University, of Baltimore, Md. He is a native of Waterloo, but moved to the United States with his family at an early age.

Dr. Bowman, now 70, is famous as a geographer, author, scientist, and teacher. He has been called the United States' leading expert on geography. He was leader of several fact-finding expeditions to South America.

Should The Dominion Interfere In Education?

The Canadian Federation of Teachers has decided to increase its campaign for Dominion interference in education. Specifically, the Federation wants the Dominion to contribute to the costs of education, and to bring about a greater unity among the ten provincial educational systems. On the surface this may appear to be a good plan, but we do not think that it can stand close examination. Let us briefly consider one or two points which it brings up.

• • •

First of all, it is a mistake to think that such a scheme would lessen the cost of education; there is a strong likelihood that it would increase that cost. At present, educational expenses are paid by the municipalities and by the provinces; roughly 70 per cent. of the cost is paid locally by property taxes, and the remainder is provided by the province out of public funds. If the Dominion contributed to these costs the money would be raised by taxing the same people who pay already. There is only one source of government funds—the taxpayer. Whether he pays to his community, or his province, or to the Dominion, he is the man who puts up the cash, and he pays his three kinds of taxes out of one income. There is no relief for him in such a plan.

• • •

Second, the plan would encroach upon one of the fields of influence which has been the exclusive property of each province since Confederation. Some provinces are rich, and have good systems; others are poor and have inferior systems. This is regrettable, but it can be remedied by tax agreements with the Dominion which do not interfere with the provincial right to control education. We remind the teachers, also, that they are not always happy with their Provincial Departments of Education; do they want to make themselves responsible to another Department at Ottawa, as well?

• • •

If the Dominion entered the field of education, some abuses might be corrected. A single history of Canada might, for instance, be procured. But that can be done by provincial agreement without resigning any authority to the Dominion.

• • •

In this proposal we think we see the eagerness of teachers in the less wealthy provinces to get Dominion tax money to boost their salaries to levels now enjoyed by teachers in the wealthy provinces. We have some sympathy with their desire to improve their rates of pay. But we do not think that Dominion interference in education is necessary to do it. In 1951 new tax agreements between the Dominion and the provinces must be reached; if the provinces receive more money from the Dominion, some of it can be diverted into provincial educational grants.

• • •

In Canada today there is a struggle against a centralization of government which could bring great evils with it. But every group which stands to gain by centralization seems ready to face those evils with a smile. We are surprised that teachers, who are better able to understand and weigh those evils than many other citizens, should so eagerly support the relinquishing of an important provincial prerogative.

Most Movies Are Too Long

Attention has been drawn to the fact that a moving picture called Quartet has established a record for a long run in the city of Toronto; it has been shown there, three times a day, for twenty weeks.

We have seen Quartet and we think we know the reason for its success. It is not one movie, but four—hence its name. It is made up of four short stories by Somerset Maugham, acted by different casts, and related to each other only by the fact that they are the products of the same mind. We think it has been successful because:

(a) All the stories are excellent, the work of one of the master story-tellers of our time, and they have been filmed with fidelity to what he wrote and what he meant.

(b) The four films are played by first-rate actors, all of whom were trained in their art on the stage. There is no "star" in the Hollywood sense in any of them, but there are several actors who could hold their own before any intelligent audience.

(c) The films are not too long. They run about half an hour or forty minutes each. This means that they are close-packed with incident. Too many full-length films are pumped up with air, like cheap bread, to seem bigger than they are.

Quartet is what some people might call a highbrow film. There is no boy-meets-girl theme, in the ordinary sense, in its four stories. One is about a young man who has a strange adventure in Monte Carlo; one is about a young man who is frustrated in his chosen career; one is about a mother who breaks up her son's marriage out of jealousy; one is about a man whose own pomposity estranges him from his delightful wife. These are adult stories, meant to entertain adults. The movie industry, particularly in California, too often works on the assumption that all movie-goers are half-grown oafs.

The success of this highbrow movie gives us all food for thought. Perhaps our Canadian brows are higher than we imagined. The Examiner has long maintained that the Canadian Brow is at least an inch above most of the entertainment it is given.

Ex-President Chides U.S.

Herbert Hoover, the only living ex-President of the United States, gave a blunt message of warning to his country on the seventy-fifth anniversary of his birth. He declared that under the influence of pressure groups and spendthrifts, it was "driving blissfully down the back road" to collectivism—"we are on the last mile". He inveighed against increased government borrowing, advocated reduction of spending, and even went so far as to advise the deferment of "some desirable things for a while."

We do not know whether the United States is as close to collectivism as Mr. Hoover thinks, but we believe there should be greater realization of the fact that there is very definitely a back road leading to that form of government. The front road, of course, is by revolution, as in Russia, or by selection, as in Britain. The United States—or Canada, for that matter—is most unlikely to journey to the ultimate in paternalistic states down the front road. There is admittedly a possibility, however, that either could travel almost unconsciously down the back road. There is the further possibility that the present trend in social legislation may have stimulated progress in that direction.

In a democracy, as we know that state, an active majority can select the form of government it desires. Judging from election results both in Canada and the United States, the active majorities in each nation wish to retain the degree of paternalism now prevalent in the two nations. We have no quarrel with that verdict. We think it wise, however, to recognize clearly that an increase in paternalism on the part of a government invariably means an increase in control over the governed.

Can Weeds Be Turned To Humus?

We read with interest that an Essex County farmer, Mr. John Wilcox, ploughs all the weeds on his land into the earth, to make humus. The roots and stocks of the weeds, he maintains, provide organic matter which keeps the soil loose and rich. Though not as good as clover, weeds can be made to supply the soil with nitrogen.

Do any local farmers follow Mr. Wilcox's example? We have heard a great deal about the farmer's perpetual struggle with weeds, but this is the first time that we have heard of weeds serving the farmer. What we do not understand is how Mr. Wilcox keeps his land from becoming so thick with weeds that crops are choked out. We should be glad to pass on any information to our readers which may reach us on this subject.

NOTE AND COMMENT

Democracy is on the march! A survey shows that the expensive type of home is becoming a little cheaper to build. But on the other hand the cheaper type of home is becoming a little more expensive.

Commenting on the fact that Prime Minister Nehru of India will be in Ottawa in the autumn, the Ottawa Journal says: "Sooner or later most of the great men of the world come to our Parliament Hill". Hitler never quite made it, though, and he was great in his own sweet way.

Of Cabbages And Kings

By PETER ELIOT

SIR Charles Russell—later Lord Russell of Kilowen — is one of These Meddlesome Attorneys of which Edward Bell writes in one of the more readable products of retired English men of the law. Nobody who ever saw Sir Charles in action ever forgot him, according to the author, who recalls the imposing presence and fine sonorous voice: "Once he was cross-examining and the witness in answer to a damaging question replied: 'Why, you told me so yourself, Sir Charles.' Russell appeared to be so overcome that he told the Mayor's Court judge, who could not refrain from smiling, that if he (Russell) did not think it undignified he would ask leave to take off his wig and gown and go into the witness-box to refute the witness's impertinent assertion. The judge told him to adhere to his dignity and continue his cross-examination. The witness scored a win with the jury, who found against Russell's client."

◇ ◇ ◇

INNUMERABLE are the good stories told about Russell. Before being raised to the Bench he was consulted by a lady apparently anxious to have her worse half prosecuted for bigamy. "What is the maximum punishment, Sir Charles?" enquired the wronged woman. "Two mothers-in-law," said Russell gravely.

◇ ◇ ◇

BARON Huddleston (with his crochety temper, gargoylish expression, and disturbing habit of shaking off his pince-nez glasses to the perturbation of witnesses) is another courtroom character described in Bell's book. He remembers an occasion when an old Nonconformist minister was giving evidence. He was obviously telling the truth with no hedging, but he was given to involving himself in long sentences. During one of these series of answers, off came the eyeglasses and Huddlestone said: "You are not in your chapel and I won't have you preaching here."

The old witness replied, "I am trying to tell the truth."

"But you can't if you preach," was the rejoinder, and the witness was stood down.

◇ ◇ ◇

ESHER, another famous judge was "strikingly good-looking" "with luminous dark eyes rivalling the diamond ring he wore on his left hand, with which he frequently supported his head when on the Bench." He rather worried the Court of Appeal by a series of legal posers. I remember Sir Henry James arguing a highway question and Esher asked him to define "in" and "on". James was nettled and replied: "I am in this Court and you are on the Bench." Esher would not have it, saying that "in" was "against", and "on" was "over."

◇ ◇ ◇

HIS pet aversion was the litigant in person. Bell remembers a certain lay lawyer telling Lord Esher, in support of his plea for leniency, "I am an orphan."

"Get on," said Esher, "so am I."

A VERY dignified Lord Chief Justice was Lord Coleridge, (continues Bell) a tall man who dressed and looked like a Jesuit. He, too, was a stern disciplinarian; his rebuke to Charles Gill in the Baccarat Case was a classic instance, though it enhanced Gill's professional reputation, at least at the Old Bailey. It may be remembered that His Royal Highness, the then Prince of Wales, was a witness. It was told how a juryman made a bet with his friends that he would ask the Prince a question. He asked: 'Did your Royal Highness see any cheating?' The answer was royal: 'One does not look for such things in the houses of friends.'"

"RICHARD Webster could sometimes be humorous. I was in court one day when he was arguing a case concerning some radiometer patent. The court had an inquisitive zeal for documents; he went through all the papers one by one, and then said to the young solicitor's clerk, 'Now hand up the actinic rays.'"

WINSTON Churchill is a man who believes in re-writing his material. First, he dictates, corrects the typescript, then sends the corrected copy to the printers to be set up in print. The printers return these proofs in galley-proof form, and take care to have extra wide margins for further corrections. It is told that he handles proofs and copy the following way. The proofs are sent in five different sets. (1) is minute, (2) is semi-final, (3) provisional, (4) almost final and (5) final, subject to the full provision of the author's right of final proof corrections. Like all authors, Mr. Churchill has to meet these expenses from his own pocket. He is not alone among historians in this desire for perfection. The American historian, Alan Nevins has long complained that most of his earning have gone to the typist. And H. A. L. Fisher spent as long as three days on one paragraph—one of his most polished—in his History Of Europe.

"ANY piece of writing," said the historian of the Scribner publishing firm, Roger Burlingame, "when it is fitted into uniform lines and blocks of metal is, in a sense, reborn. The words seem to take on new relations to one another; a new rhythm appears. A novice writer sometimes hardly recognizes his own: he sees defects which never appeared in his script or, perhaps, the works jumps into new life.

"Henry James," he continues, "in his early days, was so struck by the defects he believed he found when he read one of his stories in a magazine, that he virtually rewrote the story on the margins of the pages and submitted these to his book publisher as copy."

A STORY is told by Professor R. W. Chambers, the Shakespearian scholar, of how on one occasion at a dinner where speeches were not expected, but where the wine had been good, Alfred Housman rose slowly to his feet, and, to the amazement of all, began speaking. And this, according to the story, is what he said:

"There were two things it was very difficult to meet in Cambridge a hundred and twenty years ago; the one was Wordsworth drunk, the other was Porson sober. I am a better scholar than Wordsworth; I am a better poet than Porson. Here I stand, halfway between Wordsworth and Porson."

He sat down again; it was a short speech, but it was a great success.

Breach In The World Of Science

(MANCHESTER GUARDIAN)

THE repudiation of what the rest of the world knows as scientific method and the rejection of the appeal to fact which the new "party line" has imposed on Russian biologies may seem to most people very much of a Russian affair and no concern of ours. The world is the poorer for the destruction of a great organization of original work in the field of genetics which, under Soviet direction, had played a notable part in the development of "bourgeois" science.

Dr. Julian Huxley, who has been contributing to "Nature" a well documented analysis of the situation, describes it as creating a breach in the world unity of science which has no modern parallel; but though he calls for a new profession of scientific faith and a world-wide affirmation of the rights and duties of science and scientists, partly for its own sake and partly in the hope that it may have some influence on Russia, it is without much confidence in direct results.

Quite apart from any hope of influencing Russia, Dr. Huxley insists that there are issues of principle at stake which the world of science cannot afford to neglect. If they are clearly grasped and the conclusions from them resolutely drawn he thinks the battle of Soviet genetics "will not have been fought and lost in vain".

It is a question of the scientific movement for the first time becoming fully conscious of its social functions and of the equal importance of scientific autonomy and of the rights and duties of science in relation to society. The recent Soviet action he regards as only an extreme and exaggerated manifestation of a general situation—the familiar trend towards centralization and a greater organization of society.

It is not only in Russia that an official scientific policy must be expected, and accepted. Government funds are everywhere likely to cover the major cost of scientific work and government agencies must take a large part in its direction. Men of science would themselves be the first to agree that the government should have a scientific policy, but they must clear their minds about the conditions on which government policy and government direction can be accepted.

In drawing up this new Bill of Rights (and duties) for the scientist, Dr. Huxley urges the Royal Society to take the lead, in collaboration, first, with the British Association and others, and at a later stage with the relevant international organizations. At the head of a rough working agenda he would place the demand that no government should pronounce in any way on the truth or falsity of facts, laws, or theories, or press for their acceptance or rejection, nor must it subordinate the standards of scientific truth to religious, philosophical, or political orthodoxies.

This, with a second point about the special characteristics of science as a universal activity, depending largely for its results on full freedom of communication and the mutual testing of conclusions, suggests a basis for unanimous agreement at least outside the Soviet zone; and we can agree with Dr. Huxley that it might be no waste of time even should it fail in immediate influence elsewhere.

Tom Bentley, CCF ex-MP for Swift Current, defeated in the June 27 landslide, has a new job. The CCF government of Saskatchewan has created the post of director of staff training for the Provincial Civil Service and picked Mr. Bentley to fill it. Seems as though we had heard from these honest and pure third parties that they were dead set against party patronage.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Now Moses kept the flock of Jethro his father in law, the priest of Midian: and he led the flock to the backside of the desert, and came to the mountain of God, even to Horeb. And the angel of the Lord appeared unto him in a flame of fire out of the midst of a bush: and he looked, and, behold, the bush burned with fire, and the bush was not consumed. And Moses said, I will now turn aside, and see this great sight, why the bush is not burnt.

And when the Lord saw that he turned aside to see, God called unto him out of the midst of the bush, and said, Moses, Moses. And he said, Here am I... And the Lord said, I have surely seen the affliction of my people which are in Egypt, and have heard their cry by reason of their taskmasters; for I know their sorrows... Come now therefore, and I will send thee unto Pharaoh, that thou mayest bring forth my people the children of Israel out of Egypt....

And Moses said unto God, Behold, when I come unto the children of Israel, and shall say unto them, The God of your fathers hath sent me unto you: and they shall say to me, what is his name? what shall I say unto them? And God said unto Moses, I AM THAT I AM: and he said, Thus shalt thou say unto the children of Israel, I AM hath sent me unto you. (Ex. 3: 1-4, 7, 10, 13, 14.)

◇ ◇ ◇

Remember the former things of old: for I am God, and there is none else; I am God, and there is none like me, declaring the end from the beginning, and from ancient times the things that are not yet done, saying, My counsel shall stand, and I will do all my pleasure. (Isa. 46: 9, 10.)

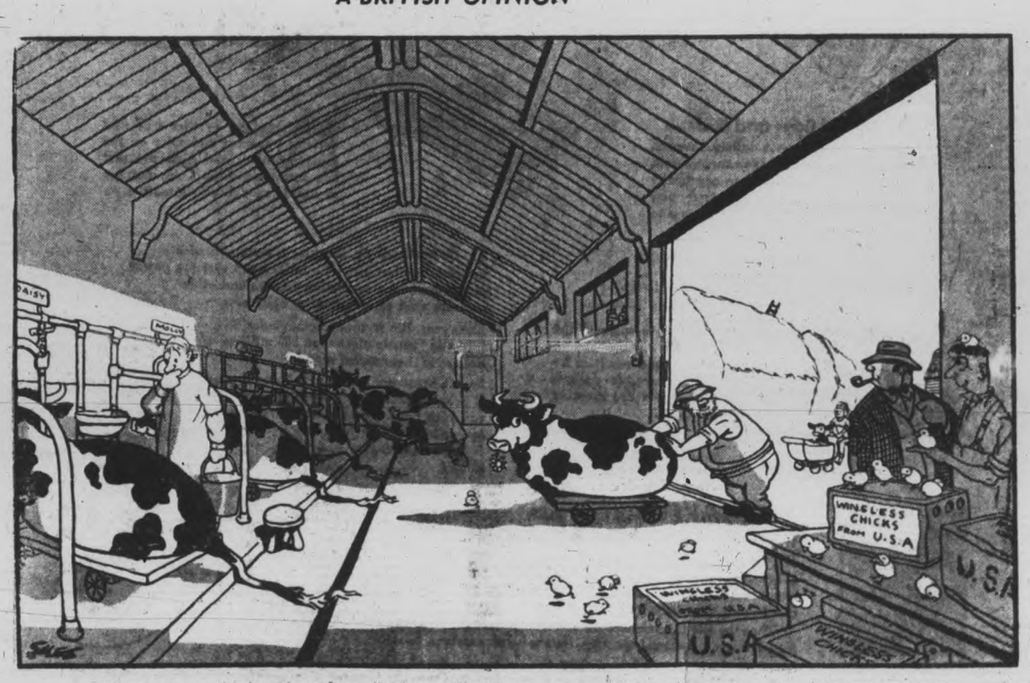
Great is our Lord, and of great power: his understanding is infinite. (Ps. 147: 5.)

Forgotten Royalty



(London Spectator)

What may perhaps be termed without disrespect, outlying members of the Royal Family are not quite as well known to the general public as some of them deserve to be.

Take, for example, Princess Marie Louise, a granddaughter of Queen Victoria, born in the year 1866. On Monday evening the Princess presided at the Save the Children Fund dinner at the Dorchester. On such an occasion nothing more is expected of a lady of her years and station than that she should discharge the essential formalities. But Princess Louise had no idea of being content with that. She made—without notes and at her own instance—a speech rated as the speech of the evening, even though the Prime Minister was among others on the list.

It was a speech, moreover, which did precisely what it was meant to do — draw cheque-books out of side-pockets and pens to give the cheques their value. One man who had written his before the Princess spoke, tore it up when he had heard her and wrote double. The debt of thousands of children to a lady they will never have heard of will go unacknowledged, but it should not go unmentioned.

60-Mill Rate For Millbrook Set By Council

MILLBROOK, Aug. 15—(ENS)—A tax rate for the coming year of 60 mills was set by the village council at its monthly meeting last week. The rate is divided up as follows: County purposes, 10.3 mills; street lighting, fire protection and Millbrook Public Library, 6.5 mills; fire engine debenture No. 3, 1.8 mills; village purposes, 20.9 mills; and school purposes according to the requisition of the School Board for $5,743.16, a rate of 20.5 mills.

Councillor Harrington, chairman of a committee named at the July meeting to investigate parking and traffic regulations, gave a detailed report on the committee's findings, which embodied certain recommendations. The council decided to hold a special meeting at an early date to go further into the matter with a view to amending the existing by-laws or drafting a new by-law.

Want Street Meetings

Council was addressed by Rev. W. B. Greenwood, Pentecostal Church, and W. Cecil G. Parrington, Gospel Hall, both of Peterborough, requesting permission to hold street meetings in the village on Wednesday or Saturday evenings. On motion of Councillors Spicer and Harrington, the delegation was told that the council objects to the holding of such meetings where traffic is congested. They were further advised to consult the village clerk and submit to him alternative sites for the council's approval.

A letter was received from the Millbrook Creamery protesting semi-permanent parkings of cars and trucks on the south side of King street in front of their plant. Several residents of Center and Union streets requested the removal of obstructions on the sidewalk and right-of-way on Union St., between King and Centre streets.

M. Chapman made application for a permit to dismantle the building situated on his land at the corner of King and Union streets. On motion of Councillors Fallis and Coulter the clerk was instructed to obtain legal advice as to the council's responsibility in this matter.

A letter was received from the Department of Municipal Affairs giving instructions for the assessor in completing he new census for which become effective January 1, 1950.

A by-law authorizing the closing of a section of Bank St. was given first and second readings and a letter from J. D. Deyell voicing objection thereto was read. This matter was held over for further consideration later.

Hens Run Wild

Mrs. P. I. Bentley addressed the council complaining that hens running at large on neighboring lands were overrunning her premises, creating a health menace and causing damage to her gardens and lawn. On motion of Councillors Spicer and Coulter, the clerk was instructed to write the Department of Health at Cobourg requesting that an inspector visit these premises and advise the council what action should be taken to correct the condition.

The following accounts were approved:

Attwool and Sheppard, coal and lumber, $103.89; J. J. Kellett, salary, $125; John Trick, labour, $67.10; F. J. Smith, gas, $9.72; Ed. Larmer, cutting weeds, $20.75; Dr. M. E. Hobbs, liver extract, $12; Provincial Treasurer, insulin, $2.72; Gordon Trick, coal, fire hall $92; Millbrook Hydro, $88.38; treasurer, postage, exise, unemployment insurance, $4.92; treasurer, account, firemen, $16; Counter Bros., hardware, $3.64; Docon Telephones, $5.35; Millbrook Public Library, grant, $100.

It was moved by Councillor Spicer, seconded by Councillor Fallis, that the village hold a court of revision in the council chamber of the town hall, Tuesday, Oct. 11, at 8 p.m.

Call For Tenders

OTTAWA, Aug 15 — (CP), — The National Research Council has called for tenders for the construction of 10 additional homes at Chalk River, to house families of scientists employed at Canada's famous atomic energy project there, it was disclosed on Sunday. The village, with a population of about 1,800, now has approximately 400 family dwellings.

SCAN ANGRY WATERS — Practically the entire population of Inverness, NS, a small mining town on Western Cape Breton turned out to search for the bodies of four people drowned in choppy seas Wednesday night. The tragedy took place after a 40-man human chain, attempting to save the victims, was broken by the force of the waves. Ten persons were swept out to sea and later thrown up on the beach slightly injured. Here a group of Inverness residents scan the ocean for bodies of the four who were swept out to sea by a strong undertow.

FAITHFUL EVEN IN DEATH—This mongrel dog, owned by Melvin White, 27, who was one of the four men drowned at Inverness, NS, Wednesday when they were carried out to sea by a strong undertow while swimming, refused to leave his master's clothes. The dog remained in the same spot for almost 48 hours. A rescue attempt by a 40-man human chain ended in failure when waves broke the chain.

20 Officers Killed

HAMBURG, Germany, Aug. 15—The British-controlled German newspaper Welt Am Sonntag reported Sunday 20 Soviet army officers were killed in the explosion of a bomb at a Soviet officers' club in Potsdam July 25. The newspaper said the bomb was exploded in a plot to kill Soviet Marshal Konstantin Rokossovsky who commands a line of communication troops in the Soviet zone of Germany.

Economic Policy Can Whip Reds

LAKE COUCHICHING, Aug. 15.—(CP).— J. King Gordon of New York, CBC correspondent at the United Nations, said today that if the western world works out its economic salvation, the foundations of Communism will crumble.

In an address prepared for delivery to the Canadian Instiute on Public Affairs, he said the role of the Soviet Union is directed towards weakening the capitalist democracies, sowing economic, social and political confusion within nations and attempting to prevent international co-operation among the western states.

"I see dangers of economic crisis," he said, "but I think that the social, political and technical resources of the western nations are capable of meeting it."

"And if the west can work out its economic salvation, the very foundation of the Soviet thesis crumbles into dust."

Canada had resisted efforts to merge its national policy in a united commonwealth policy and "has fought for, won and jealously guarded an independent foreign policy.'

Discussing the role played by the United Nations in creating a new international order, Mr. Gordon said establishment of a world community is the "paramount task of our time."

Knapsack Explodes

ROME, Aug. 15 — (AP). — A 75-year-old woman trudged into the main piazza of Verbania Saturday, unstrapped a knapsack from her back and started to walk away. The knapsack exploded. Predict Gaspard Fateux Will Get Some Promotion

OTTAWA, Aug. 15—(CP)—Rumors are spreading through parliamentary circles that Dr. Gaspard Fauteux, Liberal member for Montreal St. Mary's and Commons speaker in last parliament, is headed for a new post.

Some of the reports say he will go to the Senate as soon as a vacancy occurs in Quebec's representation in the Upper House. There are other reports that he is due to join the Diplomatic Service and take a post abroad.

Dr. Fauteux, who served from 1945 until last April 30, is entitled to take his seat in the new Commons as a private member. However, his two immediate predecessors were given promotion when their terms as speakers ended.

Hon. James A. Glen, speaker from 1935 to 1940, was appointed Minister of Resources on the conclusion of his term and later was appointed Canadian chairman of the International Joint Commission.

Hon. Pierre Casgrain, speaker from 1935 to 2940, was appointed Secretary of State and later was appointed to the Quebec bench.

Defence Stores

Canada has stockpiled a considerable amount of tin to meet potential defence requirements in an emergency but her future activities in that field are influenced by two main considerations.

First, officials say, if she looks at the situation from her own standpoint alone, from the needs of her own forces, the requirements are relatively negligible. She has plenty for instance, of such key materials as nickel, zinc, aluminum and copper which the U.S. has been stockpiling.

The second consideration is who she should stockpile for and how much? In other words, who would she produce for in emergency or even before emergency?

So far, the only formal body established to put such questions on an international basis is the Joint Industrial Mobilization Committee established by Canada and the U.S. The Canadian representative, Sidney Pierce, assistant Deputy Minister of Trade, has stockpiling among his responsibilities at home.

Through the formal outlet and such informal channels as are available, the Canadians are making what explorations they can. Whether the Atlantic pact's committees will help remains to be seen.

Shaw's New Play Gets Tepid Notices

MALVERN, Worcester, England, Aug. 15—(AP)—"Buoyant Billions" George Bernard Shaw's newest play, got tepid notices Saturday after its first performance at the Malvern festival.

The 93-year-old Irish playwright was absent.

What there is of a plot in "Buoyant Billions" deals with a young man who wants to improve the world, and a rich girl whom he finally marries. Frances Day, American night club start who has recently taken up straight acting, plays the rich girl.

Ivor Brown of the Observer said the play which the author labelled "a "comedy of no manners," is "in fact a conversation piece with no pattern."

Oshawa Clinches Top Spot In COBL With Victory Here

Oshawa Merchants clinched first place in the COBL here Saturday as the schedule nears its finish by beating the Petes 6-3 before a fair-sized crowd. The Merchants pounded Gunner Whitehill for 18 hits while Bill Gingerich limited the locals to 10 in a craggy joust. The visitors were loose in the field but had enough plate power to pull out the verdict. The Petes are still sure of second place in the loop race.

Playing coach George Ticcony led his side at bat with four for five, while Andy McMullen and Bill Gingerich each had three in five tries, Gord Hanna getting two for four, and Red Jubenville and Paul Michael hitting two for five each. Howie Dalton led the Petes at bat with four in five times, and Pat Wilson got two for four. The Petes pulled off a double play and Estlick made a nifty catch in centre. Gingerish had a margin on Whitehill in pitching.

LAWN BOWLING

By HERB MARTIN

Besides the regular nights for playing schedule games we have two specials coming up this week.

On Wednesday at 1.30 p.m. the ladies are holding their second open tournament for rinks. In their last open tournament June 15 they had few visitors. The committee is hoping for a better representation this time.

On Friday (all day) we are having here for the first time, provincial zone playoffs. This includes the winners of districts No. 13, 14, 16, 16. These are singles, doubles and rinks competitions. The winners of this stage will move to Hamilton the following week for the finals.

We don't know who is representing all the districts but as far as No. 14 is concerned it will be C. Renaud, Peterborough, in the singles and R. Gamble and W. Jeffries, Peterborough, in the doubles. C. Argue, Belleville, is the official umpire.

Many of our bowlers are taking in the all-day men's tournament down at Oshawa on Wednesday.

We're wondering when the remaining games in the men's club singles and the men's novice competition are going to be played.

Tonight Groups No. 2 and 3 play, and Tuesday night Groups No. 1 and 2 play. The ladies continue their vice-skips' competition both nights.

Today's thought 'co-operation. There are three ways of co-operating. One is to do less than half of the job. The second is to do exactly half. And the third is to do as much more than your share as you possibly can. Then if the other fellow does more than his share, what a cracking good job you will turn out between you.

Excelsiors Whip Weston 17 to 2

By The Canadian Press

Brampton Excelsiors, leaders of the Senior Ontario Lacrosse Association, overwhelmed Weston Lions 17-2 Saturday night and boosted their individual scoring records.

At St. Catharines, the Athletics 11-game win streak was shattered by Hamilton Tigers, last year's champions, when they suffered an 8-6 defeat.

Cornwall Flyers defeated Lachine-Caughnawaga Combines 11-9 Sunday night in an Interprovincial Lacrosse League game at Lachine arena. Tony Wheeler sparked the winners with three goals and three assists.

Weston fought a game battle but received a setback in the second frame when Ted Downer received two five-minute misconduct penalties and then a match-misconduct.

Archie Browning led the scoring parade scoring four times for Brampton, while Ollie Browning tallied three. Harv Madgett, Nick Ferri and Gordie Steele accounted for two each and Shep, Ard, Graham, Garbutt and Hillson each added singles.

The Tigers were ahead all the way, leading by period 4-1, 4-2 and 6-3. George Masters and Al Dorney led the Hamilton attack with three apiece while Welch and Grainger accounted for the others. St. Catharines' tallies were split between Frick, Cove, Hildebrand, Smith, Fitzgerald and Urquhart.

Westclox Girls Beat CGE In First Game

Westclox opened their best-of-three Girls' Softball League finals Saturday afternoon at the Bowl with an 8-2 victory over CGE. Because a winner is required before Wednesday, the teams agreed to a two-in-three instead of a best-of-five finals, and they will go again Monday evening at the Bowl at seven, with a double-header, if necessary. The Clockers earned the first win with a late drive, hitting hard and going a bit better defensively behind good hurling by Marg Selkirk.

J. McIntyre, I. Clarke, B. McMahon and Mary Perrin looked good defensively in this game. J. Vass and B. Morrow led the winners at bat with three safeties each, the former and M. Selkirk hitting homers. M. Batley and E. Boyce topped the losers at the plate with two bingles apiece, one of the former's being good for two bases. It was a good game until the seventh when the Clockers broke loose.

The teams:

CGE—M. Batley, cf; Marg Perrin, rf; R. Boyce, rf; A. DeCarlo, c; E. Boyce, ss; B. McMahon, 1b; J. Connors, 2b; T. DeCarlo, lf; Mary Perrin, p; R. Todd, 3b.

Steve Bilko Star In Twin Victory

By The Associated Press

Husky Steve Bilko, 19-year-old first baseman of Rochester Red Wings is being called another "Jimmy Foxx."

Bilko, like the great Foxx of American League fame, is blasting home runs hard, far and often and within a season or two should be terrorizing major league pitchers.

The youthful slugger came up with his biggest day Sunday, belting four home runs and driving home eight runs to pace the Wings to a double victory over Newark Bears 15-5 and 2-1.

Bilko socked three tremendous homers in the first game. He connected in the third, fifth and seventh innings with a mate on each time. He unloaded his 30th homer in the second inning of the night cap.

The triumphs moved the Wings to within 2½ games of the pace-setting Buffalo Bisons who divided a twin bill with Jersey City Giants. The Bisons took the opener 12-10 but lost the second 8-6.

Overcome Deficit

Buffalo overcame a 9-1 deficit to grab the lid lifter, clinching the game with a five-run rally in the sixth inning. Lonnie Frey and George Byam homered for Buffalo and Leon Culberson and Gail Henley for the Giants.

The Giants wrapped up the aftermath with an eight-run drive in the fifth that Pete Milne's featured with a three-run homer.

Montreal took over fourth place from Toronto Maple Leafs by one percentage point, beating the Baltimore Orioles 7-1 and 3-0 while the Leafs bowed 2-1 to Syracuse Chiefs.

Pat McGlothin scattered 11 Oriole hits and drove home four runs in hanging up his 12th triumph in the opener. Dan Bankhead blanked the Orioles on two singles and tripled home a run in the second game. Sam Jethroe accounted for the other runs with his 15th homer.

Lefty Jim Prendergast stopped Toronto on five singles and won out in the ninth inning when Bubba Church walked Carden Gillenwater with the bases loaded to force home the winning run.

A & P Ties Series

A & P tied up the semi-final series of the Foresters Softball League by beating Post Office 7-5 in the second game, and the squads will settle it tonight at 6.30 in King Edward Park, winner meeting COF in finals.

The game was called in the last of the sixth for darkness. The Charlotte St. boys opened scoring in the first and Post Office tied it at 1-1 in the third. Play see-sawed from then on but A & P finally won out. Richmond went well all the way for the Grocers, and Wallwork, who started for the Posties, was replaced in the sixth by Coombs.

Oshawa Merchants wind up their COBL schedule against the Petes here Wednesday p.m. at six in Riverside Park. The Petes have a game away with Batawa yet, and then it's play-off time. Oshawa have top spot in the standing clinched now, after winning here 6-3 before a good gallery Saturday eve. Game was slow with the Merchants' battery stalling a lot as they argued too much. Oshawa had six miscues but won the game with potent plate work while Gingerich threw a steady brand of ball. Ticcony and Dalton led the clouters for each club with four in five apiece. Wilson belted a hard triple in the fifth. Estlick pulled off a fine running catch in centre.

Westclox Take One

Saturday aft at the Bowl d'Ashburnham, Westclox lasses conked the apple hard in the late frames to win 8-2 over CGE in the first of their best-of-three girls' softball finals. The series was shortened as the winner goes into PWSU playdowns on Wednesday. Same squads go again at seven tonight and right after that again, if necessary. Marg Selkirk came up with a six-hit hurling chore and her support was good afield and at bat. I. Clarke, J. McIntyre, B. McMahon and Mary Perrin all went well. CGE-ers could take the first tonight and force a third one if they play hurry-up ball. These playoffs are certainly worth seeing.

A hefty hunk of oughday must have been realized with a crowd of more than 2,000 at the Bowl Saturday evening for the exhibition men's softball fray. Toronto Police squad and the local all-stars dished up a fine show to finish tied 7-7 in 10 frames, called by mutual agreement. Money raised will help put on the Ontario Police Association convention here late next month. A fine entertainment afterward, and the Toronto manager and local police appreciate the work of all who aided, including the fans. Law guardians have a rather thankless task and we're glad to see the public support 'em where it helps.

Tough Guys Indeed

Mimico Mounties again proved tough in their own back yard when they beat the Petes 19-11 Saturday for their 11th straight home victory of the OLA season. Doc McKay created a record by scoring three goals in 22 seconds, after earlier scoring two in a row. Scoop Hayes had seven assists and nary a marker. Dootch Vitarelli was the pick of the Petes going both ways, checking in stellar style and taking time out to throw three into the twine. Brampton plays the Petes here this Wednesday p.m. while Weston is here Friday, and the Petes go away on Saturday night. A rather busy week for the Creighton crew once more.

OLA official figures reach us and show Brampton in front, Owen Sound next, then St. Kitts, followed by Mimico, Hamilton, Weston and Peterborough. The latter are but one point back of Weston, and have six more games to play in the schedule. Ken Dixon leads in scoring with 112 points, Jack Dorney having 108. In 12th place is Leo Teatero, top Petes' sniper, with 72 points as of Aug. 12. The locals have scored 337 goals, having more than Hamilton or Weston, but have 398 scored against 'em. JiJm McNulty is second highest local scorer with 62 points, Ron Horton having the doubtful distinction of leading the club in penalty time served with 52 minutes. We'll run the local list tomorrow.

Cricketers Get Victory Over Parkdale

By C. H. IRESON

The Peterborough - Whitaker Cricket Club defeated Parkdale "B" by 71 to 60 Saturday in Toronto in a district council match to avenge a previous loss. The local win was largely due to some fine all-around play by a newcomer, A. Pope, who has been in Canada only a couple of weeks. He was high scorer with 23 and he took seven Parkdale wickets for 26 runs.

The locals batted first, sending in Wright and Booth. The latter, who had scored 72 not out against New Hambledon, was run out for one. Wright (12) was out at 15 and then Pope had partners in Pyle (10), A. Roberts (5) and W. Freeman (7), and the score was taken to 55 when he was out for the side's high score of 23. The remaining players took the total to 71.

Parkdale made a poor start against the bowling of A. Pope and F. Dyer, having five wickets down for 19. But G. Ward went in and was sixth out of the 51 scored by the losers at that point. The rest fell for a total of 60. A. Pope bowled seven wickets for 26 and F. Dyer three for 30. To date, the locals have defeated Dovercourt and New Hambledon; Grace Church 'B' have defaulted twice to P-W, and their only defeat was June 13 to Parkdale. Next Saturday, the team plays its final council matched against Oshawa in the Oval, and on Sept. 3, they meet Dentonia Park in the first match for the Wood Memorial Trophy.

A powerful Ottawa Rough Riders squad hung a convincing 25-1 victory on the scoreboard at Ottawa's Lansdowne Park Saturday night in a pre-season exhibition game with Hamilton Tigers of the Ontario Rugby Football Union.

The eastern champions racked up the lopsided score with four converted touchdowns and a rouge before a crowd estimated at 6,000.

Veterans Tony Golab, Howie Turner and Pete Finlay scored three of Ottawa's majors, while a speedy newcomer, Ray Skerrett, crossed the Hamilton line with the other. Doug Smith punted a rouge in the third quarter for Hamilton's only point.

In Pittsburg, George Herman Ruth was signed Saturday by the Pirates baseball club. The namesake of the great Babe Ruth is a catcher. He plays for a semi-pro team in the Bronx, N.Y. He's no relation to the immortal New York Yankee player, but his father was a great admirer of the Babe.

More than 1,500 fans turned out for a twilight harness meet at Orr Lake, near Midland, Ont., Saturday night.

Fastest heat was the 2.15 2-5 run by Make Believe, owned and driven by Clarence Lockhart, of Collingwood. Make Believe took three straight heats in the free-for-all.

In another harness race meet at Simcoe, Alice G., Nate Neely's steady-going mare from Sarnia, Saturday won the featured 2.16 pace. Showing her heels to a fast field she was a winner every time out and paced the fastest heat of the day—a 2.10 miles in her final outing.

Lucky Lester, a fast-stepping mare from Kingston, who first showed her form at Tillsonburg, came back to western Ontario to again demonstrate she is quite a pacer. She captured every heat in the 2.19 class with her last mile of 2.11 3-5 being her best effort.

In Westbury, N.Y., Demon Hanover broke his losing streak Saturday night at Roosevelt raceway before 21,474 fans with a victory in the $5,000 Beverly Hills trot, a free-for-all event.

In Lake Tahoe, Calif., Stanley's Dollar's yacht, Skip-a-Long, winner of the Harmsworth International speedboat trophy at Detroit Aug. 1, sank in Lake Tahoe Sunday. The Skip-a-Long, which won the Harmsworth trophy in a special 100-mile marathon runoff, was competing in the Lake Tahoe Yacht Club regatta. The boat had finished two laps of the race when it began shipping water.

Sweeney Schriner, one-time National Hockey League great, has been signed by North Sydney Victorias of the Cape Breton Senior Hockey League, club officials said Saturday. Lex Cooke was signed as coach six weeks ago.

Mimico Takes OLA Win Against Petes

MIMICO, Aug. 15—There would be little doubt of Mimico Mounties power in OLA senior lacrosse whirl if they only had to play in their own boxla bowl.

Saturday night at the expense of the Peterborough Lumberjacks they ran their home win streak to 11 games by virtue of a 19-11 victory which strengthened their hold on fourth place in the standing.

The Mimicans rammed in four straight counters before the Lumberjacks were able to find the range and while hard pressed by the losers for the first half, ran wild in the third when they tallied eight times to their opponent's singleton.

Jim (Doc) McKay of the homesters set what officials termed a record in boxla acircles, when he scored three goals in a space of 22 seconds. Before the third quarter "red book" effort McKay had previously fired home two in a row.

While he failed to score a goal "Scoop" Hayes topped the Mounties in point-gathering with seven assists. Johnny Hewitt got three goals with "Church" Simpson scoring a brave. Bern Pritchard notched three and set up two more.

"Dootch" Vitarelli besides holding Kenny Dixon, the league's leading scorer to one goal, potted three.

Peterborough—Goal, Speck; defense, D. Vitarelli and G. Creighton; rover, Foote; centre, E. Creighton; forwards, Dugan and Thorpe; alternates, Magee, Howse, McNulty, Lewis, L. Vitarelli, Teatero and Warren.

Toronto Police Play Tie With All-Stars

By FRED MAYBEE

Sandy Johnson's Toronto Police All-Stars engaged the pick of local softball stalwarts at the Bowl Saturday night and matched the Russelle coached boys for 10 innings to a 7-7 draw. More than 2,000 spectators witnessed the colorful spectacle, the proceeds of which will help to defray expenses of the convention of the Police Association of Ontario, to be held here September 27-30.

Mahaffey went the route for the Coppers, blanking the locals in the final three and twirling steady ball throughout while Coach Russelle used four twirlers and gave all his boys a chance to play an inning or two. Eight extra-base hits, including homers by Harrison and Cooper, triples by Menzies, Carpenter and Ezard, and doubles by Dalton, Clonne and Hillis, featured a close contest from start to finish. Toronto knotted the count in the eighth after the locals had held a small lead for seven innings but good twirling by Greenlaw in the final two averted defeat, in a fine struggle. Dalton, Cosmo's star, injured his ankle in the third and was forced to retire.

Bo-Sox Take Doubleheader As Yanks Split Two Games

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

A penny for Casey Stengel's thoughts today as once again the manager of New York Yankees feels the hot breath of the oncoming Boston Red Sox on the back of his neck.

It was just seven weeks ago that Stengel wrote off the Red Sox. Now they trail the Yanks by only four games.

Sunday the Sox piling up 24 hits and 18 bases on balls, overpowered Washington Senators twice 14-3 and 9-3. The Yankees whipped Philadelphia 4-2 in the first game of a doubleheader but the Athletics came back to win the second game 4-3.

Brooklyn Dodgers regained the lead from St. Louis in the tight National League race, winning from Boston 7-2 while Pittsburgh was trouncing the Cardinals 4-0. This put the Brooks one game in front of the Redbirds.

The third-place New York Giants remained 12 full games off the pace despite their double victory over Philadelphia Phils 8-1 and 1-0. Cincinnati Reds came out on top in the battle of the cellar dwellers, winning two from the last-place Chicago Cubs 4-2 and 8-0.

18th Triumph

Mel Parnell of the Red Sox, the majors' biggest winner, turned in his 18th triumph with a seven-hitter in the opener against Washington. Dom DiMaggio sparked the eight-hit attack against Dick Weik and two relievers with a home run and two singles. Junior Stephens hit his 31st homer in the nightcap with two aboard against Montreal's Paul Calvert, who suffered his 10th straight loss. Jack Kramer went all the way for his third win.

Alex Kellner scored his 15th victory of the year with a five-hitter for the A's in the second game against the Yanks. Bob Porterfield bested Lou Brissie in the opener, but needed help from Joe Page in the eighth. Third baseman Billy Johnson who drove in all three Yankee runs in the nightcap, batted in what proved to be the two winning runs in the first game.

Take Doubleheader

The third-place Cleveland Indians advanced to within five games of the top by winning both ends of a doubleheader from Chicago White Sox 4-3 and 5-?. Bob Lemon hurled his 14th victory in the opener, and Garcia his 10th in the nightcap.

Larry Doby's 17th home run with Dale Mitchell on third following his 17th triple, accounted for half Cleveland's runs in the opener.

The fourth-place Detroit Tigers moved to within 8½ games off the pace, downing St. Louis Browns twice 6-2 and 4-3. Fred Hutchinson coasted to his 11th victory in the opener. Aaron Robinson knocked in three Tiger runs in the nightcap to help Art Houteman register his 10th triumph.

Duke Snider cracked two doubles to drive in three runs in Brooklyn's victory over Boston. Jot Hatten, third Dodger hurler, allowed three hits in four and a fraction innings to gain his 11th triumph. Johnny Sain was charged with his 13th loss.

Cliff Chambers hurled a three-hitter against the Cards as the Pirates pounded Howie Pollet the loser and successors for 11.

Dave Koslo and Jarry Jansen stopped the Phils without an earned run, with Jansen's two-hit shutout coming on the heels of an eight-hit effort by Koslo. They were victories No. eight for Koslo and 13 for Jansen.

Calgary Colonel Best Rifle Shot

CONNAUGHT RANGES, South March, Ont., Aug. 15.—(CP)—Lt.-Col. Stephen Johnson, a sharp-shooting six-foot two-inch insurance man from Calgary won the Governor-General's prize Saturday in a two-way shoot-off that held hundreds of spectators breathless.

It was west against east when Col. Johnson and Major G. C. Baker of Kentville, N.S., were tied after 35 rounds in the final match oft the Dominion of Canada Rifle Association shoot on Connaught Ranges, 14 miles west of Ottawa. Both had fired 170's out of a possible 175.

They matched scored for seven rounds in the shoot-off. On the eighth Col. Johnson scored a bull's-eye and Maj. Baker an inner.

"That's the thrill of a lifetime," said the Colonel as he accepted a gold watch and autographed portrait of the Governor-General, Viscount Alexander, from Resources Minister Gibson.

Palmer, Demaret Go Into Playoff

CHICAGO, Aug. 15 (AP)—The Tam 'O Shanter golf roulette got an extra twirl today, sending Johnny Palmer and Jimmy Demaret, a pair of high-powered money players, into a $17,000 championship playoff.

Seventy-two holes weren's enough to determine a winner of promoter George S. May's fabulous $35,000 "world" tourney Sunday.

Palmer and Demaret charged in among the par-wreckers with 275's—13 strokes under the Tam regulation.

Today's 18-hole showdown, starting at 3 p.m. EDT, will pay the winner $10,000. Second place is worth $7,000.

In yesterday's mad scramble, over fairways and greens hemmed in by an estimated 12,000 awed customers, Palmer grooved a pair of 35's for a respectable 70, two under par.

Demaret, two hours earlier, had carved 33-34—67 for his 275.

Cary Middlecoff, with 68, and Toney Penna, with 70, went for 278. Bob Hamilton's 71 put him in at 279. Buck White, the 54-hole leader with 205, ballooned to a close 75. Johnny Bulla, Jim Tunesa and Jim Fenrier trudged in at 282.

Flowers, Shrubs On Display Rouse Interest

Donald Hill, 517 Gilmour St., was the winner of the C.G.E. refrigerator door prize at the Horticultural Society's show Saturday night.

Other prizes drawn by Mayor Max Swanston were: pair of art pictures to Miss Phyllis Harris, 207 Perry St.; Peterborough fishing baits to Mrs. H. Neal, Peterborough R.R. 5; ham to Mrs. A. C. Weymark, 54 River Road; lawn or boat cushion to Mrs. A. Pinn, 162 Antrim St.

Mayor Swanston said he brought to the Society the congratulations of the city council for the flower show and its influence in stimulating greater interest in the growing of flowers and beautification of the city.

Appreciate Industry's Effort

He said the occasion presented an opportunity of expressing appreciation to the industries of the city for their contribution to the fine appearance of Peterborough. Their remarkable displays of lawns and flower beds and borders caused much complimentary comment by visitors. They were setting a most conspicuous example to the citizens.

Prior to the draw Mayor Swanston presented the various trophies of the District Gladiolus Society, and thanked the exhibitors and the officers of that group for their important contribution to the success of the flower show.

Special Prizes

Some of the special prizes not mentioned Saturday were:—

Kiwanis Club trophy for the school whose pupils won the most points in the show, awarded to St. Peter's with 42 points, just one more than King Edward School. Queen Alexandra was third with 36 points.

The S. T. Harris Memorial Medal, for the pupil with the most points in the junior section of the show: Miss Nancy Ball, 34 points. Peter Ferren of St. Peter's was second with 27 points.

For the most points in the adult vegetable section: Mr. Harry Gabbutt, 533 Chamberlain St.; G. W. Downer and James Richardson, 253 King George St., tied for second. Prizes were lily bulbs and delphiniums given by Joseph Stenton.

Bud Lloyd, 121 Hilliard St., won the Ostrander trophy for the most points in single spike gladioli by a beginner in the Horticultural show. This was a tyro award. In fact, Wm. C. Wilks, secretary, commented that the number of entries by new members was one of the finest satisfactions of this year's show.

The S. O. Shields challenge cup for the most outstanding display in the junior section was won by Miss Nancy Ball, 85 Princess St., a pupil at King Edward School.

The Society is grateful to everybody who helped in bringing about it success with larger attendance than a year ago. Various displays were added to the interest of the show, including Laurie Mitchell's white wheelbarrowful of geraniums and petunias; displays of rare plants by Mrs. A. V. Moore, Frank St., and William Parker, Charlotte St.; and the cage of budgies by R. E. Knox.

PARKING AT PREMIUM

Chemong Park on Sunday attracted its biggest crowd of visitors of the season. Parking spots were at a premium all afternoon and part of the warm evening as families laid about on the grass or sat around picnic lunches. Hundreds splashed off the wharf and sand beach.

LOCK WORKS EMPLOYEES' PICNIC was held on Saturday afternoon at Nicholls Oval. Field sports, clowns and lucky draws paced a lively time for all. Clowns were a popular attraction, especially when they tossed candies to the kiddies as shown in the (UPPER LEFT) photo. Spectator Garry Holbrook, (UPPER RIGHT), gave serious attention to events that his parents entered, the egg and spoon race, for example, (LOWER), which shows his mother, Mrs. Helen Holbrook, Left, Edna O'Hara, Centre, and Marguerite Bianco; mother ran second and Edna, first.

Pleading guilty to a charge of joyriding, two men were fined $50 and costs each in police court Monday morning by Magistrate E. A. Gee, Lindsay.

Provincial Constable Arthur Kellogg testified Joseph Monahan and Glen Budore, both of Norwood, reported for work at Building Products Ltd., near Havelock, in an almost intoxicated condition Saturday at 4 p.m. The foreman had told them they couldn't work and to go home. About 6.30 p.m. they took the company truck and drove off. This stopped operations at the company for a time. The two were picked up going into Norwood.

Pie In Gobs, Clowns In Skits At Lock Company Picnic

Racing, pie-eating contests, clowns and softball games were featured at the Peterborough Lock Company's annual picnic at Nicholls Oval Saturday. Afternoon proceedings started with a men's softball game, which was followed by races for young and old, bingo and other games of chance. An amateur show and a clowns' act were the main presentations of the evening. Warren Marshall was master of ceremonies. Dorothy Godfrey guessed correctly for Mr. Peterborough Lock, John Jordan, and Helen Hutton, Miss Peterborough Lock, was guessed by Mrs. Patrick Griffin.

Smeared with lemon pie Fred DeCarlo rose from the contesting table to win first prize in the pie-eating contest. He is a perenial winner in this event. Peter DeCarlo, runner-up, finished his pie in about a half a minute. Hugh Randell was first in the junior event, closely followed by Frank DeCarlo.

Pie Punchers

Each contestant in the event was given a piece of lemon pie which he had to eat with hands behind the backs. To be a winner the pie had to be completely consumed. Most of the contestants were satisfied to eat slowly and let someone else win. After the winners were declared the pie could be eaten in the conventional manner. Twenty children entered in the junior event and about 12 entries in the senior.

Al Tucker and Fred Lustic, clowns for the day, put on a special skit in the evening.

Under the direction of Frank Hamon an amateur show was held with four contestants. Margaret and Florence Bannister, a song and tap dance team were placed first after Charles Connors was found to be slightly over the 16-year-old age limit. Ann Collins won second prize for her singing and Doris Furfey won third. A consolation prize was given to Pat Masterson who also sang.

Charles Connors drew the ticket of Tom Hannivan, R.R. 1, Norwood, who won the mantel radio donated by the Company. Cash awards donated by the Social and Athletic Club were won by Orville Harron, Clarence Morgan, Eric Mason, Red Christmas, Dorothy Rescori.

House 'Papered' On Visit Of Ethel Barrymore

By HARRY THEOBALD

In all the tributes she will receive today, her 70th birthday, Ethel Barrymore will have no recollection of her only appearance in Peterborough at the old Grand Opera House.

The date is forgotten and also the play in which she was starring on the road, but the account of it is written somewhere in the files of the Examiner some 30 years ago.

It was a hot June day, possibly a Saturday engagement, when the regular theatre season had closed for the summer. The Barrymore tour into Ontario was an extension of her engagements in the United States, probably recommended by the expectation that her fame would discount the weather conditions.

A review of the old theatre in Peterborough was published in the Examiner 20 years ago with this referencee to the visit of Miss Barrymore: "Ethel Barrymore of the glorious voice and haughty dislike of an empty house appeared at the Grand in a hot June season. Her perspiring manager rushed madly about "papering" the house so that the star would have no reason to refuse to go on with the production."

Papering the house meant distributing passes, to fill seats against the likelihood of a slim attendance.

It was merely a passing incident in a great career of the American stage. Ethel Barrymore, sister of Lionel and John, is a daughter of the famous Drew family, outstanding in the history of the theatre in the United States.

The Grand was demolished a few years ago to make way for the Paramount, and with it after a long period of vacancy and disuse went hope of revival of the legitimate theatre in Peterborough.

The terrace was built some sixty years ago, and was first owned by the late John Carlisle.

The Loblaw property includes part of the lot north of the Ackerman place.

Prowling Cats Snuffed Out In Hundreds Epidemic Of Enteritis Stays As It Hits

All nine lives of some 100 or more Peterborough and district cats have been snuffed out in the last two months by feline enteritis, which is now raging here in epidemic proportions, Gerald Dunford, Humane Society agent, said today. The situation is not quite as bad as in Toronto and Hamilton, however, said Dr. R. W. Ford, veterinary. In the Queen City 300 cats died of the deadly disease during last week alone.

The epidemic is at its annual peak at present and will probably last another three weeks before subsiding. The mortality rate runs as high as 80%, as most cats do not receive as close attention from their owners as dogs do It is possible to effect cures in some cases through use of a special serum, sulpha drugs, or penicillin, but most of the cats are too far gone by the time the Humane Society learns about their condition to save very many.

39 Destroyed

Mr. Dunford said he had to destroy 39 cats since August 1 alone many of them being stray cats brought into the city from outside points and left to fend for themselves. He added that he was sure his figures did not tell the whole story, as many more just simply crawl away and die before their plight is known.

Dr. Ford, when asked if the long spell of hot weather was a contributory factor, said there was insufficient evidence to support this theory, as he had known the disease to flare up in the winter time as well. The disease is similar to distemper in dogs, but apparently more virulent.

A Toronto veterinarian said Sunday night that whole blocks in the provincial capital are being cleared of cats in the epidemic, nearly 400 being brought into clinics every week. The disease acts quickly, death resulting frequently in 24 hours. After 72 hours the cat is either well or dead. Kittens and cats under two years of age are most vulnerable.

City Rated Above-Average Market In Canadian Survey Income Per Family $3,985

NEW YORK, Aug. 15—(Special to the Examiner)—Peterborough stands out as a prosperous market, with earnings and purchasing power greater, in proportion to its size, than most cities in Canada, according to the new survey of buying power issued by Sales Management. The copyrighted study covers all cities in Canada and the United States above 10,000 in population.

The ability of the average Peterborough family to buy luxuries as well as necessities is indicated by its effective buying income. With the total of such income, for the 9,700 families in the city, amounting to $38,659,000 for 1948, the average income per family was $3,985. This figure is well ahead of family earnings in Canada as a whole, which averaged $3,645. The Ontario family income figure was $3,831.

Spendable Income $1,108

On a per capita basis, the average "spendable" income in Peterborough was $1108 as against $923 for Canada and $1,040 for Ontario.

Better earnings resulted in a high level of business activity. Retail sales in Peterorough stores reached a volume of $30,675,000, a gain over the $23,122,000 of 1947. How well this stacks up against other cities is shown by the fact that Peterborough did .4166 per cent of the retail business of Canada although it has only .2684 per cent of its population.

Rating the city on the basis of its business activity and other factors, the survey assigns to it a "quality of market" index of 127, meaning that it stands 27 per cent over the average Canadian city in purchasing power.

Kellogg, Hastings, who also investigated a collision between two cars on No. 7 Highway three miles west of Marmora at 8.00 p.m. Sunday. The cars were driven by Frank Hinds, RR No. 4, Madoc, and John C. Dunfield, Montreal Rd., Ottawa, neither of whom was hurt. Damage to cars was only slight.

Verulam Youth Drowned In Trent Canal

Bobcaygeon had its first drowning early Sunday morning when Eddie Prescott, 17, of Concession No. 8, Verulam Township, lost his life while trying to swim across the Trent Canal just west of the locks.

Prescott, together with his friend, Gordon Pogue, 17, of Toronto, had been swimming in the public bathing area near the locks. Shortly after 2 a.m. he left his chum with the declared intention of swimming across the canal. The canal is about 40 feet wide at that point.

Pogue heard him enter the water and later went to look for him, but without success. It is believed that Prescott got into difficulties and sank without shouting for help.

Body Found Later

The body was recovered about 4 a.m. and was later taken to the Nisbett Funeral Home in Bobcaygeon.

Son of Thomas Wesley Prescott and the former Mary Murdoch, he was born and received his primary education in Verulam. Later he went to Bobcaygeon for his secondary schooling.

Left are a brother, Hector of Verulam, and two sisters, Mrs. Grattan Brumwell (Nora) of Lindsay and Mrs. Jack Kennedy (Stella) of Bobcaygeon.

He was a member of Bobcaygeon Baptist Church.

The funeral service will be at his late residence, Tuesday, at 2.30 p.m., the Rev. E. M. Britton, of Bobcaygeon Baptist Church, officiating.

Burial will be in Verulam Cemetery, Bobcaygeon.

YW Swimming Instructor Resigns, Returns to Toronto

Mrs. Jessie Powell, swimming instructor at the YWCA, left Peterborough Saturday to return to her home in Toronto where she will give swimming instruction at Willard Hall. A year ago Mrs. Powell took up the Peterborough appointment, which she has now resigned in order to be able to live at her home.

During her comparatively short stay in Peterborough she has become widely known. Last week she received many expressions of admiration and regard from pupils and friends in this district.

Senior swimming club members presented a silver tray on which their names were inscribed. Mrs. Powell received the gift Friday at a weiner and corn roast held in her honor at Mrs. Harry Pomeroy's cottage, Chemong Lake.

Members of the junior club staged a presentation Tuesday, when Mrs. Powell received a tea service. On the same occasion Patsey Jay, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Jay, Chamberlain St., was also presented with a parting gift of a utility bag. She is leaving Peterborough with her parents to live in Montreal. Ann Arnold, a visitor from Detroit, was presented with a purse for having gained the highest number of points for swimming during July.

FAMILY CHEATS DEATH AS GIRL BRAVES BLAZE
Ethel Dawson, 15, of Orono, Ont., prevents tragedy as home burns
It was 4 A.M. when Ethel Dawson awoke, choking and blinded by smoke. Seeing flames, she rushed to the next room and snatched her two young brothers and sister from their bed. Flames were everywhere as she guided the children down the stairs and outside. Carrying young Dick, she tried to calm the other two — although her own heart pounded with fear for the children's safety.
Re-entering the house, she aroused her parents. Less than 5 minutes after all were safe, the house was a mass of flames. "We have Ethel to thank for being alive," said Mr. Dawson later. We are proud to present THE DOW AWARD to Ethel Dawson of Orono, Ont.
THE DOW AWARD is a citation presented for acts of outstanding heroism and includes a $100 Canada Savings Bond. The Dow Award Committee, a group of editors of leading Canadian daily newspapers, selects winners from recommendations made by a nationally known news organization.

Sheltered Life a Danger Increases Lust of Lambs

DEAR MISS DIX: We are two lively girls who want to get a kick out of life. We have chances to go places and do things, but our parents are very strict and won't let us go to dances or stay out late at any entertainments. We intend to go to a business college in a city and make up for what we have missed, for we will be free. Does it do our parents any good to be strict now, for we will soon be doing as we please in spite of them?

Dorothy Dix

SWEET SEVENTEENS.

ANSWER: No. It doesn't do any good for parents to be too strict nor does it do girls any good to have too much liberty. The pity of the thing is that parents and children find it so hard to strike the happy medium in which youth can have its fling, with age guilding and protecting it.

Both sides are right from their respective points of view. Parents know so well the temptations along the broad highway that their children are so eager to follow. They have seen drunken boys and girls coming home from wild parties late at night. They have heard lurid tales of petting parties and parked automobiles. They have known so many girls' reputations torn to tatters by gossiping tongues that they are determined to keep their own little ewe lambs safe in the home fold.

In reality they have increased the danger that besets every modern girl. For by forbidding pleasure to their daughters and denying them every amusement and association with the opposite sex, they have given a fictitious value to these pleasures and made the girls so avid for them that they will have them at any price

Parents might just as well face these facts honestly and realize that the only way they can protect their daughters is by letting them have all the innocent pleasures that they can and by teaching them to walk warily among the temptations along their pathway. Let them go to plenty of nice parties where there is a lot of fun and liveliness and they will not be mad for whoopee.

Above all, make their boy friends welcome and get a chance to weed out undesirables thereby helping them to choose for their associates the kind of lads that you would not mind their marrying.

Parents should realize that they cannot always hold their girl children by the hands or keep them locked at home. Very soon these little daughters are grown up and out in the world. If they have always been repressed at home they then break the bounds. They mistake liberty for license. In the exuberance of their spirits, let loose for the first time, they do things that they spend the balance of their lives repenting.

Ignorance is never innocence. Inexperience does not insure safety. And so the stern parents who try hardest to protect their children do most to throw them to the wolves.

For there are many other girls besides these two poor, silly 17-year-olds who are planning to make up for lost time and lost pleasures as soon as they get out from under father's and mother's thumbs.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: I am married, 40 years old, have two children. Have a responsible position and make enough to support my family in comfort and I adore my two children. I am quiet, studious, a keen lover of home life and I love my wife. She is continually on the go. Not home one evening a week. Neglects her home. The children are being brought up by the maid. I am lonesome. Desperately so. So are the children. I am modern [illegible] that my wife has an individuality of her own and her own personal tastes. But I would like to have some wife and some home life. We have begun to quarrel over these matters. I have begun to brood and worry. The atmosphere is one charged with open hostility. For the sake of my children I concede her actions and mode of living, but we are getting to the breaking point. What can we do?

ANSWER: Of course, you are in the right, but being right doesn't avail much when you have to deal with a pleasure-mad woman who is intent only on the gratification of herself.

The trouble about arguing such a case as yours with a woman and trying to show her how wrong she is in neglecting her duties to her family is that before either party knows it they have lost their tempers and are in a hot fight, which is generally ended by the woman dissolving in tears and the man putting on his hat and slamming the front door behind him.

So my suggestion to you is that you write out a calm and dispassionate statement of the case to her in a letter and give it to her to be read in quiet. Tell her that you love her, and how lonely you are without her. Then tell her what a wrong she is doing her children.

Then offer her a compromise of two evenings a week out. If she refuses to agree to this, the only thing you can do is to make the best of a bad bargain for the sake of the children. But remember, it is better for the children to have no home at all, or one parent, than it is to have a home of strife and two parents who are always quarreling with each other.

Various Stuffings for Tomatoes are: Celery dice with corn or chicken or tuna; shredded cabbage with cottage cheese; chopped cucumber and shrimp; all should be generously moistened with mayonnaise, and tomatoes should be dredged with salt inside, and inverted to drain before filling.

Individual Mock Ducks are merely pieces of round steak cut to individual sizes and rolled around about 1 or 2 tablespoons onion and bread stuffing, and baked in very slow oven, basted frequently, for about 3 hours.

Eggplant Casserole is made by cutting 1 medium eggplant into cubes after paring. Place in buttered casserole, putting a little grated onion between slices. Dot with butter, sprinkle with salt and pepper, add about ¼ cup boiling water, sprinkle top with grated old cheese, cover and bake 1 hour at 350 deg, Fahr.; remove cover for last 10 minutes to brown cheese.

Potato and fresh cooked Lima Bean Salad is good where you are having a cold meal and yet want it to be hearty. Chill both the cooked potatoes and small limas, and add chopped chives, and hard-cooked eggs and salt and plenty of mayonnaise. Serve chilled.

CHILDHOOD TRAGEDY—Dolly won't dance with two-year-old Penna Ranta of Vancouver, again. She dropped the doll she calls Daisy as she was crossing a street. A motor car ran over the doll. This striking photo was taken by George Diak who came upon the child as she clutched the remains of her doll.

Takes Two Hours to Serve Ten Course Chinese Dinner

By MARY MOORE

Our ten-course dinner in a Chinese restaurant in Vancouver's Chinatown was something apart from this occidental world—and we nearly were too, for we were groggy from eating; it took nearly two hours to serve the entire ten courses—and we were eating constantly—with chopsticks I'll admit—but nevertheless eating.

Since then I have tried bribery, treachery, thievery and cajolery, but have failed to turn up the recipe for Crisp Wun Tun that [illegible] one of the most [illegible] I ever hope to taste. It was our ninth course. I am on the trail of it now—not a very hot trail, for the lawyer-husband of a Press Club friend who employs a Chinese "houseboy" (he's 70 years old) who has been known to make it when he was in his cooking hey-day. I'm trying to get it interpreted into English and then mailed to me. If and when I accomplish it I'll try making it and if it is at all reasonable or even possible to make in a Canadian kitchen I will give it to my readers.

Meanwhile you will have to struggle along on such simple little numbers as Sukiyaki, Foo Chow Scramble, etc.

SUKIYAKI: Put in a heavy frying pan 2 tablespoons fat, 1 tablespoon sugar, 1 cup sliced onion and ¼ cup Worcestershire sauce. Stir and cook 2 minutes, add ½ cup each carrots, celery and pineapple (canned) all cut into fine shreds. Cook until softened, stir[illegible] ½ teaspoon salt and 1 cup raw or cooked or canned chicken, cut in strips and cook until meat is tender, covered and simmering. Add a little water if needed during cooking.

FOO CHOW SCRAMBLE: One 8-oz. can sliced mushrooms, 1 28-oz. tin bean sprouts, butter, 6 eggs, ½ cup cream, ½ teaspoon salt, dash pepper. Drain the liquid from the canned mushrooms and bean sprouts, saving it for some other dish such as soup or sauce. Saute the mushrooms in the butter to a light brown. Add the bean sprouts and saute a few minutes. Beat the eggs with the cream and seasonings for 1 minute. Cook in malted butter until of creamy consistency, stirring all of the time. Place a mould of the mushroom and bean sprout mixture on hot plate and serve the scrambled eggs over it. Some people pass la choy sauce with this.

I had to persuade myself to make the following dish. Now, when I am having a supper party and will take the time to make this, it creates a sensation. I know I should serve it to you to convince you—but you will have to take my word for it until you try it.

HIM SOON YORK (Marianne calls it "Him soon work"—meaning it's Pete's turn to wash the dishes tonight): One cup solidly packed (⅓ lb.) fresh pork tenderloin, cut into strips ¼-inch wide and 2 inches long, hot peanut oil for frying ¼ cup peanut oil (additional), 1 very large green peper, 1 cup canned pineapple cut into 1½-inch pieces, 1 cup firm underripe tomatoes cut in 1½-inch pieces. Dip the meat into Cantonese Fritter Batter (see below); pick up one piece at a time, drop in hot peanut oil of 350 deg. Fahr., putting only a few pieces at a time into the hot oil, and fry until golden—do not let these darken—as they are cooked again for a short time.

At this stage make SWEET-SOUR SAUCE: Combine ¼ cup cider vinegar with ½ cup pineapple juice, and 1-3 cup brown sugar (solidly packed) and cook until mixture boils. Let cool a few minutes. Then mix together 1½ tablespoons cornstarch, 1 tablespoon water and 1 tablespoon salt, and stir into the vinegar mixture. (This is cooked later so do not worry about the undercooked cornstarch).

Next step is to pour into a large frying pan ¼ cup peanut oil. When hot add the green pepper cut into 1½-inch squares, the cooked pork, pineapple pieces, and cook 2 or 3 minutes mixing gently as it cooks. Add the sweet-sour sauce, blend gently, cover and cook until thick and transparent—about 5 minutes. At last fold in the tomato pieces and cook 2 minutes without mashing tomatoes. This should be served on mound of CANTONESE FRIED RICE: Wash 1 cup uncooked rice in cold water 5 times; drain. Add about 1½ cups [illegible] water, cover [illegible] to quick boil. Reduce heat and cook slowly 35 minutes. When finished turn off heat and allow rice to stand for 15 minutes covered near heat. Into large frying pan pour ¼ cup peanut oil; when hot add 1 slightly beaten egg and cook 2 minutes breaking it up as it cooks. Add the cooked rice, 1 teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, ¼ cup finely chopped green onion and about 1½ tablespoons soya sauce. Blend and heat through for 7 or 8 minutes.

The above is the fried rice served so commonly as an accompaniment to many Chinese dishes.

Yang Toast of Singapore Has Whole City at Her Feet

By MILTON MARMOR

SINGAPORE, Aug. 15 (AP)—Yang is 18 years old and beautiful, the toast of Singapore's night life.

She has a full exciting figure, a warm, seductive contralto—and the cold business heart of a 19th century tycoon.

This lovely young lady became a waitress at 13 because her parents lost their little shop when the Japanese captured Singapore. She had no education and could speak only Malay, the simple language of the island.

Today this Straits-born Chinese girl of Cantonese parents owns her own nightclub, manages her own troupe of singers, has her own program on Radio Malayan, a 1,000-piece wardrobe, a wizard's mind on finance and perfect control of her heart.

Miss Yang Phei Yuen has only to walk by the shops of Singapore to see herself. Almost every photo studio has her picture in the window. Chinese magazines vie to display her face and figure on their covers. Fan mail pours into her club. When she is ill, Singapore is sad.

When she coos into a microphone: "If you love me, will you obey me?" the undemonstrative Chinese, who make up 85 per cent. of the population, sing back: "I love you, I'll do anything you want."

Doesn't Want Love

Yang doesn't want love, she says, but she wants everything else. Many say if she doesn't leave here soon for what she hints is a Chinese movie career she'll soon own the night club industry, perhaps the island itself.

Yang does not have an outstanding voice. But she can act and she can put a song across so the average listner thinks she is singing to him alone.

She got her start by looking into band players' eyes and persuading them to let her put down her tray for a try at the microphone. The cafe went wild and Yang the waitress became Yang the entrepreneur.

Yang became the singer-manager of a big cafe. She was only 15. Soon she bought out the place, orchestra and all. She went on the radio to get her name and her place of business in everyone's ears and mouth.

Every day is a crowded one, what with business and her music studies, and there is no time for romance.

"Love? I never had a boy friend who was close to my heart," she says. "I don't go out, except to parties and with friends who don't mean anything. I have never had a love affair. I'm afraid of this thing called love."

That may be so. But there is little else that can scare the young lady, the business-minded toast of Singapore.

Beautiful Floral Setting For Wedding at Havelock

HAVELOCK, Aug. 13 (ENS)—Gladioli, phlox, snapdragons and snow on the mountain formed a beautiful floral setting in Havelock United Church on Saturday afternoon for the marriage of Nellie Grace Menzies, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Menzies of Havelock, to Orval Glen Bolton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Bolton of Burleigh Falls.

The Rev. F. R. Vanderburgh performed the ceremony and the wedding music was played by Mrs. Vanderburgh. During the signing of the register Miss Marie Vanderburgh sang "O Perfect Love.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white slipper satin fashioned on princess lines. The bodice had an inserted yoke of nylon net, tiny satin covered buttons down the back and long pointed sleeves. Her veil was of rayon net and fell to fingertip length from a tiara of seed pearls. She wore a double strand of pearls, the gift of the groom, and carried a bouquet of American Beauty roses.

Miss Ethel Menzies was bridesmaid for her sister, frocked in a gown of pink sheer crepe over taffeta, designed with shirred waistline and a wide cape collar. She wore pink mittens and her headdress was a halo of pink roses from which fell a shoulder-length veil of matching net. She carried a nosegay of pink roses and pink and blue forget-me-nots.

Brother Best Man

Everette Bolton of Guelph, brother of the groom was the best man. The ushers were Russell Menzies, brother of the bride and Milford Bolton of Burleigh Falls, brother of the groom.

After the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents for 32 guests, the bride's mother receiving in a gown of floral petty point crepe with black accessories and corsage of pink roses. She was assisted by the groom's mother who wore a gown of rose crepe with black accessories and corsage of red roses.

Later the bride and groom left for a trip to Niagara Falls and other points. For travelling the bride wore a steel blue gabardine [illegible] with pink accessories. They will reside near Burleigh Falls.

Four Generations

Among the out-of-town guests were four generations of the groom's family namely: his grandmother, Mrs. Margaret Bolton of Lakefield; his father, Norman Bolton of Burleigh Falls; his sister Mrs. Roy Adlam and niece Mary Ellen Adlam of Peterborough. Other out-of-town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Wilson and daughter Marie of Mount Julian; Kenneth Carveth of Lakefield and Keith Thompson of Trent River.

6—In Memoriams

COOPER—In loving memory of father, who died August 13, three years ago.
Calm and peaceful he is sleeping,
Sweetest rest that follows pain;
We who loved him sadly miss him,
But trust in God to meet again.
—Ever remembered by Bud and Margo.

COOPER—In memory of our dear father, Hilliard Cooper, who passed away August 12, 1946.
We cannot clasp your hand, father dear,
Your face we cannot see,
But let this little token
Tell that we still remember thee.
—Ever remembered by George and Joyce

DOUGHTY—In loving memory of William F. Doughty, who passed away two years ago, August 14.
Many a lonely heartache,
Many a silent tear,
Always a faithful memory
For him no longer near.
God gave us strength to bear it,
Courage to fight the blow,
But what it meant to lose him,
None will ever know.
—Remembered by wife and family.

ENGLISH—In loving memory of a dear husband, John Samuel English, who passed away August 15, 1945.
He will always be remembered for his loving kindness to those around him.
—Ever remembered by his wife Dorothy.

JORDAN—In loving memory of Mr. W. L. Jordan, who died six years ago, August 15th.
Gone dear father, gone forever,
How we miss your smiling face,
But you left us to remember
None on earth can take your place.
A happy home we once enjoyed,
How sweet, the memory still,
But death has left a loneliness
The world can never fill.
—Ever remembered by daughter, Mrs. H. Campbell.

MITCHELL—In loving memory of George Mitchell, who died one year ago.
One year ago today our brother was called
To his eternal rest;
Gone where the angels sing so sweet,
And taken when God knew best.
We miss him here so very much,
His presence often seems nigh,
But we all hope in Heaven to meet
Where no one says goodbye.
—Ever remembered by brother Harry, and family.

VALOIS—In loving memory of Thomas M. Valois, who passed away on 15th August, 1948.
Peacefully sleeping, resting at last,
The world's weary troubles and trials are past,
In silence he suffered, in patience he bore
Till God called him home to suffer no more.
—Ever remembered by his wife and family.

VALOIS—In loving memory of a dear son and brother, Thomas Mitchell Valois, who passed away August 13, 1948.
Nothing can take away
The love the heart holds dear,
Fond memories linger every day,
Remembrance keeps him near.
—Lovingly remembered by mother, sisters and brother.

Czech Reporters Subjected To Pressure

EDITOR'S NOTE: Correspondent A. I. Goldberg of the Associated press has returned to the United States for his regular home leave after serving as AP chief of bureau in Czechoslovakia. In this account he tells how foreign correspondents in Prague are under constant pressure from officials.

By A. I. GOLDBERG

NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—(AP).—The growing crisis in Czechoslovakia has been reported by foreign correspondents this summer without direct censorship —but indirect pressures have made the job difficult.

The man who abolished censorship in Czechoslovakia immediately after victory in Europe—Dr. Vlado Clementis, foreign minister —told this correspondent early in July that director censorship was not contemplated.

But with newspapers and radio controlled so that only the Government viewpoint can be published, and with Czechoslovaks more fearful than ever to talk with foreign reporters because the press and radio keep up a din about them being liars and spies, it has been harder than ever to get a balanced picture.

An example was afforded when Slovaks stoned a bus full of Czechs travelling in Slovakia. The Associated Press reported the incident.

Officials Irritated

Some time afterward, officials in the press department of the foreign ministry called in the Associated Press correspondent, criticized the tone of several dispatches, and demanded to know the source of the stoning story.

When told that victims of the stoning had described it, the officials laid down this principle:

"Using those people as reporters is illegal because it would be using stories from the underground and making illegal use of people against the state."

Czechoslovak Government officials did not conceal their irritation over some of the reporting of the conflict with the Roman Catholic Church.

Hamilton Man Fined For Careless Driving

William Searles, 467 Charlton St., Hamilton, pleaded guilty in police court today before Magistrate E. A. Geee of Lindsay to a charge of careleess driving, which was laid by Provincial Constable E. J. Crough following an accident on No. 28 Highway at 7:30 Saturday night two miles north of Lakefild. He was fined $10 and costs of $2.50 and had his license suspended for one month.

Searles' car went out of control on a curve, jumped the ditch and crashed through a wire fence before turning over. He escaped injury, but his only passenger, Miss Phyllis McIlmoyle, 33 Armour Rd., Peterborough, suffered painful abrasions. The car received about $450 damage. It was headed toward Peterborough at the time.

AFL Council Studies American Politics

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15—(AP)—United States politics is expected to be the chief concern of the executive council of the American Federation of Labor when it meets in Toronto beginning today.

The council shifted its August quarterly meeting from Chicago to Toronto as part of a renewed effort to promote smoother relations with neighboring trade unions.

The AFL and CIO both have joined in a move to establish a new non-Communist world labor organization. The Toronto meeting is expected to last about 10 days

Runs Quarter-Mile For Help To Fight Fire

NAPANEE, Aug. 15 — (CP) — Reg Featherstonehaugh ran a quarter-mile for help Saturday night when fire broke out on the second floor of his home, three miles east of here.

A bucket brigade, using water from the house pump, were unable to check the flames. The house was destroyed and all the contents lost. Origin of the blaze was not determined.

Featherstonehaugh bought the farm four years ago but, unable to get necessary equipment, he worked at Belleville and later in Kingston, 24 miles east of here.

Children Dash From Curb Taxi Tips One

Three-year-old Glenna Robbins 655 Park St., narrowly escaped serious injury when a taxi driven by Samuel Calladine, 446 Wolsley, was able to stop just as the front wheel of the car rested on the child's foot on Park St. Saturday evening.

Calladine took the child to the Clinic where it was found the only injury she suffered was a scraped leg. He reported to Constable C. J. McGillen that he was driving about 10 or 15 miles an hour north on Park when two children ran out from the curb. He wasn't able to stop before trapping the child's foot, which apparently was uninjured.

Parked Cars Impede

Parked cars was given as the reason for a collision of two cars in front of 587 Sherbrooke St. about one a.m. Saturday morning. Irvin Sloan, 499 Sherbrooke St., and Mrs. Rex Rose, Toronto, driving in opposite directions both said they pulled out to avoid hitting parked cars and smashed into each other in the centre of the street which was about 27 feet wide at that point.

Both cars were damaged to some extent on the left front corners with the Sloan car apparently getting the worst of it. The accident was investigated by Constable V. A. McConnell and H. W. Andrew.

Boy On Bike Bumped

An 11-year-old cyclist, Richard Simmons, 90 Princess St., collided with a car driven by Roland Prest, of Ottawa when the boy turned across George St. to go into a driveway.

The youngster received a bump on the back of the head and his back was scraped. The frame of his bicycle was bent. The accident was investigated by Constables A. G. Edmison and H. W. Andrew.

Chinese Reds Bypass Kanhsien

CANTON, Aug. 15.—(AP). — Chinese forces have bypassed besieged Kanhsien and attacked Nanking, 195 miles northeast of Canton, the Nationalist refugee capital.

The Nationalist military admitted this serious development today in the Kiangsi province fighting but said Kanhsien itself still was in government hands.

Official dispatches said the Reds swung to the west of Kanhsien, 215 miles northeast of Canton, and began an assault on Nanking, 20 miles southwest of the Kiangsi capital which the provincial government abandoned last week.

An army spokesman disclosed meanwhile that 5,000 to 60,000 Nationalist troops had been removed from the Hengyang front for fear they would desert to the Reds.

Need Co-Operation

STRASBOURG, France, Aug. 15 (Reuters)—Winston Churchill said today if Britain and France work together, a great prospect would open for all Europe. He said, "If we stand together and work and think together in the future as we have in the past, a great prospect will open not only for Britain and France but to all Europe."

1,200 Veterans Attending Legion Meet

OTTAWA, Aug. 15 (CP) — Thirty-two years ago today, three Canadian divisions, with a fourth in reserve, battered their way up the strongly-fortified slopes of Hill 70, a key point in the German lines in north-eastern France.

By nightfall, the Canadians had cracked a hole a mile deep and two miles wide in the German lines, north of Lens.

Many of those men marched with veterans of other battles and another war Sunday in a parade up Parliament Hill to mark the opening of the biennial convention of the Ontario Command of the Canadian Legion.

Later Sunday night, some 1,200 veterans stood silently in remembrance of men who died in both the world wars.

Three-day business sessions of the convention open today and some 125 resolutions—ranging from scholarship plans to internal Legion policy—are expected to come before the convention.

Takes Salute

Hon. Ray Lawson, Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario, stood at the foot of the Peace Tower on Parliament Hill to take the salute as the parade filed by. With him were veterans Affairs Minister Gregg, Maj-Gen. E. L. M. Burns, Acting Deputy Minister, and Col. L. D. M. Baxter, of Winnipeg, Dominion President of the Legion.

In opening ceremonies Sunday night the Lieutenant-Governor told the veterans the spirit of the Legion was an example of democracy in action in Canadian life.

"The issue fought for by you in those ghastly conflicts of the two world wars still prevail," he said. "In the battle for democracy, our strongest weapon is the exemplification in all our activities of a reasonable, temperate and broad-minded spirit."

He spoke after the Act of Remembrance, the formal opening service of Legion conventions.

Germany Boosts Council Chances

STRASBOURG, France, Aug. 15 (AP)—The Right-Wing victory in Sunday's West German elections has boosted that country's chances of joining the Council of Europe, observers here believe.

Intimates of Winston Churchill said Britain's wartime prime minister now would throw the full weight of his enormous personal prestige behind the battle for German membership.

They said he will probably introduce the subject Tuesday or Wednesday. Churchill had said he would take this step if the elections produced a "really free, western-type government."

Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin is reported so opposed that he may use his veto in the Upper House of the Assembly (the committee of foreign ministers) to block any discussion of Germany at this session.

He is reported to feel that the council should wait to see what the policies of the new German government will be before taking any action.

Meanwhile, members of the 12-country assembly are taking a breather before starting work on a nine-point agenda Tuesday morning.

Patients Honor Family Doctor

MONKTON, Ont., Aug. 15 (CP) —From the oldest to the youngest, the patients came back to see the "Doc" Sunday—and not to complain of their aches and pains.

The feet that over the past 65 years have worn a path down/the village street to Dr. A. F. McKenzie's dark, but friendly office, bypassed the office and headed for the large marquee erected on the back lawn.

Perth County came to honor Dr. an Mrs. McKenzie in a double celebration. It marked the McKenzie's diamond wedding anniversary, and also Dr. McKenzie's 65th year of continuous medical practice. He is believed to be the longest general practitioner in Canada.

It is estimated that more than 500 persons passed through the marquee during the three-and-one-half-hour reception.

Austrian Stowaway Stays 2 More Weeks

MONTREAL, Aug. 15 —(CP)— Leonhard Gawlitza, 22-year-old Australian stowaway who jumped into the St. Lawrence River last week from the vessel which was taking him back to Europe, will stay in Canada at least two more weeks, shipping officials said here Sunday.

Rhoner Gerhib, Ltd., agents for the Anunciada, on which Gawlitza and a Polish companion, Paul Rakosiawica, stowed away, said they will not have another vessel here until the end of August.

Do Many Things To Perpetuate Ruth's Memory

By FRANK ECK

NEW YORK, Aug. 15 (AP) — The spirit of Babe Ruth still lives.

Tuesday marks the first anniversary of the death of baseball's most famous personality, and though memories are short many things are being done to perpetuate the name of the great home-run king.

Motivating force behind the sustained drive to perpetuate Babe Ruth's memory is the Babe Ruth Foundation, an organization founded to foster and sponsor baseball "among the kids in America."

If present plans materialize, the foundation eventually will grant 25,000 awards throughout the public and private high schools in the U.S.

The foundation idea was originated by the Babe 15 months before he died, and he was the first to contribute.

Give $107,500

At the beginning of the current baseball season the foundation turned over to the American Cancer Fund $107,500, contributions from persons in all walks of life. Ruth, who hit 60 home runs for the 1927 Yankees, died of cancer at 53 after an illness of almost two years.

For years it has been said in bold type that baseball did little for the Babe after he finished his active career with Boston Braves in 1935. But if he were here today the Babe probably would be proud to know what baseball has done to perpetuate him in its Hall of Fame at Cooperstown, N.Y.

Last June ground was broken for a Babe Ruth wing at baseball's shrine. J. A. Robert (Bob) Quinn, Hall of Fame director, and former president of the Braves, says the wing should be completed in December. It will cost approximately $150,000.

In it will be place hundreds of Babe Ruth mementoes. These range from his silver baseball crown to a silk, sewn head and bust from an admirer in Japan where Ruth once barnstormed and was treated like a royal hero.

These are at Copperstown now and will be moved into the new addition along with his Yankee Stadium locker and his No. 3 Yankee uniform, a number since retired by the Yankees.

The Babe would be proud, too, to learn that Baltimore Municipal Stadium, with its 60,000 seats, is now Babe Ruth Stadium and that Jack Dunn III is managing Baltimore Orioles with whom Ruth got his start as a pitcher under Dunn's grandfather back in 1914.

Outside New York's Yankee Stadium, "The House That Ruth Built" they've named a street Babe Ruth Plaza. It will be dedicated Tuesday night. And at Forbes Field, home of Pittsburgh Pirates, there's a plaque in honor of his 714th and final home run, hit May 25, 1935, the day that he hit three home runs as a Brave. The plaque was unveiled last Thursday (Aug. 11).

Work, Not Money Interests New Ambassador To Greece

By GEORGE RONALD

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15 (AP) —George L. Magann, Canada's new ambassador to Greece, is a career diplomat who thinks foreign service offers a greater challenge than private enterprise—even if it doesn't offer as much money.

Canadian to the core—his mother's family migrated to New France in the early 1600s—Magann sees in his diplomatic life a golden opportunity to spread Canadian goodwill and an understanding of the dominion he loves, friends say.

During his 2½ years as counsellor at the Canadian embassy here, he has done much to boost Canadian stock in a city where Canada is none too well understood.

Friends recall that he gave up a prosperous business to join the diplomatic corps in 1941. Until then he had been manager of his own engineering company, which he formed in 1921, shortly after returning to Canada as a wounded veteran of the First World War.

Has War Record

That ended a war record which started with his enlistment in August, 1914, while a student at the University of Toronto. He had been graduated from Royal Military College, Kingston, the year before and was in the big fight from the start.

Magann, now 57, was born in Toronto. His middle initial stands for Loranger—his mother's name and one of the first family names in French-speaking Canada. His father, G. P. Magann, was from Dublin.

His early education was in England and France and at Loyola College, Montreal, and Trinity College School, Port Hope.

Magann was married in 1921 to Grace Isobel George, daughter of the Toronto banker W. K. George.

His diplomatic assignment was as special assistant to the Canadian ambassador here. After four years in that position, he was appointed counsellor at the Canadian embassy in Paris in 1945. He came to Washington as counsellor in 1947.

Has Month's Leave

Magann has just left Washington for a month's leave; the date he will report in Athens is not yet certain. Mrs. Magann and their daughters, Patricia and Pamela, will accompany him. He succeeds Maj.-Gen. L. R. LaFleche, newly-apponited Canadian high commissioner to Australia.

Magann confesses to a limited knowledge of Greece and the Greeks. Most of his reading in recent weeks has been about the ancient Mediterranean country.

"I'm looking forward to the assignment with keen anticipation," he said.

It's a good bet George Magann will serve Canada well in Athens.

CAHA Votes $5,000 Donation Send Athletes To Empire Games

By JACK SULLIVAN

TORONTO, Aug. 15.—(CP). — The Canadian Amateur Hockey Association, probably the largest and wealthiest amateur sports organization in the Dominion, has a finger in pies ranging from summer sports to drama, music and painting.

During the week-end, the Association came up with the announcements that dealt with $9,000 of the Association's money. In each case, the money goes for something outside Canada.

C.A.H.A. officers met at Toronto in a two-day closed session and recommended that $5,000 should be donated to the Canadian British Empire Games Association to help send track and field men, swimmers, boxers, wrestlers, weight-lifters, fencers to the Auckland games next Feb. 4-11.

Then, from Ottawa, it was announced that Toronto musician Harry Somers and Edmonton actress Milwyn Davies had won the newly-instituted C.A.H.A. scholarships, each worth $2,000, for study abroad.

To Study Music

Somers, 23-year-old musician and composer, plans to study musical theory and composition in Paris under Arthur Honegger. Somers played some hockey "as a kid" but his enthusiasm for the game now is only from a spectator's viewpoint. He submitted a piano sonata entitled "Testament of Youth" in last year's Olympic art competition in London, "but I didn't win," he said in an interview Sunday night.

The sonata was dedicated to the memory of a friend, Dudley (Red) Garrett, of Toronto, killed while serving with the Canadian Navy during the war. Garrett played the National League for a short hockey for New York Rangers of term early in the war.

Miss Davies, who can't skate but is an ardent hockey fan, plans to use the scholarship to further her studies at the Academy of Dramatic Arts in London.

Send Mercurys

Back to hockey, the CAHA meeting in Toronto decided to send Edmonton Mercurys, last year's Western Canada Intermediate champions, to the London world championships next March as the Dominion's representative. Plans call for the team to leave late in December and play 32 exhibition games in Europe and Britain.

"We realize the Edmonton club isn't the best in Canada, but we are satisfied it will be a credit to the dominion," Pickard said.

The Toronto meeting also dealt with the subject of Memorial and Allan cup final dates. It was decided that if a Quebec team wins the Eastern Canada junior title, all games in the best-of-seven Memorial Cup series will be played in Montreal and if an Ontario Hockey Association club wins the eastern title, all games will be played on Toronto ice. The series starts no later than April 22.

All Allan Cup final games will be played in the west and will start not later than April 29.

No One Replaces Will Rogers In Comedy Field

(Editor's Note: It is 14 years since Will Rogers crashed to his death in Alaska. This is the first of two articles about the comedian and the legend he created.)

By BOB THOMAS.

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 15 (CP)—Fourteen years ago to-day, a small airplane nosed into the icy water at Point Barrow, Alaska, carrying Will Rogers to his death.

Most North American adults bear a memory of hearing that tragic news and fondly recall the grinning Oklahoman who made the continent laugh.

With the years he is fast growing into a legend.

Hollywood, where he worked and lived in his last years, recalls him as sometimes shrewd, sometimes humble, but always Will Rogers.

He claimed his epitaph could be: "I never met a man I didn't like."

But, says a former co-worker, "he had no use for phonies, and could spot 'em a mile away."

Earns 3 Million

He played polo and earned $3,500,000 in eight years from movies alone, but he maintained the common touch that was his trade mark. His favorite costume was blue denim pants, a leather jacket and a sloppy hat. Concerning his grammar, he said:

"Maybe ain't ain't so correct, but I notice that lots of folks who ain't usin' ain't ain't eatin'."

He was a great kidder, but no practical joker on movie sets. Once he was given a dinner by his fellow workers, who jested that Stepin Fetchit stole the Rogers' pictures.

"Maybe so," he answered, "but I got a canyon out in the Santa Monica Mountains that was paid for with pictures that Fetch stole from me."

The McCrea Nudge

Joel McCrea recalls that Rogers gave him his first big role, as son to the humorist in a picture. On location at Lake Tahoe, the young actor was playing his first scene with Rogers, but never could hear the right cue. Rogers took him aside.

"Look, young fella, this here is a pretty good script, but sometimes I find ways to improve it," he said. "Tell you what I'll do—every time I'm through talkin', I'll give you a nudge."

That's the way the picture was made: McCrea was poked before every line he spoke.

Few people ever toppel Rogers. Studio boss Winfield Sheehan was one. The humorist was making $200,000 a picture and he thought he should choose his stories like other stars. He told Sheehan so, and the wily Irishman agreed.

Sticks to Old System

Next day a truckful of scripts was delivered to the Rogers Ranch. Will gazed at the stacks and figured he would stick to the old system.

No one has replaced Will Rogers. Radio, with its boff, bang and zowie type of comedy, seems to have killed off the kind of humor supplied by men like Mark Twain and Rogers. There is no one to match such Rogers quips as:

"Communism to me is one-third practice and two-thirds explanation."

"Mexican President stopped gambling in Tia Juana and the whole town is left unemployed. It's just like they stopped lobbying in Washington."

MOUNTAINS DIVIDE STATES

The Bitter Root Mountains, on the border between Idaho and Montana, are an outlying part of the Rocky Mountain system.

ANCIENT CITY OF STRASBOURG, which has been under both French and German flags, now plays host to a Council of Europe aiming at some form of super-national government. The foreign ministers of ten west European countries mee in the Strasbourg City Hall, with Communists conspicuously absent.

Keenest Election Battle Looms In New Zealand

WELLINGTON, N.Z., Aug. 15—(Reuters)—With New Zealand's parliament now in its final session, the gloves are off for the keenest election battle in a generation. The Dominion's Federal election is due in November, but a definite date has not been set. When the 64-year-old Prime Minister, Peter Fraser, leads his Labor party to the polls, he and his colleagues will be fighting for survival after 14 years of uninterrupted rule.

The National party, sole parliamentary opposition, has been whittling away the government's majority at previous elections and is approaching this year's campaign in a confident "now-or-never" mood.

Neither side has yet announced its election platform. But the crucial issue is whether New Zealanders, having experienced progressive nationalization since 1935, wish it to continue or whether they prefer to call a halt.

Claim Reforms Help

Labor claims its reforms have enlarged and enriched the country's economy, established social and economic security on a scale unknown before, and redistributed the national income more equitably as well as increasing real incomes and personal savings.

In a typical utterance, Fraser recently reported to the annual Labor party conference: "Not only does New Zealand today enjoy a standard of living not exceeded by any other country, but her people are the most secure in their prosperity and to democratic political freedom has been added economic freedom—freedom from want."

To these claims the National party reports that the Dominion's development is being stultified by needless regulations and controls, that Socialist spending is extravagant, that absurdly rigorous application of the 40 hour, five-day week brings New Zealand's economic life to a standstill every Saturday and Sunday, and that New Zealand's ultimate fate, if her people do not rebel in time, will be that of a semi-totalitarian state with all private enterprise and initiative frozen out.

Critics of the government accuse the government of using import controls as a virtual tariff wall to limit the choice of consumer goods, and of caring less about the expansion of production than about defending the ambitious security program which now costs more than £40,000,000 ($160,000,000) a year for a population of fewer than 2,000,000 persons.

The farming community, predominantly national, criticizes the government less for its bulk-marketing policies than for spending it in the wrong direc- spending it in the wrong diection," as one spokesman recently put it.

WA Planning To Hold Bazaar

ROSENEATH, Aug. 15 (ENS)—A picnic supper was held on the lawn of Centenary Church by the WA of the church in connection with their August meeting. The president, Miss Hilda Arthur, presided. The treasurer, Mrs. Reginald Timlin, reported a balance on hand of $39.81. A quilt was quilted to be sold at a bazaar to be held in the Township Hall in Roseneath on the first Saturday in October. Seventeen print aprons made by the members for the bazaar were also on display.

Directed Program

Mrs. Dawson Timlin and Miss Blanche Arthur were in charge of the program. Assisting were Mesdames Silas Sherwin, James Timlin, Isaac Skuce, Reginald Timlin, and the convener. Plans were made for the September meeting with Miss Jessie Sherwin as program convener. The lunch committee will be Mrs. Walton Lean, Mrs. Bruce Arthur, Mrs. Dawson Timlin, and Mrs. Reginald Timlin.

Scotch Whisky Supplies Lowest Since Days Of U.S. Prohibition

By CHARLES WHITING

EDINBURGH, Aug. 15 (AP)—The world-wide demand for highballs with a highland flavor has reduced Scotch whiskey supplies to the lowest level since the days of prohibition in the United States.

But industry leaders say there is no need to fear a drought.

The big Scots whisky combines and private distillers are confident they will be able to roll out the barrels fast enough to keep up with the international thirst from now on.

Wartime curtailment of whisky production hit the industry hard. Many thousands of gallons of Scotch were lost through enemy action. Reserve supplies were drained.

The picture is improving, however. Last year the industry distilled 25,000,000 gallons. This year it hopes to boost that figure to 30,000,000 with 13,000,000 gallons earmarked for export.

Feels Optimistic

Philip Gee, official spokesman of the Scotch Whisky Association, admitted that stocks of whisky have never been lower over here since the days of prohibition. But, he said, "men of grit and enterprise in the whisky business are inclined to see a more optimistic production sign on the horizon."

The whisky-makers have been trying since the war to make up for three years of lost time. From 1941 to 1944 the British government ordered the barley normally used in Scotch distilling diverted to the food markets. The industry also was hard hit by the manpower shortage after the barley ban was lifted.

Only 10,000,000 gallons were distilled between 1940 and 1944. The 1939 figure was 4,783,000 gallons. Production was 10,000,0000 gallons in 1945; 13,000,000 in 1946, and 15,000,000 in 1947.

Scotch whisky is kept in bonded warehouses an average of seven years before it can be bottled for consumption either in Britain or overseas.

"Therefore," said Gee, "between the lack of production during the vital war years and the time it takes fresh-distilled whisky to mature, the decline today is explained."

Police Find Body Buried Under Cement Floor In St. Catharines Building

Neighbors Believe It's Shoe Repair Man Who Disappeared July 18; Friends Report Quarrel Between Father, Son

ST. CATHARINES, Aug. 16—(CP)—Inspector James Anderson announced today police are seeking 30-year-old Bill Adams for questioning in connection with the death of his father, John Sanborski, 54, whose decomposed body was found Monday buried in the basement of his home. He said, however, that no warrant has been issued for the son's arrest. Finding of the body, entombed in a shallow grave beneath a slab of freshly-laid concrete, ended a two-week police search for the Russian-born cobbler, missing from his home since July 18. His son disappeared Aug. 6.

Police said Adams had changed his name from Sanborski several years ago.

Sanborski, a native of Russia, came here 14 months ago from Timmins. The son had moved to St. Catharines from Hamilton a short time previously.

The two men went into business in a one-storey frame dwelling almost in the shadow of the [illegible] here. Sanborski set up [illegible] repairing shop, while his son, who worked at the English electric plant, spent his spare time in a patent medicine store. Under the floor of this building the body of Sanborski was discovered after neighbors became curious about the disappearance of the father.

Tear Up Floor

Police and works department men tore up the basement floor. The body was identified by Sam Adelstein and Nick Timco, friends of the slain man, and by Frank Freeman, a neighbor. Adelstein and Timco said the body was badly decomposed and difficult to identify, but that they were certain it was Sanborski.

Police posted guards around the building and ordered residents of the area not to discuss the case. However, one neighbor told newspapermen that what he termed "strange things" had been going on in the Sanborski building.

Others in the area told of hearing a quarrel between father and son July 11 or 12. Several persons said they had not seen the shoe repairer since then.

Fred Chapis, who lives near the Sanborski building, said he last saw Adams about 10 days ago. He said he saw Adams' wife on a bus last Saturday.

One report, not confirmed by police, was that Adams' wife visited the house Monday during the investigation. She was said to have gone there after returning from a holiday with her four-year-old daughter.

Big Fruit Crop Threatened By B.C. Strike

KELOWNA, B.C., Aug. 16. — (CP).—A strike cloud today hovers over the lush fruit-crowning Okanagan Valley, threatening Canadians with short supplies this winter of canned peaches, plums and pears.

British Columbia growers, their worries increasing daily over the [illegible] year's $25,000,000 crop rotting on the trees, were told Monday night a strike by cannery and packing-house workers may be called "within a matter of hours."

A strike could be more damaging to the growers than the insects and blight they have been fighting during the last three months.

W. Sands, secretary of the Federation of Fruit and Vegetable Workers, certified union of the packing-house workers in the fruit industry, warned growers that a strike may come "on a few hours' notice."

The packing house workers voted an unofficial 79 per cent in favor of striking if the packing houses continue to refuse demands for a union shop.

No official announcement has been made from Victoria of the official count of a Labor Board supervised strike vote taken here last week.

Wages are not a factor. Both the union and employers are agreed to a formula adopted last January which bases wages on average industry returns over four-year period.

But no agreement has been reached on the union recommendation that the industry provide a union shop for all employees working more than six months.

Has Relapse Author Dies

ATLANTA, Aug. 16 —(AP)— Margaret Mitchell, the author of "Gone With The Wind," died today. She was struck down by a speeding automobile last Thursday night.

Doctors said she had a fractured skull. Fractures of the pelvis, and other injuries.

The quiet author of the famous Civil War novel was hit by a car as she and her husband, John R. Marsh, an advertising executive, crossed the street while walking to a movie near her home.

Marsh, a semi-invalid as the result of a heart attack, held his wife in his arms until police and an ambulance arrived. She was carried to the city hospital, and specialists were called.

Senators Reverse On Arms Progra..

WASHINGTON, Aug 16 (AP) —Senators reversed themselves in a stormy session to-day and ordered hearings reopened on the administration's $1,450,000,000 foreign arms program.

Chairman Tom Connally (Dem. Tex.) of the Combined Senate Foreign Relations and Arms Services Committee announced after a closed session that the groups will hear a half-dozen witnesses. They will include Henry A. Wallace and Norman Thomas, both former minority party presidential candidates.

Connally said the additional hearings, starting Wednesday, will take about two days.

Pays Debt To Law Youth Gets Paddling

ROUGE HILL, Ont., Aug. 16— (CP)—Ronald Cross, 17, submitted Monday night to 10 whacks applied with a three-quarter inch board. His debt to the law is paid.

Ordered by Magistrate R. P. Locks of Toronto, after Ronald was convicted in Oshawa court of stealing beer, the punishment was administered swiftly by his father, Percy Cross, under supervision of police.

Police said that the 14-year-old son of Nicholas Culetta now must submit to the same punishment.

New Jetliner In Air 2 Hours, Can't Land

TORONTO, Aug. 16 —(CP)— Canada's spanking new jetliner landed safely at Malton airport today after being kept aloft for more than two hours by a jammed undercarriage. She was on a test flight.

Members of the aircraft's three-man crew finally managed to operate the landing gear manually and bring the big plane down. At one point, test pilot Jimmy Orrell radioed that he might have to land in Lake Ontario.

The aircraft flew in circles over the airport to use up fuel and lessen the danger of fire in case of a crash. Air traffic about the field was brought to a standstill.

A BOMBING IN BELMONT Township on Tuesday morning scared the daylights out of farmer Ray Outwater, three miles east of Havelock on the Cordova Road. What appeared to be an RCAF twin-engined aircraft seemed to stall over his farm and jettisoned what have been identified as six smoke bombs. His two-year-old daughter Mary Ann, (LEFT PHOTO) playing in one of the shell holes, was in the house with her mother. In the (LOWER RIGHT) photo, Mr. Outwater explains how the aircraft seemed to stall, to his wife Peggy, ABOVE them is a view of the field below the barns where bombs were dropped and where a small grass fire was extinguished. US Consulate In Canton Closed, Oil Firms Leave

CANTON, Aug. 16—(AP)—The United States Consulate General in Canton has been ordered to close down before the Chinese Communists take the Nationalist capital. Authorities confirmed the order today but refused further comment. Already big British and American oil companies and other foreign firms were pulling out of the south China coastal city. The closing date of the Consulate would depend on the progress of the Red's southward march. The decision marks a change in American policy.

The obvious conclusion is the State Department by now is fully convinced the Reds will not allow any consulate to perform its normal functions unless diplomatic recognition first has been extended to the Reds.

The American Standard-Vacuum Oil Company announced it was withdrawing its entire foreign staff.

The British Shell Oil Company was taking out families of its foreign staff and foreign women employees.

Cal-Tex, another American Oil company, already has evacuted foreign families.

Most foreign firms were following the lead of the oil companies.

All transportation facilities to Hong Kong were booked solid.

Close on Foochow

This action by foreign companies came as the Communists closed in on Foochow, Southeastern China port in Fukien Province, and the Nationalists claimed limited success on the approaches to Canton.

Official reports said Foochow, 430 air miles north-east of Canton, was cut off except by sea. Heavy fighting was reported in progress around the city. Artillery was audible inside the city.

The Nationalists claimed a counter-attack had retaken Nanking, 95 miles north-east of Canton.

Hit By Truck Youth Torch

TORONTO, Aug. 16 (CP) — Tossed 50 feet into the air, his clothing aflame, 18-year-old Donald Fletcher of Toronto was killed late Monday night in nearby Langstaff when struck by a truck while holding a can of gasoline.

His body landed against a parked car in which his friend, Kenneth Grimley, also of Toronto, awaited his return.

Fletcher had gone to get gasoline when their car stalled on a Langstaff road. He was on his way back with the fuel when he was hit by a heavy truck, allegedly driven by Clifford Leff.

The gasoline exploded on impact and Fletcher's clothing burst into flame. He hurtled through the air and crashed against his parked car. Grimley was uninjured.

Firemen were called by W. Pocklinton, who saw the flash of the explosion and the youth's flaming body hurled in the air.

RCAF Reports Bombing An Accident

Explosions Leave 2-Foot Craters, Start Grass Fire

Six bombs each weighing 11½ lbs., were dropped by an RCAF aircraft at 10:30 Monday morning near Havelock. The bombs, which all exploded, fell on the farm of Rae Outwater, three miles east of Havelock, on the Cordova Road. No one was hurt, nor was there any damage done.

RCAF Public Relations officers at Trenton said today that the bombing was an accident. They are still not sure how they dropped from the plane. They were "practice" bombs and were definitely dropped by accident, the officers said.

Each of the bombs dug a crater approximately two feet deep, and one of them caused a grass fire that was put out in a matter of minutes by Mr. and Mrs. Outwater and their neighbors, Arnold Dafoe, his son Rae and his daughter Thelma. Mr. Dafoe has a farm less than a quarter of a mile from the Outwater farm.

Conflicting reports concerning the direction and number of the planes involved were received from citizens in the vicinity. The favored story is that there was a formation heading northeast, and that one aircraft dropped six bombs. Other reports were that the plane circled, and while heading south, dropped seven bombs. The nearest direct hit to any building was the one bomb which dropped within 100 feet of the Outwater barn.

Put Out Fire

Mr. Outwater was working in the adjoining field, and rushed, with his wife, and the Dafoes, to put out the fire.

Reeve Vincent Lynch of Marmora could offer no explanation for the bombing, saying that he did not know of any bombing range in the vicinity. He had not

African Plant Seeds New Arthritis Cure

NEW YORK, Aug. 16 (CP). — The Times says to-day in a Washington story that the seed of a rare African plant will supply a cure for sufferers from arthritis, rheumatic fever, and other chronic ills.

The drug to be produced from the seed is cortisone, a recently synthesized adrenal gland hormone which literally pours buoyant new life into bodies tortured by arthritis, The Times says.

The newspaper says plans have been initiated under the auspices of the United States Public Health Service to send an expedition to South Africa to obtain a large supply of the seeds. These would be transplanted in tropical areas under US jurisdiction to prevent being cut off from the drug source, as was the case with quinine and rubber during the last war.

To Lift Secrecy On Jet Bomber

LONDON, Aug. 16 — (AP). — The secrecy around Britain's first jet bomber, the Canberra, will be lifted soon.

The aircraft will be shown to the public for the first time at the Society of British Aircraft Constructors Aviation Exhibition at Farnborough in September.

Aviation experts said they expected some of th details of its construction and possibly its performance to be made known before then, indicating Britain has advanced beyond the Canberra in its research.

Larger bombers with four jet engines are known to be under development.

The RAF is believed to have using the lessons learned from the Canberra in developing a new strategy for modern air attack and defence at speeds faster than sound at extremely high altitudes.

300 Out Of Work In $500,000 Brick Factory Fire

TORONTO, Aug. 16 (CP)—Fire in the plant of the suburban Cooksville Brick and Tile Co., destroyed today more than 2,000,000 bricks, several buildings and threw 300 men out of work. The fire, believed to have started in an overheated fire box in a brick kiln, spread to several other buildings before firemen arrived. It was discovered early today by George Popovich, night watchman.

When firemen arrived, flames from the burning buildings were shooting some 100 feet in the air. They were hampered in their attempts to restrict the damage by a lack of water. Lines were strung from a pumping station enabling partial fighting.

Plant officials said they requested that firemen keep their hoses from the kilns to save at least part of the huge store of bricks at the plant. They said the plant will take at least three months to repair and then only partial production will be resumed.

The Cooksville brick works supplies most of the southern Ontario area. Officials said it is probable that a severe shortage will result.

Although several firemen and workmen fighting the blaze suffered slight burns no serious injuries were reported. Workmen coming to work today were advised by plant officials "to get your fishing rods out boys, you're in for a long holiday."

Seek 7 In Avalanche

CHAMONIX, France, Aug. 16 (Reuters). — Alpine rescue teams were searching to-day for seven persons believed carried away by avalanches on the slopes of Mont Blanc in the French Alps.

The avalanches were caused by the gradual drop of a glacier as millions of cubic yards of solid ice slipped off the rocks because of the recent drought.

The glacier already claimed one victim, a young woman of about 25 whose body was discovered naked and crushed.

Trade Quackenbush, Horeck To Boston For 4 Players

DETROIT, Aug. 16 (AP)—All-star defenceman Bill Quackenbush went to Boston Bruins today in a six-player swap announced by Detroit Red Wings of the National Hockey League.

The Wings trade Quackenbush and forward Pete Horeck to Boston. In return they get forwards Jimmy Peters and Pete Badando and two defencemen, Clare Martin and Lloyd Durham.

Detroit forward lines have been badly undermanned in the last two Stanley Cup playoffs and Red Wing manager Jack Adams said he was willing to sacrifice the dependable and popular Quackenbush to bolster them.

Right wing Peters, 26, of Verdun, Que., and left wing Badando, 24, of Braeburn, Penna., both are husky, rough forwards with high scoring records.

Quackenbush, a native of Toronto, has spent his entire big league career with Detroit. He is considered the best all-around defence player in the game today.

Horeck, from Capreol, has had an uneven career with the Wings since he came to the club from Chicago in 1947.

Martin, six-foot, 185-pound defenceman, from Waterloo, has a reputation as a crushing body checker, but an injured knee has bothered him recently. Durham spent last season with Tulsa in the United States League.

Expect Increase In Trade For Dominion

OTTAWA, Aug. 16 —(CP.— A world trade road which may bring new business to Canada has been [illegible] an informed source said Monday, but use of that road is temporarily blocked by the dollar shortage.

The source said steps in the elimination of that shortage likely will be taken when the United Kingdom, Canada and United States hold financial talks in Washington Sept. 6.

Canada's role is expected to be that of an ambassador of goodwill, trying to soften some of the diverging American and British opinions on how to solve Britain's dollar crisis and the world's dollar shortage.

Some American opinion has been that the British pound should be devaluated. Some British opinion has been that the price of gold should be raised and the flow of American investments in the U.K. increased.

Need Full Agreement

Complete agreement may help put world trade back on its feet and open the tariff road built at Annecy.

The Annecy conference was undertaken by some 23 countries, trying to sign an additional 11 nations to the 1947 general international tariff pact. The pact made for easier multilateral trade by reducing tariff discrimination among its signatories.

The source felt certain all 11 countries would sign the pact. That would mean that Canada will obtain and give non-discriminatory tariff treatment to Italy, Sweden, Finland, Greece, Colombia, Nicaragua, Dominican Republic, Haiti, Denmark, Uruguay and Liberia and to the 23 nations that are already members of the Geneva pact.

With most of these countries, the balance of trade has been in Canada's favor in the past. Extension of tariff concessions may mean greater sales for Canada in the future.

57 Fires Burn In Ontario Bush

TORONTO, Aug. 16.—(CP).—Fifty-seven fires are burning in Ontario bushland, tinder-dry after days of late-summer heat. All the blazes are under control, but forestry crews are anxiously watching for weather changes which could affect the fire situation.

The fire spots range from the Nipigon area in Northwestern Ontario to the Belleville district in the east. Nineteen new fires broke out during the week-end.

Near Belleville, fire raced through 75 acres of cedar bush in less than an hour. Belleville firemen helped check the blaze at a point where it threatened the farm house of John Haig.

Lands Minister Scott in a statement said the greatest proportion of the 19 new fire was started by negligent campers and blueberry pickers. Only two were started by lightning.

Labor Group Predicts Prosperity To Continue

TORONTO, Aug. 16—A period of continued prosperity in the United States, marred only by a few regional pockets of unemployment, was foreseen Monday by the executive council of the American Federation of Labor.

After scanning the economic picture in the United States, the executive of the 8,000-000-member labor body declared it was gratified by cumulative indications that business activity was increasing and that unemployment was levelling off.

Bicyclist Suffers Cut, Bruises To Legs

Knocked off his bicycle in a collision with a car driven by John E. McGee, 522 Sherbrooke St., ten-year-old Ross Brown, 453 Wellington St., suffered cuts and bruises to his legs but escaped broken bones.

McGee was driving north of Reid St. and as he passed Parkhill Rd. he collided with young Brown on his bicycle who, it was reported, had not stopped at the stop sign as he came west down the grade on Parkhill Rd.

The boy's bicyle was damaged and there was a dent in the hood of the car. Constable C. J. McGillen investigated.

Union Members During 1948 Hit New High

OTTAWA, Aug. 16 (CP) — Trade union membership has more than doubled in the last 10 years and more Canadians than ever before were carrying union cards at the end of last year.

The federal labor department, in its annual report on labor organization in Canada, said Monday that 978,000 members were enrolled in unions at the end of 1948.

In 1939 there were 359,000 [illegible] 912,000.

Union membership spurted ahead in two industries—construction and wood products. Construction unions added 20,000 members while unions in the woo and wood products industry added 17,500.

Union membership fell off in the mining and clothing and footwear industries.

Union organization in Canada got the green light in 1872, when parliament passed a Trade Union Act declaring that unions were not unlawful. Before that unions were regarded as conspiracies in restraint of trade and were illegal.

T.L.C. Affiliation

Nearly half the members in 1948 belonged to the 2,779 union locals affiliated with the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada. The TLC had a membership of 439,000. The Canadian Congress of Labor had 1,187 locals and a membership of 338,000.

In the Canadian and Catholic Confederation of Labor — a French-speaking labor organization with most of its membership in Quebec—there are 429 locals and a membership of 93,000 while the four independent railway brotherhoods had 41,000 members.

Newfoundland membership was not included.

The metals trade were the most highly-organized with 188,000 unionists and railways were next with 144,000. Services had 116,000 members and wood and wood products 96,000.

Slightly Easier Tone On Toronto Exchange

TORONTO, Aug 16 — (16) — A slightly easier tone appeared here to-day as activity slowed to a crawl. A few industrials slipped fractions for the first time in five sessions and golds and base metals weakened slightly.

Steels, foods and liquors led the easiness in the industrial groupings. Most losses were held to fractions with a few blue chip issues going against the trend for slight gains.

Anglo-Rouyn Mines, with property in the Rouyn district, North-western Quebec, was the highlight in golds, turning briskly for a strong gain. Seniors were mixed and the junior producers showed an easier tone heard of the mishap until 10 o'clock Wednesday night.

Losses widened in base metals as the session progressed. Sherritt Gordon absorbed early profit- taking to climb upwards in mid-session.

The reeve of Belmont Township, Ross Barrons, said that he had not heard of the bombing, probably because he was fighting a bush fire all morning and part of the afternoon. Mr. Barrons could offer no explanation for the attack, other than that he understood that there was some sort of exercise going on under the direction of the RCAF that involved a few personnel in a cross-country hike. Mr. Barrons said that lately these men have had food dropped to them by airplane.

"The last I heard of them, though," he said, "they were at Twin Lakes, 18 miles northeast of Havelock."

Used To Planes

Residents of the district said that it is not unusual for aircraft to be flying over the vicinity, and some said they had seen planes dropping parachutes in the district.

Attitude of residents was expressed by Reeve Vincent Lynch. He said, "I just don't understand it at all."

Collect Fragments

Inspector E. V. McNeill, in charge of Peterborough District Headquarters of the Provincial Police, said that the incident had been reported to him first by Chief Constable B. Bell of Havelock and he detailed Provincial Constable R. Pope to make an on-the-spot investigation. As a result Constable Pope brought back to headquarters the noses of six exploded bombs, together with several pieces of shrapnel.

Inspector McNeill reported the matter to the officer commanding the R.C.A.F. base at Trenton, this being the first intimation the latter had received of the occurrence. The inspector said that the Air Force head had asked him for a full report on the Provincial Police investigation as part of an exhaustive inquiry which the R.C.A.F. planned to make.

Husband Shoots Wife, Young Girl

SASKATOON, Aug. 16.—(CP).—A middle-aged woman estranged from her husband was killed Monday night by a shot-gun blast and police said that her husband, Jeremiah Janzen, then took his own life. A young girl also was injured by shot-gun pellets.

Police said the first victim was Rose Janzen, shot through the right side. Edna Yachuk, 14, daughter of the proprietor of the rooming house where Mrs. Janzen was staying, was injured slightly in a second blast.

The girl's father, John Lachuk, told police that Hanzen reloaded the gun after firing two blasts. Then he turned the gun on himself. Lachuk said that Janzen had rushed into the rooming house "like a mad bull" carrying the shot-gun.

The rooming house proprietor said he tried to telephone police when he first sighted Janzen but the line was busy.

Police were notified by an unidentified woman who telephoned the station,

Says Presbyterians Are Living Right

"People at St. Paul's Church must live right," was the comment of a man about town today, stressing the fact that three members of that congregation were winners at the week-end of two automobiles and a C.G.E. refrigerator.

"And they are real churchgoers, too," was his further information.

Mr. J. H. Rosenburgh won the Lions Club car, Mr. Donald Hill, Gilmour St., held the ticket for the refrigerator at the Horticultural Society draw Saturday night, and Mrs. S. Dickson Hall won a car at Gravenhurst.

"That's quite a sweep, even if it is only a coincident," said the Examiner's informant. "Probably we'll have to demand that Presbyterians be excluded if anybody else is to have a chance. Or, may be we're going to the wrong church."

Veteran Booster Of Kawarthas Car Park Tip

Morris Ackerman of Cleveland mentioned to the Examiner today a phase of the local garage accommodation for tourists which suggests for some practical correction.

"I registered at the Empress at 6.15 p.m. Saturday, but even at that early hour in the evening the only place I could get for parking my car was on the market. So far as I could find out, there was no garage open. There is obviously [illegible] wrong about that. A [illegible] not wish to take a chance on leaving a $4,000 car out in the open like that.

"Some arrangement should be made to have some garages open during the busy summer months. In fact, a hotel itself could arrange with a garage to receive cars.

"I was told that the garages close at 6 p.m. Saturday, and they don't open until 8 a.m. Monday. It may be that some one or other stays open, but I couldn't find one. So I parked on the market. This is only a matter of local planning, and doesn't involve anything more than that except inconvenience of information for the public once the garage accommodation has been fixed up."

Kawartha Publicist

Mr. Ackerman spent Monday at Forest Hill Lodge on Lovesick Lake. He has been Peterborough's unofficial tourist promoter and adviser for many years, and rates crediting as having done more in publicizing the Kawarthas through his Cleveland newspaper and radio services in other years than any other person.

"Ack" was accompanied by his wife. They both said they greatly appreciated the recognition Mr. Ackerman had always received through the columns of the Examiner. Their only disappointment was that they could not take out sufficient time for a longer stay here.

CampersBlamed For Three Fires

District Forester A. B. Wheatley of Lindsay has released the information that eight forest fires were started during the past week in Trent district. Campers were responsible for three of them, smokes two, burning rubbish two, and lightning one.

Several fires have been reported in the Cameron and Balsam Lake areas, but since this is outside the fire district, responsibility for extinguishing the blazes rests with property owners. The Department of Lands and Forests, through Mr. Wheatley, urges that campers be particularly careful with their cigarettes and campfires in the dry forests.

Two Toronto men were recently found with 51 small mouth black bass in their possession, 40 of which were under the legal limit. They now face two charges each under the Game and Fisheries Act, and their cars have been seized in Lindsay.

Offsetting these men who are destroying the potentialities of the lakes, are the anglers who are returning undersize fish to the water. It is reported that one Peterborough man caught 47 muskies, all under 30 inches, and returned them all to the water. So many of these almost-legal fish have been caught this year it is felt that within one or two years the fishing in the Trent and Kawartha sysms will be excellent.

Do You Know...

who discovered the wheel?

The wheel is one of mankind's great archeological mysteries. Although our entire civilization would be impossible without the wheel, no one can say exactly where or when the wheel was invented. The use of the wheel is thousands of years older than any recorded history. In fact, a chariot believed to date back to 3300 B.C. was uncovered in Assyria.

Do You Know . . . that the first known wheels were solid wooden discs attached to an axis which revolved with the wheel? Evidence unearthed in Asia Minor shows that it wasn't until 2700 B.C. that spoked wheels were known.

Do You Know . . . that the North American Indian, although he used sleds, never discovered the use of the wheel!

Do You Know . . . that the idea of the wheel may have been born from the practice of inserting rounded logs beneath a heavy object that needed moving?

Union Leaders Plan Drive To Organize Lindsay Labor

An intensification of union activity in the Lindsay area has been promised by Fred W. Hannah, CCL representative, and Albert Johnston, Textile Workers' Union of America (CIO - CCL). If successful union leaders hope to write finis to the Lindsay advertisements in United States' newspapers that the town offers two great advantages for prospective industries: "very moderate wage scales," and "no labor unions."

This move, they claim, is "long overdue."

Two statements made within the past month by Mayor Moore of Lindsay were seized on as indicating he recognized that low wages paid in the town were due to the absence of unions.

At a recent meeting with Major Scott, Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation representative, he was quoted by the Lindsay press as saying "wages in Lindsay are not nearly as high due to the lack of unions."

Later, in answer to a "Question of the Week" poll conducted by a weekly newspaper, he is reported to have replied: "Lindsay is not a unionized centre." This was in answer to the question, "Is Lindsay a Low Wage Scale Town?"

Few Vets Able to Get Homes

Major Scott had pointed out that according to regulations of the CM and HC, veterans applying for housing must have an income of at least $160 a month to carry the rental of that type of house. Only 22 veterans of all those that had applied were able to meet this figure, Major Scott said.

He is reported to have concluded his remarks to the Council as follows: "Frankly, gentlemen, the Corporation does not like the idea of building houses here at all. The type of houses which we are forced to build are not suited to Lindsay's renting ability."

Both representatives emphasized that other communities in Canada are getting housing units, and the same housing regulations are applicable in all cases. "This in itself shows that Lindsay's wage scale is lower than similar communities," they stated.

Needs Healthy Union Movement

The union officials claimed that the town has long needed a healthy trade union movement but that in the past those wishing to organize "met with every possible means of opposition."

"A good, healthy trade union movement goes hand in hand with a good, healthy municipal economy," said Mr. Hannah. "This is a privilege that has so far been denied Lindsay." He claimed that workers have been forced to work for comparatively low wages even during wartime and the post-war prosperity boom. Consequently they have no reserves to draw on, and even a short period of unemployment would prove to be a staggering blow, continued Mr. Hannah.

"The employment situation in the Lindsay area already is assuming an alarming picture," he stated. "If it were not for the fact that current activity in the construction field had absorbed a great number of workers, many would be walking the streets in search of non-existing employment."

Ease The Situation

"We do not expound the theory that trade unionism is a cure-all for unemployment," said Mr. Hannah, "however, it has done a tremendous job in trying to stave off any possibility of a recession, and it certainly will, if a recession occurs, ease the situation and cushion it for the benefit of all workers, union or otherwise."

"One of the most ironical parts of it all," Mr. Johnston pointed out, "is that the ads run in an American newspaper, The Cleveland Plain Dealer, soliciting manufacturers to establish industries in Lindsay, gave as two advantages of such a move — low wage rates and no trade unions."

"They probably realize by now that the American manufacturers recognize trade unions as a progressive and necessary feature," stated the Textile representative. "To advertise these other two things as industrial advantages is disgraceful. Certainly the ad proved ineffective."

"In the opinion of the Congress office, the Post War Industrial Committee might be well advised to invite trade unions into the town to stabilize that industry which is currently operating before trying to entice manufacturers into an area which is insecure from labor's point of view," Mr. Johnston told The Examiner. "That brand of advertising smacks of Feudalism."

On several ocasions recently the CCL office has been approached by representatives of various groups of workers appealing for aid in organizing in Lindsay, said Mr. Hannah.

"They were assured they will receive the fullest possible assistance in the very near future," he concluded.

Raps Feuding, Court Sides With Constable

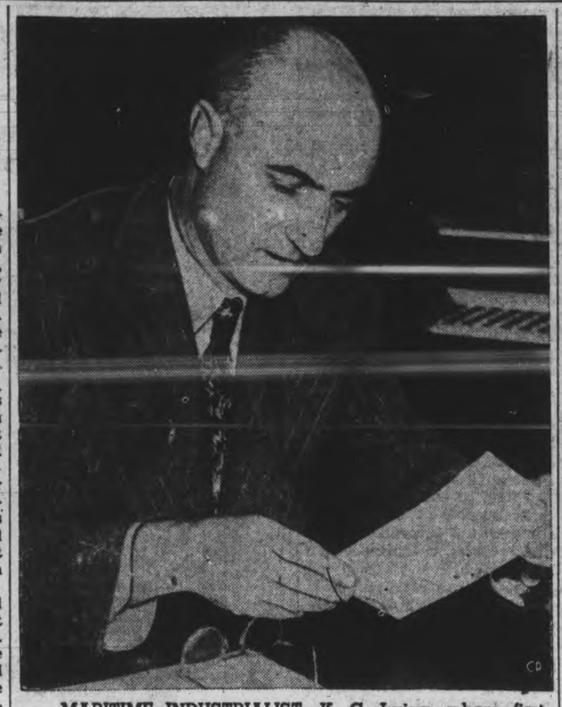
COBOURG, Aug. 1.—(ENS)—Commenting that it had all the appearances of a feud between the constable and the accused, Magistrate R. B. Baxter Monday levied a fine of one dollar and costs against Don Sidey of Bewdley for not having the license plate of the current year displayed and the same fine for operating his car without a muffler. The automobile, a 1934 model, was used to haul a trailer loaded with garbage from the Sidey tourist cottages to the township dump.

Constable Douglas Hilliard, recently-appointed constable for Bewdley, said that he had checked up on Sidey for having his license number in the windshield instead of out in front and that on August 6 Sidey passed him with no plate in front.

"I told him about it and he said that he didn't have to put in front of his car," testified the constable.

Sidey told the court that he couldn't get a bracket for his old model car to hold the license plate and that it was his custom therefore to stick it in the windshield. He recalled Constable Hilliard telling him to get his muffler fixed, but claimed that Hilliard made no mention at the time about the license. Furthermore, provincial police told him it was all right to have it in the windshield.

"The regulations say 'in front' of the car," observed the magistrate. His Worship asked Crown Attorney Harry Deyman, who was in court on another matter, what the ruling was and Mr. Deyman saaid that the act said it was to be high and clearly visible on the front. The place to expect to see it would be right at the front of the car.



Still Represents Law

"I realize that there is a difference of opinion between you and Sidey," the magistrate said to Constable Hilliard. "The constable was duly appointed by the police committee of the village, although I understand that there was a meeting at which his dismissal was discussed, but I see he is still in uniform and so long as the police committee confirms him as remaining in office, then he represents the law. Perhaps the constable might be willing to have the charge withdrawn. Apparently relations between these two men are not very amiable."

Constable Hilliard said that he had previously warned Sidey about the muffler and even had crawled under the car to see if the car had a muffler. "I couldn't find one. There was just a piece of loose exhause pipe.

"He told me about the muffler," Sidey testified. "I thought he had just given me a warning. That was on Saturday, August 6. There was no chance to get a new muffler right at once and on the following Monday I got a summons.

"Mr. Sidey has lived in Bewdley a long time but he stitll has to obey the law," said the magistrtae. "A constable has to do his duty, but he should not let personalities enter into his relations with other people. A friendly attitude will accomplish more than a belligerent one. I have not heard of any other complaints about the constable being vindictive. I don't think he is the aggressive type," said the magistrate.

Urges Veterans Support Pact

OTTAWA, Aug. 16 (CP) — Premier Frost of Ontario Monday night urged veterans to support the Atlantic Pact and maintenance of Canada's armed forces.

"Because we lost our ideals, the second world war came," he said. "We must never lose them again. We must never neglect our armed forces."

He spoke at a banquet meeting of the biennial convention of the Canadian Legion's Ontario Command.

Veterans Minister Gregg spoke briefly at the meeting. He is scheduled to address the convention today.

The Legion's Dominion President, Lt.-Col. L. D. M. Baxter, of Winnipeg, said that Canada should be ready if the day came when she had to fulfil her obligations under the Atlantic Pact.

Mr. Frost said that all Canadians must be ready to guard their freedom.

"Our freedom, which is sometimes slightly regarded, has been purchased at great cost. Our country must ever be grateful to those who gave their lives for the measure of freedom we now enjoy. We must be ever grateful to them because they wanted a free world and gave their lives for it."

Plan Special Branch For Conservation

LONDON, Ont., Aug. 16 (CP). —Setting up a special conservation branch in the Ontario Agriculture Department may be recommended at the next Legislature session, T. R. Dent, MPP for Oxford, said in an interview on Monday night. Such action was urged in several briefs presented to the Legislature Select Committee on Conservation which held hearings in Western Ontario in recent weeks. Mr. Dent is a member of the committee.

Mr. Dent said that under existing legislation it was "difficult" for municipalites to start large-scale conservation projects.

Bigger Interest In Calf Clubs Receives Praise

CAMPBELLFORD, Aug. 16 — (ENS). — "Holsteins cannot be approached by any other breed" Lindsay Anderson, secretary-treasurer of the Northumberland Holstein Breeders' Association, told the Rotary Club at its noon luncheon on Monday. "Richard Honey of Dartford," he said, "a Shorthorn breeder, started breeding Holsteins in 1892. Since that time many fine herds have been developed in Northumberland County, and have proved themselves large producers of both milk and butter fat."

Very Popular

He said that Holsteins were imported from Holland to the United States. Later they found their way into Canada where they have become very popular with Canadian cattle breeders.

He paid tribute to the excellent work of the Junior Calf Clubs. He said that he had been associated with calf club work for many years and was surprised at the growing interest among boys and girls in this line of endeavor. "Some of the young people," he declared, "can teach experienced breeders the finer points of a good cow."

The speaker was introduced by Bert Taylor and Bob Bateson moved the vote of thanks. President Charles Calver was in the chair.

Charge Soviet Makes Money On Iran's Share of Caviar

By FRED J. ZUSY

TEHRAN, Iran, Aug. 16—(AP)—Russia is making a lot of money off caviar—usually thought of as a delicacy of the so-called capitalist class. Iran, Russia's southern neighbor on the Caspian Sea, charges that the Soviet is making much more than it should—at Iran's expense. The two countries have had a joint agreement since 1927 on the caviar fisheries in the Caspian—reputedly the greatest caviar source in the world.

Caviar, as you know, is nothing but fish eggs. But the sturgeon in the Caspian are supposed to produce the best, or some of the best, caviar known to connoisseurs.

The Iran-Soviet fisheries, operating of the southern coast of the Caspian—in Iranian territory—is owned 50-50 by Russia and Iran. According to the concession, which expires in 1952, Iran is supposed to get 50 per cent. of the profits.

Iran claims not only that the Soviet is raking off most of the profits in one way or another but that the Russians are exploiting the fish reserves to such an extent that the sturgeon is near extinction.

Grabbing Everything

Informed opinion is that Russia has no intention of renewing the concession and is getting all it can while the getting is good.

There is no accurate estimate on the caviar take. The books are kept by the fishing company's Russian managers.

One source estimates it at a minimum of 40 tons annually. Considering their tiny size, that's a lot of fish eggs. Export value is figured at $40,000 a ton. On the 50-50 basis, Iran should receive at least $1,000,000 a year.

But the Russians, sticking to the terms of the 1927 agreement, which specifies payments in Iranian rials, credit Iran only with yearly fixed royalties of 800,000 rials. At the greatly depreciated current value of the rial, that's about $25,000. One Tehran newspaper argued recently that because of currency depreciation and a 3,000 per cent. increase in the market price of caviar, Iran now should receive 24,000,000 rials royalties yearly.

As it is, Russia is now in arrears even on the insignificant royalties.

The Trans-Canada Highway Again

The Trans-Canada Highway, so long discussed, may become a reality within the next five years if the Minister for Reconstruction, Mr. Robert Winters, has his way. He wants to get to work on the highway next spring, but first of all he must secure agreement among the provinces about the route. The provinces are to benefit if they can provide new roads, or existing roads, which are fit to be included in the highway. This is not difficult for such a province as Ontario; many good roads exist, and a route across the province can be chosen without too much trouble. On the prairies, on the other hand, it is a very different matter.

* * *

Consider, for instance, the problem of a pass through the Rockies. Alberta wants the Yellowhead Pass to form the trans-Canada route, as a matter of provincial development. British Columbia, on the other hand, wants the Kicking Horse Pass to be used; they must thrash it out between themselves, and if work on the highway is really to begin, they must do so quickly.

* * *

It is a curious fact that Canada has reached its present stage of development without a transcontinental highway. At last it lies in our power to have one, and upon comparatively easy terms. The total cost is estimated at $400,000,000, and the Dominion is ready to foot about half of the bill. In Mr. Winters we have a Minister who is anxious to complete the job, and who does not think of it as a relief project, or something to be attacked when everything else has been done. Prospects for a Trans-Continental Highway are the best that they have ever been.

Tube For Toronto

Toronto decided three years ago it must have an underground railway, and hopes to make a beginning on its next month. Toronto had hoped that the Dominion Government would pay one-fifth of the total cost of this project, and is vexed because the Government is now cold toward that idea. On the face of the matter we cannot see why the Dominion should pay any part of the price of an improvement which will benefit Toronto alone. If the Dominion Government helps Toronto to build a tube railway, why should it not help Montreal to do the same thing? Ottawa is wise, we think, to treat such a proposal with caution, or it will shortly find that it is expected to pay part of the cost of similar tubeways in every provincial capital in Canada.

This apart, Toronto needs an underground railway badly. Its streets are narrow, and it suffers from the disadvantage of having an unusually long main thoroughfare in Yonge Street. The street railway is slowed up by motor traffic, and motor traffic is slowed up by the street railway. The crowding and confusion at rush hours is as bad as anything to be seen in New York. And more and more people are finding that it takes them half an hour of longer to get from their houses to their places of work, which makes city dwelling burdensome.

Underground railways can move great numbers of people more quickly than any other form of transport. They vary greatly in efficiency, however. The New York underground is dirty, noisy and disagreeable. The London underground is clean, efficient and very cheap. Toronto is starting from scratch and we hope that it is London, rather than New York, which it has chosen for its model.

The Child Takes A Hand

We read with interest that a child of [illegible] suing his parents in the New York Supreme Court for $50,000 because their divorce has had an unfavourable influence on him; he asserts that the divorce was procured by collusion and wants it annulled.

We do not believe in this precocious and litigious infant. Minors cannot sue anyone. Some guardian is doing the suing, and appears to be using the child, as a sympathy-getter. It seems to us that such action is even less likely to make the child happy than the divorce of his parents.

It is often said that the children of divorced parents suffer keenly, and that their future lives are unfavourably affected as a consequence. Our own observation, though not wide, contradicts this assertion. Many children of divorced parents grow up to be just as happy and as responsible in their attitude toward society as the children of marriages which have endured. It is often the case, also, that the children of one marriage adjust themselves happily to the circumstances of a second marriage.

No doubt children suffer in some instances of divorce, but the unanswerable question is: do they suffer any more than they would if their parents remained married, but were estranged? Children are quick to sense any unhappiness in the home atmosphere, and it makes them miserable. To preserve a bad marriage for the children's sake could result in great harm to the children.

For children are tough and resilient. If they have proper care for their health, and one loving parent, they can survive many vicissitudes. We must point out that there are many seemingly respectable homes where love of any kind is a stranger, and children suffer there just as seriously as in the home of the divorcee.

The law is not a toy for children. We think that little boy in New York would be well to drop a case which his elders have not been able to solve.

Tourist Courtesy Works Both Ways

We read with interest that the Chicago Motor Club has blacklisted the Sault Ste. Marie district, because many of its members have been overcharged in stores and camps, the police have laid too many petty charges against them, and the local fishing grounds are fished out. It is a serious thing for a large motor club to blacklist a community in this way. It shows, among other things, that tourists are beginning to organize for their own benefit, and are not content to accept whatever happens to them in a holiday area without protest. It shows, also that the exploitation of tourists can bring heavy reprisals from the tourists themselves, for the decision of the Chicago club will quickly be known to all the other motor clubs in the U.S.A.; the Sault Ste. Marie district will feel the weight of this reprisal. It shows that it is dangerous to advertise sporting attractions which are of doubtful reality. It shows, in fact, what every reputable community knows, which is that the only proper way to treat tourists is with courtesy and fairness.

We do not suppose for a moment that everyone in the Sault Ste. Marie district has been cheating tourists, but it only needs a few unscrupulous operators in a district to ruin its reputation.

In this matter of tourist courtesy there is, however, another side to the story. We hear many stories of tourists who are rude, off hand and domineering toward the people with whom they are dealing. We know of instances in which unusual courtesy has been met with discourtesy. That sort of conduct leaves a bad taste behind it; it invites discourtesy in return, and although it does not excuse cheating, it does much to explain it.

We must be polite and strictly honest in our dealings with tourists. That goes without saying. But it is not too much to expect that tourists will be polite to us in return. We invite them to come here, but after all, it is our country.

Weddings In The Past

Reprinting an editorial from this paper on the subject of noise and wedding processions, the Bowmanville Statesman has this to say:

Who are we to complain or object to jubilant noises at weddings? The editor of The Statesman well recalls the days before autos came in vogue when it was customary for the newlyweds to be driven to the station in a polished cab with driver decked out in silk hat, Prince Albert coat and patent top-boots driving a team of well groomed horses. On this particular occasion we sat on the box seat with the driver ringing Auctioneer Levi Tole's big hand-bell as the happy but embarrassed newly weds were driven through the countryside to the station.

Most people who marry are proud of what they have done, and it has long been the custom for them to make a noise about it.

NOTE AND COMMENT

Coffee beans, we learn, can be made into soap. Several restaurant proprietors have stumbled on this, unwittingly.

A boy in London, Ontario, has swallowed a magnifying glass. We can imagine circumstances in which he will reverse the usual state of boyhood, and his stomach will look bigger than his eyes.

A London Letter

From CONRAD FROST

THIS week the London spotlight swings on marriage, murder and manners. It would seem from over the top of this London-facing typewriter that marriage is cheaper, murder safer, and manners have deteriorated. The new Finance Bill has cut the cost of marriage by license this month by 10/1d. Marriage licenses are now exempt from the stamp duty of 10/- which brought their cost up to £2.12. 6d, and certificates cost 2/6d no longer bear a 1d stamp duty. Most celebrated and lovely penny-in-pocket bride will be film star Angela Lansbury, whose Chelsea wedding to Peter Shaw is boiling up into an affair on the Rita Hayworth scale as far as publicity goes. But the bride who really made the news last week-end was the Swedish girl who became the first girl to be married here in an airplane. Mari Palmgrist had come to Liverpool to marry her sweetheart, Sigvard Anderson, whose ship was at Liverpool. They found that British regulations demanded 15 days residence, so chartered a plane, flying out over Liverpool Bay. Outside the three mile limit the pilot circuited whilst a Liverpool clergyman performed the ceremony!

* * *

AS for murder, with the horrid 'read all abart it' Haigh case still distastefully in the mind, with a private showing of a new film 'Obsession' which parallels the acid-bath murders case, the Royal Commission on Capital Punishment has been sitting in London. It comes as a bit of a shock on a dark and shadowy night, to realize that the murder chart shows a one in five chance of getting away with murder in 1949. Those are reasonable gamblers' odds. And if you care to think of it as a double, if you do get caught you still have a one in ten chance of not hanging. Interesting, if morbid, to compare the odds with those in Scotland where the law is reputed 'a little easier.' North of the border the chances of being detected fall to one in nine, whilst if you are caught it's seven to one you don't hang! And meanwhile murder gets more violent in method.

* * *

THERE is a post war violence not only in the manners of murderers but also in the 'bird' from the gallery, and the retort from the footlights. For instance a justifiably incensed gallery, which had paid good money for bad fare, booed Bobby Howes' opening night of "Roundabout." Mr. Howes, who recently performed an ungraceful floperoo on television screens to home audiences who could only switch off, slanged his "live" audience back from across the footlights, and on both sides good manners became lost in bad tempers. Best mannered man I ever met was the war-time pupil pilot, an army lieutenant hopeful of a flying career, whom I had the unpleasant task of giving his suspension test. He took the verdict with unperturable calm, saluted, retired to his billet, put the radio on and shot himself. No fuss, no outburst, no excuses, and we never suspected—until it was too late—a fixed ambition to avenge a shot-down brother.

* * *

MEANWHILE, evil in spirit, evil in name, London's 95-year-old jail for women, bleak and sprawling Holloway, is the scene of such outbreaks of bad manners, that the noise of the nightly "choir practice" echoes at last beyond the small houses that surround the prison. The law-abiding citizens of Holloway shut their windows at night, turn up the radio and try to drown the frightening cacophony they call, with a nice touch of irony, the "choir practice." And behind the high walls seventy women wardresses try to control five hundred frenzied and hysterical young women, most of them the dregs of human society, many of them expectant mothers, their average age, twenty-three and a half.

* * *

THIRTY wardresses have resigned this year. A mass walk out of the remainder is only avoided by frantic appeals by the authorities. The wardresses complain that a recent experiment in prison reform leaves them with inadequate disciplinary powers. But the prisoners scream out against cold and dingy cells, nauseating sanitary arrangements, and hideous undergarments, rough, knee length, tied with tape. There are no nylons in a British prison. One final spotlight on the question of crime shows that neither the devilish "choir practice" of Holloway Jail, nor the alarming increase in brutal murder, are things likely to solve themselves. For there is a frightening jump in crime incipient. In 1938, 28,116 juveniles were found guilty of serious crimes—a juvenile being any person under seventeen. Last year the figure was 44,477; a jump of nearly 50 per cent.

* * *

MOST London stores are hurriedly opening "Export Only" departments, shops within shops, packed with the things Britons can make but may not take for themselves. All foreign visitors' purchases are sent to their homes, or to their ships or planes. One big store serves 800 foreign customers a day, most of them Americans. Most popular buy? Top quality British nylons at 8/10d a pair. But there are no nylons in the ordinary hosiery department of a British shop. Independent candidate for a Kent seat at the next election will be "Dr. 2,108"—a cypher that reveals rather than hides the identity of Dr. E. F. St. John Lyburn. Last year the Doctor removed the brass name-plate containing his name from outside his house in fashionable Tunbridge Wells and substituted "the number Mr. Bevan sent me". Earliest limousine outside Mayfair's exclusive Claridge's Hotel each dawn makes a 5.30 a.m. call for the hotel's top celebrity guest. Marlene Dietrich starts work that early, has to be driven out to Elstree where her film star day begins. Bunting and coloured flags across Malvern's ancient High Street proclaim the first Festival for 10 years, dedicated to Bernard Shaw. But whilst the hotels do well, local citizens complain. The youngsters complain because for 10 years the Festival Theatre has been a cinema; now there is only one movie house in town. The taxpayers kick because they have to kick in as ratepayers on a £20,000 rebuilding bill for the theatre.

* * *

THE gay mask of London nightlife begins to grin from an unfamiliar face. The new licensing laws have killed the bottle parties as "dead" as their own crates of "empties". So the bottle parties are all becoming clubs. The Astor is meeting local and exacting safety regulations by stripping its walls of the famous draperies. Churchill's, whose all glass roof nightlifers have never suspected, the Orchid Room and the Embassy, will all be registered clubs.

With competition for business likely to be fierce when the summer tourist trade dwindles, expensive bands and cabarets are being booked. The Astor and Colony, ringing the changes on two bands between them, will face a music bill of about £900 a week.

London-after-dark incident of the week involved film star Gene Tierney, working in a Strand street scene from eight in the evening until midnight for "Night And The City". The cameras remained after Gene went back to her bed. At 4.30 a.m. 75 extras were still strolling up and down St. Martin's Lane for a final scene, most in evening dress.

Then the sun began to rise on a new day. They finished work, leaving 110 technicians and cameramen to tidy up the mess before the traffic began to roll.

HOPING FOR THE WORST

China's Oldest Enemy

(NEW YORK TIMES)

LAST week, in the letter with which he transmitted the State Department's White Paper on China, Secretary Acheson touched on China's oldest and most grievous problem. This is simply that the Chinese people as a whole do not get enough to eat. No Chinese government has so far solved this problem. As Secretary Acheson said, "a large part of the Chinese Communist propaganda consists of promises" that they will solve it. Now we have word that instead of growing better, conditions are likely to grow worse. Reporting to this newspaper from Hong Kong, Tillman Durdin cites the melancholy prediction of experts that "conditions of misery and disruption unsurpassed in this century are foreseen."

There are some immediate causes for this apprehension. The civil war has displaced populations and interfered with production. Floods and droughts have cut the output of rice in the south and of grain in the north. Normal trade is disrupted. The continuing conflict operates to close the ports to outside aid. During the next few months the United States may have to ask itself whether it will try to get the Communists and the Nationalists to permit the shipment of supplies for purely relief purposes. Whether there is good faith enough on the Communist side to insure that such supplies would not be used politically is doubtful. Ambassador Stuart, who has come to advise with the State Department, may be able to throw light on this question.

But behind the present terrible emergency, behind the swift advance of an armed dogma which takes no account of human life, there are conditions which inevitably keep many millions of Chinese near starvation. With more than three times the population of the United States, China is only one-third greater in area. For every twenty miles of railway that we have, China proper has but one mile. There is an even greater contrast in highways. The result is that food surpluses, such as they are, cannot be moved into areas of want. There may be comparative plenty in one province while people in another province a few hundred miles away try to solace their dying hours by eating roots and barks. Overpopulation is certainly not the whole story. The whole story would have to include the inability of the Chinese people to apply modern techniques to the production and distribution of the necessities of life.

No other country in the world is more in need of the sort of technological aid backed by Western capital that was outlined in President Truman's Point Four. If China were free and at peace the work of raising her wretched living standards to a tolerable level could begin at once. It could begin with private funds, for with a guarantee of freedom and peace such funds would be sound investments. Humanitarianism in China could earn a reasonable return. This is the sort of thing that the Communists denounce as Western imperialism. In the past there is no doubt that Western investments in China have been arbitrarily used and that the good of the Chinese has not been an important objective. That kind of imperialism is dead or dying, as it should be. The Western world is ready to offer China and the Chinese a new lease of life.

* * *

THE force which is now in a position to prevent this is one which has been imposed on the Chinese in the name of democracy and with the avowed purpose of aiding the common man. This force is not democratic, and what it has brought to the common man wherever it has gone is misery and fear. Our opportunity to help China is cut off. Hunger, the oldest enemy, and communism, the newest enemy, have joined forces. No one can foresee the immediate result except in terms of widespread and ghastly suffering. But we believe that if the masses of the Chinese could understand the whole situation they would not see as friends the new barbarians who have once more rolled down from the north.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

And the Lord said furthermore unto him, Put now thine hand into thy bosom. And he put his hand into his bosom: and when he took it out, behold, his hand was leprous as snow. And he said, Put thine hand into thy bosom again. And he put his hand into his bosom again: and plucked it out of his bosom, and, behold, it was turned again as his other flesh. And it shall come to pass, if they will not believe thee, neither hearken to the voice of the first sign, that they will believe the voice of the latter sign. (Ex. 4: 6-8.)

* * *

And Jesus went about all the cities and villages, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the gospel of the kingdom, and healing, every sickness and every disease among the people. (Matt. 9: 35.)

* * *

And when he had called unto him his twelve disciples, he gave them power against unclean spirits, to cast them out, and to heal all manner of sickness and all manner of disease. (Matt. 10: 1.)

* * *

After these things the Lord appointed other seventy also, and sent them two and two before his face into every city and place, whither he himself would come....And the seventy returned again with joy, saying, Lord, even the devils are subject unto us through thy name.

And he said unto them, I beheld Satan as lightning fall from heaven. Behold, I give unto you power to tread on serpents and scorpions, and over all the power of the enemy: and nothing shall by any means hurt you. Notwithstanding in this rejoice not, that the spirits are subject unto you; but rather rejoice, because your names are written in heaven. (Luke 10: 1, 17-20.)

12-Year Ban Lifted

(London Daily Mail)

After 12 years' battle with the censors, the Embassy Theatre, Swiss Cottage, London, has obtained permission to give the first public performance in England of an American play that ran ten years in the United States.

The play, "Tobacco Road", by Jack Kirkland, is about a group of primitive, sub-human "poor whites" mouldering on a derelict tobacco plantation in Georgia.

It played to £600,000 in New York and £750,000 on tour, but was banned in five American cities and caused 35 law suits.

The Lord Chamberlain has repeatedly banned it in England on the grounds of its tough language and the depravity of its characters.

Now the Lord Chamberlain's office has finally passed it for the public, with one line cut, on condition that it is played sincerely and authentically.

Simple Life Appealed To Will Rogers

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Aug 16 (AP)—The real Will Rogers has become overshadowed by the legend that has grown in the 14 years following his death

But the memory of the "Poet Lariat" remains fresh in the minds of those who worked with him in the movie industry

"He wasn't an actor," says one. "He was something greater than that—a philosopher."

"He was a shrewd man under that sky exterior," says another. "He knew people liked him folksy and plain, and he kept himself that way."

"He would stroll through the commissary and stop to chat with anyone," says another. "He always sat in the north-west corner of the place and shirley Temple, Warner Baxter, and Henry King had the other corners."

Onions Favorite

He was a millionaire who used to eat chili and raw onions for lunch. Lew Borzage, brother and assistant to Frank Borzage, who directed Will's first talkie, recalls how Irene Rich once asked Rogers to lay off the onions.

"We are doing a close scene this afternoon," she pleaded. That day he had a whole onion for lunch.

The studio built him a fancy Western dressing room, but he hardly set foot in it. He could often be seen sitting in his car on a studio street, hunt-and-pecking out his newspaper column.

No Closeups

"All I know is what I read in the papers," he said, and he read plenty of them to find news to comment on. He could recall an insignificant news item that had been printed months before.

Rogers disliked close-ups.

"Give 'em to the girl," he would say. "Nobody wants to look at his homely pan." Likewise he was a difficult man to hold still for a photograph, and he was no favorite with lensmen and reporters. He was a difficult interview.

UNIONISTS CONFER—Top men of the powerful American Federation of Labor, William Green, right, AFL president, and Dan Tobin, head of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters came to Toronto this week to discuss problems of the 8,000,000-man labor body at the AFL's quarterly executive council meeting. The unionists hoped to find Toronto a cooler place than some city in the sweltering "heat belt" of the United States.

Parents Recognize New Era Teenage Life Faster, Later

DEAR MISS DIX: I am of the opinion that if husbands would help their wives more with household duties there would be less divorce. I am a married man and it is a pleasure to me to help my wife all I can. Women get tired of doing the same thing over and over every day and they should have vacations just the same as men.

C.M.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: You are dead right.

Dorothy Dix

Probably no woman blessed with a husband who helped her wash the dishes and put junior to bed ever thought of looking up the trains for Reno. She knows that she has drawn the capital prize in the matrimonial lottery. To understand why women set such an inordinate value on their husbands' helping with the housework, one has to delve into the mysteries of feminine psychology. It isn't really because the wife is overworked or tired or even that the man is of any actual assistance. What the wife values is the husband's gesture, a sort of recognition of the hardness of the wife's job and the husband's attempt to lighten it.

In their hearts most wives are envious of their husbands. They feel that their husbands have got the soft end of the matrimonial bargain. They think that their husbands' work is a soft snap, a pretty store or a handsome office in which he spends most of his time hearing or telling funny stories and going out to lunch, whereas they have to toil all day in the monotony of the home, doing the same tasks over and over again with no more thrilling conversation than that furnished by the baby who says ga-ga or the children who fight and cry half the time.

Hence, when husband comes home at night and says he is tired, and when he leaves wife to get the dinner and wash the dishes and put the children to bed while he reads the paper, she feels herself a poor, miserable, persecuted martyr and thinks how much harder she has worked than he has and that if anybody is tired she is the one.

We are always talking about women helping their husbands by taking an interest in their business. The reverse of this is equally true, and if a man wants his wife to be a good housekeeper, he can stimulate her by praising her cooking and helping her with her budget and taking a genuine heart interest in the running of the home.

Of course, women need vacations. There is nobody on earth who needs a vacation as much as the housewife. Because the home is more or less a treadmill in which women are forever cooking meals which are eaten as soon as cooked, sweeping floors that are littered again within an hour, washing little faces that are dirty the next minute, women need a change every now and then.

When a woman slacks down on her housekeeping, when she begins to nag, when she begins to pick on the children and find fault with everything they do, she needs a vacation. She is fed up on domesticity, and if she can go away for even a few days she comes back with her nerves straightened out and a new perspective on her job.

If there is enough money in a family for only one person to have a vacation, give it to the wife. Then everybody will get the advantage of it.

DOROTHY DIX.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: We are two girls who do not drink or smoke, but who go out with some nice girls and boys, always to respectable places. Sometimes to the theatre, sometimes to a dance at the church hall. But our problem is, how late should we stay out? As I work I cannot leave before 9 o'clock and as Dad insists on us being home at 12 o'clock it breaks up the evening's fun. Dad asked us to write to you to settle the time definitely and what you say goes. Do you think 1 or 2 o'clock is too late for Saturday night?

TWO SISTERS.

ANSFER: Certainly not for Saturday night because you can sleep late the next day but too late for a week night if you have to get down to work early in the morning. Tell your father that parties begin at later hours than they did when he and I were young.

It is a pity, because both boys and girls need their sleep and would be the better for being in bed by midnight, but we can't change customs. We have to accept them.

DOROTHY DIX.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: What is your opinion on make-up? If we go down the main street with our lips and cheeks painted men say "hello baby" to us and we make a hit, but if we go about without any lipstick and rouge they don't notice us. Give us your advice on this subject.

BOOTS AND BUBBLES.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Cosmetics are a virtue or a vice, according to the discretion with which you use them. It is all right for a girl to use enough make-up to improve her looks, but all wrong for her to use enough to make her conspicuous. When you go out painted up like a house afire and men call "hello baby" to you, it is an insult and not a tribute to your attractions.

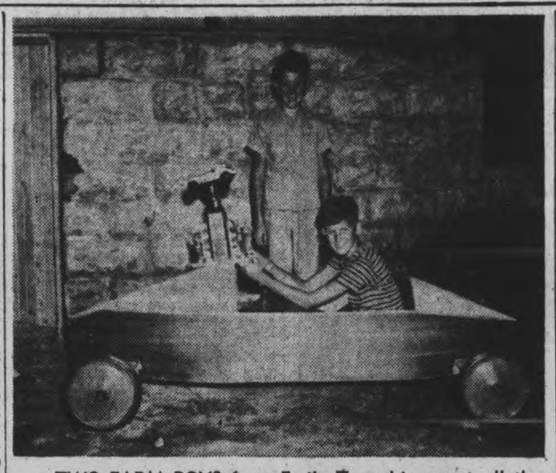
Tourists' Ideas Of Kawarthas Basis Of Survey

What is the average American tourist's opinion of the Kawarthas as a place in which to spend his summer vacation? Manager James M. Fraser of the Peterborough Chamber of Commerce hopes to get the answer to this question in the near future by means of an arrangement which he has just concluded with a leading Canadian research organization which is doing a similar piece of work for the Ontario government.

The research group has supplied Mr. Fraser with some 1,500 questionnaires. He has prepared a form letter to go with each one and is mailing them out in the next few days to various information sources. About 50 will go out to resort operators who are members of the Chamber of Commerce, 200 have been turned over to the Junior Chamber of Commerce tourist bureau on No. 28 Highway, and 250 to the Lakefield Chamber of Commerce for their tourist information bureau.

Type of Questions

The questionnaire will seek detailed answers to questions having to do with the following matters: direction signs, availability of publicity folders, type of activity desired, cleanliness of resorts, water and highway safety, type of accommodation preferred, how resorts compare with others they have encountered, courtesy of policemen, waitresses, etc., facilities for buying food, liquor, sporting goods, etc.



The questionnaire ends with this significant question: "Considering everything, would you recommend Ontario (the Kawarthas in this case) to your friends as a vacation area?"

Prove of Value

Mr. Fraser feels that the survey should prove of inestimable value to the future of the tourist trade in the Kawarthas in that it will enable the Chamber of Commerce to pick out whatever flaws there may be in the present set-up. Then and then only will it be possible to take corrective action toward remedying the faults that need attention. Naturally, he is hoping for some bouquets, but he will welcome candid opinions on just what may or may not be wrong with things as they are.

Seated in the car is Alon Storey, 12, who won in the senior competition, and brother Ray, 10, junior winner stands behind, both very proud of their car and the Vincent Cote Trophy they won perched on the hood.

Two Emily Farm Youths Soap Box Derby Champs

Crouched in the bucket seat of their brand new and untried soap box racer, two boys from a farm near Omemee took turns at sweeping most of the events in the soap box derby held in Lindsay at the Rotary Fair.

Alon, 12, and Ray, 10, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Ermond Storey, won the senior and junior events and the Vincent Cote Trophy and one of the prizes for the best designed racer. Between them, they collected $50.

The 78-inch car, which was built in a week just in time for the races, cost about $6. The boys' father is a carpenter and the youngsters had access to his tools, including a power saw. The wheels were the only parts they didn't make themselves.

Because there were no paved roads around their farm, the boys didn't have any chance to try their racer out before racing day.

The elder Alon didn't have any plans for spending his $25 prize money. He said he thought he would race in the derby in Peterborough next summer. He is a Grade 8 student in Bethel Public School.

Ray collected $15 for his win in the junior event. The boys are distant relatives of the well-known Red Storey from Barrie who played a number of years on the Toronto Argonauts.

US Labor Leader Forsakes Reds

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16 (AP) —For the third time with two months, a left-wing United States labor leader has said that he used to be Communist but no longer belongs to the party.

Maurice Travis, secretary-treasurer of the Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers (CIO), issued a statement in Chicago Monday. He said he had signed a Taft-Hartley non-Communist affidavit, and that he has reluctantly resigned his Communist party membership.

Previously, Donald Henderson, National Administrative Director of the Food and Tobacco Workers (CIO), and Max Perlow, secretary-treasurer of the Furniture Workers (CIO) made similar announcements.

This development marks another chapter in the bitter struggle within the CIO between the anti-Communist majority and a minority of left wing-led unions.

All three men made their announcements in connection with their signing of non-Communist oaths under the Taft-Hartley Act. In these statements, they did not renounce Communism as a faith.

British Daily Raps Criticism Of Canada

LONDON, Aug. 16 (CP)—The Dail Express today editorially rails against British criticism of Canada for receiving 20 cents more for wheat than the $1.80 a bushel fixed by the International Wheat Board.

The newspaper, recalling the years when Canada provided Britain with wheat well below prevailing world prices, says:

"How can it be pretended that Britain has any reason to complain of her treatment at the hands of Canada in the wheat agreement?"

The Express, owned by Lord Beaverbrook, also finds that Canada has rendered Britain financial help amounting to £1,487,000,000 ($5,948,000,000).

"When in all history has one small nation done more for another?" the Express asks.

Backs Off Scow

NAIRN CENTRE, Ont., Aug. 16 (CP) — Clifford Johnston was drowned Monday when his automobile backed off nearby Spanish River scow. Johnston is believed to have lived in Sudbury, 38 miles east of here. Johnston was accompanied by Joe Paul, and his son, both of Sudbury. The scow had crossed the river and Paul tied the ferry to shore before Johnston drove the car off. When he turned around, Johnston and the car had disappeared into 12 feet of water.

Beverage room hours now are from 11 a.m. to 6.30 p.m. and 7.30 p.m. to 10 p.m. Previously hours were from 2 p.m. until 10 p.m.

QUEBEC, Aug. 16 (CP)—The liner Empress of Canada arrived here Monday night from England. Among her passengers was the well-known journalist Beverley Baxter, here for a speaking-tour of Canada. Yousuf Karsh, internationally famous photographer was also aboard the Empress after a 3½-month trip to Europe to take pictures of outstanding artists and writers in connection with a new book he is preparing.

Ottawa River Rapids Tamed By Huge Des Joachims Dam

DES JOACHIMS, Que., Aug. 16 (CP).—Workmen look like flies against the immense concrete dam that is to be part of a 480,000 horsepower hydro-electric plant.

Twenty-five hundred men are working on this Ontario hydro project that will partly fulfill the demands of a power-hungry province.

Well over half of the 900,000 cubic yards of concrete needed to mold the dam has been poured. The dam stretches 2,400 feet over three channels of the Ottawa River 110 miles northwest of Ottawa.

Looking down on the scene, it's like a pool of water held back by a matchstick with only a trickle seeping through.

Directing operations on this gigantic job are project manager Angus Richardson and resident engineer W. M. Hogg.

They have blocked two of the three river channels spanned by the dam. Work is proceeding now to close the third—on the Ontario side. As the flow of water is stopped, the river backs up behind the dam. What is becoming a narrow lake 2½ miles wide in places, should stretch 25 miles upstream by October.

To Farm a 60-Mile Lake

The water level, now 405 feet above sea level, is rising steadily. It is expected to rise another 30 feet by October. By the time it reaches the 500-foot level, the lake will reach back 60 miles to Mattawa.

Water escapes at the rate of 20,000 cubic feet per second through temporary sluice ways on the channel not yet shut off. The sluiceways—rising in height to 100 feet—are being closed off by concrete. A control dam 1,600 feet wide north at McConnell Lake will direct the river's flow once the Ontario channel is sealed.

Meanwhile 1,500,000 cubic yards of rock will be gouged out over a 7,000-foot stretch below the dam. This is a tail-race through the rapids section of the river. It will guide water that comes pouring through the dam.

While some workmen check the river's flow, others are busy on the face of the main dam installing giant tubes—penstocks—that will convey water from the top of the dam to the turbines below. Two of eight penstocks are now in place.

Still other men are pouring concrete for draft tubes through which water will spill into the tail race channel after churning through the powerhouse turbines. Four of these are finished, two of the remaining eight are getting attention now.

It's an $86,000,000 project. Eleven thousand acres of land have been cleared. Thirteen miles of provincial highway have been diverted. By October, 23 miles of railway line will have been rebuilt.

Westclox Girls Beat CGE To Make PWSU

Westclox beat CGE 7-4 at the Bowl last night in a Girls' Softball League playoff to declare a victor to enter PWSU playdowns Wednesday against Kingston's Intermediate A team here. Their second win in a two-of-three series, the Clockers will now meet Kingston, but the playoff for the city championship will be held later, according to President Bill Bennett. Westclox had won the opener of this series Saturday afternoon. A fair-sized crowd saw last night's tussle.

It was a good game, but errors hurt the CGE cause and they did not hit in timely fashion. Westclox earned the duke with a heads-up variety of ball, back of steady twirling by M. Downer, who gave but eight hits and fanned four. Mary Perrin's support was not good. A. Anderson, J. Vass, B. McMahon, and M. Batley all looked good. A. Anderson had four hits for Westclox, T. DeCarlo topping CGE with three, one a double.

A & P Victorious

A & P eliminated the hard-fighting Post Office team two games to one in the Foresters Softball League semi-finals when they won 16-8 at King Edward last night. They now go into the best-of-five finals against the COF squad for the Bert Austin Trophy, no opening date being set yet.

Wallwork started on the Posties' mound and had poor support, Coombs finishing it up. Richmond started for the A & P but gave way in the sixth to O'Toole. Play was close the first while but errors crept in and the score gradually mounted, with Post Office coming out on the short end of it.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Scoring marks for the Petes' senior lacrossers are in tonight, likewise the sadder side of the list showing minutes served in penalties. Brampton Excelsiors, currently leading the loop, comes here tomorrow night for an 8.45 fixture in Miller Bowl, and the Petes will fight hard for that one. Also the one here gainst Weston on Friday. On account of the Creighton crew are but one point back of Weston as they battle down the stretch toward the last playoff spot. Just six more games for the Petes, three of them this week—they go away Saturday. If the local gutted-stickers go tomorrow like they did last Friday in beating Mimico, they should be in there yet.

* * * * * *

A twilight attraction tomorrow eve is the final COBL scheduled contest here at six in Riverside between Oshawa Merchants and the Petes. A forerunner perhaps of the league finals, though the Petes will have to eliminate Batawa in semi-finals first. Merchants have first place tucked away in the old gunny sack, whilst Brockville are in the cellar and out of the race. Petes finished second, right on the Merchants' heels, and they'll try hard to humble the cocky Oshawa outfit Wednesday p.m. It might be Lefty Dadson against Knights or Michael this time on the mound. Anyway, the game should be an interesting one.

In Aid Of The Minors

In an effort to get the City Baseball League solvent again, wiping off some of the loop's hefty debt, Eddie Murphy and Dit Clapper are arranging a couple of exhibitions of more than passing interest. Ed is pitting his Petes against local oldtime COBL stars next Tuesday at six p.m., and yesterday's diamond elite will be out in force. We hope the customers will, too. Then on Sept. 8, Dit Clapper is lining up an exhibition men's softball fray at 8.30 in the Bowl between city league all-stars and a bunch of NHL aces. Dit has four promised from Canadiens as well as several players each of Boston and Toronto so far, and will have a prominent team shortly. Both games are to aid minor baseball here.

Co-Pilots Hancock and Fontaine vow their Uniteds will pin back the ears of Cosmos tonight at 8.30 in the Bowl to get back in the City Softball League finals. Well, they pretty nearly have to, as another loss would be well-nigh fatal. It's a four-in-seven serial with Cosmos capturing the first two. So, it should be Uniteds' turn tonight, but Cosmos may feel they have 'em on the run and it's no time to slip a notch now. Weather being right, these finalists will pack in another huge crowd as men's playoffs always prove hot affairs, even when errors creep in. Haven't the haziest who will start on the rival slabs this tilt.

Kingston And Westclox

Westclox girls will represent Peterborough in the PWSU intermediate "A" playdowns, opening tomorow eve at the Bowl against Kingston lasses. The ad is in elsewhere. The Clockers clicked last p.m. with a 7-4 win o'er CGE to earn the right in two tilts of a best-of-three series, necessarily abbreviated as time was running out on 'em. But the city playoffs will be run later when time is more available as complications arose just before this short series. It's too bad and we'll have more to say again on why let any provincial body hurry a local loop up too much, deriving many players of action and many more fans of their favorite sport. But don't forget the big playoff at the Bowl tomorrow night.

* * * * * *

Secretary Albert Watkins of the City Baseball League announces these playoff games for tonight: East vs. south peewees at 6.15 at the Orphanage to open best-of-three finals; east and south bantams 6.15 at the Ex. to start two-of-three finals; east and north midgets 6.15 in Riverside in the second of their best-of-three finals, East City having won the opener; and west vs. south juveniles at 6.15 in Trojan Field, a sudden-deather with the winner opening best-of-three finals against east tomorrow eve at the same time in Trojan Field. Our bantam, midget and juvenile winners will enter OBA playdowns in about another week against Oshawa victors. More info on further local games shortly.

Teach Children To Swim Red Cross Aim

The Water Safety program of the Canadian Red Cross as a means of preventing deaths by drowning was outlined by the originator of the program, Professor "Griff" Griffiths of Lakefield, assistant director of athletics at the University of Toronto, at Monday's meeting of the Rotary Club.

Mr. Griffiths said the program was designed to operate with the help of volunteer instructors in the rural areas of Canada where pools are scarce. He said it was the purpose of the program to stress improved ability and efficiency of swimmers rather than caution.

Drowning ranked second in accidental deaths among children of high school age and for this reason the Canadian Red Cross thought it extremely important to teach children to swim safely at an early age.

The water safety program laid stress on safe basic strokes such as the breast stroke and the side stroke as well as treading water and floating. Water safety officials consider it necessary that people be able to swim at least 300 to 400 yards to be able to cope with an accident.

Pilot Program

The program which is about five years old used the Lakefield project as a "pilot program." It was an experiment to find out how a community would respond and assist the children. From the very first it was a success, Mr. Griffiths said.

One of the big difficulties, especially in the small towns and rural areas was a lack of artificial pools. But natural lakes, rivers and pools had been put to use with success in the summer months. The water safety officials have been able to work through private camps, cadet camps, welfare camps, service club projects, and community programs such as the Lakefield one in promoting water safety.

Hastings Beaten By Campbellford

HASTINGS, Aug. 16 (ENS)—Campbellford defeated Hastings on Monday night in the Hastings Park, 16-11, in the first of a best of three OASA playdown before a good crowd.

Crossen started for Campbellford, but was blasted off the found in the third when Hastings crossed the plate five times. Anderson relieved him, but followed Crossen to the showers in the fourth when Hastings once more garnered five runs. Robinson took over and held Hastings scoreless for the remainder of the game.

Tucker was the big gun in the Hastings attack with two home runs off the right field fence, while Scott came through with a double and a homer.

Payne started on the mound for Hastings, and after a shaky start in the first frame, when Campbellford gathered seven runs, settled down till the sixth when Campbellford did a repeat performance.

Scott relieved, and in his first role as relief pitcher did a grand job allowing but one hit and taking out six via the strikeout route.

Ready To Play

GLOVERSVILLE, N.Y., Aug. 16 (AP) — Gen Hasson, playing manager of Pittsfield Indians, Monday left hospital and will be ready to play this Saturday. Hasson, leading hitter of the Canadian-American League, was taken ill Saturday night during a double-header with Gloversville. He suffered a "muscle spasm of the chest," his doctor said.

Here and There In Sport

By The Canadian Press

Dave (Sweeney) Schriner, who will be 38 years old Nov. 30, made a quick trip to North Sydney during the week-end and club officials report he signed to play with the Cape Breton Senior Hockey League club.

Club President Ed Swyers, who confirmed the report that the former National Hockey League scoring leader and all-star player had signed, declined to comment on rumors that Schriner, fourth in the Western Canada League scoring race last year, was being considered as coach.

"As far as we are concerned Lex Cook is our coach," Swyers said. He added that Schriner would be first in line if Cook were not available.

Club officials said Cook, a hockey mentor for 10 years, had signed to lead North Sydney Victorias. They withheld comment on the announcement he had been named chief scout of Cleveland Barons of the American League.

It appears that Ezzard Charles, whose hope for universal recognition as heavyweight champion rests on his ability to eliminate all possible challengers, could do worse than hire Jersey Joe Walcott as an assistant eliminater.

The venerable Jersey Joe effectively put Sweden's Olle Tandberg into the also-ran ranks with a five-round knockout in Stockholm Sunday night, thus making one less chore for Ezzard.

Walcott's victory over the so-so Swedish fighter really did little to alter the heavyweight picture, except possibly to strengthen his hope that he might qualify for a return bout with the partly-crowned Charles.

Speaking of "iron man" pitchers, what about I. A. (Corky) Corraeini?

Corky went the route Sunday as his Italian-American softball team won a 1-0, 42-inning game at Kenosha, Wis. The contest, decided by Corraeini's single in the 42nd frame, took four hours and 10 minutes.

Bert Greer, sports writer for the Winnipeg Free Press who was assigned to cover the Morden, Man., golf championships during the week-end, wound up winning the event himself. Greer, former Calgary city champion, finished the 27-hole contest with a 98.

At Cooperstown, N.Y., home runs accounted for all but one run Monday when Syracuse downed Toronto 9-5 in an exhibition game between the International League teams.

Frank J. Shaughnessy, league president, said it was the first of a series of annual exhibition games at this eastern New York community, the birthplace of baseball.

At Springfield, Ill., Charming Grattan, entry of the Hayes Fair Acres stable of Duquoin, gave the grand circuit's midwestern inaugural a great start Monday, turning two heats in identical time of 2.01 3/5 to win the pacing stake for 2.24-class horses.

Driven by Dr. H. M. Parshall, Charming Grattan defeated a field of 11.

Raise Good Sum At Pie Social

HAVELOCK, Aug. 16 (ENS)—A successful pie social and entertainment was held at Victoria United Church, Belmont Township, Friday evening, when the proceeds from the door receipts, sale of pies and donations amounted to $85, with expenses at $7.50.

The attendance of over 165 persons included many tourists from the lake area. J. Ralph Watson, student minister in charge of the Belmont Mission for the summer months, was in charge of the program.

Varied Program

The programme included community singing with Donald Pollock as accompanist; violin and guitar selections by Misses Roberta and Barbara Brooks; accordion solo by Miss Barbara Pollock; vocal duets by Miss Peggy Wrightly and Herbert Dawson; vocal duets by Misses Marinna and Barbara Pollock; vocal solo by Roy Moore.

The committee in charge of the pies comprised Mesdames Arthur King, Clarence King, Arnold Dafoe, Murray Fraser, Earl Dafoe and Frank Varty.

East City Victors In Midget Opener

East City defeated the Northenders by a 12-2 score to open the best-of-three midget City Baseball League finals in Riverside Park. Jack Heffernan's crew from over East turned in a good effort with their sights set on OBA playdowns. Pitcher Leo Sullivan allowed but three hits as he struck out a dozen and had fair support. Jim Telford did the receiving. Sullivan also aided his cause by getting three hits in four times up.

Bob Craw pitched the first game of his career for Walt Dinesen's northern squad and allowed but six hits in a neat chore, while sending nine back on strikes. His support was shaky. Jones caught for the losers. This game went but eight innings since the teams had to vacate the park for another contest. The next game was expected for tonight, but will be announced elsewhere in The Examiner.

1878 Runner Keeps Pace

WINNIPEG (CP) — It wasn't much of a chore for W. V. Stevenson, of Winnipeg, to blow out the candles on his birthday cake—all 90 of them.

Nicknamed the "Black Horse of Mount Forest," Mr. Stevenson was champion runner of the world way back in 1878. He says he still has "lots of wind."

He gives his recipe for longevity in one word—activity.

"Some people are so lazy they won't even run for a street car," he said.

He claims walking is wonderful for the constitution—and he ought to know. At 90 he is still hale and hearty, stands six feet two inches and is as traight as a young man. He has been said to walk a mile a day.

"Shoot—that's nothing," said Mr. Stevenson, shaking his thick, white hair emphatically. "I walk two to five miles every day."

Of course, he has heredity on his side. His father lived to be 104, his mother to 87. His sister was 92 when she died. A temperate man, Mr. Stevenson plans to beat his father's record. He was born in Mount Forest, Ont., and came to Winnipeg in 1882.

REMEMBER WHEN—

By The Canadian Press

The great Lou Gehrig equalled Everett Scott's major league baseball record of 1,307 consecutive games 14 years ago today. The New York Yankees' first baseman started his "iron man" streak June 1, 1925, and in 14 years played 2,130 consecutive games. He died June 1, 1941.

Excelsiors Crush Weston 21-8, Athletics Win

By The Canadian Press

Brampton Excelsiors further fattened their averages by drubbing Weston Lions 21-8 in an Ontario Lacrosse Association senior game last night.

St. Catharines Athletics, paced by speedy Fred Hildebrand, downed Hamilton Tigers 12-10 in the second senior fixture Monday.

Brampton strengthened their league leadership in a game which featured a run-in between Weston's Red Downer and Referee J. J. McDonald. Downer was penalized a match penalty for taking a few punches at the arbiter, none of which landed.

Leading snipers for the Excelsiors were Harry Graham with six goals, Ollie Raine with five, and Jerry Hillson three.

St. Catharines kept close watch on the ball during a hectic third quarter and staved off a Tiger onslaught in the fourth frame. Hamilton outplayed and outscored the winners in the second quarter but couldn't continue the pressure.

One of the largest crowds of the season saw Hildebrand score the first and second goals and hammer in three more in the third quarter to spark the Athletics. Jack Dorney was best for the Tigers with three markers.

Protest Reversed In Girls' League

Outboard Marines are back in the race for the Girls' Softball League championship, following a protest meeting last night. Marines had lost out on a previous protest meeting on the grounds that Pat Williams hadn't participated in three league games before entering semi-final playoffs against CGE. On a replay of a game, CGE won out and went into finals against Westclox, the latter taking this final series. So now, Westclox opens PWSU playdowns here tomorrow night against Kingston. But the executive has decreed that the city playoffs to declare a local champion will have to be re-opened shortly.

In winning his protest, Manager Al Watkins, of Marines, waived the right at another crack at making the PWSU playdowns, but will insist on another city series. His protest was won when nothing could be found in the local constitution whereby a player had to take part in three league games before playoffs. Instead, the constitution followed PWSU rules, and the latter simply called for players to participate in three games before going into provincial playdowns. Pat Williams thus qualified for Marines.

Sox Close In On Yankees Trounce Washington 3-2

By RALPH RODEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Boston Red Sox are beginning to sniff that world series money.

The Sox, presumed dead on July 4 when they occupied fifth place, 12 games off the American League pace, charged within three games of New York Yankees Monday night by beating Washington 3-2 as the Yanks dropped a 9-5 decision to Philadelphia.

Washington carried the Red Sox 11 innings before submitting. In the previous five games of the series, the Sox had punished Washington pitching for 55 runs. The six-game romp over the Senators enabled the Sox to end their 23-game home stay with a 19-4 record and seven straight victories.

Joe Dobson went all the way for Boston, as did Sid Hudson for Washington. Dobson led 1-0 going into the ninth, when the Senators squared matters.

Take Lead

The Senators took a 2-1 lead in the 11th with Sam Dente singling home Johnny Simmons from second, but Boston tagged Hudson in the last half for the payoff runs on doubles by Billy Goodman, Dom DiMaggio and a single by Ted Williams. Williams' hit, his lone safety of the evening, broke up the game.

The Athletics came from behind to nip the Yanks, scoring five runs in the sixth inning to overcome a 3-4 deficit. Rookie right-hander Duane Fillette was the victim of the uprising. Eddie Joost singled home the tying run, Ferris Fain singled across two more and Sam Chapman doubled in another pair to clinch matters. Carl Scheib started and finished for the A's and the triumph evened his record at 8-8.

Cleveland's third-place team also kept its hat in the ring, shading Detroit Tigers 4-3 in 10 innings at Cleveland. The Indians are four games away from the Yankees.

Bobby Feller beat Lefty Hal Newhouser in the tight encounter that ended when pinch-hitter Hal Peck singled with the bases loaded and one out in the 10th. The victory was Feller's sixth straight and 12th of the year.

Feller had a 2-1 lead going into the ninth when Vic Wertz belted his 13th homer with Dick Wakefield aboard to put the Tigers ahead 3-2. Bob Kennedy sent the game into overtime with his fifth homer in the bottom half.

Blanks Browns

The best-pitched game of the evening was turned in by Lefty Bill Wight, of Chicago White Sox, who turned back the Browns 8-0 on two hits in St. Louis.

Harry (The Cat) Brecheen hurled St. Louis Cardinals to within a half game of the National League's front-running Brooklyn Dodgers as he pitched the Cards to a 5-2 triumph over Chicago Cubs in the Majors' lone day game.

Brecheen limited the Cubs to six hits and collected three of the Cards' 12 blows. Stan Musial poled his 20th homer and a single.

Pittsburgh Pirates outslugged the Reds in Cincinnati, 9-7.

All other clubs enjoyed an off day.

Bowman Pitches Jersey Giants To 6-4 Triumph

By The Associated Press

Jersey City fans are booming Giant manager Joe Becker for the International League "manager of the year" title.

The Big Giants took two of his stars, Hank Thompson and Monte Irvin. The Giants also sold his regular first baseman, Elbie Fletcher, to Boston Braves and sent one of his top pitchers, Wes Bailey, to their Minneapolis American Association farm.

Despite the player raids, Becker has his club in third place today, only three games behind the pace-setting Buffalo Bisons and one game behind the runner-up Rochester Red Wings.

Lefty Roger Bowman, who toiled for Becker at Sioux City in the Western League, pitched the Giants to a 6-4 triumph over the Bisons Monday night.

Bowman held the Bisons to four hits by two of them were George Byam's 16th homer of the season and Ray Coleman's 18th four-bagger of the year.

Coleman's poke came in the fifth inning with two on and tied the score at 4-4. The Giants cracked the tie in the eighth., rapping Saul Rogovin for two runs on a trio of singles.

Rogovin previously had whipped the Giants six straight times. He fanned 11 but walked eight and yielded nine hits to suffer his fifth loss against 12 triumphs.

Split Twin Bill

Montreal Royals pulled into a fourth-place tie with Toronto Maple Leafs, splitting a doubleheader with the Baltimore Orioles.

Baltimore took the opener 5-3, scoring three runs in the seventh inning on doubles by Butch Woyt, Bingo Binks, Red McQuillen and Hank Arft's single to win.

The Royals bounced back and won the finale 7-2. Clyde King scattered 10 Baltimore hits to post his 16th victory in 19 decisions.

Chuck Connors, who drove home all of Montreal's runs in the opener on his 13th and 14th home runs of the season, knocked home two in the finale, as did Rocky Bridges.

The other teams were idle.

Ohio Tourist Enjoys Stay At Rice Lake Brings Four Other Parties To Ontario

A Mount Vernon, Ohio, tourist enjoyed his stay at Rice Lake this Summer so much that he not only plans to come back again to the Kawarthas next year, but has also been instrumental in prevailing upon four other parties to come to Canada for their vacations. In a letter just received by Chamber of Commerce Manager Jim Fraser, Louis W. Copits, member of the Photographers Association of America, states that two of the parties are going to Rice Lake, one to Georgian Bay, and the other to an as yet undecided destination.

Mr. Copits wrote Mr. Fraser in reply to a form letter sent out by the latter, his name having been secured from the Dominion Travel Bureau, Ottawa. Mr. Fraser enclosed with his letter several folders on the Kawarthas and Mr. Copits writes that it was as a direct result of his distributing these among his friends that they have decided to come to Canada.

The Mount Vernon man said that next year he and his family would like to stay at another place in the Kawarthas, such as Stony Lake "where we could get a cottage and catch some large fish." He wanted to know "which is the best lake in the lower Kawarthas?"

Mr. Copits concluded by saying that "people in Canada are very nice to tourists from the United [illegible] and one) and would like to make another next year if all goes well.'

Seek Bigger Grants

TORONTO, Aug. 16 (CP) — A deputation from the Ontario Hospital Association confers with Premier Frost and Health Minister Kelley today to seek an increase in government maintenance grants. Th province now pays a grant of $2.35 a day on every public ward bed in hospitals with nursing and medical schools; $1.76 a day to smaller institutions without schools; and $1.41 a day for convalescent hospitals.

A GRANDPAPPY PICKEREL, weighing 12½ pounds, measuring 31 inches long and 18½ girth, was taken last Friday at Chandos Lake by John Little of Monaghan Rd. Chandos Lake people said it was the largest they had ever seen and could be a record for the district. It was taken by trolling during Mr. Little's four-day vacation in that area.—Examiner Staff Photo.

Ontario Crops Worth 900 Million

TORONTO, Aug. 16 (CP). — Agriculture Minister Kennedy of Ontario Monday estimated that the province's agricultural crop this year will be worth $900,000,000.

Back in Toronto after a three-weeks' tour of the province, Mr. Kennedy said: "It won't beat last year's record of $1,017,000,000, but it will be a good average year."

Mr. Kennedy motored to Port Arthur and the Rainy River area. He then flew to Sault Ste. Marie and the Sudbury district.

He said he was "most impressed" by the Rainy River crop, and the remarkable number of men who are returning to the farm in that district.

"In the Rainy River district before the war there were 1,400 farmers. During the war, the number fell to 900. Now there are 1,200. After the war they stayed in the factories, now they are returning to the farm. It's a healthy sign."

New Service Aids Navigation

OTTAWA, Aug. 16 — (CP) — An expanded meteorological forecasting service, designed to improve aids to navigation on the St. Lawrence river, goes into operation Monday.

The news service, under the jurisdiction of the Transport Department is an extension of former marine weather services and completes the establishment of improved forecasts for all shipping lanes in Eastern Canada.

The service makes available marine weather forecasts to shipping from Lake Superior over the whole St. Lawrence waterway system and around the Maritimes, Newfoundland and Labrador coast. During the summer navigation season marine forecasts are provided for the Hudson Bay route.

Bulletins for the St. Lawrence river will be prepared by the Dominion public weather office at Montreal and will be issued three times daily, at 6 a.m., 11 a.m. and 6 p.m. EST.

The early morning forecasts will predict the weather for each day ending at midnight. The two subsequent forecasts will extend until midnight the following day.

The broadcasts will be transmitted by Transport Department radio stations at Montreal, Quebec, Father Point, Que., and Fame Point, Que.

U.S. Airport Officials Delay Pipe Band

SYRACUSE, N.Y., Aug. 16 — (AP)—The RCAF pipe band was delayed in its appearance Saturday at the annual Scottish games at nearby Liverpool when airport traffic managers kept the band's plane "stacked in the air."

Maj. John Laurie said the plane was refused permission to land at Hancock Field at Mattydale after its flight from Montreal because it was not included in the list of arrivals scheduled.

Flt. Sgt. Bernard Connors then circled municipal airport at Amboy for about three hours before given permission to land, Laurie said.

On the ground, the 24-man band was held up again because the airport customs office was closed.

An airline official brought a customs officer from Liverpool stadium where the games were held.

Pry Out Six Injured In Head-on Collision

OTTAWA, Aug. 16 (CP) — Police and rescue workers struggled for nearly an hour Monday night to pry six persons—three of them seriously injured—from the wreckage of a car and a truck four miles east of here.

The two vehicles collided head-on. Ambulances stood by and rushed all six to hospital.

The two passengers in the truck —Adelarde Gregorie, 43, of Hawthorne, Ont., and Victor Seymour, 59, of Brittania Heights, Ont.—were in serious condition.

Also badly injured was Jean Wade, 17, of Marionsville, Ont., a passenger in the car.

Three other persons in the car were slightly injured.

Today we Live in a Greater Canada

They Drained a Lake

to give Canada a Great New Industry

IT HAPPENED in Ontario's Rainy River District. Steep Rock Lake — fifteen miles long and ranging in depth from 40 to 265 feet — was emptied by batteries of giant pumps. Finlayson Lake was lowered by draining from the bottom. The course of the Seine River was completely changed. And one of the richest bodies of iron ore on the continent was uncovered. Providing millions of tons of ore a year — with enough uncovered for years to come — Steep Rock's development has been spectacular, but it is only ONE of many examples of Canada's tremendous modern advance. Today we truly live in a Greater Canada—one with productive capacity vastly increased and diversified, offering to young Canadians greater opportunities than ever before in every field of endeavour.

The iron and steel manufacturing industry presents another spectacular example of development: productive capacity and number of employees have been doubled since before the war, striking indication of Canada's new position as one of the world's great industrial nations.

SO MANY OPPORTUNITIES

"A sound idea and the determination to carry it through—those are sure passports to success in Canada today where there are so many interesting opportunities in so many different kinds of activity" —says MR. LESLIE BUTCHER, of Windsor, Ont.

Mr. Butcher—member of Canada's 1936 Olympic basketball team—after returning from college in the U.S. and being manager of a local insurance office, started his own Butcher Enterprises. Their development provides many examples of this young Canadian's energy and enterprise. They include: a unique and successful service in the wrapping of products for shipping; and the modernization of the Windsor Arena to present outstanding sports and entertainment events with great success.

Threw In House In Deal When Sold One

The Robert Dutton house, subject of much controversy in and around the city hall, has been given away, The Examiner was informed by Mr. Dutton today. Council previously had refused to give Mr. Dutton a permit to repair the house, their action being the result of reports made by Fire Chief George Smith and City Engineer A. E. Chalmers.

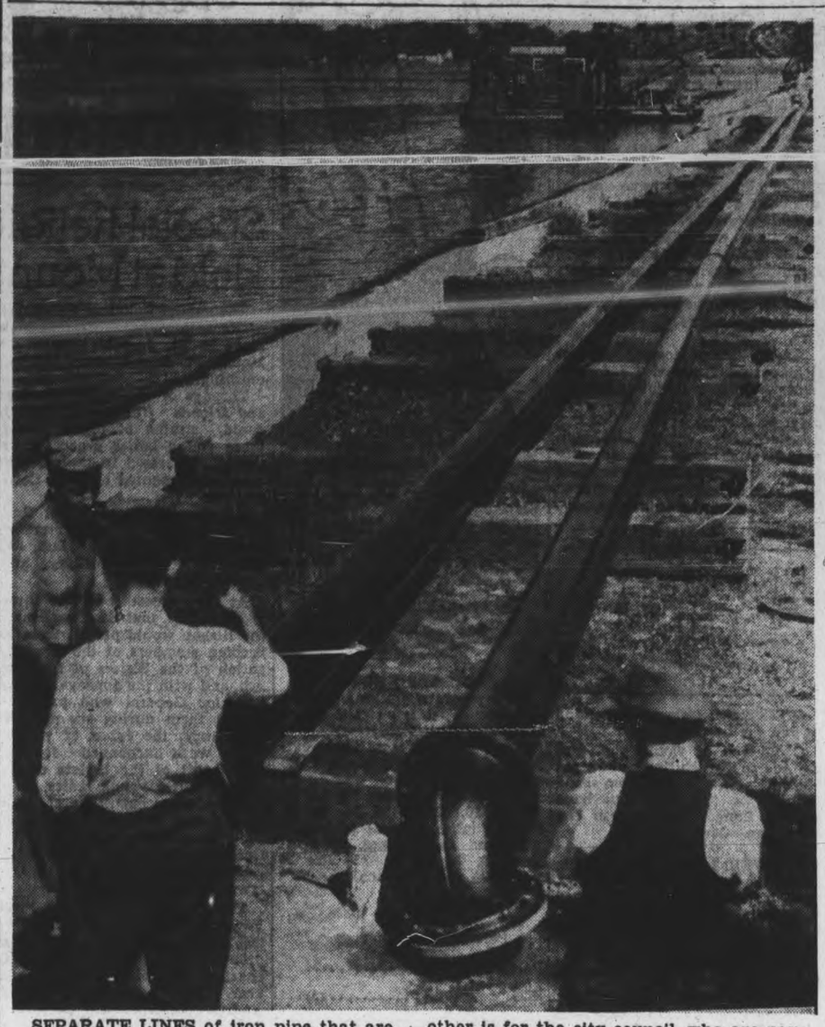
The house, which is a one-storey affair without a basement, has an area of approximately 568 sq. ft. This is made up of a living room, 13' x 12'; dining room, 7' x 12'; kitchen, 10' x 15'; two bedrooms, one 12 x 11', the other 12' x 8', and a room that will take bathroom fittings, 10' x 5'.

Outbuildings Torn Down

The house at 539 Waterford St. is attached at the east end to 537 Waterford St. It has water and light facilities, but no sewer. Also on the property were an outhouse, a garage and an old shed. Since the time that Mr. Dutton was refused permission by the council to renovate the house, he has torn down the three outbuildings, and in general cleaned the grounds.

In addition, Mr. Dutton has painted the outside of the rear house, which is 539, papered the walls inside, and fixed the floor in the north bedroom. This, he maintains, is not considered renovating, but decorating.

Mr. Dutton told The Examiner that he is selling the house at 537 Waterford St. to Miss E. A. Smith, 583 Aylmer St., and is giving her the other house as a gift.



Several Wanted to Rent

Mr. Dutton said that after the account appeared in Saturday's Examiner, he contacted Miss Smith, and she is still perfectly willing to go through with the deal. He also stated that he has had several people who wanted to rent the house, but that he would not do so until the sewer was put in.

Mr. Dutton said that Sanitary Inspector Ronald McPherson has visited the house, and had pronounced it clean and sanitary. He offered to put a new floor in the kitchen when the sewer was installed, but he could not get permission. In addition, he said that if the sewer had to come in under the front door, he would put in a cement walk and cement verandah when the installation was completed.

Neighbors around had objected to the condition of the house, and Mr. Dutton was quite ready to sympathize with their complaints. He said that when he cleaned out the place, he carted loads of rubbish and ashes away, and threw out 623 wine bottles. He said that at that time the house was in a disreputable condition, but that it is now clean.

In the final analysis, Mr. Dutton does not own the house now, if his deal still goes through. It is understood that he has accepted a down payment, and that the party of the second part is agreeable. And he still says he didn't sell it — he gave it away as an extra kicker on the deal.

SEPARATE LINES of iron pipe that are to be lowered into the river bed at the narrow Burnham's Point crossing are shown on the west side, at McDonald's Point. Joints of pipe in each line have been welded under the direction and planning of Ross L. Dobbin, Utilities manager. One line is for the Utilities Commission, to increase the water pressure in Ashburnham. The other is for the city council, who are paying half the cost. Their pipe is to divert the Ashburnham sewer from its present disposal plant on Maria St. into the main sewer on George St., thereby terminating any possibility of contamination of Little Lake by Ashburnham sewage. Mr. Dobbin said today that he had not yet decided the time of launching of the twin pipes.

PLAYGROUND BIRTHDAY

Bobby Delpellaro's tenth birthday turned out to be a playground picnic. Friday the children of the Riverside playground, supervised by Bev Goulding, held a surprise picnic for Bobby. Highlight of the picnic was a birthday cake and a surprise package wrapped in innumerable covers. The children sang Happy Birthday as Bobby blew out the candles.

School Doctor Appointed Now In Europe

Dr. Harry Wright, former Medical Officer of Health for Otonabee, has been appointed by the Board of Education as the new School Medical Officer. He succeeds Dr. L. E. Mylks, who is retiring from active practice.

At present Dr. Wright is employed by the Department of Health and Welfare and is on loan to the Canadian Public Health Service. In that capacity he is interviewing prospective Canadian immigrants at various European DP camps.

When Dr. Wright left his home in Keene to join the Department in 1948, he had completed 20 years of successful practice in that area. During that time he was the MOH for Otonabee.

He served overseas in the First World War for three years, from 1915 to 1918.

Practised In Keene

He was graduated from the University of Toronto in 1923 and five years later came to Keene as a general practitioner. Included in his post-graduate work was a course on pediatrics at the Hospital for Sick Children, Toronto.

Before he can assume his new duties Dr. Wright must be released from his present post by the Federal Government. School authorities doubt that he will be available at the beginning of the school year and estimate it may be as long as November before he can be ready.

As School Medical Officer he will be in charge of the health of children in both primary and secondary schools.

The Peterborough Board of Education maintains its own medical and dental services while the separate schools receive treatment through an arrangement with the local Board of Health.

Viennese Comedy Presented By Cast of Summer Theatre

By ROBERTSON DAVIES

The Summer Theatre continues to uphold its reputation for variety. It has presented a play of a different type every week of its season, and this week it offers a charming Viennese comedy which, if a trifle dated, is none the worse for that. It is "By Candlelight", the work of Siegfried Geyer; the English adaptation is by P. G. Wodehouse. The prologue which is spoken at the opening of the Peterborough production is that which was written by Etwas Langsamer for the 500th Viennese performance.

The play is as fluffy as a piece of Viennese pastry. A prince changes places with his valet, in order that the latter may entertain a lady to supper; the difficulties of keeping up this deception, and its various consequences, provide the whole material of the play. The dialogue is witty and the whole thing is suffused with that gentle charm which was a particular quality of Viennese comedy before that city lost its traditional gaiety. "By Candlelight" is almost a period piece now, and the Summer Theatre company plays it with just that extra dash of style which brings out its special quality. For this the credit must go to the director, William Needles; his firm hand was apparent at every point of the production.

Able Production

The cast played ably, and in the case of Miss Jeri Sauvinet, with distinction. Miss Sauvinet was seen at a disadvantage earlier in the season in a few parts which were unsuited to her; in "Rebecca", and in "By Candlelight" were are permitted to see the qualities of charm which make her an actress of great promise. In this week's play she reveals a talent for comedy and for true, unforced gaiety which is thoroughly delightful, and her performance alone makes it a pleasure to visit the theatre.

Though Miss Sauvinet stands first among the actors, she is not the only one to give a good performance this week. The reliable John Primm is excellent as the Prince, and Frank Perry is first-rate as the valet; these two manage to give amusing indications of their true social position at several unexpected points in the performance. Miss Anna Cameron gave an amusing cameo as a young woman of elastic virtue, and Sheila Craig was helpful as an old waitress who gave several suggestions of having been an old waiter in the original script of the play. Christine Thomas and Michael Lynd played small but effective roles as a Baron and Baroness; Miss Thomas deserves special mention for her fine appearance. The director played the small part of the chauffeur, and also recited the Prologue.

This play is what some people call "escapist"—as though that were a term of derogation. It does, indeed, provide a delightful escape from the humdrum doings of daily life, and is well worth a visit.

Fire Smoldering In Brush Land

A bush fire that started last Wednesday, reportedly by careless berry pickers, was still smouldering Monday night. Ross Barrons, reeve of Belmont Township, said that there were ten men working over a 25-acre patch that was still smouldering.

Mr. Barrons himself worked from early morning until about two in the afternoon, helping to keep the fire under control. He said that there doesn't appear to be any fire at night, that not even coals are visible, but that any early morning breeze seems to get into the stumps and roots and lifts the fire.

The fire is definitely under control, Mr. Barrons said, and the men of the district are making a continual patrol over the area.

The blaze is being confined to brush, old stumps and logs. Mr. Barrons said that the fire had rooted itself in these, and was extremely hard to extinguish. He said that they are continually soaking the land behind the fire, so that no sparks will jump and start a new conflagration, and that the land has been bulldozed all around the edge of the blaze.

Mr. Barrons said that they are putting out the small blazes as they start, but that the solution was to let the fire burn itself out.

Jackson Seeking Scapegoat Morton Claims

By DAVE WHITE
Examiner Labor Reporter

The conflict between left and right wings in the UE-CIO broke out in bold relief Monday when Jack Morton, president of Local 524, in a leaflet distributed at the CGE plant gate sharply criticized District President C. S. Jackson for a recent letter addressed to him in the UE News.

He affirmed that Local 524's right-wing leadership was anti-communist and charged that President Jackson was trying to present it in the role of a scapegoat in case contract negotiations turned out unsatisfactorily.

"This is the only interpretation I can give to Brother Jackson's actions of last year and this year," he said. "One moment he is crying 'unity' and the next moment he is doing everything in his power to divide and confuse by flooding the plant gate with literature that appears purposely written to turn the membership of Local 524 against its right-wing leadership."

(President Jackson on July 15 printed a long letter in the UE News criticizing a statement Mr. Morton had given the Examiner on July 7. It dealt with the suspension of the five UE district leaders from the CCL executive.)

Opposite Meaning

In the July 15 letter Mr. Jackson declared: "I would have expected to find in the statement of a responsible leader of such a large Local as 524 some such comment, and indignation at the fact that the rights of minority viewpoints—and the right to be in opposition to policies on which legitimate differences are both to be expected and necessary—were being ruled out in the Parliament of Labor. Instead, the formulations in your statements to the press give an opposite meaning."

Commenting on Mr. Morton's statement "we want to make quite clear that we are not in favor of public vilification of responsible union leaders," Mr. Jackson said: "It is a backhanded slap at the UE leadership, and, in fact, constitutes agreement with the CCL leadership on the purported basis of their actions against the UE."

The District Five president also took exception to Mr. Morton's contention that "... generally speaking the leaders of the CCL and the Ontario Federation of Labor are sound and sincere trade unionists." In reply to this view he said: "You are in a back-handed way supporting the actions and opinions of those who have chosen to try to silence the voice of criticism as expressed by the UE."

He concluded his attack by stating that Mr. Morton's comments would help weaken the cause of the union in this year's negotiations.

"Your remarks undoubtedly will create considerable division within the ranks of the GE workers in Peterborough; and at the same time will be seized upon by the company as encouragement to increase its attacks on the GE workers and their union."

Mr. Morton stated he agreed with the district president that the actions of the CCL would weaken the union, but he declared he was even more interested in making sure the entire union was not suspended from the CCL.

Communist-Dominated

Throughout the leaflet Mr. Morton continued to associate Mr. Jackson with Communism. At one point he referred to "Stalinist Jackson" and in a sarcastic comment stated: "I would like to point out that the only statement I recall against the UE is that it is Communist-dominated and follows closely the party line. As I am not able to contradict this, and in fact consider it to be true, I therefore have no intention of denying it."

The Local 524 president re-iterated the fact he had protested the denial of UE representation from the CCL Council and added: "I will continue to work for full reinstatement of our union."

He stated that the policies of the CCL are supported by 90 per cent of its delegates.

"I will not stoop to vilification of these leaders because their policy does not suit the other 10 per cent commonly recognized across Canada as Communist-dominated unions," he said.

SPEEDER WARNED

Officials in charge of the YMCA boys' camp on Clear Lake complained to Provincial Police Monday that a motor boat was speeding in close proximity to the beach in front of the camp, thus causing a menace to the safety of the campers. The boat owner was warned to curb his activities or face prosecution by the RCMP.

PETERBOROUGH alderman eight years, Michael Henry Gainey, died suddenly today at his home, 368 Rubidge St. He was the council's representative on the Suburban Area Commission 25 years, and was for 15 years chairman of the Separate School Board.

Sat As Alderman For 8 Years M.H. Gainey Dies

Michael Henry Gainey, representative of the city on the Suburban Area Commission for many years, died in his sleep this morning at his home. His health had been declining for more than a year, and he had recently been in hospital with a heart condition for seven weeks.

Mr. Gainey was born in Ashburnham 69 years ago, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Gainey. For 40 years he had been engaged in the wholesale business in barbers' supplies and tobaccos, with office on George St., and had previously been associated with his brother as proprietor of a barber shop.

Mr. Gainey was an alderman for eight years and had served a long time on the Separate School Board, of which he had been the chairman fifteen years, and he had been the city's member of the Suburban Area Commission for some 25 years.

Mr. Gainey became interested in public service first as a member of the old Trades and Labor Council in the days when John J. Hartley was its capable chairman. He was appointed to that council as representative of the barbers' union, took an active interest in the affairs of the Labor Council and its interests, and when it turned its thoughts to the city administration Mr. Gainey was one of the members it proposed and elected.

Others were the late Robert Morrison, Joseph Crowe, Alex Murray and James Garside. They had Labor sponsorship, but they retained for themselves individually considerable independence of action.

Named to Commission

Mr. Gainey was a member of the city council eight years, and almost immediately after that term was appointed by the council as the city's representative on the Suburban Area Commission when that joint urban and rural body was authorized by the Provincial Legislature.

In these civil assignments and also as a member of the Separate School Board, Mr. Gainey demonstrated a capacity in public service that won the confidence of his many associates and also of the citizens who appointed him. He was a careful administrator, and probably his outstanding work was with the Suburban Area Commission in creating the improved road system which was funded by the city and county and the Ontario Department of Highways. In this local reputation, and in his fair dealing and co-operative attitude, it was said of him that he had held the trust of successive county councils as fully as that of the city council which had re-appointed him every three years since the Suburban Road Commission was formed.

His present associates on the Commission are Mr. Albert E. Middleton, representing the county, and Mr. Alex. W. Archibald, representing the Department of Highways. Their supervision of the suburban area roads has been in the same agreeable and progressive manner of accomplishment that has been characteristic of the Commission since its institution.

Mr. Gainey leaves his wife, the former Clara Schultz of Kitchener, two sons, John Henry of this city and M. Harry Gainey of Hamilton; one daughter, Mrs. Earl O'Toole, of Peterborough, and also his brother Cornelius.

Mr. Gainey was a member of the Holy Name Society of St. Peter's congregation and also of the Knights of Columbus.

Visited By Friend

At his home today it was reported that he appeared to be fairly well Monday evening when he was visited by an old friend and municipal associate, Mr. A. A. McIntyre, who was mayor for two years of Mr. Gainey's aldermanic term.

"I think we shall all remember Harry Gainey for his unfailing courtesy," said City Clerk Outram. "He was always considerate and gentlemanly, a man of dignity and sincerity, the quiet, unassuming type who, if he ever undertook to do anything, would see that it was done. I know the members of the City Council have always had full confidence in Mr. Gainey as their representative on the Suburban Area Commission, not only in the work that was done but also in the harmony in which it was done. He maintained most friendly relations with the other two members of the Commission and also with the County Council.

The city council has always appreciated the earnest way in which he attended to the details of the Commission's program through a long period of years in building up the roads that have been brought into the Suburban Area program. There has never been any dispute about it, and the city and county members always got along well together. That fine disposition of Mr. Gainey accounted a great deal for the success of the Commission, because he was a member from its early years, and he always got along well with the other members."

Mrs. J. A. Spurway, county clerk and treasurer, informed the Examiner that the first members of the Suburban Area Commission were Ernest Deyell from the country and Mr. Frank Whitehouse of the city. They carried on a short time, and in 1925 were followed by William Brown of the county and Mr. Gainey of the city. Mr. Brown was succeeded at his death by the late Morley E. Smithson. The next county Commissioner was John McColl, preceding Mr. Middleton.

Major Swanston said he had learned with deep regret of the death of Mr. Gainey.

"He was a real asset to the community first as an alderman and then as a member of the Suburban Road Commission. His service to the council extended over a long period, and he was so unassuming in his manner that we did not hear very much about him except when the Commission visited the council to report on their program. They built up some 80 miles of improved roads radiating from the city. That system is a benefit both to the city and county. There has never been any dispute between the Commission and the city and county council, and I know Mr. Gainey contributed very much to those friendly relations. I am sure he will be greatly missed by his fellow Commissioners, Bert Middleton and Alex Archibald."

Married Women Make Up Goodly Portion of Increase In City's Unemployment

While the number of unemployed, 737, in the Peterborough area is considerably higher than last year, the employment situation is still in a healthy condition, William Mellis, manager of the National Unemployment Service office said today. In some fields he declared there are still shortages of help. Many factors contribute to this change, Mr. Mellis added. One is the lack of job vacancies for married women who make up a good portion of the increase. Mr. Mellis said that many factories and stores have adopted a policy of hiring only single women.

Many of the balance of the female help employed is accounted for by the number of younger girls who have come into the employment field and lack experience to fit them into the jobs that are available. Then there are a number of women who are changing jobs and who are qualified in one field or another. These women remain unemployed for a short period until the job of their choice becomes available.

Mr. Mellis pointed out that there is an unprecedented influx of help from other areas influenced by the fact that this section enjoys a comparable high level of employment.

Unskilled Workers

In the men's section the bulk of the unemployed is composed of the unskilled older worker who is unemployed due to the fewer job opportunities for this class of help.

On the other hand, Mr. Mellis said, there is a definite shortage of good construction workers. Also tradesmen of practically all kinds are in demand in the construction field of employment. Experienced farm help is scarce and Mr. Mellis added that although the Peterborough office has been fortunate in being able to take care of most of the requests for men there are always some vacancies when harvest time rolls around.

Mr. Mellis advises that he expects there will be a request for help to go west on the harvest excursion.

More displaced persons arrived over the week end, Mr. Mellis said. Bohdan and Jaroslawa Kuszniswicz arrived in Peterborough Monday and were sent to Mr. and Mrs. J. Kelly of Roseneath. Recently another married couple arrived, Wolodymys and Regins Szevezuk, to take up job vacancies at the resort of Mr. and Mrs. R. Shearer of Buckhorn.

Zoo's Big Cats Keep Stork Busy

LONDON—(CP)—Three cats—a lioness, a tigress and a leopardess—became mothers in one week at the London Zoo.

A lioness had quads while the leopardess and the tigress became the mothers of triplets. The valuable tiger cubs died.

Next most valuable are the leopard cubs. The last leopards born in the zoo, twins in 1930, were reared only after a collie dog had been called in as foster-mother.

The present leopard mother, however, stoutly refuses any outside help and is so hostile to "father" that he has been moved to another cage for his own safety.

As for the lioness—she has already raised more than 30 cubs in the last five years and makes no fuss about raising four more.

Paris Designers Hoist Hemlines, Other Fashion Changes Slight

By ROSETTE HARGROVE
NEA Staff Correspondent

PARIS—(NEA)—The last word in fashions from Paris has skirts going back up. From the gradually climbing hemline of last year, Parisian designers have hoisted skirts as high as 15 inches from the floor.

But this and other changes are not so sweeping that women will have to throw away their wardrobes and start from scratch, as some did when the New Look first burst on the fashion scene. Generally, the 1949 fall collections are an evolution, rather than a revolution.

The basic silhouette is slim, slender and supple. Shoulders are normal, although less sloped, and there is a distinct tendency to effects giving width. The bosom is still stressed, but the waistline no longer is strangled and hips are unaccentuated.

For daytime wear, the full, swinging skirt has virtually disappeared. In its place is the skirt that is coiled, wrapped and molded around the figure.

Here is what some of the designers have brought out:

Jacques Fath—The designer of Rita Hayworth's wedding trousseau has built his entire collection around the sheath silhouette, even in models where width is introduced. He has gone all out for buttons, claiming he has counted more than 4,000 in his creations.

The straight lines of his simple chemise dresses are broken up by pockets, peplums and bows. Cocktail suits feature black or the new "near-black" colors. These have jackets, usually hip-length, which show unusual collar treatments. Fath has also played with scarfs and stoles on many dresses, as well as coats.

In evening gowns, his outstanding creations are built around the new version of the ultra-wide pleated tulle gown placed on a stiffened "cone" underskirt. Another favorite theme is the dress with a slender, sheath-like front buttoning over at the back onto a full pleated godet panel.

Molyneux—Most unusual effect here was a jewelled ankle bracelet, worn by the mannequins with late afternoon and the shorter-than-ankle-length evening dresses. Afternoon and town ensembles were completed by small fur collarettes and huge muffs. Shoes had astrakhan or ocelot trim and ankle-straps. Hats were brimless and worn at an accentuated angle.

Molyneux placed stress on the "flower line," using it effectively in both afternoon and evening models. The skirt of one evening gown was worked entirely in outsized tulip petals.

Piguet—Here has launched the "Minaret" and the "Spindle" lines. The former features stiffened basques over a sheath skirt while the latter gives a silhouette widened through the shoulders and narrowing at the hem.

Piguet's "shutter" necklines, which open to disclose intriguing decolettes, are new, and he exploits them in his cocktail and evening dresses. The backs are either bloused or have wings sprouting at acute angles

Schiaparelli—The theme of this collection was "Stop and Go". Skirts for daytime models were definitely shorter and more slender, with the waistline built up. Jackets, too, were shorter, and fitted with single or double collars.

Among the accessory notions Schiaparelli featured were long, narrow muffs in ocelot or beaver; ostrich feathers covering the full skirt of a short evening dress; a deep-pointed black bearskin shawl which could also do duty as a travelling rug; outsized single diamond ear-ring shaped like a flower; and enormous paper-weight buttons.

QUESTION: I am again coming to you for help.

Could you or would you send me recipe for chiffon cake (not chiffon pie). I had two good recipes for this cake but have mislaid them. Hoping you can assist me.—Mrs. Wm. W.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: I do not want to take credit for this recipe that follows, for I partially copied it. I changed it slightly to suit my own purposes but not the basic principles of the cake.

CHIFFON CAKE (orange or lemon):

Sift good quality cake flour. Measure it into a cup lightly—do not pack; measure 1 cup plus 2 tablespoons. Put into sifter over a bowl and add ¾ cup sugar and 1½ teaspoons baking powder and ½ teaspoon salt, and sift these into bowl. Make a well in the centre of them and add in order given ¼ cup cooking or salad or cottonseed oil, 2 egg yolks, 1 tablespoon grated orange rind or 1½ teaspoons grated lemon rind, and juice of 1 orange or 1 lemon made up to ⅜ cup by adding water. Beat this mixture with a spoon until perfectly smooth. Measure into large mixing bowl 4 egg whites and ¼ teaspoon cream of tartar and beat until the whites will stand in very stiff peaks—this must be very stiff—stiffer than you would ordinarily make. Fold the first batter into this with a folding motion using rubber scraper—being sure you do not stir. Pour into ungreased 8 x 8 x 2-inch or 9 x 9 x 2-inch pan and bake at 350 deg. Fahr. for 30 minutes or bake in 9-inch tube pan at 3½-inch depth at 325 deg. Fahr. for 50 minutes. When baked, immediately invert pan so that cake can "hang" until cold. Then loosen sides with knife, and hit pan sharply on table to loosen cake and make it fall. This is good frosted or unfrosted.

Special Religious Ceremony Held at Mount St. Joseph

The annual Religious Ceremony of Reception and Profession took place in St. Joseph's Chapel at Mount St. Joseph on Monday morning.

Throngs of interested relatives and friends filled the chapel. Amid strains of organ music, three young ladies proceeded to the altar dressed in their bridal robes accompanied by little flower girls.

His Excellency, the Most Rev. J. G. Berry, D.D., of Peterborough, celebrated holy Mass, assisted by Rev. V. Corkery and Rev. R. Garvey.

At the request of these three young ladies, that His Excellency, the Bishop would permit them to become members of the Congregation of the Sisters of St. Joseph, and with the approval of the Superior General who had observed them during six months' postulancy, the robes of worldliness were exchanged for the poor habit of the Sisters of St. Joseph. These young ladies, with their religious names were: Miss Jean Smith, Peterborough, Sister Jean Maria; Miss Ann Connelly, Coatbridge, Scotland, Sister Mary Evelyn; Miss Shirley Sims, Ottawa, Sister M. Bernardine.

The Ceremony of the First Vows followed when three novices after two years of novitiate pronounced the vows of poverty, chastity and obedience for one year. These were Sister M. St. Andrew (B. Andrews) Cornwall; Sister M. Constance (M. Connelly) of Kirkfield; Sister M. St. Damien (R. Charron) of Ottawa.

Two novices, who had completed five years of novitiate, pronounced their final vows: These were; Sister Mary Cabrini (R. Ryan) of Kearney, and Sister Mary Cordis (M. Duggan) of Fenelon Falls.

At an early Mass, seven novices renewed their vows for one year.

Rev. John Burke, C.S.P., had completed two retreats of eight days each for the Sisters of the Congregation, preached an appropriate sermon for the occasion.

During the Mass, the Sisters choir sang canticles and hymns in keeping with the spirit of this religious occasion, concluding with the Psalm of Thanksgiving, "Te Deum Laudamus".

The following Clergy were present in the sanctuary: Right Rev. F. J. O'Sullivan, D.P., V.G., P.P., Immaculate Conception Parish; Right Rev. J. J. O'Brien, D.P., P.P., Rev. F. M. Grant, D.C.L. of Sacred Heart Parish; Rev. P. P. Butler, Rector, Rev. J. Weiss, Rev. F. Maskey, of St. Peter's Cathedral; Very Rev. Dean McAuley, P.P. of Lindsay; Rev. J. J. Garvey, P.P., Hastings; Rev. J. Walsh, P.P., Rev. J. O'Sullivan, Kinmount; Rev. C. J. Carroll, P. P., Norwood; Rev. C. W. McCarney, P.P., Otonabee; Rev. L. Cleary, P.P., Rev. C. Begley of Kirkfield; Rev. Father Conlogue, C.S.S.R., St. Alphonsus' Parish, Peterborough.

The flower girls who assisted the brides were: Beverly Donoghue, Carole Durkin, Joanne Guerin, Mary Howell, Janet Martin, Patricia Tompkins.

Babies May Squall As Parents Worship

NOTTINGHAM, England (CP)—Babies and young children may play and make as much noise as they like, in a specially equipped nursery in Addison Road Congregational church while their parents attend the service.

The nursery was devised by Rev. Anthony Green to counteract a falling off in the attendance of married couples. In future babies will play in the nursery and be looked after during services by members of the Youth Fellowship League.

"They will also get their orange juice," said Mrs. Green.

Women of 140 Communities Promote Modern Centre

KING'S LYNN, Norfolk, England (CP) — Great Britain's national health scheme notwithstanding, the people of 140 scattered villages and hamlets have built a £40,000 ($160,000) maternity hospital.

Called "The Stork Hotel," it is one of the most modern maternity units in the British Isles.

It was promoted by women's associations determined to prevent childbirth in damp cottages without electric light. Subscriptions came from farmers, their hired hands, shepherds and shopkeepers.

But the nursing staff made itself responsible for the hospital's £900 intercommunication set-up. They call it the "patient-to-nurse" call system.

Beside each bed are two switches. One turns on a radio. The other powers a microphone hanging above the bed. Through it the patient calls her nurse, says what she wants, and the call is acknowledged by the nurse through a loudspeaker.

The nurses already have raised £800 of the cost by holding dances.

65 Girls Enjoying Holiday In Camp Sponsored by YW

When 65 girls go away on holiday together with the prospect of 10 days beside a lake, excitement runs high as the long-awaited day arrives. Saturday was the great day in Peterborough as the YWCA summer camp started at Clear Lake.

The bus depot was the hub of activity as parents saw their children safely into the chartered buses. One carefree youngster was so carried away with the excitement that she forgot to say goodbye to her mother.

Miss L. Brownscombe, general secretary of the YWCA, received word Monday from the camp, which is being used by courtesy of the Y's Men's Club and Rotary, that organization is running smoothly.

First camp meal was a supper of potato salad, cold meat, tomatoes, bread and butter, chocolate pudding and milk. It was no easy task to persuade so many excited youngsters that an early night was the best way of ending the eventful day. The 12-year-olds found so much to talk about that they continued their discussions long after they had gone to bed. They paid dearly for breaking the rules, by forfeiting their swimming the next day. During the swimming hour they were sent to their beds to catch up on the rest which was lost the night before. Popular opinion now has it that it is better to sleep at the proper time and enjoy the fun during the day.

For several weeks the list of girls going to camp has been closed and there were some disappointments when later applicants could not be accepted. It was, therefore, a happy surprise for 12-year-old Betty Lapp when, two hours before the campers left the city, she was notified that one more girl could be taken. After hurried preparations she joined the party. The unexpected vacancy occurred because one of the girls already registered for camp developed an infection in her foot.

Ex-CWAC Finds Conditions In England Much Improved

"They seem to be picking up at last" is the answer Miss Irene Vivash, Patterson St., is giving enquiries this week after a six weeks' vacation in England. For two years during the war Miss Vivash served in England with the CWAC's On her return visit as a civilian she found many changes indicating improvements in living conditions there.

"People are earning more money than ever before," Miss Vivash says "and in spite of the high prices, they seem to be finding the money to buy things. I expected to find people complaining about the Government, but they weren't."

"The candy rationing is a good example of how pleased the people are to have things in short supply controlled. As soon as they became unrationed there was such a demand that people were lining up at the shops and there were not enough to go round. The Government's decision to revert to the rationing system has been welcomed by most people. That way, everyone gets three-quarters of a pound every month.

Miss Vivash finds the general disposition of most English men and women brighter than during the war.

"When I was there in uniform I thought people were rather unsociable," she said. "I would get into a railway carriage and find everyone's face buried in a newspaper. I would often think it would be nice to talk to them, but they did not seem to want to."

"Now it is different. There may be a few reading but whenever I travelled by train I found people wanted to talk and when they heard we were from Canada they were very interested. They seem much brighter."

"There are a few who seem to complain about having to pay into the national health service scheme," Miss Vivash found, "but I think it is a good thing and sets off some of the other difficulties the people have had to put up with," she said.

English woollen cloth were a favorite with Miss Vivash. "I think the quality is much better than the material we have here," she said. I am not so keen on the styles," she confided, "except among children's clothes. They have some lovely styles and I think they are a little cheaper than youngsters' clothing here."

Miss Vivash likes English shoe styles but found prices very much higher than in Canada.

On the subject of restaurants Miss Vivash said helping of meat were very small. "There are some good places to eat and some bad, just like we have here," she said.

Never before had Miss Vivash seen London with the lights on. Eros, famous bronze figure in the centre of Picadilly Circus, has been restored from his wartime hiding place and the Circus is lighted up with neon advertising signs.

The churches play a much smaller part in the lives of the people than in Canada, Miss Vivash noticed. "It seems a great pity that the churches are so empty," she said.

Two Men Join Police Force

The Peterborohgh Police Force has added two men this month to fill out its ranks. W. A. "Bill" Scott joined the force Monday, while Donald Jones was taken on August 1.

Both men are veterans of active service with the Navy during the war. Scott, a Peterborough boy most of his life, was a petty officer in the navy two and a half years, and sailed on the frigate Lauzon and the minesweeper Wallaceburg. He is no relation to Constable W. G. Scott who has been on the force several years.

Jones, a veteran of two years as an able seaman, sailed on the corvet Petrolia and the tribal destroyer Micmac.

Neither of the rookies have had any police experience, but under the eye of Assistant Chief John Naples they are quickly learning the ropes. They attend court to learn court procedure and they spend a good deal of time reading the Highway Traffic Act, the Liquor Control Act and the local bylaws. They often ride the cruisers with experienced officers. After they have acquired the basic knowledge of being police officers, they will be given uniforms and other equipment and put to work walking a beat.

Green, 217 King George St. Green was driving south on Water St. He told police Lindsay, driving east on Brock St., failed to stop for the stop sign. Green tried to escape a smash up by swinging his car around to Brock St., but piled into a telephone post on the southeast corner of the intersection.

Judge Refutes Maryland Law

BALTIMORE, Aug. 16—(AP)—A judge today struck down Maryland's strict new law against subversive activities.

Judge Joseph Sherbow said a state may not legislate on the thoughts of its citizens.

"The Supreme Court has made it clear," he said, "that laws may punish acts and conduct which clearly, seriously, and immiently threaten substantive evils.

"They may not intrude into the realm of ideas, religious and political beliefs, and opinions.

"The law deals with overt acts, not thoughts. It may punish for acting, but not for thinking."

Maryland's so-called Ober law, was framed by a commission headed by Frank B. Ober, Baltimore lawyer. It was adopted by the general assembly last winter and became effective June 1.

It provided prison sentences up to five years and fines up to $5,000 just for belonging to an organization deemed subversive.

Penalties up to $20,000 and 20 years in prison are set for those engaged actively in subversive activities.

All public employees, including school teachers, were required to sign a loyalty oath.

He landed his Grunau baby sailplane near No. 2 Highway at Coteau Landing, Que., five hours and 20 minutes later. Coteau Landing is just 106 miles due east from Carp.

Previous distance record of 79 miles from London, Ont., to Dunnville, was set early this year by Al Pow, of London, Ont.

Bow Ties For Postmen Questionable Reform

LONDON, Aug. 16 (Reuters)—The proposal to equip Canadian postmen with made-up bow ties is a "questionable reform," the Times commented Monday.

The newspaper says

"It is difficult not to forecast some decline, however trifling, in the prestige of a country whose public servants are required—and that is what it really amounts to—to live a lie.

"For a made-up bow tie is not what it pretends to be . . . another short step and we shall hear of the Northwest Mounted Police wearing dickies (false shirt fronts.)"

"It is not, of course, for us to criticize the sartorial taste of what is after all a self-governing Dominion."

Policeman Kills Pal In Prank

CLARKSBURG, W.Va., Aug. 16 (AP)—A Clarksburg policeman shot and killed another early today and Chief E. G. Amsler said it was the result of a prank.

Patrolman Chester Shack was shot through the heart.

Patrolman Robert Lee Fawley, 35, is held in jail on an open charge.

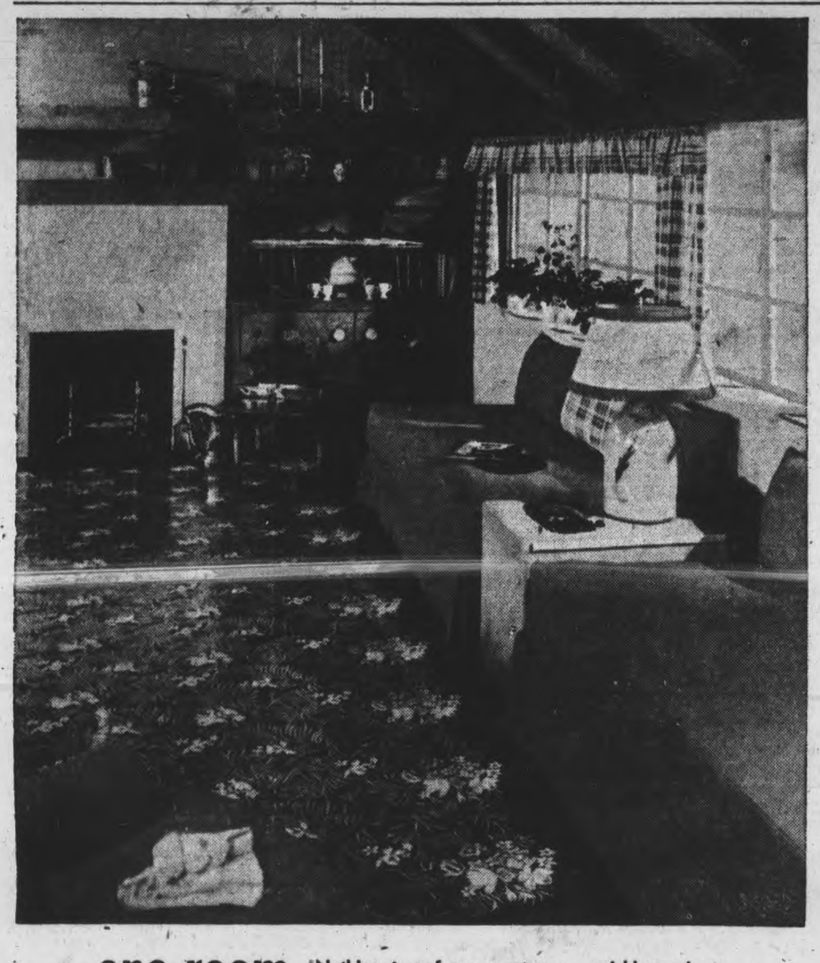
Chief Amsler said this is what happened:

Shack and Fawley patrolled adjoining beats, meeting at the street corner at intervals.

As Frawley rounded the corner this morning, Shack tossed a blackjack at him, thinking to scare him.

Fawley whipped out his .38-calibre service revolver and fired.

Shack staggered into Fawley's arms.



Fawley called headquarters for an emergency car, which took Shack to a hospital. He died on the operating table.

GOOD CITIZENSHIP
is a lot of little things

DON'T HINDER FIRST-AID TO THE INJURED

The most important rule in the event of an accident is to keep cool and act quickly. If you're not trained in first-aid send for a doctor, a nurse, a policeman or someone who is. And do so quickly. Don't let bystanders press in. A crowd gets in the way and cuts off needed air. In this way we give the greatest practical help. Sound thinking in any emergency is added proof of your "Good Citizenship".

You can help this public service effort. Make a note of some of the little things which, in your opinion, contribute to Good Citizenship.

Archbishop Protests Internment

Says Money and Mail Seized By Agents Of Czech Government

PRAGUE, Aug. 17.—(Reuters).—Archbishop Joseph Beran has broken a two-month silence to protest against his "internment" in his Prague palace by Czechoslovakia's Communist government, it was learned today.

Dr. Beran also protested against the presence of a government agent in his offices and against the seizure of the archbisopric's funds and estates without consultation.

Dr. Beran's protests were contained in a letter to the state prosecutor.

In this way Dr. Beran was able to overcome the ban on his issuing statements or communicating with his fellow clergy without permission from the Communist authorities.

The text of his letter became available from church sources here today.

Dr. Beran said that earlier letters of protest to the Ministry of Education (now administering Roman Catholic church affairs) the Ministry of the Interior, and the Czech government had not answered.

"I have been interned in the Archbishop's Palace since June 19," his letter said. "Visitors are not admitted. They are told that the Archbishop has forbidden visitors.

"All correspondence, both personal and official, for the Archbishop and all employees is withheld.

"I have been deprived of all personal liberty and all rights as the Archbishop, and all this without any kind of investigation, without any court or other official decision."

Ambersley Faces Murder Charge

HAMILTON, Aug. 17 —(CP)— Hamilton police said Tuesday a charge of murder has been laid against "Irish Davey" Ambersley in connection with the fatal slaying of Richard Slifka at Ambersley's home near here a week ago.

Charges of murder and manslaughter were laid earlier against "Big Dempsey" Richards arising from the same death.

Slifka, a 23-year-old naval veteran, was shot to death, police said, during a fight following a drinking party at Ambersley's house Aug. 6. Ed (Chuck) Bulmer, and Vernon Parrington, both of Hamilton were also wounded.

The free for all, said to have been touched off by a "gray-haired and with a blackjack," ended with a fusilade of shots from a .22 rifle which killed Slifka and wounded the two other men.

Richards, a former wrestler who was acting as bartender at the party was charged earlier.

Police quoted Ambersley as saying he was asleep in his room upstairs when the fight started. Ambersley was held as a material witness but released on $5,000 bail.

Red Food Promises Lapse, Major Setback

Sees Chinese Communists Using Economic Pressure Against West

VANCOUVER, Aug. 17.—(CP)—Failure of Chinese Communists to fulfill their promises of more food for the masses may deal the Reds a major setback in their drive to overrun China, D. B. Rogers, editor of the Regina Leader-Post, said Tuesday night.

In an interview on his return from a 20,000-mile junket through the Far East, Mr. Rogers said this year's short rice crop was putting the new regime on the spot.

Mr. Rogers spent three weeks in Hong Kong and Canton, the Nationalist stronghold area following a trip to Australia.

"The Communists are afraid of waging a showdown battle for Hong Kong or other holdout cities on the south-eastern mainland," he said. "Their tactic is to force American and British commercial interests to withdraw from important centres by strikes and economic pressure."

The appeal of the "agrarian reform" lines gives them the support of "more of the people than be estimated," and cities fall like apples rotted from within.

Mr. Rogers emphasized that his remarks were based on talks with military, economic and political leaders as well as newspaper correspondents.

Business men in Hong Kong feel confident the Communists will preserve the city as a contact with the world of commerce, he said.

Mr. Rogers said the Nationalist government will not admit, as the United States White Paper recently suggested, that their regime is at an end.

Disorder Marks Indonesian Day Of Freedom

BATAVIA, Java., Aug. 17. —(AP).—Disorder today marked the fourth Independence Day celebration of the Indonesian Republic. Several casualties were reported in Batavia.

Thousands of persons streamed into the city and put on an impromptu demonstration in Koningsplein square where in 1945 President Soekarno and Premier Mohamed Hatta had proclaimed Indonesia's independence.

Shouting "merdeka" (freedom) demonstrators pushed their way into the delegation headquarters building where a formal ceremony had been planned and took over the place.

Dutch authorities had banned all outdoor festivals for the occasion.

In spite of the Netherlands order banning the appearance of Indonesian flags, thousands wore the red and white colors of the republic.

In a one-hour speech, Soekarno said the condition for peace and security in Indonesia is the transfer of complete independence to the Indonesians. The people of Indonesia, he said, must unite come what may.

"Unity must be maintained. A prosperous Indonesia can only be achieved by the united efforts of the Indonesian people."

A crowd of about 100,000 gathered in and near the Batavia headquarters of the republican delegation. It began to disperse four hours later.

Ambulances clanged through the streets wtih injured. So far no deaths have been reported.

Save Gas Tanks In Flash Fire

PIU, N.S., Aug. 17 (CP) —Firemen battled for 90 minutes today to control an early morning flash fire which destroyed an Irving Oil Company warehouse, damaged two trucks and threatened to spread to five huge gasoline storage tanks. Damage was estimated at $10,000.

The blaze broke out about 7.05 a.m. EDT, and raced through the warehouse which contained a truck, small tanks of stove and lubricating oils and office equipment. Explosions of the small tanks levelled the building.

Firemen worked through dense smoke and terrific heat to prevent the flames from spreading along the nearby wharf to the seaside where the tanks are located.

$300,000 Lumber Yard Fire Rages Unchecked 4 Hours

ARNPRIOR, Aug. 17—(CP)—Fanned by a brisk wind, fire raged for four hours Tuesday through millions of feet of piled lumber and left behind it a smouldering ruin and nearly $300,000 damage. Up to 3,000,000 feet of lumber was destroyed in the fire that gutted one-third of the 200-acre lumber yard of the Gillies Brothers near this town 40 miles west of Ottawa.

Railway sidings into the yard were left twisted out of shape. Telegraph poles were burnt, disrupting service throughout the area.

A force of 200 men fought the blaze for four hours before bringing it under control and firemen patrolled the glowing embers through the night.

D. A. Gillies, president of the company, said the stiff east wind kept the fire away from the main piles of lumber.

Wind Saves Town

Fire Chief W. J. Beattie of Arnprior said a west wind would have carried the flames towards the town, three miles away, and "the whole of Arnprior would have been seriously threatened."

Firemen from Arnprior and the nearby R.C.A.F. station poured thousands of gallons of water from nearly 1,000 feet of hose into the flames. In the final stages of the fire, a bulldozer knocked down piles of lumber to try and halt the blaze.

The fire broke out around lunchtime. But its origin has not yet been determined.

The flames blazed only 200 yards from the Canadian Pacific Railway lines. Train service was not interrupted although sparks were carried across the tracks and started small fires in timber lots.

Ottawa Top Brass Can't Find Houses

OTTAWA, Aug. 17.—(CP). — Note to house-hunting Canadians:

Even the man largely responsible for the Federal government's housing program can't find a home in Ottawa.

Yes, Reconstruction Minister Winters is among the capital celebrities looking for homes. The competition is terrific.

Among other home seekers are Prime Minister St. Laurent and George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader. Both have small apartments but would like larger quarters.

Justice Minister Garson and Transport Minister Chevrier also are home-hunting.

Importing Ice From Buffalo

"We are bringing 25 tons of ice a day in from Buffalo," said Hugh Davis of Sanitary Ice Supply today.

"We are selling it at one cent a pound. That's what it costs me. With our own 15 tons a day, that's a total of 40 tons, and the reason is in the weather.

Since June 11 we have had only six days when the temperature was down to 70 degrees. I don't think the oldest resident has any memory of that long period of hot weather. We had to go to Buffalo to meet the local demand. Toronto hasn't enough ice of its own production. They are getting 150 tons daily from Buffalo.

Our own storage is only a quantity to back up the daily ice supply if anything should happen to delivery from Buffalo."

Seeking Clues In Torso Death

QUEENSTON, Ont., Aug. 17 (CP)—Police today are trying to piece together clues in the case of the headless, armless and legless torso of a man found Tuesday in the Niagara River near here. The body was still unidentified.

A theory that the body may be that of Charles A. Ruick, of Niagara Falls, N.Y., missing since last Friday from his hotel, is being investigated. His blood-stained coat containing a bloody razor was found on the river bank last Friday.

New York State police, in charge of the investigation along with Niagara Falls, N.Y., and Ontario Provincial Police, are said to have virtually discarded the theory that the missing head and limbs could have been torn off when the body shot through the lower rapids.

Car, Train Collide, Driver Hurt

Shunter Hits Auto Crushes Side, Say Damage $900.

A car-train smashup at the CNR level-crossing on Monaghan Rd. just south of Lansdowne St. at 11.40 a.m. today sent Frank Thompson, 29, 531 Douglas Ave., to the Civic Hospital with a bump on the left side of his head. No X-rays had been made by press time. Hospital officials report his condition as "very good."

Police said the CNR yard engine was pushing four box cars east along the track to the Canadian Nashua Paper Co. plant. Thompson, driving north on Monaghan Rd. was hit by the front box car on the left side and his car was thrown against a hydro pole on the north-east corner of the crossing.

The whole left side of the car was smashed in with damage estimated at $900. Engineer of the shunter was Howard Reynolds. Dr. R. K. Magee examined Thompson.

Constables E. S. Niziol and G. J. Gillespie investigated the accident.

Ban Imposed On Wood Travel

TORONTO, Aug. 17 (CP) — Lands and Forests Minister Scott announced today that because of the number of fires being fought in the Timiskaming district a ban on all woods travel in that area has been imposed.

He said the ban will remain in effect until Aug. 31 unless a change in weather conditions before that permits relaxation.

At present 22 fires are being fought in the Timiskaming district of which the most serious covers an area of about 50 acres.

Urges Special Session To Deal With Germany

STRASBOURG, France, Aug. 17 (AP)—Winston Churchill suggested today an extraordinary session of the European consultative assembly be called in December or January for the admission of Germany to the council of Europe.

Churchill said the admission of Germany would be the "greatest and most important of all the questions that are before us."

"We cannot part here at the end of this month on the basis that we do nothing more to bring Germany into our circle until a year has passed," he said.

Earlier, Herbert Morrison, deputy prime minister, told the assembly he favored immediate steps toward unification of Europe, but he added that caution must be observed.

Chiang Sends Naval Forces To Aid Foochow

CANTON, Aug. 17 (AP) — A Nationalist spokesman said tonight strong naval forces had been sent up the Min River to the relief of Communist-besieged Foochow.

The spokesman said the coastal city still was in Nationalist hands. Commercial radio contact with Foochow has been out here for many hours.

This might indicate Communist troops have occupied the city. But there has been nothing here to confirm this. A big battle for Foochow has been reported under way. The city is about 450 miles northeast of Canton.

Meanwhile, a Nationalist army spokesman denied Red Tcoops had driven into Kwangtung Province. Canton, the Nationalist capital, is also the Kwangtung provincial capital.

(There was no denial, however, of private reports Tuesday that the Nationalists were withdrawing from Nanhsiung (Namyung), 155 miles northeast of Canton and just inside Kwangtung).

The United States Consulate General in Canton is winding up its business and expects to be closed by Friday.

American missionaries are awaiting word from their home headquarters whether to evacuate the Communist - threatened capital. Many who intended to stay now are undecided since the closing of the Consulate has been ordered.

Responsible Chinese sources said there has been no change in plans to make Chungking the new seat of the Nationalist government.

Wireless Operator Drowns Shortly After Ship Leaves For Toronto Trip

Crew Take To Lifeboats, Pick Up Woman Patrol Area For Nearly Hour, Job Then Turned Over To Coast Guard

TORONTO, Aug. 17—(CP)—Roy P. D'Aigle, 26, of Toronto, was drowned, and Vivian Delaney, 19, also of Toronto, was rescued early today when they fell from Canada Steamship Lines vessel Kingston a short time after it left Rochester, N.Y. C.S.L. officials said the accident occurred as the ship was passing the breakwater on her way to Toronto. A member of the crew heard a splash and notified the ship's steward who, in turn, informed the passenger vessel's Captain, Harry Webster. Capt. Webster ordered the ship turned about A searchlight was manned and in the strong beam the girl was sighted in the choppy water.

A lifeboat was lowered and crew members rowed to Miss Delaney. She was so exhausted when they reached her that Bernard Kelly, an oiler, dived overboard to hold her up.

Later, in Toronto, she told police she held up D'Aigle for a while but when he started to sink was forced to let him go.

College Student

D'Aigle was employed as a wireless operator aboard the Kingston. During the fall and winter, he attended the University of Toronto, where he was taking an engineering course.

Miss Delaney was employed as a news agent aboard the vessel. She is a graduate of the University of Toronto and a scholarship winner.

Boats from the Kingston patrolled the area for three quarters of an hour before the vessel continued to Toronto.

Officials of the United States Coast Guard were informed of the accident and their boats continued to search for the missing man for three hours.

The couple were reported to have fallen from the starboard side of the upper back. The vessel was travelling at almost full speed—about 16 knots—when the accident occurred. CSL officials estimate the Kingston travelled about a half-mile before it turned about to begin the search.

Miss Delaney was placed in the ship's hospital and was still confined to bed when the ship docked at Toronto this morning.

"It was a terrible experience. We could not sleep all night," said Mrs. Lawrence Agg of Whitby Township, who with her husband was a passenger on the Kingston, and was an eye-witness to the rescue of the woman passenger.

Returning from a short motor trip to the United States, Mr. and Mrs. Agg placed their automobile

Demands $500 From Woman Then Fires Gun

TORONTO, Aug. 17 —(CP)— Benjamin Lofsky, 33, faces a charge of attempted murder following a quarrel over money during which he allegedly shot at his sister-in-law and missed.

A cool-headed off-duty police constable arrested Lofsky Tuesday after the man locked himself in a front room in the home of the sister-in-law, Mrs. Etta Lofsky, 32. The officer, Constable Alexander Wilson, was summoned by a citizen who reported hearing a shot and screams in the Lofsky house.

Lofsky was behind a locked door in the front room when the policeman dashed into the house. Constable Wilson said later:

"He warned me that he would shoot."

Outsmarts Gunman

Two more police officers reached the house. Wilson waved them back downstairs. His colleagues left noisily, trying to give the impression that all the police were going out, while Wilson took up position outside the locked door.

Soon the door was partly opened. A hand clutching a pistol appeared.

Can't Get Job Convict Gives Up

MONTREAL, Aug. 17 (CP) — Lloyd Roy, 18, who escaped from the Montreal jail Aug. 4 and who has been the object of a police search since, Tuesday night gave himself up.

The youthful resident of suburban Ville St. Laurent was transferred to the custody of Provincial Police and is expected to be transferred back to the city jail today.

The 12-day search for Roy came to an end when he telephoned Sgt. J. Goyer, of No. 6 Police Station, and said:

"I broke out of jail two weeks ago and I'm ready to give myself up."

Police said Roy spent most of his time since his escape at Port Hope, where he tried unsuccessfully to get a job.

At the time of his escape he had only a few days to serve on a one-year jail sentence.

Finds An Unbelieveable World

Marine Explorer Dives To Set 4,500-Foot Record

SMUGGLER'S COVE, Cal., Aug. 17—(AP)—Marine explorer Otis Barton descended to 4,500 feet Tuesday, deeper than man ever before penetrated the ocean.

He described schools of fish of blinding brilliance, peppering the three-inch windows of his diving ball, the Benthoscope. But at 4,100 feet his lights blew out. He went on down to the 4,500-foot level, and after eight minutes there announced he was coming back up.

He broke water at 2.18 p.m., waved his arms to signal that all was well. On the way up, he observed:

"I think marine life in the Pacific is much more interesting at 2,000 feet than at 4,500."

He was in the water two hours, 19 minutes.

"I'll say it's cold down here. There goes a big white jelly fish. I never saw anything like that before. There's a little spot of light with a circle around it," he said, at 4,500 feet.

"A long, thin, brilliantly lighted fish went by. It looks like an eel," he said at 2,500 feet. As he passed his previous record of 3,028 feet he said: "This is an unbelievable world down here."

He said showers of starry things passed the window, some of which probably were shrimp, the others squid. Listeners said he seemed to be short of breath and tired, and was moving around to try to get comfortable.

JETLINER CRASH-LANDS—Canada's first jetliner came to grief at Malton Airport Tuesday when the landing gear jammed, forcing the pilot to belly land the big craft. The Avro plane was being tested by pilots Jimmy Orrell of Manchester, Eng., and Don Rogers of Toronto when it was discovered the landing gear was jammed and wouldn't lower. The two pilots at first thought they would have to land the plane in Lake Ontario, but after circling the airfield for two hours, brought the plane in on its belly. Extent of damage is not known.

Tourists Have Their Innings

Visitors Double Population As Black Flies Flee Cold

CHURCHILL, Man., Aug. 17 (CP)—Residents of this northern Manitoba port are describing this summer as the one in which the tourists outnumber the black flies.

The black flies have been chased into hiding by colder than average temperatures. Tourists, on the other hand, have increased in numbers until they almost double the town's population..

So far this season two tourist trains have reached this town 600 miles north of Winnipeg, each with approximately 300 passengers aboard. The town's population, excluding personnel at the military base seven miles away, is about 400. Publicity devoted to northern defence and to life in general within the fringe of the Arctic Circle is said to have awakened in both Canadians and Americans a desire to see the country for themselves.

Churchill now is one of the most popular northern tourist destinations.

Houses are mushrooming, there is a certain amount of industrial development and the shipping season is in full swing. Until Tuesday the Rupertsland, which replaced the Nascopie as the Hudson's Bay Company chief supply vessel, was in harbor.

The Rupertsland now is servicing various northern points, using Churchill as an operating base. It is due to complete its year's work around mid-October.

The average summer temperature here is around 65. This summer it has skirted 53, hovering around 42 in June, then climbing to the mid-50's in July and August.

Canada Joins Conference Of 45 Countries To Discuss Sharing Science

U.N. Parley Covers Conservation, Using Of World's Natural Resources, 25 Delegates Attend From Dominion

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., Aug. 17—(CP)—Experts from 45 countries including Canada met today at United Nations headquarters to discuss the best practical methods of harnessing science to help mankind. Their three-week meeting is called the U.N. Scientific Conference on the Conservation and Utilization of Resources.

They will exchange ideas and experiences on the six major fields of resources—minerals, forest, wild life and fish, water, land and fuels and energy.

Dr. Hugh L. Keenleyside, Deputy Minister of Mines and Resources, heads the 25-man Canadian delegation. He said Tuesday in an interview that the Canadians attending are eager to learn of developments in other countries and to give the benefits of Canadian experience.

The conference is something brand new for the United Nations. No political arguments are expected. There will be no resolutions passed. These attending officially speak for themselves rather than for the governments of their respective countries. Russia, Poland and Czechoslovakia, however, have informed the U.N. none of their experts will attend.

Send Paper

Three officials of the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company at Trail, B.C., have sent a paper to be studied by mineral experts. It is about new processes for the utilization of low-grade ores.

U.N. interpreters at all meetings will translate speeches into English, French and Spanish.

Afternoons, all those attending will met together to hear addresses on the over-all problems including soil erosion, floods and crops failure.

Trygvie Lie., U.N. secretary-general says in the conference program: "Modern science has developed wide range of new techniques for wresting more wealth from the earth's resources. Their effective aplication is basic to achieve a world of advancement —a world where the spectres of hunger and wastelands will be things of the past."

Say Grass Fire Sears 25 Acres

MILLBROOK, Aug. 17—(ENS).—A grass fire of unknown origin which spread over about 26 acres and burned down several fences before it was brought under control was discovered at 1.30 p.m. Tuesday on the Stover farm.

The fire came along an old fence bottom and spread to the adjoining Wright farm. These farms are east of the middle county road on the boundary between Hope and Cavan township.s

About 75 neighbors and friends, some from as far away as Garden Hill and Millbrook, came to fight the flames. Some of the firefigthers came with plows and tillers to keep the fire from spreading, while others worked with shovels and wet sacks.

The Millbrook fire engine arrived on the scene before the fire was brought under control.

The firefighters feared the flames would reach a bush containing valuable timber on the Wright farm and a sawmill owned by Mr. Stover. Actually the flames were just a few feet from the woods along a stretch of about 150 yards when the fire was put out after a strenuous afternoon's work.

Parents Regard Playgrounds As 'Baby Clinics'

Members of the city Recreation Commission Tuesday night learned from Director Jack Dane that the parents of some children have come to regard the city playgrounds as "baby clinics." These mothers and fathers are beginning to ask and tell supervisors to look after their babies while they go shopping, and to take full responsibility for their welfare.

After discussion, the commission decided that they will not be responsible for the children in such a manner, and that it will revert to the decision of the supervisor in such a case whether or not the child will be accepted on the playground under any such conditions.

Their responsibility ends, they feel, if the child is not engaged in the program provided for on the playground, or if the child leaves the playground and gets injured. Also in that line, it was noted that the two lifeguards who were to be sworn in as special constables for playground duty had not done so, saying that they felt that the authority extended to them was not sufficient. Commission members agreed with the lifeguards in that it is not the people of 16 years and under that cause the trouble on the grounds, yet regretted that they had not seen fit to take advantage of the offer.

Not In Favor of Centre

Mr. Dane revealed to the commission that the apparent general feeling of residents of the Hatton property was that they are not in favor of having a playground or community centre there.

Attendance in the playgrounds for the first six weeks of this summer program exceeded 1948 by almost 4,000. The figures were 31,124 in 1948 and 35,030 this year. In addition, adult attendance jumped from 3,683 to 3,719.

The commission acknowledged as received a letter from City Clerk E. A. Outram that the city will move the Inverlea totlot, and that signs limiting the speed limit on the Park Hill bridge to 15 miles per hour and signifying the presence of a children's playground would be erected.

City council explained in a letter that members are in full accord with the commission's plans to extend lifeguard services beyond the original time, but that they cannot vote more funds to pay for lifeguard services for that purpose.

Ask Special Policing

Several reports have been received by the commission on vandalism, language and actions in the playgrounds, particularly after nine o'clock in the evening. Language on the Riverside wharf after dark was described as "intolerable and embarrassing," to commission members by citizens. Commission forwarded these complaints to the city council, with the suggestion that another special parks constable be appointed to make the rounds, checking on this sort of thing.

The commission also condemned the speeding and parking of cars in Riverside that endangered the lives of the children playing there, and asked that the council consider the dangers present.

Mr. Dane was granted authority by the commission to engage extra help in his office while his secretary is on holidays, with the provision that in future stenographic help not be allowed to go on holidays during a peak season. Mr. Dane's own holidays are to taken at his discretion, as long as he notifies the chairman when he is going.

Plans for a playlot and demonstration at the Peterborough Exhibition were discussed, and the members felt that they could not agree unless the exhibition board would look after the expense of marquees. Present plans call for slides, swings, teeters and other playground equipment to be used, under the direction of playground supervisors from early afternoon until nine o'clock in the evening. Also proposed is an art exhibition composed of the work of the city's children.

Wheat Crop Totals Down For '49

Blame Long Drought For Reduction In Grain Production

OTTAWA, Aug. 17 (CP) — Canadian farmers planted near-record wheat acreages last spring but the Dominion's wheat crop is expected to be below average.

The Dominion Bureau of Statistics, in its first crop estimate of the year, Tuesday placed the wheat crop at 391,500,000 bushels. The estimate—which does not include Newfoundland—was 1,800,000 bushels below last year's crop and 18,600,000 bushels below the 1939-48 average.

On a total wheat acreage of 27,500,000, that means an average yield of 14.2 bushels to the acre. The long-term average yield is 17.4 bushels to the acre.

Rainfall in the prairies has been below average all season, following a prolonged drought early in the growing season. Grasshoppers, too, have been heavy in the west. Total western production was estimated at 362,000,000 bushels, nearly 1,000,000 less than last year.

317,000,000 Bushels Oats

Production of feed grains also was expected to fall. The oat crop was placed at 317,000,000 bushels —down 41,000,000—and the barley crop was estimated at 126,500,000 bushels—down 28,500,000 bushels.

The oats production is a decrease of nearly four bushels an acre from last year's average yield, despite an increased acreage. The rye crop was expected to be down about 60 per cent. as a result of lower acreages and lower yields. The flaxseed crop was estimated at only 14 per cent of last year's 17,700,000 bushels.

Total production of hay and clover was estimated at 11,900,000 tons compared with 16,100,000 tons last year.

Mrs. Lofsky, unharmed but suffering from shock which required medical treatment, told police that her brother-in-law had demanded $500 from her. She quoted him as saying:

"If you value your husband's life, answer yes or no."

She refused to give the man money and turned to leave the room. She said she had taken only two or three steps when she heard the shot behind her and dropped to the hallway floor screaming "Help! help! help!" She cut her ear when she fell.

Lightning Strikes Norwood Home, Woman Injured

NORWOOD, Aug. 17.—(ENS).—Lightning struck beside Mrs. Alfred Scott and knocked her down while she was working in the summer kitchen of her Norwood home at 10.45 a.m. today during a storm which lasted most of the morning.

Neither her daughter, Bernice, nor a friend who had both come to Norwood from Peterborough to spend the day, were hurt. Miss Scott's friend was working at the sink in the same room with the victim but didn't feel any effects of the exploding electric charge.

Artificial respiration was not necessary, but Mrs. Scott was quietened by an injection administered by Dr. A. R. Atkinson.

The storm appeared to have passed when a freak bolt suddenly struck the house. Mrs. Lionel Edmunds, Examiner correspondent who lives directly across the street, said she felt the shock of the bolt in her house.

Carrier Plows Into Truck 6 Revivalists Die, 20 Hurt

FULTON, Miss., Aug. 17—(AP)—A heavy lumber carrier Tuesday night plowed into the centre of an open-bed truck loaded with a gay crowd of revivalists near here, spreading six dead and 20 injured along a 100-foot section of roadway. Two of the injured, in a Tupelo, Miss., hospital, were reported in a "very critical" condition.

Highway Patrolman G. L. Hobis said the lumber truck rammed the other vehicle as it turned into a side road leading to the church.

All of the dead and injured were of or near Hamilton, Ala.

The revivalists were members of the Church of God. They were being driven to a church meeting at Tremont, 10 miles east of here.

Hobis said the force of the crash drove both trucks into a 12-foot ditch ramming the highway.

A three-month-old girl apparently was the only person to survive the wreck without injury.

on the steamer at Charlotte at 1 a.m. to-day The steamer pulled out almost immediately. About 15 minutes later they found it necessary to go down to the cargo deck to get some articles from their car. While there they noticed members of the crew running about frantically, and heard a report someone had fallen overboard.

By that time the steamer was some distance out in the lake.

"The rescue was simply wonderful," Mrs. Agg said. "The boat stopped, turned around, and the searchlight was played on the water. The whistle was blown, I think, to help get the coastguard cutter to help, but it did not arrive until the rescue was over.

On Top Deck

"We were on the top deck. Very few of the passengers were out, as they were in bed and few of them knew anything about it until the boat reached Toronto.

"Suddenly we saw the girl picked up by the searchlight. She called 'Help,' 'Help me' and 'Save me.'"

Lawrence called to her to "hang on" for a few minutes. Then she began to call hysterically for help.

"Some of the crew wanted to jump overboard and swim to her but the captain would not allow it. When the big boat got close enough, the crew threw lifebelts to her, launched boats and members of the crew jumped into the water and pulled her into the small boat.

"The girl kept shouting 'Roy's out there.'"

Mrs. Agg estimates that the Kingston turned back about half a mile. It seemed like hours before the searchlight picked up the girl in the water and before she was brought on board.

After the girl was rescued the coastguard cutter arrived. The captain of the Kingston asked the coastguard to take over as he was proceeding on to Toronto.

NATURE ACTS UP

Miss Grace Simpson, R.R. 4, Peterborough, telephoned the Examiner today to say that an apple tree in her orchard was acting strangely. When she visited the orchard this morning she noticed that the tree had sprouted a new branch which had just leafed out with one blossom on it, months later than the usual blossoming time. The rest of the tree is laden down with fruit.

PHANTOM NUDE

Provincial police at Bowmanville were told by a truck driver shortly after midnight Tuesday that the nude body of a man was lying on No. 2 highway three miles west of Bowmanville. By the time Provincial Constable A. L. Ketching arrived at the scene, however, the body, if there had been one, had mysteriously disappeared. Constable Ketching scoured the area for several hours without finding any trace of the body.

THREE-WAY CRASH

Provincial Constable A. L. Ketching of Bowmanville investigated a three-way collision involving a truck, a bus and an automobile which occurred on No. 2 highway two miles east of Bowmanville at 9.00 this morning. The car was between the truck, which was in front, and the bus (Colonial Coach Lines). The truck stopped suddenly and the car crashed into it. The bus skidded on the wet pavement and ran into the car, which sustained about $400 damage. The car was driven by Eleanor Wells, 17, of Stirling and no one was hurt.

Police Seeking Missing Son Of Dead Cobbler

ST. CATHARINES, Aug. 17 — (CP)—Police are searching for the 30-year-old son of John Sanborski, 54, cobbler, whose decomposing body was found, battered and coated with lime, in a cement-covered grave in the basement of his home.

Sanborski vanished July 16 and the finding of his body Monday climaxed a three-week police search. Police say they want to question his son, Bill Adams, who has not been seen since Aug. 10. Adams changed his name several years ago.

Officers found the body in a shallow hole, under a thin coating of cement, after neighbors complained about the odor and the number of flies at the cellar window.

Police said there was a lengthy gash along one side of the head, believed to have been inflicted with an axe, and bruises on the upper left arm. The face was battered. The body had been spread with lime before it was buried.

Positive identification of the body awaits a check with R.C.-M.P. fingerprint records in Ottawa. Sanborski, formerly of Timmins, served a prison term some years ago for having carnal knowledge of a girl under 16. Neighbors said the decaying features resembled those of the missing man.

Father and son are said to have quarrelled frequently over ownership of the shoe repair shop built jointly in front of the house.

Poor Generator Balks Explorer

SMUGGLER'S COVE, Calif., Aug. 17 (CP)—A faulty generator Monday thwarted explorer Otis Barton on his attempt to drop deeper into the ocean depths than man has ever gone before.

It was but one more of the mechanical troubles that have plagued him for three days in his effort to reach 6,000 feet.

He did, however, descend to 2,300 feet. Barton and Dr. William Beebe, of the New York Zoological Society, set the existing deep dive record of 3,028 feet off Bermuda in 1934.

The steel sphere he is using, called a Benthoscope, was dropped 5,800 feet, empty, on Saturday and 6,000 feet, again empty, Sunday.

Barton said there would be no further attempt to a deep descent until the electrical equipment is in perfect order.

Start Excavation Cobourg Rink

COBOURG, Aug. 17 (ENS) — Excavation work started this morning for the new recreational centre. Bulldozers started ripping into the ground and engineers and contractors were bustling about with blueprints. It is expected that the building will be up by October. Over $90,000 has been raised to date, including the $50,000 town grant. If the total amount needed of $150,000 is raised by fall an artificial ice plant will be installed for skating and hockey.

The contract for the cement walls, foundation, footings and cement blocks has been let to Cobourg Flooring and Roofing Company. The superintendent of this work will be Eric Dawson. Mr. Dawson was staff engineer during the construction of the Ottawa Civic Waterworks and worked in an engineering capacity on the building of the Dodge Motor Co. plant at Detroit, Michigan. He also worked on the Boulder Dam project in Colorado.

NEW YORK, Aug. 17 (AP)—Archduke Franz Joseph charged Tuesday his brother has tried to do him out of his share—close to $1,000,000—of their ancestral estates in Austria. Cobourg Man Fined For Careless Driving

COBOURG, Aug. 17E (ENS).—William Nahernick of Cobourg was fined $50, and costs, on a dangerous driving charge in court here Tuesday. Provincial Constable W. Baluk testified that on August 13 he was on patrol on the highway east of Port Hope and noticed an old model car going from one side of the road to the other.

He stopped the driver, who was the accused, and noticed that he smelled strongly of liquor. Nahernick blamed his erratic driving on a slow leak in the front tire. However, the car had a new spare tire which could have been put on if the soft tire had been the cause of the unsteady steering, the constable said.

Strict Signs

Quite apart from the dollars tourists bring with them into this district, they are welcome, for it is our civilized nature to welcome visitors and strangers when they come among us. However, the outward signs of our welcome are not always heart-warming to the transient. Even the road signs can be rather severe. For instance, as one drives westward along No. 7 Highway and enters Madoc, the first notice of Madoc's hospitality is "Speed Limit, 30 m.p.h. Strictly Enforced". As a matter of fact, Madoc's bark is worse than its bite—the other day we drove through the village at 42 miles an hour and no one said boo.

• • •

The city of Peterborough likewise presents a strict sign at its eastern gate. When a motorist approaches the boundary, there is a notice similar to Madoc's. After it the motorist comes upon a billboard advertising the city's lures, and heartiness, but by the time the motorist sees this cordial greeting he is soured by the first sign. First impressions are important, even along a highway.

• • •

Why not have the large welcoming sign first, and the warning second; or better still, make the warning less curt and more courteous? "You are now entering Peterborough.—Our legal speed limit is 30 m.p.h.—Please observe it." looks better than "Limits—City of Peterborough—Speed 30 m.p.h. STRICTLY ENFORCED". We who live in the city are not unduly frightened by the implied threat of being pinched, but a stranger is likely to get from it the unpleasant impression that there is a speed cop crouching behind the sign, ready to pounce. The hand of welcome should not be thrust out to claw. Anyway, a polite request or a bit of coaxing is usually more effective than a direct command or a bludgeon.

Crop Dollar Guessing

The Honourable T. L. Kennedy, Minister of Agriculture, estimated on Monday that the value of Ontario's agricultural crops this season would be $900,000,000. "It won't beat last year's record of $1,071,000,000, but it will be a good average year"; Mr. Kennedy said after a three weeks' tour of the province. Where now are the doleful estimates of the dollar losses being made by Mr. Kennedy's department in June and July, the estimates announced even by Mr. Kennedy himself?

Early in June after a few dry days it was said that the daily loss was five million dollars. A little later the estimates ran much higher. On June 14, after 19 days of drought, the official estimate was that a hundred million dollars had been lost to that date because of the lack of rain. That $100,000,000 is not far short of the total difference now estimated between the value of this year's crop and the bumper 1948 Ontario crop. Yet after June 14 and well into July the province continued to swelter, the crops to wither (so the alarmists cried), and the estimates of daily losses mounted higher [illegible] over the fields.

We pride ourself on having kept our head when the heat was on; in fact, in the midst of all the cries of ruin and desolation, we dared in these columns to pooh-hoo the wailers and the dollar-loss estimaters. Now Mr. Kennedy is confirming us in our stand. The crops in this part of Canada have not been as good as in 1948, nevertheless they are, Mr. Kennedy says, "a good average". Because crops are not bigger and better each succeeding year is no reason to cry havoc. Over a period of ten or a hundred summers and from one part of the country to another the score evens out.

Canada is a large country; a poor year in southern Ontario may be an exceptionally good one in the West. This year, for instance, Prince Edward Island's crops are as good as the oldest farmer on the Island remembers. Oats, now being harvested, are big-headed and long-strawed; potatoes are almost bursting their jackets in the fields; and many P.E.I. farmers have not even attempted to cut and stack all the hay; they have more than they can handle.

We have remarked before and we say it again: Guessing the value of varied Ontario crops seems to us to be a bit fey; and to put dollar values on the weather is well-nigh irreligious. Farmers are not prone to count their chickens before they are hatched. Why guess how many million dollars' worth of crops have been lost before the shoots are half-grown? Further, can a crop which does not reach maximum yield be termed a loss? If there's any guessing to be done, we suggest that the guessing should be done from zero, and in terms of crop dollars gained because of good growing weather, not lost because of poor.

Albert E. Matthews

The career of Mr. Albert Matthews was as distinguished for its private virtues as for its public service. His province of Ontario was chiefly cognizant of the public figure in business, in educational and religious beneficence and in the office of Lieutenant-Governor. His native Lindsay and his later home cities of Peterborough and Toronto knew him as a person of modest disposition, unpretentious manner and wholesome character. It was because of the merits of his nature and private achievement that high office sought him out and public influence lay along his path.

Ontario has lost a servant who made the lieutenant-governorship amiable during his nine years in office. The Baptist Church has lost a staunch and zealous layman. McMaster University has lost a governor who made her interests his. Kindred and numerous friends in this district—indeed, all who knew Mr. Matthews personally—mourn the passing from their midst of a man of good works whose affable simplicity was not despoiled by financial success and prominence in affairs.

"Paternity Leave" For Fathers?

It has long been our belief that the sufferings of the father when a child is being born are treated with undue levity. Doctors laugh at him; nurses treat him as if he were of no account; his wife's friends ignore him. However many children he may have already, he is likely to be treated as a rank beginner in the art of holding a baby. Everything is done to make him feel ridiculous and superfluous. Something should be done for him.

A little too much is being done for him, however, by the American Newspaper Guild, which wants a clause including a week's "paternity leave" included in its new contract. The Guild says that when a child is born the father is expected to stay at home and do housework, and he should have time off (with pay, of course) for this purpose.

We do not see the justice of this claim. Most children are born in hospitals, and by the time they are ready to be brought home their mothers are able to give them the care they need. The mother may not be able to do much housework, but under such circumstances housework must be done by neighbours, or a hired assistant, or done by the father at night, or simply left undone.

Men want to be treated as human beings when their children are born. This does not mean that their employers should be mulcted a week's wages, and the men themselves set to work to wash diapers, mix bottles, and push the carriage. Compassion must be kept within reasonable bounds or, like all other noble human feelings, it will become maudlin.

A Good Citizen

The great and illustrious may radically change the shape of things to come, but it is people like Harry Gainey who, living decently and working unobtrusively [illegible] we have and the crooked by-ways straight. Michael Henry Gainey who died yesterday was a good citizen. Honest and modest in business, faithful to family and church, and quietly devoted to his native city, he leaves the kind of mark which is not quickly defaced or erased—the influence of an estimable man on family, neighbours and community. He served as a member of the Trades and Labour Council, as alderman for eight years, and as Suburban Area Commissioner for a quarter of a century, during which time the improved suburban road system was built, the smooth roads to Chemong, Lakefield, Douro and through North Monaghan.

However well endowed with men like Mr. Gainey a community may be the passing of one is a loss, and Peterborough city and county suffer loss through the transition from it of M. H. Gainey.

Helping Countries To Develop

By ROBERT LOMBARD
(UNESCO Features Staff Writer)

ALMOST every day, new techniques afford fresh means whereby man may improve his living standards. But these improvements only occur in industrialized countries where these techniques have been developed. The greater part of the world does not benefit from them. And every day the rift between industrialized countries and the lesser-developed ones grows wider. In the former group, the trend is towards a simultaneous increase of each citizen's income and the number of products at his disposal. In the latter, no new consumer goods are produced, the earth gradually grows poorer, herds grow smaller and the natural food resources diminish. And it is an obvious fact that if inequality between men is a perpetual source of social unrest, then inequality between nations may become a source of conflict on a world scale.

IN his message to Congress, on 20th January 1949, President Truman recommended a bold and original plan to enable under-developed countries to enjoy the benefits of modern science and techniques. The United Nations adopted this idea for its program of assistance to under-developed countries. The co-operation of all nations is an essential factor in the success of such a program, and international organizations are undoubtedly a vehicle for such co-operation. This programme is to be put into operation through the United Nations and each of its specialized agencies has therefore an important part to play.

Technical development in any country can only be achieved if its inhabitants are able to ensure its success. In most under-developed countries, however, a large proportion of the population is under-fed, threatened by periodic famine, stricken with such diseases as plague, cholera, or malaria.

THE first task falls to the experts of the World Health Organization, that of wiping out possible centres of infection and of supplying adequate protection against disease.

It is the task of the Food and Agricultural Organization to increase world food production. Though the greater part of the population of these countries works on the land, the methods they use are old-fashioned, and the soil has been impoverished through imprudent and excessive cultivation. FAO will make available selected seeds from selected crops and experts will advise on new methods of increasing food production.

◇ ◇ ◇

AS soon as the first industrial project gets under way, the International Labour Organization will lend its assistance in the field of technical education and will supervise working conditions from the viewpoint of health and social security (wages, and industrial legislation).

The International Monetary Fund and the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development will be in charge of capital investments necessary for carrying through the scheme. And to avoid such loans becoming a means of exercising political pressure, all funds will be distributed through these international organizations to the governments concerned and never to individuals.

◇ ◇ ◇

UNESCO'S part in this scheme is all-important. For most of the evils from which mankind suffers, be they famine or disease, are caused by ignorance. It is not enough to send doctors and DDT to fight malaria. Men must be taught how to use DDT and how to protect themselves. They must be taught to till the soil. They must also be taught to read. For more than one-half of the inhabitants of the globe are illiterate and if they remain so permanently, technical development is doomed to failure. Fundamental education is an essential requirement for success. This scheme cannot wait for the coming of a new and better-educated generation and a program of adult education must be put into operation immediately.

New techniques are born in laboratories. If under-developed countries are to attain economic independence, they must build not only new factories but new laboratories to train young technicians capable of playing their part in world progress.

Education, science and culture are the fields in which Unesco can contribute to this common effort of men and of institutions whose aim is progress and the peaceful development of mankind.

The Shopkeepers Rebel

(Ottawa Journal)

Napoleon called the British "a nation of shopkeepers", later found the shopkeepers tough. Now there seems [illegible] an order of Mr. Attlee's Labour government, and it may well be that Mr. Attlee will also find them tough. The order says the shopkeepers must cut prices five per cent.

The complaint of the shopkeepers, looked at from this distance, seems to have substance. They are willing, they say, to cut prices providing the people from whom they buy their goods cut prices too. Otherwise, they argue, they will be taking all the loss, possibly be selling goods at less than their cost.

How Mr. Attlee's government will meet this argument, remains to be seen. What is of interest to most of us in the meantime, or what should be of interest to us, is what this order of Britain's Socialist government reveals of the distance it has gone towards socialism. Here in Canada we had price-fixing during the war. But fixing prices in war as a war measure is a far different thing from fixing prices in peace as an economic measure; as something to conform to an economic philosophy.

Yet the last control of things and eventually control of people, is what the Socialist philosophy means. One control begets another, one restriction begets another, until in the end the whole pattern is of control. The result may be economic security, but certainly not security for freedom.

SUGGESTED PETERBOROUGH STATUES . . . (No. 2)

The Need For A National Theatre

(OTTAWA JOURNAL)

THE recommendation was made in the Greber report that the Government should create in Ottawa an Institute of Arts which would include a national theatre. This is what it said:

"The main argument in favour of the project of an Institute of Arts is that a national capital cannot depend upon privately-owned theatres, cinemas or sports establishments in which to hold theatrical performances such as opera or drama.

"A site should be reserved, within the centre of the Capital's social life, for a national theatre catering to musical art (opera and concert), drama, comedy, lectures, and public addresses to selected audiences. Such a theatre would be of limited capacity (2,500 maximum) for direct auditions. Although the most modern achievements in staging, lighting and recording equipment might be utilized, mechanical amplification would not be desirable in such an auditorium of quality."

Mr. Greber's concern was with Ottawa itself. The brief presented to the Massey Commission by the Dominion Drama Festival is much broader. It deplores the status of the theatre in Canada and proposes that the Dominion Government should give it the assistance of a permanent commission and support the theatre by public funds. The Festival would have the Government assist in the construction of "a highway of municipal theatres over which theatre companies could travel", assist in the establishment of permanent national theatrical companies, and offer scholarships "to stimulate the flow of talent into the theatre".

This scheme would make Ottawa the centre of a national theatre movement, a cause the Drama Festival and the Little Theatre groups have done so much to encourage in recent years. So ambitious a project clearly would require a considerable assistance from government funds, and governments ordinarily are less inclined to spend money on cultural projects than on such material things as post-offices and wharves. Nevertheless, Mr. St. Laurent's interest in the planning and development of the Capital, and his concern with this country's cultural state, as indicated by his appointment of the Massey Commission, may justify the expectation that something will come of it all.

Good As Sewer-Diggers

(Brockville Recorder and Times)

Reversing the usual order of things a report out of Australia concerns a "worm story" rather than a "fish story".

According to this report Australia scientists are presently studying a giant earthworm which sometimes achieves a length of 11 feet and makes a "loud gurgling sound". Surely such a beast could be developed into a commercial bonanza. Think how many fish could be caught with only a small portion of such a king-size bait. Or there might be possibilities of putting it to work on a project for aerating and cultivating the soil, although this super-worm might make dangerous craters in the ground rather than the customary worm casts made by its midget brethren.

However, if the worm holes were too big the beast might be used for digging sewers or some similar underground work.

He Liked His Ale

(Hamilton Spectator)

Somewhere among the British archives will likely be found more about Tom Porters. It is too bad this information is not more readily available. For Tom appears to have been a man worth knowing.

All that the despatch from London revealed was that a hitherto unknown doorway had been found in the British House of Commons. Repair men discovered the entrance leading to a small chamber once used as a passage between the cloisters and Westminster Hall. The chamber was bricked up in 1841. An inscription on the wall advised onlookers that:

"This room was enclosed by Tom Porters, who was very fond of old ale."

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

After these things came Jesus and his disciples into the land of Judaea; and there he tarried with them, and baptized....Then there arose a question between some of John's disciples and the Jews about purifying. And they came unto John, and said unto him, Rabbi, he that was with thee beyond Jordan, to whom thou barest witness, behold, the same baptizeth, and all men come to him.

John answered and said, A man can receive nothing, except it be given him from heaven. Ye yourselves bear me witness, that I said, I am not the Christ, but that I am sent before him. He that hath the bride is the bridegroom: but the friend of the bridegroom, which standeth and heareth him, rejoiceth greatly because of the bridegroom's voice: this my joy therefore is fulfilled....

He that cometh from above is above all: he that is of the earth is earthly, and speaketh of the earth: he that cometh from heaven is above all. And what he hath seen and heard, that he testifieth; and no man receiveth his testimony. He that hath received his testimony hath set his seal that God is true. (John 3: 22, 25-29,31-33.)

Odd-Job Boy Makes Good

(London Daily Mail)

Fifty years after he did odd jobs at the Manor, and walked the local lanes with his sweetheart, the carpenter's boy came back in his airplane, circled reminiscently, and decided to buy the lot.

Thus pleasantly have things turned out for Mr. John Edward Clarke Holmes. He used to be a carpenter's apprentice at Ludford, Lincolnshire. Now he is one of the biggest timber merchants in the county and chairman of eight companies.

And he has bought Girsby Manor and most of the village of Burgh-on-Bain two miles from the village workshop where his career began. The price of the estate—2,000 acres of agricultural and wooded land—was nearly £100,000.

Mr. Holmes, son of a village blacksmith, is 64 and lives in a "biggish" country house at Bardney, a few miles from Girsby.

"I bought the estate because it has so many happy associations for me", he said.

"I always admired the place. It is a great joy to own it after all these years."

Enemy Of The Grouse

("Atticus" In London Sunday Times)

At this stage I can say with confidence that grouse prospects in Scotland are the best since the war. May passed without the usual snowstorm, and hopes of a better season are high.

There is, I think, no doubt that grouse can be brought back in their pre-war numbers. Most experts regard vermin, especially the fox, as the greatest enemy. One old keeper holds the view that grouse will continue to languish until the former plenty of hares is restored. His argument is that the fox prefers hare to grouse.

Be this as it may, hares are still scarce, and the grouse are increasing. Personally I believe that the grouse's chief enemy is the shooting syndicate and one-year tenant. The holder of a long lease will spare his moor in bad years, and allow the stock to replenish. The one-year tenant wants to get the best bag he can. The problem, of course, is largely one of taxation.

Nevertheless, more moors have been let this year than since 1939.

A BRITISH OPINION

Hold Typist For Protection

LONDON, Aug. 17 (Reuters)—Joan Mills, 25-year-old typist who allegedly threw scalding water over a two-year-old child, today was remanded in custody for one week for her own protection.

The court ordered her held after a police sergeant testified that a crowd of more than 1,000 tried to "get at" Miss Mills Monday night. The sergeant said he and another sergeant were attacked by the crowd.

Sergeant Donald Gowan said that when he and other officers went to Miss Mills' house in Islington, North London, Monday night in response to an emergency call, they found the police already there unable to control the "shouting, screaming and very hostile" crowd.

"As soon as the crowd saw her, they went completely mad," the sergeant related.

"The crowd broke through the police cordon and rushed a sergeant and myself off our feet as we were doing our best to protect the woman. They pulled out Miss Mills hair. I received a blow in the back of the neck and the sergeant was slashed on the finger with a razor blade."

After a "very tough time" the sergeants got the woman into a police car only to have the mob try to overturn it, Sergeant Gowan added.

Cosmos Gain Third In Row With 7-4 Win Over Uniteds

Cosmos took a strangle-hold on the City Softball League final playoffs at the Bowl last night by beating Uniteds 7-4 before a big crowd. It was their third win in as many starts of the four-in-seven series, which could be concluded tomorrow evening when these teams clash again at 8.30 there. If Uniteds should win Thursday, the same squads tangle Friday night, as the girls are using the Bowl this Saturday.

Ron Akers chalked up his third final victory with a neat seven-hit chore, only being in trouble one inning. His support was good and his mates cashed in on every opportunity to give him a fair lead throughout. Bob Greenlaw pitched the first frame for Uniteds, Haddy Eakins threw the next six, and Greenlaw finished up the final three. Eakins was wild to walk three and have seven wild pitches. His support was fair.

Led At Bat

Bob Crowe led the winners at bat with two for three, and Mackness hit a triple. Bud Harrison and Jake Wade topped the losers with two in four each, one of the former's being a triple and one of Jake's being a double. Willie hit a hard homer to deep centre. Nice catches were made by Scriver, Dalton and Pryde. Cosmos took an early lead and kept adding to it, while Uniteds threatened to overtake them in the later innings. Umpire Les Calladine ejected four players—not playing at the time—for personal remarks from the bench. They were all Uniteds, Reid, W. Sullivan, Spencer and Lewis. Arguments made it a slow tilt, but it was interesting all the way.

The box score.

Poile Swapped By Red Wings

NEW YORK, Aug. 17 (CP) — The first salvo of what may develop into one of the National Hockey League's busiest swap seasons in years was fired Tuesday by Detroit Red Wings.

The Wings announced a major six-player deal with Boston Bruins in which Big Bill Quackenbush, considered the best all-around defenceman in hockey today, was traded to Boston along with forward Pete Horeck for four players.

To top off this hockey bombshell, the Red Wings sold Norman (Bud) Poile, high-scoring right winger, to New York Rangers for an undisclosed sum.

Jack Adams, manager of the Red Wings, said he was willing to trade and sell two of his top stars for forward strength. In return for Quackenbush Detroit got two of the Bruins' stalwart wingers, Pete Babando and Jimmy Peters, as well as two defencemen, Clare Martin and Lloyd Durham.

The acquisition of Poile is bound to strengthen the Rangers who have been looking for a hard-shooting winger all these post-war years. But whether it will weaken or strengthen Boston and Detroit remains to be seen.

Westclox Victors

Westclox concluded their schedule in the industrial fastball loop last night with an 11-0 win over the Woollens. D. Quigley earned his shutout with a fine two-hit job, walking two and allowing but four men to reach first. Westclox played perfect ball, getting 10 hits, two of them triples by Morin and Quigley. Woollens had eight errors. Quigley struck out 14, while B. Morin drove in five runners. Two hits each were gained by Donoghue, Morin, McMasters and Quigley, as Revoy and Weichorek got the lone hits for the losers, Doris going best in the field. Teams:

Orioles Bump Montreal In 8-3 Victory

By the Associated Press

Al Widmar, kicking around organized baseball since 1942, has realized the ambition of all pitchers—a 20-game victory season.

The 6-foot 4-inch righthander of the seventh-place Baltimore Orioles achieved the cherished goal Tuesday night as he pitched Orioles to an 8-3 triumph over Montreal Royals.

Widmar is the first International League pitcher to win 20 games since 1947 when Lefty Jim Prendergast performed the feat for Syracuse Chiefs. He is the first Oriole to attain that feat since Workhorse Johnny Podgajny won 20 in 1945.

The 24-year-old pitcher never before won more than 12 games in a season. Widmar won only two games and lost six for St. Louis in 1948, and was sold to the Orioles last fall.

The Browns have a working agreement with the Orioles that gives them the right to purchase one player on or before September 1 of this year. Brother Widmar and the Orioles know that Al's 1950 address will be St. Louis, Mo.

Widmar, who has lost 10 games stopped the Orioles on eight hits, walked two and fanned three.

The Orioles made Al's 20th triumph a breeze, jumping on Johnny Van Cuyk for six runs in the first inning. Ken Wood, a St. Louis Optionee, featured the uprising with a grand-slam homer, his 21st of the season.

Dump Bisons

Meanwhile, the thrilling pennant race tightened up with Jersey City Giants moving into second place by dumping the leading Buffalo Bisons 6-2.

The Giants took over the runner-up slot from the Rochester Red Wings by four percentage points. The Wings were upset 5-3 by the last-place Newark Bears. Both the Giants and the Wings trail the Bisons by two games.

Toronto and Syracuse were idle.

Minor Lacrosse

Minor OLA lacrosse playoffs will go as follows Peterborough bantams at Orillia Aug. 24 at 7.30 p.m., and here Aug. 27, with the Petes-Orillia midgets on the same dates right after the bantam games. They are home-and-home series in OLA playdowns. The local juveniles are in Orillia tonight and back here Saturday at 2.30 p.m., goals to count. Winner meets Huntsville next.

Irwin Godson midgets opened their best-of-three finals with an 8-5 win over Americans last night at Miller Bowl. It was keen play throughout with McIlmoyle, O'Reilly and Brown best for the winners, as Brioux, L. Jones and Hobart shone for Americans. Dunn Jones and Brown scored in the first as Farley, Dunn and Allen each had an assist. Jones, Brioux, Cupoli and McIlmoyle with two were the snipers in the second, an assist going to Deck. Allen and Doris counted in the third, J. Jones aiding once. In the fourth, Brown, Deck and O'Reilly scored with Buckland having two assists and Deck one. Teams:

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Cobourg racquet-wielders have had a merry season so far in tennis play around these parts. They coasted to a 6-1 triumph the other day o'er the Quaker "A" team to compile 56 points of a possible 63 and remain undefeated in schedule play. Only Bun Kingdon and George Scott could win for Quakers in men's doubles over Ed Haynes and Eric McQuaig. A meeting was held after and 'twas decided to let four clubs into playoffs in this order, Cobourg, Quaker "A", Quaker "B" and Port Hope. First and fourth have a sudden-death playoff and ditto with the second and third clubs, play being on courts of the club finishing higher. Series will likely open Sunday.

Local senior "A" lacrossers meet Brampton Excelsiors twice this week and Weston once as they stay in the fight for that last playoff spot. It's Brampton here at 8.45 tonight in Miller Bowl, Weston Lions here Friday night, and the Petes at Brampton on Saturday. A rather rugged week but they have only six games left to play and will clean up on three of them this week. We trust they clean up in a victorious sense as but one point separates Petes from Weston now. Should be a swell scrap this evening and, weather being right, another huge crowd will no doubt fill the stands. Fans are backing the club loyally this season in the higher company.

Merchants And Petes

As mentioned before, Oshawa Merchants wind up the Petes' home COBL schedule here tonight at six in Riverside. The Petes then have one game 'gainst Batawa in Belleville on Saturday, with loop semi-finals opening the following week. Oshawa has the bye into finals and Brockville is out. Merchants finished with 38 points, the Petes had 32, Batawa 14 and Brockville eight — all Brockville games being four-pointers. Lefty Dadson may take the mound this p.m. for the men o' Murphy, while Knights or Michael will probably pitch for Oshawa. It shapes up as a good ball game.

Kingston and Westclox girls open their best-of-three PWSU intermediate "A" playdowns at 8.30 tonight in the Ashburnham Bowl, return tilt or tilts being Saturday in the Limestone City. The classy Clockers should hold their own with Kingston in this first provincial playdown round, and we hope the fans are out in force to give the local lasses lots of support. Lindsay girls go against the lakeshore loop winner here Saturday in PWSU intermediate "B" play, while Woollens will hit into provincial junior playdowns early in September. That's the setup at present. Local city playoffs will likely go again shortly.

"And Others Pass Out"

A guy back of us at the Bowl last night night whistled mournfully that ditty: "The doors swing in and the door swing out, and some pass in and others pass out"—and it might have been the funeral march of Uniteds. Since Cosmos were busy beating 'em 7-4 for the third straight win of the four-in-seven city softball finals. A mighty tough task now faces Uniteds as they swing into action tomorrow eve at 8.30 there and again Friday, if necessary, at 7.30, the girls having Saturday. Also Monday for the men, if the Uniteds are still making a desperate bid to take four in a row. One loss and they've had it. A big crowd, lots of arguments, steady twirling once more by Ron Akers, and Cosmos earned the nod.

One minor ball playoff tonight, southenders opening the best-of-three juvenile city finals at 6.15 in Trojan Field against East City. South eliminated the westenders 4-3 in a fine fray last p.m. at the Ex., while the midgets from Ashburnham rubbed out the northerners to take city honors in two straight. They won by an 8-7 score in an exciting struggle. And the bantam boys from east of the river racked up an 18-9 decision over southend to open their two-of-three city final playoffs. Thursday, it'll be south vs. east peewees at the Orphanage in second of their finals, and east vs. south bantams at Riverside in their second go, while Friday sees the second juvenile final at Trojan Field, all tilts starting at 6.15. Winners hit into OBA playdowns 'gainst Oshawa.

East City Gets Midget Title Over Northend

East City midgets edged the Northenders 8-7 in Riverside Park Tuesday night to gain the midget baseball championship in two straight, having won the first Saturday. The game was called at the midway point of the sixth inning after the Northenders failed to tie the score. Even during the first half of the sixth the ball was hard to see. Due to the late arrival of the umpires, the game did not start until 7.10.

Foley of East City opened the scoring in the first inning when he slammed a triple into right field and went on to score on Mongraw's out. They added another in the second and two in the third on one hit and four Northend errors. In the fourth they picked up another on a hit batter, passed ball, an error and a wild pitch by Foster. On one hit and two errors they [illegible] to the eight-run mark in their half of the fifth.

Scored Five

The Northenders had their big inning in the fourth when they scored five times. Sullivan walked the first three batters to fill the bases and Stewart whacked a single scoring two. He went home on Foster's double as did Foster on Langhorne's single to left field. The Northerners had scored their first run in the third. They added another in the fifth when Stewart hit a triple into centre field to drive in Hayward.

Stewart led the Northenders with a single and a triple for two official times at bat while Foley of East City had two for two. Sullivan pitched three-hit ball not allowing a hit until the fourth when the Northerners rallied for five runs. Foster pitched steady ball but lacked support in the field where six errors were committed. Each pitcher had a wild pitch with Foster hitting one batter. Lineups:

East City—Ferguson, 3b; Foley, cf; Mongraw, ss; Sullivan, p; Ash, 2b; Spencer, 1b; Kimbal and Renyolds, rf; Seabrook, lf; Telford, c.

Northend—Langhorne, ss; Richardson, 1b; Hayward, rf; Craw, 2b; Russelle, lf; Stewart, 3b; Harrison, cf; Black, c; Foster, p.

East City Gains First Bantam Go

Ray Pammett's Jaycees took the opener of a three-game city final Bantam baseball series over Ed Woodcock's South Enders by a score of 18-9, at Trojan Field, last evening.

Jim McGrath pitched the full seven innings for Jaycees, allowing 14 hits, seven in the seventh when the home team made a final futile rally. He fanned six and walked two. One bad inning spelled defeat for the Woodcock boys and pitcher Rose as Jaycees scored 11 in the second. Errors hurt but full credit must go to Jaycees who hit and fielded well behind McGrath and deserved to win on the play. McCormack performed well for the winners both at bat and afield, while Scriver and Burns each had three hits. They meet again Thursday.

Lowes pitched the first half for Bethany, Capstick catching, while Edmunds hurled the last half to Wilf Reynolds.

Southend Juves Ease Out Westend Boys

Southend nosed out the Westenders 4-3 in the sudden-death semi-final City Baseball League juvenile game at the Ex last night to now meet East City in juvenile finals. It was a fine, snappy struggle with a two-run drive by the Southenders in the eighth giving them the duke, after they scored one in the first and another in the eighth. Westend got one in the fourth and two more in the sixth. The joust lasted slightly over an hour and a half.

Murphy pitched six-hit ball for the winners, while Doris took over for Kitchen in the eighth on the other slab, the pair allowing but seven hits. However, they each walked three. Grant and Allen got two hits apiece for the Southend, as Grafstein led the losers at bat with a pair of singles. Two neat double players were reeled off, Hillier to Walton, in each case. The teams:

West-end — Conrov 3b, Hillier 2b, Walton 1b, Killingbeck lf, Morrissey c, Grafstein cf, Taylor rf, Harris ss, Kitchen p, Doris p.

South-end — Jensen cf, Allen 3b, Douglas ss, Robinson 1b, Young lf, Bigford c, Grant rf, Jones 2b, Murphy p.

Heintzelman Whips Brooks Baffles Team In 2-1 Win

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Curve-balling Kenney Heintzelman has whipped St. Louis Cardinals three times this season. Yet he probably would be elected mayor of St. Louis if he chose to run.

He is the only pitcher who holds five straight decisions over the Cards most hated rivals, Brooklyn Dodgers.

Were it not for the crafty Philadelphia left-hander, the Dodgers now would be leading the Cardinals by a comfortable margin in their battle for the National League pennant. As it is, the Brooks today own only a half-game edge.

The Dodgers faced a golden opportunity to strengthen their lead Tuesday night, but could not fathom the slants of the 33-year-old veteran.

Blow Lead

Earlier, the Cards had blown a 4-2 lead in the ninth when Chicago Cubs rallied for three runs to win 5-4.

Heintzelman hurled a seven-hitter to whip the Dodgers 2-1. It took his mates 12 innings to win it for him, but that they did when Richie Ashburn tripled home Kenny in the top of the third extra frame.

Don Newcombe was the losing hurler.

Johnny Schmitz combined with Cub first baseman Herman Reich to clip the Redbirds. Schmitz gained his second victory over the Cards with a one-inning relief stunt. Reich came through twice with the bases loaded to drive in four runs with a double and single. The Cubs' winning run resulted from Roy Smalley's bases-loaded single in the ninth.

Max Lanier started for the Cards but gave way for a pinch hitter in the eighth.

In Second Place

Al Benton, a 38-year-old castoff, pitched Cleveland Indians into second place in the torrid American League race. Benton, released last year by Detroit, stopped his former mates with six hits as the Indians shut out the Tigers 5-0. The triumph put the Tribe two percentage points over Boston Red Sox and 3½ games behind the pace-setting New York Yankees. Rain washed out the scheduled Yankee-Washington game.

Manager Lou Boudreau rapped in two runs, and outfielder Larry Doby smacked two doubles and scored twice, to lead the Indians at bat against loser Virgil Trucks.

Philadelphia Athletics defeated Boston 7-4 to snap a seven-game wining streak for the Red Sox. The defeat dropped the Bosox 3½ games behind the Yankees. Sam Chapman's eighth-inning home run started a four-run rally that spelled defeat for young Maurice McDermott. Joe Coleman spaced 10 hits for his 11th victory. The victory shoved the A's into fourth place, a half game above the Tigers.

Lefty Monte Kennedy pitched New York Giants to a 4-0 victory over Boston Braves.

Rookie Lloyd Merriman singled in the winning run as Cincinnati Reds nipped the Pittsburgh Pirates 2-1 in a 10-inning thriller.

Southpaw Bob Kuzava pitched Chicago White Sox to a 4-0 triumph over St. Louis Browns. He allowed only three hits for his eighth victory. He lost only two.

Tell Southworth To Take A Rest

BOSTON, Aug. 17 (AP)—Tired out and worn to the edge of a nervous breakdown, Billy Southworth, manager of Boston Braves, today began a rest that will last through the remainder of the season.

"I think too much of Billy—we all do—to have him continue working the way he works when he obviously isn't fit," said Lou Perini, president of the defending National League champions.

Asked if Southworth would be back as Braves manager next year, Perini replied

"Very, very definitely. He is the best manager in baseball and he is a fine fellow."

Johnny Cooney, in and out of the Boston National League system for more than 30 years, reluctantly took over the managerial post.

The Braves have been plagued all season with injuries.

Southworth has used all kinds of combinations in his struggle to keep the Braves near the top. At present they are in fourth place, 13½ games in back of the leading Brooklyn Dodgers and only a game ahead of the fifth-place Philadelphia Phillies.

Cooney's present goal is third place, occupied by New York Giants who blanked the Tribe Tuesday night 4-0 as he made his debut as acting manager.

Here and There In Sport

By The Canadian Press

Jaroslav Drobny, bespectacled Czech Davis Cup player and hard-hitting hockey left-winger who recently decided to remain outside the Iron Curtain, has been placed on the negotiation list of Boston Bruins National Hockey League club.

It is the first time that North American team has turned to European hockey pastures to pluck a regularly hockey-playing European. There are many Europe-born players but they came to North America as youngsters.

Drobny was put on Boston's list July 15, the day the southpaw tennis star announced in Switzerland he would seek a new life in exile in the United States. The U. S. State Department extended him a welcoming hand and Bruins said it with a fast notice to N. H.L. headquarters at Montreal to put him on their list.

This was confirmed Tuesday by N.H.L. officials at Montreal.

Bruins and Drobny probably will talk money when the outstanding net star arrives to compete in the U.S. tennis nationals at Forest Hills, N.Y., later this month.

Drobny was a key man in the Czech national team which won the "world" amateur title at Prague in 1947.

Dinghy helmsmen from Britain, the United States, Bermuda and Canada converged on the Royal St. Lawrence Club at Lake St. Louis near Montreal today for the week-long Canadian Dinghy Association's annual regatta.

At Springfield, Ill., Good Time, pony-sized pacing pride of Good Time Stables, Tuesday added the Review Futurity three-year-old pace to his list of grand circuit laurels at the Illinois State Fair. Driven by Frank Ervin, he was easily the class of a fine field of ten.

Brittanic, standout in the Abe Lincoln trotting stake, dropped dead as he paraded to the starting gate for the first heat of the race.

Cy Thomas, former National League player with Toronto Maple Leafs, has been signed to a contract with Saskatoon Quakers of the Western Canada Senior Hockey League, Saskatoon manager Bill Hunter announced in Edmonton Tuesday. He figured in the famous five-for-two hockey trade of a few years back in which Toronto obtained Max Bentley and Thomas from Chicago in return for Gus Bodnar, Gaye Stewart, Bud Poile, Ernie Dickens, and Bob Goldham.

Cobourg Defeats Trenton Depot 3-1

COBOURG, Aug. 17. — Behind the three-hit pitching of Soup Campbell, Cobourg defeated No. 6 Repair Depot of Trenton, 3-1, in a Lakeshore Baseball League game here.

Campbell claimed 10 batters on strikes. Al Garrett, Depot right-hander, gave up only six hits but his own overthrow of first base gave the winners two unearned runs, the margin of victory. Hogan with a triple and a single and McMillan with two singles led the winners. Hastings, Haystead and May had the Repair Depot safeties.

FRAGRANT FEET: "My problem is a very embarrasing one. In the hot weather, and in spite of daily bathing and changing my stockings, my feet develop an unpleasant odour—in fact, people look at me when I come in the room. Is there a solution which will kill this smell?" Says our head chemist, R. H. Crane, "Add one teaspoon formaldehyde to one quart of warm water. Wash the feet in this solution daily, both night and morning." This should check perspiration and odour.

C.N.E. OPENING GUN: "Who will open the Exhibition this year? Who invites this celebrity? Are his expenses paid? Does the average man on the street get a chance to meet him?"

Opening the Exhibition this year will be Viscount Alexander of Tunis, Governor-General of Canada. The Dominion Government sends him in his private car, hence there is no expense to the Directors of the Exhibition who are his hosts, and who issue his invitation. The Governor-General officially opens the Exhibition from the Band Shell, in front of which are thousands of free seats. He is a handsome lad, and well worth seeing.

CATHEDRAL COMPLETED — Five years ago Sivio Callegaro, butcher in a Winnipeg hotel, picked up a tiny fret-saw and some three-ply veneer and started work on a model of the 564-year-old Milan cathedral. The completed model, to be on view at the Canadian National Exhibition in Toronto, was examined recently by an architect who said that for sheer complexity no other model could surpass it.

Spray Or Drops Claimed New Aid For Hay Fever

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE

NEW YORK, Aug. 17 (AP)—A way to get relief from hay fever without bad effects from an anti-allergy drug is reported in the Journal of Allergy.

The method is to use a little of the drug in a spray or as nose drops, said Drs. Emanuel Schwartz and Harry Leibowitz of the Long Island College Hospital.

They worked with one of the anti-allergy drugs, pyribenzamine. There are many of these drugs, and they often relieve sneezing and other discomforts of hay fever when taken as pills. But they make some people drowsy, dizzy, nauseated, or cause other side effects when taken that way.

A one-half per cent solution of pyribenzamine in a spray or nose drops brought relief to 79 per cent of people tested without causing any side effects, the physicians said.

Immediate Relief

The relief came immediately, lasting half an hour to four hours, they said. It relieved the sneezing, watery discharge and itching of the nose more than the blocked, stuffy feeling. It helped seasonal victims more than people who suffer all year round from this kind of inflammation.

In tests on 100 persons, 38 per cent complained of a temporary burning sensation in the nose and throat when the used the nose drops. In most of these, the sensation was less or disappeard when they used the spray.

Many allergies are believed to be caused by a substance, histamine, released by body cells. The anti-histaminic drugs work by combatting histamine.

Pyribenzamine also appears to have a slight anaesthetic effect on the nasal membranes when applied directly, the physicians said. Its main effect in bringing relief in these tests was believed to be due mainly to its action against histamine.

None of the anti-allergy drugs have more than temporary effect. Dr. Schwartz recommended that hay fever victims get desensitizing shots so they can resist the pollen attack better, and use the drugs as pills or spray or both.

Policemen Deny Love Triangle

TORONTO, Aug. 17 — (CP) — Officers investigating the slaying of Gloria and Robert McKay Tuesday denied the suggestion that there was a "love triangle" in the case.

Earlier it was reported that the McKays had quarreled and intimations were made that a triangle with a unnamed person existed prior to the slaying.

The McKays were found shot to death two weeks ago on their way home from a holiday at their uncle's farm north of the city. Robert McKay's body was found in a North Toronto ravine; Gloria's in their car found abandoned in a midtown city parking lot.

Britain's Tourist Chief Furious With Government

By DON GILBERT.

LONDON, Aug. 17 — (CP) — The overseas visitors crowding through the ports into Britain's tourist wonderland have made this a banner year, but the industry's chief impressario, Sir Alexander Maxwell, is "furious" at the government just the same.

So well is the season going that during the present peak months the tourist industry is earning almost as many dollars as the entire export trade.

instance, it is estimated that visitors left behind the equivalent in dollars of £2,500,000 ($10,000,000), whereas the month's dollar exports earned only £3,000,000.

Sir Alexander is mad at the government because he feels it is hamstringing his efforts to get hold of even more of those elusive dollars. As chairman of the British Tourist and Holiday Board he played a part in getting legislation through Parliament allowing drinking places to stay open until 2 a.m., mainly for the benefit of the visiting playboys.

Now it develops that the "licensing justices" who have to okay the switch in hours are themselves doing a spot of touring. Until they return from vacationing, the new hours can't come into effect By then the tourist season will be over.

"What could be more ridiculous than bringing in this 2 a.m. law and then to have our hotels losing the American custom because they cannot make use of a new law?" Sir Alexander asked in an interview.

Tourists Curbed

So until they come again the tourists will have to abide by the current "children's hour" closing time. That is either 10 p.m. or 10:30 p.m., varying between the localities.

What irks Sir Alexander most is that many visitors are cutting short their stay in Britain in favor of Paris or Rome where they can enjoy a bit of night life. When this happens Britain loses dollars

"I tried to ram this home to the government," said Sir Alexander. "That is one reason why this absurd position over 2 a.m. licensing laws makes me so furious."

Another matter in which Sir Alexander has got nowhere is having the 5c ($1) limit on meals removed. He calls this "an absurd law which has a cart track driven through it every day of the week."

"I know how annoying visitors must find it when they expect their bill to come to 5s and find they have been charged for many extras."

Bomb Whistling Parrot Dies On Fleet Street

LONDON, Aug. 17 — (CP) — Fleet Street's best-known tavern has lost a tourist attraction.

Polly II, the parrot whose whistle imitating a high-explosive bomb caused havoc during the war, is dead.

For 23 years, Polly II perched on the bar in the Cheshire Chese, a hostelry which bases its reputation largely on the fact that Dr. Samuel Johnson used to dine there.

Polly I died in 1926. It used to take solitary strolls in Fleet St. His obituary was published in many countries.

Tournaments Will Close Playgrounds

Tournaments will be conducted on the Playgrounds for the next two weeks. Instead of the usual last big day Jack Dane, Recreation Director, has decided, with the approval of the Commission, to hold paddle tennis, tether tennis, horseshoe, softball, basketball and volley ball tournaments prior to Labor Day. They feel in this way that they can make the last day of the Playgrounds' summer program run more smoothly.

Three new playgrounds will be contesting with the old five playgrounds for the Allied Labor Council Trophy which was donated in 1947. The Playgrounds, McKellar Totlot, Turner Park and Hamilton Park have been holding their own against the senior playgrounds in attendance and points.

Joseph Barnard, member of the Public School staff and supervisor of Turner Park, said Tuesday that the adults are beginning to take a greater interest in the playground activities, especially in softball games and horseshoe contests.

Throughout the playgrounds this year the game paddle tennis has increased in popularity. It is played similar to tennis, only with a thick bat shaped like that of the ping pong bat. The net is only two feet off the ground. Scoring is done the same as in tennis.

According to Jack Dane and Bev Goulding, supervisor at Riverside Park and chairman of the tournaments committee, there are 10 teams in basketball, 16 softball teams, 18 volleyball teams, 21 horseshoe pitching teams, 24 tether tennis teams and 22 paddle tennis teams.

In each tournament there are nearly three age groups for both boys and girls: midget, bantam and peewee. In horseshoe pitching there will be donbles and singles with the same in paddle tennis. The tether tennis games will be singles.

The Labor Day proceedings will commence with a parade of gaily-dressed children from all playgrounds at 9:30 a.m. from the CNR Station to Riverside Park. Each playground will have its section in the parade.

Prizes will be given for: the best-dressed individual for both comic and fancy; the best dressed group of children from the playgrounds; largest turnout from any one playground; the best dressed wagon, bicycle, doll carriage and tricycle.

In the morning, the track and field events will be held with the final softball and volleyball games in the afternoon. In the evening will be the presentation of awards to the individual contestants and to the champion playground, the Allied Labor Council Trophy.

The swimming championships will be run off August 31 in the afternoon at Riverside Park. This is also sponsored by the Labor Council.

Prisoners At Regina Jail Have Cottages, No Walls

By ERWIN FRICKE

REGINA, Aug. 17 (CP).—Surrounded by trees but not prison walls five cottages are being made ready for occupancy by prisoners at the Regina Provincial Jail.

Saskatchewan Welfare Department officials don't think big stone-walled prisons are the best place to carry out what they term a new approach to penology in Canada.

Under the direction of High Christie, Director of the Corrections Branch, and John V. Fornataro, Classification Officer and former United Church minister, soon many of the cells in the red-brick provincial jail six miles east of Regina will be emptied.

The prisoners will be lodged in the cottages which they are helping to remodel. The eight to 12 occupants of each cottage will landscape the area about their one-acre domain, build chimneys, and eventually have a cottage garden to tend.

Separate Unit

Under the supervision of a group leader (known in other jails as a guard) each cottage group will be a separate unit with the privilege of making decisions on work projects. They will eat together and as much as possible live an unprison-like existence.

The system is based—in the manner of Britain's Borstel institutions—on influencing the offender to become law-abiding rather than making him merely a receiver of punishment.

As Mr. Christie, graduate in social work of the University of British Columbia, puts it:

"We're not trying to build carpenters or cottages. We're trying to build personalities."

Legislation was passed at the last session of the Legislature providing that offenders over 25 and sentenced to more than 30 days automatically go to the Provincial Jail at Prince Albert.

The Bureau of Statistics reports that Saskatchewan is the only Prairie province to show a declining crime rate in 1947-49. Welfare Department officials attribute the decline in this province to their program, begun two years ago, stressing individual treatment in the jails and also to the expanding use of probation services by the courts.

Says Canada Is Ready For London Stars

LONDON, Aug. 17 — (CP) — Margaret Percy Pitt, adviser to London show people, says Canada is on the eve of its biggest entertainment era.

Back from a visit to the Dominion, she advises British artists to co-operate in Canadian drama, music and films, before United States artists seize all the opportunities.

She says Canada has made strides in recent years in building up a new public for all forms of art and is anxious for more visits by first-rate British theatrical companies.

Industries Predict Lower Living Standard

LONDON, Aug. 17 (AP)—The Federation of British Industries asserted Tuesday the only way for Britain to pull out of her economic nose dive is to lower her standard of living.

The Federation said the Labor Government's spending on social-welfare schemes must be curtailed. One of these schemes is the costly National Health Service.

In a formal statement, the Federation also called for lower taxes, fewer government controls and harder work to produce more without raising prices.

It added that the Labor Party's plans for nationalizing more basic industries, such as iron and steel, are "distracting" the country's producers at a time when business problems demand their closest attention.

The Federation represents 6,000 owners of British industries. Its statement said, "We are still living beyond our means."

BELLEVILLE, Aug. 17 (CP)—Robert Allen was Tuesday sentenced to six months in county jail on a charge of assaulting J. F. Nafin. Allen was captured after a brief chase on Aug. 6. He had been released that day after serving a sentence for assaulting his wife last July.

83 Forest Fires Going In Ontario

TORONTO, Aug. 17 (CP) — Lands Minister Harold Scott announced Tuesday a total of 83 forest fires are blazing in Ontario. He said 26 of them started within the last 24 hours. All but five are under control.

Three in the North Bay area are on the rampage, along with one each in the Cochrane and Timiskaming districts. But, Mr. Scott said, none of the five is "particularly dangerous."

Greatest concentration of fire—a total of 22—remains in the Timiskaming section. No rain is forecast for the next 24 hours and the hazard remains high.

Mr. Scott urged all holiday-makers and fruit pickers to use matches and cigarettes with "extreme care."

The fires: Sioux Lookout, three; Geraldton, two; North Bay, 13; Quinte, four; Kenora, two; Cochrane, six; Parry Sound, six; Port Arthur, seven; Sault Ste. Marie, one; Algonquin, seven; Timiskaming, 22; Sudbury, 10; Trent, one.

Builders Await Survey Of Brickyard Fire

Local construction jobs will feel the results of the Cooksville Brick and Tile Co. fire Tuesday morning. Contractors contacted by the Examiner today said that the destruction of the Cooksville plant will be a big blow to brick supplies.

Rehill Fuel and Builders' Supply, agent for the Cooksville plant in the city, said that they could not tell what the effect of the fire would be, because they have not received any official notice regarding shipments from the company as yet. It is almost impossible they intimated to tell how much brick and tile comes into the city from Cooksville, because for many larger jobs it is ordered direct from the plant, and not through the agent.

45 Million A Year

One local contractor who has been using little or no brick at all this summer was quick to sympathize with other builders in the city. "I'm sure a lot of the boys are going to suffer", he said.

The Cooksville plant reportedly turned out about 45,000,000 bricks per year. Company officials said that it would be months before operations could resume, and then only at one-third of the former production rate. Two-thirds of the plant's production units were wiped out in the fire.

It was reported that the Curtis brickyard had taken on extra men in an effort to step up production, but company officials could not be reached for verification on that score.

Mr. J. H. Eastwood, when contacted by the Examiner, said that no one knows as yet what the overall effect of the fire will be, but that it will be felt all across Canada. He said that the main job of contractors now was to try to cover themselves on tile and brick that has not been delivered to jobs. He repeated that it is too early to tell what the situation will be, and that everyone will have to pitch in and help.

Purloined Flag Deep Mystery

What will thieves be taking next? Sunday night the Union Jack flying in front of the Armstrong Lumber yard on the Port Hope highway was unhooked and hasn't been seen since.

Gord Armstrong, the flag's devoted owner, who was more than a little perturbed over the loss has carried out an extensive investigation with no results.

"What would the thief want the flag for?" Gord wanted to know. "Dominion Day was a month and a half ago."

Every possibility has been considered, including the theory that some souvenir-hunting American tourist has run amock, in which case flags all through the district are in danger.

ALC COMMITTEE MEETS

MANY HANDS MAKE LIGHT WORK at the Optimists' Boys' Town in the house at the top of the hill at Nicholls Oval. A group of boys, under the direction of Walter Bent, recently engaged by the club to supervise boys' work, is shown above as they helped decorate the place. They, in company with others, painted inside and outside, scrubbed and painted floors up and downstairs, all part of an ambitious program. Shown are, left to right, on the ground, Jack Ferren, Peter Murphy and Ted Wood; and left to right, on the table, Fred Legros, Jerry Roberts, and Jack Rowley.—Walter Bent Photo.

Chicken Thefts Reported In Two Areas

Provincial Police constables attached to No. 8 District Headquarters, Peterborough, are once again in the throes of the annual chicken stealing season. Biggest mystery they are working on at the moment is the question of who stole 35 Barred Rock chickens from C. McMurray, Warsaw Road, Monday night. Provincial Constables R. Pope and R. A. Feeley are working on the case.

It is reported that farmers in the vicinity of Cobourg have also complained to the Provincial Police detachment there about the activities of chicken thieves.

Police authorities are keeping a close watch on this type of offence at present because at this time of year farmers are getting ready to send their birds to market to meet the usual increased fall demand.

Work Has Commenced On Addition To School

Work has commenced on the two-room extension to Parkhill School. The contracting firm is Gray & Banks Ltd., of Bailleboro.

If nothing goes amiss the addition should be ready by the end of November, the Examiner was told to-day.

The new rooms will be an improvement on the old. There will be an acoustic ceiling, a sink in each room, and a wardrobe instead of hooks for the pupils' clothing.

Peterborough Board of Education accepted the tender of Gray & Banks Ltd. early in July. The firm's quotation of $25,871 for the job of building the extension was the lowest of the four submitted.

Debentures for $28,000 to cover expenses, including that of furniture, have been issued.

Veteran Worker With Boys Directing Trafalgar House

Peterborough has a new municipality within the municipality. What's more, the new town will hold elections next January, conducted in the best of democratic fashions. Each candidate for the positions of mayor and councillors will have to get up on the platform and tell his constituents what he will do for them and for the town. The place? Boys Town, Trafalgar House, Nicholls Oval.

Under the management of Walter Bent, a veteran boys' worker, a new lease on life has been taken by the old yellow house in the Oval. It's not even yellow any more—the kids have painted it inside and outside, fixed up club rooms with furniture, work rooms and a canteen.

20 Years' Experience

Mr. Bent, with almost twenty years' experience in boys' work, has had amazing results with Peterborough boys in less than a week. They have flocked to help him renovate and redecorate the house, and have worked hard under his direction. Mr. Bent himself says: "It's amazing—the best group of boys I have ever worked with."

Walter Bent was born in St. John, N.B., associated himself early in life with the Boy Scout movement, and by 1930 had graduated from High School. He immediately took up boys' work as a full-time proposition, and stayed in St. John until 1943. At that time he enlisted in the Canadian Army, and went overseas.

He was attached to the 21st Army Group, doing auxiliary work in England, France, Belgium, Holland, and Germany. While on the Continent, he toured reform and training schools, and engaged in such varied activities as boys' choirs, concert work, and sports.

On his return to Canada in 1946, Mr. Bent studied methods at the Bowmanville Training School for boys, and from there at the Galt Training School early in 1948. He came here about two weeks ago.

More than 45 boys have already registered at the clubhouse, and all of the 45 have pitched in to help in the painting, scrubbing of the floors, windows, woodwork and outside of the building.

Winter Activities

Plans for the winter include hockey, skiing, woodworking, model aircraft construction, clay modelling, boxing, wrestling and other forms of entertainment. It is expected that city instructors in the various fields will volunteer their time, and Mr. Bent will supervise.

The house, which is operated by the Optimist Club of the city, is open to the public at any time. Last Sunday there were 30 or 40 parents present during a singsong and general get-together, and they expressed amazement at the cleanliness of the place and the work that their boys have put into making it fit.

Mr. Bent, who is already known to the kids as "Wally," is a former hockey player and coach, and hopes to have two or three hockey teams from the Town this winter. He organized the first Minor Hockey League in St. John, an organization embracing more than 500 players. At different times he has coached and managed various champion baseball and hockey teams.

Immediate plans for this week are field lacrosse games Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, and an overnight hike Friday night. In connection with lacrosse, Mr. Bent thinks that it is wonderful that the boys can play scheduled lacrosse games in the south end of the city, and then troop up to the north end to work.

The Optimists and Mr. Bent would like to emphasize that the club is not restricted to any one section of the city. Anyone is welcome.

Boys interviewed on Monday felt that the idea is wonderful, and are proud, rather than viewing themselves as workhorses for someone else, that they are having a hand in developing something that is for their own good.

MAIN ST. TOPICS

AN HAWAIIAN VISITOR

A car bearing Hawaiian licence plates was seen in downtown Peterborough early today. The visitors are believed to be from the most distant geographical point represented in the city this season.

LOSES FLOAT

Hans Webber, Campbellford, reported to Provincial Constable A. Kellog of Hastings on Tuesday afternoon that a former RCAF rubber raft, which he was using as a diving float in front of his cottage, had been stolen during the day.

NEW RACING CANOE

A new standard racing canoe has been adopted by the Canadian Canoe Association, and these are supplied to clubs affiliated with the CCA. An interesting point to people here is that these canoes are made on order of the CCA by the Peterborough Canoe Company.

SUN BURNS GRASS

The grass at Nicholls Oval has suffered from the hot sun and lack of rain. The trees that are around the edge of the Oval give very little shade to the green, and the grass is spotty and brown. The ground is baked hard, and shows in many spots.

GIVE DROWNING ALARM

Both police and firemen rushed to the Otonabee River shortly after 9 p.m. Monday when a drowning was reported near Rye's boat house, at the foot of Lock St. A careful search failed to show any basis for the alarm.

PAVING COMPLETED

Permanent paving of Monaghan Rd., between Charlotte and Sherbrooke Sts., was completed on Tuesday and the thoroughfare, closed for several weeks was reopened for traffic today. Paving of Parkhill Rd., between Reid and Park Sts., was completed last week. Work is now proceding on the paving of Sherbrooke St., west of George St. and on Water St., between Sherbrooke and King Sts.

WATER DEMAND EASING

"Out my way some of the neighbors are not watering their lawns on evenings allotted to them," Mr. G. A. Macdonald of Utilities Commission commented today. "I think the peak of the demand is over for this season. Lawns are not being neglected, but we have had occasional rains, and they have helped our water supply."

NEW MOTEL

Spreading metropolitan influence is seen as one of the reasons for erection of a motel by Roger Young, on the east shore of Belmont Lake. Motels have long been a big thing in the United States, but they are comparatively rare in Canada. Perhaps the largest colony of motels in Ontario is situated just outside the city of London. Throughout Canada, development in this line has been slow, with British Columbia and Ontario leading the way. The motel erected by Mr. Young is in a semi-circular design, with six furnished rooms, finished in plywood, and having all modern conveniences. It is a beautiful place, and could possibly be the forerunner of things to come in the surrounding resort areas.

Sewage Plant Addition To Cost $500,000

Tenders for the enlargement of the sewage disposal plant indicate that it will cost more than half a million dollars.

And, in the December elections of 1946, the ratepayers voted $375,000 for this work by a vote of 2,713 to 849.

Mayor Swanston has acquired further worry this week with the opening of the tenders at the city hall Monday. The lowest bid is around $450,000. Several others are at the $500,000 level, or thereabouts.

City Engineer Chalmers was asked to forward them to Gore and Storrie, Toronto, consulting engineers, to examine the details of the bids for report and advice to the council.

"It isn't just the building, it is the equipment we have to buy to set up in it," said His Worship.

And almost as an aside to himself, he remarked: "I guess I drew the tough year to be Mayor."

Ratepayer Objections

"I hope the members of the council, and any others who are thinking of the elections this year gave some heed to the Burnham and Romaine Street protests against the street paving," he said. "It never happened before in my time, or in my memory. I don't want those ratepayers to think I am blaming them at all. They had every right to make their objections, but the significant fact is that they did.

"They said they were concerned about the tax rate. On the other hand we can't stand still The council of three or four years ago prepared the way for the erection of the new Civic Hospital, and we've got to see it through."

No Petition To Council

"Going back to the other side again: How many of the property owners of Park St. south have made any move to sign a petition for the filling of the west side ditch on the terms proposed by the council? I know several who said they were willing to sign, but there has been no petition come through to the council."

That was proposed to be a local improvement job, with the council reducing the frontage charge on property.

"We are expected to make some move this fall to begin negotiations for the properties in the Murray-George Streets block for the new city hall. The council has decided on that site, after a great deal of consideration, and it will certainly be a splendid contribution to the future.

"The council is laying a sewer main under the river at Burnham's Point to clean up Little Lake. Utilities Commission is doing the work, and we are paying half the cost.

No matter what some of the members of the council say about it, the majority voted for another block of Central Mortgage houses, and we simply had to provide them with the land.

"These are some of the things the people have been asking for, and the sewage disposal plant is not the least important.

"I recently requested City Auditor Humpage to make an estimate of what the council of next year may need in the way of tax monies so that we may have some early idea of what the rate may be."

Mayor Swanston said that from the bids for the sewage disposal plant he believed the cost would be substantially more than $500,000.

"And all we can borrow, according to the vote of the people, is $375,000," His Worship remarked.

OSHAWA GETS INDUSTRY

Oshawa continues to expand industrially. It has been announced that D. R. Werner (Canada) Ltd. has purchased 15 acres of land in that city. The firm manufacturers aluminum strippings and mouldings for wall tile, linoleum, interior decorating and for construction work. When in full production it is expected to employ 100 workers and it is scheduled to be in operation by the beginning of 1950.

Halted Halters

How little would a girl have to wear before she was told to leave the exhibition grounds next week? Ten years ago four girls wearing shorts and halters were sent home by a provincial policeman to put on more decent covering. "Those outfits are alright for beach wear," the hard bitten constable told the daring foursome, "but you will have to wear more than that here."

That constable must be having a bad time these days, or has he been educated by the girls, as almost everyone has?

Hugh Stewart, president of the Exhibition, commented, "I don't care what the girls wear, or don't wear this year as long as they come."

A Night With The City Police

Dead Beats, Wife Beaters, Emergency Calls, All in A Night on Duty

By ROBERT HATTON

Darkness settles over the city Saturday night. There is a change in the activity on the streets and in the homes.

For some it is a time to relax and read the paper after a week of work. Others put on a fresh laundered shirt and carefully knot a new tie for a date. Some prepare to spend the evening at the pub drinking beer for companionship or to get drunk. For others it's a time to come home to beat up the wife.

Children may expect special allowances on a special night. There's a carnival and a big ball game, all in the same park. But for a few, it's just another night of work. For the police, it's a night in which anything can happen.

The telephone rings in the crowded little office at the police station. What will it be — someone who wants a skunk killed, or someone to report a suicide? This time, it's the man who is fed up with nightly visits from a skunk.

Acting Sergeant Gordon Trennum promises some action right away. He leans back after entering the incident in a sort of log book. At nine p.m. he and the men with him have two more hours to go to the end of their shift. Ever since seven they have been on the run. There were minor accidents. A couple of husbands came home and slapped their wives. The two radio cruisers were kept going all the time.

For the moment it looked as if there were going to be a lull.

"Officer, I've lost my car; I parked it on Mark St. and now it isn't there. I know just where I left it, but it's gone." The owner of the slightly burr voice paused and seemed to wait for delivery of his car through the cubby hole from the office.

"You're sure you just didn't forget where you parked it?" Sergeant Trennum asked. He'd heard this story before. The owner was positive. He had a set of keys with him, but there was another set in the glove compartment of the car. He didn't know the license number, but he knew the model and color. All the police had to do was find a 1947 green Chev. Fleetline. Maybe in the morning the owner would be able to find out the license number. In the meantime, he could try to remember if he had left the car where he thought he had, and the police would look for it. It was later found in the vicinity.

A hurry call came in to pick up a man who was raising a rumpus at home. While the cruiser is speeding through congested streets, a radio call came through to locate the father of a boy who had suddenly taken ill. The father was working at the carnival. In a few minutes he was found and had started home.

Doctor Wanted

Back at the police station a call came in from the other cruiser asking the sergeant to find a doctor for a young girl who has taken sick. Her own doctor is not at his home. Many of the doctors have left town to get a little rest at their cottages. The girl was taken to the Civic Hospital while the police found a doctor and sent him to look after her.

After a time the afternoon shift ended and the night shift was about to begin. For constables going off duty there was still an unwelcome chore to do—make out their reports. The policeman never lived who didn't hate making out reports.

At 11 p.m. Sergeant Leo Murphy and his crew took over. The incoming constables went out on their beats along the main street and in other parts of the city. Sergeant Murphy climbed into a cruiser and made a check around the parts of the city. The parks were checked for couples who might be taking their courting a little too seriously.

Back street in which trouble has started at other times are looked over. Everything seemed quiet. Suddenly a voice over the radio broke into the silence. Somebody else was taking his ill humor out on his wife.

On the ride to the police station, the wife-beater, who had downed quite a few beers, said, "I never hit her, but it'll be nice to get some peace. I never hit her at all. When you came in, I was just coming out of the bathroom, wasn't I?" About three hours later he had had enough of the peace of the station jail, and after asking what the charge was against him, wanted to go go home.

City Changes Character

As the night wears on, the streets become more and more deserted. With the silence, the city changes character. No longer is it familiar and friendly. The darkness seems to hide a hundred evils. What speed artist is going to come wheeling around that next corner and smash into you? What vagrant has a real reason for not being picked up and will turn a routine questioning into a wild ruthless fight for escape? Down what black alley is there an armed thief breaking into a store? The streets are lonely and the night is an enemy. It wouldn't do for a policeman to use his imagination too freely.

It wasn't long before a man was brought in with an ugly gash on his hand. His wife had hit him with a beer bottle. He was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital where an intern stitched up the wound and he was let go home to make peace with his wife.

In the middle of this episode there was a call from an outlying restaurant complaining about a couple who were trying to get away without paying their check. The woman complained she had found a worm in the food just as she was about finished. After some discussion, the restaurant manager had had enough. He tore up the checks and said with disgust, "I know your kind. You just don't like to pay checks."

Man In Fib

When it appeared as if things were going to quiet down, a woman in a panic called to report a man was having a fit in a back lane and he had a knife. In a few minutes the sergeant and one of his men arrived. They walked down the pitch-black lane shining their flashlights in among the bushes on either side of the car tracks. Suddenly a brown arm was caught in the light. The man was lying unconscious on the ground in a narrow space between a fence and a house.

When he was revived he turned out to be a man with a long record of taking fits which seemed to be brought on by drinking. They found out long ago there was nothing they could do for him. Two knives he had were taken from him and he was let go home. The knives were not very sharp or dangerous, but no one including himself knew that at first.

And so the night went on. The many stores scattered throughout the city were checked. About 100 houses, whose owners were on holidays and asked for police protection, were examined. Couples in the parks, on Armour Heights and in Nicholls Oval were told it was getting pretty late to be out.

Hour by hour the night wore on. But any minute of those hours might bring news of disaster. At best there was the routine work for each man on the shift to do. Saturday night, Friday night, or Sunday night, who would want to be a policeman?

Hearings Completed In Raybestos Dispute

The Conciliation Board, under the chairmanship of His Honor Judge W. S. Lane, of Picton, has concluded its hearing into the present dispute between the Canadian Raybestos Co. Ltd. and Local 527 UE-CIO.

Negotiations to draw up a new contract between the union and the company have been going since April. The old contract has been extended until seven days after the report of the Board.

The hearing went into its third and final day Monday at the Public Library after an adjournment of several weeks.

Original demands of the Raybestos workers included a 40-hour week with the same take-home pay, improved union security—namely a union shop, a general wage increase, vacations of two weeks after two years' service and three weeks after 10 years (at present it is for two weeks after four years and three weeks after 20 years), also a general tightening of the contract.

Board members were Judge Lane, chairman; J. L. Cohen, union nominee; and E. MacCaulay, K.C., of Toronto, company nominee.

Bishop Berry Pays Tribute To M. H. Gainey

The funeral of the late M. Harry Gainey will be from the family residence, 368 Rubidge St., Thursday morning to St. Peter's Cathedral for requiem high mass at 9.30 o'clock, and thence to St. Peter's Cemetery.

In a tribute to his memory and his active and constructive life in the community, Most Rev. Gerald Berry, Bishop of Peterborough, said today:

"The death of Mr. Harry Gainey will be deeply felt by his many friends and fellow citizens, and in particular by his fellow-parishioners of St. Peter's Cathedral. He was a regular worshipper at the same hour each Sunday and usually in about the same seat.

"For many years he maintained a lively interest in all the activities of his own church. Moreover, it is in his long service on the Separate School Board of the city that a wider and beneficial aspect of his life is to be found. As a member first and then for fifteen years chairman of the School Board, Mr. Gainey attended innumerable meetings and directed scores more in all the broader phases of the planning and administering of the Separate Schools of this city.

"He served in the quieter years of Peterborough's latent growth, and he was still on the scene when the push of the newer growth and expansion made itself felt. In both periods he was a source of strength and solid judgment and steady direction to the Board.

"The wonder of all this may be appreciated when it is recalled that he served his city on the Suburban Roads Commission for a quarter of a century, and in addition found time to be an alderman for eight of those years. Mr. Gainey has deserved well of his city and of his fellow-Catholics, and we tender our deep sympathy to his widow and family who shared him with us for these many long years."

Surveying Aids To Navigation

A survey is now being conducted by officials of the Trent Canal Authority of the number and condition of navigational aids along the entire route of the Trent waterways system, T. J. Ryan, superintending engineer of the Trent and Murray Canals, said today.

Mr. Ryan told the Examiner that last week three members of his staff surveyed that section of the route between Trenton and Peterborough and that the remainder of the route would be covered during the next few weeks.

A check is being made especially of places where additional buoys, markers, lights, etc., might be considered desirable to further improve the effectiveness of the system of aids to navigation. The inspectors will make recommendations to Mr. Ryan based on their findings at the conclusion of their survey.

Hudson Closes Plant

DETROIT, Aug. 17 (AP) — Hudson closed its plant and two Chrysler factories remained shut down today as labor disputes in the automobile industry made idle 23,500 workers. Of the total 15,000 were sent home by Hudson. The dispute there concerned the size of the working staff in the materials-handling department, said a company spokesman.

Watching at right is Chief Constable Duncan Brown. Sanborski had been missing since July 18.

Jetliner In Air Within 2 Weeks

TORONTO, Aug. 17 — (CP)—Canada's giant new jet airliner, which crash-landed at nearby Malton Airport Tuesday after its under-carriage jammed on its second test flight, is expected to be back in the air within two weeks. The plane suffered only minor damage.

Offiicals of A. V. Roe (Canada) makers of the $4,000,000 jet aircraft, said Tuesday night that the tubes which project 10 feet behind the wing were bent in the landing. That was the only damage.

Murray D. Willer, company publicity officer, said in a statement:

"The high safety factor in jet airliners was proved by the slight damage. It could not have been better."

The plane had been in the air an hour when test pilot James Orrell found that the landing gear had jammed. The craft's three systems for lowering the undercarriage were tried without success. Then the 50-passenger plane was made to slide down on her belly with only one of her three wheels lowered. She came in with her nose wheel down and the main undercarriage doors open.

The plane circled for 63 minutes to use up its fuel and lessen danger of fire.

CANADA NEEDS HEALTHY RAILWAYS TO SERVE HER PEOPLE

Canada's Railways Carry 25 MILLION Tons of Food!

YES, last year Canada's railways carried more than 25,000,000 tons of grain, meat, vegetables, fruit, butter, cheese, eggs, from Canada's farms to feed towns, cities and villages from coast to coast, and for shipment overseas.

Healthy, adequate railways are essential to bring out the produce of our prairies and farmlands. In fact no other country in the world is so completely reliant on railways. Canada is so widespread.

Every year Canada's railways haul for you, and for every other Canadian, an average of about 12 tons of freight over something like 400 miles. This tonnage is made up of your food, fuel, clothing and practically everything you use. And they haul this freight for you at the lowest freight rates in the world.

Canada's railways are this country's biggest industrial venture. The money they spend every year for wages and purchases equals 13 cents out of every dollar of Canada's national income. These are reasons why it is impossible to have a strong Canada without strong and healthy railways.

This advertisement is one of a series pointing out the railways' key place in Canada's economy. As Canada's largest builders of railway rolling stock and equipment, this company and its employees are directly concerned with the railway industry. Canadian Car & Foundry, operating eight modern plants, turns out thousands of railway cars of every type. The company is fully equipped to supply Canada's railways with the latest type passenger and freight cars to meet the growing needs of our expanding economy.

Cartoons Of Newspaper Greats Adorn Fleet Street Press Club

By MICHAEL O'MARE

LONDON, Aug. 17—(CP)—In three short flights of stairs, behind a drab wall in a by-way near busy Fleet Street, is displayed a birds'-eye history of that hectic thoroughfare since first it became the centre of the world's newspaper trade.

From the days of Dr. Samuel Johnson to those of the late T. P. O'Connor, the great figures of British journalism look down on members of the press club, a haunt of today's editors, reporters and rewrite men.

But the stairway is no miniature museum. Instead of taking the great men too seriously, their heads have elected to treat Pepys, Defoe and Steele as perhaps they would have preferred—a source of amusement.

Light Touch

Not portraits, but caricatures delineate the famous men of Fleet Street. And the Press Club collection is considered one of the finest cartoon galleries in London.

The first flight of stairs has along its walls a representative group of 19th century greats. War correspondents of distant conflicts—Sir William Howard Russell who covered the Crimean War and Indian Mutiny for The Times of London, Henry (Labby) Labouchere who represented the now-defunct Daily News in Paris during the siege, and others of their era—fill one corner.

Another shows newspaper proprietors — Pudgy John Corlett, editor of the Sporting Times, better known to Victoria bloods as "The Pink 'Un"; W. L. Thomas, founder of the Graphic; J. Gordon Bennett, proprietor of the New York Herald, depicted as a forlorn figure sitting on his much-labelled steamer trunk.

News agency men are represented by the saturnine, monocled first Baron Reuter who formed the agency which still bears his name.

The late Lord Northcliffe, the founder of the Daily Mail, is lampooned as a callow, cigarette-smoking youth, prototype of the "new journalism."

Steele and Pepys

A ruder taste, a cruder artistic outlook is revealed in the second flight, where 17th and 18th century figures jostle for space. Defoe, Steel, Addison and Pepys are here, along with Sir Roger L'Estrange, press dictator of Charles II.

One of the most famous of early reporters holds a place of honor. He was the near-legendary "Memory" Woodfall, so-called for his ability to sit through a whole day in the House of Comomns during the Napoleonic Wars, and then dictate a virtually verbatim account of proceedings to his newspaper, the Gazeteer. Note-taking in the Press Gallery was forbidden in those days.

Yacht Nears Port

DARTMOUTH, Devon, England, Aug. 17 (Reuters)—Stanley and Colir Smith, brothers who are sailing a 25-foot, home-made yacht to Dartmouth from Dartmouth, N.S., Tuesday night reported near their destination after more than a month at sea. They were sighted off the Scilly Islands Cornwall.

File Damage Suit

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 17 (AP) —The parents of 12-year-old Ellis Simons have filed a $35,000 damage suit against the parents of their son's slayer. The defendants, Morris and Belle Levin are charged with letting their son, 16-year-old Seymour, run at large despite their knowledge of his criminal tendencies. Seymour now is serving a life sentence.

Prank Kills One

KAMLOOPS, B.C., Aug. 17 (CP) –Police Tuesday blamed a prank by two young boys for the death of one railway man and critical injury to a second. Tokuo Nakagawa, a railway section man, was killed when the speeder on which he was riding was derailed. Police said two boys, about 10 years of age, had placed a piece of steel across the tracks.

VETERAN MARKSMAN — Jock Saidler, of Edmonton, a former member of Canadian Bisley teams, is still an expert marksman after shooting in meets for 46 years. At the Dominion of Canada Rifle Association meet near Ottawa, he won a medal in the Macdougall match. He fired 49 out of a possible 50 at 300 yards and 73 out of 75 at 600 yards—three more than the runner-up.

New Viking Invasion

COPENHAGEN, Aug. 17 (Reuters)—A Viking "invasion" of America, similar to last month's trip to Britain by the Hugni, is being planned here. Wealthy Danish-Americans are understood to be willing to finance the building of a ship twice as big as the 75-foot Hugin which came across the North Sea. Historians believe that Norse settlers in Greenland reached the coasts of North America around 1000 A.D.

Fair Gamblers Fined

PORT ARTHUR, Aug. 17 (CP) —Fines totalling $1,000 and costs were levied Tuesday against 11 persons, two of them women, who pleaded guilty to charges of keeping common gaming houses during the lakehead fair week. In addition, $1,340 seized was ordered forfeited. The 11 are all employees of the Royal American Shows.

Fire Destroys Barn

MEAFORD, Aug. 17 (CP) — James Wiley, Euphrasia Township farmer, narrowly escaped Tuesday night as flames swept through his farm buildings during threshing operations. Loss which included the threshing machine, livestock, implements and buildings is estimated at $15,000. The house was saved by the efforts of the bucket brigade.

Legion Asks Government Subsidize Housing 5 Years

OTTAWA, Aug. 17 (CP)—From Tuesday night's session of the Ontario Command of the Canadian Legion's convention came a request that the federal government subsidize construction of 120,000 housing units a year for five years.

These homes would rent for a maximum of $30 a month. They would sell for $3,500 each, to be paid for in maximum monthly payments of $30.

The report of the housing committee said rents and costs of home ownership were accentuating the demand for state-owned low-cost shelters.

A heated debate developed between Ray Mann of Brantford, chairman of the housing committee, and delegate Allan Pearlstein of Toronto who tried to have a condensed version of the report substituted.

Housing Ideas

Mr. Pearlstein offered five suggestions — later incorporated in the report—for federal action on housing.

They were:

1. Subsidizing housing;
2. Constructing multiple housing units;
3. Encouraging [illegible] who can build or buy their own homes;
4. Inaugurating an intense program of housing construction research;
5. A Dominion-provincial conference on housing.

The report charged the Federal government with responsibility for solution of the housing situation in co-operation with the provinces and municipalities.

One-Year Training

The convention also adopted a resolution, passed at its last convention in Windsor in 1947, which recommended one-year's compulsory military training for all physically-fit males at the age of 18. Part of the compulsory training should take place in the north country, the resolution said.

A resolution that veterans in the civil service who must spend time in veterans' affairs hospitals or treatment institutions should not be charged sick leave was passed over the objection of Fred Carmichael of Sudbury.

He felt that the resolution would set up a minority privilege. Veterans in the civil service already had an advantage over other veterans because they were entitled to 1½ days sick leave each month, he said.

The stunt was staged as an Ontario-wide safety campaign was launched by a service club.

Germany Forms New Government

BONN, Germany, Aug. 17 — (AP). — The new West-German government, dominated by Conservatives, will be forged here this week-end.

Leaders of the Christian Democratic Union Party, which topped Sunday's voting, were summoned Tuesday to a series of conferences with these goals:

1—Forming a coalition of Right Wing parties which think largely like the Christian Democrats to establish an unchallenged majority over the Socialists who still are a major party.

2—Selecting the first Chancellor (Prime Minister) in Germany since Hitler and recommending a President.

Movie Column

Teresa Wright Ready To Make Appearance Tour

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 17 (AP)—Teresa Wright, who split with Producer Sam Goldwyn because she wouldn't make an appearance tour, says she's willing to meet the public now.

The star's contract with Goldwyn ended when he claimed she was unco-operative about making a publicity tour. She contended that he gave her only two days notice before she was to leave—at Christmas time.

Miss Wright now is working in "Daybreak," her first film since the Goldwyn break. Will she make appearances for it? "Certainly," she answers, "if the producer will give me more than two days notice—and not at Christmas time."

The actress will probably get her way. The producer is Niven Busch, who also happens to be her husband.

Mid-Week Medley

"Mrs. Miniver," the pillar of virtue in the famed war-time movie, will shock her fans in the forthcoming sequel. She will have some extra-marital romance in the plot of the new film, which stars Greer Garson, Walter Pidgeon and John Hodiak.

Esther Williams received enough flowers at the birth of her baby to supply the whole floor at the hospital, which she did. Prize display was a floral swimming pool with a replica of herself on a diving board. It came from her boss, Louis B. Mayer.

This shows you how little film titles mean: "Interference" now is called "Easy Living." Don't ask me why.

Capsule Review

'Once More, My Darling" (U-I) is a wry comedy about a movie actor-lawyer (Robert Montgomery) who turns army sleuth to track down a jewel thief. Montgomery, who also directed, provides many funny moments, if too much talk. Ann Blyth shows undiscovered comedy talent as a screwball deb. A likeable farce.

Blame Safecrackers For $250,000 Blaze

BAYONNE, N.J., Aug. 17 (AP) —Safecrackers who didn't know their explosives were blamed by police for a $250,000 fire which roared out of control for four hours Tuesday morning.

The flames wrecked a three-story furniture warehouse and damaged adjacent buildings over almost an entire city block in the centre of Bayonne, an industrial city of 80,000 bordering on New York harbor.

Police put all doctors and hospitals on the alert to report any persons seeking treatment for burns or explosion wounds.

The wrecked safe was found in a furniture company office.

Reduce Fur Trim Women's Clothes

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17—(AP)—Women will be wearing fewer fur-trimmed coats this fall, officials for the United States Commerce Department indicated today.

They came out with a study of women's, misses' and juniors' outerwear industries, and only fur-trimmed coats showed fewer cuttings in the first quarter of 1949 than in the same period last year.

The department said the reduction was a slashing 60 per cent.

The biggest relative gain was shown by women's suits. Twenty-two per cent more were cut during the first quarter of this year than the corresponding period of last year.

The trend toward lower-priced garment lines was continued by manufacturers.

French Designers Keeping Skirts in Sheathlike Style

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

PARIS, Aug. 17 (AP) — The French dress designers have issued their decrees on how women will dress for a few months. But there's nothing revolutionary or likely to start insurrections.

King of the French couture remains Christian Dior, No one has launched anything like that "new look" of his a few seasons back.

There's general agreement that skirts should hover in the vicinity of 13 and 14 inches—mid-calf. Dior pegged his shorter, however, 15 to 15½.

Skirts, says Paris, must be extremely slim — sheathlike — or quite full. Nothing in between. In suits, there is a definite trend toward skin-tight skirts and jackets made bulky by draped effects over the hips, full backs and big sleeves.

If anything is spotlighted, it's the dressmakers' preoccupation with the shoulderline and sleeves. The couture is engaged in heaping things on top of and around the natural, sloping shoulder. Big, barrel-like sleeves, for instance, have the effect of broadening and squaring the silhouette. Sleeve inserts have been dropped down somewhere on the upper arm instead of at the point where arm and shoulder meet.

Have Big Collars

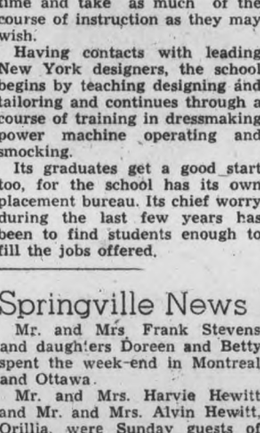
On coats, everyone seems agreed, there must be collars which practically conceal the face. Pierre Balmain had some coats with luscious fur collars leaving only the eyes visible. And so did Jean Desses.

Desses, a "discovery" of a couple of seasons ago, and Jacques Fath were concerned with side drapes. Desses' whole collection was pegged on two lines, which he called the "kite" and the "lasso." The former was a squared-away drape which he carried up into the shoulders. The latter was a spiral line, which made the gowns look as though they had been coiled onto the mannequins.

The whole mood of the clothes demands and receives tiny hats. They are of all shapes, from head-hugging helmet to a tiny pillbox perched atop. Incidentally, short-cropped hair very carefully groomed is still the vogue. With the high collars and tiny hats it makes heads look strangely small.

Schiaparelli remains devoted to a plunge neckline which is certainly attention-drawing because of a visible brassiere of contrasting color worn underneath.

Dressmaker Art Taught 21 Years



VANCOUVER—(CP)—A pioneer school in the field of manual arts comes of age this year.

It is the academy of Useful Arts, the oldest institution of its kind in Western Canada, which is now 21 years old.

Specializing in designing and dressmaking, the school holds day and night classes the year round. Individual instruction is the rule and the students—girls and married women—can enrol at any time and take as much of the course of instruction as they may wish.

Having contacts with leading New York designers, the school begins by teaching designing and tailoring and continues through a course of training in dressmaking power machine operating and smocking.

Its graduates get a good start too, for the school has its own placement bureau. Its chief worry during the last few years has been to find students enough to fill the jobs offered.

Scissor Panel Introduced In New Styles for Winter

By ALISTON SETTLE

PARIS, Aug. 17—(Special to the Examiner from London Observer)—Now that the Paris collections of winter fashion are drawing to a close there emerges the final line which will determine what manufacturers the world over will market in the coming months.

Dior remains master of the French designing world, showing clothes which are "pure Paris" despite the fact that he also runs a wholesaler's business in New York and is indeed rumored to be opening something similar in London.

The Dior collection is based on a massive fabric for coats, generally topping a very slender line for the dresses worn below them. The swinging panels on dresses which made fashion history at the opening of this year are replaced by much more discreetly falling panels and draperies, which he calls "scissors" because the two falls of stiffened materials cross at the top and swing stiffly away from each other at the hempoints. He delights in using two fabrics together in one model and creates his "scissors panels" from stiff grosgrain for use on wool or in velvet to swing over taffeta dresses.

For outdoor coats and dresses he uses "shaggy dog" fabric or material with a pitted surface made to look like pigskin. His tweeds also have great surface depth, while many of his furs are exceedingly shaggy. Coats, which are unbelted have deeply dropped shoulders, excessively wide sleeves and are made with a tremendous swing and a wrap-over of fabric stiffened by an interlining of canvas. The dresses worn below such coats often take the shape of a two-piece, the backs bagging over a closely belted waistline, with skirts slim and simple below short and full basques. Where other houses make vast stand-up collars, Dior, who first invented the immense, pointed collar, reasons that when coats show so much bulk the neck-line needs to be simplified. So beyond some draped collars the necks of all his clothes are kept very simple.

He loves pockets as much as ever. But now, when even four would hardly show in the fullness of those vast swinging coats, he makes them with slit openings. Yet even on narrow scissor panels of dresses he puts a little slit pocket on each topside of the panel. His sleeves are often flounced, sometimes widening in three graded sections; these were much applauded when shown on coats and dresses at the opening dress display.

To counteract the rugged air which Dior loves for open-air clothes, he shows an extreme sophistication for evenings. There are short-length evening dresses exactly like those which Lady Mountbatten made famous in the 1920's. Those are slim chemises falling quite straight from bust to below the knees, made of satin, taffeta or velvet, jewelled, beaded or fringed in crystal and occasionally richly-sashed in a contrasting color and fabric. The length of such dresses is surprisingly short as compared with those of other houses. But Dior follows the lead of most other designing houses in making also vast, ground-length crinolines of tulle, satin or velvet.

Sportsmanship Helps Love Marriage is Fair-play Game

DEAR MISS DIX: What do you consider to be the qualifications of a real wife and helpmate? Should every girl take up domestic science and kindred training whether she intends to enter some profession or get married? What training should a young man in prepartion for the responsibility of marriage and fatherhood?

Dorothy Dix

ANSWER: I think that the best qualifications for marriage is being good sports. If a man and woman have the spirit of fair play and are willing to give and take; if they can do good team work; if they have the courage to fight on when luck seems to be against them; if they can be gallant losers and take life as it comes without whining, they will win out every time in the end.

I am strong for girls being trained in all the domestic arts and sciences because no matter how rich or poor, how highly placed or how humble, how learned or how ignorant a woman may be, the two things she is sure to need at some time in her life are how to cook and sew. If she is wealthy, it enables her better to supervise her establishment and manage her servants. If she is middle class, it enables her to dress more cheaply and have better food. If she is poor, it gives her two trades whereby she can always support herself, for there are few places in the world where there is not a continual need for good cooks and seamstresses.

Certainly no girl should dream of getting married and taking a man's stomach and pocketbook into her keeping until she has qualified as a domestic expert. Many girls do, of course, and that is one reason that there are so many divorces, for many a young husband's first disillusion with his bride has come with the knowledge that she couldn't even fry the bacon that he brought home, and that she was throwing most of his hard-earned dollars into the garbage can.

Few subjects have provoked so many bitter and acrimonious disputes as the breakfast coffee. Enough tears have been shed over burnt toast to float a battleship, and many a happy and sunny-tempered young husband has been turned into a dyspeptic and billious grouch by his wife's biscuits.

Nothing ties a man to his own fireside so tightly as does a good, heavy dinner that makes him as disinclined to go out and hunt for adventures as a gorged snake. The wife who is a crackerjack cook has a charm in her pots and pans that work perennially three times a day.

Of course, it is just as much a man's duty to be a good husband and father as it is for a woman to be a good wife and mother, but just how you would go about training the man for the domestic career is not plain. He could be taught to keep on smiling, no matter whether the salt-shaker fell into the soup or not, and to make a pleasant rejoinder when his wife met him with the glad tidings that the coal was out and the roof had sprung a leak and little Johnny broke his pet pipe and Aunt Sally was coming for a nice long visit.

And he might be taught that you don't wash a baby as you do a setter pup, and that the wife was just as tired as he was and that it was his turn to do the dishes. But perhaps the most important advice that any husband-to-be could be given would be an intensive course in bills, then a man wouldn't be so surprised when he found out what it costs to support a family.

DOROTHY DIX.

Those comprising the delegation were Jack Kincaid, reeve, who spoke on behalf of the town; Kenn Nicol, secretary of the School Board, who presented a mantel chime clock to Mr. Irwin; George West, former reeve and warden, who presented an end table to Mrs. Irwin; Robert McCoy and Percy Holland representing the school board; Colin Ross, representing Trinity United Church; William Hart, the Anglican Church, and William Forrestal, Roman Catholic Church. Racket Screws Latest Thing In Buttons Now

By FLORENCE MILLS

PARIS, Aug. 17—(AP)—If you get hard up for buttons next winter, just dig out the screws on your tennis-racket press and put them to work. Hermes, swank sportswear house, says they are the last word in chic.

They button up the fronts of dresses, decorate jacket pockets and also adorn calf-leather belts.

Another novelty introduced by Hermes is a double-sleeved sweater. One in maroon wool had oversleeves of olive-green wool. This formula was also seen on a box coat of honey-colored, fleecy wool that had oversleeves of dark tan suede. A unique effect is obtained when the oversleeves are rolled up to the elbow.

Hermes also featured massive, full-swinging topcoats and box jackets of foot-square vivid plaid with huge low-placed pockets. A sleeveless coat of pepper-and-salt tweed, set over a matching suit with a curly lamb collar, was shown.

Satin Shirts

Plain tailormades are coupled with satin shirts. One in green herringbone had a much pleated trouser skirt with a flying panel dangling down back.

Raphael, Spanish suit specialist, shows much fancier brands. He emphasizes hips with puffed-out peplums and jutting pockets. Many of them are collarless with westkits or fronts of leopard skin or pique.

He uses a lot of velvet and braid embroidery. On a mahogany-colored suit of fine wool he uses threads of wool for the knitted midrift portion.

A quilted velvet suit looked like a coat until the flared skirt was ripped off and slung around the shoulders as a cape.

Social Situations

SITUATION: A neighbor's children remain in your house during the dinner hour.

WRONG WAY: Feel there is nothing you can do about it, if their parents don't teach them better manners.

RIGHT WAY: Send them home politely but firmly, until they finally realize that when your dinner hour arrives they must go home.

KANSAS CITY, Kans.—(NEA)—Getting married is old stuff to Tom Finigan, who had said "I do" 92 times. But he's been a proxy bridegroom.

And, does Mrs. Finigan object to her husband holding hands—and sometimes being kissed—by the brides? She hardly is in a position to offer objections—she has been a proxy bride 32 times herself.

Explaining the kisses, 52-year-old Finigan, who is a lawyer, says "Sometimes the brides just get carried away with exuberance after the wedding ceremonies, and in the absence of their new husbands, they up and use me as their target."

Finigan is looking forward to his 100th wedding. If circumstances permit, he hopes to celebrate it by making it a formal affair "with all the trimmings." He noted his 'golden proxy wedding anniversary" with a double-wedding ceremony.

• • •

The lawyer got his start as a stand-in bridegroom in 1943 when he was president of the Wyandotte County Bar Association in Kansas. A Chicago welfare officer wrote him, inquiring about Kansas proxy marriage laws. Kansas is one of the few states where such marriages are legal.

Men and women have come to Finigan from 34 states and he, his wife and secretary have served as proxies for wedding principals living in six European countries, North Africa, Asia and the Philippines.

There has been a steady decline in proxy marriages since the war. One marriage handled by Finigan was annulled by request and at least three others ended in divorce.

Finigan observed that the brides and bridegrooms probably react during the ceremony in the same way they would if their spouses-to-be were present.

"The men may not appear as nervous or thrilled as women, but they're much more awkward and self-conscious," he commented. "Women are 'at home' at weddings, anyway, while a man usually feels a little foolish."

He recalls one exception. When he asked a bridegroom if he were nervous, the man replied confidently: "This is nothing new to me—it's my fifth marriage."

The proxy weddings are performed in the "Cupid's parlor" of the probate judge's office. Marriage certificates issued in a proxy marriage are identical to those given when both contracting parties are present for a civil ceremony.

Proxy marriages performed in Kansas are recognized throughout the United States, most foreign countries and by the armed services in issuing marriage allotments and in handling immigration cases. A rigid legal procedure, which includes conformity to Kansas' serological test law, must be fulfilled by the proxy marriage party in the United States and by the one outside the country.

The Finigans celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary last Valentine's Day. Just to make sure it would stand out over their proxy wedding anniversaries, they invited 300 friends to help them celebrate.

A Salty Holiday

VANCOUVER—(CP)—Thirteen girl students from United States colleges are taking a romantic vacation—on a two-masted auxiliary schooner. They visited Vancouver recently on their way up the British Columbia coast. And they don't do any cooking either. Capt. Harry Farrell does double duty in the galley.

Beauty Title May Mean Much To Smart Girl in Later Years

By JIM BECKER

NEW YORK, Aug. 16 (AP). — The best thing about being named Miss America, says Bess Myerson, is that after a year you are an "ex."

An ex-Miss America, she explains, works less for more cash. Today Bess Myerson, whose figure and talent gained her the crown at Atlantic City in 1945, is Mrs. Allan Wayne. She lives with her husband, a toy manufacturer, her 18-month-old daughter Barbara, and the 18-inch gold statuette she won in the contest.

Bess, an accomplished pianist, has a dozen music pupils who come to the apartment for lessons and plans to open a music school in the Fall with her two sisters. She does quite a bit of fashion modelling. She has done radio and television shows and plans her own TV program soon.

Bess knows her Miss America title helped her get many of the things she has. But she was glad when the hectic year that followed her victory was over.

That year her time belonged to the contest sponsors, local mayors and almost anyone who wanted to ask for it. She modelled everything from bathing suits to fur coats for the companies who put up the money for the $5,000 scholarship that went with the title. She got nothing extra for it.

"I couldn't be ungrateful," she relates. And besides the contest officials held the money in escrow for Bess and she was allowed to draw cheques on it.

There were compensations, of course. A six-week vaudeville tour at $1,000 a week, for instance. Bess played the piano (in evening dress) and then came out in a bathing suit and joked with the comedian. "I don't remember the lines," she says, "but they were pretty bad."

Continued Studies

Meanwhile, she was using up the scholarship, continuing her piano studies at Lafollette School of Music, and studying conducting at Columbia. In May, 1946, she played a concert at Carnegie Hall.

"Of course, I never would have had the chance to play at Carnegie if I hadn't been Miss America. But the reviews were very nice and the press didn't say anything about bathing suits."

Later, she appeared at Carnegie with the Philadelphia Symphony, as a flute player. Again she was well received.

Bess, who was born in the Bronx, a daughter of an interior decorator, had just finished Hunter College when she was entered in the Miss America contest. She was 21.

Allan Wayne, now 31, was fresh out of the service as a coast artilleryman in the South Pacific when he attended a gift show in Atlantic City. Bess was the official hostess.

They eloped in October, 1946, the night Bess took her second screen tests. Barbara came on the eve of the New Year of 1948.

"It's been very pleasant," says Allan. "Bess has never forgotten that she is a wife and mother. She takes only the jobs she thinks she can do without interfering with our home life."

Wayne is very proud of his wife's achievements. "A lot of the girls didn't do much with the title after they got it," he says, "but I think Bess did a lot of good with her tours and lectures. She enjoys fashion work, as well as music. Her sisters, like Bess, were honor students at Hunter. One plays the violin and the other the piano. I'm sure they'll have a top music school."

BACK TO DIEPPE—Seven years older, these 32 veterans of the Canadian raid on Dieppe in 1942 are returning for special commemoration ceremonies scheduled for August 19, the anniversary of the raid. Representing all Canadian units that took part in the raid, these veterans come from all across Canada. This Canadian Army photo was taken as they left Montreal's Dorval airport for England Sunday.

Expert Certain Communism Can't Rule World

LAKE COUCHICHING, Aug. 17 (CP)—Prof. Frederick L. Schuman, United States political science expert, says Communism, because of its own limitations, cannot conquer the world.

Prof. Schuman, of Williams College, Williamstown, Mass., told the Canadian Institute of Public Affairs Tuesday that because Communism preaches and practises "the most ferocious doctrine of class war, class hatred, discrimination and equality," the appeal of Communism is to the impoverished, the victims of racial or national discrimination.

Outside Russia and the Soviet satellite states, ony such defeated and exhausted peoples had any interest in Communism.

The democracies could effectively oppose Communism only if they understood aims and policy, he said.

Up To West

"Communism will defeat democracy and take possession of the wreckage only if the west so acts as to validate the worst suspicions and the worst expectations entertained by Communists cegarding our own way of life.

B. K. Sandwell, of Toronto, editor of Saturday Night, said at the evening session that he sees no place in western democracy for any school of socialist thought which holds that private profit and the employment of labor for wages are inherently immoral and ought to be abolished.

"I am quite aware that there are many people in the western democracies who hold that belief, but I take the position that they are not contributing anything to the dynamics of western democracy," he said.

Hearing Delayed By Witnesses

OTTAWA, Aug. 17 — (CP). — The preliminary hearing of a 30-year-old hotel waiter on manslaughter charges was adjourned Tuesday until next week when two more witnesses will be heard.

The waiter, Albert Montpetit, is charged with driving the automobile which struck and killed Harold McClelland, 38, of Cantley, Que., last July 23 when McClelland was working on street-car tracks.

The hearing was adjourned until one of the witnesses, now out of the city returned.

James Hunt, a passerby who witnessed the accident, testified he saw the car travelling at a high rate of speed down the street "and the next thing I knew he had crashed through the red lights and struck a man who was working on the tracks."

Bicycle Sandwiched Between Two Cars

Sandwiched between two cars on her bicycle, Hazel King, 673 Gilchrist St., escaped with bruised hands and knees shortly after five p.m. Tuesday evening.

Miss King reported to the police that a car, driven by O. Simonsen, 701 Gilchrist St., travelling north on Park St., stopped quickly at King St. because of the traffic. Miss King was unable to stop in time to avoid banging into the car. Another car came up from behind her and turned into the curb alongside the Simonsen car, forcing Miss King against the Simonsen car. Lois Hall, 673 Gilchrist St., a friend of Miss King's, was a witness. The bicycle's front forks and wheel were bent.

Car, Flier Crash Six People Killed

OGALLALA, Neb., Aug. 17. — (AP).—Six persons were killed Tuesday night in a collision of their car and the Union Pacific's Overland Limited at a railroad crossing here.

Trainmen identified the dead as Ascension Jiminez, Ogallala farmer, his wife, their daughter-in-law and three Jiminez children.

Another daughter, Annie, 13, was taken to a hospital. Physicians expected her to live.

The automobile was struck broadside and hurled 9 feet. All except Jiminez were thrown from the car.

Ogallala is in Western Nebraska near the Colorado border.

Funeral Service Held For Edward Eldridge

Funeral service for the late Edward Vernon Eldridge, 76, of 314 Boswell Ave., was held on Tuesday at the Kaye Funeral Home. The Rev. Dr. James Semple of George Street United church officiated and pall-bearers were Clarke Thackeray, Sidney Black, Lou Ingram, David Miller, Fred Greene and Fred Rowan. Burial was at Little Lake cemetery.

Mr. Eldridge died last Friday at his residence. He came to Peterborough in 1921 from the Minneapolis office of the Quaker Oats Company to become cereal sales manager with that company in the city under the late George A. MacDonald, until the end of 1933. He was a general lover of outdoor sports, an ardent duck hunter and a crack shot, at one time member of the former Skeet Club. His wife the former Amy Jamieson, predeceased him in May of this year.

Negro Hoping To Change Color

NEW YORK, Aug. 17 (AP). — Walter White, prominent white-skinned negro leader, says the color line may be ended by a chemical which sometimes turns skin from black to white.

White, 56, secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, makes the prediction in an article in Look Magazine.

The chemical now is dangerous to use, but White writes: "It is almost a certainty that a safe form....will be on sale within two to 10 years."

A New York skin specialist told the Associated Press that "nobody can turn white from using the drug at present," and attempts to change the color of th negro skin have not succeeded.

White says the whitening caused by the chemical mon benzyle ether of hydroquinone.

FAIRBANKS-MORSE Automatic OIL BURNER

The Fairbanks-Morse Automatic Oil Burner is of pleasing compact design and well-balanced in construction throughout. It is attractively finished in red and black enamel.

Of particular note is the momentarily delayed start of supply of oil to the nozzle. This permits the motor to reach its full speed—and, therefore, the fan to deliver full volume of air—free from all pumping load. This feature protects the motor and contributes to the smooth, efficient operation of the Burner. The direct, flexible coupling which drives this unit, absorbs all motor noise and torque vibration.

Canada's Merchant Fleet Earns Dollars For Britain

OTTAWA, Aug. 17—(Special to London Observer and the Examiner)—Britain is in danger of losing the Canadian market for one of her traditional exports—ships and shipping services. Canada, since the war, has acquired a merchant fleet of her own which is actually earning dollars from Britain, and at the same time she is increasingly building her own ships.

This is one of the many cases where British exports are failing, not because of extra tough competition from the United States, but because of the development of Canada's own manufacturing. Canada built ships during the war because she had to: all her Allies were clamouring for ships. The ship-yards and the skilled labour having been established, it seems to most Canadians good sense to continue using them, and this argument is strengthened by the very high cost of British ships.

At the beginning of the last parliamentary session in February the Government promised "assistance for the Canadian shipbuilding industry". The Minister of Transport announced recently that the Government expects to spend 60 million dollars on building ships in Canadian yards over the next five years. Half that amount has already been allocated, for the building of lighthouse-tenders, ice-breakers and other vessels for the Department of Transport. The figure also presumably includes three submarine chasers which the Navy has ordered.

The transformation in the field of shipping services is equally striking. In 1938 Canada paid 6 million dollars to other countries for shipping services. Half of this went to the United Kingdom. Canada in return received payment from other countries for her shipping services, but not to the same extent; there was a net drain. Now the situation is reversed. Although Canada is paying the United Kingdom slightly more for shipping services than she did before the war, she is selling her own for nearly three times as much. From the United Kingdom alone Canada earned a net balance of 44 million dollars for shipping services in 1947, and an estimated 3 million dollars in 1948. (These figures do not include Canadian ships bringing goods to Canada or British ships bringing goods to Britain; in this case the transaction does not enter into the international account since the ships are carrying the goods of their own country).

On a basis of straight trade in a normal world this situation would be highly satisfactory to Canada, who would naturally like to have a powerful merchant marine of her own. The "assistance to ship building" which the Government had in mind when it drafted the Speech from the Throne earlier this year almost certainly included direct financial help in one way or another designed to encourage private orders to Canadian yards. It is now doubtful whether anything of the sort will be proposed. Shipping and ship-building are fields which have always been considered reliable dollar-earners for Britain, and the Canadian Government will probably be unwilling to subsidize an industry which would be delivering such a direct blow at Britain's dollar-earning efforts.

Murder Charge Laid Against Son

ST. CATHARINES, Aug. 18—(CP)—A charge of murder has been laid against William Adams, 27, and a warrant issued for his arrest in connection with the slaying of his father, William Samborski, 54, whose body was found Aug. 15 in a shallow cement grave in the basement of his shop here.

Results of an autopsy announced today were that Samborski died from "massive injuries to the base of his skull."

Inspector James Anderson, of the St. Catharines police department, announced that police throughout Canada and the United States have been alerted to pick up Adams who disappeared from his home here Aug. 10.

Car Hits Transport 6 Die Flaming Death

HOPKINSON, Ky., Aug. 18 — (AP)—Six women died a flaming death early today when their automobile and a car of soldiers crashed into a transport truck between here and Camp Campbell.

Kentucky state police said two of the three soldiers in the other automobile were injured.

Police said the soldiers tried to pass the transport when their automobile rammed into the rear of the other car and drove it into the side of the transport.

The trailer truck, laden with four new automobiles, burst into flames on impact and blazed into an inferno fed by spewing gas and oil.

It burned for more than an hour before firemen could bring the blaze under control.

Bodies of the six women were charred almost beyond recognition, police said.

Milk Grading System Will Change

Very Anxious To Make Ontario Products Known Across World

TORONTO, Aug. 18 (CP). — A new system of milk grading, expected to be introduced during 1950, may put the capstone on a program of agricultural improvements aimed at making Ontario farm products the best in the world.

Agriculture Minister Kennedy said Wednesday night he hopes to see buyers everywhere in the world bidding for Ontario butter, cheese, milk—and for dairy livestock—brought to perfection under a plan launched more than three years ago and now nearing fruition.

The 71-year-old Minister and former Ontario Premier, who himself operates a farm at nearby Dixie, for years had publicly asserted his conviction that the opportunities open to Ontario farmers are virtually unlimited. Gradually under his guidance, his Department's executives, scientists and field representatives have evolved a program to enable the farmers to make the most of their opportunities

The program includes soil conservation, to retain and build up valuable mineral elements in the land itself, calfhood vaccination to eliminate disease from Livestock herds, and educational projects to improve stock breeding and rearing.

Vital Conveniences

Mr. Kennedy said Wednesday night in an interview:

"Where you have a depleted soil, products in that area lack vitamins. Children who eat food produced on that soil become sickly because they do not get the vitamins they need. The children grow into adults who lack energy and are subject to frequent illness.

"In Ontario, we are confident we can have just the opposite picture. Good pastureland and fields will produce meat and grain rich in vitmains and other elements intended by nature for good health. A bountiful yield of the finest quality products will make our farmers healthy and prosperous, with a high standard of living.

"We will make Ontario products known throughout the world. With modern methods of packaging and shipping, we can send them almost anywhere. I feel sure Ontario products can outshine the products of such famous agricultural lands as Holland and Denmark—even within

20 Horses Destroyed In Race Track Fire

RATON, N.M., Aug 18—(AP)—Flames were brought under control early today after sweeping through three barns at the La Mesa horse race track. Two stable men were severely burned.

Twenty thoroughbreds were destroyed, including a stud, Lu Bre, which Howard Lackey, of Raton, recently purchased from C. S. Howard for $10,000.

Racing secretary Harvey Foster said the damage to the barns would exceed $20,000.

The animals burned to death included Gold Ball and Short Respite, also owned by Lackey. They won stakes at Santa Anita last winter.

2 Kingston Workers Save Money On Deal Cross Ocean To Britain For Free Operations

KINGSTON, Aug. 18—(CP)—Two Kingston aluminum workers are several hundred dollars richer today because of the British Health Program. The two, faced with expensive surgical operations which would cost about $700 apiece, decided it would be cheaper to cross the Atlantic third class and take advantage of the British plan which provides free medical treatment for the people of the United Kingdom and also for tourists. The fare on the Cunard Liner Ascania was about $300 each, considerably less than the men would have paid for the operation in Canada. Back in Kingston after returning this week, the men figure they saved about $400 each. They're pleased with the results of the operations too.

Foochow Falls To Red Army Nationalists Say

CANTON, Aug. 18 (AP)—The Chinese Nationalist government protested today that British warships, displaying a bellicose attitude toward Nationalist naval units, violated Chinese territorial waters. The protest was handed to the British Embassy Wednesday by the Chinese foreign office as these developments came swiftly in the Asian mainland war:

1. Foochow, big port opposite Formosa, fell to the Reds.

2. The Nationalists admitted withdrawing from the Miao Islands,, 210 miles east of Tientsin. The islands had been used by Nationalist naval units to blockade northern Communist-held ports.

3. Communist armies mounted a big offensive in Hunan province.

4. Americans and other foreigners fled from Canton.

The Chinese note said that any Britain was given to John Coghill, embassy representative in Canton.

Gives Warning

The note warned Britain against repetition. It said the British destroyer Concord was sighted off the mouth of the Yangtze River in territorial waters on July 31. After dark, the destroyer moved into the mouth of the river, the note said.

(The Concord that night kept a rendezvous with the British sloop Amethyst, which had been held on the Yangtze between Shanghai and Nanking for months by Communist shore guns. The Amethyst escaped in a running fight down the wide river.)

The hChinese note said that any British warship entering territorial waters must have the approval of the Nationalist government.

Fall of Foochow was first announced by the official central news agency from Taipeh, capital of Formosa.

At the same time an army spokeman in Canton claimed the big port city still was in the hands of Nationalist forces. The spokesman warned newspaper men, especially foreign correspondents, they were liable ot arrest if they publish "false news."

Weather Foils Channel Swim

CALAIS, France, Aug. 18 — (AP)—Jose Cortinas abandoned his attempt to swim the English Channel today and returned to Calais after covering half the distance to Dover in six hours.

Dover headquarters for Shirley May France, 17-year-old Somerset, Mass., high school girl, announced that in view of the roughening waters she would not attempt her channel swim this afternoon.

If later forecasts are favorable, she may begin her swim at midnight, her advisors said.

Friends Stone Chinese, Save His Life

Clings To Hydro Wire As House Burns Finally Drops 15 Ft.

DIXIE, Aug. 18—(CP)—Being stoned by two of his employees may have saved the life of a market gardener whose home caught fire early today.

Tung Sey Wong, 53, had grasped a hydro wire near the second storey window of his house in an attempt to escape the flames. He was too terrified to drop 15 feet to the ground.

When his clothing began to smoulder from the flames coming out of the window, two employees, Yee Kun Wo and Long Wei hurled stones at him until he let go and dropped to the ground.

He was taken to hospital suffering second degree burns and head injuries sustained when he landed on a trap door. His condition is serious.

Extent of the damage is unknown but firemen were able to save Yee's life savings of $2,200 hidden in the house.

Origin of the fire is not known.

Nab 2 Youths For Car Stealing

Members of the Ontario Provincial Police and the Toronto, Oshawa, and Belleville city police joined forces in the last two days to arrest two Toronto youths who had allegedly gone on a car-stealing spree.

As a result, Clifford Peterkin, 58 Alton St., and Lawrence Nickol, 11 Brant Place, are languishing in the Belleville jail awaiting trial on a charge of theft of a car in that city. Following disposal of this case they will be taken to Toronto to face a similar charge.

It all started early Wednesday morning when the car of Mrs. J. Kaplan, Oak Park, Illinois, was stolen from its parking place in Toronto. Various police forces adjacent to the city were alerted and as a result Provincial Constable H. R. Cook and H. E. Bonisteel of Brighton found the car abandoned and badly damaged in that community at 9 a.m.

As a result of further investigation, the two youths were picked up in Oshawa Wednesday afternoon by the city police there and transferred to the custody of the Belleville city police. They were taken to Brighton enroute to be interrogated by Constables Cook and Bonisteel in connection with the Toronto car theft case.

Violent Earthquake Rocks Eastern Turkey

ISTANBUL, Aug. 18 (AP)—A violent earthquake rocked a large part of eastern Turkey Wednesday night, the interior ministry reported today.

Hardest hit point was Kigi in Bingol province where four persons, including two children, were reported killed. Twenty houses were levelled, the ministry report added.

The stricken area included the provinces of Erzurum and Erzincan where the walls of several houses were reported cracked. The quake lasted 34 seconds at some points.

The Kandili Seismographic Observatory registered a strong quake at 6:47 p.m. GMT Wednesday (2:47 p.m. EDT) with the epicentre about 600 miles southeast of Istanbul.

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON —(AP)—The House of Representatives voted tentatively today to slash European arms aid from $1,160,990,000 to $580,495,000 and cut off the program next June 30. It was a stunning setback for President Truman's program for $1,450,000,000 in arms help for Western Europe, Greece, Turkey, Korea, Iran and the Philippines.

Top British Financial Experts Draw Up Proposals For Dollar Crisis Meeting

LONDON, Aug. 18 (CP). — A document outlining proposals for meeting the dollar crisis has been drawn up by a committee of top British financial experts and goes before the Cabinet for approval next week.

If approved, the four-part document will form basic British policy at next month's dollar-pound conference in Washington, when Sir Stafford Cripps, British Chancellor of the Exchequer and Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin meet John W. Snyder, Secretary of the United States Treasury, and Canadian finance officials.

These officials will discuss the unbalanced trade between the United States dollar and the British sterling areas which has left Britain desperately short of dollars.

Official sources said the four-part document comprises:

1—A study of the background and causes of, the critical unbalance between the dollar and sterling areas.

2—A review of what each of the three governments has done to meet and redress that unbalance.

3—A close look at the situation as it exists now, underlining all the implications of a failure to agree on a solution.

4—A series of proposals aiming broadly at achieving some kind of world pattern which would allow a free flow of currencies between the dollar and non-dollar systems.

Sail Homemade Sloop Through Wind, Waves From Canada To England

DARTMOUTH, England, Aug. 18—(CP)—A pair of modern "Christopher Columbuses" today completed an epic trans-Atlantic voyage in their homemade 20-foot sloop. Brothers Stanley and Colin Smith sailed into this seaport in the southeast of England 43 days after setting out from Halifax. Hundreds of people lined the dockside as Stanley, 30, and Colin, 29, berthed the little craft they built in Canada. When they stepped ashore, they told a story of storms and calms, of privation and loneliness during the voyage of the Nova Espero—one of the smallest craft to ever make the trans-Atlantic trip.

Their Bermuda-rigged sloop, which carried a lifeboat inverted over the cockpits as the only protection against the stiff gales, looked trim. There was little evidence of the pounding it took on the crossing, guided only by a $20 Air Force compass.

Stanley said parts of the voyage were "terrible," and Colin agreed "it wasn't too good."

Mountainous Waves

"The worst day we had was about two weeks ago when mountainous waves pounded down on us," said Stanley.

"All we could do was seal ourselves below decks and ride out the storm. Two sails were washed overboard and things were a little uncomfortable."

The brothers lived, mainly on tinned food. They rationed themselves to a half pint of water each day from the 30 gallons they carried.

They met several ships on the Atlantic, including the French trawler North Star, Aug. 13. The French sailors gave them a basket of fresh fish to help out. They cooked it on their miniature paraffin pressure cooker. Once they met an American yacht which gave them cigarettes.

Washed Overboard

Stanley disclosed that Colin once was swept overboard off the coast of Ireland when the little yacht jibed.

He had just cooked lunch and handed it to Colin, who was at the helm. But suddenly she jibed and he tried to catch the main sheet as it swung over and he went overboard with it. He lost the lunch and also a fork—a serious matter as they only had two forks aboard.

Airplanes flew over the scene and naval cutters came out to bid welcome to the boys who migrated to Canada early this year and plan to return there after three weeks.

Hold Witnesses In Stabbing

MONTREAL, Aug. 18 — (CP) — Police early today held two material witnesses in connection with the fatal stabbing Wednesday night of 26-year-old Aurel Bertin in a parking lot near downtown St. Lawrence market.

Police said Bertin was stabbed through the heart with a short-blade knife after he and his assailant started a fist fight in full view of half a dozen witnesses.

Police announced that a coroner's inquest had been scheduled and said they were holding 42-year-old Christopher Nurse, a railway porter, as one witness. The other witness being held they identified as 28-year-old James Mitchell.

The stabbing occurred, police said, after the victim and his assailant started a violent argument over a woman.

Witnesses said the woman attempted to stop the fight several times by moving between the two men and crying "Don't fight over it."

Fire Destroys Large Store

CORNER BROOK, Nfld., Aug. 18 — (CP). — Volunteer gangs and regular firemen to-day brought under control a fire which earlier destroyed a department store in this West Coast mill town.

Loss was estimated at $250,000. There were no injuries reported.

The blaze for a time threatened the court house and a church. Prisoners in the jail, located in the court house, were freed under guard when the fire crept close.

The town post office and a Canadian National telegraph office also escaped damage. Communications with the rest of Newfoundland were disrupted temporarily.

Prod Jury To Action After Night Session Lonely Hearts Pair Convicted Of Murder

NEW YORK, Aug. 18—(AP)—Plump Matha Beck and her lover, Raymond Fernandez, today were convicted of first degree murder in the lonely hearts murder case. The verdict carries a mandatory death sentence. The verdict was announced by a jury that had been kept in session all night on orders of the court. The court set Monday for sentencing and defence motions. Near dawn, the jurors, on duty since Wednesday morning, asked permission to go to bed. However, the court said it would not be convenient to grant the request, and sent them back to their deliberations. Mrs. Beck, 29, and Fernandez, 34, had no rest during the night. They were kept in cells with no cots, but they were reported to have dozed in chairs. Fernandez and Mrs. Beck were convincted of slaying Mrs. Fay, 66, Albany, N.Y., widow, at Valley Stream, N.Y., in a scheme to fleece lonely women in mail romances.

Police Fire At Strikers In Skirmish

Say Hangoe Open Port In Emergency, May Call In Troops

HELSINKI, Aug. 18—(CP)—Police and striking lumberjacks exchanged fire today in the first skirmish of a new Communist strike offensive which a government official says is aimed at seizing power in Finland.

The exchange took place at Kemi, a lumbering town. Up to 1,500 strikers broke through police lines in an attempt to attack others reporting for work at a timber sorting dam.

Police fired in the air. Strikers answered with pistol shots. The strikers were dispersed. One striker was reported shot.

Troops, which had been standing by for an emergency at a town some 60 miles away, were called to the Kemi area. The government Wednesday declared the strike there illegal.

Kemi was the first arena of what the government describes as a country-wide strike offensive aimed at creating chaos "in order to usurp power and establish a people's democracy in Finland."

Open Port

The Social-Democrat government used its emergency powers today to declare Hangoe, on the southwest coast, an open port to break a country-wide dockers' strike called by the Communist-led Transport Workers Union.

The dockers went on strike in Finland's 23 ports this morning, bringing all shipping to a standstill.

Their stoppage was one of several strikes staged throughout the country as the "opening shots" in a wages offensive by 11 important Communist-led trades unions.

All ships now will be directed to Hangoe. If dockers there refuse to handle them, the government has powers to use troops.

Blame Horseplay For Drowning

TORONTO, Aug. 18 (CP)—A "bit of horseplay" on the upper deck of the Canada Steamship Lines passenger steamer Kingston early Wednesday caused the death by drowning of the wireless operator, Royden P. d'Aigle, 26, of Toronto.

Vivian Delaney, 19, a University of Toronto student employed as a news agent during the summer aboard the Kingston, fell into the lake with d'Aigle and was rescued by crew members.

Miss Delaney described here later Wednesday how the accident occurred.

"Roy picked me up in his arms and pretended he was going to throw me over the rail," she said. "He must have lost his balance for we both plunged into the water near the paddle wheel."

She said she screamed as they fell. A member of the ship's crew overheard the scream and the splash. The Kingston was ordered about, searchlights were played on the choppy water and one of them eventually picked out Miss Delaney.

Dollar Loans Sought By New Zealand Gov't

WELLINGTON, N.Z., Aug. 18 —(Reuters)—New Zealand has asked about the possibility "on reasonable terms and conditions" of dollar loans from Canada and the United States, Walter Nash, New Zealand Finance Minister, announced today.

Purpose of such loans, he said, would be to finance essential imports, particularly for capital purposes.

Nash, who was introducing his budget in the House of Representatives, said "I am confident that New Zealand's contribution to an appreciable proportion of the dollar pool can take the form of increased dollar earnings.

Sterling Bloc Collapse Latest Threat Seen To Economy In Britain

Fear Pressure Imposed By U.K. Efforts To Hold It Together Will Cause Monetary System Crack-Up

LONDON, Aug. 18—(CP)—Is the sterling area headed for a break-up? The question is being posed frankly in the British press. Most writers who take an affirmative view suggest that the weak link in the monetary system binding Britan to the other sterling countries is Britain herself. "The chief danger is not that the sterling area will collapse because a large number of its members decide they would be better off outside it, but that it will break down because of the pressure imposed on the economy of the United Kingdom by this country's efforts to hold it together," the Financial Times said today in an editorial.

Most self-governing members of the sterling area drew more from the pool of dollar and gold reserves than they put into it, the newspaper says. If they left the bloc they would have to curtail dollar buying even more than now.

Debts Abroad

There was also the question of Britain's sterling debts abroad, chiefly incurred during the war and totalling more than £3,000,000,000. Repayment generally has been arranged by a complicated series of bilateral agreements.

Because creditors are unable to do what they want with sterling, there is no confidence in it as a currency, said a letter to the Times from R. F. Harrod, noted lecturer and writer on economic affairs who was wartime adviser to Winston Churchill.

"British citizens have to tighten their belts in order to pay the bills of other members (of the sterling area)," the letter continued. "The Dominions now are promising to tighten their belts also; it is unlikely they will accept British standards of austerity.

"The policy whereby Britain has to make the greatest effort would not be welcome, if understood, by British citizens.

"Meanwhile the drain continues. I venture to predict that unless we reach a definite solution to the problem of the 'balances,' the sterling area will be broken up completely within five year."

Harrod contended sterling could be "saved" only by a scheme of fixed annual payments. He also urged that sterling be made convertible again even if it meant giving it a "trial run" in the free market.

Boost Bus Fare 7 Die In Riots

SANTIAGO, Chile, Aug. 18—(AP)—Disagreement over a half-cent boost in bus fares has caused bloody rioting in Santiago, cost seven lives, brought Congress into emergency session and inspired government charges of Communist agitation.

The rioting, which the government said was Red-inspired, has raged for the last two days in downtown Santiago.

The Senate approved early today a request from President Gonzalez Videla for extraordinary powers to cope with the situation.

Hospitals said the seven dead included two students, a cadet, and a street car motorman. At least 21 other persons were wounded, four seriously. Three suffered gunshot wounds. The others were hurt by bricks and flying glass from smashed windows.

KINGSTON, Aug. 18—(CP)—The volume of Cheddar cheese manufactured in Frontenac County factories is declining rapidly because of the scarcity of good pasture, cheese makers say. VISION VARIETIES

Nature has a liking for variety. We find it in trees, in clouds, in hands, noses, teeth and hair. We find it to an almost incredible degree in the field of human vision.

The different types of visual errors are legion. Past generations knew only comparatively crude corrections for them. Glasses were clumsy affairs at first, and were fitted in a hit-or-miss way. But today ophthalmic science is able to do marvels for man's eyesight. Professional men are highly trained for their exacting tasks. They are amazingly skilled in the difficult art of analyzing and filling our manifold visual needs.

Scientists tell us that there are now 11,132,544 possible varieties of lenses for eyes that cannot function properly without aid. Of course that many are never made. Professional men know how to determine just which lenses will do the most for each particular patient, and to supply them in superbly finished quality.

If you have any questions concerning your eyes, or any visual problems, your enquiries are very welcome. Your enquiries should be addressed to A. Ward Smith, 341 George St., Peterborough, Ont., (over Selkirk's). A personal visit to Mr. Smith at this address (telephone 9397) would be even more desirable.—(Advt.)

Sir Albert was vice-chairman of the commission that governed Newfoundland from 1934 until Confederation.

Will Conscript Men To Fight Forest Fires

By The Canadian Press

Forecast of Showers in widely scattered parts of Eastern Canada holds promise of lessening the seriousness of bush fires blazing in woodlands of three provinces made tinder-dry by late summer heat.

The only blaze reported in the west is in the region of Lac La Biche, Alta., 140 miles northeast of Edmonton. An outbreak of ground fires there is being fought by 40 men.

Conscription of men to fight bush fires raging in Timiskaming is indicated. Lands Minister Scott banned all woods travel in the district.

F. J. Dawson, Chief Forester of Timiskaming district, warned at Kirkland Lake that if volunteers did not come forward in sufficient numbers he would have to use the powers given to him under the Forest Fire Prevention Act to draft men. The act permits conscription of all men from 18 to 60 in the area to fight fires.

Mines in the area are holding men in readiness at various points to assist in battling the raging fires.

Widely scattered showers are looked for in the Kirkland Lake region where a ban on bush travel was imposed Wednesday. The ban extends to the Timiskaming, Ont., and northwestern Quebec districts. Some 20 men are fighting 24 forest fires in evergreen bush in the northern Ontario gold mining district.

Casey (Red) Newton, 19, Kirkland Lake, was driven into a lake when a wind shift sent flames licking down on a group of men battling the blaze. Newton waded beyond his depth and was drowned.

Milk Grading

the boundaries of those very countries."

Sent To 18 Lands

Ontario purebred cattle were shipped to 18 foreign lands last year, the minister added. Some went to South America by airplane.

The new milk grading plan under consideration is that now in use in New York State. It calls for grading milk as A, B or C, taking into consideration not only butterfat content but also the bacteria count and the conditions under which the milk is produced and handled. Only milk from cattle free from tuberculosis would be certified as grades A or B.

Banned for Consumption

Grade C milk, obtained under conditions below those set for the higher grade, would be banned from human consumption whether raw or processed.

Agriculture Department experts have expressed belief that most Ontario producers could conform to the Grade B standard. The Department hopes to encourage as many farmers as possible to produce under Grade A conditions—with concrete barn floors, painted or whitewashed barn walls and ceilings, absolutely clean utensils and with facilities to cool milk to 50 degrees within an hour after milking—and, at the same time, to compel farmers with dirty barns to clean up their premises or get out of the business.

If Ontario reaches the point where it has an exportable surplus of milk, the milk will meet the specifications of adjacent New York State.

Asked if he thought the new grading plan would lead to a general increase in the milk price paid by consumers—the present retail price in the Toronto area is 19 cents a quart—Mr. Kennedy said he did not think so. Farmers would receive a premium price for highest quality milk, however.

Strikes by bakers, millers and brewers caused a run on food shops in Helsinki, the capital.

At Kemi, an important pulp-manufacturing town on the west coast, only one-fifth of 500 striking timber floaters returned to work following the Social-Democrat Government's threat to use troops to shift a 100-mile log jam.

"Stab In Back"

Labor Minister Unto Varjoen has described the strikes as a 'stab in the Finnish people's back" and has threatened to use Government emergency powers to break them by force if necessary.

The Trade Unions Federation, led by seven Social Democrats and five Communists, has condemned the strikes, called for wage increases averaging 10 per cent.

More strikes are expected before Saturday night by new groups of food workers—including those handling fish, meat and cereals—textile and shoe workers, bricklayers, woodworkers and divers.

The Social-Democrat party has issued a manifesto appealing to all trade unionists to fight the strikes.

"They were planned last spring and do not come as a surprise," the manifesto added.

"Their objectives are identical with strikes launched by Communists in other countries. They are against the statutes and methods of the Trades Unions movement. Unions going on strike place themselves outside the Trade Unions Federation.

"The Communists attack is directed against our entire system of law and order and especially against the solidarity of the working class movement. These strikes will determine for a long time ahead the road Finland's working class will follow."

3 Drowned In Bad Ont. Storms

2 Men Out In Boat Third In Plane Prey For Angry Waves

By The Canadian Press

Three persons were drowned, buildings were fired by lightning and crops suffered heavy damage Wednesday when wild electrical storms, accompanied by heavy rains and wind blasts, struck scattered sections of Ontario.

Drowned in the wind-tossed waters of Lake Simcoe were two Camp Borden soldiers, identified only as Privates Paul and Merrick. The two men were fishing when their heavy sloop capsized under 10-foot waves. Three others were rescued.

Pilot Daniel Vahey, Jr., 30, of Haileybury, was drowned in Lake Timiskaming when his plane turned upside-down in a sudden squall of wind while he was trying to land. He was flipped out of the cockpit into the choppy waters.

Four huge barns, all filled with the 1949 hay and grain crops, were struck by lightning and loss was estimated in the thousands of dollars.

Near Dundalk, 40 miles southeast of Owen Sound, two barns were burned to the ground during an electrical storm. In one barn alone, $6,000 worth of grain, and hay, eight pigs and a horse were lost. A hay-filled barn and two haystacks were destroyed near New Liskeard when a lightning bolt blew the end out of the building, sending it up in flames. A large bank barn and piggery on the Arthur Dale farm near Clinton went up in smoke during an electrical storm and loss included crops, machinery and livestock.

Michael Grealis was rescued from his home in Clinton when lightning struck the house while he lay ill in bed.

Polish Official Resigns Post

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18 (CP) —Tadeusz J. Rakowski, Polish Consul-General in Montreal, has resigned in protest against his country's Communist government and "the onslaughts of the Communist governments" upon the Roman Catholic Church.

Rakowski's resignation was announced Wednesday night by Arthur Bliss Lane, former United States Ambassador to Poland.

In Montreal, members of the Polish Consulate expressed surprise at the announcement of their chief's resignation. Vice-Consul Sygfid Wolniak said he had heard nothing about the matter until reached by newspapermen on Wednesday night.

Walniak said Rakowski and his wife had left for a vacation in the United States. The Vice-Consul added Rakowski was not a member of the Polish Workers' (Communist) Party.

Lane said the Consul was not available to reporters because he was on his way to New York by motor. However, the former Ambassador made public a statement which he said Rakowski prepared.

It declared the Communist government of Poland does not act for the good of the country, but in the interests of Russia and according to directives from Russia.

Suspend Judgment On Vaughan-Truman

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18 (AP)—President Truman today asked the United States to "suspend judgment" on Maj.-Gen. Harry H. Vaughan until after his army aide testifies before the Senate "five-percenter" inquiry.

Truman, at a press conference, directed his request particularly to reporters and editors. He was sharply critical of what he called leaks from the committee and what he described as a tendency to build up the most critical testimony against Vaughan at closed hearings.

Vaughan is co-ordinator of veteran's affairs.

Vaughan's name has come up repeatedly at hearings of the committee which is looking into activities of so-called "five-percenters"—persons who help in seeking out government contracts for a fee—usually five per cent.

New Industry Established In Millbrook

MILLBROOK, Aug. 18—(ENS).—Guildcraft Metal Products have established a new industry in Millbrook and will manufacture wrought aluminum giftware. The site is on Tupper St., north of the village, on the Cavan road.

Here round, rectangular and oval trays, fruit bowls, cheese trays, cocktail server sets, cigar boxes, cigarette boxes and coasters are made.

The general procedure on trays is to cut the metal to size, to stamp the outline of the pattern in the centre and then play on the pattern area with an oxy-actelylene torch. This lifts the material to a curved, raised shape, giving an embossed effect. The edges are then hammered to an irregular shape. Next, with a specially shaped hardened hammer, the entire surface of the tray outside the central pattern is pounded.

At present this young industry has four employees.

Charged With Converting $2,638 To His Own Use

COBOURG, Aug. 18 (ENS) — Preliminary hearing against Eugene Bolster, wholesale tobacco salesman of Cobourg, on a charge of converting $2,638 to his own use, started yesterday in police court and after some of the evidence was in, adjournment was made until Tuesday. The money was collected, it is alleged, from customers of Claude Fowler, wholesaler, by Bolster during his sales route, and not turned in.

Bolster elected trial at the next session of the higher court and no plea was taken.

Over Long Period

The offenses date from the summer of 1948 until May of this year. Mr. Fowler testified that Bolster's route took in Bancroft, Madoc, Havelock, Norwood, Campbellford and other centres in that part of the province. It was the custom for Bolster to collect monies on his route and then turn them in at the office along with a slip similar to a bank deposit slip.

Consulting his ledger Mr. Fowler took the account of H. Deady of Maynooth as an example, with Crown Attorney Harry Deyman checking the items from the invoices. According to the records, Bolster received cash from Deady on Dec. 7, 1948, amounting to $26. The ledger account for November 29, was $48.01. On Dec. 8, Bolster paid $21.22, but there was no record of the balance being received. On December 22, Bolster paid in the sum of $50 and the invoice of Dec. 14 was $34.81 and that of December 20, $49.54. On Dec. 22 he had $84.35 and turned in $50, testified Mr. Fowler. On Jan. 5, 1949, Bolster paid in $35 and the invoice for December 20 showed that more was paid in than received from the customer. On Jan. 19, Bolster paid in $45 and on Feb. 2, he turned in $37. On Jan. 11, $23 was received by Bolster and on the same date, $45 was turned in. On Feb. 16 he paid $35 and on Jan. 31, the invoice showed $20.63. On Feb. 7, the invoice was $21.91. On March 8, he paid in $50. The invoice on Feb. 14, showed $12.90. Further figures were quoted and up until the time of his discharge on May 21, Bolster was short in the amount of $31.30 in that paticular account.

Reminded of Dismissal

"I told him on May 21 to turn in his records. I went out to do the north route myself and found that Bolster had been calling on customers after he had been discharged. I met him in Maynooth and reminded him that he had been fired. I told him to turn in what he had collected and he gave me $19.19," testified Mr. Fowler.

Mr. Fowler produced other accounts and quoted from his records. The account of G. Jones of Bancroft was short $67.56 and the one of T. Kavannaugh of Bancroft was short by $264.24.

The accounts and alleged shortages involved were listed as follows

R. Anderson, Havelock, $29.37; F. Buckley, Maynooth, $189.07; J. Bann, Havelock, $30; J. Buttars, Warkworth, $30; J. Buchanan, Campbellford, $1.90; Mrs. Carpenter, Bancroft, $20; E. Cannon, Maynouth, $12.49; H. Cournyea, Madoc, $6.43; J. Carlaw, Warkworth, $6.29; G. Dormer, Peterborough, $34.23; H. Deady, Maynooth, $31.30; J. Dingman, Warkworth, $18; W. Fitzgerald, Maynooth, $107.19; R. Foster, Bancroft, $16.91; J. Flynn, Bird's Creek, $204.28; Green Gables Lodge, Paudash Lake 25.53; Grand Cafe, Bancroft, $67.56; A. Jones, Marmora, $16.80; T. Four Lanterns Stolen

NORWOOD, Aug. 18.—(ENS).—Four red lanterns belonging to the MacNamara Construction Co. have been recently stolen.

Besides the nuisance value of the thefts, there is a danger that someone will be seriously hurt due to the lack of illumination at night. Harry Kelly, foreman, is nailing the lanterns to the barriers now in an attempt to keep them, and if that fails, he says he'll padlock them on. If he does that, the thieves will have to take barrier and all.

Germans To The Right

It is no surprise that the West Germans who went to the polls Sunday rejected communist candidates and voted strongly right-wing. Their food and materials come from the west, notably the U.S.A. and Britain; the air lift has successfully sustained about two million Berliners; the new state is chock full of white collar and middle class Germans from the east who have fled Communist Germany and are attempting to get on the dollar band-waggon; most important, the dollar-pound democracy set up and approved by the western occupying powers is in material fact working out better for the Germans in the west than is the Communist "democracy" for those in the east.

* * *

On the face of it, the heavy vote for the Christian Democrats and Free Democrats, who together polled sixty per cent of the votes, seems to be a victory for the democratic forces over both the Communists and the extreme right-wing nationalists. The former got only 5.74 per cent of the vote, the latter 5.83 per cent. Konrad Adenauer, chairman of the Christian Democrat party and probable Chancellor of the new state, said that the election

"stressed that the German people do not want to have anything to do with socialization. It has proved furthermore that some nationalistic tendencies in Germany have no significance at all. This might quiet down the outside world".

* * *

The outside world, including Canada, stands in need of tokens that German nationalism is not reviving. Before the elections as able an observer as Peter de Mendelssohn, writing from Dusseldorf to the London Observer, said:

With the coming of federal elections the activity of extreme right-wing groups with strong nationalist and anti-democratic tendencies is visibly increasing throughout Western Germany. The common platform of these various groups is a systematic attempt to discredit the parliamentary system in general and the present established political parties in particular.

* * *

Otto Strasser, strong admirer of Hitler during his rise to power, is directing by remote control from Canada the "League for Germany's Regeneration", which has a close connection with other extreme nationalist, right-wing or anti-Semite groups. (There is nothing in the new German constitution to prevent Strasser from returning to Germany, but thus far Canada has refused to give him passport.) Strasser's men declare that they have no intention of taking part in parliamentary elections or German government as long as "the destiny of Germany is governed by deserters and traitors". It is an ugly-sounding phrase, and all the extreme right-wing groups reveal remarkable affinities with notorious Hitlerian principles and prejudices.

* * *

Modern German nationalism has been rampant for a hundred years in Bismarkian, Hohenzollern or Nazi form, and has precipitated three wars. It cannot be wiped out in four years. The election results showed that the extreme nationalists secured relatively few votes directly. They may have no significance at all, as Konrad Adenauer said. On the other hand, like Hitler in the late twenties, they may be biding their time while scorning parliamentary methods. Certainly it is too early to call the west Germans political and social democrats.

* * *

Charles J. Woodsworth, editor of the Ottawa Citizen, has been in Germany, and wrote from Berlin the other day of the demeanour of the Germans: "There is a world of difference between the attitude of the Germans today and that of, say, three years ago or even a year ago. When the occupation began they acted distinctly like a conquered race. They slunk by in the street with their heads down, stepping off the sidewalk into the roadway to let foreigners pass. There is none of that today . . . The Germans in the streets, if quiet and lacking any vigorous assurance, let alone boisterousness, go by with their heads up". Revival of hope and personal dignity is not arrogant nationalism, and it may be that to-day's Germans, given adequate assistance, freedom and means of livelihood, will not be the easy preys to nationalistic shibboleths which attracted the defeated Germans in the late twenties and early thirties.

Summer Photography

It would be interesting to know how many rolls of film have been exposed in this city and an area of twenty miles around it since, let us say, the first of June, when Summer may be assumed to begin. Every year an astonishing amount of amateur photography is done, and it is a melancholy fact that most of it is done badly.

We do not, of course, reflect upon the amateurs who take their hobby seriously, who develop their own pictures, who seek an artistic result, and who often rival successfully the professionals. They are in a special class. We refer, rather, to the people who own a box camera or something a little more elaborate, and who call the results of their photography "snaps". They seek a record of their summer holidays, the growth of their children, the visits of their friends, the development of their gardens and anything else that seems to them to be interesting, by "snapping" it. The results are of mixed merit. Sometimes an otherwise good picture is spoiled by the shadow of the photographer's thumb in front of the lens; in other pictures the heads of the family group have been cut off; in still others the baby is glaring directly into the sun, and wears an expression which its mother does not wish to perpetuate. They admit, ruefully, that their "snaps" are not really very good.

Yet the camera they use is, substantially, the same as that which was used by Henry Fox Talbot and Octavius Hill in the early days of photography, about a hundred years ago, and Hill, at least, produced pictures which are still greatly admired by connoisseurs of photography. Not long ago, in these columns, we referred to the camera Lucida, which was one of Talbot's inventions, and to which we owe the earliest picture of the city of Peterborough; Talbot was also one of the pioneers of photography, and his name would be better known if his preparation of sensitive plates had not been quickly overshadowed by a similar invention of the Frenchman Daguerre. Hill was a painter, and his magnificent photographs show a painter's sense of form and composition. The point we wish to make is that their cameras were really no better than the cheapest box cameras of today, if as good. The modern taker of snapshots has film at his command which is more sensitive than anything Hill ever dreamed possible.

Whether photography is an art or not has long been debated. But there is no doubt whatever that it is a craft, and a complex one. To handle even a simple camera effectively demands a degree of skill beyond the ordinary amateur; to make pictures which are of interest in themselves, apart from their subjects, is beyond his taste. Whatever interest the snapshot has for the taker, it is of remarkably little interest to anyone else.

Must a photographer be an artist? Not necessarily, but it helps.

Australian Coal Strike A Communist Defeat

(By arrangement with the London Observer)

AUSTRALIAN coal miners returned to work Monday after the disastrous seven-week strike, the economic affects of which will be apparent for a long time to come. The North New South Wales miners—who number more than ten thousand of the nation's seventeen thousand miners—struck the final blow which broke the strike. They rejected by a three to one majority a recommendation from their Central Council to continue the strike "while the Executive consulted the Government about a settlement".

The Northern miners vote brought the total Australian-wide vote to 6,931 against continuation, with 2,749 for continuation.

* * *

SUCH a revolt against union leadership is unprecedented in the history of the Australian Miners Federation. It was led by the moderate Northern Miners Executive which has long been waiting to hit back at the Communist leaders of the Federation who precipitated the strike beause they reasoned that Australia was so dependent on a regular daily coal output that the authorities would soon capitulate and grant the miners' claims for a 30 shillings weekly wage increase, a 35-hour week, and long-service leave.

But the miners' Communist leaders—Idris Williams, Edgar Ross and Bill Parkinson—did not bargain for the strong stand taken by Prime Minister J. B. Chifley. Chifley from the outset refused to negotiate with the miners; he told them to go back to the Arbitration Court where the Coal Industry Tribunal was the only industrial authority empowered to consider the men's claims. When the miners continued the strike Chifley went further—further than any Labour, or for that matter, Liberal or Conservative Prime Minister has ever gone in any Australian industrial dispute. He froze the union funds to prevent financial assistance for the strikers and gaoled eight union leaders, including six prominent Miners Federation officials, when they refused to disclose the whereabouts of withdrawn bank funds. He called out the Army to load coal mined before the strike and lying at the pitheads and then sent troops into open-cast mines.

* * *

IN this way Chifley ensured the maintenance of skeleton services which everyone thought would collapse soon after the strike because it had been the miners' policy to prevent the building-up of coal stocks. Industry in New South Wales came to a standstill except where factories were equipped with auxiliary power plants. Other States which are not so industrialized suffered less, especially South Australia, where open-cast mines continued work with other union labour, and Western Australia where the miners broke away from the Federation and returned to work three weeks ago.

But at the most critical stage of the strike, before troops began cutting open-cast coal, more than 600,000 Australians were thrown out of work because of power restrictions. Sydney fact-finding bureau estimates that the strike caused the loss of £34 million in wages and nearly £100 million in goods not produced. Now the miners return to work without a single gain.

* * *

BUT the strike has been a triumph for Mr. Chifley who has demonstrated that Labour can meet Communist threats to provoke industrial chaos and defeat them—though at tremendous cost. Chifley had to take this stand because the whole strike was a challenge to the country's system of industrial arbitration. If the miners' Communist leaders had forced acceptance of their demands—which were being heard by the Coal Industry Tribunal at the time the strike began—by direct action, then the Labour Government would have been doomed in the next elections in December. By smashing the Communists Chifley greatly enhanced Labour's prospects of a return to power. He has also probably ended for a long time the spasmodic miners' strikes which have been crippling Australian production and development in the post-war years. The miners have been shown that the country can get along without them. This week, thanks to the Army's production of open-cast coal, more than 100,000 idle workers returned to work and it was expected, with increased Army output from both open-cast and deep mines, that more than 75 per cent. of industry would have resumed activities without the miners. Chifley's final trump card—to allow the Australian Workers Union to take over all open-cast mining throughout the country and thus deprive the Miners Federation of its virtual monopoly of coal-mining — was not played. But he still has it up his sleeve, and the chastened miners are unlikely to forget it.

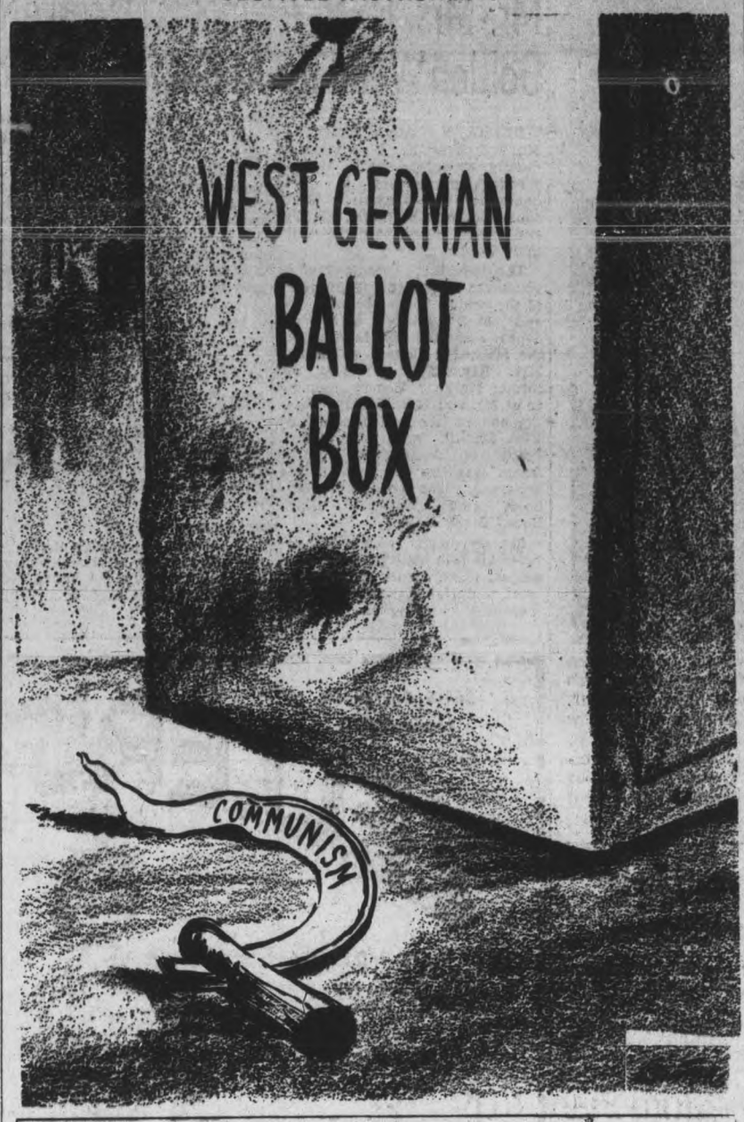
An Englishman's Home



(London Spectator)

After receiving plan (in quadruplicate) of the edifice and a great deal of superfluous correspondence having been exchanged, the local Planning Authority has granted my application for permission to erect a Summer-house in my garden on one condition—to wit, "that the Summer-house be colour-washed or painted a colour to be approved by the County Planning Officer".

My house stands in an isolated clearing entirely surrounded by woods, and it will only be possible for non-members of my household to see the Summer-house either by trespassing on my land or by flying over it in an airplane. In other words, the only person to whom it can make the slightest difference what colour the Summer-house is painted is myself.

In these circumstances, it seems to me that the local authorities are showing either too little or too much confidence in my good taste. Either a gentleman should be relied on not to turn his Summer-house into an eyesore or else—if he can't be trusted that far—the County Planning Officer should have the right to vet his choice of wall-paper, pictures and carpets. I suppose he will, before long.

BLUNTED INSTRUMENT

The Tall Buildings

(NEW YORK TIMES)

ON Jan. 9, 1924, in an Illinois Circuit Court, James Montgomery, a Negro mechanic of Waukegan, was convicted of rape and sentenced to life imprisonment. Mr. Montgomery was committed to Statesville Penitentiary in Joliet. He went to jail protesting his innocence.

Twenty-two years later, in 1946, Luis Kutner, an Illinois attorney, became interested in the Montgomery case after talking to some other prisoners at Stateville. Mr. Montgomery told him that the reason he had been sent to prison was probably revenge. He said the prosecuting attorney back in 1924, the late Ashbel V. Smith, conducted a bootlegging raid on his house once and found nothing. Mr. Montgomery then won $125 in damages from Mr. Smith in a civil suit. When he paid, the prosecutor said: "I'll get you."

Mr. Kutner was convinced of Mr. Montgomery's innocence. At his own expense he took on the job of getting Mr. Montgomery freed. He tried to have the case reconsidered in Illinois courts, but with no success. Finally he appealed to the Federal District Court in Chicago.

* * *

LAST week Federal Judge Michael L. Igoe handed down his decision. He found: (1) That the woman Mr. Montgomery had allegedly raped, a 62-year-old itinerant who was later committed to a mental institution, had been examined by a doctor who found she had not been raped; (2) that the Waukegan police chief had threatened Mr. Montgomery with retaliation by the Ku Klux Klan if he attempted to defend himself; (3) that the doctor's findings and other evidence had been suppressed in the trial by Prosecutor Smith. Judge Igoe called the case a "sham" and ordered Mr. Montgomery set free.

Mr. Kuter said he would ask the Illinois Legislature to pass a bill compensating Mr. Montgomery, now 54, for his years in prison, although that could not be done until after a state appeal is decided. Mr. Montgomery himself showed no bitterness. When he heard the decision in court, he turned to his lawyer and said quietly: "Thanks very much." Then he went outside because, he said, he wanted to see the tall buildings.

Ottawa Boy Makes Good

(Toronto Financial Post)

"In many ways I feel today as I did in 1911 when I completed my apprenticeship as a plumber", said John Harold Storey on his election as president of the National Association of Master Plumbers and Heating Contractors of Canada.

Tack Storey, as he is best known to friends and associates across Canada, was born in Ottawa in 1891. He served his apprenticeship with two Ottawa firms and then worked in Winnipeg and Regina.

It was his athletic ability that gave him the nickname "Tack". In his younger Ottawa days he was active in lacrosse, baseball, swimming and canoeing. Five ft. 11 in. tall, tanned and with thinning, almost white hair, Storey still maintains his interest in sports.

In 1922 he took advantage of an opportunity to buy out the Tweddle interest in the plumbing and heating firm of John Tweddle Ltd., established in 1916.

Married in 1917 to an Ottawa girl Storey has one son, Don, who is active in the business today as vice-president.

Forest Fire Penalties

(Winnipeg Free Press)

When one considers the intensive propaganda to which those living in forested areas are exposed, doubts arise as to whether this is effective enough or whether it ought not to be reinforced by stiffer penalties in all cases of known carelessness. Certainly when the damage caused by fires gutting large areas of the country's invaluable forests is considered, it would seem to call for sterner measures to cut down this appalling waste.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

O give thanks unto the Lord; call upon his name: make known his deeds among the people....He sent Moses his servant....He spread a cloud for covering; and fire to give light in the night....And he brought forth his people with joy, and his chosen with gladness. (Ps. 105: 1, 26, 39, 43.)

He rebuked the Red sea also, and it was dried up: so he led them through the depths, as through the wilderness. And he saved them from the hand of him that hated them, and redeemed them from the hand of the enemy. (Ps. 106: 9, 10.)

* * *

Fear thou not; for I am with thee: be not dismayed; for I am thy God: I will strengthen thee; yea, I will help thee; yea. I will uphold thee with the right hand of my righteousness. Behold, all they that were incensed against thee shall be ashamed and confounded: they shall be as nothing; and they that strive with thee shall perish. Thou shalt seek them, and shalt not find them, even them that contended with thee: they that war against thee shall be as nothing, and as a thing of nought.

For I the Lord thy God will hold thy right hand, saying unto thee, Fear not; I will help thee. (Isa. 41: 10-13.)

For though we walk in the flesh, we do not war after the flesh: (for the weapons of our warfare are not carnal, but mighty through God to the pulling down of strong holds;) casting down imaginations, and every high thing that exalteth itself against the knowledge of God, and bringing into captivity every thought to the obedience of Christ. (II Cor. 10: 3-5.)

Wooden Rattlesnakes

(Wall Street Journal)

Years ago, according to legend, Connecticut Yankees fashioned wooden nutmegs which they sold to unsuspicious housewives. Now a Yankee in the Nutmeg State has turned his whittling ability into a cash sideline. According to a despatch in the papers, an electric power company in Connecticut was having a tough time with woodpeckers who drilled deep holes in the poles. It happened in Litchfield county where woodpeckers are numerous. Officials tried treating the poles with paints and disinfectants, but the woodpeckers just laughed at such deterrents.

Then Warren Brown of Plymouth, offered to carve rattlesnake heads which he attached to painted hose resembling rattlesnakes. He used red beads for eyes. And from then on the woodpeckers left the poles alone. Indeed, some linesmen were frightened half to death by the reptiles curling around the poles.

We wonder if this idea does not have further possibilities. A lifelike rattler might keep folks off new-seeded grass plots; a few of them in the melon patch might have efficacious results. A rattler in the living room might help terminate Aunt Alla's long Summer visit.

Campbellford Plans To Borrow $92,000 For Houses, Water, Sewers

CAMPBELLFORD, Aug. 18 (ENS).—A bylaw authorizing the borrowing of $20,000 on debenture for payment on the wartime houses' project was passed at a special meeting of the Town Council this week.

Another bylaw, authorizing the borrowing of $72,000 on debenture in connection with sewers and watermains, received third reading.

The matter of advertising sale of debentures was left in the hands of the finance committee with power to act.

Giraffes Meet In Death Fight

PRETORIA, South Africa, Aug. 18 (CP.)—Two giraffe bulls battled it out recently in Kruger National Park before a crowd of spectators.

They fought like horses, rearing to slash with their hooves. Then they separated a few yards and the larger bull charged with his lonk neck lowered.

He caught the other bull just below the ear. The victim rolled over, struggled to its feet and then died in front of the crowd. The victorious bull rejoined the waiting cows.

Skull Is Swiped, Skeleton Lingers

THE PAS, Man., Aug. 18 (CP) —There's a headless skeleton in town which is giving authorities no end of trouble and embarrassment.

The skeleton is one of several unearthed during sewer excavations on the main street here. The bones are thought to be those of Indian women.

But before anything could be done with the bones some prankster stole the skull from one skeleton.

Regulations provide that the skeleton be taken to a funeral home and the coroner issue a death certificate before the remains can be re-interred as "unidentified." But these legal formalities can't be carried through until the stolen skull is rejoined with the headless skeleton.

That's why town police travel the street muttering "skull-druggery."

Oshawa Defeated By Petes On Brown's Homer In 9th

Danny Brown's two-run homer over the left field wall with two away in the ninth gave the Petes an 8-7 COBL decision over Oshawa here last night. The Petes had led throughout till Oshawa rallied for three to take a 7-6 lead in the first of the ninth but the second-place homesters had the necessary punch to gain the win against the leading Merchants in an exciting finish. With two out in their half, Pat Wilson singled. Bill Dadson ran for him, and Brown banged the first pitch out of the park.

Bill Edger made his initial mound debut for the Petes and threw hitless ball for three frames, with Doug Plunkett finishing up in fair style, though in trouble in the sixth and ninth. Doug Sutton went six heats for Oshawa, Ross Knights taking over in the seventh, and Art Clemence going the last two. Fred Bidgood led Oshawa at bat with two in three, one a triple, while Joe Stewart topped the Petes with two in four, including a double. It was the last league schedule tilt here this season.

Early Lead

The Petes got five in the second for a nice lead on an error, hit batsman, singles by Menzies and Edger, with Stewart and Garvey hitting doubles. They added one in the seventh when Wilson singled, stole second and third, racing in on Ticony's bad throw. Wilson's single and Brown's homer turned the trick in the ninth. Ticcony walked in the fourth for Oshawa and counted on a triple by Jubenville. Three more tallied in the sixth on two miscues, a single by Sutton and doubles by Ticcony and McMullen. Their other three in the ninth were scored on two errors, Michael's single, a triple by Bidgood, a sacrifice and an outfield fly.

Tigers Outfoot Weston 9-7 In Close Tilt.

By The Canadian Press

The visitors won two out of three close contests in the Ontario Lacrosse Association Wednesday night.

Brampton Excelsiors behind sniping Carl Madgett edged Peterborough Lumberjacks 8-7.

Hamilton Tigers rallied from an early three-goal deficit to outfoot Weston Lions 9-7.

Mimico Mountaineers took advantage of a pair of late penalties to down Owen Sound Crescents 14-13 for the homester's one victory of the evening.

Mimico's Mounties climaxed a gallant uphill struggle by sending Don McPhail through for the tying and winning tallies late in the final quarter to eke their win over Owen Sound.

Ken Dixon with five goals and McPhail's three paced the winners. Bun White with a double hat-trick, six markers, topped Owen Sound marksmen. Doug Gillespie and Harold McReavy tallied for the losers.

Rival goaltenders Doug Favell of Hamilton and Red Hartley of Lions featured the Weston match. Jack and Lloyd Gear, brothers on opposing teams, were thumbed before their pushing match got too rough.

Blane McDonald for Hamilton and Harold Downer for Weston were the only sharpshooters to score more than once in the close struggle. They each got a pair.

Notwithstanding the heavy rains that came yesterday morning the ladies went ahead with their open tournament as advertised. True, the games were delayed until four o'clock, but from then on it was all tournament.

Many of the local bowlers made other arrangements when they saw the rains Wednesday morning and this caused a drop in the entry.

Port Hope came with two rinks and Cobourg sent up three, so the local committee decided to go on with the tournament.

It might well have been a 'share the wealth" tournament, for the committee, when they saw the small entry, reduced the fee and returned all the entry money as prizes.

However they all seemed to enjoy themselves after playing the regular three 12-end games.

Tonight—Ladies' tournament at 7.30 o'clock, and men's groups Nos. 3 and 4 play.

Winners

First (Peterborough)—Miss B. Dawe, Mrs. J. Hickman, Mrs. R. Burns, Mrs. F. Staunton, skip.

Fourth (Peterborough)— Mrs. D. W. Clark, Mrs. S. Zakos, Mrs. W. Greenslade, Mrs. L. Yeotes, skip.

Special— We understand that the Oshawa tournament was rained out during the second game. Peterborough had six rinks entered.

Brampton Wins in OLA Against Petes

Peterborough Lumberjacks are still in the senior "A" lacrosse cellar one point behind the Weston Lions. The Brampton Excelsiors edged the locals in Miller Bowl Wednesday night 8-7. The Petes had the edge on the play in the first, third and last quarters but their shooting around the Excelsiors' net was terrible. For the first half the players had trouble picking up the loose balls in the sawdust which covered the wet clay field. This made the game slow and unexciting but in the third and fourth it was easy with play opening up wide.

Howse starred in the first quarter starting many rushes and backchecking quickly. Carl Madgett broke loose from his goal which hit the upper corner of the southend net to open the scoring late in the period. This seeemed to dishearten the Petes as Al Garbutt slammed in a second tally 40 seconds later. The slow, sloppy period ended 2-0 for Brampton.

Petes tied the score on goals by D. Vitarelli and Howse after Raine had sunk one at the beginning of the fourth period. Carl Madgett broke loose fro mhis check to score Harvey's pass. On a long shot and a passing play with Dugan, Dootch Vitarelli again tied the score for the Petes. But two minutes later Graham from Harvey Madgett got the winning counter, while Arn Dugan was sitting in the penalty box for slashing Harry Graham.

Several times the crowd roared their disapproval of Referees Bill Morrison and Lou Vipond decisions. At the end of the game an irate fan flipped a pop bottle at Vipond as he was crossing the field to the scorer's bench. The Madgett brothers led the scorers with Carl having three goals and an assist while Harvey had one goal and three assists. Harry Graham had two goals while Al Garbutt and Raine each had a single. Howse, Thorpe and Dootch Vitarelli each had two for Peterborough while Dugan had one tally.

The teams:

Brampton: Goal, Etough defence, Taylor, Sheppard; wings, C. Madgett, Graham, centre, H. Madgett; rover, Evans; alternates, Crawford, Steele, J. Ashbee, Raine, Garbutt, Mulliss, Arthurs, sub goalie.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Latest copy of the Canadian Sport Monthly carries pictures of interest to badminton followers up this way. One shows Al Osborne and Jack Brough of Bowmanville—Central Ontario doubles champs the past season—chatting with the finalists of this borough, Vince O'Donoghue and Bob Baker. Another has the ladies' champions, Mrs. Bob and Mrs. Vince (a family affair, eh?) of Peterborough with the runners-up, Lillian Koren and Kay Hopkins of Oshawa. Mrs. Jack Dipple of Bowmanville also appears, she and Al Osborne having taken mixed honors at the big titular tourney. It won't be so awfully long ere they're thinking of badminton once more.

Another year, the local lasses' softball circuit should advise the PWSU that it won't have a winner ready for provincial playdowns until the end of August. Men softballers should do likewise with the OASA if the latter try to hurry the season here too much. After all, the real interest for fans here, who pay the freight, is in local competition—the odd playdown game or two not taking the place of several lost weeks of city competition. Too many players, also, are put out of play long before the season is over just to permit one or two teams to go into playdowns. Where they seldom go far, as a matter of fact. We believe that a firm stand with provincial bodies would get results, and loops would not have to drop affiliation.

It's Now Or Never

Uniteds have to do-or-die tonight at 8.30 in the Bowl, weather being right, as they clash with Cosmos in the fourth of the best-of-seven city softball finals. Cosmos won the first three, so one loss from here on in eliminates Uniteds. Naturally, they'll go all the way out for this one and, mayhap, feeling they've about had it, the Uniteds might be more relaxed and hit their old winning stride. They've been too tensed up, to date. If Cosmos lose, these teams go again at 7.30 (note the time) tomorrow eve at the Bowl, the girls switching nights with 'em. Likely another hefty crowd on deck this gloaming to see a streamlined struggle.

* * * * * *

Danny Brown, usually a mighty fine shortstop for the Petes, had three fielding slips late in last night's COBL tilt here. But he more than offset that by poling a mighty homer over the left field fence with one aboard and two away in the last of the ninth frame. It gave the Petes an 8-7 win o'er Oshawa to wind up the home schedule in Riverside. A swell finish to send the fans home happy. Bill Edger looked perfect out there, too, though he just threw three innings, his first slab chore this season —after a spring operation. Doug Plunkett went good then except for two heats. Three Oshawa flingers saw action. Joe Stewart and Bidgood led the hitters. Petes end the schedule in Belleville Saturday.

Close But Not Quite

Erratic shooting around the Brampton net caused the Petes to muff a chance to improve their showing in the OLA senior "A" playoff race here last night. They only lost 8-7 to the league leaders, but should have won this one. It was slippery going most of the way before some 1,200 fans, but plenty lively near the finish as the Creighton crew came mighty close. Jack Howse, Bob Thorpe and Dootch Vitarelli tallied two goals each for the home squad, as Arn Dugan got one. The Excelsiors were paced by the Madgett brothers. 'Twas another tough one to drop. The Petes' big chance is here tomorrow night against Weston Lions, who only lead 'em by a point. The locals then go to Brampton on Saturday.

* * * * * *

Westclox girls had little trouble trimming the Kingston lasses 15-1 here last e'en, and should take it in two straight as they go to the Limestone City this week-end. There'll be one game there Saturday and two, if necessary. The Kingstonians are young and lack the experience of the canny Clockers, the latter getting fine flinging from Marg Selkirk, as well as lots of bingles and good fielding. A pretty fair crowd on deck to see the start of the PWSU intermediate "A" playdowns, these series being something of an old story to most of the maidens wearing Westclox livery. Cobourg comes here Saturday to play Lindsay in PWSU intermediate "B" playdowns.

Hither And Yawn

Civic Softball League playoff arrangements are in tonight.... Cobourg girls won 10-6 from Lindsay; return tilt here at four p.m. Saturday in the Bowl, third if necessary going at 8.30.... Napanee beat Brockville and Kingston won from Batawa in the Eastern Ontario baseball tourney now going on in Kingston.... Young Petes play in Oshawa tonight and back here Saturday eve at six in their junior "A" lakeshore group finals, a two-of-three series.... No word on the juvenile joust last p.m.; it may have been washed out.... Tilts tonight: South peewees vs. east at 6.15 in the Orphanage, east vs. south bantams in Riverside, with the juveniles going Friday eve in Trojan Field.... Cy Whatley of here and Ab Walker of Oshawa will convene minor ball playdowns up this way.... Sam Mulholland was refused a transfer from Kitchener to Kingston.... W.S.: Sorry we couldn't make it but a rush of work beat us.... Our juvenile OLA-ers go to Orillia tonight and they play here at 2.30 Saturday, with St. John's meeting our bantam all-stars at 4.30 in Miller Bowl .... But enough said.

Hastings Ousted By Campbellford

CAMPBELLFORD, Aug. 18.—(ENS).—The local club moved a step closer to an OASA championship when they took Hastings 14-8 in the second of the best-of-three here Wednesday night under the floodlights.

Costly errors by the visitors allowed Campbellford to chalk up 11 runs in the fifth and sixth. Anderson started on the mound for the homesters but was relieved by Jimmy Robertson at the end of the fourth. Jimmy bore down and allowed only two runs for Hastings during the rest of the game.

Scott, starting for the visitors, was blasted off the mound about the middle of the contest when Nameth was called on to perform the herculean task of saving the ball game. He pitched good ball but couldn't save his team-mates from defeat.

Fralick was the big shot in the Campbellford attack, coming through with several singles and a triple, while O'Sullivan played hot ball at first. West, Garden and Thompson gave a good performance for Hastings. Crosson's local boys meet Tweed on home territory next Monday night in the initial round.

The second game will be played in the Ashburnham Bowl at 4:00 p.m. Saturday, with the third playoff if necessary on the same grounds that evening at 8:30, under the lights. Cobourg earned the opener on timely hitting, though Lindsay looked nervous.

J. Rowden on the homesters' slab allowed 10 hits, fanning 11, while M. Owen of Lindsay was nicked for 13 hits as she whiffed three opponents. J. Rowden, A. Dufton, M. Chase and P. Graham looked good defensively. B Jamieson led the winners at bat with three for three, as M. Chase and A. Macdonald topped the Lindsay lasses at the plate with three in five tries each. Teams:

Two squads from the Toronto Argonauts football team Wednesday night battled to an 11-11 tie in a pre-season exhibition football game at Oshawa. About 1,000 persons saw the charity game.

In the skirmish between Steve Levantis' Whites and Bob Cosbrove's Blues, some of Argos' recent imports made a good showing.

Russ Reader, back who formerly played for Chicago Bears and Deetroit Lions, starred in forward passing. Joe Krol did well in the same department. In the fourth quarter he threw a 50-yard pass to Bill Wardle for the tying touchdown.

Argos are scheduled to play their first regular exhibition game of the season against Winnipeg Blue Bombers in Toronto Saturday.

Nova Scotia's three-team Cape Breton Senior Hockey League is going all out to produce an Allan Cup winner this season. At least two teams will have former NHL stars as coaches.

Appointment of Dave (Sweeney) Schriner as paying coach of the Northside Victorias was announced in North Sydney by club president Ed. Swyers.

Previously, Glace Bay Miners were reported to have signed Bill Cowley, former Boston Bruins centre star, as playing mentor.

Schriner takes over from Lex Cook, of Weyburn, Sask., who has become chief scout for Cleveland Barons, American Hockey League champions.

At Mount Forest, Ont., Make Believe, owned and driven by C. Lockhart, of Collingwood, Wednesday won all three heats in the free-for-all event of the opening day on the Mount Forest Agricultural Association's new race track here. Best time over the one-mile track was 2:13 in the third heat.

Les Cunningham, coach of San Francisco Shamrocks for the last two seasons, has been appointed coach of Brandon Wheat Kings of the Manitoba Junior Hockey League, it was announced Wednesday. The job was held last season by Bill McKenzie, who piloted Wheat Kings to the Canadian Junior final where they lost out to Montreal Royals. Cunningham was a top scorer for many seasons in the American League with Cleveland Barons.

At Ponte Claire, Que., two internationally famous American dinghy stars came through with top honors Wednesday in opening races of two major competitions in the week-long regatta on Lake St. Louis.

Defending champion Bill Lapworth, of the Balboa Club,, California, led the field in the international 14-foot one design event for the American title while G. Colin Ratsey, of the Essex Club in Connecticut took first place in the Canadian open event.

The races formed the first of a three-day series for the championships of both events.

In Springfield,, Ill., rain forced postponement of Wednesday's Grand Circuit meet, but not before Bangaway, listed as "also started" in the Hambletonian, won the first heat of the Review Futurity trot for three-year-olds. The race will be concluded today.

Westclox Trims Kingston To Open PWSU Playdowns

Westclox walloped Kingston girls 15-1 at the Bowl last night to open their best-of-three Provincial Softball Union first-round playdowns. A good-sized crowd saw a fair game but for one inning. The return game, or games if necessary, will be staged in Kingston on Saturday, the winner advancing into the next round of the PWSU intermediate "A" playdowns.

The visitors proved quite a young squad and lacked experience, though they staged a bit of a rally at the last. By that time, they were well beaten, and the fans figured the Clockers should sweep the series in two straight. Apart from the big third frame, when Westclox ran wild to tally nine runs, it wasn't a bad game, but that did it. Marg Selkirk was in fine form to throw four-hit ball and fan half a dozen, as she got good support. Two twirlers saw action for the losers.

Lots of Hits

The victors banged out 16 safe blows, with Bea Morrow leading the parade with four for five, as Marg Hawthorne got three bingles and D. Westlake hit two triples. J. McIntyre and A. Anderson each banged out a double. None of the losers had more than one safety, though J. Snape conked a three-bagger. N. Whetung, J. McIntyre, R. Aitken and I. McMaster looked best defensively during this tussle. All the Clockers played heads-up ball and showed experience from start to finish to earn the duke handily for Coach Frank McCormack.

The teams:

Kingston — J. Graham, cf; J. Snape, 2b; I. McMaster, c; R. Aitken, 1b; M. Westard, p, rf; P. Pottitt, lf; A. Fallan, 3b, p; B. DeMone, rf; M. Goddie, rf; T. Savage, ss.

Westclox—J. Vass, 3b; M. Morrow, ss; M. Selkirk, p; M. Hawthorne, c; N. Whetung, rf; D. Westlak,e 2b; J. McIntyre, 1b; A. Anderson, cf; I. Clarke, lf; J. Hardy, lf.

Browns Scalp Cleveland In Bruising Twin Bill

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer.

Cleveland's baseball crown was slightly askew to-day, needing only a couple of more nudges to knock it off completely.

Unless Bob Feller and Bob Lemon get some much-needed pitching help, that world championship flag won't be waving much longer at the Indians' Stadium.

The Indians Wednesday were neatly scalped by the lowly St. Louis Browns. The Brownies won a double-header 10-6 and 5-2.

The twin setbacks dumped the Tribe into third place a full five games behind the pacesetting New York Yankees and 1½ behind the second-place Boston Red Sox.

The Yankees rallied to score two runs in the bottom of the ninth to nip the Washington Senators 4-3. Boston overcame the Philadelphia Athletics 5-1 in 10 innings..

Take First Place

In the nip-and-tuck National League race, St. Louis Cardinals took over first place from Brooklyn Dodgers by a halfgame.

The Cards outlasted the Cincinnati Reds 4-3 in a 13-inning thriller while the Dodgers bowed to Philadelphia Phillies 11-7. A single by relief pitcher Freddie Martin scored Enos Slaughter from second with the playoff Cardinal run. A five-run eighth inning uprising snapped a 5-5 tie and gave the Phils their second straight triumph over the Brooks.

In other games Chicago White Sox shut out Detroit Tigers, 1-0 and the Boston Braves wallowed New York Giants 13-4. Rain washed out the scheduled game between Pittsburg and the Chicago Cubs.

Pitchers Helpless

Eight Cleveland pitchers tried in vain to stop the suddenly aroused Brownies, five of them seeing service in the opener. Early Wynn was batted out in the first inning, but the first-game defeat fell upon Sam Zoldak. Satchel Paige had a 2-1 lead going into the seventh, but was shelled for three runs to be charged with his sixth defeat.

The Yankees won another of those last ditch battles for which they are becoming famous. Trailing 3-2 in the ninth, they socked Rae Scarborough for four singles to win. A wild throw by Scarborough on Phil Rizzuto's bunt brought in the tying run. Gene Woodling then singled in Charley Keller with the winning tally. Vic Raschi went the distance for his 16th triumph.

The Red Sox exploded for four runs in the 10th to plaster Dick Fowler with the defeat. Doubles by Birdie Tebbetts and Al Zarilla highlighted the rally which brought young Chuck Stobbs his seventh victory. Ted Williams cracked four hits for the Bosox, including his 30th home run.

COBOURG, Aug. 18.—Trenton dropped the opening game of the OASA Intermediate B here, 6-2.

Faulty fielding by Trenton allowed Cobourg to tally four unearned runs. Bevins, Cobourg's catcher, paced the hitters with a double and two singles, while Cooper with two for four was next best. Ivan Istead with two for four and Ken Ryan with two for five paced, topped Trenton's hitters.

Buffalo Blanks Jersey City In 5-0 Triumph

By the Associated Press.

Jim Wilson, Buffalo right-hander, is the proud possessor of a no-hitter to-day, even if it is only an abbreviated job.

The 200-pound six-footer Wednesday night pitched the Bisons to a 5-0 triumph over Jersey City in a game that was halted by rain while the Little Giants were at bat in the seventh inning.

Wilson, making only his second Buffalo start since his purchase from Baltimore a week ago, allowed only four runners to reach base, all on walks.

It was the second no-hitter this season. The other was turned in by Alfie Porto, Toronto southpaw, who did it in a seven-inning game early in the campaign.

It was Wilson's fifth victory, his first with Buffalo. He has lost nine. Home runs by Cy Block, Lonnie Frey and Jack Hussey accounted for four of the Bisons' runs.

Rochester Downs Bears

Rochetser moved into second place, one game in front of the Giants, with a 15-6 triumph over Newark Bears. Don Thompson paced a 13-hit attack with four safeties and batted in four runs. Jim Hearn coasted to his seventh triumph.

The fourth-place Toronto Maple Leafs swept both ends of a double-header from Baltimore, 3-2 and 11-0. Jocko Thompson gained his 12th triumph in the opener. He has lost only two. Bubba Church, although injured in the fourth inning of the nightcap, was credited with his 11th victory.

Montreal and Syracuse divided a double-header, the Royals winning the opener 8-1, and the Chiefs taking the second 6-1. Dan Bankhead permitted the Chiefs only two hits in racking up his 15th win in the opener. Bud Byerly limited the Royals to seven hits to gain his 16th pitching triumph in the nightcap.

Base-Stealing, Montreal Flyer Could Put Color In White Sox

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

NEW YORK (NEA).—Every time Sam Jethroe steals a base—and the Montreal Flyer has swiped no fewer than 68 this season—he runs Branch Rickey closer to another big sale.

President Frank Shaughnessy of the International League says Jethroe would help the Brooklyn club right now, and the Dodgers don't require much fixin', Mister.

Certainly the former Cleveland Buckeye will be richly entitled to a major league whirl next spring.

Under his Share-the-Wealth-of-Negro-Talent Plan, it is no secret that Mahatma Rickey would like to peddle Jethroe, preferably to an American League club, where Deerfoot could do the Brooks no damage, except in a World Series. The way he rambles, the less Brother Rickey sees of Samuel after his sale the better.

You don't have to be a swami to know that President Rickey would like to ticket Flash Jethroe to the White Sox—at a price, of course.

Hitting anything to speak of,

DEERFOOT — Same Jethroe is the fastest man in baseball.

the Royals' streak would be a riot at Comiskey Park.

Jackie Robinson has drawn a bundle for the Dodgers the past three years—in spring exhibitions, at Ebbets Field and on the road. The Bums' bucks office magnetism can be traced to Robby to such an extent that the one-time UCLA back announced under oath and before Congress' Un-American Activities Committee that he would put the slug on Salesman Rickey for more cabbage.

Any baseball man will tell you that any kind of a respecable showing on Chicago's south side would account for 2,000,000 paid admissions at home.

And a spectacular Negro centre fielder and lead-off man, a switch hitter who is the swiftest gent in baseball, would be something in the way of an attraction.

Jethroe stands second in International League batting with .339 after 119 games. He leads the circuit in hits, 166; triples, 14; total bases, 254, and runs, 122. He has 30 doubles, 15 home runs and has batted in 66 runs, excellent for a combatant topping the batting order.

Shag Shaugnessy calls Jethroe, 26, six feet one and 170 pounds, the slickest baserunner since Ty Cobb, reiterates that he ran 60 yards in a baseball suit in 6.1, which is the world record in track, and that he beat Barney Ewell, the Olympic sprinter, by nine feet in 75 yards.

"His baserunning is unbelievable," says the International's head man. "He frequently steals standing up, simply by outrunning the throw."

Perhaps the best story in connection with Jethroe is Manager Paul Richards of the Buffalo club walking the pitcher when the outfielder is coming up.

"He can run over the pitcher," says the old catcher.

Obviously the only way to stop Sam Jethroe is to clog up the bases.

"And how much am I offered, men, and what are you waiting for?" asks Mahatma Rickey.

Fears Invasion Of Rat Horde

By GRAHAM TROTTER

EDMONTON, Aug. 18—(CP)—Although millions of rodents scurry their destructive way through the other Canadian provinces, sighting of a solitary rat in Alberta is enough to whip up talk of an invasion.

The number of rats seen in Alberta this year can almost be counted on the fingers of both hands. Nevertheless, Albertans are keenly rat-conscious. The government has carried on a persistent educational war against the rodents but ever-increasing numbers are being found in the province each year.

Albertans are beginning to realize they cannot retain much longer their enviable reputation of the only sector of the North American continent which does not harbor rat colonies.

Great hordes of rats, continually advancing westward as their numbers increase, now have pushed forward almost to within 12 miles of the Alberta border in neighboring Saskatchewan. The threat of invasion from the west is eliminated by the Rocky Mountains.

"Next year rats will make their first appearance in great numbers in the eastern part of Alberta, says John H. Brown, Provincial Health Department official directing the educational campaign against rats. Alberta is faced not only with the prospect of millions of dollars of rat damage annually but also with a rat-carried plague when the army of rodents crosses the border.

Britons Lose Taste For Banking Career

LONDON, Aug. 18 (CP). — Britain's chartered banks are having trouble finding recruits for staff.

Banking as a career has become so unpopular that the banks are hard put to find enough trained personnel to replace retiring veterans.

"One reason for the shortage is that there is less fear of unemployment in industry and commerce generally," said an official of the National Union of Bank Employees.

"Consequently parents do not regard the security of banking and its so-called respectability in the same way as formerly."

Other reasons: no five-day week, salary increase few and far between, promotion slower than in industry.

Looking Ahead

IPSWICH, England (CP)— A long-term plan for East Suffolk roads, approved by the county committee for submission to the transport ministry, provides for new roads and improvements which cannot be carried out for 50 years.

C's Get Semi-Final

CAMPBELLFORD, Aug. 18 (ENS)—Campbellford won the first round in the TVL baseball semi-finals by defeating Havelock 12-3 here Wednesday night. Heath started for the visitors but was blasted off the mound after the homesters had crossed home plate nine times in the second. McNaughton hurled his usual brand of steady ball, allowing few walks. J. Laing, taking over from Heath, held the home club down to three runs. The teams:

Newsmen Capture Jail Breaker

NORTH BAY, Aug. 18 (CP) — Adolphus Thompson, 25, of Montreal, who escaped from the Nipissing Jail Tuesday morning, was recaptured Wednesday by Bob Vezina and Peter Orfankos, reporter and photographer of the North Bay Daily Nugget staff.

Thompson was serving a three-month sentence for theft and attempted suicide when he escaped by climbing the jail wall and running through the underbrush.

Vezina and Orfankos were motoring north of here following a tip that Thompson had been seen in the vicinity.

They spotted a man edging along bushes bordering the road recognized him as Thompson and offered him a ride. They wedged Thompson between them and headed for Timiskaming. To allay Thompson's suspicions while they looked for police they knew to be in the area, they started a conversation.

Vezina: "Say, your name isn't Thompson, by any chance?"

Thompson: "Thompson? No, that's not me, but I hear they're looking for that fellow. Catch him yet?"

Vezina: "No, not yet, but I think they're going to."

They soon encountered a roadblock, and the grinning newspapermen delivered their prisoner to surprised officers.

Tigers Crush Bombers With 9-8 Edge

HAMILTON, Aug. 18 (CP). — Hamilton Tigers came roaring back from an early deficit to score a last-minute 9-8 victory over Winnipeg Blue Bombers in an exhibition football game here Wednesday night.

Doug Smith's game-winning single in the dying minutes of the contest featured a last-half drive by the rejuvenated Bengals. His booming, 60-yard kick climaxed a drive that gave Hamilton their victory after lagging 8-0 at the end of the third quarter.

A roaring crowd of nearly 8,000 watched the Tigers tie the count early in the fourth quarter, also on a single by Smith.

Both touchdowns came in the third quarter. Winnipeg scored theirs by working play to the Hamilton 25-yard line. There Johnny Gardiner flipped an over the middle pass to Bill Clawson, big outside, and he scampered over the line standing up.

Wally Edwards' conversion put the Westerners ahead 8-0.

Tiger Touchdown

Then came the Tigers' touchdown, with about five minutes left in the quarter, the Bengals pulled off a dazzling 65-yard play. Joe Pal heaved to Joe Capriotti, who lateralled to Bill Damanio as he was tackled. The big end loped over the line in the clear and Capriotti convented.

Tigers found the victory a costly one. They lost the services of

Assault In City Park Is Blamed On Swan

MOOSE JAW, Sask., Aug. 18 (CP).—The head of a wel-known Moose Jaw family was locked up in solitary confinement following an all-night brawl in a city park. Father of five, he is accused of assaulting a young couple and then taking on three young fellows in a wild free-for-all.

The culprit? A swan.

The bird ran amok, forced two young swans sitting on eggs to leave their nest and drove three young unmated birds into bushes around the park lake.

Say Great Hike Big Event Of Rover Moot

The fourth World Rover Moot in Skjak, Norway, is officially finished and Peterborough's Jim Webb, one of 2,500 delegate scouts is on his way home. He and his friends have planned to stop over in England and from there visit the low countries and France.

One of the outstanding events of the Moot was the Great Hike in which many Canadians took part although they had little or no experience at mountain climbing, a necessary part of any hike in Norway.

Rain restricted enjoyment of the hike but the international patrols went out up mountain passes to see all there was. One patrol on which there were a number of Canadians visited the ancient Viking capital of Trondheim, once a strategic point in the German defence wall and now a flourishing city of 85,000.

A Scout official conducted the boys to the Singsaker Studentheim, a student hostel on the campus of the Technical University. They toured the city and examined submarine pens and rock defences built by the German army.

Another visit they enjoyed was a tour of the summer palace of King Haakon.

In market square there were large quantities of home grown fruit, strawberries, blueberries, and raspberries, but none imported from the United States.

They were greatly impressed by ancient cathedral begun by the Norwegian patron saint, Saint Olaf, about eleven centuries go. Through the centuries there have been numerous additions and improvements.

Every Scout, as he starts home, has his kit bag stuffed with souvenirs. They traded Scout scarves with each other as a token of the many friends made at this fourth annual Moot.

HOMEWARD BOUND—Douglas Moorhouse of Windsor, packs his gear after attending the fourth World Rover Moot at Skjak, Norway. He was one of 29 Canadian Rover Scouts who joined more than 2,400 fellow-rovers of 34 other nations at the week-long moot.

Newspaperman's Brilliant Idea Gives Quebec People Own Banks

By WILLIAM STEWART

QUEBEC, Aug. 18 (CP). — About a third of Quebec's 1,400,000 working people run their own banks, thanks to the curiosity and industry of a smalltown newspaper man of a half-century ago.

Gaspe fishermen, Lake St. John lumberjacks and Abitibi mineworkers are among 400,000 little bankers, members of more than 1,000 credit unions, in Quebec.

The credit unions calls themselves les Caisses Populaires Desjardins. The "Desjardins" part of their name commemorates the initiative of Alphonse Desjardins, founder at Levis in 1900 of the first credit union in North America.

Since the weekly newspaper editor and reporter of House of Commons debates hustled about hilly Levis at the end of the last century, signing on the 84 people who formed the first Caisse, the movement has spread right through Quebec.

1,019 Banks

Today the province counts 1,019 Caisses Populaires in which the 10-cent-weekly subscriptions of their members have piled up into an asset total now upward of $150,000,000.

The entire structure of the credit union chain, supervised by a province-wide federation is built on the pennies, nickels and dimes that low wage-earners have been able to scrape together.

Anyone can become a credit union member by buying a $5 share at the rate of 10 cents a week. An extra 10 cents, bringing his total membership fee to $5.10, is charged as an admission tax.

Members borrow from their Caisse to settle a doctor's bill, to pay for repairs to a house or to build one. Interest rates are low—just enough to keep the Caisse going and pay its manager who in most cases is the only paid employee.

Other work is voluntary. A committee of members approves all loans. Another group controls investment of funds. Any member can withdraw at any time and get back his $5 share or whatever part of it is paid up.

Knew Poverty

Desjardins, brought up in poverty himself, got the idea for Quebec credit unions while he recorded Commons debates of the last century on the plight of farmers in the hands of unscrupulous money-lenders.

Dec. 6, 1944, the first Caisse Populaire started business in the little town across the St. Lawrence River from Quebec.

Five years later, the Quebec Legislature passed the Co-operative Syndicates Act, giving legal status to the credit unions.

The strength of the movement and the reason for its encouragement by influential parish priests and the higher clergy was that it fitted in perfectly with the traditional, close-knit parish organization of society in Quebec.

Investigate Painting

TORONTO, Aug. 18 (CP)—Mrs. Isabel Ross, chairman of the Moral Standards Committee of the Local Council of Women, said Wednesday her committee probably will investigate the showing of a nude painting in the Canadian National Exhibition art gallery, because of its effect on "wavering minds." The picture—"Susannah and the Elders"—is the work of Thomas Hart Benton ,noted American painter.

Labor Factions Kiss, Make Up Before Meeting

TORONTO, Aug. 16 (CP)—The breach between right-wing elements of Canadian labor over the issue of Communism has been almost completely healed, it was learned Wednesday.

Engaged in a donnybrook battle for about a year over the Communist question and related questions, the two factions in the 400,000-member Trades and Labor Congress of Canada now have virtually kissed and made up.

High labor sources here said that the mid-September Calgary convention of the congress will amount to a love-feast alongside last year's uproarious Victoria meeting that saw the TLC executive joining with Communist-led delegates to put down a right-wing attempt to clean out the left-ist-run Canadian Seamen's Union.

Only battle at the convention, informants said, will be a try by the CSU to get out from under a congress suspension, slapped on it for its tactics in the round-the-world strike of Canadian seamen.

Outright Expulsion

But this time the executive under President Percy Bengough will be lined up against the seamen's union. It will recommend outright expulsion of that body, according to information here.

Behind the executive will be the bulk of the T.L.C. delegates, which will include a hefty representation led by Frank Hall of Montreal, Canadian chief of the Brotherhood of Railway and Steamship Clerks (A.F.L.-T.L.C.). It was Hall's unorthodox methods aimed at the C.S.U. that precipitated the internal split in the Congress, getting himself and his union into a temporary suspension from the Congress.

Now that is all over and the Congress leadership will be going along with Hall's original idea that the Canadian Seamen's Union should be heaved out.

Hall will make a concession on the admission to the Congress of the Seafarers' International Union, which he was instumental in bringing into Eastern Canada to supplant the C.S.U. on deep-sea ships.

The executive of the T.L.C. while determined to toss out the C.S.U., still isn't ready to swallow the Seafarers' group, an A.F.L. affiliate. But sources in Hall's group say they will go along with that for a while, having gained their main objective in the prospective expulsion of the C.S.U.

They say it is certain that the S.I.U. eventually will be admitted to the Congress.

Let Yugoslavia Buy Steel Mill

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18 (AP)—The United States has granted Yugoslavia permission to buy the materials for a steel mill from an American company, government officials disclosed Wednesday.

The decision marks the biggest step yet taken by the United States government to strengthen Marshal Tito in his fight with Moscow.

It is the first time since the cold war began that the Truman administration has agreed to ship "war potential" goods to a Communist-ruled country.

The mill, valued at approximately $3,000,000, will be built by the Continental Foundry and Machinery Company, of Pittsburgh, and is to be delivered in 12 months.

Government officials said it is a blooming and slabbing mill designed to process and refine steel ingots and would not increase Yugoslavia's steel capacity but only its ability to refine it.

State Secretary Dean Acheson, it was learned, led the fight for approval with the Truman administration, arguing it was a "calculated risk" necessary to bolster Yugoslavia's recovery.

Charge Desertion

BERLIN, Aug. 18.—(AP). — The Soviet-licensed news agency ADN said Wednesday night a British parachute trooper had deserted and fled to the Soviet zone of Germany. The agency identified him as "Jack Stuart, member of the Second Battalion of the 16th Parachute Brigade."

10 Elk Destroyed Out Of Diseased Herd

PEMBROKE, Aug. 18—(CP)—Game officials Wednesday destroyed 10 animals, part of a herd of some 50 elk suffering from an incurable parasitic disease of the liver.

The animals are being shot to prevent the disease from spreading to other wildlife in the nearby Petawawa Fish and Game Preserve. Five of them were shot Monday and an examination showed they had no chance of recovering from the disease.

Officials plan to shoot the other animals in the near future.

National Library Proposed For Capital

OTTAWA, Aug. 18 (CP)—An organization of 1,200 librarians today advocated the immediate construction of a national library in Ottawa on grounds so spacious that it would have no trouble expanding.

The Canadian Library Association, in a brief prepared for the royal commission on arts and science development, said that such a library should collect all books written by Canadians, along with works produced by other countries which may be of some significance to the Dominion. It should make all of these publications available to every person in Canada who wants to see them.

Added to this collection would be copies of various federal government documents, periodicals and newspapers, phonographic records of Canada's dialects, folklore and music and a reference collection of Canadian films.

The association suggested Canada collaborate with other world libraries to make its stock of books complete.

To make certain that every book written in Canada reached the national library, the association recommended changes in the copyright act to make sure that a copy of all material copyrighted would be sent to the library.

It noted that the act did specify that two copies of all copyrighted works must be deposited with the library of parliament. But there was no penalty clause in the act and there appeared to be no enforcement.

Ottawa, Carleton County Locked In Courthouse Fight

OTTAWA, Aug. 18 (CP)—Ottawa and surrounding Carleton County have locked horns in a fight to the finish over historic Carleton County Court House.

The stakes are approximately $325,000.

City council is looking for a loop hole in a 20-year-old agreement which requires it to pay 65 per cent of the cost of renovating the 80-year-old building on east-central Nicholas Street.

Meanwhile, the county council is going ahead with plans to spend an estimated $500,000 on the building, scene of Canada's wartime spy trials and the trial of a man named Whalen who assassinated Thomas D'arcy McGee, one of the Fathers of Confederation, in 1868.

Biggest bone of contention is the way the contract was awarded.

It was given to a New Liskeard firm on a cost-plus basis.

City council—backed up by Ottawa contractors and the city property owners association—claim it should have been let by tender. The contractors are reported to be pressing for a royal commission to investigate the deal.

Couldn't Be Let

The county council says tenders couldn't be let because no contractor could make an accurate estimate of the cost of fixing up the ancient structure.

The squabble has implications, too, for the National Capital Plan, has long-term project to rebuild and beautify the capital and surrounding district.

Mayor E. A. Bourque and an irate city council say the building may not fit in with the plan and work should be postponed until the courthouse project is approved by Jacques Greber, French town-planning consultant for the plan. He returns to Ottawa next month.

But the county was stymied Wednesday night when the Central Canada Exhibition Association refused to let the county use the Lansdowne Park Coliseum as a temporary office building.

The county council property committee now faces the problem of finding space for its offices while workmen move into the court house.

Social Problems Need Study Scientists Urge

OTTAWA, Aug. 18 — (CP) — Problems of human relations have reached a critical stage, the Canadian Social Science Research Council said yesterday but government, universities and the public are giving littel attention to methods of tackling these problems.

The council in a prepared brief urged the royal commission on arts and science development to consider the need for greater emphasis on social science education and research in economics, geography and history.

When the atomic age arrived, human relationships might be the vital factor in making the world a possible—or impossible—place for man to live and advance, the brief said.

Yet much more attention was given to natural sciences in the universities than to those dealing with man's social side.

After a 10-year study, the council believed universities should increase their attention to the research and teaching of the social sciences. The federal government should help students in those fields just as much as it did those studying biology, physics and chemistry. Students had to be encouraged and made to feel that their work was important to the country.

Six Suggestions

The council suggested six ways in which the importance of social sciences could be emphasized.

1. Federal grants for post-graduate fellowships and scholarships to social science students administered by the council.

2. An immediate start on building a national library which could become a research centre.

3. Making more government documents available to research workers.

4. Better distribution of government publications.

5. Turning the national museum over to a board of trustees.

6. Having Canada do more work in the United Nations educational, scientific and cultural organization and providing a national commission for U.N.E.S.C.O. work in Canada with emphasis on social science.

Tourists Increase Demand For Postcards

25,000 Pass Weekly Through Post Office

Approximately 25,000 postcards are passing weekly through the local Post Office, Charles Lacheur, postmaster, said today. The great majority of the cards are from people in the Kawartha Lakes to friends in the United States. Mr. Lacheur continued saying that the post cards average about 3500 a day for the summer months. This is an increase of over 80 per cent on the average run of cards in the other months of the year.

Mr. Lacheur said that Monday's card mail through the local office is higher by about 500 cards. He explained this as due to the increase in the number of tourists in the district over the weekend.

In a CP news item Tuesday from Sault Ste. Marie Postmaster William Crawcord said that the post card writing bug was biting the United States tourists when they arrived at that border point. He said they average there 1,500 per day from Dominion Day to Labor Day, five times as much as the average through the winter months.

Best Wheat Fields Yield Over 50 Bus.

"Our wheat men are well satisfied with the Cornell 595 variety," says E. A. Summers in the Durham report to the Ontario Department of Agriculture this week. "Our best fields in the Fifty Bushel Wheat Club have yielded well over 50 bushels an acre. It is expected that the fall wheat acreage will be increased somewhat."

Harvesting has been completed in Brant, "with an excellent yield of wheat." In South Simcoe: "Fall wheat has turned out better than was estimated earlier. Some farmers report more than 40 bushels an acre."

Middlesex says: "Beef cattle and livestock generally are in excellent condition." Perth County's turnip crop is about 10 per cent of normal. Corn and hay meadows in Huron are showing excellent growth."

Haldimand: "Seldom has the corn crop made such a remarkable comeback as is in evidence now. Fields that looked ragged are showing every evidence of growth and yield prospects."

Northumberland: "Farmers are looking after straw for winter roughage. With promise of a good corn crop, it is felt that no sacrifice of cattle will be necessary this winter."

Expect Early Harvesting To Spur Lakehead Rush

FORT WILLIAM, Aug. 18 — (CP)—Early harvesting of grain from the rich wheatlands of Canada's prairie west—spurred by recent hot weather—has led to expectations that the annual rush of freight cars to the lakehead will begin early too.

Freight car arrivals began increasing this week. A spokesman for the inspection department of the Board of Grain Commissioners said "a good 50 per cent" of current grain arrivals is made up of the new crop.

At midnight Monday the Canadian Pacific and Canadian National Railways had a combined total of 1,840 cars of grain in the Fort William yards.

Loadings in the west are on the increase.

Port Hope Arena Will Seat 1,500

The largest artificial ice surface in Canada, equalled only by the Maple Leaf Gardens, will be housed in the Peter Campbell Memorial Arena in Port Hope.

The contractor expects the building to be completed in three months.

Concrete work was expected to be started today or Thursday.

The arena proper will be 240 feet long by 105 wide with a seating capacity of 1,500 and additional standing room for 1,000. The roof, the peak of which is 42 feet above the floor, is supported by roof trusses which avoid the use of posts which have been a nuisance to the spectators in other rinks. The ice surface will be 200 feet by 85 feet.

The dressing rooms will be situated at the front of the building. The appearance of the arena from the front will match those of the college buildings with the sides being aluminium.

George McCullagh, Toronto publisher, donated the arena to Trinity College in memory of the late Peter Campbell. It is situated on the College Hill.

The townspeople will be allowed the privilege of using the arena when it is not required for school purposes.

New Hydro Station To Cost $5,000,000

The Peterborough Examiner

VOL. XCIX. No. 40 — THURSDAY, AUGUST 18, 1949 — PRICE FIVE CENTS

Leslie Woodruff New Principal Hamilton Normal

Education Minister Dana Porter has announced today the appointment of G. Leslie Woodruff, English Master at the Peterborough Normal School, as Principal of Hamilton Normal School. He succeeds Dr. G. O. McMillan, who rettires at the end of the month.

Mr. Woodruff came to Peterborough in 1946 from the Cochrane District, where he was Inspector of Public Schools. During the war, from 1942-45 he served with the Canadian Army, being officer commanding a school of instruction at Camp Borden. He retired from the army with the rank of major.

He has had wide teaching experience during his relatively short pedagogic career. His first schools were rural, in North Renfrew. He then went to the staff of the Ottawa schools, teaching at Kent St. School.

He advanced his academic and professional qualifications studying extramurally and during the summers at Queen's University, of which he is a graduate, and at the Ontario College of Education in Toronto. This summer Mr. Woodruff has been principal of the Department of Education summer course in Primary Methods held at Ottawa.

Active in Theatre

While in Peterborough Mr. Woodruff has taken an active share in Rotary Club activities and in the Peterborough Little Theatre. He played leading roles in both the 1947 production of "The Man Who Married a Dumb Wife" and in its 1948 offering, "The Taming of the Shrew."

Mr. and Mrs. Woodruff, who live on Anne St., have two sons, David, 6, and Kenneth, 4. Mrs. Woodruff and children will remain in Peterborough for a time until suitable housing can be located in Hamilton. Mr. Woodruff will go to Hamilton in a fortnight to assume his new duties.

"I shall greatly miss Peterborough," Mr. Woodruff says. "Since we have been here we have grown fond of it for its good neighbourliness, pleasant homes and conveniences. There are many advantages to living in a place the size of Peterobrough that one must regret leaving it for a larger city."

Popular Appointment

News of his appointment came suddenly, and Mr. Woodruff has preserved a modest silence about it, pending the official Toronto announcement. Mr. Woodruff did not say whether or not he and his family would take French leave of Peterborough for a day or two, to hide away from the deluge of wires and calls of congratulation which will begin to pour in to the popular Woodruffs now that the appointment is here made public.

The Department of Education has not yet announced who Mr. Woodruff's successor will be at the Peterborough Normal School.

THEY FLOATED, TOO — WHEW! After weeks of coffee-shop controversy by laymen skeptics, a large crowd gathered at Point St. Charles on Wednesday afternoon to watch Operation Dobbin as Public Utilities Commission crews and contractors slid the two air-sealed watermains into the Otonabee River. A few minutes after the launching, Utilities manager Ross Dobbin, RIGHT, congratulated superintendent W. Griffin, MacNamara Construction Company, "the man who made the project a success".—(Examiner Staff Photos)

Two 12-inch Iron Pipe Lines Each 296 Feet Long Floated Across the Otonabee

Archimedes should get a little bow, too, on the smooth performance Wednesday afternoon in the launching and the floating of the two parallel 12-inch lines of iron pipe across the river between Burnham's and McDonald's Points. Archimedes was the Syracusan mathematician who discovered the law of specific gravity when he noticed the water his body displaced in his bath tub some 2100 years ago. The iron boom was anchored for the night along the Rink St. shore of Little Lake after the floating, and was to be sunk today in the trench that had been dug by the dredge in the bed of the river.

296 Feet Long

Ross L. Dobbin, manager of the Utilities Commission, directed a smooth and flawless job as the twin-pipe lines slid down the slope of the bank at the McDonald Point park, and with a moderate splash settled on the surface without a bubble of leaking air showing anywhere along the 296 feet from one end to the other.

In the preparations for this event in the crossing of the river, the work of welding the individual lengths of pipe was done on square timbers at the top of the bank during the last week or so. This detail of work was done by R. S. Meiklejohn. When completed the welding was subjected to 125-pound water pressure, twice the ordinary pressure in the water mains of the city.

The ends were sealed and the two parallel lines were set about a foot apart by welded strips devised to keep them in fixed place.

Dredge Used

From the timbers at the top of the bank, others connecting with them led down its slope into the water. All that remained to be done Wednesday at 3.30 p.m., and it looked deceptively simple, was to start the braced pipe lines down their slide.

Three heavy cables were hitched to the pipes, one in the centre and the two others at each end, they were equalized in tautness from winches on the McNamara Construction Company's dredge which was anchored out from the shore, and check ropes were snubbed around several trees in the park background to act as brakes on the gravity sliding.

That was the way the stage was set. Then, the dredge tightened the three cables, gradually drew the iron pipes to the edge of the bank. Another little pull and they started down the incline.

The remaining detail of this job was left for today—towing of the floating pipes to the narrows of the river by the dredge which had recently dug a two-foot trench in the bottom of the river. Their sinking was to be accomplished, it was said, by placing sand bags here and there on the iron boom, thereby overcoming the effect of buoyancy, causing them gradually to lower to the bottom.

The pipe lines were fitted with closed elbows at each end to which their respective service connections will be made when the crossing job is complete.

Recent references to this undertaking were not inspired by the Utilities Commission or by Mr. Dobbin. After all the urgings upon the city council "to clean up Little Lake," it was thought only right and timely to give some emphasis to the detail which will have the effect of "cleaning up the lake", in so far as the council can effect it. Ashburnum sewage will be brought across the river to the trunk sewer down Lock St. instead of passing through the big septic tank on Maria St. and emptying into the lake.

The other pipe line is for the Utilities Commission's project of increasing water pressure in Ashburnham, particularly on its high levels at Western Clock Co. and St. Joseph's Hospital.

The length of each pipe line is 296 feet including the end section projecting into the approaches on the opposite banks. The section of the shore-to-shore crossing is 260 feet.

Three members of the Utilities Commission, G. S. Matthews, chairman, G. A. Macdonald and Fred Hills were present for the launching, with Ross Dobbin, manager, W. H. Powell, his assistant, E. F. Reid and others of the department.

Wm. Griffin was in charge of the dredge work, and was gratefully mentioned by Mr. Dobbin as having been a great help in the preparations. Soundings of the river bed had indicated a clay formation with the possibility of having to dynamite the trench for the twin mains.

FOUR DAYS—NO ARRESTS

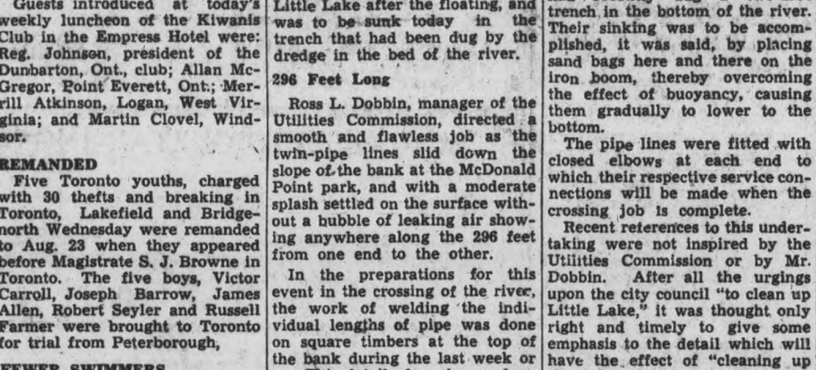
FEWER SWIMMERS

Cooler weather prevailing for the past few days has made the task of Peterborough's lifeguards easier. The usual swarm of children and adults flocking the beach to escape from the heat has been thinned considerably. Although the skies have been clear and the temperature has remained high the high pressure area has produced a cooling breeze.

Lost Control Of Bike Crashes Into Car

Startled by suddenly finding a car stopped in her path in the middle of the Monaghan Rd.-Weller St. intersection at 9:20 p.m. Wednesday night, Dolly Collins, 678 Walkerfield Ave., lost control of her bicycle and ran into the car.



Russell Cole, 465 Albertus Ave., told police he was driving north on Monaghan Rd. when he thought he heard voices. He stopped his car to look at the Weller St. intersection. Miss Cole, who was riding east on Weller St., crashed into his car and cut and bruised her knee.

First Move Made In Reclaiming Of Little Lake

By HARRY THEOBALD

The several hundred citizens who saw the successful floating of the 12-inch iron pipes that are being laid across the river at Burnham's Point incidentally discovered the merits of the park that was laid out and developed by the city council.

Probably other hundreds would also have crossed George St. at Rink St. if the time of the launching had been definitely known in time for publication.

W. H. L. Mellis, of the federal employment office, who had been in charge of the rip-rapping of the bank of Little Lake, suggested that part of the park would lend itself to an ideal site for the Memorial Community Centre.

Another citizen remarked: "I can hardly understand why the city spent $10,000 or more on a stand at Nicholls Oval when we have a lakeside park with its old and young shade trees, situated close to the centre of the city, that appears to have everything in its favor.

"It looks like an ideal place for an occasional band concert. All it needs is a few lights. You shouldn't have to build a stand. We could use that ground platform the Exhibition Board has at Morrow Park."

Rip-Rapping Job

The development of the park was an outgrowth of the rip-rapping job around the Crescent St. bank to Little Lake Cemetery that was begun in 1936 during the time George A. Macdonald was mayor. It was during the industrial depression period. A grant was obtained from the Dominion government through Senator J. J. Duffus, and eventually the bank was extended from the end of Lake St. around the Point to George St. wharf.

The city had acquired the point property in the meantime and gradually filled and levelled it during the mayoralty of James Hamilton who recalled Wednesday that the young trees were bought for one dollar each. Most of them have grown vigorously. The grass is kept cut by the parks department, and its several benches look across the lake which Reg Faryon, president of Quaker Oats Co., casually mentioned one day as being worth a million dollars in any other city. That was when there was an agitation, or one of various demands from time to time for the clearing and "cleaning up" of Little Lake.

Reclaim An Asset

So, Peterborough is about to improve or reclaim its lake asset, and it now has a park that cost the city almost nothing. Intimations are that comparatively few people use it during the summer months, but that its advantages are realized by young people who sit under the trees in the evenings and gaze across the lake toward cemetery point encaptured by the reflection of the late-rising moon on the mirror surface of the water.

The investment in improvement may have been quite a while taking shape, but it is actually under way. Then, the question arises, when it has been restored to the desired state of freshness will its overlooking park be used by sufficient numbers of people to warrant all the interest that has been directed to it?

Peterborough To Be Centre Of Power Distribution Oshawa, Lindsay, Port Hope

Construction work is proceeding at the site of the new Peterborough transformer station being built by The Hydro-Electric Power Commission of Ontario. The station, which will cost approximately $5,000,000 to complete, will serve Peterborough consumers while delivering power to Lindsay, Port Hope and Oshawa, Commission Chairman Robert H. Saunders stated today. Situated three miles west of Peterborough, in Smith Township, on the main C.N.R. line, it is expected to be in initial operation by September 1, 1950, while the ultimate completion date is January 1, 1951.

A 230,000-volt line from the Chenaux development, now under construction on the Ottawa River, is scheduled to pass through the new station. Already built and operating at 115,000 volts from Barrett Chute to Oshawa, this line, according to hydro engineers, will be reconnected in order to run from Chenaux to Peterborough. It will operate at a voltage of 230,000, for which it was originally constructed. At Peterborough, power from this line will be stepped down to 115,000 volts for transmission to Oshawa.

In addition it is said power will be stepped down to 44,000 volts for transmission to municipalities in the immediate area. The new station, according to plans, will be the terminal for five existing 44,000-volt transmission lines, two to serve Peterborough, two to serve Lindsay, and one to deliver power to Port Hope.

It is estimated that 50,000 cubic yards of earth will be moved in the grading operations now proceeding, and 350 tons of steel will be used at the 30-acre site. Construction of a railway siding, it is expected, will get underway shortly, and concrete footings for some of the buildings are expected to be poured this fall. Work on the station will continue through the winter, with a maximum of 200 men employed on the job at one time.

Cadet Band Starts Practise On Monday

The Peterborough Collegiate and Vocational School's bugle band will begin practising Monday night at 7.30, Albert Crossdale leader of the concert and bugle band at the collegiate, told the Examiner Thursday. The local band was chosen by Captain R. C. Graves, Cadet Training Officer for the Eastern Ontario Area, to unite with the Lindsay Collegiate Institute's band for the Army Day celebration at the Canadian National Exhibition, September 10.

With only three weeks to practise the two bands have many problems to work out. The main problem is that the local band have valve trumpets and the Lindsay band have the older type of horn. Some arrangement will have to be made so that the selections played by the bands will be played smoothly without definite pauses which are caused by the older type of trumpet.

Quality Plan Will Improve Supply Of Milk

The grading of milk for cleanliness that is being considered by the Ontario Government, as reported today from Toronto, "is a step in the right direction", was the comment of Dr. Harold Worton, supervisor of milk supply for the city's Board of Health.

"It means that milk producers will be paid on the basis of quality as well as butter fat content, if the government goes through with this proposal," Dr. Worton said. "It should also give further sanction to the Board of Health's policy of inspection of dairy farm premises which require certain standards of sanitation and cleanliness as a condition to selling fluid milk for the bottle trade in Peterborough.

"The government's plan of which there is no detail yet, and which is mentioned only as being considered would provide for recognition in price of the careful handling of milk at the dairy farm.

Better Price For Quality

"It would give the farmer a better price for quality milk. That is a factor over which the Board of Health had no control whatever. For years under the chairmanship of Mr. James Dutton, Peterborough has been requiring sanitary surroundings in the stables and milk rooms. If those conditions were not complied with, the Board could exclude any such producers from local delivery for the bottle trade.

"Evidently the government is thinking of placing a further emphasis on quality in milk production, by a new system of grading which would presumably be carried out by a department of the government."

The news from Toronto today was to the effect that Ontario might adopt a grading plan that has been in effect in New York State. It would also apply to milk used in the manufacture of butter and cheese.

Grade "A" milk in New York, for instance, must have a low bacterial count, and cows must be TB tested. Dairy barns must have concrete floors and approved drainage, and may be used only by the dairy herd. Walls and ceilings must be either whitewashed or painted regularly. There are also other conditions.

The lowest category milk, grade "C" would be banned for human consumption.

The proposed plan of grading for quality might possibly not increase the price to the farmer, but instead would react as a penalty on those who did not comply with it.

London Captures Fur Trade Back From U.S.

LONDON, Aug. 18—(CP)—The Financial Times, in an article on this year's fur trade says London has recaptured from New York much of the prominence it lost as an international market during the war.

It adds, however, that currency restrictions have hampered fur trade. So have high production costs and taxation. Manufacturers and wholesalers prices have been the first to reflect stiffening resistance among purchasers but retailers this year are expected to follow suit.

"The trend of prices is slowly but surely declining," the newspaper reports, "and it is estimated that during the last 12 months they dropped on an average by 30 and 40 per cent....

"Home trade carries the burden of the (100 per cent) purchase tax which in the months before the budget brought sales almost to a standstill."

The article, discussing the fur outlook, says "the public's careful attitude towards spending money is fully felt in a 'luxury' trade" and retailers are building up ancillary money-getters such as operating cold-storage and remodeling rooms.

Despite London's dependence on economic conditions at home and abroad, the newspaper says, "The entrepot trade in London has recaptured a high proportion of the business that moved to New York during the war."

Says Farming About Canada's Biggest Business

By The Canadian Press

Farming is just about Canada's biggest business.

More than $6,000,000,000 is invested in land, livestock and equipment and in average years Canadian farm produce is worth more than $1,500,000,000.

It's one of the Dominion's biggest export industries, too. This year Canada will get $380,000,000 in badly-needed United States dollars from the sale of wheat to the United Kingdom.

Farmers must spend a lot of that $1,500,000,000 for things like fertilizer, feed, gasoline and equipment. The farmer's costs are income for somebody else.

The western prairies have been the traditional big market for farm machinery, but more and more, the tractor and the combine have been replacing the horse as the prime power source on eastern farms.

The Federal Department of Agriculture now estimates that it costs anywhere from $29 to $40 an acre to mechanize the average eastern farm.

Based On Studies

Those figures are based on studies by the agricultural engineering division of the Dominion Experimental Farms Service. The division assumes that a farmer, expanding from a 50-acre farm to one of the larger sizes, would want to add these pieces of equipment: Tractor, hay loader, manure spreader, row cultivator, corn binder, ensilage cutter, fanning mill, grinder and milking machine.

But a farmer who already owned 150 acres and bought an extra 100 could probably achieve adequate mechanization with an expenditure of around $13.45 an acre.

The Department warns however, that a farmer can get too much equipment.

It points out that a man with 150 acres who bought—the Department suggests it would be in "a moment of weakness'—a combine and forage crop harvester, would send his mechanization costs zooming up to $48 an acre.

With Canadian farm land now valued at more than $35 an acre, that would mean a high overhead and plenty of trouble.

ITU President Gets Say-So On Contracts

OAKLAND, Calif., Aug. 18.—(AP).—The International Typographical Union Wednesday turned over to President Woodruff Randoph the final say-so on all employer contracts affecting I.T.U.'s 87,000 members. The vote was 258 to 50.

The 91st convention also voted a pension for the $10,000-a-year president, three $7,500 vice-presidents and secretary-treasurer; and I.T.U. office employees. The officers will receive $10 a week for each two-year terms.

Approval by voice came after the convention agreed to increase weekly payments for I.T.U.'s 7,000 pensioners from $15 to $16.

Entomologist Dies After Fall From Tree

TORONTO, Aug. 18 — (CP) — Cecil R. Douglas, entomologist for the Federal Department of Agriculture, died in hospital Wednesday from brain injuries suffered last week in a fall while holidaying near Sault Ste. Marie.

He underwent a brain operation but failed to rally.

An employee of the agriculture department for 18 years, he had been conducting a survey on caterpillars in the Sault district.

His family lives in Sault Ste. Marie.

Thickly Matted Masses Of Weeds Found Floating In Chemong Lake

The weeds in Chemong Lake, at all times plentiful, are even more so this summer. Last weekend there were great piles of them floating on the surface, wound into thickly matted masses, in the southern end of the lake, in the Fife's Bay region.

Some of the weed groups are as much as 30 feet across, and in some spots several small ones are clustered around a larger one.

Various reasons for the excess have been expressed one cottager said this morning. Some think that they are being pulled out by the roots by someone at the lower end of the lake in an attempt to clear out his section. This theory is supported by the fact that the weeds appear to have been torn out by the roots. In fact, some of them, matted almost into a wickerwork, have earth clods still attached to the roots.

The weeds have not as yet, reached the causeway, and some of the cottagers are inclined to feel that there is no water movement to speak of because of the causeway.

"It might be all right for this year, but if it keeps on, the value of properties in the area is sure to go down", the cottager said.

A theory that carp are the villains was debunked by another cottager. "Although there are plenty of the fish in the lake", he said, "I'm convinced they are not stirring up the weeds to that extent." He remains firm in his conviction that someone is tearing them up and pushing them out into the lake.

Form Institute To Improve Barley Crops

By The Canadian Press

Tucked away on the second floor in the Winnipeg Grain Exchange building is a small office whose occupants hope to improve malting barley.

The Barley Improvement Institute, set up in June, has two objectives. One is to increase the quantity and quality of the raw material for the malters, and the secondary product, the malt, for the brewers.

The experiments in all probability will help boost Canada's prestige as a barley-growing industry.

The institute, only one of its kind in Canada, does not touch the farmer's crop. Instead, it works from hybrid barley sent to it by Dominion Government Farms in various provinces.

Aid To Breeders

After chemically testing the samples, it advises plant breeders at the farms which of several thousand barley seeds look promising for replanting the next year. This saves the breeders the trouble and expense of replanting seeds not good enough for malting purposes.

While the institute is concerned mainly with malting barley, the numerous chemical tests through which they put the malting barley is also bound to show deficiencies in the ordinary feed barley as well.

The institute also acts in an advisory capacity to farmers who sent in numerous queries as to the proper method of planting and improving the quality of their seed.

In charge of the institute is Professor T. J. Harrison, former assistant grain commissioner. Chief chemist is V. M. Bendelow.

The institute's work is divided into four classes: Biological research, economical research, educational or extension service and seed improvement.

Better Varieties

The biological research is related largely to the development of high-yielding and better quality varieties of barley. This work is being undertaken by the Dominion Experimental Farms and five universities McGill, (Macdonald College) the Ontario Agricultural College, Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia.

It consists of providing scholarships and stundentships in an effort to train more and better barley researchers.

It is one thing to make available better varieties and to determine better methods of production, and another to get these varieties and methods put into operation by the barley growers. The latter is the work of the extension services at the universities and the department of agriculture.

Wants Canada In Sterling Bloc

LONDON, Aug. 18 — (CP). — A call for Canada to go off the dollar standard and join the sterling bloc is made to-day in a newspaper article by L. S. Amery veteran British parliamentarian.

Amery, one-time Secretary of State for India, who recently returned from Canada, writes in the Financial Times that the Canadian economy, "like all the world outside the United States, is becoming increasingly entangled in a network of restrictionism."

Amery said the first result of Canada's joining the sterling bloc would be that member countries, with European countries following suit, would go all out to buy every ounce Canada could produce.

Any devaluation of the Canadian dollar in relation to the United States would help Canada in the long run, he maintained, as American capital invested in Canada would be benefited and tend to bring in more.

British Unions On Spot Between Gov't, Members

By ALAN HARVEY

LONDON, Aug. 18—(CP)—Recent industrial unrest has placed new emphasis on the purpose and performance of Britain's trade union movement. Some critics go so far as to demand a Royal Commission investigation. They say the prevalence of unofficial strikes shows that Unions are getting too big to control their members.

Others point to organized labor's new role in relation to government policy.

Through the years, these observers argue, British trade unions have struggled honestly to power as labor's official representatives. Their weapons in achieving status for group action were the old ones of strike, agitation and political opposition.

Subtle Change

But with a Labor Government in power (so runs the argument) trade-union psychology undergoes a subtle change. Instead of using its influence in the old way to wring legitimate wage increases and improved working conditions from employees, union leadership becomes politically dependent on a government it helped to elect.

Thus the Trades Union Congress, representing 187 unions with 7,500,000 members, is obliged to carry out government policy which may conflict with rank-and-file ambitions.

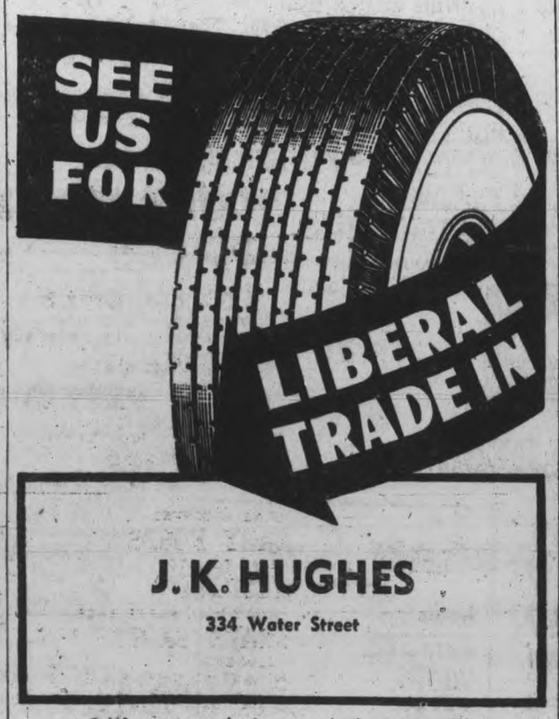
In return for greater political prestige, the TUC must tread an uneasy tight-rope between the government on one hand and the union members on the other. On wages, the dilemma is clearly shown. The TUC supports the government's virtual wage-freeze, while constantly under pressure from its members for more money.

Weaken Authority.

The result, Labor opponents contend, is an inevitable weakening of trade-union authority. The position is complicated further by Labor's insistence on full employment, which causes a sustained upward pressure on wages by maintaining a sellers', market for labor.

Hamilton Whyte, Professor of Economics at Bristol University, has warned that the trade unions may lose "the achievements of a century of devoted effort" unless their old status is restored.

"There are to many of us some puzzling and disturbing factors in the new position of trades unions in the post-war world," he told a Liberal gathering.



"Surely it is a strange paradox that at the very moment when trade unions are losing power among their members, they are exercising a far greater influence on the government than they have ever had before."

Man Dies Of Burns On Construction Job

MAGOG, Que., Aug. 18—(CP)—Lloyd Lalonde, 26, of Cornwall, died in hospital Wednesday from burns received while at work on a construction job at the Dominion Textile Company mill here.

Lalonde, an engineer employed by the Fraser-Brace Construction Company, was installing switch boxes in the extension to the plant when he came in contact with a 550-volt wire.

Survived by his widow and a two-year-old son in Cornwall, Lalonde served as a tail gunner with the RCAG during the war and was a veteran of 33 missions over Europe.

Legion Asks Government To Keep Red Ensign As Canada's Flag

OTTAWA, Aug. 18 (CP)—With an appeal to the Federal Government to retain the red ensign as Canada's flag, the Ontario Command of the Canadian Legion Wednesday night wound up its 16th biennial convention.

It called, too, for a continuation of rent controls, strengthened to control rents on sub-let accommodation and individual rooms.

In a resolution introduced by the legion's Sarnia branch, the convention said that "a certain group, and it should be noted here that it is a minority group, is agitating to drop the Union Jack from the proposed national flag."

". . . our merchant ships have carried these colors to every land in the world and our armed forces have carried it to victory in many battles waged in the name of freedom, in foreign lands, to the end that it is known and respected," the resolution said, asking the government to adopt the ensign officially as the national flag.

The red ensign now is flown on Canadian merchant ships and from government buildings.

The convention also asked the provincial government to permit legion canteens to sell beer in local option areas. It noted that reserve army messes now sell beer, even in "dry" areas.

Rent Increases

The resolution on housing also asked for increases in rents that were pegged in 1940. It said that owners of housing on which rents were pegged were not getting the same return from that property as was being derived from accommodation built later at high construction costs.

Other resolutions asked:

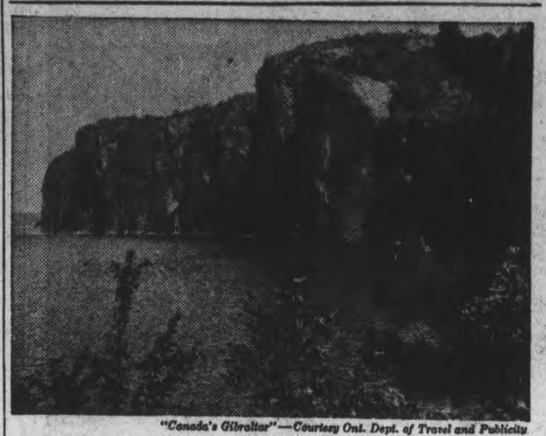
1. That re-establishment credits be made available to widows and dependent parents of men killed in the Second World War.

2. That the Department of Veteran Affairs permit treatment of veterans by qualified chiropractors.

3. That a uniform type of monument be supplied by the Federal Government for the graves of all veterans on request from the next-of-kin.

4. That the Federal Government supply relatives with photographs of the graves of men killed and buried overseas.

Reduce Acreage



A resolution sponsored by the Ancaster and Sudbury branches asked that the minimum acreage requirement under the Veterans Land Act be reduced to half an acre from two to three acres. It said that veterans in the Sudbury area were forced to buy sub-standard rocky land to meet the acreage requirements.

Another asked that re-establishment credits be made available to widows and dependent parents of men killed in the Second World War.

Mrs. I. D. Cameron of St. Thomas, president of the Ontario Women's Auxiliaries, reported that $150,000 had been collected for legion activities this year. There now were 206 auxiliaries in the province, an increase of 50.

Serving Tomatoes, Cheese With Eggplant Add Flavor

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer.

Here's an eggplant recipe that uses tomatoes and cheese (both on the September plentiful list) to achieve interest and better flavor:

BROILED EGGPLANT

Steam thick slices of unpeeled eggplant, until almost tender, about 10 minutes. Dip in seasoned flour and place on well-greased broiler pan. Marinate thick slices of fresh tomato in garlic French dressing, and top eggplant with the tomato. Lay a slice of cheese over each eggplant-tomato "sandwich." Broil until cheese is golden brown and serve at once.

Broccoli with almond butter will end for all time the falsehood that vegetables are dull. Remember, too, that butter is on the September plentifuls list.

BROCCOLI WITH ALMOND BUTTER (Serves 4)

Wash 2 pounds fresh broccoli and if any of the stems are more that ½-inch in diameter, it is well to make lengthwise gashes through them. The stalks will then cook as quickly as the flower buds. Cook the prepared broccoli in boiling, salted water for 10 to 15 minutes—only until tender. Carefully remove to hot serving dish. Cover with hot almond butter.

Almond Butter

Melt ½ cup butter or fortified margarine in heavy pan and heat carefully to golden brown. Add ½ cup slivers of toasted almonds and 3 tablespoons lemon juice. Pour over broccoli and serve at once.

YWCA Appoints Miss M. Foster Program Director

Miss L. Brownscombe, general secretary of Peterborough YWCA has announced the appointment of Miss Marion Foster, a Vancouver University graduate, as program director of the YWCA in this city. She is expected to take up her duties in the middle of September.

The appointment follows the creation of a new post at the YWCA here. While the organization of junior and senior girls clubs will continue as at present, Miss Foster will be responsible for both departments and for the general program of the entire Peterborough Association.

Miss Foster, whose home is in Calgary, has a high reputation in Western Canada, Miss Brownscome told the Examiner. She was done program work with the YW CA in Calgary, where Mrs. C. K. Hurst, a member of the Peterborough Board, met here while she herself was program director there. Miss Foster has also done similar work in Edmonton and Vancouver.

This summer Miss Foster, who is in her twenties, took a special course in social work and attended the Western Social Work Conference. She comes to Peterborough with a high recommendation from the National Council of YWCA. Miss Mabel Blackly, executive director of the Vancouver YWCA has spoken highly of her and also Miss Chris Gardner, executive director of the Victoria Association and one time girls' work secretary at Peterborough.

Customers' Corner

Have you ever noticed the date stamped on each carton of A&P eggs? It is put there to protect the quality and freshness of this perishable item.

An egg that is Grade A when it is inspected and packed could become Grade B or C by the time you buy it if it has been improperly or slowly handled.

We don't want that ever to happen to an A&P egg. That is why we put the date when the eggs were graded on each carton. Eggs not sold within a few days of that date are removed from sale even though they are still of good quality

If you should ever find that any of our egg cartons bear old dates or that any eggs fail to live up to our high quality standards, please tell us about it.

I Know You Love To See Your Husband Happy but does his fondness for summer sports make extra work for you? . . . Scrubbing out woollen sports socks 'n sweaters can be quite a chore! But not with VEL to help you! "Vel" is truly marvelous with woollens! You see, all woollens are made up of fluffy fibres. These fibres will always catch and cling if pressed together while wet, which accounts for the unpleasant "matting", which can result if wool is washed in ordinary soap. "Vel" helps avoid this "matting" in three ways. First, "Vel" works perfectly in the lukewarm water best for washing wool. As you know hot water tends to shrink wool. Second, "Vel" penetrates deeper and more quickly than soap, so no rubbing is necessary. Third, "Vel" leaves no "soapy" scum in the wool to coarsen the fibres and dull the colours. . . . And "Vel" is marvelous for your light laundry, too! Laundry soaked in "Vel" washes "wink-quick" and wonderfully clean!

You see, Murine contains seven ingredients that combine to help give your eyes the care they deserve. Get a bottle of Murine and use it night, morning and, of course, whenever your eyes call for relief from that tired feeling.

Tea-Time, I've always thought, is one of the pleasantest of civilized customs. Whether you're working all day or feel the need of refreshment after an afternoon of golf or tennis — a hot cup of tea is a delightful "pick-me-up". But — oh! — the disappointment if it isn't good! That's why I urge you to choose your brand carefully for extra-good flavour . . . choose TENDER LEAF TEA! It's the tea that's made from the little top leaves and they give it that added touch of zest and sparkle that means real tea enjoyment! Canada's Leading Summer Theatre As Reviewed In "Show Business"

By HERBERT WHITTAKER
(Globe & Mail, Aug. 16)

This department moved itself to the Hub of Kawartha for the week-end, to catch up on the progress of the Peterborough Summer Theatre. We hadn't been around that part of the straw-hat circuit since its opening show, and some of the Peterborough theatre-goers were getting a bit sniffy about such neglect. Their Summer Theatre seems to be fitting well into the comfortable picture of the Peterborough summer-community life.

It was the current offering that we went to review—a very different kind of comedy called By Candlelight. This is a pleasant bit of froth translated from the Viennese by P. G. Wodehouse. It's about a valet who impersonates a prince to woo a high-born lady, who turns out to be Mitzi, a chamber maid.

But the Peterborough Summer Theatre determined to treat it as if it were pure Schnitzler. William Needles, who directed it with a nice appreciation for a vanished Vienna, persuaded Mr. Robertson Davies to set down a poignant little prologue and spoke it tenderly before the curtain.

There's an old Viennese saying, it seems, that "you should never choose women or linen by candlelight." But it didn't say anything about plays. In the candlelight of the Peterborough production (although it was electric) By Candlelight looked like a charming bit of entertainment.

—But (to switch to metaphor) the Peterborough company has taken the Old Viennese champagne and good British beer and made a smooth and palatable shandygaff.

Responsible for most of the champagne in the performance is Jeri Sauvinet, the young actress who plays the aspiring Mitzi. Miss Sauvinet, who is English despite the name, produces for it a completely charming, if illogical accent. It is very helpful to her in presenting just the kind of high-born lady we should have hoped to meet in Alt Wien—we suspect that the real-life baronesses were blond and thoroughly corsetted. Miss Sauvinet was full of delicate wonder, gracefully naive and elegantly assailable. And she looked delectable.

Anna Cameron also adopted an accent for her much shorter role, that of an exotic old lady from the Prince's little red book. In fact, without the accent there might have been nothing to the part—with it Miss Cameron aided considerably in keeping things Viennese.

The other players had sense on their side in not attempting the accent, but we rather wished they had. Every now and then we caught an echo of good practical Canadian commonsense — which was out of place in Old Vienna.

But John Primm and Frank Perry did well in batting epigrams back and forth, talking about women with a capital "W" and exchanging coats at a great rate. Mr. Primm was the rather melancholy Prince, with less than he might have but a great deal of aplomb. Mr. Perry was the valet, and did wonders in keeping the valet in view when playing the master. Their sparkle never matched that of the ladies, though.

To house Peterborough's Old Viennese, the talented Martha Jamieson designed an apartment sufficient ornate, centred around a crystal chandelier. And Strauss waltzes were played on every possible occasion.

It is quite a challenge for a summer company to avoke that most elusive of theatrical factors —atmosphere— in a week. Peterborough, Mr. Needles and Miss Sauvinet did a remarkable job of it. All that one could have asked more was the sale of champagne instead of coke in the lobby between scenes. (Advt.)

Of Interest to Women

DOROTHY DIX

Fleshly Companionship Must Be Intellectual

DEAR MISS DIX: I have become attached to a certain young lady, who has good looks, wonderful disposition, charm and fine sincerity of character. She is frugal, interested in housekeeping, loves children and would no doubt make a good wife and mother. But I am a college man a professional man, interested and fond of discussing intellectual subjects. This girl has little education, makes many mistakes in writing and is not the least interested in anything intellectual. I have subscribed to magazines for her and she claims to read them, but she hasn't the faculty of understanding things intelligently and is deficient in original ideas. Would I make a mistake to marry a girl of her type? Should I say: "Well, she has 85 per cent of all the qualifications for making a good wife. Better take 85 per cent than to look unsuccessfully for a 95 per cent type."

Dorothy Dix

ROBERT.

ANSWER: You have your ratio wrong, Robert. A dumb woman has only 10 per cent of the qualities that go to make a good wife for an intellectual man and she lacks the 90 per cent essential ones.

It is suicide for an intellectual man to marry a dull and stupid woman. Just as soon as her physical attraction for him has dulled, she bores him to death. They have no real interests in common and they never achieve any companionship because she does not know what he is talking about half the time. There is no loneliness greater than that of two people who spend their lives close together in body, but miles apart spiritually. Don't bring that desolate fate upon yourself, as you surely will if you marry a woman who is not in our mental class.

The thing that makes marriage a success is congeniality. No fireside is ever dull if the husband and wife think the same thoughts, read the same books, are interested in the same things. No man ever wearies of the wife who is his best and most intelligent listener, and who always hands him an entertaining and interesting line of conversation.

But thousands of men roam away from home because they are bored to tears in it and because they crave the society of women who can talk to them about something else besides the baby's milk and the price of butcher's meat.

If I were a man thinking about getting married, the main thing I would consider was whether the woman was my intellectual equal or not. For beauty fades. Dull women with few interests get peevish. But brains improve as they grow older.

A MUST!

Jam Season In Full Swing

By GALYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer.

Here are three recipes too good not to pass on:

PICKLED PEACHES ... .
(Makes Two Quarts) ... ...

Two quarts of medium sized peaches, 2 cups vinegar, 4½ cups sugar, 2 sticks cinnamon (2-inch) while cloves.

Scald peaches and remove the skins. Boil vinegar, sugar and stick cinnamon for 5 minutes. Insert 2 or 3 whole cloves in each peach. Drop peaches into boiling syrup a few at a time and cook until peaches are tender and slightly transparent looking. Pack peaches carefully in hot sterilized jars. Fill jars with boiling syrup and seal. Pack stick cinnamon in each jar.

SPICY PLUM JAM
(Makes 12 8-Oz. Glasses)

Six pounds plums, 9 cups sugar, ½ teaspoon cinnamon, ¼ teaspoon cloves, ¼ teaspoon allspice, ⅛ teaspoon ginger, ¼ teaspoon dry mustard, ¼ cup vinegar.

Wash plums. Halve and pit. Combine with remaining ingredients. Let stand 15 minutes. Turn into large preserving kettle and bring slowly to boil, stirring constantly. Boil until thick—about 45 minutes. Stir frequently to prevent burning. Pour into hot sterilized jars or glasses and seal immediately.

SPICED GRAPE JAM
(Makes about 12 6-oz. glasses)

Five and one-half cups prepared fruit, 7 cups sugar, 1 box powdered fruit pectin, ¼ to 1 teaspoon each cinnamon, ginger and allspice (or any other combination of spices).

To prepare the fruit: Slip skins from about 3 pounds fully ripe Concord or other loose-skinned grapes. Add one cup water to pulp; bring to a boil and simmer, covered, 5 minutes. Sieve to remove seeds. Chop skins and add to pulp. Measure 5½ cups into a very large saucepan. Add spices.

To make the jam: Measure sugar and set aside. Place saucepan holding fruit over high heat. Add powdered fruit pectin and stir until mixture comes to a hard boil. At once stir in sugar. Bring to a full rolling boil and boil hard 1 minute, stirring constantly. Remove from heat, skim, and ladle quickly into glasses. Paraffin at once.

"Pulling well to-day, isn't she?"

Few Changes in Fashions Furs Trim New Coats

By MURIEL NARRAWAY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON — (CP) — London's "Big Ten" designers—the "First Eleven" since Michael Sherard was added—displayed fur-trimmed fall styles to audiences wilting in one of London's infrequent heat waves.

And while overseas buyers didn't mind the heat much, they were disappointed in the styles they saw.

Lawrence Marcus of Dallas, Texas, exclaimed "'Britain wants me to buy the clothes she likes —not the clothes I like."

A Canadian visitor found the British offerings "not the sort of styles to capture the Canadian market."

"'At the price those will sell back home, our women want something with a difference," she said. "The line is good, the tailoring perfect, but they so seldom have that 'something'."

The main trouble seemed to be that there was nothing really new. Skirts were shorter, sometimes almost imperceptibly, sometimes very noticeably. The uneven hemline was popular in afternoon and evening dresses. But the accent remained essentially unchanged.

Necklines plunge daringly, sometimes to nearly waistlength, other times taking on a symmetrical slant, and the eggshell line of last season's little hats is repeated in this season's uneven necklines.

Drapes Soften Lines

The tube look continues with loose panels and drapery to soften the line. There is often hip gathering on one or both sides, but falling in soft folds from a clean waistline without emphasis.

Pockets are important. Some coats and suits have "poacher" pockets—rather like pochette handbags. Sometimes a series of four is used—two small, two large.

The most important trimming is fur and is used with sumptuous effect on velvet town coats presented by Norman Hartnell.

Fur trimmings are mostly detachable to give an all-purpose garment and to avoid the luxury tax the fur would bring.

Colors are generally sombre—'ambiguous and mysterious tones' as Worth calls them. There is a great deal of grey and black, and browns run from beige through coffee, donkey and tobacco to chocolate.

When color is used, it's often the true shade of vegetables. "Angry Answer" is a vivacious tomato red without a hint of blue in it. There are spinach green, dull raspberry pinks and plum shades, a deep wood-green and the bronze of autumn leaves with many golds and nut browns.

"Yes, that's a perfect spring—my husband will give you a cheque the moment he lands."

Dismiss Charge Careless Driving

Given the "benefit of the doubt" by Magistrate E. A. Gee, Lindsay, Marcell Lalonde, 270 Reid St., was freed when a charge of careless driving against him was dismissed in police court Thursday morning.

The charge resulted from an accident in which Lalonde's car skidded 394 feet along a wet grassy shoulder, down a ditch and ended up against a fence post after breaking it. The accident occurred on Highway No. 7 nearly seven miles east of Peterborough some time after 3:00 a.m. July 20.

Provincial Constable George Coffey testified Lalonde had been drinking and he had found a bottle of rubbing alcohol. When Constable Coffey asked Lalonde whether he had been drinking it, Lalonde answered, "Would you?"

Lalonde told the court he had two pints of beer between midnight and three a.m. while visiting a friend in Indian River. He said he was driving home about 45 miles an hour when his car veered to the right. He turned the car back, but he turned it too far. He said when he got on the grassy slope of the shoulder he couldn't control the car. He sideswiped a hydro pole and the bump stunned him.

He said a doctor's examination showed he had a cracked rib and a [illegible] on the head.

[illegible] lawyer, T. J. Carley, KC, said there was really no evidence of careless driving and that defective steering gear was a reasonable explanation of the accident.

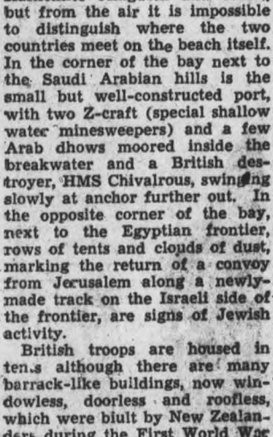
British Troops Guard Port Of Akaba

By CLARE HOLLINGWORTH
Special to Examiner from London Observer.

AKABA, Aug. 18—Flying at six thousand feet, the old battered RAF Anson bumped uneasily in the currents of hot air rising from the Sinai desert until suddenly it banked over the dramatic cliffs which form Egypt's coast-line with the Gulf of Akaba. Four miles away across the water rise similar cliffs which are the coast-line of Saudi Arabia.

As the aircraft circled over the sea in an effort to lose height without flying over Israeli territory, the sandy beach of Akaba, Jordan's only port, with its fringe of date-palms, gradually took shape and color. Soon one could distinguish the dun-colored mud-brick houses in which the normal population of some 300 Arabs live and then, on high ground behind the village, the familiar Beau Geste fort, exactly similar to tens of others scattered about Abdullah's little kingdom, from which the Arab Legion maintains law and order.



The beach narrows gradually into a long sandy wadi running back into Jordan and forming, roughly, the frontier between the Hashemite Kingdom and Israel, but from the air it is impossible to distinguish where the two countries meet on the beach itself. In the corner of the bay next to the Saudi Arabian hills is the small but well-constructed port, with two Z-craft (special shallow water minesweepers) and a few Arab dhows moored inside the breakwater and a British destroyer, HMS Chivalrous, swinging slowly at anchor further out. In the opposite corner of the bay, next to the Egyptian frontier, rows of tents and clouds of dust, marking the return of a convoy from Jerusalem along a newly-made track on the Israeli side of the frontier, are signs of Jewish activity.

British troops are housed in tents although there are many barrack-like buildings, now windowless, doorless and roofless, which were biuit by New Zealanders during the First World War after Lawrence had captured Akaba from the Turks. The ruins of the old crenellated fortress from which the Turks tried to defend the port are half hidden amongst the date palms.

The 1st Battalion, Irish Fusiliers, who replaced the Lincolnshire Regiment three weeks ago, have a quiet life. Routine training and various classes occupy the hot mornings but in the afternoon everyone but the man on guard duty dashes down to the sea.

There is is practically nothing to do in Akaba. True, this village of three hundred souls has grown into a kind of minor boom-town with two thousand Arabs mysteriously appearing from the hilly inland wastes, attracted by the influx of troops—but "entertainment" is at a premium. There is one small cafe, a broken-down shack on the sea front where a Syrian woman, who previously catered for the needs of the Arab Legion, provides warm beer and "eggs and chips." Otherwise the men have to rely on their own canteens, clubs and cinemas.

Outside the village is a large fishery with its own ice-making plant from which lorry loads of frozen lobsters and other fish are despatched to Amman; before the Palestine war they supplied also Jerusalem and Tel Aviv.

COUP COLONEL — Col. Sami Hennawi headed the group of Syrian army officers who seized control of the government in a coup d'etat. He is shown at a military court, immediately after the ousted president and prime minister were sentenced to death, in Damascus.

European Coffee Very Strong Tour Discloses

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 18 (AP).—What's wrong with the coffee in Europe?

For decade coffee-loving tourists have wondered this. So did Joseph Bulasky, who operates Coffee Dan's, where many of Hollywood's film and radio famous quaff their Java. He has returned from a tour of Europe, where he studied continental coffee habits.

"Coffee . . . is taken lightly by Europeans," he scoffed.

"It is drunk black and very strong. Europeans like it that way because they drink coffee as a stimulant. Americans find European coffee bitter unless they add a lot of cream and sugar.

Not Gulpers

"Americans gulp coffee like water. Not so Europeans. They serve it in demi-tasse cups and sip it slowly.

"European coffee is steamed instead of brewed, which accounts for its strong flavor. The coffee urns in restaurants look like refineries with their intricate networks of pipes. You can't order a cup and expect to get it immediately. It has to be steamed individually."

Bulasky found the best coffee in Switzerland, the worst in Italy. He has a suggestion for coffee-lovers who are going to Europe: Take a jar of instant coffee along.

Capsule Review

"Jolson Sings Again" is about as good as a sequel can be. This one lacks the warmth and impact of the first Jolson story, but it is done with taste and an eye to entertainment. Adding to its success is another fine portrayal by Larry Parks, plus an excellent showing by Barbara Hale as the current Mrs. Jolson.

Garage Closing Inconvenience

Confirmation of the inconvenience caused to tourists through lack of week-end garage accommodation comes from another Peterborough resident.

Morris Ackerman of Cleveland told the Examiner that though he registered at a local hotel shortly after 6 p.m. Saturday he could find no place other than the market square to park his car. Garages close Saturday at 6 p.m., he was informed, and do not open again until 8 a.m. Monday.

Mr. Ackerman, an enthusiastic booster of the Kawartha district in Ohio, said he thought this was a service that could be improved without too much trouble. "A matter of local planning," he described it.

Uses Taxis

Another tourist, a lady with a large expensive car driven by a chauffeur, also ran afoul of the early closing here Saturday.

She came from Montreal to visit Mrs. W. A. Young, R.R. 2 Peterborough. Although arriving in time to find a garage open she also found to her surprise that the services of the car and chauffeur would have to remain unused as the garage closed shortly afterwards.

For the rest of the evening she had to drive around in taxis.

PLANE STRIKES MOUNTAIN, 27 KILLED

Overcrowded Refugee Ship Disabled, Short Of Food Sends SOS For Assistance

Mother, Newly-Born Child Seriously Ill On Distressed Vessel, Coast Guard Plane To Drop Supplies

HALIFAX, Aug. 19—(CP)—The overcrowded Baltic refugee ship Amanda is 480 miles southeast of this port today, her engine disabled, her food and water rations short, it was reported here today. A mother and newly-born child aboard suffered childbirth complications. A United States coast guard ship has responded to a call for assistance and expects to reach the Amanda at 7 p.m. EDT tomorrow. Meanwhile a coast guard plane from the Newfoundland Argentia base has flown over the distressed ship and is preparing to drop supplies.

The Amanda, headed for Halifax with more than 60 aboard, had her sails ripped by gales and then suffered engine trouble on the voyage to Canada.

The Baltic passengers aboard the tiny vessel are refugees from Communist-dominated Latvia.

Mother, Child Ill

The child was born 10 days ago and both mother and child are ill, the captain signalled the coast guard plane.

The plane reported the captain made "an urgent request for assistance." A coast guard vessel intercepted the plane's report and immediately started to steam to the Amanda. It was not known where the coast guard will tow the Amanda but it was possible the tow will be to either Argentia or Halifax.

Meanwhile the former minesweeper Sarabande, with 235 refugees from Baltic countries aboard, arrived in port early this morning and anchored in the stream to await customs and immigration formalities.

Most of her passengers were Latvians They hope to be allowed to settle in Canada.

The Sarabande left Cork, Ireland, Aug. 6. She had put into the Irish port to make repairs.

Blame Hoodlums For Wrecking Radar Station

TORONTO, Aug. 19 —(CP)— Royal Canadian Mounted Police and officers of Scarboro township today were investigating a strange raid on an experimental hut at the National Research Council's experimental radar station at Scarboro Bluffs, just east of Toronto.

The hut was broken into and left a wreck shortly before midnight Thursday night. Neither employees nor police were able to estimate accurately the damage, since many projects at the station are of a secret nature.

The experimental station is on the high bluffs overlooking Lake Ontario, on the eastern outskirts of Toronto. It was built during the Second World War and has been operated since then as a radar experimental station.

Damage Not Serious

At Ottawa, H. Ross Smyth of the National Research Council radar section, said the instruments in the experimental hut had not been damaged seriously and there was no evidence of deliberate damage. The equipment would be in operation again within a day or two.

Mr. Smyth said the hut, halfway up the Scarboro Bluffs, had apparently been entered by "kids or hoodlums" who must have made their way into it from the lake front, since other entrances were guarded.

In "playing around" the hut they had thrown some of the gear out of kilter, but the damage was slight and mainly involved the inconvenience of several days' work of putting it back in working order.

Plan Sharp Curb On Radio Shows

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19 (AP)— The Federal Communications Commission today announced sharp curbs on radio prize programs.

The commission said that, effective Oct. 1, it will invoke new rules under which it will refuse licences or renewal of licenses to broadcasters "following a policy or practice" of advertising lotteries or "offering prizes dependent in whole or in part upon lot or chance."

The action, regarded as reaching many cash and merchandise giveaway programs now on the air, grows out of an investigation in progress for more than a year.

The proposed regulation was fought vigorously by most of the radio industry, on grounds that the F.C.C. lacks authority to censor program content.

2 Embassy Employees Arrested In Bucharest

BUCHAREST, Romania, Aug. 19.—(AP).— Two employees of the Yugoslav Embassy were arrested Aug. 17 after a sharp fight with police, the newspaper Scanteia reported today.

Scanteia, the official Workers Party (Communist) paper, said the two had been throwing anti-Romanian leaflets into people's gardens.

The newspaper identified the two as Bosco Latich and Nicola Medich, employees of the press office of the Yugoslav Embassy in Bucharest.

Track Slayers To London Area

TORONTO, Aug. 19 (CP). — Investigation into the slaying of Gloria and Robert McKay two weeks ago centred around London to-day where Provincial Police question six persons.

The bodies of the young married couple were found in the Toronto area more than two weeks ago. Robert's was found in a North Toronto ravine and Gloria's in their car abandoned in a midtown parking lot. Police said the pair were shot to death while returning from a holiday on their uncle's farm north of the city.

Police said they are working on the theory that "jealousy" was the motive for the crime and are checking on acquaintances of the two victims.

A special squad of detectives assigned to the Alfred Layng slaying will confer with an east-end oculist to-morrow on the glasses worn by the killer The oculist believes he sold them to the unidentified man.

Snow? We Believe It

TIMMINS, Aug. 19—(CP)—A Timmins policeman on his beat phoned into the station at 1.15 a.m. this morning and reported that it was snowing. But weather records at the Timmins Town Hall said the lowest temperature recorded during the night was 45 degrees.

Man Holds Off 125 Policemen Till Burned Out

CHICAGO, Aug. 19 — (AP) — A barricaded (negro) man stood off 125 policemen in a three-hour gun battle Thursday night before they set fire to his home, then riddled him with bullets as he attempted to escape.

He was wanted for shooting a child.

All during the battle, the besieged man, Ernest Craig, 28, continued firing from windows with two revolvers and a rifle. Police poured hundreds of bullets and tossed about 200 tear gas bombs into the two-storey frame house before they applied the torch.

As the flames spread throughout the first floor and started into the upper storey, Craig went out a second-storey window and slid to the ground in an 18-inch passageway between his home and the neighboring house.

Police spotted him after he had reached the ground and immediately opened fire with four machine guns. At least 50 bullets hit Craig.

First Tries Fail

A first attempt to force Craig out of the building by fire failed. The officers tossed flares into the front of the building and as the blaze began to spread a detail of policemen moved into the building. They were forced back by bullets from Craig's guns. Firemen doused the blaze and more gas bombs were thrown in, but Craig stubbornly continued the fight and taunted police to "come in and get me."

Five policemen were wounded in the exchange of bullets.

The gun battle started after Craig had accidentally wounded two-year-old Drake Atkins in a wild frenzy of shooting.

Police said that Craig had hired Lawrence Mack, 17, and a neighbor to redecorate his flat. Craig accused Mack of stealing a pistol from the place while he was doing the work and the two argued in Craig's yard.

During the argument, Craig whipped out the pistols and began shooting, but Mack dodged and a bullet struck the Atkins child, playing nearby.

Slightly Misinformed

TORONTO, Aug. 19 (CP) —A sleek high-powered automobile, bearing Georgia licence plates arrived in Toronto today with two sets of skis tied on the roof. The driver was heard asking a service station attendant how far it was to Pembroke and what route he should take. He said he wanted to get there "in time for the opening of the ski season late this month."

Reds Only 170 Miles Away Battle Nears For Canton

By SPENCER MOOSA

CANTON, Aug. 19—(AP)—The battle for Canton neared today with the Communist capture of a key city 170 miles to the northeast.

The city is Tayu. It is the broad Kan River valley, which leads to Canton. Tayu's fall was announced by the defence ministry.

With Tayu gone, the road is more or less clear to Kukong, 70 miles to the west. When the Reds reach Kukong the battle for Canton itself is begun, military observers believe.

Kukong is 120 miles to the north on the railway from Canton to the Yangtze Valley and Central China.

The loss of Kukong would isolate Canton from the 200,000-man army of Gen. Pai Chung-hsi, commander of the front to the north.

The defence ministry asserted that Pai's forces had wiped out a Communist division and an artillery battalion in a battle 50 miles northwest of Hengyang.

Hengyang is Pai's base 265 miles almost due north of Canton. The ministry said most of the Red forces were killed and except for a handful the rest were captured. This might mean 10,000 men.

Underscoring the gravity of Canton's situation, the United States embassy announced it was moving to Hong Kong.

There also was bad news for the Nationalists from the far northwest of China.

A foreigner who flew out of Lanchow, stronghold of the Nationalists in that area, said that Communist troops last were reported only 20 miles away on the southeast.

Blame Fog For Crash In England

Mill Workers Hear Explosion, Try Aid Survivors

OLDHAM, Lancashire England, Aug. 19 — (CP). — A British European Airways plane crashed into a hill in thick weather to-day and killed 27 of its 32 occupants. All were believed British.

En route from Belfast, Northern Ireland, to nearby Manchester, the plane, a Dakota transport (DC-3)) was an hour out of Belfast.

The twin-engine transport approached Manchester in a thick mist It ploughed into a mountainside, exploded and burned.

Police officers at the scene said they counted 22 passengers and four crew members dead. Another passenger, a woman, died en route to hospital. About half the passengers were women.

A company official later said only 22 persons had been killed.

Two children, badly injured, were reported to be among the survivors.

The plane came down at Cew Valley in desolate country on Saddleworth Moors about five miles from Oldham and 13 miles north-east of Manchester.

The plane was approaching Manchester in bad weather at the time of the crash. A heavy mist lay over the mountain moorland, which borders on Yorkshire.

Workers at a nearby paper mill said they heard a thud and then an explosion. Several said they saw the plane break in two and burst into flames on the mountainside.

The airline headquarters in London said the twin-engined Douglas plane carried 28 passengers and a crew of four. The last radio contact was an hour after its departure, when the pilot reported he was approaching Manchester.

Ambulances, doctors and nurses were sent to the scene to aid survivors.

Four persons were killed in another crash at Baildon, near Shipley, Yorkshire, the Civil Aviation Ministry announced.

$100,000 Blaze At Paper Plant

TORONTO, Aug. 19—(CP)—A stockpile of baled paper burst into flame early today at the Robert Gair Company of Canada and destroyed 200 tons of paper, a beating shed and storage building and one acre of storage space. Loss was unofficially estimated at $100,000.

About 50 workers continued on the job in the main plant of the downtown-waterfront paper firm while roaring flames enveloped other buildings.

Firemen poured tons of water into the blazing bales of paper and fire officials said the blaze would probably continut to burn for several days. Origin of the fire was unknown.

The blaze was first spotted by workman John Pleschuk when he went to the storage building for supplies.

It was the second large fire in the Toronto district in less than 36 hours. Wednesday night a $100,000 fire destroyed more than 60 mushroom-growing sheds of the Ontario Mushroom Company in suburban North York.

Expect 3 Ministers At Washington Talks

OTTAWA, Aug. 19 (CP)—Both Finance Minister Abbott and External Affairs Minister Pearson and probably Trade Minister Howe will represent Canada at the Anglo - American - Canadian economic and financial talks in Washington next month, Prime Minister St. Laurent announced today.

He said "questions may arise which will make it desirable" that Trade Minister Howe sit in, too. Mr. Howe will be going down to Washington about that time for atomic talks.

Mr. St. Laurent said the ministerial-level talks will start Sept. 6. They arose out of the recent discussions in London about Britain's dollar crisis.

AN EIGHT-HOUR HARVEST NEAR BUCKHORN on the farm of Ralph Garbutt, 17th concession of Smith township, was a well-organized job with a ten-man crew. Completely mechanized, tractor power take-offs drove the mill and straw baler. Production was 750 bushels of wheat and about 1,000 bales of straw, already sold, from 25 acres of crop.—(Examiner Staff Photo)

Finland Nabs Red Agitators

HELSINKI, Aug. 19—(AP)—The Finnish government moved swiftly today to smash a growing Communist offensive as police nabbed Red leaders in Kemi, scene of yesterday's strike violence which left one dead and nine injured. Among those arrested was the chairman of the Kemi city council, Lahja Heikkilae, who was described as one of the leaders of Thursday's strike call. Another city council member also was reported arrested.

Reliable reports said Communists from Southern Finland were arrested at Kemi. This would indicate that red agitators from Helsinki had been operating in the town, where 1,500 striking lumberjacks exchanged fire yesterday with police.

Seek Communist State

A government spokesman has said the strike offensive is designed to make Finland into a Communist state.

Meanwhile, the strikers announced a new strike meeting tonight, in defiance of a ban by the governor of the northern province on all public gatherings, with heavy fines for any violations. A strike meeting also was called in Helsinki today.

It has been estimated that some 45,000 workers are out on strike. In some locals strike adherence is 100 per cent, but at most places anti-Communist workers are refusing to walk out.

Prime Minister Karl August Fagerholm visited President Juho Paasikivi today at the latter's summer residence at Kultaranta.

Unto Varjonen, minister without portfolio, and head of a cabinet board chosen to deal with strike threats, said the government intends to "inflict a crushing defeat on the Communists."

The plumbers began their strike today. Employers said the walkout was 100 per cent effective.

Pick BC Girl 'Miss Canada' Cobourg Entry Wins $500

TORONTO, Aug. 19—(CP)—Still trembling with excitement, Margaret Lynn Munn, Miss Canada of 1949, planned a singing career today on a $3,000 scholarship. The tall, willowy North Vancouver blonde won the title, the singing lessons, a $1,000 diamond ring and a hatful of other gifts Thursday night as she was crowned by Betty Jean Ferguson of Halifax, 1948 winner.

The pageant was a promotional flop but no one could prove it by Lynn as she sat on the throne held her mother's hand and blinked at flashlights and reporter's questions. She trembled so, the donor stabbed three times before he got the diamond ring on the second finger of her right hand.

Less than 1,000 persons, mostly relatives, attended the pageant in Maple Leaf Gardens. Billed for two nights, it was cut to one when the Toronto public stayed away in droves. The contest has been staged successfully in Hamilton in the two other years it has been held.

Runner-up was Joan Durrell, 20-year-old Toronto blonde, and third was a Toronto redhead, 22-year-old Arlene Markell. They won $2,000 and $1,000 scholarships.

Win $500 Prizes

Seven other girls who were not placed in order, won $500 scholarships. They are: Elizabeth Lyons and Dorothy Van Sickler of Toronto; Betty Brown, Mimico, Ont.; Gloria Gray, Winnipeg; Bette Catherine Kane, Halifax; Laureen Mae Marcenko, Ottawa; and Joan McPherson, Vancouver.

Margaret Bradford, Cobourg, also won $500 for her singing.

Between flashlight bursts Miss Munn told reporters she has lived in Toronto two years, is a secretary in a brokers' office here and is "just thrilled to death."

She is five feet, six inches tall, weighs 123 pounds and three important measurements — bust, waist and hips—are 35, 25 and 34. She has perfect teeth and dark-ish blonde hair.

"The chance to continue my singing studies is what I've always dreamed of," she said. "I'll lose no time leaving the typewriter and getting at it. I hope some day to be a concert star."

British Flier Home After Year

PRESTWICK, Scotland, Aug. 19.—(AP).— Mrs. Richarda Morrow-Tait, British round-the-world flier, returned today to Britain, which she left just a year and a day ago.

Mrs. Morrow-Tait's single-engine plane landed at Prestwick airport from Iceland at 10.05 a.m. (EDT).

In Cambridge, Norman Morrow-Tait, her husband, said earlier he had no direct word from his wife, but understood she had taken off from Iceland on the last over-water leg of her perilous journey.

After refueling her light plane here, Mrs. Morrow-Tait is expected to fly on to London's Croydon airport to end the first single-engine round-the-world flight by a woman at the point where she started it.

Plane Falls In Bay 35 Soldiers Escape

STEPHENVILLE, Nfld., Aug. 19—(CP)—Thirty-five American servicemen escaped drowning Thursday night when their transport plane plunged into St. George's Bay, near the U.S. base at Harmon Field on the west coast of Newfoundland.

The plane was en route from the Azores to Westover Field, Mass. It was to refuel at Harmon Field.

The plane ditched in the bay and the men scrambled into dinghies and onto rafts to reach shore. No one is reported missing.

Escape Fiery Kennel

TORONTO, Aug. 19.— (CP).— Forty holidaying hounds escaped without a singed hair yesterday when fire of undetermined origin razed kennels owned by James Parker of Toronto.

Firemen credited Mrs. Parker with preventing panic among the canines. They said, on seeing flames she ran to the building, released the dogs into the yard and carried out in her arms four pups cowering in a corner.

Thirty of the dogs were vacationing at the kennel while their owners are away on holiday.

One Million Tourists Set Record For Quebec City

QUEBEC, Aug. 19 — (CP). — An all-time record of 1,000,000 tourists will have visited this old walled city before the end of October, preliminary estimates of the tourist season indicated today.

But the days of the splurging tourist of early post-war years are over.

Merchants, tourist guides and caleche drivers report this year's tourist spends his dollars cautiously. They have the same old-Quebec flavor to sell, the same tangy "Habitant" food, the same handicrafts, but now the customers ask for prices before making up their minds about visiting a historic site, buying a hooked rug or picking a place to eat

Early estimates placed the increase in the number of tourists at 13 per cent over last year.

Louis Pare, director of the municipal tourist office, said that more precise figures for the city would not be released before late autumn.

Asked for comments on remarks from persons in touch with the tourist trade who report slower business this year, Mr. Pare said tourists have found it cheaper to live in cabins outside the city limits than in hotels.

He admitted there were reports of "less spending than last year."

But he added: "The tourist who spends the most money in Quebec is the man who travels in September and October."

Scott Reports 103 Fires In Ontario

24 Blazes Handled Around Timiskaming 5 More In Trent Area

By The Canadian Press

Eleven new fires occurring the past 24 hours across Ontario have raised the total number now being fought to 103, Lands Minister Harold Scott announced today.

The Timiskaming district, where 24 fires are being handled, is the focal point. Within the past 24 hours the Timiskaming district suppression staff extinguished seven fires in their incipient stage in addition to controlling the other 24 from spreading to serious proportions. The most serious of the 24 fires in that district is a 60-acre fire in the township of Lee which started close to a logging operation being conducted by Woollings Brothers. This company have their logging crew and bulldozers now working to keep the fire from spreading through their operation.

Advance weather forecasts received today indicate no rain is in sight for Northern Ontario and the fire hazard will continue to increase daily in that area.

Fires now being fought in the Sioux Lookout, Kenora, Port Arthur, Cochrane, Sault Ste. Marie, Chapleau, Gogama, Timiskaming, Sudbury, North Bay, Parry Sound, Algonquin, Trent and Quinte districts.

Five new fires occurred in the Trent district yesterday afternoon attributed to lightning. The most serious of the five is in Lutterworth township where 60 men are engaged in controlling a 50 acre blaze in young second growth forest.

Find No Market Dump Peaches

CEDAR SPRINGS, Ont., Aug. 19—(CP)—Peach growers in this southwestern Ontario fruit belt said they were dumping bushels of spoiled peaches due to lack of market for the fruit.

One grower said he carted more than 25 bushels of over-ripe peaches to a bush behind his orchard, while another estimated that he had thrown "about 30 bushels onto a nearby dump."

V. G. McGuigan, owner of a 75-acre peach orchard, said: "Peaches ripened two weeks earlier this season because of the extremely hot weather, and since more housewives don't start their canning until the end of August, the peaches we have already picked are spoiling."

McGuigan estimated that he still has about 55,000 baskets of peaches on trees and said that unless their is a decided increase in the demand for them, "they will be allowed to rot right where they are."

Andrew McLatchie, who operates a small orchard, said that he had put peaches on sale at his roadside stand Sunday for 85 cents an 11-quart basket. He failed to sell even one lot.

Ex-King Carol Weds In Religious Ceremony

LISBON, Portugal, Aug. 19.—(AP) —Former King Carl of Romania and Mme. Elena Lupescue were married in a religious ceremony Thursday night at the former monarch's Estorial residence. Carol is 55. Mme. Lupescue has never disclosed when she born.

Rev. Hartinian Ivinovitch, head of the Romaniak (Greek Orthodox) church in Paris, came here to officiate at the ecremony. Lupescue wore a grey gown for the ceremony.

Urdalanu said it was impossible to hold the ceremony before because no Romanian church representative was in Portugal. He said special arrangements had been made to bring Ivinovitch from Paris

Carol and Elena, whose romance flourished more than two decades despite family objections and political upheavals, were married in Rio de Janeiro in an "extremis" civil ceremony in July, 1947, when Elena was believed near death.

Arms Aid Cut In Half By Congress

Truman Forces Get Bad Beating, Can't Salvage Plan

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19—(AP)—Battered by the House of Representatives, the administration's arms-aid program for foreign countries looked today to the Senate for gentler treatment.

The program was slashed and hedged in with restrictions before the house passed it Thursday night by a vote of 238 to 122.

It marked a bad beating for President Truman's congressional forces.

Despite their entreaties, a 50 per cent. cut was imposed on the $1,160,990,000 earmarked to help Western European countries resist possible Russian aggression. Congress could decide to appropriate the rest of the funds next year.

On top of that, the house decreed that at least half of the supplies sent abroad must be carried by ships flying the United States flag. The lawmakers also tightened up a prohibition against using United States troops for other than non-combatant duty in connection with the program.

Other Moves

But the house granted the full $211,370,000 the president wanted for aid to Greece and Turkey, and the $27,840,000 asked for Iran, Korea and the Phillipines and it beat back amendments to:

(1) Add $100,000,000 for China and other southeastern Asia areas; (2) charge the Western European allotment against the current United States military appropriation; (3) withold founds from Britain as long as Ireland remains partitioned; (4) ban the use of United States troops for any purpose under the program; and (5) require the president to channel production into areas suffering from acute unemployment problems.

The bill's house managers said privately they doubt if they can salvage the Western European cut in the Senate, although they hope they may get part of it restored.

There have been demands from Senators for cuts.

Dollar Buying Hard To Stop

LONDON, Aug. 19—(Reuters)—Difficulties in carrying out the 25-per-cent cut in Britain's dollar import program were believed here Thursday to be partly responsible for the £100,000,000 ($400,000,000) drop unofficially predicted in the sterling area's gold and dollar reserves this quarter.

This forecast was generally accepted in unofficial London financial quarters as accurate.

Many of the cuts, it was pointed out, will apparently not begin to operate until next month with their full effect delayed until the end of the year. Other cuts—notably that contemplated in the purchase of aluminum from Canada—are proving difficult to operate without incurring an accusation of breach of contract.

An even bigger factor forecast by British business men is a continued hold off of United States purchases of sterling-area goods in the belief that sterling devaluation must happen soon.

Ku Klux Klan Leader Green Dies

Board of Directors Will Appoint New Head For Outfit

ATLANTA, Ga., Aug. 19.—(AP).—A heart attack Thursday night killed Imperial Wizard Samuel Green, the financial ruler of the Ku Klux Klan.

There was no doubt, however, that the Klan would carry on though minus the energetic leadership of the thin, 59-year-old physician with the Hitler-like mustache.

A leading Ku Kluxer here said the board of directors probably would meet next week to name a successor to the rasp-voiced little man who breathed a spirit of resurgency into the "invisible empire."

Though Green had been a Klansman for 31 years, his family asked that the fact be omitted from his obituary.

At the time of his death, Green's passion for preaching "white supremacy" had made him a target for aroused newspaper editors and public officials.

Power Feared

They feared the Klan might ride to power again on prejudice, as it did in the decade of the 1920's, and become once more a powerful political factor in the south.

Angrily and bitterly, Green said he was being "persecuted."

As a pattern of violence spread over the south in which masked men figured in cross burnings, beating and threats, Green relied more and more upon a stock denial.

All these acts he ascribed without fail to "bolshevik" groups over which he had no control.

He promised that any Klansman found guilty of violating the law would be banished. To offset growing public indignation, he ordered the Klan disbanded just 10 days prior to his death.

The blow that hurt Green the most, however, was the declaration by Attorney-General Tom Clark that the Klan was subversive.

Green had always maintained that part of the Klan oath was to uphold the constitution.

Pavers Puncture Pipes Utilities Bills Council

Ten gas services were broken in paving operations on Park Hill Road, Monaghan Road and Sherbrooke Street. R. L. Dobbin, manager, informed the Utilities Commission, Thursday, that they were repaired.

Attitude of the Commission was that the repair bill should be paid by the city council who were responsible for the paving job. They felt that they took a lenient view of such matters, but this should be an exception. The account is being sent to the council.

Cattle On Highway Burleigh Farmer Freed

A charge of allowing six head of cattle to run loose on the highway five miles north of Burleigh Falls July 28 was dismissed today by Magistrate R. B. Baxter, Port Hope, in police court.

Booth, a farmer of Burleigh township, told the court the cattle had broken out and he didn't know about it until informed by Provincial Constable B. Howden of the Apsley detachment.

He said he later found that a tree had fallen over and broken strands of a barbed wire fence which enclosed the field. He said the cattle had escaped through this break.

Break-in Made Into Prince of Wales School

A break-in Wednesday night at the Prince of Wales School, at the corner of Monaghan Rd. and Sherbrooke St., netted the thieves nothing as far as caretaker J. E. Morrison could discover.

The entry was discovered by Tom Rowan, 154 London St., and Joseph Gibbs, 220½ Edinburgh St. when they arrived to work in the school about 7:05 a.m.

When they unlocked the door and opened it, it fell part way out. The hinge pins had been removed. The thieves had entered and put the door back. Footprints on the floor of the manual training department which had been washed the previous night, showed the thieves had actually got in.

Prices Climb Narrowly On Toronto Exchange

TORONTO, Aug. 19 (CP) — Prices moved narrowly higher in moderately active dealings here today. Most of the steam in Thursday's rise in golds and industrials was worn off. A few issues gained fractions in quiet dealings in these lists. Base metals steadied from recent declines and western oils were on the downside.

Golds continue to trade at the highest price level since December 1947 as junior producers chalked up gains ranging up to about five cents. Seniors weakened. A few smaller issues were comparatively active.

Industrials were slightly weaker in early dealings but realizing sales were well absorbed and key issues resumed their advance. Union Gas featured a higher utilities list, touching a new high at 14½. Papers and steels weakened while foods and textiles were higher.

Consolidated Smelters rose fractionally to pace a slightly firmer base metals list.

Anglo-Canadian and Royalite dipped in western oils.

Provincial Constable R. A. Feeley told the court that while off duty he had seen McNaughton driving in a very erratic manner east along Parkhill Road east of water, He said McNaughton had nearly forced two cars into the cement railing of Inverlea Bridge and had almost run down Constable Feeley when he tried to wave him to stop.

The constable said McNaughton was intoxicated. McNaughton admitted a previous conviction for drunk driving six years ago.

Says Arms Aid Threat To Peace

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19. — (AP).— Henry A. Wallace said today that passage of an arms-aid program would "undermine the economy and military security of both the United States and Europe."

What's more, he said, the statements in support of the program by President Truman, State Secretary Dean Acheson and the country's military leaders "are the statements of men who are either intent on provoking war or are so afraid their case is weak they must incite passion to support it."

The Progressive party's 1948 candidate for president was a witness before the combined foreign relations and armed services committees of the senate.

He reiterated, in his prepared statement, his belief that Russia does not want war, and declared that the Administration program to arm this country's Allies is part of a policy which has failed wherever it has been tried—in Greece, in Turkey and in China.

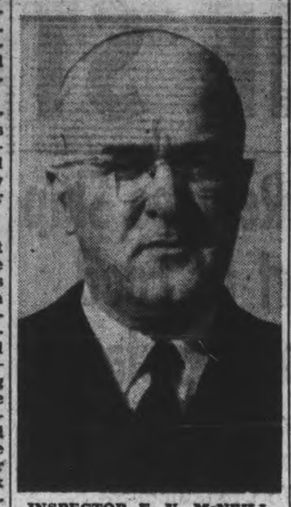
Inspector E. V. McNeill Promoted To Headquarters

Inspector Edwin V. McNeill, who has been in charge of No. 8 District Headquarters of the Ontario Provincial Police at Peterborough since it was formed about a year and a half ago, has been promoted to the post of staff inspector of the force at Toronto headquarters, according to an announcement made today by Commissioner William Stringer. Inspector Thomas Wilkinson, head of the Sudbury District, has received a like promotion.

Inspector McNeill told the Examiner that he did not know as yet the exact date of his departure for Toronto, but that it would take place within the next few weeks. Name of his successor here was not announced.

First Inspectorship



Inspector McNeill's present post was his first inspectorship, he having been promoted to this rank from that of sergeant on his transfer here from No. 6 District, headquarters at Mount Forest. He was second in command of that detachment before moving to Peterborough. Increasing demands upon the services of the force rendered desirable the creatinn of a number of new and smaller districts to promote greater efficiency. To Inspector McNeill was delegated the task of organizing the new No. 8 District, which comprises the counties of Peterborough, Durham, Northumberland, Victoria and Haliburton.

Inspector McNeill has been a member of the Provincial Police for the past 22 years, previous to which time he had been on the staff of the Kitchener city police. Prior to 1926 he was in the employ of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co., Ltd. He is a native of Bruce county.

The new staff inspector is a veteran of the First Great War, going overseas with 18th. Battalion of the Second Canadian Division.

Inspector McNeill served with the Mount Forest detachment,

INSPECTOR E. V. McNEILL

OPP, for one year previous to which time he was with the force for 19 years in the Ottawa Valley, at Ottawa, Renfrew, and Pembroke.

One waggish woman was evidently intrigued by the rhythmic swaying of the kilts and a Millbrook reporter heard her say to her companion: "Well, the men certainly wear the skirts much better than the women wear the pants."

Mother Admits Strangling Baby

CHICAGO, Aug. 19.—(AP). — Police captain John Enright said early today a young mother had admitted strangling her six-day-old daughter.

Enright quoted the woman, Mrs. Dorothy Skeoch, 22, as saying, "I killed her."

The child, Susan, was found dead by police, summoned to the home by her mother. She first told officers that an (negro) intruder had slain the baby.

Detective William Hennessey said he found the child in bed with a plastic diaper twisted tightly around her neck. He said the woman then told him that a (negro) man had walked into their southside apartment Thursday night and demanded money from her with the threat that "if you haven't any money, I'll get the baby."

Hennessey said the woman told him that she was in the kitchen when the man entered through the kitchen door and grabbed her. She fainted and when she recovered consciousness, she added called her neighbor, Mrs. Viola Benkus, 24. Then, she related, they found the baby's body.

The child's father, Thomas, 21, is an unemployed dock worker. He was away from home at the time.

Hydro Curbs To Be Modest

TORONTO, Aug. 19—(CP) — It would appear at the moment that any restrictions on the use of Hydro this fall and winter will be very modest, Hydro Chairman Robert Saunders said Thursday. He made the statement when discussing the situation with Premier Frost at a press conference.

The Premier said the province is facing its last hurdle in respect to power. By this time next year, there should be new projects in operation that will afford Hydro considerable relief in meeting the mounting demands for power, he said.

Mr. Saunders qualified his prediction by emphasizing that much depends on whether there is normal rainfall in September, October and November, particularly the latter two months.

The critical period starts Sept. 15 and no restrictions are contemplated until the last two weeks of that month. If by chance there is normal rainfall up to and after that date, restrictions may be postponed to a later time.

Michigan Man Faces 2 Counts

Charges of careless driving and failing to remain at the scene of an accident were laid against Sidney Maunders, of Flint, Michigan, as a result of an accident in which a hydro pole at the north end of George St., where it meets Hilliard St., was broken off Thursday night about 6:20 p.m.

The car had been involved in a previous accident a short time before when it was reported Maunders' companion, Mrs. Lavinia Swan, was driving. The pair were brought to the police station about 9 p.m. on a tip received that the car had stopped at a north-end garage.

Mr. and Mrs. William Freeman, 126 Hilliard St., were eye-witnesses to the pole-snapping incident. They told police that as they were walking down Hilliard St. they saw a car driving fast, north on George St. When it came to the end of the street, it swung left onto Hilliard St., hitting a post on the northwest corner. The car then swerved back across the road hitting a high bank there and bounced back on the road and continued up Hilliard St., and disappeared over a hill.

Police found several pieces of grill and part of the bumper at the scene of the accident and later a piece of the grill on the back seat of the car covered with a coat. Empty and full beer bottles were also found in the car.

Hymie Smith, 348 Murray St., reported to police early, about 5:45 p.m. his car had been struck at the corner of of George and Simcoe Sts., by a car going south on George St., which failed to stop for a stop light. The collision banged in the right rear fender of the Smith car.

Truck Driver Acquitted Of Wild Driving

CAMPBELLFORD, Aug. 19.—(ENS) — A charge of careless driving against Donald Glenn of Campbellford was dismissed by Magistrate R. B. Baxter in police court here Thursday.

Provincial Constable A. Kellogg of Hastings testified that on June 24 he was called to the scene of an accident ½ mile south of Hastings on the county road. He further stated that he saw a truck lying on its side in the right ditch and two men standing a few feet from the cab. One man had received an injured shoulder and he rushed him to Dr. Baker's office, Campbellford. He said that Glenn had admitted he was the driver of the truck.

Intoxicated, Claim

"By his actions and conversation I would say he was intoxicated," the constable said in answer to a question by Crown Attorney Harry Deyman, KC, of Cobourg.

Cross-examined by W. B. Gerdon of Peterborough, Constable Kellogg stated that he would not suggest that Glenn was travelling at high speed. "I blame the cause of the accident on Glenn's condition," the witness said.

The accused testified that the truck was in perfect condition before the accident. "I had consumed two or three pints of beer," he said, "but I was not intoxicated. When I pulled to the right in meeting a car the truck went into the ditch. It must have been a mechanical defect that prevented me from pulling the vehicle back on the road," he stated.

Glenn further testified that he had received a broken collarbone and that he had been dazed. "After the truck toppled over," he said, "I turned off the ignition."

Not Negligent

The defence lawyer argued that cause of the accident was lack of good judgment on the part of the accused and not negligence. He further claimed that switching off the ignition wasn't the action of a drunken man.

The Crown maintained that the truck had been ditched on account of the beer that the accused had consumed.

"I give the accused the benefit of the doubt," said the magistrate in dismissing the case.

Report Apple Crop Shows An Increase

TORONTO, Aug. 19 (CP)—The statistics branch of the Ontario Agriculture Department reported Thursday that the estimated crop of apples for Ontario this year is 986,200 barrels, an increase of 26 per cent over the 779,986 barrels harvested last year. This is well above the five-year average of 689,743 barrels up to 1947.

Grapes will be down about 10 per cent but peaches are expected to be 15 per cent higher. Peach crop is estimated at 1,164,000 bushels as against 1,030,320 in 1948.

Plums, with an estimated 317,000 bushels will show an increase of 7.4 per cent over last year.

Rain Improves Forest Fires

By The Canadian Press.

Rain has eased the forest fire situation in Timiskaming, where the greatest concentration of Ontario bush fires is reported. Elsewhere, firefighters are making progress in their battle.

Quebec Forest Protection Service said Thursday that travel restrictions in Northwestern Quebec are precautionary and so far there is "nothing alarming" in the situation in Rouyn-Noranda and Quebec's Timiskaming areas.

Ontario officials reported 92 fires throughout the north, including 22 in Timiskaming. A travel ban has also been imposed in this district. Only three of the Timiskaming blazes are of any size, burning over old slash left from previous timber operations.

About 350 men are fighting the Ontario Timiskaming outbreaks and so far no valuable timber has been lost.

Eight other fires are under way in the Sudbury area while others are scattered over a wide expanse of Ontario.

Mrs. Mervyn Porteous gave a paper entitled "Go Ye Into All the World and Preach the Gospel to Every Nation," also reading excerpts from a letter received from a friend Miss Alice Gleason, a missionary in India, depicting the horrors of the witch doctors and personal experiences of the trials they encounter in their work.

Mrs. Clarence Rowan gave a talk on Christian Stewardship and tithing as it was practised in Old Testament times.

The Redemption of Little Lake

Two pipe lines have been laid across Little Lake to service Ashburnham. They will serve two major purposes when connected and when their use has begun. One will take sewage from East City which has heretofore been dumped almost raw into Little Lake; the other, a water main, will give increased water and water-pressure to residences and the two large factories there. Both pipes are boons to Ashburnham and thus to the city, but the sewer is specially beneficial to the entire community. Its most immediate effect will be to reduce pollution in Little Lake.

* * *

Our lake, really a bend and widening of the river Otonabee, is potentially our most beautiful and convenient asset. It lies now in the very centre of the city. Already it has a park at the George St. side; across are the shrubs and trees of the cemetery, itself very park-like, and a vista of trees and countryside to the east. It is impractical to set a monetary value on Little Lake, but to say that in fifty years it could be our most valuable and unique asset is no exaggeration.

* * *

The second major step towards the rehabilitation of the lake has now been made. (The first was the reclamation of the banks during the depression years by stone buttressing and the virtually imperceptible and costless development of St. Charles Point as a park.) We need not wait fifty years to see Little Lake as a beauty spot and gracious recreation area. With the large reduction of pollution through the new sewer, its waters will become in short order relatively pure, its air relatively sweet, and its verges relatively clean.

Canadian Labour's Strength

Trade union membership in Canada has reached almost a million. Ten years ago only 359,000 Canadian workers belonged to unions. This remarkable expansion of 250 per cent in a decade is partly the result of the increased industrialization in Canada and of the greater number of workers employed. Mainly however it results from the organizing enterprise of the unions and their leadership, and the desire of labour to have a stronger and more integrated share in directing its own destiny.

The growth of trade unionism in Canada is on the whole a good thing for the country. Craft guilds and the individual bartering of labour service were sufficient a hundred years ago when most workers were craftsmen and their own bosses or laboured in small shops where the owner was a personal acquaintance if not a fellow-worker. Today industry is so highly organized and complex that labour must likewise be highly organized if the complexities of the mechanical age are not to make slaves of the men who run the machines.

Organized labour in Canada has primarily been concerned with wages and working conditions, but as it goes beyond its formative years and increases numerically, its outlook is broadening and its sense of responsibility to the nation as a whole is deepening. This paper, while viewing union activities with a generally favourable eye, has been critical of the narrow range of union interests. We have pointed out that unionism in Canada has too often concerned itself solely with bargaining over pay, and been apparently indifferent to the members' social, cultural and civic lot. That is changing. Of recent years labour has been outspoken in national affairs, economic conditions, housing, education, immigration and racial tolerance. It has yet to take a significant leadership in cultural matters, although the way is being prepared through educational courses which labour organizations sponsor.

The Ottawa Citizen, commenting that labour's new place in Canadian life was clearly shown when it forced Premier Duplessis to withdraw the repressive labour code he had intended to make the law in Quebec, says:

"It is in large part due to unionism's new strength that industrial harmony, output and employment are at an all-time peak in Canada today. For democratically-negotiated contracts reduce labour-management friction, improve the morale of workers, minimize production stoppages and in general improve the efficiency of Canada's great industrial machine. No fewer than 600 Union-Management Production Committees, representing nearly 300,000 workers, are functioning in Canada today —to the benefit of the public as well as of the employees and employers directly concerned.

Canada is becoming an industrial nation and unionists its most numerous citizen group. It is therefore right and necessary that labour should have a voice and make itself heard.

Peterborough Average Income $3,985

As reported in our news columns the other day, the average annual family income in the city of Peterborough is $3,985. This figure was found by a New York sales management firm making a statistical survey of American and Canadian cities which have populations above 10,000. Many Peterborough folk read the news account incredulously. All bosh, they said. Fancy the average person in Peterborough making almost $4,000! What does an American firm know about our wages and salaries? We know from our own pay envelopes that such a figure is ridiculous.

The American firm is more likely to be right than wrong, and it should be noticed that the $3,985 figure is for an average family income. In many families there is more than one wage earner, and there are some families in the city where income is derived both from earnings and from capital invested.

The survey shows Peterborough to be a relatively prosperous place. Our average family annual income is $154 more than the Ontario average, $340 greater than the Canadian average. Retail sales in Peterborough last year totalled $30,675,000, a gain of $7,553,000 on 1947 sales Last year Peterborough did .4168 per cent. of the retail business of Canada although it has only .2684 per cent. of Canada's population.

These figures lead us to believe that Peterborough is as prosperous as it looks—perhaps even more so. They should give us courage to face with confidence the necessary expenditures in which the city is now involved—the half-million dollars to enlarge the sewage disposal plant and clear up Little Lake, the several millions for the new Civic Hospital, and the cost of buying the land for the new City Hall.

Blueberries and Huckleberries

There is more trouble in naming than in consuming the blue and purple berries growing so profusely this season in granite scrub areas from Georgian Bay to the Atlantic seaboard. In this county most people called them huckleberries, and many tend to think of blueberries as some species of raspberry; eastward of us the common name is blueberry. Perhaps the people there do not know the jingle about huckle buckle berry pie.

Botanically, blueberries and huckleberries are two species of the same subfamily—Vaccinoideae, and blueberries are classed under the genus Vaccinium, huckleberries under the genus Gaylussacia. The lay picker and muncher may be allowed this differentiation: blueberries are blue and powdery in appearance, huckleberries, almost black and with shiny skins.

It is interesting that blueberries or huckleberries are particular about the rocks they grow on. They are found wild only in granite areas and acid soils, chiefly of igneous origin. They spurn limestone. Thus it happens that in the Kawartha Lakes district one area will be covered with them, another place ten miles distant, though equally rocky or scrubby, will have none.

Huckleberry picking in these parts is usually a pastime for adults or pocket money for children. In New Brunswick, there is an equally casual attitude to them. For instance, the chief highway from St. John to the U.S.A. through St. Andrews is bordered by huckleberry bushes, and the motorist need hardly step out of his car in order to gather them by the handful. But in Maine, in the so-called "Desert of Maine" the situation is different. Here families and firms lease concessions, and blueberry picking has become an industry. The area is sprayed against blight, the berry pickers use mechanical picking devices, and the University of Maine has an experimental, scientific station in the area to study and improve blueberry culture. In New Brunswick a road-side sign advertises blueberries, hand-picked, at twenty cents a quart. Across the border the price is double, the berries are cropped mechanically, and no motorist wanders freely over the heath to munch the fruit of his own picking.

The blueberry or huckleberry—call it what you will—is luscious proof of the fecundity of nature, for in the land men reject it flourishes. It shows that when our first forefather was driven out of the Garden of Eden, his Creator still had thought for him, even though he might have wandered to the barren places of the earth and the regions of the cold north.

SUSAN STRANGE WIRES FROM STRASBOURG

Cranks On The Warpath

The Lighter Side of the Council of Europe

(By Arrangement with The London Observer)

"THIS place is like a flypaper—it seems to have brought everybody to Strasbourg", someone remarked, looking over the entrance hall of the Council Of Europe's Assembly. "I keep running into the oddest people I know—from Paris, London, Lake Success, all over the world."

Certainly Strasbourg seems to have been overrun in the last week by all sorts and conditions of men and women. Although everyone admits readily enough that the Council of Europe is very little more, so far, than a "talking shop" it doesn't seem to have discouraged all the people with pet schemes and brand new solutions for all the oldest problems besetting this divided continent from coming here to air them.

✧ ✧ ✧

DOWN in the town, under the watchful eyes of the French police—who by now know him well—Mr. Garry Davies, World Citizen No. 1, has started a hunger strike because not one of the delegates even bothered to acknowledge his open letter to the Council of Europe. Somewhere else in one of the hotels there is an importunate little group of envoys from the Sudan. Discouraged, perhaps, by their reception in the United Nations they have come to the Council of Europe to ask delegates to try and restrain the imperialist instincts of their Governments.

The secretariat of the Council—which has housed itself in the imposing Palais Du Rhin, once the personal property of the German emperor—is besieged with a truly astonishing variety of appeals. One of the most recent came from an organization in Luxemburg dedicated to the popularization—against Catholic principles—of cremation. "A new charter of Europe", it declared bravely, "must include a clause guaranteeing to every European the right to deal with his own corpse as he thinks fit.... Your corpse is yours."

At the other extreme, the Secretariat received a violent protest by an ultramontane Catholic from Milan who thought that the "wealth of pagan idols, the classical busts, the famous Gobelins tapestries and so forth—which decorated the town hall of Strasbourg where the Ministers have been meeting—should all be banished and replaced by simple crucifixes."

✧ ✧ ✧

COMMUNISTS, of course, are not to be left out of this general gathering of the clans. Their rival demonstrations to the European Union meeting on Friday tried rather unsuccessfully to act as a counter-attraction to Mr. Churchill who is followed everywhere by enthusiastic crowds. Playing on the anti-German feelings of many Alsatians, the Communists have tried to make out that Mr. Churchill's main aim at the Council of Europe is to bring "the Germany of Krupps" into the warmongering Western Union.

In point of fact, the local Communists have been singularly unsuccessful until now in discrediting the Council of Europe, so scornfully regarded by Moscow. Before the Council met, they did manage to plant the idea in the heads of some of the more innocent and gullible of the professors of the University here that the Council of Europe would make Strasbourg an international city. The university, they told them, would also of course be internationalized — a fate hardly better than going back to the rule of Hitler and Goebbels.

✧ ✧ ✧

WITH their pride as loyal Frenchmen well aroused, the professors got ready to object to the use of their university as the Westminster of the Parliament of Europe. Unfortunately for the Communists, M. Schuman who comes himself from Lorraine and is even more respected in Alsace, arrived almost at once in Strasbourg and ticked off the professors for their irresponsibility, roundly denouncing the whole rumour as the work of agents provocateurs. Since then, the Communists have made little trouble—and in fact have been quite swamped by the ubiquitous activities of the European movement here—a strong local branch of which is responsible for the green and white "E" flag hanging from almost every window in the town.

✧ ✧ ✧

IN spite of all this—the flags, the cocktail parties, the coming and going of "les excellences"—Strasbourg is taking its new role as Capital of Europe stolidly enough. The average Strasbourgian takes the prosaic but sensible view that the whole thing is very good for business and that it is, therefore, only good salesmanship not to offend all these numerous foreigners.

Neither the Rhine nor the Ill have yet been set on fire by the Council of Europe. In fact, the five hundred or so seats set apart for the public in the Assembly hall have never yet been filled to overflowing. There is little of the resentment which some New Yorkers felt about the invasion of the United Nations—but all the same, the day's work has still to be done, for all the parliaments of Europe. The frontier city which in its long life has seen so much—it has cheered Rouget re Lisle at the birth of the Marseillaise, and has watched the Nazi tanks roll through its streets—is prepared only, like many wise Europeans, to wait and see, hoping all the time for the best.

The Shy Male

(Hamilton Spectator)

Men are shy creatures when it comes to shorts for themselves. Many of them refuse to believe that more than a few males will ever have the poise, aplomb, or call it what you will, to wear shorts in their daily workaday and social world. These doubters, though, should reflect and weigh the accumulating evidence. Already there are brave, self-possessed pioneers who are wearing shorts about their homes, in their gardens and while driving. How cool and sensible these progressive fellows look, too! A shout of approbation and a badge of merit to them.

TODAY'S NEWSNAME

Little King Abdullah

By GEORGE HUTCHINSON

(By Arrangement With the London Observer)

(Editor's Note: King Abdullah of Jordan arrived in London by air from Amman yesterday. He is expected to be in London for a fortnight or three weeks, perhaps longer. For the first ten days he will be the guest of the British Government.)

IF King Abdullah's character has been misunderstood in the west, "The Seven Pillars of Wisdom" is largely responsible for it. T. E. Lawrence was not in sympathy with Abdullah. Yet even Lawrence, whose intolerance was the product of his own egocentricity, admitted certain virtues in Abdullah. He thought him "pettish" and jealous of his brother Feisal; he decried his playfulness, and recorded, waspishly that Abdullah "had learned by rote the courts and ministries of Europe". But the Emir was, he conceded, imperturbable and adventurous, exceptionally well-read, interested in history, a serious student of European politics.

King Abdullah's exact age is unknown, even to himself, but he is thought, by his intimates, to be 67. He is head of what is probably the oldest dynasty in the world, the Hashmites of Arabia, hereditary Emirs of Mecca for more than a thousand years. His father was Emir Hussein of Mecca who became King of Hejaz during the first world war. But Hejaz was a short-lived Kingdom; Ibn Saud seized it in 1924.

During the previous year, Abdullah had become Emir of Transjordan, which Winston Churchill, then Colonial Secretary, had been instrumental in carving out of the mandated territory of Palestine. In May, 1946, Abdullah was proclaimed King of Transjordan. In May 1948 his efficient Arab Legion (financed by Britain at an annual cost of over £2,500,000) invaded Palestine. And in May, 1949, Abdullah—because he was now in control of a ribbon of Palestinian towns extending from Jenin southward to Hebron — amended his title. He proclaimed himself ruler of the Hashemite Kingdom of the Jordan. He was no longer "across" the Jordan; he was astride it. That is why he has flown to London. He wishes to regularize his newly-enhanced authority. He seeks Britain's—and the world's—support for a permanently enlarged Kingdom.

In London, King Abdullah will negotiate with the aid of interpreters. He understands English, but never speaks it. Arabic and Turkish are his usual languages. Of each he is a recognized master, in each he is a poet of acclaimed distinction. He can recite the Koran from memory, and it is the Koran which soothes him when he is angry. He is quick-tempered, but he is loved by those who serve him because he is forgiving, and because he is generous and accessible. No subject of Abdullah's ever hesitates to approach him personally with a legitimate grievance; his court may be feudal by European standards, but it is paternal.

The little King is a great exponent of chess, and is addicted to rifle-shooting. He shoots at an army range near his palace at Amman, and in the hills that encircle his capital. When he was younger, he rode his horse daily in the desert. His rides are fewer now, and shorter, but he still enjoys them in Amman and at his winter estate at Shuma, in the Jordan Valley.

Welcome Discovery

(London Free Press)

Those residents of Western Ontario who depend on natural gas for fuel will share the satisfaction of the Imperial Oil at the discovery of a valuable well in Lambton County. Inflated wartime demand for fuel put a tremendous strain on our natural gas resources and on two occasions the situation was extremely serious.

If the new well at Kimballs lives up to its early promise it should ease the situation somewhat and act as a sort of insurance. If it is the first in a series of new wells the picture will be even brighter.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

And Jethro, Moses' father in law, came with his sons and his wife unto Moses into the wilderness, where he encamped at the mount of God.... And Jethro rejoiced for all the goodness which the Lord had done to Israel, whom he had delivered out of the hand of the Egyptians.... And it came to pass on the morrow, that Moses sat to judge the people: and the people stood by Moses from the morning unto the evening.

And when Moses' father in law saw all that he did to the people, he said, What is this thing that thou doest to the people? why sittest thou thyself alone, and all the people stand by thee from morning unto even? And Moses said unto his father in law, Because the people come unto me to enquire of God: when they have a matter, they come unto me; and I judge between one and another, and I do make them know the statutes of God, and his laws. (Ex. 18: 5, 9, 13-16.)

✧ ✧ ✧

Blessed is the man that walketh not in the counsel of the ungody, nor standeth in the way of sinners, nor sitteth in the seat of the scornful. But his delight is in the law of the Lord; and in his law doth he meditate day and night.

And he shall be like a tree planted by the rivers of water, that bringeth forth his fruit in his season; his leaf also shall not wither; and whatsoever he doeth shall prosper. (Ps. 1: 1-3.)

'Don't Let's Be Beastly'

(Christian Science Monitor)

United States airmen in Britain have adopted a voluntary good conduct code with the theme: "Don't Let's Be Beastly to the British."

The good humour and good sense of the code range from a warning not to gripe over the size of food portions to a reminder that you can't judge a people by its small fringe of shady characters and black marketeers. Remember, it says at one point, that Britain's present standard of living is considerably below its normal.

To this we would add—not only to airmen in Britain but to armchair critics in the United States: "Don't ever forget Britain's crushing losses from war—in industrial dislocation, in loss of overseas markets, in loss of overseas investments, in physical damage, in years of psychological tension and bodily impoverishment—when lecturing Britons on the superior achievements of the 'American way.'"

Every now and then it is good for the cash creditor to remember that he may be the moral debtor of his hard-pressed business associate.

Doukhobors

(Victoria Times)

From Nelson, B.C., comes a dispatch that a portion of Canada's 14,000 Doukhobors—the 5,000-strong Sons of Fredom sect—many of whom live on the rich lands of West Kootenay, may soon be leaving the Dominion for either Soviet Russia or Turkey.

If anything may be added to the foregoing it would be "good luck and do not hurry back."

1,770 Breeders In Catte Club

Membership in the Maple Cattle Breeders' Association increased from 1,450 at Jan. 1 to 1,770 at June 30, Mr. W. G Keffer, manager, told the local directors on his visit here Wednesday evening.

Capital investment is $160,000, and the new barn is being completed at a cost of $23,000, as compared with the estimated $20,000. Several progress changes were made in the specifications.

Conceptions in May were 71%, an exceptionally high ratio, Mr. Keffer said. His review of the first half of the year was for the purpose, he explained, of keeping the Peterborough members informed through their directors. Mr. Charles E. Moore presided.

The association has decided to provide a service for Guernsey breeders, and has authorized purchase of probably four carefully selected bulls. Requests have been received from beef cattle breeders in the various counties of the Maple group, but nothing yet has been actually considered by the head office directors. Action will depend on the extent of these enquiries.

Mr. Keffer said there had been some discussion in a preliminary way, and it was felt that if anything was eventually decided that this branch of cattle would be restricted to Shorthorns.

Hong Kong Fate Worries Officials In Washington

By GEORGE RONALD

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19 (CP) As Communist armies continue to gain ground in Southern China, the fate of Hong Kong is commanding new attention in Washington.

These are the big questions involved in the potentially explosive situation:

1. Will the Communists carry out their threat to take the British crown colony by force?
2. Will Britain fight back?
3. Will the United States support Britain?

Every shade of opinion is reflected in predictions here as to the possibility of armed attack on Hong Kong.

Britain Determined

Britain has provided the answer to the second question: She will resist any attempt to wrest from her the island territory ceded by China in 1841. The Hong Kong garrison has been heavily reinforced as an indication of Britain's determination to hang on to this rich commercial outpost.

Defence of Hong Kong is another matter. Its capture by the Japanese in 1941—despite a gallant fight by British and Canadian troops—provide an all-too-clear commentary on the colony's vulnerability.

The United States Government's attitude right now is a cautious wait-and-see one.

State Secretary Dean Acheson, however, has implied publicly what seems obvious: The United States would do what it could to help Britain.

He indicated at a press conference that the United States would oppose, at least through the United Nations, any aggressive Communist move against Hong Kong. His careful comment was interpreted as leaving the way open for all-out American support of Britain.

The Washington Star, which approves of the official caution, notes nevertheless that effective United Nations action is "problematical."

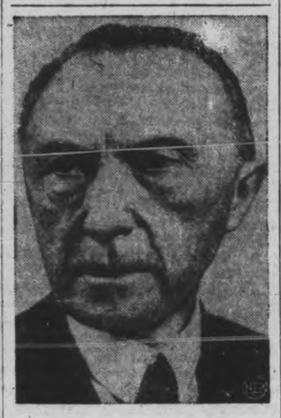
"It would be predicated upon a decision of the Security Council, which could be blocked by the veto of Soviet Russia, who would presumably favor the Chinese Communists in any clash between them and Britain," says The Star.

On the other hand, the anti-British Times-Herald says the real question is: "Are we to go to war for British imperialism in Hong Kong?"

"Sad to relate," says The Times-Herald, "the answer is that we shall if the State Department controls, Mr. Acheson being what he is."

Whitely Named Deputy Chief

LONDON, Aug. 19 — (CP) — Appointment of Gen. J. F. M. Whitely as Deputy Chief of the Imperial General Staff was announced Thursday night by the War Office.



Until this month Whitely had been a major-general and commandant of Canada's National Defence College and the Canadian Army Staff College, both at Kingston, Ont.

He was recently relieved of the Kingston posts by Lt.-Gen. G. G. Simonds who was the Canadian Army's exchange candidate when Whitely was posted to Canada in January, 1947. Simonds was an army instructor at the Imperial Defence College at Camberley, Surrey.

In his new post Whitely, as right-hand man of Field Marshal Sir William Slim, Chief of the Imperial General Staff, will be Britain's No. 2 soldier.

Shatter Rain Records

WATERTOWN, N.Y., Aug. 19 (AP)—A 12-hour, six-inch rain drenched Watertown Thursday, flooding its streets and cellars, clogging sewers and disrupting communications. The downpour shattered the city's all-time precipitation record for a 24-hour period.

TOP GERMAN? — Konrad Adenauer, prospective chancellor of the new West German Republic, will try to organize right-wing leaders into a coalition cabinet. Adenauer's dominant Christian Democratic Party and other rightist groups won such a sweeping victory in recent German parliamentary elections that not a single Communist candidate was elected outright.

Canadian Says Population Strains Supplies

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., Aug. 19 (CP). — Dr. Hugh L. Keenleyside, Canada's Deputy Minister of Mines and Resources, to-day warned that rising population and standards of living will place an unbearable strain on world mineral resources.

A solution of the problem must be sought in discovery of the new ore bodies, improved mining techniques, and conservation, Dr. Keenleyside told the United Nations Scientific Conference on the conservation and utilization of resources.

Dr. Keenleyside, formerly Canadian Ambassador to Mexico, spoke before the full assembly of some 400 scientists and experts from 45 countries, as one of the main speakers in a review of world critical shortages including food forests, and fuels and energy.

He heads a 25-man Canadian delegation including agriculturists and mining, forestry, fishing, wild life and water and power experts.

Needs Scientific Approach.

"The lonely prospector with a hammer or pan is to-day a romantic rather than a significant figure," Dr. Keenleyside said. "In his place the contribution of the scientist must be brought to the rescue of the mining industry."

He said there now is not any "serious and immediate overall and irreplaceable shortage of any essential mineral."

But he added that "combination of an increasing population and rising standards of living will place a strain on our metal resources which will almost certainly in the end prove beyond the capacity of man and nature to supply."

The population of the earth was increasing at the rate of 20,000,000 persons a year. The universal demand for a higher standard of living would mean an expansion of demand for mineral products."

New Zealand Sends Transports To China

WELLINGTON, NZ, Aug. 19—(CP). — Prime Minister Peter Fraser to-day told the House of Representatives that New Zealand will send three Dakota air transports to assist British forces at Hong Kong. The British Government had requested the planes.

The three planes, with 57 officers and men, will be used for transport between Singapore and Hong Kong. The twin-engined craft will be based at Singapore.

Fraser said arrangements also are being made to send three New Zealand frigates to Hong Kong if they are required.

Uniteds Beat Cosmos 8-2 To Keep In Hunt For Title

Uniteds defeated Cosmos 8-2 at the Bowl last night to stay in the hunt for the City Softball League title. It was their first win in four games of the best-of-seven finals, with the next one being staged at 7.30 tonight in the Bowl. Another big crowd saw a snappy contest, both sides fielding well and [illegible] slowing things up. Uniteds looked better on the night as their potent bats banged out 11 safe hits, four for extra-base blows.

Bob Greenlaw earned his win with a seven-hit job, getting perfect support. Ron Akers gave 11 hits and his side had a couple of boots behind him. This pair have pitched every game of the series to date. Only in the eighth inning did Cosmos threaten and their rally was cut to two runs when Carpenter missed third on an apparent home run.

Three In Four

George Sullivan led the winners at bat with three for four, while Jake Wade had three in five, including a homer and a double. Spencer's two bingles included a triple, and Harrison smacked out a two-bagger. Howie Dalton led the losers with two in three, as Akers had two for four, one a double. Carpenter also getting credit for a double on his big blow. Both hurlers worked hard but looked tired from overwork and had few strikeouts and a fair number of walks. The losers pulled off one double-play, while a catch by Scriver in right field was a fielding feature.

Unknown Team Seeking Laurels

BROOKLINE, Mass., Aug. 19—(AP). — The United States' Davis Cup hopes suffered a shocking letdown Thursday when a pick-up team of Australians whaled Gardnar Mulloy and Bill Talbert in the quarter-finals of the United States double championships.

The young Australians, Frank Sedgman and George Worthington, blasted the legs from under the defending and four-times United States national champions, 6-4, 1-6 7-5, 9-7.

The inability of the veteran Mulloy to get his big first service in consistently was the key to the upset of the American champions.

The Australians' surprising victory left only two American teams in the field. They play each other to-day.

Bantam Crown Captured By East Squad

East City bantams walloped the southenders Thursday night 12-6 in Riverside Park to sweep the city bantam championship series two straight. In earning the right to enter the OBA play, the East City team used pitchers McGrath and McCarthy who held the southerners to seven hits, four off McGrath in five and a half innings and three of McCarthy in one and a half.

Whatman started on the mound for the southend team but wildness and five errors by his teammates forced him off the mound in the fifth. Rose replaced Whatman but he also gave way to the East City batters with Kearns finishing on the mound.

Two runs were scored in the first inning by the East City boys and they went on to build up a 5-0 lead by scoring one in the second and two in the third. While they were held scoreless in the fourth, the southenders were scoring twice. In the fifth the East City squad rapped in three more.

Scriver hit the longest ball seen in minor ball this year when he connected in the sixth for a rounder. The ball soared through the air lighting in centre field over 370 feet from home plate. One man was aboard. Three triples were hit into left field by McGillen and Withers of the East City team and by Ball of the southenders. McGillen also led the batters with three for three while Batley of southenders had three for four. McGillen had a single, double and a triple.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Well, sir—to all of you, sirs, and your feminine companions—the Weston Lions are playing the Petes an OLA senior "A" game at 8.45 tonight in Miller Bowl. If the weather is reasonable, that is. This is a most important tussle for both teams, since both are battling hard to make that last playoff spot. Weston are a point up now, with a game in hand, whilst the Petes have but five more tilts altogether in the schedule. The local gutted-stick guys have been playing swell lately but losing by single goals. This they must not do tonight or their playoff chances are that of the proverbial snowball in a warmer clime. Ought to be a sizzling scrap.

Lots of minor ball playoffs locally now, topped by the junior "A" lakeshore battle at six p.m. tomorrow in Riverside betwixt Oshawa Hunters and the McGinness-sponsored Young Petes. These teams fought to a thrilling 2-2 tie in the Motor City last eve, and that'll have to be replayed. Should be another dandy here on Saturday and worthy of a big crowd of ball fans. Here's the city loop setup, all finals being played tonight at 6.15: East and south peewees in their opener at the Orphanage (and again there Monday); east and north midgets at the Ex., a replay of their last game which didn't go the seven innings agreed upon; and east vs. south juves to open their two-of-three series at Riverside. East City bantams trimmed southenders last p.m. 12-6 to take the bantam title. Winners meet Oshawa next week in OBA playdowns.

Speaking About Girls

While Westclox girls are off to Kingston tomorrow for return game or games in their PWSU intermediate "A" playdowns, the Lindsay lasses of this league go against Cobourg at four p.m. in the Bowl and the same squads clash at 8.30 Saturday night in the Bowl in a playoff or exhibition. Cobourg won the first 10-6, but the Scugog maidens may well sew up the series in the afternoon. It is intermediate "B" playdowns in the provincial union. Our junior Woollens will be hitting the playdown path ere long, also. These teams all rate lots of fan support.

An OASA bulletin advises of the CNE men's softball tourney and lists Peterborough against Brantford on Aug. 26 at 7.30 p.m. The winner of that doesn't see action again till Sept. 3 at 1.00 p.m. against either North York or Brampton. That unscrambled victor goes Sept. 7 at 7.30 'gainst Windsor, Owen Sound, Niagara or Manor Park, the finals then being Sept. 9 at 7.30. Teams report at CNE softball park half an hour before game time with a list of 15 players. Each team acknowledges receipt of this schedule at once to F. R. Feaver, 526 Maple Ave., Hamilton. The local team will be known as the Merchants, an all-star city cast, handled by Johnny Russelle and Babe Fontaine, with a number of merchants here footing the bill.

Uniteds Battle Back

Uniteds earned an 8-2 win o'er Cosmos at the Bowl last eve to stay in the race for the men's softball crown. These teams go again at 7.30 tonight there and, if Uniteds win again to stave off elimination, their next battle will be Monday p.m. at 8.30. The victors had steady hurling, perfect fielding and timely hitting this time before a big gallery. Ron Akers, after winning three semi-final frays and three finals, looked tired on Cosmos' mound. No blinkin' wonder! A bit of crabbing at a few base decisions (there were but two umps, instead of three, at this tussle) but Uniteds won it all the way. Sullivan, Wade, Dalton and Akers were the main stickers in a good game.

Coming along to minor lacrosse, congrats to Lou Vitarelli's local juvenile all-stars on ousting Orillia last e'en up Orillia way. Knocked 'em of 18-5 and the O's then decided to default the return game and their OLA series, so our juves next meet Huntsville. Local bantams and midgets go against Orillia next Wednesday. So, the setup at Miller Bowl tomorrow has been changed to permit a juvenile all-star workout at 2.30, followed at 4.30 by an exhibition between Toronto St. John's and the local peewees, and at 6.30 by St. John's and the Peterborough bantams. Hurricanes won from the tadpole Rockets 6-4, as the peewee Terriers edged Tigers 4-3 to tie up these final series and force deciding games, likely on Monday. The playoff mills are grinding finer these days.

Juniors Draw Opener With Oshawa

By FRED MAYBEE

McGinness Young Petes and Oshawa played a thrilling 2-2 deadlock at the Motor City last night, before a large crowd of baseball fans, as the Lakeshore junior "A" final best of three series, opened at Memorial Park.

Brian Wade pitched a swell game for Peterborough, allowing no hits for 6⅓ innings and but three in eight only to see victory slip from his grasp as Oshawa scored two unearned runs in the eighth. He fanned eight and but two men reached first till the seventh, one on an error, the other a hit batsman. Dadson twirled the ninth. Ding Gavis went the route for the Motor boys and also twirled well particularly with men on, but showed wildness, passing six and hitting one.

It was a tense pitcher's battle all the way—a sweet ball game. Pagett, Stewart, Curry and Hudson led at bat with Menzies starring behind the plate. The teams meet at Riverside Saturday at 6 p.m., in what should be a junior baseball classic.

England's Charles Currey Thursday ran away with the individual honors on the second day of the Canadian and International 14 Dinghy Associations' regatta near Montreal when he captured both the international open and the Canadian championship races.

G. S. (Sonny) Hanna of Toronto was second in the Canadian.

Some 45 boats contested the international race—which was so close that all crossed the finish within nine minutes of the leader, Jack Wright of Toronto was second.

Despite his loss Thursday, Wright's first in the international open Wednesday, placed him in a fair lead in that event with 83 points. Hanna was second with 90 points.

Final events in the three-day long regatta take place today.

Notice to International pitchers:

Having a bad time of it? Can't get the batters out? Not winning?

Well, here's a sure cure for you. It's guaranteed to snap your losing slump. From now on, you, too, can win. Simply get a change in scenery.

Look what it has done for other pitchers. Take Jim Wilson, for instance. He was just another guy with Baltimore this year. In 13 decisions, he won only four times.

Then he was sold to Buffalo. And what happened? He pitched a no-run, no-hit game against Jersey City last Wednesday.

Look at Mike Schultz. He couldn't get going with Syracuse. He dropped eight of his 10 starts with the Chiefs. So he moved on to Rochester.

Mike made his first start for the Red Wings Thursday night. He limited Jersey City Giants to seven hits in whipping them 5-3. He would have had a shutout but for home runs by Ruddy Rufer and Ray Noble.

Buffalo Triumphs

The victory enabled Rochester to remain two games behind the pace-setting Buffalo Bisons who defeated Newark 5-4 in 10 innings. Ray Coleman's single with the bases loaded in the 10th broke up the game.
